Mr. and Mrs. David Trew and daughter, Miss Vilda, left to-day for the west, going to reside in the new home their two sons have provided in Erinfold, Sask. Mrs. Trew and her daughter have been faithful and earnest workers in Springville Presbyterian church and their absence will be greatly felt.

Last evening a gathering was held in the church for the purpose of saying farewell to the family and wishing them success in the west. A short program was provided and refreshments served. During the evening an address was read to Mrs. Trew by Mr. Alex. Laing, while Mr. Harry Clarke made a presentation of a purse of gold. The address was as follows;

Mrs. Trew,—The members of this congregation and others in the immediate vicinity, desire on this, the occasion of your departure from us, to express to you our appreciation of your sterling worth in our midst and the high esteem in which you are held by the community. In the affairs of the church you were always faithful and did your duty with a perfection and grace worthy of imitation. You fulfilled your positions in the post office to the entire satisfaction of all the patrons and as a neighbor you were always willing to do your part at any sacrifice. Whilst in these words we express, though very inadequately, our feelings towards you, we desire to manifest them in a more tangible way by handing you this purse of money and we pray that God's blessing will rest upon you and your family in your new home.

Signed on behalf of the congregation and members of the community,
Rev. Dr. Marsh, minister,
John McIntosh for the session,
Harry Clarke chairman of the Managing Board.

South Wentworth Conservatives will meet at Hamilton Saturday afternoon.

WOMAN MAYOR TO SWEEP CLEAN

Hunnewell, Kas., April 5.—The first woman Mayor-elect in the United States, Mrs. Ella Wilson, has announced that during her term of office there will be no intoxicants sold in Hunnewell, and woman chief of police will be put in office to enforce the laws.

Mrs. Wilson outlined her various reform policies in the following statement;—"I shall see that the city water supply is improved. The source will be tested for purity and the supply increased.

"I shall also name a city physician to compel the proper ventilation of all public buildings, stores, factories, places of amusement, etc., and to see that every possible precaution is taken to stamp out tuberculosis. I shall see that proper places of amusement are provided for the young people of the city, conducted on a moral basis, so that a taste for pure entertainment may be cultivated. I shall try to see that athletics for the young men are promoted, but only under the supervision of Christian officers.

"All sewerage systems, cesspools, and the like will be brought up to date, and every street and alley in the city kept perfectly clean. There will be no intoxicants sold in the city or used by anyone, as the spirit as well as the letter of the law will be observed, and a license tax will be put on all pool-rooms, and made so high that few, if any, can afford to pay it.

"Mrs. Osborn, defeated for police judge, I will name as chief of police, and I will make Mrs. Hilton city treasurer.

"I intend as Mayor to show the people of the United States that a woman can be trusted to govern wisely and well, and to provide a clean, honest and law-abiding city administration."

A merger of the Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Companies and the Nova Scotia Co., is probable.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Canifton, Ont.—"I had been a great sufferer for five years. One doctor told me it was ulcers of the uterus, and another told me it was a fibroid tumor. No one knows what I suffered. I would always be worse at certain periods, and never was regular, and the bearing-down pains were terrible. I was very ill in bed, and the doctor told me I would have to have an operation, and that I might die during the operation. I wrote to my sister about it and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Through personal experience I have found it the best medicine in the world for female troubles, for it has cured me, and I did not have to have the operation after all. The Compound also helped me while passing through Change of Life."—Mrs. LETITIA BLAIR, Canifton, Ontario.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to suffering women.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, April 5.—There was an improved demand from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat at an advance in prices of 4½d per quarter, but even at this rise local exporters claimed that they were 1c per bushel out of line, while advices from Winnipeg stated that 250,000 bushels were worked. The trade in oats was quiet. Corn is stronger at an advance of 1½c per bushel. A fairly active trade was done in spring wheat flour for export account, all the offers made last night being accepted at an advance of 3d per bbl. and cables from London stated that buyers showed more disposition to operate. The demand for bran and shorts is good at firm prices.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 38c to 38½c, car lots, ex store; extra No. 1 feed, 37½c to 38c; No. 3 C.W., 37c to 37½c; No. 2 local white, 36c to 36½c; No. 3 local white, 35c to 35½c; No. 4 local white, 34c to 34½c. Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, firsts, $5.60; seconds, $5.10; winter wheat patents, $4.50; strong bakers' $4.90; straight rollers, $4 to $4.25; in bags, $1.75 to $1.85. Rolled oats, per barrel, $3.90; bag of 90 lbs., $1.95. Corn, American No. 3 yellow, 57½c to 58c. CATTLE MARKETS.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, April 5.—At the Canadian Pacific Live Stock Market the offerings were 600 cattle, 125 sheep and lambs, 1385 hogs and 2400 calves. There were no changes in the condition of the market for cattle, prices being firm under a fairly good demand for small lots, and as supplies were not large, a good clearance was made. Choice steers sold at 6½c, good at 6c to 6¼c, fairly good at 5½c to 5¾c, fair at 5c to 5¼c, and the common at 4½c to 4¾c per lb. The supply of cows was small, which met with a fair sale at prices ranging from 3½c to 5½c and bulls from 4c to 5½c per lb.

A weak feeling developed in the market for hogs and prices declined 20c to 30c per cwt. This was due to the increased offerings and the prospect for large supplies next week and the fact that packers held off to some extent. In the early part of the day sales of selected lots were made at $7.50 to $7.60, but later holders in order to dispose of their stock had to accept the above decline noted and sales were made as low as $7.20 per cwt., weighed off the cars.

Owing to the very large increase in the receipts of calves, the tone of the market was weak and sales were made at prices ranging from $1 to $5 each, as to size and quality. The demand for sheep and lambs was good and prices were maintained. Old sheep sold at 4¾c to 5c per lb., and spring lambs, at $5 to $7 each.

At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, the supply of live stock consisted of 250 cattle, 50 sheep and lambs, 850 hogs and 1700 calves. The only change in the condition of the market was the decline in prices for hogs and sales were made at $7.20 per cwt., weighed off the cars. The trade in other lines was fair and prices show no change from those quoted above.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, April 5.—Cattle—Receipts, none here. Market, steady. Prime steers, $6.50 to $6.75; butcher grades, $3 to $6.35.

Calves—Receipts, 150 head; market active, 50c higher. Cull to choice, $6 to $8.75.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 5000 head. Market, lambs fairly active; sheep, slow. Choice lambs, $6.90 to $7.10; cull to fair, $5 to $6.75; yearlings, $5.50 to $6; sheep, $3 to $5.15.

Hogs—Receipts, 2500. Market, active, steady. Yorkers, $7.20 to $7.30; stags, $4.50 to $5; pigs, $7.40 to $7.50; mixed, $6.90 to $7; heavy, $6.70 to $6.80; roughs, $5.50 to $6.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, April 5.—Cattle—Receipts estimated at 14,000. Market, steady to 10c higher. Beeves, $5.25 to $6.90; Texas steers, $4.50 to $5.75; western steers, $4.90 to $5.90; stockers and feeders, $4 to $5.75; cows and heifers, $2.75 to $6; calves, $5 to $7.

Hogs—Receipts estimated at 21,000. Market steady to 5c higher. Light, $6.40 to $6.85; mixed, $6.20 to $6.75; heavy, $6 to $6.70; rough, $6 to $6.20; good to choice heavy, $6.20 to $6.50; pigs, $6.30 to $6.75; bulk of sales, $6.30 to $6.50.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, estimated at 15,000. Market slow, weak; native, $3 to $5; western, $3.25 to $5; yearlings, $4.50 to $5.60; lambs, native, $5 to $6.40; western, $5 to $6.40.

H. Martin was given a two-year sentence at Montreal for the theft of a box of cartridges, worth $7.544, from a Grand Trunk car.

LADIES RAISED NICE SUM OF $60

Bailieboro Women's Institute Repeated Annual Concert

Special to the Review

Bailieboro, April 3.—The annual concert under the auspices of the Bailieboro Women's Institute was reproduced on Thursday evening, March 30th.

This is the second concert which the ladies of Bailieboro have tendered during the past month, and as a result of their untiring efforts together with the generous attendance given to each of the up-to-date and masterful programs, the gratifying sum of $60 has been raised, and will be expended, we believe, on a further continuation of the cement sidewalks.

There passed away during the past week two well-known and highly respected residents of South Monaghan. We refer to Wm. Lang, of Centreville, and Mrs. Wm. Dawson, sr., of Bailieboro, both of whom died after a very short illness.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hare attended the Presbyterian church at Centreville on Sunday morning and received the usual best wishes and congratulations from their host of friends.

The Bailieboro Methodist choir, under the leadership of Mr. Charles A. Hollenbeck, has improved and is still improving immensely. The latest recruits to enlist under Mr. Hollenbeck are Mr. Jos. Lang, Mr. Dainley, Messrs. Charlie Jewison and Percy Barnard.

Messrs. Wesley J. and Harold Fry, of Millbrook, were through the district last week representing the Metallic Roofing Co., Toronto, and placed several orders for metallic ceilings and "East Lake" steel shingles.

Mr. Joseph Fisher has been very busy lately making preparations for the erection of his new barn.

Mr. James Bullock, master mechanic for this section, is busily engaged operating his sawmill. At the conclusion of his sawing season Mr. Bullock will commence building barns and when harvest comes he will again transfer his services, this time as leader of his triplet of steam threshing tractors, which he finds to be the most pleasant and genial of all occupations.

Mr. Richard Parker is able to resume his daily duties after his recent illness.

We are pleased to report that Mr. John Hawthorne is improving rapidly.

APSLEY NEWS

Once more the cold hand of death visited our community and claimed as its victim Gordon Leonard, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kilborn, at the early age of twenty years.

Deceased was taken ill with pneumonia when working in the lumber camp and was taken to Nicholl's Hospital, Peterboro, where everything was done to check its progress but all efforts proved of no avail. Later he was removed to his home in Burleigh where medical aid was again summoned, but in spite of all that loving hands could do, he passed away on Sunday, Feb. 19.

His death has cast a gloom over the whole neighborhood, for he was a young man of high moral character and had won the esteem of a large circle of friends.

The funeral took place from the family residence on Tuesday, Feb. 21 to the Methodist Church, Apsley, where a funeral service was held, thence to the Union cemetery for interment. The pall-bearers were six of his companions Messrs. Everett, Zadok and Thomas Hales, Frank McFadden and Thomas and John Coones.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his parents, four sisters, Gladys, Bertha, Mildred and Grace, and two brothers, George and Russell, all of whom have our deepest sympathy in their sad bereavement.

Unseen, unheard, he still is near,
So be not sad of heart;
You soon will meet beyond the veil,
Where loved ones never part.

Where he is, sickness is unknown,
No death, nor grief, nor pain;
How can we then lament our lot,
Or wish him back again.

Sleeping Sickness

In his speech at the Guildhall when acknowledging the welcome given by the city of London on his return from South Africa, the Duke of Connaught spoke in enthusiastic terms of the glories of Rhodesia.

"Rhodesia," he said, "is a wonderful and healthy country, the home in time to come of numberless sons and daughters of the race, rich in beauty and resources, and even in these days of its childhood, a credit to those who are responsible for its nurture and upbringing." The Duke was in Rhodesia during November, visiting Victoria Falls on the 14th of the month. Unhappily, a cloud shortly afterwards developed.

"Sleeping sickness," the dreaded scourge of tropical Africa, has been spreading, and is now ravaging Northeastern Rhodesia, just north of the territory which his Royal Highness visited. On the 15th December Judge L. P. Beaufor, the Acting Administrator, gazetted an area of over 100,000 square miles as a "sleeping sickness area." This proscribed territory just stops short of Southern Rhodesia, the principal scene of the Chartered Company's enterprise and activity. The disquieting feature of the situation is, however, that the scourge seems to be rolling down from north to south. White men as well as natives fall prey. Flies are supposed to carry the disease.

OLD LIBERAL IS AGAINST PACT

Former Cabinet Minister Condemns Reciprocity Strongly

The following letter from the former Deputy Minister of Justice in a Liberal Cabinet and a present day Liberal of the true Canadian and British school, to a Peterborough man is worthy of perusal. It had been hoped to have him here at an early date. It has been learned since the date of the letter, however, that others will come in his stead:

My Dear Sir,—As chairman of the Canadian National League, which is doing its best to oppose reciprocity, my time is for the present very fully occupied. We are preparing literature of information and education for distribution among the people. This matter was sprung so suddenly upon us, and so many were under a traditional belief that reciprocity would be a good thing, that they are only now beginning to see their mistake, and the more that is known about the true inwardness of the arrangement the more Canadians will see that it is not wanted. The preparation of the necessary information occupies much of my time. I regret, therefore, that I cannot promise to go to Peterborough.

Faithfully yours,
Z. A. LASH

PETERBOROUGH FARMERS AND THEIR ALFALFA EXPERIENCES

Many of Them Are Enthusiastic Over the New Crop, Which is a Heavy and Profitable Yielder.

Not a Peterborough farmer can be found who has ever grown alfalfa, but is enthusiastic over this great crop. Every farmer who has grown alfalfa and grown it according to the most modern approved practice, sowing the inoculation, (nitro-bacteria) has met with success. They find alfalfa, an exceedingly heavy yielding crop. The forage is relished by all classes of farm stock, horses, cattle, sheep and swine, and even the poultry respond in increased egg pro uction when fed upon alfalfa leaves, or from cut alfalfa hay or meal.

GOOD FOR HORSES

It has been known for a long time that alfalfa is good for horses, although many horsemen, owing to prejudices and never having fed alfalfa, are inclined to be dubious of its merits as a horse feed. Last week, satisfying testimony as to the sterling qualities of alfalfa hay for horse feed, was secured by an editor of "Farm and Dairy" from a Smith Township farmer. Mr. R. Smith, of the 5th line of Smith cut his first crop of alfalfa last year, he having four acres, which he seeded the year before. He secured four tons to the acre, the second cutting being very poor. Last fall they fed the alfalfa hay to their horses, and worked them on it for a considerable time, giving them no grain at all; the horses worked well and kept up in good condition on the alfalfa alone. Mr. Scott seeded 2 1-2 acres more to alfalfa last year and is sowing four acres more this spring thus he will have 10 1-2 acres, all told, seeded to alfalfa.

A RENT RAISING PROPOSITION

While searching for some Peterboro County farmers, who had grown alfalfa and who were not satisfied with it, Mr. Marsh, who at the present time is contributing a special series of articles on alfalfa culture in the columns of Farm and Dairy, came across a very interesting case. A farmer not far from Peterborough who is a tenant, sowed some alfalfa on the farm he has leased and has secured splendid results from it. The piece he sowed to alfalfa was a light soil on the side hill and from this land the best crop he had ever secured was five bushels of barley to the acre.

Last year with his first crop of alfalfa with this land, he secured three tons to the acre, which returned, if alfalfa is as good as bran or in any way near as good, bran being worth $22 a ton it is easy to calculate what a profitable crop alfalfa was to him. Asked if he intended sowing more alfalfa, this man made reply to Mr. Marsh as follows: "No, I shall not sow any more just now. If I did my landlord would want double the price for his farm and I intend to buy it."

OUR FARMERS WILL SOW ALFALFA

It would seem useless to search for further arguments in favor of every farmer in Peterborough county growing alfalfa and indeed scores of our leading farmers will grow alfalfa beginning this season and taking advantage of the assistance that they will receive through the special alfalfa competition, which has been arranged for the farmers of this county. From all quarters we hear of farmers who are planning to sow a considerable acreage to alfalfa and although the price of alfalfa seed does seem high, they reckon that it is worth the price and that if it is high in price they can soon start in to raise alfalfa seed themselves and thus take advantage of the high price with profit to themselves.

All of our readers who are intending to grow alfalfa, should enter the Alfalfa Competition, information in regard to which may be had on application to the Secretary of the Competition, care of "Farm and Dairy," Peterborough, Ont.

MASONS NOT ANTAGONISTIC

Rev. Father Burke Speaks on Freemasonary

Non-Committal in the Lemieux Jury Verdict

Montreal, April 6.—"I know that neither the constitution of Masonry nor the attitude of Masons in Great Britain, Canada and the United States is antagonistic to Christianity as a whole or to Catholicism in particular."

"I am equally positive that in Continental Europe the spirit of Masonry is absolutely antagonistic, not only to us, but to all religion."

"Regarding the action of a jury of French-Canadian Catholics exonerating from all crime the perpetrator of, what my questioner characterizes a dastardly outrage. In the first place we do not have to stand sponsor for the benefits or disadvantages from the jury system of trial. Nor is the instance mentioned here of a mis-carriage of justice sufficiently familiar to me to venture an opinion on it."

Extracts from Rev. Father Burke's reply to queries in the "Question Box" at St. Patrick's church last night.

The question of the Emancipation Lodge and the action of the jury which exonerated Mr. A. J. Lemieux in that connection was the subject of the most important question in "The Question Box" in St. Patrick's church yesterday, and answered last night before a crowded congregation by Rev. Father Burke.

The questioner asked why the Catholic Church was so opposed to Freemasonry, stating that he had been a member of an important Masonic lodge and knew that there was not the slightest antipathy to things Christian, either Protestant or Catholic. Citing the case that each lodge had a chaplain, the questioner continues—"When I consider the underhand methods of those who sought to disrupt the Emancipation organization in this city, and the action of a jury of French-Canadian Catholics in exonerating from all crime the perpetrator of a dastardly outrage, I cannot help but marvel that she who sets herself up as the guardian of all Christian morals should condemn our order."

ALL UNDER THE BAN

To this question the Rev. Father Burke made a distinction between the Masons in Great Britain, Canada and the United States, and cited the Continental Masonic lodges as antagonistic. In the United States, he said, Masons had subscribed $5,000 towards the upkeep of a Catholic orphanage. In Europe, however, they want to take the name of God out of the text books, cast down every image and picture in the churches that would remind the people of their Creator. "All other Masonry," said the preacher, "must come under the ban with them, because there is, to some small degree at least, inter-communion between all sections of the order."

The other questions were relative to the excommunication of a Catholic for becoming a Mason. Would his church regard as valid his marriage to a Protestant woman by a minister of her church? The preacher quoted the "Ne Temere" decree on this point.

JUNKMEN FALL OUT OVER A DEAL

Two Abrahams Disagree Regarding Possession of an Outfit

Abraham Crouter, a junk dealer, complained at police court this morning of having had a horse and waggon a set of harness and a robe stolen from him by Abraham Low, another junk dealer. Crouter said that William Clarke, an employee of Low's was the man who did the stealing acting under orders from the latter.

Crouter has worked for Low for several years. Last Saturday the former came into Low's yard with a load of junk. Crouter was owing $36.50 on the horse and an agreement existed between the two that Low had the power to take over the outfit at any time he wished if the money to pay for it was not forthcoming from Crouter.

Low, it appears, asked Crouter for some money on the night that he brought in the load of junk, and Crouter was unable to give him any.

William Clarke then came and took the whole outfit and put it in Low's shed, thus causing Crouter to lay the charge of theft. He had no case at all and the magistrate dismissed it altogether. Low retains possession of the property.

The Lindsay Post says:—To-day Chief Vincent of the Lindsay police force, handed in his resignation, to take effect as soon as possible. He has accepted the position of chief of police at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. Mr. Vincent has been head of the local police force for four years, succeeding ex-Chief Nevison. Prior to coming to Lindsay he was connected with the force at Barrie, and also had positions of prominence as a police officer in Great Britain.

During his residence in Lindsay, Chief Vincent has shown himself to be a most capable official, fearless, conscientious and upright in the discharge of his duties, and gentlemanly and courteous in his bearing.

MORE CHARGES IN CONNECTION WITH RAID BY POLICE

Four New Cases Came Up at Police Court To-day

In connection with the raid on the gaming house by the police at 371 George street, on the 1st of April, four more parties were charged at police court this morning with having been frequenters and players at the place on a certain day in March.

They all pleaded guilty and his Worship reserved judgment till Tuesday, except in the case of one, who was given judgment at two o'clock this afternoon.

G. W. Hatton is defending three out of the four who appeared this morning.

J. H. Haverson, K.C., the Toronto solicitor, it is understood, will be here on Tuesday to defend another of the defendants

H. J. HANWELL OF THE KINGAN HARDWARE CO.

Hardware and Metal

H. J. Hanwell, of the Kingan Hardware Co, Peterboro, who won second prize in the washing machine contest, is an Englishman, having been born in London, thirty-five years ago. His early education was received at the King Edward VI grammar school, Norwich, and at Archbishop Tenison's Grammar School, London.

Mr. Hanwell came to Canada in May 1903, so that he is now a thorough-going Canuck. That he has not lost any of his love for the old land is shown by the fact that he has received permission from his firm, to attend the coronation festivities in June of this year.

Since June 1904, Mr. Hanwell has been with the Kingan Hardware Co., and has been responsible for their fine window displays. He is an omnivorous reader of hardware trade papers and is especially interested in all articles dealing with store improvement. He is quick to adopt any good idea that is described, and always tries to improve upon it as much as possible.

Mr. Hanwell is a firm believer in the use of price tickets for window displays, and he invariably follows out this idea in the windows which he dresses himself. He has taken a course of study in ticket writing, which he finds of great service to him, and he is a strong advocate of regular newspaper advertising.

When on his vacations, Mr. Hanwell always makes it a point to visit as many factories making hardware goods, as he can. By studying the various processes which they undergo, he finds himself better equipped to interest prospective buyers, as he has some practical knowledge with which to back up his selling powers.

Loyalty looms large in Mr. Hanwell's business creed. His advice to all hardware clerks is: "Study the welfare of your employer, and he will study yours."

WITH THROAT CUT WALKED TO CITY

Winnipeg, Man., April 5.—Joseph Robertson, a farmer of Transcona, Man., was found walking into the city this evening with his throat cut, and the constable who met him took him to the General Hospital, where he may recover. He told a rambling story of having lost his place at Transcona by fire, the damage being $2,000. He says he started to walk to the city at 11 o'clock this morning, and on the way went into an empty house and tried to cut his throat with a pocket knife. He lay down for a couple of hours, expecting to die, but got tired of waiting and set out again for the city. He has a brother at 24 Gordon street, Manchester, England. He is 40 years of age and unmarried.

George Ladd, 28, killed himself by cutting his throat with a razor this afternoon at his temporary residence at Ferry Lane, St. James, the western suburb of Winnipeg. He was a lumberjack in the employ of the Rat Portage Lumber Co. His parents reside at Holtsville, Ont.

POLAR AIRSHIPS NOT FEASIBLE

Berlin, April 5.—"With Zeppelin to Spitzbergen," is the title of an interesting, exhaustive, official account printed to-day of the Count's Polar expedition during the months of July and August of last year. The story of the expedition is introduced with a preface signed by Prince Henry of Prussia describing the object of the expedition. This, he says, was to investigate the utility of airships for Polar expeditions.

Prince Henry says airships could not be employed in Southern Arctic exploration, owing to the prevalence of incessant cyclonic storms. The results of last year's investigation, he concludes, was to show that the employment of such vessels in North Polar exploration will depend chiefly on the future development of airships in regard to distance, radius of action and independence of technical aid in case of a breakdown.

SEGREGATION IS NOT GOOD POLICY

Chicago Vice Commission Makes Report on Subject

Chicago, April 6.—The Chicago Vice Commission, the first salaried municipal commission of its kind, made many radical recommendations in its report to the common council to-night and gave an exhaustive review of the present status of the social evil in Chicago, its past, its causes, and means of suppressing it. The recommendations were directly against the European principle of segregation. They were—

Constant and persistent repression of the social evil as an immediate method, with absolute annihilation as to the ultimate ideal. This, by means of—

First, the appointment of a morals commission.

In summing up present conditions the report says—

Most of the police were honest; one standard of morality in Chicago applauds dances, by nearly naked women, in the name of art and condemns dances, no worse, before less prosperous audiences. Men, not women, are the ones "highest up" in the business administration of the social evil; hotels "which ask no questions" of their patrons are a great contributing means of wrecked girlhood; prejudice against colored girls drives them into the social evil centres, either as servants or inmates; the "white slave traffic" is not organized.

GYPSY KING MET HIS DEATH

Perished with Five Others by Collapse of Building

Special to the Review.

Madrid, Spain, April 7.—Francisco Eldoro, known as the "King of Spanish Gypsies," was, with five others, killed here to-day, through the collapse of a building.

Explosion Shakes Nanaimo.

Victoria, April 7.—The powder magazine on Protection Island, Nanaimo, exploded at midnight Wednesday.

Two distinct shocks shook Nanaimo, shattering plateglass windows. The flames lit up the harbor and the city. The first explosion was of dynamite, and the second of a store of gasoline.

John Jones, night engineer, discovered the fire, notified the engineer, and was returning when the explosion occurred. He was thrown 40 feet, sustaining probably fatal injuries.

Killed Four and Himself.

Billings, Mont., April 7.—Cliff Root, an old-time stockman, yesterday murdered his father-in-law, F. A. Rheber, his stepson, James Bridges, a Mrs. Thompson and his own wife, and then killed himself.

The tragedy occurred at the Root home on Halfbreed Creek, about fifty miles from here.

All the victims were shot, except Mrs. Root, whose head was crushed with an axe.

Setback to Reciprocity.

London, April 7.—The Newcastle Daily Chronicle says the revelation of expanding revenue and increased prosperity of home industries has not done anything to help the Ottawa supporters of the tariff adjustment. The expansion of state railways built from revenue makes it less necessary to worry about special terms with the U. S. A.

GOVERNMENT REFUSES TO SHED LIGHT ON U.S. MARKET PRICES

Opposition Votes Solidly For Chief Whip's Resolution Asking Statistics—German and Harris Out of House — Hon. Mr. Fielding Is Heckled, But Replies With Interest—Mr. Borden's Observations.

Ottawa, April 7.—The Opposition presented a united front against reciprocity in the House of Commons yesterday when, on the motion to go into committee of ways and means, George H. Perley (Argenteuil) presented an amendment calling upon the Government to give adequate information to the members to enable them to discuss the question in all its aspects.

The motion was lost by a vote of 98 to 64. Clifford Sifton voted with the Opposition, as also did Arthur Gilbert and the remainder of the Nationalists. W. B. Northrup, who was conspicuous in the recent agitation against Mr. Borden, did not appear, and W. M. German and Lloyd-Harris were both out of the House.

It was a breezy day in the House. The Opposition members were persistent in interrupting speakers, and the repartee at times was brilliant. Mr. Fielding made his best effort this session.

After the amendment had been lost, Dr. Reid (Grenville) read a number of statistics which had been furnished by different departments bearing on the trade pact, which had not been printed. It was the only way, he said, that this information could be brought before the country, and for nearly two hours the doctor read masses of figures.

He objected to the jokes which had been made at the expense of his "biscuit" business. When he went into the Ministry he had sufficient means to make him independent of his investment in Brantford, and he thought any person who made reference to the matter again was no gentleman.

Mr. Perley said every day people were becoming more opposed to the reciprocity agreement. As to the effect of it he believed that the Opposition had more information than the Government, but what they wanted was some official figures. The Government had stated that the farmers would get better prices. It was known that this would not be the case. With official information before them the Liberal speakers would not be able to go to the farmers and buncoe them.

The Minister of Customs had admitted that all the statistics they had at Washington were those the United States had given them. They had no information of their own regarding the comparative prices of farm products. The excuse offered was that this country was so poor that they could not afford to have these statistics prepared.

Mr. Perley declared that there was only one reason why the Government refused the information—because they wanted to deceive the farmers. The farmers had been told that they would get higher prices, and the Government did not want to let the facts out.

The Government should cause to be forthwith laid on the table of the House in respect to the products and commodities included in the proposed reciprocity agreement with the United States full and reliable information respecting prices and cost of production: (A) in Canada, (B) in the United States, and (C) in the twelve other countries to which Canadian markets will be open under the said proposal.

"And that the Government has been hitherto failing to prepare such information and to submit the same to Parliament."

Mr. Fielding's reply was spirited. His speech was interrupted frequently, and there was continued cross-firing between the Minister and members of the Opposition.

"Has reciprocity always been the policy of the Prime Minister," asked Mr. Boyce.

"Yes," countered Mr. Fielding. "There never was a time when reciprocity ceased to be desirable in this country until this agreement came about. There was a time when it did not seem to be desirable when there was no prospect whatever of obtaining it."

Mr. Fielding then went on to say that there was no information on file beyond what he had given. If there was any, he would like to see it.

Mr. Fielding then read resolutions from the National Grange of the United States, which protested against reciprocity on the ground that the Canadian farmer, by reason of the lower general tariff, preferential trade arrangements and by purchasing manufactured goods at a lower price than in the United States, enjoyed an advantage over the United States farmer, who would be exposed to "unfair competition."

He denied that when in Washington he and Mr. Paterson did not possess all the information that was necessary. As for the United States commissioners it was to be remembered that the American Government had decided on an important change in its fiscal policy involving a reduction in duties all along the line. A tariff commission had been at work reviewing the situation, and of necessity had compiled a large mass of figures. What Canada sought was a free interchange of natural products, and it was not essential to have corresponding statistics. The Government believed that if the American market for natural products could be opened up it would be good for the people of the Dominion, and there was no need of more statistics to demonstrate the truth of this.

No doubt, he said there were farmers and others on both sides of the line who were afraid of the changes which were proposed. Protection, like conscience, made cowards of us all, and the higher the tariff wall the worse the effect.

He believed that there would be a great breaking away from party lines on this question. The Government was staking its existence on the issue, and if, in the course of a few months, when the elections were held, the people decided that the Government was wrong, the new Government would be free to cancel the arrangement. He doubted, however, if they would ever repeal it if once it came into effect.

Mr. Borden said that when the Finance Minister stated there was no need for further information as to the statistics demanded, he spoke with either utter recklessness or deplorable ignorance of conditions. Why should he single out the Canadian manufacturer and say he should be protected from United States competition and not the Canadian farmer also.

Mr. Borden said the United States were given the knowledge that Canada now asked before the agreement was discussed, through the United States ways and means committee, through tariff exports reports, through the Presidential message. American statesmen were enabled to discuss the question intelligently with knowledge of the basic facts, while Canadians had, as it were "beat the air."

Hon. Sydney Fisher recalled that in his speech on the reciprocity agreement he had offered to give a

HEAD OF CROMWELL FOUND

London, April 6.—The reputed head of Oliver Cromwell was exhibited last evening at a meeting of the Royal Archaeological Society at Burlington House. The Rev. H. R. Wilkinson said that the head had been in his family for three generations, and in that time had never been previously exhibited in public.

The tradition was that the skull was blown off Westminster Hall and was picked up by a sentry, who hid it, and only confessed on his death-bed to his wife that he had it in his keeping.

Sir Henry Howerth said that the evidence given seemed to make it extremely probable that the head shown was really that of the "Protector." Professor Boyd D. Watkins said he thought that he had never heard of so complete a chain of circumstances.

WILLMIAM JENNINGS BRYAN IS LOOMING UP AS A CANDIDATE

Buffalo, April 7.—A special despatch from the Washington correspondent of the Times says:—Washington is of the opinion that William Jennings Bryan again has set his cap for the presidential nomination. Democratic leaders of the new Congress are guardedly expressing their fear that the visit of Bryan here just at this time, and the circumstances surrounding it, can be interpreted in no other way than that the presidential bee for the fourth time is buzzing about the head of the Nebraskan.

While commenting quietly now, these leaders are ready to come forward with the vehement protest should a boom for Bryan show above the surface. Gov. Harmon returned to Ohio last night firm in the conviction that Bryan actively is seeking a fourth nomination. He heard a lot about it during the day from Democrats of high and low degree, but steadfastly refused to discuss it or his own connection with the presidential speculation.

HARMON AND BRYAN.

The Governor returned without having exchanged any greetings with Bryan. Following the wide publicity which attached to the failure of the two to speak when they dined at the same hotel Sunday night, there were efforts yesterday to bring the two together. They failed. The Governor was urged to remain over for the opening of the new Congress to-day. He was given an invitation to occupy a place on the floor of the house, but refused, saying his engagements in connection with the Legislature would not permit.

INVESTING MILLIONS

Calgary, Alta., April 6.—The Canadian City and Town Properties, Limited, of Liverpool, England, have invested $1,000,000 in the three western prairie provinces, and according to a statement by the Canadian manager, Wm. Bailey, this will likely be increased to $5,000,000.

COUNT ZEPPELIN ON UNIQUE TRIP

MINERS ARE LEAVING MINES IN WEST; A LONG STRUGGLE

They Think That Crow's Nest Pass Strike Will Be a Long One and Scores Are Buying Tickets For Distant Points—International Officials Endorse Strike and Full Support Will Be Given.

Lethbridge, Alta., April 7.—Miners are leaving the different camps in trainloads, having decided that the strike will be a long one. Lille and other small towns in the pass are nearly deserted, and the sale of tickets in Lethbridge for Europe is unprecedented.

International Support.

Fernie, B.C., April 7.—Secretary Carter of the district local received the following telegram from Vice-President Stubbs and C. Garner, chairman:

"International executive board fully endorse the position taken by the district. Representatives will be sent at once to co-operate with district officers in carrying out the work in connection with the suspension. Deny absolutely rumors regarding non-support. International will support to the full extent."

This message signifies that a long struggle may be looked for. All movements on the part of the miners indicate preparations for fighting at every point. President Powell returned to Fernie yesterday morning, but is going to Frank to-night.

The attempt at Passburg to have the miners turn out 100 tons of coal per day was the cause of a little excitement at that place, but no violence has been offered, and this is true of all places where men have quit work. A visit to Coal Creek yesterday morning, found a state of absolute quiet. Nearly all the single men have left that camp. One boarding house, which usually feeds 75 to 80 men, are now feeding only 25 to 30. The drives have been cleaned and now that the international boards seem to have endorsed the action of the district eighteen, the next move is hard to predict.

IMPORTATION OF UNEDUCATED MEN FOR MINISTRY A MENACE

Sir Mortimer Clark Says New Men for Ministry a Menace.

Toronto, April 7.—Sir William Mortimer Clark startled the faculty, students and friends of Knox College at St. James' square Presbyterian Church last night by an arraignment of their Canadian northwest home mission policy. The address was a feature of the annual convention of the sixty-seventh session of Knox College.

Sir William said that unless the Presbyterian Church in Canada maintains a thoroughly educated ministry, the church must necessarily decline. The churches everywhere were forced by a lack of students for the ministry. He believed that the Presbyterian Church in Canada had adopted a retrograde policy by importing a number of uneducated men from Britain for the northwest. The effect would be to lessen the influence of the ministers there because the imported men were not qualified by education to maintain the present standing of the ministry in the northwest. They are of an entirely lower type, and he feared that after being there for a time they would get into the regular ministry by "some side door method." It was the aim of Knox to send out a thoroughly educated body of men who would be a tower of strength to the church.

Principal Gandier said the year's work had been hampered by the inadequacy of the old college buildings. They were sadly out of repair and as little as possible was spent on them in view of the steps being taken to secure a new college edifice. He congratulated the church upon the excellent calibre of the graduating class of 17 men, all of whom had either the M.A. or B.A. degree.

J. K. Macdonald, reporting for the building committee, said the delay in preparation of the plans had been to their advantage as they had secured an additional frontage of 160 feet, made up of the Biggs, Maclaren and Browse properties, and a university property.

PASSENGERS SPEND ANXIOUS NIGHT ON STRANDED LINER

Great North German Lloyd Liner Runs Her Nose Into Shoals and Is Unable to Transfer Passengers on Account of Heavy Sea Running —Several Attempts to Pull Her Off, Fails—Beach Is Patrolled.

New York, April 7.—Seventeen hundred and twenty passengers, within sight of the first of the big lights which marked the finish of their transatlantic voyage, spent a sleepless night on the great steamship Princess Irene of the North German Lloyd Line, fast in the sands off the seaward coast of Long Island, on the edge of the "Graveyard of the Atlantic," and less than 50 miles from the harbor of New York. As night fell, a high ground swell was battering the full height of the vessels' superstructure.

After running her big nose in the sand during the fog early yesterday morning, the liner lay helpless throughout the day, surrounded by tugs and revenue cutters, efforts to pull her free at afternoon high tide failed and because of a rough sea no transfers of passengers was attempted. The decision was then reached to leave all hands on board pending renewed attempts to drag her clear early to-day. If these fail, transfer will be made to the Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm of the same line, which will be sent to the scene from her dock here to-day.

At low water last evening, the stranded liner lay with her length of 525 feet broadside to the beach on the one hand and the sea and wind on the other. The incoming tide urged on with a wind which increased during the evening to nearly 20 miles an hour, rocked the vessel visibly, as seen from the shore and every other swell rolled up her black sides and spat about her white superstructure. The fog of the morning had been blown away and a wisp of moon lighted the scene.

As the night wore on, lifeguards patrolled the beach with surf boats and buoys, in readiness for any emergencies and pinned little faith in the sturdy efforts of the tugs to pull the liner off. They recalled the grounding of the St. Paul some years ago, and how she was stuck fast for ten days in just such a sandy bed. Two big wrecking tugs, however, kept their lines to the stern of the ship and reinforced by the derelict destroyer Senecat, waited for the further aid of the tide after midnight. The scene of the grounding is about ten miles east of Fire Island, approximately 45 miles from the battery and 1,000 feet from the beach of treacherous sand pit, which skirts the outer edge of Long Island. Creeping carefully in the murky weather, the Princess Irene did not strike hard.

Sixty Crown Witnesses.

Goderich, April 7.—Crown Attorney Seager has announced that there will be sixty crown witnesses called to testify against Edward Jardine, when, on Tuesday next, he comes up for trial, charged with the murder of Lizzie Anderson. Only about 35 witnesses gave evidence at the various sessions of the inquest, and the increased number shows that the crown has not been idle in the interval.

A recent report stated that Jardine was in failing health, since his alleged confession a few weeks ago, and that he was losing flesh. On the contrary, he is gaining steadily in health, and the jail officials state that they see no change in his conduct. Neither his reported confession, nor the approaching trial seem to effect him in any way.

Not Fit to Eat?

Montreal, April 7.—Two or three tons of fish in a city cold storage warehouse are being withheld from sale until the bacteriologist and chemist of the medical health department have made a report.

"People have an idea that because fish is kept in cold storage it cannot deteriorate," said Dr. Louis Laberge yesterday morning. "That is an error. There is a certain amount of deterioration which makes it necessary for us to inspect cold storage fish at times. Our inspector says this fish is not fit for food, and the merchant says it is. If it is not dangerous we will let it go."

EIGHT YEARS FOR HOUSE BREAKING

Special to the Review.

St. Catharines, April 7.—William H. Chapman, was sentenced to the Kingston penitentiary for a term of eight years, here this morning, on two charges of housebreaking to which he pleaded guilty. Chapman's brother who is wanted for similar offences in Peterborough, Windsor and other places, was remanded for one week.

PASSENGERS TO LEAVE THE IRENE

Special to the Review.

New York, April 7.—The steamer Princess Irene, which went aground at Long Island yesterday, is being driven further on to the sand and to get her off again it will be necessary to lighten her cargo. The passengers will be taken off this afternoon.

Boston retail milk dealers have reduced the price of milk from 9 to 8 cents a quart.

RATE WAR

Liverpool, April 6.—At the annual meeting to-day of the Cunard Steamship Company, Alfred A. Booth, chairman of the board of directors, foreshadowed the possibility of a rate war between competing trans-Atlantic steamship lines.

CHEQUE ARTIST GOES TO THE PEN

Man Who Gave His Name Here As Henry Chadwic Sentenced at St. Catherines

William H. Chapman, the housebreaker, who was sentenced at St. Catharines to-day to eight years' imprisonment in Kingston penitentiary, is the man who on March 24th, 1910, forged a cheque for $35, signing the name of R. C. Dobbs, and passing it on James Drain, of the Marble Top Company, at the National Hotel here. He managed to evade arrest here, and a warrant for his arrest has been out ever since.

He was known in Peterborough as William H. Chadwick.

From the wording of the despatch, which appears in another column, it appears that he has a brother who is wanted for similar offences in several places, who has also been gathered in and remanded for a week.

SENATOR FORGET PASSED AWAY

Special to the Review.

Montreal, April 7.—Word has been received here that Senator L. J. Forget, passed away as he was on his return from an European trip. The deceased was appointed to the senatorship in 1896.

AIRSHIPS WON'T CUT MUCH ICE

Size of Battleships Won't be Limited by New Fear

London, April 6.—The menace of missiles dropped from dirigible balloons and aeroplanes, as affecting the problem of the size of battleships, was the subject of discussion at the annual meeting to-day of the Institute of naval architects.

The general trend of opinion as expressed by John J. Welch, professor of naval architecture at Armstrong College, University of Durham; and Admirals Sir E. R. Fremantle and Sir Reginald N. Custance and other speakers was that the best protection against the attack of aerial craft would be found in a counter-attack by the same type of airship; and that the new danger would have no greater effect upon the limitation of the size of warships than had the introduction of the torpedo.

Arnold Hills, chairman of the Thames iron works, shipbuilding and engineering company, limited, which recently launched the super-dreadnought Thunderer, was emphatic in the opinion that motor battleships without stokers, boilers and funnels, would be afloat within five years.

In this connection it is interesting to note that internal-combustion propulsive machinery is being fitted in some of the newest submarines for the British navy and Reginald McKenna stated in the house of commons this afternoon, that the suitability of this type of machinery for other warships was receiving the earnest attention of the admiralty.

VOTE FOR THE BY-LAW

There are many considerations which ought to induce Peterborough property holders to vote for the passage of the Independent Tire Company by-law. The by-law provides for the establishment of a desirable factory here to employ after the first year 100 operatives, with a wage distribution annually of at least $60,000.

The concessions to be granted to the company will not cost the city anything, inasmuch as the company pays full interest on the loan.

The security the city has for the loan is quite adequate, and is reduced each year by $2,000, while the company starting with splendid prospects, should improve itself each year as regards assets.

The terms of the agreement provide that the city shall not pay any portion of the loan of $40,000 until the site has been acquired and the building erected thereon, and before the final payment is made, $75,000 worth of machinery free from incumbrance must have been installed, and $150,000 capital stock fully paid up. The security of this loan is the site and building and the machinery.

It is quite usual for companies of this nature to secure a loan, either from a bank or from a municipal corporation, to assist in financing. The only advantage the company gets in securing the loan from the city is a lower rate of interest for the amount—due to the city guaranteeing the loan. The city's credit for the amount is used, but the city does not lose any money through the arrangement.

Peterborough needs industries, more industries, and when one offers on satisfactory terms and conditions every citizen should do his part in securing the passage of the by-law. The law requires a majority of sixty per cent of the qualified voters to pass it. Vote for the by-law and help Peterborough.

EXPLAINING THE DECREE

The Toronto News says: An exposition of the Ne Temere decree by John T. McNicholas, O.P., S.T. Lr., was printed recently in The Ecclesiastical Review and has been published in pamphlet form. A digest of this expert commentator's opinions may clear up some points that the text of the decree may not make plain.

First, as to bethrothal, the Church will not recognize as binding any contract of betrothal unless it is a written engagement signed by the two parties and duly witnessed. The intention is to prevent hasty marriages, which, it is said, often result in unhappiness and separation.

Father McNicholas declares that unwritten promises of marriage are not binding in conscience. This is based on explicit statements by the Congregation and by Cardinal Gennari. The Church decrees that a verbal engagement to marry is not an engagement at all. It must be made in writing and properly attested. But even such a contract might not always be valid. "A Catholic man," says the commentator, wishes to marry a Methodist woman. The latter is bigoted and under no consideration would she consent to be married by a priest. They become engaged, even subscribe to the formula of engagement and have the same witnessed by two friends under the condition however that the marriage take place before a Methodist minister. Unless some modification in the decree be made, the aforesaid engagement would be invalid, for one cannot bind himself to commit a sacrilege or subject the sacrament of marriage to nullity."

This is interesting indeed. The Church declares that the breaking of such a solemn contract would be a moral act. Either party could break the engagement without considering the rights of the other party. The law, however, would regard such a promise as valid and binding. Breach could be punished by damages. The law recognizes the rights of the individual and condemns all contract breaking as a reprehensible act. The Church, it seems, occupies a different position.

As to marriages, Father McNicholas sets forth the qualifications of the priest who performs the ceremony. He must act within his own parish only. He cannot solemnize any marriage outside of his jurisdiction without the special authorization of the priest in charge of that district. The commentator questions the wisdom of declaring a marriage null and void because of the failure of assistant priests to secure proper delegation. "It would be," he says, "a source of great scandal here in America, where our insistence on the indissolubility of marriage in the Catholic Church is so patent to our Protestant brethren."

In exceptional cases, such as the proximate danger of death, when a marriage is necessary for the relief of conscience or for the legitimization of offspring, any priest may perform the ceremony with two witnesses.

If in a missionary district a priest cannot be obtained two persons may be validly married by declaring their consent in the presence of two witnesses. To have the marriage recognized by the State, a formal declaration might be made before a notary, or even before a "schismatical or heretical" minister provided the couple "absolutely excluded the ceremony or ritual of every sect."

The commentator is quite clear as to the persons affected by the Decree. 1. All Catholics of good standing baptized as infants. 2. All adults (never previously baptized) baptized in the Catholic Church. 3. All converts to the Catholic Church. 4. All Catholics baptized as infants but who have fallen away from the Church. 5. All adults (never previously baptized) who were baptized in the Faith, but who have fallen away from the Church. 6. All converts to the Catholic Church from any Protestant sect who have relapsed or have lost all faith. If any of these persons is married in any way but in accordance with the Ne Temere decree the marriage is null and void.

Says Father McNicholas: "Many Protestants may think the Church presumptuous in decreeing their marriages valid or invalid." . . . "As the Church cannot err neither can she be presumptuous. She alone is judge of the extent of her power." He continues: "The present law does not bind anyone baptized in heresy or schism provided they have never entered the Catholic Church. A question, however, can arise as to whether in large Protestant communities it may be prudent to publish merely the law—the reason, power and authority of the Church should be published with it. We do not fear the truth; we do not wish to conceal the truth; but we would present the whole truth and in such a way that our Protestant brethren cannot refute it." In another place, the commentator declares that any attempt at marriage before state officials is no marriage at all.

A DEPLORABLD AGREEMENT

The American Economist has some straight-from-the-shoulder remarks to make anent the reciprocity agreement. As a United States publication it declines to take Champ Clark's annexation speech as a joke. It says there is more in it than seems. The Economist's observations are worth noting—

Certainly the draft of the proposed agreement of to-day bears on its face evidence of a most deplorable lack of study, investigation, and collection of facts relating to economic conditions on both sides of the border which is highly discreditable to the negotiators on both sides. It is indeed remarkable that a document so fraught with vital consequences to 92,000,000 people on one side and 8,000,000 on the other side should have been rushed to a conclusion in so short a space as six months of superficial figuring and dickering. The result is what might have been expected, an agreement full of faults, defects and blunders. The Canadian Textile journal wisely observes—

"So long as each country maintains its own tariff it will be found, as before, that there is no half-way house between complete commercial union and independent fiscal systems. Unhampered and independent action by both countries is better than the tying of knots which would only have to be undone later on, with more trouble and vexation than if each went its own way as a friendly neighbor."

There is a significance in this remark that ought not to be overlooked in view of the excitement and alarm caused by annexation talk. Such talk was inevitable as a consequence of the so-called "reciprocity" negotiations, and their outcome. President Taft set the pace when in his message to Congress and in his subsequent speeches in advocacy of the confirmation of the agreement, he has continually laid much stress upon the "cementing of friendly relations" with our Northern neighbors. We already had the most amicable relations. No two countries lying side by side in the history of the world ever had more complete friendly relations than Canada and the United States. Then why talk of more friendly relations? No wonder the Canadian loyalists and the British loyalists took alarm at a trade agreement whose present scope and ultimate objects were so openly declared to be the cultivation of "more friendly relations." This was diplomatic language, and diplomatic language, according to Talleyrand's definition, is the "art of concealing something with words."

Champ Clark in his hope that the time might come when the American flag would float over all of Great Britain's dominions on the American continent, was only a little plainer and a little less diplomatic, for he meant very much the same thing that President Taft has been construed as meaning. Representative Bennet, of New York, only went a little farther than the Democratic leader of the House when he introduced a bill providing for the creation of a commission to bring about the annexation of Canada to the United States. Both Clark and Bennet were following the path blazed by the Presidential axe, only they were clearing the path instead of merely blazing it.

What else besides ultimately closer political ties could President Taft have meant when he said—

"The geographical proximity, the close relationship of blood, common sympathy and identical moral and social ideas furnish very real and substantial reasons why this agreement ought to be viewed from a high plane."

This is diplomatic phraseology, but it is none the less significant on that account. Its real drift and tendency have not been misunderstood either in Great Britain or by the loyalists in Canada.

BAD KICK FROM A HORSE

Mr. I. S. Kelly, of Markerville, Alta., says: "We have proved Zam-Buk of great value on the farm. I was kicked by a horse and sustained a nasty wound, which finally turned to an open sore. This caused me considerable pain, but as soon as Zam-Buk was applied I got relief. In a short time Zam-Buk completely healed the wound.

"My father sustained a bad burn on his leg, which for a long time would not heal. Zam-Buk healed it, and quickly brought on a covering of new, healthy skin, all over the wound."

Zam-Buk is also a sure cure for eczema, ulcers, bad legs, piles, abscesses, cuts, scratches, burns, children's rashes and all skin diseases. Obtainable druggists and stores everywhere, 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

IMPERIAL SENATE A HOPELESS TASK

Yorkshire Post Says There is no Prospect Now

London, April 5.—The Yorkshire "Post," Leeds, anent Sir Joseph Ward's scheme for an Imperial Senate, says that from some points of view, political solidarity is even more hopeless now than twenty years ago, while the spirit of independence and self-confidence in the outlying possessions has grown and strengthened and will no longer tolerate the term "colony." Sir Joseph Ward himself the last conference suggested that they should be known as states of the Empire. Yet in another sense there is closer unity and fuller recognition of the common purpose and dependence as against the rest of the world, and the need of co-operation in all matters of common interest especially in the mutual defence problem. Statesmanship is to reconcile these two movements of thought and aspiration, but when one passes from words to acts it is of the most delicate problems ever presented to the mind of man. The scheme foreshadowed by Sir Joseph Ward bristles with practical difficulties, which will quickly become apparent in a free discussion, and should he submit his ideas to the conference, he will not, at the present stage of Imperial development, have the least chance of acceptance in concrete form.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"And the relationship must stand in the place of years," said Virginia, "for I can't go back to the Shaynes. I'm afraid they'll find me and make me"—

"You shall not go back!" said Theodore. "Never!"

"My, my!" said Virginia. "How fierce, uncle! And now let's go fishing."

Yes, Theodore had fallen. Fleeing the best bedroom, in which Aunt Chloe had established Miss Suarez, he had unmoored his launch for flight, but, reconsidering, had demanded of Chloe an explanation of the incomprehensible mystery of the presence, under a statement that she lived there, of Shayne's niece.

"She's come to live with we all," said Aunt Chloe. "She's kin o' ou'n."

Theodore gasped.

"There must be some mistake," said he. "How can she be related to me, Chloe?"

"W'y, yo' some kine o' uncle to huh," replied Chloe. "Huh mothah was a daughtah to ole Gin'rel Cahson. She married Lee Suarez and died. Miss Ginnie knowed about us, an' when huh aunt throwed huh off'n the aiahship foh stan'nin' up foh you she come hyah, ez she had a right to, suh."

"But she didn't know I was here?" Theodore suggested.

"Oh, law, no," replied Aunt Chloe. "She don't know yo' Mistah Carson yit onless yo' tole huh."

"But, Aunt Chloe, we aren't any kin to old General Carsen, are we? And I'm no uncle to this young lady, am I?"

Aunt Chloe was indignant.

"Hev Ah been wuckin' foh po' whites all these yeahs?" said she. "Yo' sho as clus as uncle. Yo' paw knowed he was a Cahson."

"What have you told her about this relationship?" said Theodore.

"She knowed all erbout it."

"Did she know how father—how nobody thinks we are any kin to the general and"—

"Who you mean by nobody?" queried Chloe. "Ah reckon we some kin o' ou' name wouldn't be Cahson, would it? Ah tuk huh in as a Cahson. If you tuk huh in yo' ahms an' squenched huh teahs I reckon you wouldn't be bringin' up these heavy arguments."

Uncle Theodore was stately, ceremonious and, with due allowance for sundry blushes when Miss Virginia emitted a little giggle, promptly smothered in her napkin, quite grand in his demeanor at luncheon. He formally kissed Virginia's hand, and when she told of her need, of her reliance on the Carson fidelity, he yielded to the temptation without a moment's hesitation. He became her uncle, entered calmly upon the deception, oblivious of the vast consequences involved.

"I have the honah," said he, "to drink your health—the health of the jewel and the hope of the Carson family."

She rose as if at a formal signal for withdrawal, took both his hands and kissed him on the forehead. There were tears in her eyes.

CHAPTER X.

THE RETREAT OF THEODORE.

THE first day Theodore sent orders for the shipment of the engines and began to provide better equipment for the house. He brought as a companion for Miss Suarez an elderly widow, Mrs. Stott, who was addicted to the writing of poems of a lovelorn nature. Virginia's opinion of her new uncle's worldly wisdom rose at this provision for chaperonage. But she gave him too much credit. He merely thought of Virginia's becoming lonely.

He could not depart until sure that "Miss Virginia" would not feel slighted should he push on.

Craighead's telegrams came in from the east, still Delphic in significance. One reported that New York was practically "surrounded," another that the country would soon be "gridironed." Theodore was deaf to voices from the outer world. A letter from Harrod, proving that the news of his return had reached the cabin in the dunes, lay on the old escritoire one morning. Theodore inserted a paper knife in the envelope, half cut it open—and saw Virginia's dress glimmering outside. The half opened letter fell to the desk, and Uncle Theodore leaped out on the veranda.

"Morning, uncle!" said she. "Have you slept well?"

"Fine."

"You don't look it," said she. "Your eyes look dull. You devote too much time to business while your family is asleep, don't you?"

"Uncle" thought of the unopened letter, the unanswered telegrams, the neglected business, Mr. Waddy's money, the uncompleted aeronef, the sleepless nights, tormented by—not business at all, not business! Decidedly not!

"I slept too soundly," said he.

They spent most of their time out of doors. Theodore ate wolfishly each day and drank great quantities of coffee to show that he was in fine fettle—quite unable to pick up his end of the conversation. It was youth and spring and sweet fellowship, though the items made him sick of Mrs. Stott's table talk. He wanted the river and Psyche, knowing that he ought to go and leave her. Every night he vowed to go next morning—and laid plans for another day with her.

Early one morning they started out on a berry picking expedition. The girl trod in a hollow and fell in a heap on the Bermuda grass. Theodore found her with her ankle gripped in her hands and her lips tight to hold back a cry. A hurried question, a cheery reply cut in two with a twinge of pain, and he picked her up. She threw her arms about his neck to ease the burden. Alas, it made it heavier! The fervor of his embrace did the ankle no good and nearly crushed poor Virginia. The color rose slowly to her brow as he set her down on the veranda and stood over her, breathing hard. She rose on the sound foot and tried the other carefully.

"It isn't bad at all," said she.

"Do you think it's swelling?" she asked.

Theodore tenderly squeezed the shapely ankle and rose to his feet.

"I don't know," said he. "I—Virginia"—

He had seized her hand and was looking at her with none of the impersonality of the surgeon or physician. She did not take her hand away. He dropped it and ran—ran—toward the river.

Theodore was absent at dinner without apology, and the women were in bed before he stole to his room and lay tossing again. Desperate, he rose and went to the library, lighted a lamp, saw the still sealed letter from Captain Harrod and slashed it open as if it had been the breast of his mortal foe. It ran:

I hear that you are back south. I hope you can come right soon. The engines is here for ten days. The man that lost the flying thing the young lady come in is back. He is right crazy, Mr. Theodore, from losing his machine. He keeps trying to git into the shed and yells he is rooned. They is a lot of letters and telegrams at Palmetto Beach.

Theodore struck himself on the breast and started to his feet determined to flee to his work and from the romantic dangers of his unclehood. Trembling with excitement, he attempted a note to Virginia. Wizner at the cabin, messages at the beach, meant danger and disgrace if he neglected his task longer, infamy if he toyed on with temptation. He told Chloe through her door that he had been called away and that she must explain to the ladies. He hastily packed a bag, ran down and unmoored the launch and fled down the river.

* * * * * * *

Captain Harrod, dignified, barefooted, soft voiced, unkempt, kept his lonely vigil on the white straight edge of beach that lay from Fort Morgan to Perdido bay. Captain Harrod, ignoring landscape and seascape, devoted himself to the study of sand tracks of all sorts—tracks of foxes examining the beach for turtles' eggs, months ahead of time; talon marks of opossums and raccoons prowling about for crabs, mice and birds' eggs; hoof marks of wild hogs, etc. Trails of men there were along the sparsely traveled highway of the strand and the footprints of one in particular attracted him. Tracks in the sand were to Harrod book, newspaper, telegraph and circulating library. He knew several things that this man might be—a deserter from the fort, perhaps, or it might be some one connected with the revenue service. His cabin was "Harrod's fishing camp"—nothing more. What had revenue officers to do with such humble piscatorial headquarters as these? They should not care about Theodore's hidden invention.

number of the statistics that were now asked for. But the member for Lambton refused the courtesy of allowing these figures to be placed on the Hansard without reading. Yet a certain honorable gentleman opposite had brought in another set of statistics which he had read to the House and had claimed they were the only reliable ones. What was the use of giving statistics if they would not be accepted?

W. S Middlebro (North Grey), in a brief speech, said that the United States were not concerned with the tariff concessions granted at Albany a year ago. The effect of those concessions was never observed. The threat to impose the maximum tariff was a club used by President Taft "for the purpose of extracting from the Minister of Finance a promise that he would come back a year later and negotiate a reciprocity treaty."

Problem of Separation.

Kingston, April 7.—Queen's University trustees will take up the question of separation from the Presbyterian Church. At the last meeting of the general assembly the trustees were requested to try and come to a unanimous agreement, as there was strong opposition to the recommendation regarding constitutional changes. So far there has been no attempt made to secure the voice of the graduates upon the matter, and the graduate vote is very strongly in favor of separation.

Anti-separation trustees are dissatisfied that no attempt has been made to come to an agreement, as the general assembly requested. They asked for a conference, but none was forthcoming. They still ask where will Queen's get its endowment if it yields up it Presbyterian connection.

It is said that a big effort is being made to bring the leading anti-separationists in the general assembly into line, and have a final decision made in June.

SPECIAL PROTECTION.

Redmond Wants Irish Trade Mark Cared For.

London, April 7.—John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish Parliamentary party, has given out the correspondence between himself and President Taft concerning a proposition to secure by special legislation protection in the United States of the Irish national trade mark.

In a letter dated March 11, Mr. Redmond calls attention to the increase of exports from Ireland to the United States, and says that an attempt was recently made by an American citizen to procure the registration of a mark identical in design with the Irish mark. In view of the injurious effect such an attempt, if successful, would have on the export of Irish goods, and because the American law has no provision by which the national trade mark of Ireland can be registered, as in the United Kingdom. Mr. Redmond asks the President to use his "powerful influence in securing the passage of a special act recognizing the Irish national trade mark," so that it may obtain registration in the United States.

Replying to this letter on March 20, President Taft writes: "I think such a provision would be a fair and equitable one." The President admits that he is getting opinions on the subject from the Secretary of the Interior and the commissioner of patents.

In a letter dated March 27, the President states that he is forwarding copies of letter from the secretary and the commission which had not been given out, concerning the proposition to amend the law by making provision for national trade marks. The President, in concluding, says: "I am very doubtful whether this is likely to be considered at the extra session, but I shall certainly bring it to the attention of Congress at the regular session in December."

Italy's Electoral Reforms.

Rome, April 7.—Premier Giovanni Giollitti presented his associates in the new Cabinet to Parliament yesterday and outlined the policy to be pursued.

Of prime importance was the matter of electoral reforms, he said, and the Government would advocate the granting of the franchise to all who had seen military service, or males who had reached the age of thirty years. Compulsory pension for working men would be introduced.

The financial situation of the nation was good, but a stop must be put to the growth of expenses.

Construction Building Ships.

Melbourne, April 7.—A contract has been signed between the Federal Government and New South Wales for the construction in the latter's dock yard of a protected cruiser and three destroyers. Pearce, Minister of Defence, says Australia is not discouraged at the cost of adopting the endorsed naval scheme, and is fully prepared to find the money.

Archibald Colquhoun, speaking at the United Service Institution on sea power in the Pacific, says Australia's naval policy is capable of expansion. It is not complicated, like Canada, by jarring forces of nationalism and imperialism. Certain political complications made Canada blind to certain obvious dangers. It should be the aim of British policy to encourage mutual intercourse of Canada and Australia.

Hyman's Tannery Burned.

London, Ont., April 7.—The storage department of the big tannery of Hon. C. S Hyman was badly gutted by fire early yesterday. The blaze was due to defective electric wiring. The loss is placed in the neighborhood of $12,000.

Jury to Try Him.

Toronto, April 7.—Gordon Russell, lawyer, yesterday elected to be tried by a jury on a charge of forging a document purporting to be a lien on a property of W. H. Reid to secure payment of $400. He will be tried in next sessions.

Judge Denton raised the bail from $2,000 to $4,000 in two sureties of $2,000 each, and refused to accept accused's own bond.

Alfred McCue, the Indian charged with perjuring himself in the trial of Ben Asquabe, another Indian, pleaded guilty and will come up for sentence to-day. Counsel Henderson, for defence, had expected the man to plead not guilty, in which case he would be traversed to the next sessions.

There will be 42 sentences for Judge Denton to pass to-day.

Rabbi Tried to Smuggle.

Syracuse, N.Y., April 6.—Samuel Goldstein, a rabbi in a synagogue in Montreal, Que., was indicted here yesterday on a charge of smuggling 101 uncut diamonds into the United States at Rouse's Point on March 14 last. The diamonds were in Goldstein's possession when he was arrested.

The prisoner pleaded guilty, and Judge Ray sentenced him to the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., for one month and fined him $500. If the fine is paid to-day the sentence will be modified.

The rabbi, when arrested in March, claimed that he had been given a package by a friend to deliver in New York, and that he was not aware that it contained diamonds, or that he was attempting to smuggle them.

Girl Whips Would-be Masher.

London, Ont., April 7.—A young woman standing at the corner of Richmond and Dundas streets was approached by a young man Wednesday night, who asked to accompany her home. The girl dropped her purse and went at the man before a crowd of spectators, administering several blows and knocking his hat into the gutter.

"I don't know you; how dare you," she cried. The young man fled before the police arrived.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

During the voyage of the steamer George Washington, an American, who were suffering from the delusion that members of the Black Hand were seeking to murder him, stabbed Dr. Voglherr, the ship's physician.

Obed A. Langville, assistant postmaster of Mahone Bay, N.S., died last night after a few days' illness, in his 42nd year. Within two years the postmaster at Mahone Bay, and two successive assistant postmasters have died.

The recommendation of the Railway Commission that the C.N.R. be prosecuted to the full for operating an unauthorized line in Manitoba, has gone to the Justice Department. The amount of the fine, if imposed, will be about $90,000."

Lady Amy Galt, widow of Sir Alexander Tillich Galt, G.C.M.G., died yesterday at her Montreal home. Lady Galt, who had reached her 78th year, was the daughter of the late John Torrance. Her husband was a member of the Macdonald Cabinet.

Big Fire at Goderich.

Goderich, April 7.—Fire, which broke out at 10.15 o'clock last night, caused $50,000 loss to the plant of the Kensington Furniture Co. The loss is covered by insurance. The plant consisted of three buildings, two wooden and one brick. The two former were wiped out and the latter was badly damaged. The fire started in the top floor of one of the wooden buildings, used as a packing-room, and spread rapidly to the second wooden building, where varnishes were stored. The firemen had a bad breeze to work against, and were thus handicapped, but succeeded in saving the machine shop.

The plants of the Goderich Wheel Rig Co., the Doty Engine Works, and the North American Chemical Co. were at times in danger.

The burned plant was owned by F. G. Rumball of London, Ont., and his son, John Rumball, was the manager.

Sunday Opening.

Chatham, April 7.—The Chatham Free Library board last night discussed the advisability of keeping the library open longer during the day, and also of having it opened several hours on Sundays. Action was deferred.

Capsule Was Loaded.

Ithaca, N.Y., April 6.—Sixteen small steel compass points were removed by surgeons from the stomach and intestines of T. J. Williams, an instructor of the Cornell College of civil engineering.

He had placed the points in a capsule for safe keeping some time ago, and swallowed the capsule Sunday, thinking it was medicine of the kind he had been in the habit of taking.

Tips for Fire Insurance Policyholders

1. Are the insuring companies financially responsible, and in a position to pay all just claims?

2. Are you sufficiently insured at all times?

Remember your stock is much greater at one time of the of the year than at another. Do you regulate the amount of your insurance accordingly?

3. Are your buildings and contents properly described in the policy, and if more than one policy, do they all read the same? Make your description as brief as possible.

4. If you are insured in any more than one company, it is necessary to have a "Concurrent Insurance" clause in each policy, viz., The written consent on each policy permitting you to insure in more than one company without notifying each company. This is very important. Do your policies contain this?

5. If you use gasoline, acetylene or other lighting plants on the premises, the policies should distinctly permit same. Your policy limits the amount of explosives, gasoline, coal oil, etc., to be carried on the premises. Are you exceeding this limit?

6. Have you paid your premiums and obtained a proper receipt for same?

If you have not complied with the foregoing conditions you might get little or nothing in case of fire.

After the fire your policies are unalterable, no matter how glaring their errors, which appear and how far they are from what you expected.

Examine your policies now. It may be too late to-morrow.

AFTER THE FIRE—:

Can you prove the amount of your loss?

By stock-taking at least once a year.

By keeping proper books showing—

(1) Your purchases.

(2) Your sales, both cash and credit.

By placing your books in a fireproof safe or vault before closing your premises.

Respectfully yours,

W. H. HILL Insurance Underwriter

GOOD MEETING OF POULTRY ASS'N

High Standard of Birds Exhibited by Members

Largely attended and enthusiastic was the regular meeting of the Peterborough Poultry Association, held at the Simcoe street hall last evening.

A number of fine birds were on exhibit on, among them being the Houdans, which were of a very fine quality, and were judged by Harry T. Lush. There were also shown Bantams, Black Rose Comb, Silver Seabrights, Pyle Game and also other varities, which were good specimens, these being judged by Mr. Jas. Baptie. A number of members reported successful hatches, and in all likelihood there will be a grand showing here at the fall exhibition.

The corner of Charlotte and Park streets seems to be the hoodoo for car No. 10. At 3 o'clock yesterday it floundered, and two wheels leaving the track became buried in the mire. At 11.45 to-day it again left the narrow way and was out of commission for about half an hour.

The C. G. E. employees, many of whom patronize the street cars at noon, waited in vain, and had to proceed to dinner on nature's car.

SPLENDID PERFORMANCE BY ALL SAINTS' YOUNG PEOPLE

In Presentation of Little Pilgrims and the Book Beloved

Those who were instrumental in training the young people of All Saints' church Sunday school to present the play "The Little Pilgrims and the Book Beloved," as they did in such a highly creditable manner at the parish hall last evening, were amply repaid, no doubt by the clever work of the performers and the large attendance and interest displayed by the parents and friends of the children. As has been already explained, the play is a portrait of the worship of the Anglican church. Mother church in answer to two little pilgrims summoning the various parts of the Prayer Book, each represented by a character as above, appropriately costumed and bearing an appropriate banner. These were bound together by King Edward VI. and with this Book Mother Church went with the Pilgrims to the heathen world. The scholars had been drilled by the rector and Miss L. Rush and the choir quartette consisted of Messrs. Chandler and Rush, Mrs. Pearce and Miss Mable Williams supplied the music. Special mention should be made of Miss Lightheart, who acted the part of Mother Church. Numerous requests have been made to repeat the play, probably in Holy Week.

The following is the list of characters:

Christopher—Master W. Rose.
Little Pilgrims—Grace Yeates and Albert Lightheart.
Mother Church—Miss L. Lightheart.

COMMISSIONER DAVID M. REES

To Receive a Public Welcome Sunday Afternoon

Commissioner David M. Rees, who has been recently appointed to the command of the Salvation Army forces in Canada, Newfoundland and the Bermudas, (and to whom a public welcome to Peterborough is to be given on Sunday afternoon next) is an Englishman by birth, Reading being his native town. He first came in contact with the Salvation Army about thirty-four years ago, in the days when riots and fierce persecution beset the Salvationists in Reading (as in many other places), from one open air meeting alone sixteen men having been carried to the hospital on stretchers, while one poor fellow was kicked to death.

After three years' service as a soldier and local officer amidst scenes such as these, young Rees entered the field as an officer, and had the command of nine corps in England before his promotion to divisional work. Since then he has had charge of the Army operations in Scotland, South Africa and Sweden, has been Field Secretary for Great Britain, principal of the Training Colleges in Old London, and is now for the second time appointed to Canada, where his welcome has so far been most enthusiastic, and the success of his labors already assured.

"LITTLE HIP" PERFORMING ELEPHANT

A Most Sagacious Animal in Polly of the Circus – A Play for Children and Grown Ups at the Grand Monday Night

"Little Hip," the performing elephant with "Polly of the Circus," is one of the greatest headliners in the amusement world to-day. This elephant was secured at a great expense to the management for this attraction, and is one of the most expensive acts on the stage.

This elephant does stunts that are unheard of; he parades the streets on foot and in an automobile, and does tricks that amuse the young and old, and is a show all by himself.

"Little Hip" is as harmless as a baby, the children on the street play with him, he greets you at the door of the theatre he is playing at, and distributes pamphlets and programs to you, and takes great pride in bowing and doffing the cap that he wears to the ladies, and on the stage in the third act of "Polly of the Circus," he will do deeds that will amuse you.

Charming, fascinating, petite Polly, the "circus ridin' girl," is born of generations of circus folk and when her mother, the greatest rider of her day, dies a victim of her own ambition, Polly is left alone. But she is not without friends, for "Big Jim," the boss canvasman, with a great big heart as generous as the breadth of his shoulders, and "Uncle Toby," the clown, adopt the human mite and foster her like a delicate plant. "Muvar" Jim's intense and "Uncle Toby's" pathetic devotion to their ward is one of the most charming touches of the story.

The circus is Polly's world. She knows no other. She grows up in the atmosphere of sawdust and tinsel. Her mother's spirit lives in her and she becomes her worthy successor as a star of the sawdust ring. The reckless abandon of her riding brings her grief. She falls from the back of her horse, and is carried unconscious to the parsonage nearby and there is set the combination of Mandy, the motherly old colored housekeeper; the manly, susceptible young parson, John Douglass; the fascinating little convalescent; the well-meaning but narrow church folks, and Polly's "parents," who want her back in the circus, all pulling wires that makes "Polly of the Circus" an appealing story from beginning to end.

In reviewing "Polly of the Circus," the New York Herald says:—"It is a gripping story of the sawdust ring that brings us fond recollections." The World says: "It has originality; every boy and girl up to seventy years old should see it."

The three scenes in the third act of this play are all of the circus, and show what can be done on the stage of a theatre. During the course of the third act, a real circus, with horses, ponies, dogs and a real live elephant are seen going through the stunts one sees on the "lot."

Miss Georgie Olp, who plays the part of Polly, is one of the youngest leading women on the satge. She is not yet eighteen years of age. "Polly of the Circus," is to be at the Grand Opera House on Monday next, April 10th.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF SPORT

STORIES ABOUT ABE ATTELL

Thirteen years ago Abe Attell was one of a family of twelve children—seven boys and five girls. His father was dead. The wolf was sometimes at the door, but Abe's mother, by endless sacrifice and peerless courage, kept the little flock together. One day Abe got a chance to enter the ring. He won easily. The night Abe carried $15 into his humble home there was rejoicing in the Attell family.

Abe Attell, featherweight champion of the world, is the wonder of wonders of the prize ring. He has seen champions of all classes come and go during his career, yet to-day he stands supreme—practically invincible at the head of the featherweight division, and few are they among the lightweights who can defeat him. Within a period of thirteen years, during which he has been fighting, Attell has cleaned up more than $200,000. No matter what happens now, he is beyond want for the rest of his life, and the members of his family, living in San Francisco, are all in comfortable circumstances, thanks to the earnings of Abe.

Attell's story is one of success from the start. Some fifteen years ago Attell was a scrappy, almost incorrigible kid around the streets of San Frascisco. No school would keep him more than a couple of weeks at a time. His mother, left a widow, with a family of twelve, when Abe was only five years old, could do nothing with her third youngest.

During his school days he was always fighting, and so soon had a name of a scrapper among the boys. Alec Greggains, who was then promoting four-round bouts, induced Abe to match himself with Lennett. Abe ran home to ask his mother. She consented, and he won $15.

A LOT OF MONEY.

In those days it was a lot of money in the Attell household. There were 13 mouths to feed and every dollar counted. A second fight soon afterward netted $15 more, and then Abe, satisfying his boyhood's ambition, got a job as messenger boy. He was soon nicknamed "The Fighting Messenger Boy," and in several little scraps won a lot more than he earned as a messenger. His mother always got the money. One day Eddie Toy, who is now fighting around New York, suggested that Abe take a trip east with him. The idea was big to Abe, and with his car fare borrowed from his mother, he and Toy found themselves in Denver two days later.

Abe soon got a fight there with Kid Buck, the "Newsboys' Pride," and won in jig time. This fight brought him his first big money—$60. He won several other fights after that and was sending money home regularly. Finally he was matched with George Dixon, then the champion of his class. When the news reached Frisco it created despair in the Attell home. Telegrams and letters were sent to Abe in Denver begging him not to fight Dixon. His brothers thought it was almost suicide to think of fighting Dixon. "I paid no attention to the pleadings from home, but went on with the match," said Abe. It was a ten-round draw.

HAD SOME STANDING THEN.

"Then I was somebody," said Abe reflectively. "Young Corbett was the big noise in Denver at the time and soon I became his sparring partner. He had beaten a lot of good men, and I was tickled to death to be in his training camp. Meanwhile Corbett was dickering for a match in the east with Terry McGovern.

"'If I beat McGovern,' said Corbett to me, 'I'll come back and give you a match.' Corbett beat McGovern all right, but he never gave me a chance."

Despite the throw-down by McGovern's conqueror, Attell kept plugging along, winning fight after fight. He has won almost 150 up to date, and the only decisive knockout registered against him is that scored by Tommy Sullivan, of Brooklyn, in 1904. Most of Abe's winnings up to the time he was married five years ago to Elizabeth Margaret Egan, a San Francisco girl, went home to his mother. To-day his mother owns three houses in Frisco; his brothers are in the lean business and doing well. In addition Abe himself owns a house and lot in Los Angeles, which he paid $10,000 for five years ago, after he beat Frankie Neil. The property is worth $18,000 now, and the house rents for $70 a month. His wife has two pieces of valuable property in Frisco, and Abe has $45,000 of the $200,000 he has earned with his fists stowed away.

ALL THE CHILDREN LIVING.

There hasn't been a single death in the family since the father died. All are alive and happy. Abe's mother is now 65 years old, but has all the life and activity of a woman of 35, according to the little champion.

TOMMY BURNS DAYS ARE OVER

He Will Never be Able to Fight Again

Toronto, April 6.—Tommy Burns' (Noah Brusso) fighting days are over. In an interview this morning he stated that he would never be able to enter the ring for another big fight but he will continue the game of "mitt handling" in an athletic way here in Canada. He intends to hook up with Tom Flanigan and take charge of the associations in Vancouver, Winnipeg, adn Calgary. In the latter place he has established a store.

"I'll never be able to fight again," he stated. "My leg is gone, and I am getting as fat as a hog. Oh no, I'll never be able to meet any of those challenges from Australia.

"McIntosh wrote me asking if I could meet Bill Lang for the championship of the British empire, but I had to refuse. It is no use; I'll never be able to fight again.

"I have made a dollar or two, and I don't think I'll have to worry any more. I have been all over the world, and the Canadian Northwest looks good to me. I have been a ring champion and I think I'll try and be a commercial champion now. It is only a little over seven years ago since I began my ring career—that is so far as any big fights are concerned. At first, I had a gymnasium in Detroit, and, as usual, one has to go away from home to make good. I went from Detroit to Chicago and since then have been traveling all over the world."

THE RING

By R. L. Goldberg.

The patriotic enthusiasm of the natives of the little town of Sapulpa, Okla., does not seem to be very contagious. Just at present the inhabitants of this prairie burg are kissing each other on the streets in their wild delight over the victory scored by Carl Morris, the "David of the white race," over Mike Shreck, the husky German, who many years ago showed slight signs of being a fighter.

But the few people in the United States who live outside of Sapulpa refuse to see anything wonderful in Morris' defeat of the decrepit brewer.

It was a job that any husky, able-bodied young fighter could have accomplished. No doubt the Sapulpa sports have seen so little of real fighting that this is the cause of of their loud bellowing over Morris's showing.

If Morris were the terrible fighter his fellow townspeople claim him to be he would not pass up a chance to meet near champions like Jim Barry and Jim Flynn, both of whom have challenged him repeatedly.

If he can't best men of the Flynn and Barry type then he has little chance of ever getting within telegraph distance of Jack Johnson.

BASKETBALL

The game of basketball between the P.C.I. team and the Intermediate team of the Y.M.C.A., to be played to-night promises to be exciting from start to finish. It will be handled by D. Loomis, which is a sufficient guarantee that the players will be kept on the move. Both teams are playing a fast accurate passing game, and will go the limit.

This is the first game of a series of three to be played by these teams for the Intermediate championship of the Y.M.C.A., points counting.

The line-ups are announced as follows.

P. C. I. Forwards, Hill and Laing; centre, Bartlett; defence, Stewart and Ray.

Y.M.C.A. Forwards, Nicholls and Hastie; centre, Murray; defence, Fitzgerald Irwin and Darling.

TWO BOXERS DEAD AT SYDNEY

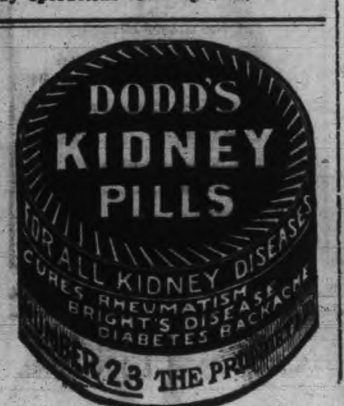
Knocked Out in Match and Died From Effects

Sydney, N.S.W., April 6.—Two boxers in Sydney, who were knocked out in a match, went home feeling ill and dazed. In a little while both of them died, and upon a post-mortem being made it was discovered that the death of each was due to rupture of a vein in the brain. All principals engaged in the boxing match have been arrested, charged with manslaughter.

T.A.S. ATHLETES DID NOT MEET

Meeting Called But Did Not Organize—Will Meet Later

The athletic section of the T.A.S. were to discuss athletics last night and called a meeting for that purpose. There was nothing doing however. Another meeting will be called shortly for the purpose of organizing an athletic club and discussing field day operations for May 24th.



MEN ARRIVE FOR BOUTS TO-NIGHT

All in Readiness for Athletic Program at the Grand

Lang and his chief adviser arrived here this morning, as did Frank Carroll with Compton, Sturch and Peters. Pictow and Moore, from Montreal, are also in the party. All are looking in the best of condition.

Lannon and Walton will arrive this evening, as they could not make connections at Toronto. Manager Breen received word to that effect.

It looks like a good night's sport for all lovers of the manly art at the Grand Opera House to-night. A full house is expected and the bouts will start sharp on time.

FOOTBALL

The annual meeting of the Warsaw Foot-ball Club took place last week in the Morgan House. Considerable discussion took place as to whether a Junior or Senior team should be entered for next season, it being decided by all that to enter two teams (senior and junior) would be an utter impossibility.

It was finally decided that a junior team be entered and to take on all senior men under twenty-one. There will no doubt be some very fast playing this year, and Warsaw will have a good chance of winning the championship, unless they are "buncoed" out of it by Havelock, like they were last year.

The following officers were appointed.

Manager — A. Payne.
Scct.-Treas.—H. Darling.
Capt. W. Darling.
Committee—J. Dewart; J. Cridland.

LIBRARY BOARD REGULAR SESSION

Delegates to Ontario Library Association Meetings Appointed

At the meeting of the Public Library Board last night a communication was received from Miss Caroline Peck, applying for the position of assistant librarian, should one be needed.

Dr. E. A. Hammond wrote thanking the Board for the use of a room for the Medical Society.

E. A. Hardy, secretary of the Inland Library Association, wrote advising the Board that the annual meeting of the association would be held at Toronto on the 17th and 18th of April, and asking that a delegate be sent.

Librarian DelaFosse and Chairman E. H. D. Hall were appointed as two delegates.

The Finance Committee recommended the payment of the following accounts—Water commissioners, $5; Standard of Empire, $2; Ontario Library Association, $2; Otonabee Power Co., $46.40; Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Co., $15.80; Trebelcock Bros., $1.45; Wm. Hamilton Co., $1.25; H. Edmondson, $4.40.

D. Walker, chairman of the Library Committee, reported present membership of library 1,360; number of volumes issued to date, 5,941; number of new volumes purchased to date, 340; amount of fines paid to date, $3.43.

The report also recommended the purchase of a set of "Highways and Byways of the English Countries."

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Higher, Chicago Lower—Live Stock —Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, April 6.—After showing a good advance, wheat to-day closed weak at 5-8 to 3-4 decline compared with 24 hours before. One reason for the setback was a widely circulated private crop report, declaring that winter wheat has gained 2.6 per cent. on condition since December. Corn finished a shade to 1-4 down; oats off 1-8 to 1-4, and hog products 7 1-2 to 17 1-2 loss.

The Liberpool market closed to-day ½d to ⅝d higher on wheat and ½d to ¾d higher on corn. Paris wheat closed 1¾c higher; Berlin, ⅛c lower; Buda Pest, ¼c lower, and Antwerp, 1¼c higher.

LAST CHANCE TO SEE THE PICTURE

Exhibition of Shadow of the Cross Closes To-morrow

Saturday will be the last day in which the picture, "The Shadow of the Cross" will be on exhibition at the Y. M.C.A. The picture will then be shipped to Port Hope, where it will be on exhibition for some time. This wonderful picture still evokes the wonder and praise of all who see it. While it has been on exhibition here a number of people have called in to see it, because their friends and relations in other towns have written them advising them to do so. They had seen the picture and were anxious that their Peterborough friends should also have a chance to view so marvelous a work of art.

Photographer Roy will take a photo of the picture this afternoon. One of the remarkable things about the picture is that a photo can be taken by it's own light. So bright is the light that comes from the canvas that forms and faces of the spectators all through the room can be distinctly seen when all other light is excluded. If you have not seen the picture you should not let this opportunity pass unimproved.

MR. D. HUGHES CHARLES A JUDGE

Will Have Charge of Horse Section at Vancouver Exhibition

In response to an invitation of the Vancouver Exhibition Association, Mr. D. Hughes Charles, manager of the Bank of Commerce at Montreal, and considered one of the leading horse judges of the North American continent, has consented to be present at the big fair to be held here this fall and will have charge of the section devoted to horses.

Mr. D. Hughes Charles' fame in this direction is widespread and this is not the first time an effort has been made to secure so competent a man to take charge of this work here. The horse show has invited Mr. Charles several times, but owing to pressure of business he has not been able to avail himself of the opportunity of being present at this event.

CHIMES

The Chimes Committee was gratified this morning to receive a cheque for $7.50, it being the aggregate subscription of twenty-nine employees of the Peterborough [illegible]. The amount was received through J. McCann, inspector, and the public spirited action on behalf of the men is greatly appreciated.

Hugh Guthrie, M.P., does not expect a general election until next year.

JUDGMENT AGAINST FARMERS IN DIVISION COURT CASES

Awards of $35 and $20 for Plaintiffs by Judge Huycke

Before Judge Huycke at Division Court this morning the following cases were disposed of—

AWARD OF $35.

Mrs. Maloney, of Douro, brought a suit against Thomas Ryan, who, she alleged, with the aid of a man named Lynch, took a one horse-power wood-cutting machine from her farm without permission, one year ago. The machine was an old one, but she valued it at $50, at the least.

The two men went out operating with the machine after having it repaired. The machine broke after it had been in use about one hour and a half. It was later taken to Peter Hamilton's and broken up for old iron.

Thomas Ryan is a farmer in Otonabee, and Lynch boarded with him at the time. The former was given legal notice to pay the damages for having the machine taken to Peter Hamilton's and broken up. As scrap iron it was valued by Peter Hamilton at about $10.

F. D. Kerr appeared for the complainant and G. N. Gordon for the defendant.

His Honor Judge Huycke stated that whatever was the result, the fault was with Lynch and Ryan.

"I find that Ryan is liable to Mrs. Maloney for the value of that machine and must pay Mrs. Maloney for it. The difficult question was to fix the value of the machine. Dealing with the evidence, I fix damages for $35, and give judgment for that amount against Ryan."

CLAIM FOR WAGES.

Arthur Morgan, an English immigrant, claimed arrears of wages for six months from A. P. Donaldson, a farmer with whom he was employed for that period.

The latter hired Morgan through G. H. Hewson, the immigration officer of Peterborough. He started to work for Donaldson in February, on the understanding that if after one month's trial he suited he was to receive $160 for one year.

An agreement was made between the two about fourteen days after he started, that if either were not satisfied, why he (Morgan) could leave the employ of Donaldson.

Morgan, who was the first witness, stated that he also worked longer hours than he agreed to. One night also the cattle escaped into the grain after hours and he was ordered to go out and bring them in. The latter, he said, was a frequent occurrence.

Witness said that during harvest time he had a dispute with his employer, who told him that he could quit any time he wanted to. Witness gave him a week's notice and left at the end of it.

The employer engaged another man by the day, and set him at cutting hay one day during harvest time, while Donaldson and Morgan went to cut wheat.

"The latter took objection to this, and commenced to get grumpy," said Donaldson. Next morning he said he was going to quit, and a week later he did."

Morgan also stated that he never once or twice during his stay there.

JUDGMENT FOR $20.

The judge ruled that the plaintiff had not made out a case of improper treatment, and that there was no evidence to show that he was ill-treated.

In quitting his employer the plaintiff waived his right to the six months' remuneration. He was given judgment for $20, which Donaldson must pay.

DAIRY FARMS CONTEST WILL BE HELD AGAIN THIS YEAR

This District is Between Kingston and Toronto— Prizes in All Are Offered

At a meeting of representatives of the two Ontario Dairymen's Association, and of others interested, held in Toronto recently, arrangements were made for the holding of another Prize Dairy Farms Competition throughout the Province of Ontario, similar to the contest that was held so successfully during 1909 and 1910, under the direction of the farm paper "Farm and Dairy" of Peterborough.

It was decided to establish this year, a fifth district to cover the Beauharnois District, in the Province of Quebec. Thus, the contest will be interprovincial in character. As Prize Farms Competitions have been held for a number of years in the Province of Quebec and as some of the best farms in that Province are located in the District of Beauharnois, it is likely that these farms will run even the best dairy farms in Ontario a hard race for the interprovincial honors.

This year Ontario will be divided into four districts. Ten handsome prizes will be offered in each district, or forty in all. District No. 1, will include that portion of eastern Ontario lying east of Kingston. District No. 2, will be that portion of eastern Ontario lying between Kingston and Yonge Street, Toronto. District No. 3, will include that portion of Western Ontario lying north of a line running from Hamilton to Goderich. District No. 4, will be that portion of Western Ontario lying south of the same line.

The farms that won first prize in each of these four districts in the contest held in 1909, have been barred out of this contest, as well as the farms of Mr. P. A. Penhale of St. Thomas, who won the Provincial Championship last year, and of Mr. O. D. Bales, of Lansing, who won the fourth prize in last year's Provincial Contest.

In this contest, as in the last one, points are offered for all branches of the farm, including the farm house, barns, live-stock and crops. Full particulars about the contest may be obtained from the Secretary of the Prize Farms Committee, Mr. H. B. Cowan, Farm and Dairy, Peterboro. The Chairman of the Committee is the well-known Institute speaker, Mr. Henry Glendenning of Manilla, Ont. It is to be hoped that a large number of our local farmers will enter this contest, and thus help to show that we have as good farms in this section as can be found elsewhere in the province.

INSPECTOR MOWAT SAYS THE TONE OF SCHOOLS IS HIGHER

Makes a Statement Regarding Morality of Pupils—No Need of a Text-book on Morals

The agitation stirred up in Toronto and London against immorality, or debasing influences among the children attending the public schools is receiving a great deal of attention from educational authorities and parents interested in the welfare of their children. Inspector Mowat was asked for a statement regarding conditions in Peterborough, especially in view of the ravages of the nickleodeons. In the complaints of educationists as to Inspector Mowat said—

Regarding the present outcry of immorality in the schools of Ontario, I feel that a serious mistake has been made.

The lady who started the outcry was no doubt actuated by the best of motives, but she should have brought her charge against a certain class of homes which are to be found in every community, and not against the schools of the province.

A certain number of pupils come from homes where the moral atmosphere is bad, and another class comes from homes where the influences are better, but where the parents are careless and permit their children to spend their time out of school on the streets.

The teacher has no light task in counteracting these bad influences. They do counteract them, however, with wonderful results, as any one knows who has been in the teaching profession for a number of years. The moral tone of our schools is distinctly higher than it was ten years ago.

I do not believe that a text-book on morals would be beneficial in school. At the present time we have plenty of opportunity for moral teaching.

The Bible is read, in school, verses are committed to memory; literature and history lend themselves to moral teaching; the public school course in history includes biographical sketches of all the great characters of the Old and New Testament, and the teacher's example is all-important.

Regarding the Peterborough schools, I believe that a healthy moral tone prevades them. I know that the Board in selecting teachers has sought for force of character as well as intellectual ability.

The present agitation will do good if it will lead people to realize that there are three great agents of education, viz., the home, the school and the church. The school should not be expected to do the work of all three.

DEATH OF W. J. METHERAL

In the death of Wm. J. Metheral, the eldest son of Ald. Joseph Metheral, which occurred at the family residence, Aylmer street, at an early hour this morning, the city loses one of its promising young men, and a host of friends and acquaintances will genuinely regret his passing, and also [illegible] to [illegible] parents and brothers.

Last December he was stricken with an attack of peritonitis and removed to the Nicholls Hospital, where, after a short stay, he was taken to his home again. While the attack, followed by other developments, was severe and exhausting to his vitality, hopes were entertained that he would make a final recovery, although it was always felt that his sickness would be of long duration. Towards, however, what proved to be the end, he took a turn for the worse and passed peacefully away between five and six o'clock this morning.

To-day hundreds of young people mourn the loss of one who to them had been a tried and true friend, for "Bill" Metheral, as he was familiarly called, never failed to do a kind act when the opportunity presented itself. He possessed a disposition that one could not fail to respond to. To make his acquaintance was only the beginning of long and firm attachment. He was a young man who had the happy faculty of winning and keeping friends wherever he went.

Actively interested in the promotion of athletics and sports, his position was always a prominent one. To his splendid efforts, particularly in the interests of hockey and baseball, is due much of the success met with locally in the past few years. As the manager of the Strathcona Athletic Club he did everything within his power to promote its welfare, and the championships won by its hockey representatives are testimonials to his ability. He also gave good service as an executive member of the Peterborough Hockey Club. In all his dealings, and when meeting with opposition, he pursued an honorable course and fought fairly on every occasion. His passing at the age of 22 years and 6 months will make a gap that will be hard to fill.

Surviving, besides his parents, are two brothers, Walter and Arthur, both of this city.

The funeral will take place from the late Residence, 474 Aylmer street, Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, to the Little Lake cemetery. Service conducted by Rev. Isaac Couch, of George street Methodist church, will be held at the house at two o'clock.

BOLD THIEFS

Thieves Entered Five Stores in East City

A daring robbery was perpetrated upon five stores in East City, some time after mid-night last night.

T. B. Maniece's grocery store and George Wheeler's butcher shop were entered and windows were broken in J. C. Sullivan's liquor store, also the grocery stores of John Kerr and Jas. R. Bell.

POLICE CALLED AT 3 P.M.

A young man on his way home from a dance, about 3 o'clock this morning noticed the windows broken, and telephoned to the police. The owners of some of the stores were communicated with, and upon arrival found considerable of their stock missing.

The rock with which the window of James R. Bell's store was broken, was found inside the store. So far as could be ascertained only oranges were taken from Bell's.

LIQUOR TAKEN

At J. C. Sullivan's liquor store, a pane of glass was also broken, and about one dozen bottles of liquor taken. The loss will probably not exceed $10.

In the attempt to enter Wheeler's and Kerr's, the robbers went into the back yard. A pane of glass was broken for the latter, but a couple of iron bars across it prevented entrance from that quarter.

George Wheeler did not fare so well. The glass was smashed leaving a space large enough to permit of a body forcing its way through. Here were evidences of the work of the perpetrators. The glass, which had been put in lately was merely fastened with a couple of tacks, which might have been removed and hence less noise.

MISSED THE COPPERS.

Apparently, while attempting to break open the till, which was securely locked, the counter was upset, smashing a set of scales. There were only a few coppers to be had, but they were overlooked. On leaving, they took a nice round of beef. They might have left by the rear door, as the key was in the lock, but they evidently did not notice it.

A pane of glass in the door of T. B. Maniece's establishment was broken, and the robbers likely pulled the bolts at top and bottom of the door thus easing the lock and enabling them to enter. The plate glass window was broken but as most of the pieces fell on the outside, it is thought that something fell against it from the inside, probably a can of apples, which was situated on the top of a can of maple syrup. The door of the flour room was found open, but whether anything was taken from that part is not yet known. About three boxes of 10c. cigars, a two and one half gallon of maple syrup, canned goods, oranges, etc., are missing, but the entire loss cannot be estimated without stock-taking.

TOOK THEIR TIME

Neighbors claim to have heard glass breaking about 12.30 o'clock, but did not trouble themselves to ascertain the cause.

The police are working on the case and developments are expected soon.

WORK OF ROWDIES

It is not unlikely that the robberies and depredations were the work of a party of men, at present unknown, and who were heard early this morning shouting and behaving like drunken men. The outfit in which they were driving was heard on Concession Street.

SUSPICIOUS ACTIONS.

Two parties were seen about the Hunro House yesterday, as the Review learned, who might have some connection with the burglaries, which were committed last night in East City. Both were hanging around the sitting room of the hotel, and appeared to be very nervous, as they were constantly moving around, and looked considerably agitated. One of the same men was seen in East City later in the day.

DID NOT RETURN LOAN OF $50

Which Was Borrowed to Bet on Horse Race

The case of Murphy and Stevens, which came up at Division Court this morning, is likely to be of interest to the sporting fraternity of Peterborough and a short account of the difficulty is given now, and more will follow when the judge hands out his judgment which will be in a few days.

Mr. Murphy, the plaintiff, swore that George Stevens caught up to him one day with his horse and sleigh and took him for a drive, saying in the course of the drive, that he wanted fifty dollars to bet on a horse race. Murphy hadnad considerable business with Stevens and said that he would lend him $50 for a certain time at the usual per cent. on a note. The note was renewed, but ultimately the plaintiff had to sue as Stevens said he was unable to pay. Mr. Wood appeared for Stevens and contended that plaintiff had no right to recover amount of claim as he knew what the money was for.

Mr. Burnham, who appeared for the plaintiff, said that the betting act did not apply to such cases as the present since the plaintifff loaned the money as a business transaction, wholly outside the purpose it was to be used for.

He handed in a recent case cited in Hamilton. He contended that if the statute against gambling debts covered cases like the present it would be necessary for a man to loan money to be able to show if necessary where the money had gone or else run the risk of losing it.

The following lines were sent to the mother of the late Miss Margaret Rena McCarney, on behalf of the girls of the transformer department of the Canadian General Electric Works—

We loved her, yes, we loved her,
But Jesus loved her more,
And He has sweetly called her
To yonder shining shore.
The golden gate flew open,
A gentle voice said "Come,"
And with farewells unspoken,
Dear Rena entered home.

Mrs. McCarney wishes to thank the Sodality of Sacred Heart Church and friends for their kindness towards her.

TAYLOR STATTEN THE CHIEF SPEAKER AT Y.M.C.A. BANQUET

Enjoyable Time by the Boys—Speeches by Workers and Officers

The annual Boys' Department banquet held at the Y.M.C.A. last night was the most successful on record.

Taylor Statten, Provincial Boys' Secretary, was present and gave a stirring address on "The House that Jack Built," which will be remembered by all those who had the pleasure of hearing him.

George Reid, who won the championship in the all round indoor athletic contest in the Boys' Department, was presented with a beautifully designed shield, which will remain in his possession for a year, also a medal which he keeps.

Clare Arnott received a shield, which he will also hold for a year, in behalf of the basketball team, of which he was captain, which won the championship in basketball of the Boys' Department.

Chairman's address—R. J. Downey.
Recitation—Palmer Wiley.
Piano solo—C. Walton
Address—J. J. Turner, Jr.
Vocal solo—W. J. Miller.
Piano solo—C. Walton.
Bugle call—M. Carlisle.
Address—Taylor Statten.
Vocal solo—D. Carlisle.

CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Downey in his address spoke of the necessity of building up a strong body, a strong intellect and the developing of strong morals. A boy should be very careful of the habits which he formed.

J. J. TURNER, JR.

Mr. Turner emphasized the forming of good habits by a boy for the habits formed as a boy shaped the course of the man. He also dwelt upon the three facts which the previous speaker had mentioned.

THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT.

Taylor Statten, the speaker of the evening, captivated the boys by his stories of how other boys had succeeded in life and especially in his story of "The House that Jack Built."

"Jack was a carpenter by trade and fell into love with Martha, the daughter of a well-to-do business man. Not being considered worthy of Martha's hand, the two ran away and got married. Jack hung out his shingle, but did not get much to do and Martha's father, wishing to give his son-in-law a chance, offered him $10,000 if he would build a house of any kind within a year. Jack built it of flimsy material and going to Martha's father, he asked him to come and inspect the job, as it was completed. The old gentleman wrote out the cheque for $10,000 and said he would not bother going to see it. As Jack was going out he was called back and the father-in-law told him to take the house and live in it. Thus Jack had built a poor shack for himself."

The speaker declared that many boys were building their body as Jack had built his house. The boy with hard muscle and his neck on his collar-button seldom landed in Mimico.

How was a boy to get broad shouldered and hard muscles? Was he to take special physical exercise? It was essential but God supplied the means—play. A boy should play hard and honestly for as he played so would he work when a man.

All boys should learn to swim as they could do it in a couple of lessons when it takes a man a couple of weeks working hard.

It was a terrible thing when the body you either made or marred was the one which you were to take to the grave.

POLLY OF THE CIRCUS

In Frederic Thompson's great American play "Polly of the Circus," with Georgie Olp as Polly, which comes to the Grand next Monday, April 10th, there will be seen on the stage a real circus, with dogs, ponies, horses, mules and a trained elephant. Among the six big acts are the Korber Family, who are gymnasts and acrobats of international reputation; the Dutton family of bareback riders, who have been great headliners with the largest circus on tour to-day; then the greatest sensation in recent years "Little Hip," the performing elephant, an animal which does everything imaginable—distributes programs on the street and in the lobby of the theatre, smokes a cigar, goes to bed, dances with his keeper, and various other feats. There are also the Barlow dog and pony act, the aerial acts, horizontal bar artists, juggling acrobats, clowns that do all sorts of tricks, and the audience imagines it is on the "lot" instead of a theatre.

The play was seen at the Liberty Theatre, New York city, for one solid year. Mr. Thompson has provided a cast of celebrated players and the scenic production is very elaborate.

WESTERNER IS AGAINST IT

Glen Campbell Speaks Out on Reciprocity.

Invites Fisher to run Against Him in Dauphin.

Government Agents Fomenting Agitation.

Ottawa, April 8.—The reciprocity debate was continued in the House of Commons yesterday. Glen Campbell (Dauphin) the pioneer from Manitoba, spoke against the agreement from the western farmers' standpoint. In the last analysis, he said, the Government had turned down practically every request preferred by the farmers, including their demand for free agricultural implements. The agreement would affect material injury to Manitoba, as well as prove a menace from a national standpoint.

Dr. Cash (Mackenzie) defended the the agreement from the point of view of his own constituents.

Clarence Jamieson (Digby) forced an admission from Mr. Fielding that United States fishermen could catch lobsters in the Bay of Fundy outside the three mile limit during the close season and sell them in the United States, but Canadian fishermen could not catch them for our own trade.

On the motion to go into ways and means, A. L. Fraser (Prince Edward Island) referred to the delay in filling the vacancy on the Supreme Court Bench of that province, which was created last October. He also brought up the Senate vacancy created by the death of Senator Ferguson two years ago.

The Premier said there had been difficulties, but he hoped to be able to make a statement after the Easter recess.

R. L. Borden declared that the only reason for the delay was political expediency.

Edgar N. Rhodes (Cumberland) initiated a debate on the application of the Industrial Disputes Act with regard to the situation amongst the miners of Nova Scotia, British Columbia and Alberta. He said these were the only men to whom the act had ever applied. He declared that a request had been received by the Government from all the lodges of the United Mine Works in Nova Scotia to have the act repealed, and the miners of British Columbia and Alberta were of the same opinion.

The act constituted an oppression of the working classes. There was no compensation to them for the loss they suffered during the thirty days in which they were not allowed to strike. He urged the Minister to make the provisions of the act clear beyond preadventure.

Hon. Mr. King said the interpretation of the act was likely to be taken before the courts.

Glen Campbell (Dauphin) who left for the west last night, took advantage of some remarks made by Hon. Sydney Fisher in the House Thursday. He quoted from the Minister of Agriculture's speech to show that he had said that certain opposition members were afraid to vote on the main issue of the reciprocity agreement, but were anxious to vote on side issues. The Minister had added that they would have to vote on the main issue before the end of the session. Speaking for himself he would inform the Minister that there was no hesitation on his part about voting against reciprocity.

Proceeding, Mr. Campbell said it was not true that the farmers were getting what they asked for. What they were getting was quite a secondary thing. By some it was being made the first thing. "I refer," he said, "to this man called R. Mackenzie, and to a man called Henders. They are bringing it forward. They are farmers of a kind. They are agents, paid or otherwise of the Grit party of Canada. I don't believe that either ever gave a Tory vote."

He would be glad to have the Minister of Agriculture come up and run against him in Dauphin. In conclusion he said that in the end he believed the farmers would realize that the reciprocity agreement was not in their interests. As for himself he would not do anything which would place another star and stripes on the flag which waves across the border.

Hon. L. P. Brodeur asked the House to adopt a motion authorizing the committee on marine and fisheries to hear representations in regard to the operation of the clause of the water carriage of goods act passed last session, which provides that shipowners shall not be responsible for wood goods by measurement.

R. L. Borden welcomed the motion. He said representations had also been made to him, and that it was desirable that the matter should be given consideration.

MR. J. L. ENGLEHART.

MURDOCH IS IN THE TOILS

Jarvis Lawyer is Caught at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, April 8.—Following instructions from the police department of Toronto, John Y. Murdock, formerly an attorney of Port Jarvis, Ont., was arrested here yesterday here yesterday charged with "forgery and defacing of public documents." According to the police Murdock is alleged to have forged notes amounting to $20,000, but according to the man himself the amount involved is only $1,500.

Murdock says that he will waive extradition. Word was received from the Toronto authorities that an officer would reach here to-night to take him back to Canada.

MASSACRED

British Officials and Coolies Killed by Tribesmen

Special to the Review.

Simla, India, April 8.—Two British officials and forty-eight coolies have been massacred by Abor tribesmen on the Assam border.

Chicago After Black Hand.

Chicago, April 8.—The U. S. Government yesterday won its first case in the fight it has begun to drive out the Chicago members of the Black Hand, who are said by the police to be responsible for nearly fifty dynamite explosions, and a score of murders. Gianni Alongi was found guilty of using the mails in sending threatening letters to the jury in the United States District Court, bringing in the verdict, after Judge K. M. Landis and Postoffice Inspector Jas. E. Stuart both had received threats of death should Alongi be convicted.

Alongi was accused of having written threatening letters to Garmilo Marsala, a meat dealers on the northwest side of Italian section, near "Death Point," where many explosions and murders have occurred. Marsala refused to pay the tribute demanded in the letters, and five bombs were exploded near his shop before Alongi was arrested. Extraordinary efforts were made to prevent the conviction of Alongi. Immediately after his trial began Judge Landis received a letter signed "Black Hand" and threatening death if the Italian should be found guilty. Secret service men placed a strong guard about the judge, and his office was watched constantly by detectives. In spit of this the guards discovered the next day that a bomb had been placed under his desk. The bomb was harmless, but officers stated it probably was placed there to show the ability of the writer of the letter to overcome the precautions of the Government.

Support Guelph Resolution.

Kingston, April 8.—At the Trades Labor Council a resolution was passed supporting the resolution passed at Guelph, petitioning the Ontario Government not to teach trades to short term men in the Central Prison. In the opinion of the council this turns out a poor class of mechanics.

Steamer Turned Turtle.

Monongahela, Pa., April 8.—The big river steamer Henry A. Laughlin, belonging to the Vesta Coal Co. was wrecked by a high wind early yesterday morning, turned turtle, and went to the bottom of the Monongahela River, keel uppermost. Effie Hughes, cook, and Jane Lawrence, with the fireman, name unknown, were drowned. Eleven others of the crew swam ashore.

EAST ONTARIO TO GET POWER

It Will Pay Same Rates as Niagara Towns.

New Era for Eastern Section of Province.

Hon. Adam Beck Makes an Important Speech.

Brockville, April 8.—Eastern Ontario is about to come into its rights in the matter of cheap hydro-electric power, and as a result of a meeting held here yesterday afternoon of representatives of various municipalities, at which Hon. Adam Beck was the central figure, a new era of industrial development faces this portion of the province, which has long since felt that it had been neglected by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission. The municipalities along the border between Napanee and Morrisburg have been prodding the Government on the power question for a considerable time.

The supposed inactivity of Mr. Beck, chairman of the commission, has proved to be only of the surface variety, for yesterday he enunciated a policy in black and white which came in the way of a most pleasant surprise, and was received with the greatest enthusiasm. It was a veritable knockout blow to the pessimists who had not dreamed of the Government being able to present such a favorable proposition. The Minister announced the fact of the commission having signed a contract with the New York and Ontario Power Co. of Waddington for the delivery of 15,000 horse-power within eighteen months, the terms being identical with the terms made by the Government with the Ontario Power Co. at Niagara Falls for the delivery of 100,000 horse-power. And what was exceedingly gratifying to the civic delegates was the further quotations of cost. The rates are as low as those prevailing in the Niagara district, and some cases even lower, which was not considered possible. He also stated that the commission could close with an offer from High Falls on the Madawaska for the development of 20,000 horse-power, which would serve a district between High Falls and Kingston, including a large portion of the Ottawa Valley.

These two sources of supply, he pointed out, would ensure a continuous service in case of a breakdown to either one of the plants, as connection could be made at the joint distributing station at Kingston, though the cost of the High Falls enegy would be slightly higher than the others. The total expense necessary to deliver the power from Waddington to municipalities between Napanee and Morrisburg forming the union upon which the commission based its figures would entail a capital investment of $652,000. The company agrees to deliver 5,000 horse-power in ten months, and after that in blocks of 100 until the contract limit is reached in eighteen months.

The price per horse-power delivered at the sub-station of the commission in the Province of Ontario are $13 for 2,000; $12.50 for 4,000, $12 for 6,000 and over, $11.50 for 8,000 and over, $11 for 10,000, and $10.50 for over 10,000. This contract must be given within 18 months from the date of signature, March 28, or the obligation of the city to deliver power ceases. There will be three distributing stations, one at Brockville, another at Morrisburg and a third at Kingston.

Napanee, the westerly limit, will be supplied from Kingston, and Lansdowne, Lynn and Athens from Brockville. Should Gananoque join, a fourth station will be erected there. Rural districts can be served in any direction within a radius of between 15 and 20 miles from the distributing points by low tension wires. This practically means that all the territory immediately interested in Eastern Ontario from Napanee to Morrisburg can get hydro-electric power at a nominal cost.

In passing, Mr. Beck conveyed to the meeting an idea of the original plan of the Government to cover the province from Windsor to Morrisburg. Their efforts in Western Ontario had been crowned with success. Prospects looked bright for the stretch from Toronto to Morrisburg until the Electric Power Co., Ltd., with headquarters in Toronto, appeared in the Trent district from Toronto to Belleville, and the corporations had practically thwarted the Hydro-Electric Commission.

Mr. Beck announced on the authority of the Government the adoption of a plan to supply both eastern and western Ontario whereby municipalities will be relieved of making the first payment on the bonded indebtedness incurred by the installation of electric power until five years have elapsed. This will give the municipalities an opportunity of getting on their feet financially. It has also been provided that those who join after the system has been installed in their districts will enter on equal terms with competitors.

Husband Shadowed Robber.

Cobourg, April 8.—A man, who gave his name as Thomas Douglas, and later when placed under arrest, as John Davidson, entered the residence of Wm. P. Hoskin, on one of the main streets of the town, in broad daylight. He was discovered by Mr. Hoskin and ordered out. He went, and Mrs. Hoskin found that a quantity of jewelry was missing. Mr. Hoskin shadowed the man until he was placed under arrest by Chief of Police Rose. He was brought before Police Magistrate Boggs and remanded until next Wednesday.

SEEMED TO PLEASE HIM

Prospect of Marriage Appealed to Old Man Fraser

Special to the Review.

Toronto, April 8.—The sensational Fraser marriage case was continued here this morning, and George Meldrum was the first witness called. He said that following the arrangements with Miss Robertson he had hired two men, who were wanted more for their nerve than strength, and they were to accompany the Robertsons to Midland for the marriage. Each was to receive $2 a day and have all their expenses paid. The party registered under assumed names at the hotel in Midland where they stopped, because it was believed by them that people of Midland were on the look-out for the Dundas people. The witness described the struggle they had in getting into the Fraser home, but stated that the old man seemed pleased at the prospect of getting married.

Mrs. Fraser was the next witness called and she told of her having visited near the Fraser home, where she learned that the old man was wealthy. It had not been suggested to her, however, that he would be a good catch for some young woman.

SENATOR WAS MILLIONAIRE

Death of L. P. Forget is Generally Regretted.

Montreal, April 8.—A cablegram received in Montreal yesterday morning announces the death at Nice, France, of Senator L. J. Forget.

The late Senator had been in feeble health for a number of years. Some four or five years ago he was prostrated by what was feared was a slight hemorrhage of the brain. Last Dominion Day, while fishing in the Bonaventure River, he was taken ill, and was not again able to take up office work until September. He left in November for France, where he had since remained.

Born at Terrebonne on March 11, fifty-eight years ago, and the scion of an old family which came from Normandy, France, in the seventeenth century, Hon. Louis Joseph Forget was educated at Masson College, and, coming to Montreal when still in his teens, became engaged on La Minerve, the senior French paper of Montreal.

In the business world he was connected with many enterprises and big corporations. One in a position to know states that the benefactions made which became known represented but a very small part of what Senator Forget was constantly doing for other people. He was the President of the Board of Governors of Laval University, a life governor of Notre Dame Hospital and the General and Western Hospitals. A Past president of the Montreal Street Railway, vice-president of the Royal Victoria Life Insurance Co., a director of the Montreal Light, Heat & Power Co., and a director of the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Co.

A Creche For London.

FRANCE TO BE WORLD FORCE

A Progressive, Energetic Policy to be Adopted.

French Influence to be Augmented in all Courts.

M. Cruppi Makes Announcement in the Senate.

Paris, April 8.—M. Cruppi, in his maiden speech as Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Senate yesterday, made cogent declarations in refutation of the pessimistic criticisms of Senator Adrien Gaudin de Villaine, who asserted that France's foreign policy was decadent.

"When I came to the Foreign Office," said the Minister, "the situation of France from the point of view of foreign politics was not without difficulty, but it would be an exaggeration to speak of anxiety and disquietude. I propose to practice a positive policy of foresight and precision, inspired by the ideal of making France a force in the world."

France's alliance with Russia and her entente with England, continued M. Cruppi, far from being decadent, were daily in most active operation, and formed the basis of the foreign policy of the country. With Germany, he said, France would practice a policy of co-operation, wherever the interests were in common.

"When we have to defend our special interests," declared the Minister, "we will do it with moderation and firmness."

He pointed out that the relations with Italy and Spain were most cordial, and that the coming visit of President Fallieres to Tunis, where he would be greeted by British and Italian fleets, would contribute greatly to the enhancement of France's prestige abroad.

The situation in Morocco, where the Sultan's throne was again endangered by rebellious tribes, he admitter, was calculated to cause some uneasiness, but he added that in the event of the situation at Fez becoming threatening, all measures within the limits of the prescribed act of Algeciras would be taken to ensure the safety of Europeans.

HON. ADAM BECK SAYS THE DOMINION IS TO BLAME FOR IT

Condemns the Grab of All the Water Powers of the Trent District Under Dominion Authority

In speaking at Brockville of the power situation, Hon. Adam Beck spoke of the power companies of this district He laid the blame for the tying up of the local situation on the Dominion Government. He is reported as follows;

In passing, Mr. Beck conveyed to the meeting an idea of the original plan of the government to cover the province from Windsor to Morrisburg. Their efforts in Western Ontario had been crowned with success. Prospects looked bright for the stretch from Toronto to Morrisburg until the Electric Power Co., Ltd., with headquarters in Toronto, appeared in the Trent district, from Toronto to Belleville, and the corporations had practically thwarted the Hydro-Electric Commission. This concern, he held, was a merger which has gobbled up the Seymour Power and Electric Co., the Peterborough Light and Power Co., the Peterborough Radial Railway Corporation, the Auburn Power Co., the Trent Electric and Water Company, the Sydney Electric Power Co., the Nipissing Power Co., the Oshawa Electric Light Co., the City Gas Co. of Oshawa, the Cobourg Utilities Corporation, the Northumberland and Durham Power Co., and the Central Ontario Power Co.

The municipalities were tied up with franchises given this company, and, working under a Dominion charter, with the right to develop power from the Trent, a monopoly has thus been created with which the province cannot cope. When the commission applied for power to supply the municipalities a reply was given that the controlling company was not in a position to meet the demand, as all power was needed to meet their own requirements. With water powers all tied up there is no chance for competion and the people are at the mercy of the Dominion Railway Board to control and regulate rates.

The existing situation was in direct opposition to the Ontario Government's plan to prevent mergers and the possibility of electric interests going into close corporations. For the state of affairs in the Trent district the Dominion Government was directly to blame.

Found Wife Lying Dead.

Cobourg, April 8.—William McGraw of Vernonville returned home to supper and found his wife lying dead upon the floor. She was in her usual health and spirits when he left home after the noonday meal. Coroner Latta of Colborne was notified, and ordered an inquest. The couple resided in Halidmand Township.

May Leave Out Inland Company.

Montreal, April 8.—It was stated yesterday that there was a possibility of the Inland Company being out of the contemplated navigation merger. William Wainwright, the vice-president of the Richelieu, is said to be strongly opposed to the consolidation with the Inland Company. He naturally favors a union of the Richelieu and the Northern.

THREAT OF APPEAL TO ARMS MADE BY SPANISH SOCIALIST

Seceders Form New Church.

Ottawa, April 8.—There has long been a considerable lack of harmony among the congregation of Erskine Presbyterian Church over Rev. C. W. Nicol, who came here from Sherbrooke, Que. So many wanted him to return to the pastorate and an equal number opposed it. The matter was referred to the Ottawa presbytery, and they will advise against Mr. Nicol. Last night his supporters held a meeting and decided to withdraw from the congregation and to form a church of their own.

To Encourage Pea-Growing.

Walkerton, April 8.—Two men from Michigan are canvassing the county selling seed peas, on condition that they get the entire crop at $1 per bushel, less the amount that the original seed cost. This is to encourage the farmers to grow peas. They have found it difficult to get good seed in the past, although, the pea crop has increased in the last two or three years.

Madrid, April 8.—The continuation of the debate on the Ferrer case in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday was responsible for an exceptionally turbulent session. The Socialist leader, Pablo Iglesias, raised a storm by declaring that although he could not resurrect Ferrer he could repair the injustice of that trial. If he did not succeed he would try to overthrow the administration which refused reparation to the murdered man. The affair, he said, would not end there. Then he shouted:

After the President had tried in vain to make Iglesias withdarw his words of menace, Premier Canalejas sprang to his feet and declared that the Government would oppose with all its energy and force of laws provided any attempt at revolutionary violence occurred.

Gas Distended His Stomach

"My last wish will be," writes Harry P. Pollard, a well-known boot and shoe traveler of Hartford, "that everyone with a bad stomach may learn as I did, before it's too late, that Nerviline is the one remedy to cure. Why, I was in mighty bad shape, my digestion was all wrong, and every night I would waken with a start and find my heart jumping like a threshing machine. This was caused by gas on my stomach pressing against my heart. When I started to use Nerviline I got better mighty fast. It is certainly a grand remedy for the traveling man, keeps your stomach in order, cures cramps, prevents lumbago or rheumatism, breaks up chest colds and sore throat—in fact there hasn't been an ache or pain inside or outside for the past two years that I haven't cured with Nerviline. Do you wonder I recommend it?"

For general household use Nerviline has no equal; it will cure the aches and ailments of the entire family—refuse anything but Nerviline. 50c per bottle, trial size 25c, all dealers or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

NERVILINE CURES ALL PAIN

SCHOOL MATTERS

The provision of sufficient school accommodation for the central part of Peterborough is going to call heavily on the finances of the people within a short time. The south end of the city and the north end are provided for quite satisfactorily—or will be within a few months—but the accommodation for the east and west wards and the centre is quite inadequate. The demands of this ever-growing school population will make necessary within a very short time at least two and possibly three new schools.

It has long been recognized that neither the east or the west ward schools are worthy of the name. The matter of new schools for these wards is in the hands of a special committee of the Board of Education, and some action will have to be taken shortly by the Board. It is believed that in both cases, and most certainly in the west ward, the site will have to be changed. The growth of the city at present is southward and westward. With the south fairly well provided for by the King Edward school and the South-Central school, it follows that the building of a new school in the west ward should have regard for the expansion of the future; and this may be said to be the case in the east ward, and in fact the building of every new school.

The school accommodation in the west ward is four rooms. We believe that every citizen will agree that the new one ought to be at least eight, providing for the increase of population resulting from the factories that are undoubtedly going to follow the lead of the Bonner-Worth Company and locate in that quarter of the city. There are six rooms in the east, and in this, the new school should have at least eight. The cost of a couple rooms extra in each case is entirely immaterial. It is the provision of ample accommodation for the expansion of ten or twenty years that is necessary, and the greatest economy in the end.

With regard to the spending of $10,000 or $12,000 patching up the old Central school, the members of the Board of Education are evidently trying to maintain school accommodation with the greatest economy, especially in view of the coming construction of the two new schools. Inspector Mowat is authority for the statement that there is no crowding at the Central school, and he believes that the future will bring no particular demand for increased accommodation there, although it may be pointed out that three rooms in the old Collegiate are used for primary classes, which should not be used at all. If these were removed to the Central there would be crowding.

But granting that Inspector Mowat's view is correct, it would seem a rather penny-wise policy for the Board to spend $12,000 at least to secure merely the use of the old school for three or four or five years. Eventually, a new school will have to replace the Central, because remodeling may remove the government ban for a season, but an old school like the Central patched up cannot be expected to permanently serve educational requirements in this age of good schools. Peterborough has only two or three good schools in the list, and to bring this most necessary accommodation up to a modern standard is going to entail great expense. This is simply putting on the people of the present day the burdens that ought to have been carried, partially at least, by their fathers.

There are objections to the Board's plan of trying to patch up the old Central school, but there are also objections to building a new, modern one on a different site. The provision of play-grounds is important. If a new school were built—and if so, the present location is not desirable—a site of the necessary size within easy reach of the centre of the city is not easily procurable, and moreover, it would be expensive. But five years from now such a site will be harder to get, and still more expensive. Wouldn't it pay the city in the end to buy now, with permanent provision for posterity, rather than pay $12,000 for five years' use of the Central school, and then have to pay a much higher price for the site and building?

The advance in school requirements in the last five or ten years has resulted in the Central school being banned. Five or ten years from now, will not the remodeled Central school be banned; and the city forced to do that which it should do now?

It is unfortunate that three new schools should be required all at once. But that is not the fault of the present Board of Education. These gentlemen are trying to serve the interests of the ratepayers as much as possible. They figure that to plan for three new schools at once would shock the ratepayers too violently. Therefore, they plan two, and leave to some happier day the building of the other one. Shelving the pain necessity, the long-distance economy of the third school is but doing to the next generation what the last one did for this, and for which this generation must pay. Is it good business?

Would not a new school of the King Edward type, built in the neighborhood of McDonnel or London streets be better economy after all, more satisfactory than the proposed making-over of the Central in its deplorable situation? The old buildings might be sold, or utilized in some way, and the money used towards the new school. We venture to say that $25,000 or $30,000 extra would do the trick, and the west ward and north ward schools would be relieved for all time of pressure from the centre of the city.

There is one other phase of the situation. There will be in the future increased demands for accommodation in the schools for technical educational purposes. Manual training and domestic science, and other branches of special education have not progressed very far in the Peterborough school system, but the time is coming when more attention must be given to them. What about provision for these? Such provision will have to be made, not in the old Collegiate as at present, but in a proper atmosphere.

EDITORIAL NOTES

There promises to be a plethora of holidays this summer, which will be a hardship on the business world. There is Good Friday, Victoria Day, the King's Birthday, ordered to be celebrated on June 3rd, Dominion Day, Civic Holiday and Labor Day. The celebration of Victoria Day, which is a Dominion statutory holiday, following closely by King George's birthday, is about a day too many.

The continued refusal of the government officials to furnish statistics showing the relative values of farm products in the United States and Canada, to enable the people to judge whether they will benefit or lose by the opening of markets, looks suspicious. Can it be that the government knows that the farmers would get wise to the bunco game?

LIBRARY NOTES

Many books have been added to the shelves at the Public Library during the last few days. Most of these are in the juvenile department, but there are several in the biographical and natural history sections which should be a source of enjoyment to lovers of those particular branches of literature. In the account of the life of Captain John Smith, the real founder of Virginia, one of these adventurous souls who helped to make the reign of Elizabeth and James famous in history, readers will find a very interesting account of a personality well known to students. The story of the devotion of Pocahontas to the Smith is one of the most romantic in literature.

English patrons of the library will be interested in the Highways and Byways series, giving as it does a most graphic account of several of the English counties, affording in fact an illustrated itinerary in which history and anecdote are interspersed in very generous measure. They will be as grateful to the palate of the homesick old countryman as the tang of the ocean air to the mariner. Some of the more important books are the following:—Bryce's Holy Roman Empire, Plutarch's Lives, 2 vols.; Classic Myths, Gayley; Plato's Republic, 2 vols.; a complete set of Riley's poems; Goldsmith's complete works; Parkman's complete works; and Nights with Uncle Remus. There are several books that will prove favorites with the boys and girls, but they will have to look for them on shelves in the juvenile portion as lack of space precludes any further mention of them here.

Books that belonged to the old library are still putting in a belated appearance and the librarian once more asks all who have in their possession any such volumes to return them. Up to date about four hundred volumes have been returned.

GRAND OLD MAN OF THE PRAIRIES

Declares He Owes His Splendid Health to Dodd's Kidney Pills

Suffered for twenty-five years from Rheumatism and Kidney Disease—Three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills made him a new man.

Swift Current, Sask., April 7.—(Special).—Seventy-six years of age, but strong and healthy, Mr. J. P. Lackey, of this place, is one of the grand old men of the prairies. But, Mr. Lackey has not always enjoyed his present health. "For twenty-five years," he says, "I suffered from Rheumatism, which I inherited. I was nervous. My limbs would swell and I had a severe pain across the back. I also had a heavy dragging sensation across the loins. I am a well man to-day, and I attribute it all to three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills. My Rheumatism and Kidney Disease have entirely disappeared."

Mr. Lackey is showing his appreciation of Dodd's Kidney Pills by buying them and presenting them to his friends. He has joined the great army of those who have learned from their own experience that as a giver of new life to old and young Dodd's Kidney Pills stand without an equal.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

And yet one day a slimy metal sea monster stuck a blunt nose out from the water at about the five fathom contour line, opened a rectangular mouth and flicked a square red tongue like an angry snake until Captain Harrod on the highest dune opened a brilliant red handkerchief with a Chautauqua salute and wiped his nose elaborately. Whereupon the sea monster sank beneath the brine. What took place that night was concealed by darkness. If Captain Harrod was busy carrying packages ashore until morning he came by them honestly, no doubt.

An examination of the popular novels or periodicals of the past—say of the era of that president whose Christian name our Theodore bears—will be rewarded by a realization of prophecy gone wrong as to the influence on smuggling of aerial navigation. It must bring free trade, they said. Ships navigating the air could land their cargoes anywhere. Yet the airships gave the custom house people little trouble. Airships were so conspicuous; their loads were necessarily so light; the system of reporting them by wireless from Canada, Mexico and the islands was so efficient.

Very unexpectedly it was the submarine that drove the "revenues" wild and filled the law books with Draconian statutes. No trade ever grew faster. The boat fish dived beneath the waves and rose on some lonely coast like this by appointment with some Captain Harrod sitting like a bewhiskered bit of wreckage on the dunes.

Harrod was nervous about the footprints, and he persevered in a search until he found their maker lying asleep in a comfortable sleeping bag in a nearby thicket. He recognized him as Wizner, inventor of the helicopter that was blown out to sea. He waked Wizner, and the latter assailed Harrod in abuse which included the absent Carson.

"You let my helicopter go out to sea," he wailed, "and it was worth a million dollars to me."

Harrod took pity on the inventor, and as a result Wizner stayed for weeks, sleeping in his bag on the porch of the cabin, and, to the captain's intense anger, tried several times to visit the shed where Carson's newly invented airship was in course of completion.

Finally Carson arrived. Theodore ordered the spying man away, and an altercation ensued in which Wizner was roughly handled. At last he took his leave, vowing vengeance on Carson and the airship, which, he said, was worthless. He had made rough drawings of the airship, as he had managed secretly to elude Harrod's watchfulness.

At the lagoon he took a boat and rowed to the north shore. The boat from the submarine that had signaled Harrod had brought her crew ashore. He addressed one of the men as Faville and learned that the Stickleback, the submarine, was offshore for some unknown purpose. Reagan, the Stickleback's captain, came lazily up, and Wizner informed him that he (Wizner) was going on board her. The captain, amazed, asked for what reason.

"I'm goin' to use her."

"The d——l you are!"

"Well, if not I'll show you up to the authorities as a smuggler, Reagan—you an' Harrod."

Reagan's face paled. He hastily drew a revolver from his pocket, then thrust it back.

"How do we know," said Reagan, "that you won't peach after you get through with us?"

"If I make the play I expect to," replied Wizner, "I'll be in a d——d sight deeper'n you are!"

"That means," said Reagan, "worse than smuggling."

Reagan answered slowly:

"I didn't expect I'd ever go that far, but I guess I'll have to serve under you, Wizner. You're captain of the Stickleback."

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

On a cold, frosty night every one likes to see a blazing fire, but this generally means heavy coal bills. A good plan is to place a quantity of chalk at the back of each grate, in equal proportion to the coals. This throws out a terrific heat and lasts quite a long time. It always pays in the end to buy good coal, for not only does it make a clearer fire, but it leaves fewer ashes. A handful of common salt thrown into the fire occasionally makes a cheerful blaze and lessens the consumption of coal.

STRANGE CASE OF APHASIA PUZZLES

New York Doctors Investigating Queer Disease

New York, April 8—Doctors in the White Plains Hospital, are puzzling over the strangest case of aphasia that ever came to their notice. Their patient is a good-looking, neatly dressed woman of about forty. Her speech and bearing show she is well bred.

From early Saturday, when a policeman brought her in, having found her aimlessly walking in the streets, the hospital staff tried in vain all the devices the books suggest to get her to account for herself. Yesterday they called in several practitioners skilled in medical vagaries. She failed to respond to any of their tests, and at the end of a wearing day for all concerned the case remained last night unfathomed.

When the policeman accosted her the woman was sufficiently alert to recognize her affliction for she informed him her memory had suddenly forsaken her and that she could not tell her identity, her residence, what she had came out to do, or where she was at that moment. The effort of saying this much seemingly overstrained her, for the policeman immediately took her into the nearby office of Dr. E. W. Webber. She tried to talk there, but all she could say was "I don't even know where I am" in a faltering voice.

Her faculties rapidly dimmed after she reached the hospital. She appeared to understand the questions of the hospital staff and replied in a gentle and well modulated voice, but the answers were not relevant. The staff summoned Dr. Webber for further examination, as he had specialized mental maladies, but he had no better success with her than the others. He called in Dr. Schmid, an alienist, without satisfactory result.

Members of the staff and the specialists resumed their inquiry yesterday morning. They found that the night's sleep, instead of refreshing the patient had left her mind more vacuous than before.

Halifax, April 7.—The steamer Hallow, of Halifax, was wrecked in the Gulf stream, yesterday. The crew and passengers, which numbered one hundred and forty, reached St. Paul's Island in safety by the use of small boats.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS CURE CONSTIPATION

Few other troubles afflict the little ones as does constipation. Every change of diet seems to bring this trouble on and baby suffers from headaches, fever, disturbed sleep and often vomiting. No baby who suffers from constipation can thrive well. Constipated babies are cross all the time and give mothers constant worry. The one sure relief for baby constipation is Baby's Own Tablets—they never fail to cure this trouble and can be given to the little one with absolute safety. Concerning them Mrs. W. S. McKenzie, Prairie Grange, Alta., writes—"I used Baby's Own Tablets for my baby who was constipated from birth and they rapidly helped her and left her bowels in a natural condition." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MARKET TO-DAY

Not Much Change in Prices — Potatoes at 90c

To-day's market was again very active and well attended, with, however, no particular change in prices. Maple syrup, what there was of it, soon found ready sale at 40 cents a quart, or $1.50 a gallon.

Pork was a little easier and there was a small quantity of veal offered. Meat prices have been varying considerably lately, and not very much was in evidence this morning.

The inner market was also extremely well attended and all available space was taken up. The prevailing prices were:—

Pork—11 and 12 cents.
Eggs—17 cents.
Butter—26 to 28 cents.
Chickens—90 cents a piece.
Hay—$14 a load.
Baled Hay—80 cents per cwt.
Maple Syrup—40 cents a quart
Potatoes—90 cents a bag.

WHO'S COMING AND GOING

George McCartney, of Bethany, was in the city to-day.

D. Connelly, of Havelock, is a guest at the Munro House.

A. J. Radden, of the Trent Valley canal, left for Hastings this afternoon.

Mr. Joseph Braund of Oshawa is visiting his two sons, Messrs. R. C. and J. T. Braund.

Staff Captain John Body of Birmingham, Eng., is visiting R. C. Braund. Mr. Braund was formerly private secretary to the staff captain when he was a captain in the Salvation Army at Barrie.

Sgt. W. Lavelle, who has been spending three months in a school for military instruction in Toronto, has returned to the city, and has charge of the recruit class which meets every Thursday evening. He was Col.-Sgt. of No. 1 company, 57th Regiment, before going to Toronto.

FALLING HAIR

Stop it in Two Weeks, Ask Wm. Madill About Parisian Sage

Hair falls out because the dandruff germs dig into the hair roots and sap them of their vitality. They appropriate the natural nourishment that supplies life and luster to the hair.

To stop falling hair you must kill the germs. Parisian Sage is guaranteed by Wm Madill to kill dandruff germs, banish dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp or money back. If your hair is thinning our Parisian Sage will promote a new growth. Clever women use it because it makes the hair brilliant and beautiful, and is not sticky or greasy. Large bottle 50 cents.

You will like the fine flavor of Red Rose Tea. It has the cup goodness that comes only from Red Rose quality—the reason why it holds first place in thousands of Canadian homes. Will you try it.

BRIDGE CLOSED TO PEDESTRIANS

Order Prohibiting the Use of C.P.R. Bridge as Highway

The C.P.R. men have received orders to keep all pedestrians off the company's property.

This means that the C.P.R. bridge is to be no longer a highway for East City residents. People living in Ashburnham and working in the various factories on this side of the river, will necessarily be forced to travel to the Hunter street bridge. It will be a hardship, especially for those living in the southern part.

Of course the C.P.R. officials cannot be blamed for the inconvenience to Peterborough citizens, as they only wish to avert danger of accidents and loss of life. A short time ago when the same orders were in force a number of pedestrians were fined for not paying any attention to the order, and if anyone declines to regard this decree as serious, stronger measures will be taken to enforce it.

The old Case homestead on King street east, Hamilton, used in 1812 as an army hospital, was damaged by fire.

After being on short time since December 1, employees of the M.C.R. shops at St. Thomas go back to the nine-hour day.

Cobwebs in the Morning.

Cobwebs in the head on rising in the morning is the result of a Lazy Liver, one or two mornings in succession and sick headache follows.

Father Morriscy's Liver Pills will clear the Brain.

These Pills are a purely vegetable compound prepared with great care, and are without doubt the very best pills for general use, on the market. The greatest care has been given to selecting the ingredients, and being entirely vegetable, they act upon the liver and bowels in such a manner as not to disturb the other functions of the body as many pills do.

As a Liver Invigorator, Blood Purifier and General System Renovator, they are unequalled. Sick headache is invariably brought on by a sluggish liver, constipation or irregular bowels; these pills are a cure for sick headache in any form.

Pimples, eruptions and yellow skin are often caused by a lazy liver; one pill three times a week, will soon clear the complexion.—Price 25c. per box.

PASSENGERS RESCUED.

Everyone Safely Taken From Stranded Prinzess Irene.

Lone Hill, Long Island, Life Saving Station, April 8.—In just five hours and ten minutes the 1,720 cabin and steerage passengers on the stranded North German Lloyd liner Prinzess Irene were transferred yesterday afternoon to the deck of her sister ship The Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm, and one hour after nightfall they were safely on their way to New York.

Not a life was lost, not a case of panic was reported. The first passenger off was a woman, and the second a baby. The cabin passengers, masters of the situation, and the language, generously gave precedence to the more timorous ones in the steerage.

As for the liner on the bar, nightfall showed her hard and fast in the grip of the sands, and Capt. Goddard, of the Lone Hill Life Saving Station, estimates that she will be a prisoner for at least a week, perhaps two. In the 36 hours since she struck she has been favored with comparatively light weather, but a stiff blow from the southwest might open her plates, crush in her bulkheads, and wrench apart her stout steel frame.

Ten small boats, two tugs and the relief ship took part in the rescue yesterday, while a revenue cutter and a derelict destroyer stood by. All the 1,485 steerage passengers were let down by the forward companionway, thence clamored down a rope ladder into small boats. From these they were transferred to the tugs John J. Timmins and John Nichols, which lay safe in the lee of the big liner.

With the steerage eliminated, and as the wind and sea went down, the tugs made fast alongside and took the cabin passengers directly aboard from a rear companionway. The first tug left at 12.45 p.m., and the last at 5.55 p.m., five hours and ten minutes.

May Boost Theatre Licenses.

London, Ont., April 8.—There is going to be a boost in the theatre licenses if some of the aldermen have their way.

It is understood that one alderman is fathering a scheme whereby the theatre licenses will be boosted up to $500 each, and the five cent shows to $150. At the present time the two theatres and all the five cent shows in London pay only an $80 license. The Grand Opera House is owned by A. J. Small of Toronto.

Bringing Sheldon Back.

Pittsburg, April 8.—Charles B. Sheldon, wanted in Montreal for financial operations covering a large sum, was yesterday released from custody and turned over to Chief McCaskill, of the provincial police, Montreal.

McCaskill and his prisoner left the court house immediately for the railway station.

St. Thomas, April 8.—The time of the Michigan Central Railway shop employes has been extended to the old schedule of nine hours a day. The men have been on short time—eight hours — since last December. All the departments are busy and it looks like a rush for the balance of the year.

MADE WELL AND STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto.—I gladly give you my testimonial in favor of your wonderful medicines. Last October I wrote to you for advice as I was completely run down, had bearing down sensation in the lower part of bowels, backache, and pain in the side. I also suffered terribly from gas.

After receiving your directions, I followed them closely and am now entirely free from pain in back and bowels, and am stronger in every way.

I also took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my baby was born, and I recommend it highly to all pregnant women.—MRS. E. WANDBY, 92 Logan Ave., Toronto, Ont.

Another Woman Cured

Maple Creek, Sask.—I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I am now in perfect health. I was troubled with pains every month. I know other women who suffer as I did and I will gladly recommend your medicine to them. You may publish this if you think it will help others.—MRS. F. E. COOK, Maple Creek, Sask.

If you belong to that countless army of women who suffer from some form of female ills, don't hesitate to try Lydia E. Pinkham Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs.

ONE FOURTH OF ALL THE MOTOR CARS BUILT IN AMERICA IN 1911 WILL BE

Ford Model T's

It has been estimated by Motor Car Manufacturers that 150,000 automobiles will be built in 1911. Out of this immense quantity 37,500 will be FORD MODEL T's built by the Ford Motor Co.

There is a reason for this exceptionally large number of FORDS and FORD popularity.

The demand for a car of Ford design and Ford quality has been so great that a yearly output of over 30,000 Model T's has been required to supply the demand of buyers.

Ford design and construction, Ford quality in material, strength, durability and service, ECONOMY in UP-KEEP are features that have caused FORD to manufacture this season ONE-FOURTH of all the cars built in AMERICA.

About Zutoo Tablets

"I have been a sufferer from headache since childhood and have used all, or nearly all, of the so-called "cures" on the market. Some months since my attention was called to your Zutoo Tablets and I have been using them ever since with the most gratifying results. I find they cure a "sick" or "nervous" headache in a few minutes and leave no bad effect. My family use them whenever needed with equally good results. I have frequently given them to friends who were suffering from headache and they never failed to give quick relief. I find them a good remedy for "sour" stomach as well as headache. I always carry them in my grip on the road and would not be without them at any cost."

The Semi-ready Chesterfield

The Semi-ready Raincoat

.... It's not a descriptive word—"Semi-ready tailoring."

.... It's the name of a firm of wholesale tailors

.... who tailor on a new and perfect system of physique type forms,

.... ensuring a correct and individual fit, or a return of the buyer's money.

Ready-made clothiers would have you believe that "Semi-ready" is only a new way of making ready-made clothes, and that theirs are "just as good." But Semi-ready is tailoring—it's not factory-made, not ready-made, but it is specialized tailoring on a perfect physique type system.

No matter what your shape, weight, height or your normal or peculiar build—there's a Semi-ready type made to fit you.

BIG SHIPMENTS BY H. P. KENNEDY

Forty-Nine Cars of Live Stock this Week for Easter Markets

Mr. Kennedy handled during the week 49 cars, or two full train loads of live stock, representing over 800 head of cattle and 1,000 hogs, or a cash value of $60,000.

These cattle were shipped to Montreal, Peterborough and other cities for the Easter trade, and included some of the choicest stock the province of Ontario could produce.

While prices are possibly not as satisfactory to the feeder as a year ago, still in many cases high prices were paid for fancy stock as will be seen by a few quotations given.

One choice calf, 13 months old, from Mr. Deep Seagrave, weighing 1,100 pounds, $90.00. Two choice calves, 12 months old, from Mr. Gregg, Claremont, $142.00, besides a few fancy steers and heifers, which sold at from 6 1-2 to 6 3-4 cents per pound.

The price paid for choice loads of good steers, averaging 1,100 to 1,300, by Mr. Kennedy on the Toronto market was 5 3-4 to $6.00 per cwt.

Mr. Kennedy states that medium cattle were selling easier at from 4 3-4 to 5 1-4. Prospects are steady for choice cattle.

Mr. Kennedy has an order for 1,600 head of choice yearling steers for feeding purposes for the American markets.

MISS JULIA CHOATE CONCERT

One of the most delightful musical treats of this season was given last evening in the Conservatory of Music Hall by Miss Julia G. Choate, the brilliant violiniste, assisted by Beatrice M. Wellington, the famous Toronto elocutionist and entertainer, the Conservatory orchestra, and other well-known local musical celebrities.

The spontaneous and unstinted applause, which was lavished upon every number spoke volumes for the pleasure which they afforded to the exceedingly large audience who attended, and was but another familiar evidence of the warm place which Miss Choate and the other performers have established for themselves in the hearts of local music lovers.

Special mention is due every performer. Miss Wellington's work revealed her to be second to none of any of the prominent readers now before the public, and assured for her always a warm welcome at any later appearance in Peterborough. Her personality and her rich, flexible voice, over which she has marvelous control, suffice to make her admirably adapted for her profession. She is a perfect master of expression and possesses the wonderful faculty of moving her hearers to tears one moment and immediately after to uncontrollable laughter.

While Miss Julia Choate's ability and brilliancy as a violin artist has long been widely familiar, not only locally, but in other places, still the delightfully charming manner and extraordinary command which she holds over the violin were more than ordinarily apparent in all of her numbers last evening.

Her nimble touch and easy, graceful playing revealed to even the most inexperienced her wonderful command of the instrument from which she can draw at will the sweetest melody and accurately interpret the most difficult and expressive compositions.

George W. Wright probably never sang to better advantage than he did last night, and his high, vibrant tenor voice was afforded ample opportunity for display. His high notes were exceedingly sweet, and possess the additional advantage of being under perfect control. He was compelled to respond every time to determined encores.

The opening number on the program was "The March of the Priests," played by request by the Conservatory orchestra. In response to the hearty applause, they gave the ever popular "American Patrol" march in their usual snappy and finished manner.

A trio composed of Miss Choate, Miss Hazel Dean and Mr. Dean, gave two very pleasing selections entitled "Venetian Love Song," and "The Gondolier," each of which was granted a hearty demand for an encore.

Miss Wellington, in a French-Canadian recitation entitled "De Nice Little Canadienne," made a very pronounced hit, and gave an accurate imitation of the French dialect, or broken English.

Wieniawski's composition "Legende," as played by Miss Choate, gave her ample opportunities to display her command of her chosen instrument. From pathos to pleasure, and from caprice to sadness she ran the gamut of musical expression with the true interpretation of the master musician.

Miss Hazel Dean very ably accompanied all the musical selections on the piano, and much of the success of the program was due to her skilled efforts.

The following was the program—

"March of the Priests" (by request).... ...... Mendelssohn
Conservatory Orchestra.

(a) "An Unprofitable Servant"...... ....Moberly
(b) "L'Envoi"...... ....Kipling
Miss Wellington.

"Capriccio"...... ....Ten Have
Miss Choate.

Song—"The Dream Boat"......Hosmer
Gordon M. Wright.

Trio—(a) "Venetian Love Song" Nevin
(b) "The Gondolier"...... ......
Miss Choate, Miss Dean, Mr. Dean.

"Mrs. Van Alpine's Informal Tea"......
Miss Wellington.

(a) "Elegie"...... ....Massanet
(b) "To a Wild Rose"... ......MacDowell
(c) "The Bee"...... ......Schubert
Miss Choate.

Song—"Gray Days"...... ....Johnson
Gordon M. Wright.

"De Nice Little Canadienne"...... ....Drummond

SUDDEN DEATH OF LAKEFIELD LADY

Miss Bella Morton Passed Away While Chatting With Friends

A sad and unexpected death occurred yesterday when Miss Bella Morton, of Lakefield, passed away. Some three weeks ago Miss Morton fell and broke her ankle and since that time has been confined to her room. Otherwise she was in perfect health and while chatting brightly with friends at her bedside was suddenly overcome with weakness and expired before a doctor could be summoned.

Miss Morton was born in Otonabee township and lived for a time in this city, but has been a resident of Lakefield for some years. She leaves to mourn her loss her mother, Mrs. A. Erskine and her half-brother, Mr. Fred Erskine, of Lakefield. The deceased lady was a member of the Presbyterian church.

The funeral will leave her late home Water street, Lakefield, on Monday morning at 10 o'clock, and proceed to the Little Lake cemetery.

MARRIED

WADDELL—ACKERMAN.—At the George street Methodist church, on Saturday, April 8th, 1911, by Rev. I. Couch, Edna, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Ackerman, to R. M. Waddell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Waddell, Peterborough, Ont.

OBITUARY

The Late George Carton

Another of Peterborough's well-known business men passed away at an early hour this morning in the person of George Carton, of 543 George street. The deceased had been ailing for five days, and was in his 55th year. The late Mr. Carton had been engaged in grocery and pork packing business in this city for about twenty-eight years. He was a son of the late Henry Downs Carton, who emigrated from Ireland, settling in Streetsville, Ont.

The late George Carton spent about twenty-four years in the vicinity of Streetsville, where he was engaged in farming and also in the meat business.

After marrying Charlotte Chambers he went to Dresden, where he became a partner in the woollen manufacturing establishment. Leaving there after a short time, he came to Peterborough and engaged in the grocery business and pork packing industry for about twenty-eight years. Of late he had led a retired life.

Deceased was an adherent of the George St. Methodist church, and was widely known among Peterborough citizens.

Those left to mourn his death are a loving wife and one daughter, Pearl, at home, also three sisters, Mrs. J. Carroll, city; Mrs. R. J. McClintock and Mrs. D. L. Carew, Vancouver, and four brothers, Matthew and Ralph of Peterborough, and John and Thomas, of St. John's, Wash.

The funeral, which will be held Monday to Little Lake cemetery, will be private, and the family request that no flowers be sent. Rev. Isaac Couch will officiate.

LAID AT REST

The remains of the late Mrs. Robert Truscott were brought to the city from Elgin, Man., arriving last night accompanied by the husband of the deceased and brother-in-law, Robert Morphet.

The funeral took place at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the residence of Dr. Scott, Hunter street, to Little Lake cemetery for interment. Rev. J. R. Webb conducted the service, assisted by Rev. J. R. Bonner, of the Gilmour Memorial church.

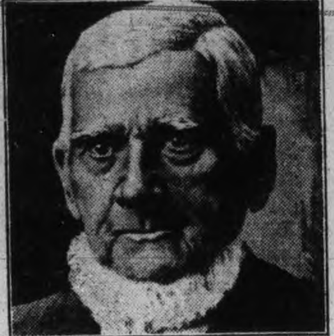
A GRAND MEDICINE FOR OLD PEOPLE

"Fruit-a-tives" Restores The Health and Strength of Youth.

GRANDE LIGNE, QUE., Jan. 2nd, 1910.

"I heartily recommend "Fruit-a-tives" to all who suffer from constipation and the painful consequence, Piles. I am now over 80 years of age and suffered for more than 10 years with Constipation and Piles. I tried all kinds of remedies, but nothing cured me.

About four years ago, I received a sample of "Fruit-a-tives". After taking a few doses. I felt that "Fruit-a-tives" were doing me good. As "Fruit-a-tives" were not sold here then, I wrote to Ottawa for several boxes.



After taking four boxes, I felt well—my Bowels were regular—and the Piles had disappeared". N. JOUBERT.

By taking one "Fruit-a-tives" tablet half an hour before meals—or one or two at night—old people can correct all Stomach, Liver and Kidney Troubles.

"Fruit-a-tives" the famous fruit medicine is mild and gentle in action—pleasant to the taste—yet no other remedy has been found to be so effective in keeping old folks in good health.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

POLLY OF THE CIRCUS

One of the Most Charming Plays of the Season—A Play That Teaches and Amuses

If you do not see "Polly of the Circus", when it is here on Monday night, you will surely be sorry.

This wholesome and simple story is one of the most delightful plays of recent years. It would be difficult to imagine a prettier scene than that with which the first act of "Polly" closes. It is there that the young girl of the circus world gets her first insight into things that are higher and better when, as she first regains consciousness and realizes her helplessness the minister reads to her, at her request, those memorable lines from the book of Ruth; "Entreat me not to leave thee; for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge." The curtain falls and the story is begun. Pathos is mingled through the play with no less excellent humor than Polly's slang, when she first converses with the minister about his people. She calls him a "sky pilot" and, talking of her business as compared with his ministerial duties, says: "One year you give them the rottenest kind of a show and they eat it up; the next year you give 'em a knock out and it's a frost." Those are but random examples. The circus scenes of the third act are revelations of stagecraft. It's all there, the rings, the horses, the elephants, the clowns and acrobats and everything and everybody else. The setting of the last scene of the third act is as wonderful as it is beautiful. The circus trains and the wagons winding away up the pathways, while Polly remains once more and forever behind and with the man after her own heart. Taken all in all, "Polly of the Circus" offers more pure fun and wholesome entertainment than any play has had in a long time, hence it's success.

BUSINESS CHANGES

Mr. Joseph Picard Sr. Takes Management at H. Lebrun & Co.

As will be seen by an advertisement, which will be found elsewhere in the Review to-day, Mr. Joseph Picard, Sr., has taken over the management of the business known as H. LeBrun & Co., and which will be carried on in the future under the name of the old firm. Mr. Picard has been associated with this business since it was opened by the late H. LeBrun, in 1873, and his ability is well known. The splendid success achieved in the past is assured of a continuance with Mr. Picard at the helm, and then there is a further assurance that the dealings between customer and firm will remain as before. The aim will be to give the very best goods at the lowest prices, and every consideration will be given customers, no matter how small the purchase. Men's and boys' furnishings of the very newest goods and latest styles will be placed on the counters for inspection, and a capable staff will be in charge.

As an evidence of the progressive policy to be pursued, improvements are being made to the interior of the store, and these will add much to its general appearance.

BIG BOAT SERVICE FROM RICE LAKE TO LAKE SIMCOE

By Peterborough and Lake Simcoe Navigation Co., Lmt.—Fleet of Six Steamers.

The interests of the Otonabee Navigation Company have been taken over by the Peterborough and Lake Simcoe Navigation Company, Ltd., the boats of the old company, with the addition of the steamer Geneva, will be operated on a more extensive system from now on. The officers of the company are E. F. Mason, president; R. Hicks, vice-president; and R. Pinchin, manager and secretary-treasurer. The steamers to be in commission are the Otonabee, Geneva, Manita, Water Lily, Monarch and Lintonia and five services will be given as follows;—

1 Lindsay, Sturgeon Point and Fenelon Falls. 2 Bobcaygeon, Burleigh Falls, Mount Julian and all Stoney Lake points. 3 Bobcaygeon, Buckhorn, Indian Village, Burleigh Falls and Chemong. 4 Peterborough, Lakefield and Stoney Lake points. 5 Peterborough, Gore's Landing and all Rice Lake points.

The steamer Geneva was purchased from William Thompson, the well-known lumber dealer at Orillia, and who is on the Board of Directors of the new company. Mr. Thompson will be actively engaged in the promotion of the company's interests on the Lake Simcoe waters. It is the intention to use the steamer Otonabee for large excursions to all points between Rice Lake and Lake Simcoe and bookings will now be taken.

Not only will the travelling public be greatly benefitted by the company's progressiveness, but shipping facilities will be greatly improved and Manager Pinchin announces that every consideration will be given those wishing to ship freight. The best of connections by the steamers will be made and everything will be handled in a manner that means satisfaction to the shippers. Through the kindness of T. F. Matthews, the company will be enabled to erect a large warehouse on the property of the Matthews Company at the Wolfe street wharf. The building will consist of a freight department, ticket office and waiting-room and these improvements will be received with much satisfaction.

DEGREES BY PAST CHIEF RANGERS

Interesting Evening of Canadian Order of Foresters

The Canadian Order of Foresters held a unique meeting in their hall, Simcoe street last night, when past chief rangers took charge of the meeting conferring the degrees on three new candidates. Among those taking part were Thomas Hooper, sr., George Kingdon, Joseph Batten, John Smith and Pennington Alexander.

The young members appreciated the visit from the veterans who showed them how the business meetings were carried on in the past. By their speeches they showed that they still had an interest in the welfare of the order. Altogether it was a very enthusiastic meeting.

After the business was successfully closed refreshments were served.

"THE JOY RIDER"

A Big Musical Comedy at "The Grand" Next Wednesday

Musical comedy, in all that the name implies, will be the offering at the Grand Opera House Wednesday night, April 12th, when George Sidney (Busy Izzy) and his company of fun-makers, including Miss Carrie Webber, will appear for one night.

Mr. Sidney will present his new musical comedy, "The Joy Rider," for the first time in Peterborough. It has been several years since Mr. Sidney first began playing the style of character with which he is prominently identified, and his characterization of the little Hebrew is hailed as one of the best pieces of character work on the American stage. Mr. Sidney is wholly original in style, and his quiet, unostentatious humor is irresistible. He is unique in all things, with no attempt at straining for effects, while his inherent sense of humor is always present. There is nothing of the "rough house" order in his quaint and quiet way of doing things and producing effects, and his methods are wholly devoid of artificiality. Naturally, Mr. Sidney is the chief fun-maker and he keeps his audience convulsed with laughter while he is on the stage. There are others in the cast, however, who are said to be close seconds to the star himself in the entertaining line. Among them Callahan and Lloyd, Waldo Whipple, Leona Burrad, two dancing Hogans, Paul Sullivan, Dick Home, Winnie Richards, Hudson Freeborn, and the big choruses of the season.

Arrested at Havelock

A man accused of larceny at Indian River was brought to Peterborough on the 4.38 C.P.R. this afternoon by the constable at Indian River. It seems that the prisoner stole a quantity of money in the village and escaped to Havelock. Constable Bennett was phoned to at Havelock, and had the man arrested.

ANOTHER GREAT ARTIST PAYS TRIBUTE TO THE

NEW SCALE WILLIAMS PIANO

Mischa Elman, the great Russian Violinist, has been greeted by large audiences wherever he has appeared, and has written the following letter about the "New Scale Williams:

"In leaving Canada, after this my second tour here, I do so with many feelings of appreciation, and foremost among these is the delight obtained from the use of the NEW SCALE WILLIAMS PIANO. As you know this instrument was used at all of my concerts in both tours in Canada, and blended so perfectly and was in every way so satisfactory with its full, rich tone, that I cannot say enough in its praise—only to call it perfect.

—MISCHA ELMAN.

When great artists repeatedly choose the New Scale Williams Piano to assist them, it proves that they find all those wonderful tonal qualities, the strength and ability to blend perfectly with the human voice, the violin, or any instrument the artist may use to demonstrate his marvellous gifts of interpretation.

WHO PAYS THE DUTY?——
You or our foreign competitor.

You pay. About that there is no room for doubt.

And it's more than likely you believe in the necessity of the tariff.

But—of what earthly good is it if you pay the duty?

The foreigner laughs at duties imposed by our government as long as you are willing to cash up. Take beer, for instance.

"Salvador"

The Famous National Drink

is the purest and best beer brewed on this continent.

The formula and entire process of brewing "Salvador" is a secret and absolutely controlled, on this side of the Atlantic, by Reinhardts' of Toronto.

But—when you order an American beer in Canada there's 34% extra to pay—the duty—plus extra freight charges.

Is it rational to pay that duty—when you can get a better beer at the normal price? "Salvador" beer is rich in flavor, sparkling and charged with invigorating properties.

INTERMEDIATE LEADERS LOST THE FIRST OF SERIES OF THREE

Defeat by Collegiates in Fast Basketball Game—35-26

Before a large crowd, and in one of the fastest basketball games played in Peterborough this season, the P.C.I. boys defeated the Y.M.C.A. intermediate leaders, at the Y.M.C.A. "gym" last night. Each player checked his opponent closely, making sure shooting almost out of the question. The passing was fast and accurate, every man seemingly in good condition. It was the first game of a series to be played for the intermediates championship. The winners will possibly meet an intermediate team from Toronto West End Y.M.C.A. on Good Friday, so neither team will take any chances in the series.

During the first half of the initial half the Collegians had a little the better of the argument, but when half-time was called the Y.M.C.A. team were in the lead 17—13.

In the second period Doug. Loomis, who was in charge of the game, was assisted by Jack Laing.

The Central Park aggregation went in to overcome the four-point lead, but until the last five minutes of play was unable to handle the contract. With a final spurt, however, they tallied again and again in rapid succession, though not by any means overwhelming their opponents with their speed, as the leaders were also finding the basket. The final score was P.C. I 35, Intermediates 26.

For the winners Laing, Hill and Ray were probably the most effective, but every man played a very strong game. In the losers' camp Irwin and Fitzgerald were the shining lights.

Doug. Loomis and Jack Laing made very satisfactory officials. J. J Thompson held the watch and the score card.

The teams were—

Y.M.C.A. Intermediates—C. Nicholls and W. Hastie, forwards; W. Irwin, centre; A. Fitzgerald and A. Darling, defence.

BOXING PROGRAM WON FAVOR WITH CROWD OF SIX HUNDRED

Lannon and Lang in Feature Bout put up Interesting Contest

The first boxing program of the Peterboro Athletic Club, was accorded a splendid reception at the Grand Opera House last night, and while the attendance was not as large as the the merits of the entertainment called for, the approval of the six hundred who were present, was most gratifying to Manager Breen and the contestants of the four events. The men in the first bout shook hands on advertised time and there were no long waits or a fall down on the part of the promoters of the affair. Objectionable features which sometimes crop up in the best regulated fistic competitions were not on the slate last night, and everything has the O.K. marked on it in big letters.

The feature attraction of course was the six round meeting of Hilliard Lang of Toronto, and Joe Lannon of Syracuse, and which was an even argument in almost all stages. Lang's more recent work in Hamilton and Toronto, served as a sort of introduction to the attendance and something extra was expected from him. On his showing against Lannon however, he wasn't overburdened with any tricks which would frighten an opponent underneath Lannon. The

Syracuse boy made him hustle at a merry clip at any old style Lang wanted to adopt, and altogether the half dozen periods of three minutes each kept the spectators on edge all the time. It was a good exhibition of the mit game and the services of Referee Carroll, were only in demand in the last two rounds, when the men had to be reminded to break.

PRELIMINARIES

J. Walton of Hamilton and Jim. Peters of Toronto, came together in the first of the three five-round preliminaries, and first go of the program. Peters started off with a show of more class, and as the bout progressed he displayed better condition. Walton developed an uppercut that found its mark and bothered his opponent, but that was about all he had. Both men hugged at times, but broke at the order of the referee. The crowd liked the work of the contestants throughout and a decision would have gone to Peters.

The work of Tommy Sturch of Toronto and G. Moore of Montreal, was a better exhibition, with Sturch having it on the eastern boy. They stepped into each other at time for a few stiff ones, but otherwise, the five rounds were a combination of footwork, guarding, and an inclination on the part of Sturch to pose. He, however has the earmarks of a good one and he and Moore were well received by the house.

Ted. Picton and Fred. Crompton, of Toronto mixed it up at a lively clip all the time. Crompton did a lot of the leading, and was forced back to the ropes, repeatedly. Picton got in some good work. Crompton missed many chances in wild attempts. Each was inclined to clinch and the referee had a busy time. Both men were given a hand as they left the ring, with honors fairly even.

OFFICIALS

As the odd man Frank Carroll handled the men well and kept things on the move all the time. Manager Breen acted as annoucer and the timekeepers were Gene Hurtubise and A.J. Johnston.

Clothes, or shoes, or ties, you can "size up"—a hat, you can not.

For instance, almost everyone knows enough about tweeds to tell whether a suit will wear well.

With hats it is different. Who can "size up" a hat? Who can tell whether it will wear three months, or "look seedy" after one month?

No.	GUARANTEE
DATE SOLD	The Color and Wear of this hat are absolutely guaranteed, and any hat which will not give entire satisfaction, will be exchanged at any time within four months after purchase. We also agree to exchange this hat, if same is damaged by accident during the said four months. BUCKLEY & SONS, Manufacturers.

Few can tell a hat's real worth without knowing what goes into its making. None can tell exactly but the manufacturer. He knows better than anyone how long his product will wear—and, if he believes in his hats he ought to be willing to guarantee them.

Buckley Hats are guaranteed. The men that make them believe they'll wear longer than any other hat that's made—and in proof of that belief the makers attach their guarantee for four months. If you buy a Buckley hat to-day, and, any time within the next four months, you find your hat losing color or showing signs of wear, take it to your dealer and he will cheerfully, unhesitatingly exchange it. The Buckley guarantee, moreover, assures you against hat accidents — it's so sweeping as to include even that contingency.

Union made, and of highest grade felt, it is produced in a wide variety of styles to suit all physical types and to conform to latest fashion tendencies. The price is only $2.50.

THE SHEFFIELD CHOIR.

To the Editor of the Review.

Re Sheffield Choir Concert—As one of the promoters of this concert, I wish to thank the local press for the very able support they gave to this concert, also Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons for their kindness in decorating the front of the Grand Opera House free of charge, and allowing the choir to rehearse in the Opera House on Monday morning. To Rev. Pogue and Rev. Couch we owe a debt of gratitude for their kind words on Sunday last, to Canon Davidson and his wardens their kindness will long be remembered, to His Worship, Mayor Morrow and City Council, we appreciate very much their kindness in presenting the address of welcome to the choir.

Financially the concert was not all that we would have desired. Two things worked against it—Lent and the late winter. However, we had the great satisfaction of bringing to our city, the very finest choir that as ever appeared here, and I am afraid that it will be many years before we will hear another choir in this city to equal the Sheffield Choir. I spent three strenuous weeks in promoting this concert; visited a number of towns and villages. Lakefield sent 76 people on the special train, Norwood 40, Havelock 25. Dr. Coward gave the promoters the privilege of inviting a number of musical friends to the rehearsal on Monday morning. Quite a number attended, all seemed to enjoy the rehearsal. I was amply repaid for my trouble on receiving very kind notes from ladies, stating how much they had enjoyed the rehearsal. In conclusion, I would say, if Dr. Harriss should ever bring to Canada another Sheffield Choir, or an Irish Choir, he will not have to hunt around very long for a promoter in Peterboro, if I am around and well. The Sheffield Choir are brothers and sisters from the Dear Old Mother Land, and their last visit will long live in the memories of the citizens of Peterborough and district.

Yours very truly,
WALTER STOCKER

Catarrhal Bad Breath

Corrected Quickly by the Use of

Catarrhozone

Catarrh is an inflammation. Where there is inflammation there is always more or less offensive secretion. Inflammation may be of the very active sort, but it is often of the slow kind, and this is the particular form in which the breath is rendered offensive and the presence of the sufferer becomes an offence to every person of delicate sensibility.

Bad breath is in itself sufficient to urge you to correct it, because one dislikes to be unpleasant to their friends, but this form of catarrh is dangerous because it supplies a hotbed for the development of Consumption or of other diseases of the throat and lungs.

Bad breath is an evidence that the microbes have found a good resting place and are carrying on their evil inroads into the health of the body.

Catarrhozone acts at once and destroys these minute organisms, but it does more—it heals the inflamed surfaces in which they found a nesting place and consequently removes both cause and effects of their action.

If we only highly estimated the value of prevention and used Catarrhozone at the beginning of a cold or just before it becomes well seated, the deadly ravages of Consumption would be stayed and the terrible agonies of sufferers of Asthma or Bronchitis completely abolished.

There is no remedy as effective for bad breath, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, etc., as Catarrhozone. Besides being healing and soothing it is germ destroying. Nothing ever offered to the public can compare with it in its promptness, efficiency, and permanency of action, and you can buy it from any dealer in medicine throughout the Dominion of Canada, 25c, 50c, and $1.00 sizes. By mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

NEW STRENGTH IN THE SPRING

Nature Needs Aid in Making New Health Giving Blood

In the spring the system needs toning up. To be healthy and strong you must have new blood, just as the trees must have new sap to renew their vitality. Nature demands it, and without this new blood you will feel weak and languid—you may have twinges of rheumatism, or the sharp stabbing pains of neuralgia. Often there are disfiguring pimples or eruptions on the skin. In other cases there is merely a feeling of tiredness and a variable appetite. Any of these are signs that the blood is out of order—that the indoor life of winter has lessened your vitality. What is needed to put you right is a tonic, and in all the world of medicine there is no tonic can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills actually make new, rich, red blood—your greatest need in the spring. This new blood drives out disease, clears the skin and makes weak, easily tired men, women and children bright, active and stronger. You can prove this by your neighbors, for there is not a nook or corner in this great land where some weak, ailing man or woman has not been made well and strong by this great medicine. Mr. H. Wilson, Stonewall, Man., says: "Some years ago I was run down, languid and depressed, and felt as though I was only fitted for life's scrap heap. A friend who had great faith in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills gave me a box. Before they were all used I felt much better, and thus encouraged, got a further supply, and it was not many [illegible] enjoying my former good health. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a boon to every weak person."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

O'Keefe's PILSENER LAGER

"The Light Beer in the Light Bottle"

Is Far Better Than The Government Regulation Requires

The Canadian Government regulation, regarding the brewing of lager, is probably the most exacting in the world.

It calls for a brew of Hops, Malt and Water only. The American Government places no such restrictions on her brewers.

O'Keefe's "Pilsener" not only complies with the Canadian Government regulations—but is brewed of the very finest Hops and Malt, and pure filtered Water.

THIRTY DAYS ON THE HILL

Offending Blacklister Has to Face An Old Charge—Police Court Cases

This morning he pleaded guilty at police court of having been drunk. There was an old charge against him also, of having purchased liquor while on the list and for the two offences he was fined $20 or in default of payment 30 days on the hill. He had spent all his money, so it will be the hil for him until the dandelions bloom.

"It was foolish of me, I know," he stammered, "but I should not have been on the list anyway."

"You're old enough to know better," said Magistrate Dumble.

"What about the old charge," he was asked.

COSTS HIM $5.75.

A young man from Douro, the only support of his mother, was arrested on Hunter street yesterday for indecent action. He is poorer now by $5.75.

"It's a poor way to support your mother, squandering your money and getting drunk," remarked his Worship to the young man.

AN UNLUCKY DAY.

Joseph Shearer, the alleged chop thief, has been rounded up, and appeared before the Magistrate this morning. The charge against him was of having helped to steal 50 bags of chop from the Quaker Oats Co. on the 27th of March.

He elected to be tried summarily. "I didn't steal it," was the prisoner's remark. "It was given to me."

The hearing of the case comes up on the 13th of April.

ANNIVERSARY AT KNOX CHURCH

Rev. E. W. McKay of Smith Falls Preaches To-morrow

Special services will mark the occasion of the fourth anniversary of Knox church. The Rev. E. W. McKay, B.A., of St. Paul's church, Smith's Falls, will conduct the services morning and evening and address the men's meeting in the afternoon. Rev. Mr. McKay is a Scotchman, a graduate of Glasgow University, and of Knox College, Toronto. He is a forceful speaker and will no doubt be listened to by large congregations. His visit to Knox church is of special interest, in that he is the pastor of the congregation to which Rev. Mr. Keith belonged. On the 1st of January four years ago, St. Paul's church gave Knox its certificate of independence, and that the action was justified is abundantly manifest. St. Paul's has reason to be proud of its young daughter. The minister, Rev. Mr. Keith, was inducted into the new charge on the 11th of April, 1907. Both events will be celebrated to-morrow by special services, and on Monday night, when an open social evening will be held, to which friends are invited. An excellent program has been prepared, and Rev. Mr. McKay will give an address. Refreshments will be served. Knox is looking forward to an enjoyable and profitable occasion.

France is said to favor Britain over Germany in the disputes over the Bagdad railway.

Greeks throughout the world are day celebrating the anniversary of Greek independence.

COMMISSIONER REES' VISIT HERE

Program of Meetings for To-night and To-morrow

In connection with the visit of Commissioner Rees (in command of Salvation Army in Canada) to this city tonight and to-morrow, the following program of meetings has been arranged—

Saturday—7.47 p.m., reception at C. P.R. station by silver band and soldiers and route march to the Temple, Simcoe street.

Sunday—7 a.m., Knee Drill (for early risers; 11 a.m., special holiness meeting; 3 p.m., great public welcome to Commissioner, Hon. J. R. Stratton will preside, supported by the City Council and a number of prominent citizens. 7 p.m., old-time Salvation meeting at which the Commissioner will preach.

Col. Mapp, Lieut.-Col. Pugmire, Brigadier Hargrave and Major Findlay will accompany the Commissioner and assist in these meetings. The public is cordially invited.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

The regular meeting of Peterboro Circle, No. 193 O.C.H.C., was held last night in the L. O. L. hall, Simcoe St. There was a large attendance and after the regular business, O.S. Matchett gave an excellent report of the Grand Lodge which was held recently in Toronto. "Over 1600 new members have been added to the order during the year," said the speaker, "and the surplus over all liabilities is more than $391,000."

At the close of the program, the ladies served refreshments.

The sixth consecutive performance of Sir John Stainer's solemn oratorio, "The Crucifixion," will be given by St. John's choir in the church on Good Friday evening, at 8 p.m. Special pains have been taken with the rehearsals, and as most of last year's singers are available Mr. R. J. Devey hopes that this year the work will be given better than ever before.

SUFFERED FROM VIOLENT CATHARTICS

The Warning of Mr. Geo. C. Fox Is One That Should Be Heeded by All.

Few men on the road are better known than genial George Fox, whose friends throughout the West are legion In the following letter he expresses gratitude for signal services rendered by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. He goes on to say: "Until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills and experienced their wonderful mildness and curative power, I estimated the value of every pill by its activity. Talking about this to a well-known physician I met on the train the other day, he explained there are different kinds of drugs that act upon the bowels, the most active being known as drastic. Except in extreme cases where the life of the patient depends upon speedy evacuation of the bowels, pills should never be drastic. Purgatives cause catarrh of the bowels and inflammation; their dose must be increased, causing even more harm. With such a clear explanation I could see why Dr. Hamilton's Pills are curative and not irritating, why they are mild, yet most searching.

"From my experience I recommend everyone that takes pills to give up the old-fashioned harsh, purging pill, and, instead, to use Dr. Hamilton's. They cure headache, billiousness, constipation, bad stomach, and keep the system in perfect condition."

MISS GLADYS SEWARD IS MAKING A HIT IN GERMANY; AN APPEAL ON HER BEHALF

To The Editor of The Review.

Dear Sir:—I should like very much to make an appeal through the columns of your valuable paper, on behalf of Gladys Seward, the Peterboro pianist, now studying in Dresden. Appeals have been made through the press from time to time, but lately there has been no response, in fact nearly all that has been deposited in the bank for months past, has been put there by members of the Seward family, who are doing all they can for Gladys. This however, is not enough, and I appeal to the public spirited citizens of Peterboro to do all they can for this talent. Canada is proud of Kathleen Parlow, Canada will be proud of Gladys Seward. More money must be raised as there is very little left in the bank, and Gladys must have at least two more years of study abroad. Mr. Field writes me that the Germans and Americans in Dresden will do something in the matter, but this he considers would be a great slur on the people of Peterborough. It certainly would seem to me to indicate a terrible lack of public spirit on the part of Peterborough citizens if the future of this young artist were left for foreigners to look after. There are many people in Peterborough who could easily give the whole amount without ever feeling it's loss. If five people each gave $100.00, the entire amount would be realized but there are many people who would probably like to contribute small amounts, so I desire to call to the notice of everyone that the fund is still open, and contributions of any amount will be gladly received.

It has been said to me several times by Peterborough people "Gladys Seward has had help enough I think. Let her show now what she can do." People who speak in this way cannot surely realize that "Art is Long." What has been accomplished by Gladys Seward already has been the result of hard work as well as of great natural talent. What is needed still, is work and this Peterborough girl has shown how she can and does work. Strange to say, the remark mentioned above has always been made by persons who have contributed nothing to the fund. I do not wish to close without thanking most heartily those who have been so kind in contributing to the fund, and also to many who, though unable to help much in a financial way, have been most helpful in encouraging those who are most interested in this undertaking. Those who contributed while the plan of sending Gladys abroad seemed a venture, should be doubly thanked and no doubt the glowing accounts which we have just received of the success of our Peterborough pianist will be heard with gladness by all.

Let everyone who is interested in this great talent of our city, or in love with music itself (not to mention those people of means, who can by giving now, help on a deserving cause) please send contributions to the Gladys Seward Fund, at the earliest possible date.

Let Peterborough claim this talent as her own, and not settle down contentedly, letting strangers and foreigners claim her later as theirs, because they have provided the funds for her education.

Thanking you for your space Mr. Editor,

Believe me,
Yours truly,
ALICE R. COLLINS.

Mount Forest, April 6, 1911.

Contributions may be left with Messrs. Wainwright, W. H. Hill, and Harry Rush.

PRESS NOTICE.

Following are press notices which Miss Seward has been given and which will be of great interest to Peterborough people.

From the "Guide to Dresden," March 18th, 1911.

The Symphony Concert in the Gewerbehaus on Saturday, March 11, drew a large and distinguished audience. Everybody took keen interest in the young and gifted piano virtuoso, Miss Gladys Seward, "of only sweet sixteen," who for the first time with orchestral accompaniment played Chopin's E minor concerto, as should be stated here, with tremendous success for one so young. This talented Canadian girl, who studied with Harry M. Field, owns all the advantages of his excellent school, a clear singing (and also ringing) tone, full of expression and individual color —a brilliant technique and physical strength. She is, sure of a high future, for she has all the qualities that go towards the making of an artist, including temperament and no sign of nervousness. Miss Seward seems perfectly at home on the concert platform, the audience apparently does not exist to her. Hence her freedom of execution and abandon of which many artists should envy her. The girl pianist further played some soli, such as the Faust-Waltz by Gounod-Liszt —a marvellous rendition—as well as Schutt's "Au Ruisseau," for which she was so heartily applauded that she had to give an encore, Alvin Kranich's most attractive composition, "Intermezzo," which should be widely known as a valuable addition to concert programs. At the close flowers, bouquets and wreaths rewarded the young debutante, who surely is so much of an artist that she knew this first success means only an encouraging beginning, which will lead to further study to achieve greater heights and addition good results on her path to final achievements in art.

"On Saturday at the Gewerbehaus concert, a young piano virtuoso, scarcely more than a child, played with astonishing skill and emotion Chopin's E minor concerto (with orchestral accompaniment). This highly fifted girl, Gladys Seward, is conspicuous in the well-known school of Harry Field. She did great credit to her teacher, and also at the same time made a name for herself, which with her personality, we shall hear of again. She displayed artistic freedom and inspiration and after more study will surely be heard of again. Her solos also brought her much well deserved applause, and so many recalls that it is hoped her head will not be turned."

"At the last Symphony concert at the Gewerbehaus we made the acquaintance of Gladys Seward, a still very young and promising pianist, pupil of the talented pedagogue, Mr. Harry Field. The artist showed by means of much well developed talent that she possesses taste and skill, and and a clean touch. Her playing was marked by vigorous swing and rhythmic energy. Some slight imperfections in her work will be overcome by persistent effort. However, the rendering of Chopin's E minor Concerto (with orchestral accompaniment) was an imposing performance. Miss Seward is still too much of a virtuoso, who likes to play rather for effect. She strikes the audience with her technical abilities, but she does not satisfy the treasure seeker. The "Faust" Waltz, by Gounod-Liszt, is certainly her uncontested domain. Ed. Schutt's "Au Russieau" was an acceptable number. The harvest of flowers and laurel leaves, and the enthusiastic applause was exceptionally great."

"At the Saturday Symphony concewrt in the Gewerbehaus we were delighted to make the acquaintance of a young and talented pianist, Miss Gladys Seward. She did great credit to Mr. Harry M. Field, whose pupil she is. She played muscially, surely, and with poetic feeling (romance) Chopin's E minor Concerto (with orchestra, and also solo numbers by Ed. Schutt, and Gounod-Liszt, and as encore an Intermezzo by Kranich."

"The Symphony concert at the Gewerbehaus on Saturday was of great interest. It brought to our notice the young pianist, Gladys Seward, who played with great success the Chopin E minor Concerto (with orchestral accompaniment) as well as solo numbers by Schutt and Gounod-Liszt. After repeated encores she played as an extra number an Intermezzo by Kranich. Miss Gladys is a pupil of Harry M. Field."

The following letter was sent to Mrs. Collins from Dresden, by Harry Field, teacher of Miss Seward, and explains itself:—

Sedaustr, 49h (Pt.,
Dresden.

My dear Mrs. Collins,—It is with great satisfaction and pleasure that I can report to you that your old pupil, Gladys Seward, had a great triumph last Saturday night in Gewerbehaus, where she played the E minor Cohpin, as well as solo pieces. She was not at all nervous, and for one so young did wonders. The criticisms are splendid. Am waiting for two more, and then, I shall send them to you. You would have been proud of her. She surprised them all, and no one can touch her of her own age, and many developed artists cannot hold a candle to her. She now has to work to develop intensity, depth, etc. I am going to arrange for her to play in Berlin and other places in the fall.

How about the fund? Have people responded well, or are they not going to help any more? If they do not it will be a disgrace. Mr. Wright, the Presbyterian clergyman here, asked me about it, as he is interested in Gladys and would do all in his power to help.

Kindest regards from mother and me to you all.

Most sincerely,
(Signed) HARRY FIELD.

CORONATION WAKES THEM UP

Londoners Hustling in Anticipation of Event.

Programme of King and Queen is Exacting.

Canadian Cadets Will be Visitors at Splash.

London, April 10.—These are busy days for foreign and colonial representatives in London, particularly the American and Canadian officials. Thousands of people are coming from America for the coronation, and from the appearance of the embassy and consulate mail bags a large proportion of them want something done for them.

The majority of the requests are reasonable; many are difficult to comply with, and a few, to those knowing the conditions, are ridiculous. One writer, for example, asked that four seats be reserved for him in Westminster Abbey on the day of the coronation, hardly realizing perhaps that few outside of official circles will secure a glimpse of that historic ceremony, and not many thousands will even get a view of the procession from Buckingham Palace to the Abbey, the route being so short.

There will be many occasions during the summer, however, of seeing the royal coach and witnessing ceremonies only a little less interesting than the coronation itself. Five times during May and June Their Majesties will drive through the streets of London. On May 21 they go to Crystal Palace to open the festival of empire; on June 22 there is the coronation procession; on the day following the royal passage through London, when several miles of streets will be traversed. On June 29 the visit to the Guild Hall and return through north London; on June 30 a second drive to Crystal Palace, where the King and Queen are giving a coronation fete for 100,000 children in the elementary schools of London.

On May 16 the Queen Victoria memorial will be unveiled, and the German Emperor and Empress will attend. The following evening a gala performance will be given at Drury Lane in honor of the German Emperor. In coronation week there will be gala performances at both Covent Garden Opera House and His Majesty's Theatre.

Canadian Cadets to Go.

Ottawa, April 10.—An invitation having been received from the Imperial Cadet Association of London, Eng., for Canadian cadets to participate in the "Boys' Bisley" on the 24th of May, it has been decided to send twelve cadets from organized cadet corps, accompanied by an officer, to take part in the competitions. The Department of Militia and Defence will have charge of their transportation to and from the cadets' homes and subsistence during their stay in England. They will sail from Montreal for England on May 5th and return to Canada early in July.

The cadets will be selected from those participating in the miniature and gallery competitions of the Canadian Rifle League, 1911, and be chosen according to the places taken by them in a special competition to be fired with single-loading rifles, 22-bore, on local miniature ranges from the 11th and 19th of April.

TWO HUNDRED GIRLS MISSING

Tokio's Tenderloin District Swept by Fire.

Special To The Review.

Tokio, Japan, April 10—Fully two hundred girls cannot be accounted for and many are believed to be dead, as the result of the burning of the tenderloin district of the city. The reformers are agitating against the rebuilding of the district.

The Spanish Government is worried at the independent attitude of France in dealing with the troubles in Morocco.

NINE GOOD REASONS

Why Should You Vote for the Independent Tire Co. By-law on April 25th? --

1. Because it brings a $200,000 factory, paying out at least $60,000 a year wages at no actual cost to the city.

2. Because it will bring many new families to Peterborough, besides giving employment to people here—employing when fully established over 100 operatives.

3. Because the loan of $40,000 to the company is fully secured by a first mortgage on the site, buildings and machinery, the latter of which must be at all times worth $75,000—total assets nearly $200,000.

4. Because the company must before getting the loan completed have $150,000 paid up capital, thus ensuring financial stability for the concern, all money after the machinery is paid for, to be kept as working capital.

5. Because automobile tire manufacturing is going to be a much greater business, and there is every prospect that this company will grow to much greater importance.

6. Because the terms provide for the repayment of the loan $2,000 a year, with interest at 4½ per cent., costing the city nothing for carrying charges.

7. Because Peterborough needs more factories, if they can be obtained on good business terms, and the Tire company terms are satisfactory.

8. Because no extra burden is laid on the general taxpayer through getting this industry. The arrangement is not a bonus—it is simply assisting the financing of the company the same as a bank would do, and within a safe bound.

9. Because loyalty to your home town, and its progress, to its business interests which are your interests, should induce you to help make this a bigger, better and busier burg.

Four Toronto Companies United Under One Control—Bonded Debt of Merger Will be $17,000,000.

Toronto, April 10.—A $19,000,000 electric merger will be formed in this city in the near future. The contracting parties will be the Toronto Electric Light Co., which passed into the hands of the Electrical Development Co. by the unanimous decision of the shareholders of the former company at a meeting held on Saturday, the Electrical Development Co., the Toronto Power Co., sometimes known as the Toronto & Niagara Power Co., and the Toronto Railway Co. The first company is capitalized at $4,000,000, the second at $6,000,000, the third at $1,000,000, and the fourth at $8,000,000, making a total of $19,000,000.

In addition to the above stock capital of the four companies there is a total underlying bond issue of $17,500,000, so that the total money value of the combination is really $36,500,000. The outstanding bond issue of the Toronto Railway Co. is $3,998,000; the Electrical Development Co., $10,000,000; Toronto Electric Light Co., $1,000,000; and Toronto Power Co., $2,500,000.

That such a move is contemplated and that the purchase of the Toronto Electric Co. by the Electric Development was but the initial step in this big financial combination, was learned last evening from a reliable source.

Credence is added to this announcement when it is taken into consideration that the interests of the four companies mentioned are almost identical.

These companies in their operations have for some time past been dovetailing their activities. As to the personnel of the parties interested, the names of Sir Henry Pellatt and Sir William Mackenzie occupy prominent positions in all of them Sir Henry is at the head of the Electrical Development Co. and the Toronto Electric Light Co., and a director of the other two. Sir William is at the head of the Toronto Railway Co. and the Toronto Power Co., and is also a director of the other two.

For all practical purposes there is a combination already of these four electric companies. The merger will be the formal public announcement that the companies are united.

HIS LORDSHIP BISHOP REEVE.
Who will administer the ancient and apostolic rite of confirmation at All Saints' Church this evening.

UNIONISTS ARE PLAYING POSSUM

Doing all They Can to Prolong the Debate.

London, April 10.—(New York Tribune cable.)—Prolonged resistance to the Parliament bill at every stage is the only course open to the Unionists. The committee stage, when resumed next week, may be accelerated by the scientific use of the closure, but obstruction so ingeniously devised and applied so systematically is likely to block legislation for many weeks. The Government whips no longer venture to forecast the date when the measure can be sent to the Lords or when the crisis will arise for which the royal guarantees are reserved. The Opposition, led with brilliant ability by A. J. Balfour, is attempting to tire out the Government and drag it into a conference where an agreement can be forced by negotiation.

The rejection of the Parliament bill by the Lords, on second reading, now seems unlikely, since Swift MacNeill has shown that the measure can be revived with little delay after promulgation for another session. The Unionist tacticians have reverted to their earlier policy of prolonging the debate in the committee stage and amending the measure until it is no longer recognizable. In either case the menace of the creation of peers in overwhelming number will be necessary if there is no possible compromise. An agreement may be facilitated when the understanding between the King and the Prime Minister is clearly known, instead of being conjectured vaguely by the Unionists and confidently assumed by the Radicals.

Meanwhile, with blizzards outside Parliament and tempests of passion and partisanship inside, invalidism is increasing, and the conflict threatens to end with the survival of the fittest. The breakdown of prominent men like David Lloyd-George, Austen Chamberlain, Lord Crewe and Lord Waldegrave alone attracts attention. The rank and file are also suffering on both sides. So many members are dropping out and the strain of public life is so excessive that the Ministerial threats of an autumn session may become an effective method of coercion.

In Peril on Island.

Halifax, April 10.—No word has been received by C. H. Harvey, agent of the Marine and Fisheries Department, from St. Paul's Island, where 140 of the crew of the abandoned steamer Harlaw found a refuge from the sinking ship. Mr. Harvey considers that this means the Newfoundland Government steamer Bonaventure, sent to the men's relief, has not been able to make the island.

CHATHAM MAN FINED FOR ASSAULT

Chatham, April 10—Warren Shupe, the man who assaulted Olive Hickly on the fifth street bridge recently, was fined $37, following his conviction in court this morning.

BORDEN DOESN'T KNOW ABOUT IT

No Agreement Calling for Prorogation of House in May.

Special To The Review.

Ottawa, April 10.—R. L. Borden, this morning denied having any knowledge of an agreement, between the two parties, calling for prorogation of the House, about the middle of May.

OLD PARTIES ARE SPLIT BY THE RECIPROCITY QUESTION

DUKE WAS ILL

London, April 8.—The Duke of Connaught, who has been ill since March 4, and confined to his rooms, is much better. It was announced officially yesterday yesterday that the trouble is bronchitis.

Several Factions at Odds in the Congress and Hard to Say What Will Happpen to the Agreement.

Washington, April 10.—It is daily becoming more manifest that Congress is facing a stormy session, and that there can be made no forecast for the probable legislative outcome. Both of the parties are badly divided, and the leaders appear to have little hope of restoring anything more than surface harmony.

There are virtually four parties, each with a large representation, working at odds in the present session. The Republican minority of the House is divided between regulars and insurgents, as was evidenced by the vote in the Speakership contest. The breach between these two factions is even wider in the Republican majority of the Senate.

A sharp line has been drawn between the conservative Democrats of the Senate, who are opposed to any attempt at dictation on the part of Wm. Jennings Bryan and the progressive Democrats, including practically all of the new members and several veterans like Senator Stone of Missouri, who are Bryan adherents. The House Democratic majority seems thus far to have escaped a break, but the leaders fear that the party contest in the Senate may at any time spread to the other branch. The situation has interfered with the selection of committees and the beginning of legislative work.

While President Taft would like Congress to adopt the Canadian reciprocity agreement and defer other measures to the regular session, Speaker Champ Clark and Oscar Underwood have other views.

Now that the new majority in the House has adopted rules giving it just as much power as any majority ever enjoyed, there is no doubt that measures on the subject of direct election of Senators, publicity before elections of campaign contributions, Canadian reciprocity, revision of the woollen and cotton schedules, and any further tariff changes, the majority's desires will be sent to the Senate in whatever order is decreed by the ways and means committee. The Republicans may expostulate or denounce as they please; they will be powerless to prevent. The real legislative problem, therefore, will be at the Senate end of the capitol.

Only time will tell what sort of line-up there will be in the Senate on tariff matters. Previous sessions have indicated that there are just as ardent protectionists in the Democratic representation.

JAPANESE NOT AFTER NAVAL BASE

Say Members of Foreign Relations Committee.

Special To The Review.

Washington, April 10.—Members of the foreign relations committee, after looking over the accounts in the papers relative to the Mexican situation, have declared that Japan did not seek to establish a naval base along the Mexican coast.

ROOSEVELT HAD RUN FOR MONEY

Theodore Quite Satisfied He Has Had it All.

Spokane, Wn., April 10.—Theodore Roosevelt made his first public declaration regarding his possible candidacy for the Presidency at a luncheon given in his honor Saturday by the Commercial Club:

"I am not an aspirant for anything, because I have had everything," he said. "No other man alive has had—I don't know whether I ought to use this simile in the presence of the chaplain, but I am going to take chances—no other man alive has had such a good run for his money.

"You have nothing I want, except your respect and good-will, and all I desire is, so far as the chance arises where I am able to do so, to help you in any movement for the good of our common country."

Railway to Gaspe.

Montreal, April 10.—M. J. O'Brien, who built the Gulf Terminal Railway from St. Flavie on the I.C.R. to Matanne, 26 miles, states that the road will be continued on to Gaspe Basin, 180 miles, and also from St. Flavie to a junction with the Transcontinental, a further 100 miles.

GENERAL ELECTION BEFORE LONG, SAYS SIR FREDERICK

Montreal, Que., April 9.—Sir Frederick Borden, Minister of Militia, speaking before the Montreal Reform Club on Saturday night, intimated that there would be a general election before long, and that the contest would be fought out on the reciprocity question.

The recurring rumors of an early appeal to the people on the reciprocity question, backed up by political activity by government candidates and supporters, point out the necessity of the Conservatives of the county getting their organization into working order. The party that is on the job is the party that has a great lead on its opponent. Peterborough Conservatives should get into line as early as possible.

LINER FREED FROM SANDS

Slipped Off Bank as Easily as it Went on.

New York, April 10.—"All safe ashore" was the message flashed by the commander of the steamer Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm to his owners as the big liner with the 1,720 rescued passengers of the stranded Prinzess Irene warped into the North German Lloyd docks at Hoboken Saturday morning, having anchored in the harbor over night.

And yesterday afternoon, bearing no visible scars except a shattered rudderpost, the North German Lloyd liner Prinzess Irene slipped away from Fire Island as unexpectedly as she had come in the fog of Thursday morning. After 83 hours of imprisonment in the sand off the Lone Hill Life Saving Station, she cheated the "Graveyard of the Atlantic" and was floated with the aid of the tugs at 3.05 p.m. At 3.40 she left in tow of Scotland Light, practically at the entrance to New York harbor, to anchor for the night. To-day, the Irene came up to her dock, and after her hull is fixed she will be rushed to Newport for more thorough examination in drydock. Her stay there will depend on what the inspection discloses. The vessel has not taken a drop of water and her plates are thought to be intact.

The North German Lloyd Line has been noted for its kind-hearted leniency with conscientious commanders, and as the veteran Captain Peterson of the Prinzess Irene will take his ship back across the Atlantic under her own steam, substantially unscathed, it is the assumption here among those who profess to know, that Peterson's personal grief will be his chief punishment. He has had a flawless and notable record heretofore, and in New York steamship circles it is beleved that if his explanation of the grounding is considered satisfactory his reprimand will not be severe.

To the life-savers who followed the work to save the Prinzess Irene, her sudden flotation yesterday afternoon was a distinct surprise. Capt. G. J. Goddard of the Lone Hill station was almost flabbergasted. In his opinion it was due to a miracle and an unusually high tide stirred up by a southeasterly storm at sea.

POLICE SEIZED MORE BOOKS BUT THESE ARE MODERN ONES

Toronto, April 10.—Once more the police went gunning for undesirable books Saturday at 1 o'clock. They visited the emporiums of Albert Britnell and John P. McKenna, and secured three specimens at the first and two at the last port of call. The books which are now up for censure are very different from the classics which were recently condemned. This time the matter is extremely modern. At Britnell's "The Yoke," "Three Weeks" and "Cynthia in the Wilderness" were seized, and at McKenna's copies of the first two were taken.

At the Britnell premises a search was made by Staff Inspector Kennedy and Detective McKinney who, armed with candles, descended into the cellar. They located a case of books lying adjacent to a drain pipe, among which were copies of all three books. These they seized and departed. At the McKenna store every assistance was given to the police and copies of two of the books were taken.

Summonses will be issued in each case for a day early in the week.

Burned to Death.

Halifax, Aprli 10.—Georgie Ryan, the four-year-old son of Chief Steward Ryan of the steamer Boston, was burned to death on Saturday. The Boston was due to arrive yesterday, but was detained by the weather, so that the father was not aware of the terrible affair until he landed. The mother of the child went out for five minutes to purchase groceries. During her absence the child's clothing became ignited at the kitchen stove and so badly was he burned that he died in an hour.

London, April 10—Cablegrams received here, report the Chinese soldiers about Canton to be in mutiny. Foreigners have taken flight to Hong Kong, the mutineers having threatened to burn Canton.

RUBBER TIRE BUSINESS HAS INCREASED 1000 PER CENT

Three Years Ago it Was $350,000—Now it is $4,000,000 and Still Growing.

Montreal, April 10.—"Three years ago the rubber tire trade was only between $350,000 and $400,000 in the whole of Canada. This year it will be over $4,000,000. We expect our trade alone to be over the $300,000 mark this year. Trade is very brisk and lively being particularly progressive in the West, automobiles being purchased in astonishing fashion out there. We see a bright future for tires for trucks, and are expecting a great demand for such tires. Naturally, we are equipping our various branches to handle this growing branch of the trade," said W. P. Kearney, of the Rubber Tire Wheel Company Agency, Craig street, to-day.

"To protect their patents in Canada," he added, "it became necessary for the patentees to have their goods manufactured in the Dominion. The reason, too, for the repair work being done here is attributable to the amount which it would cost to have a tire repaired in the United States. Perhaps you would not credit it, but we cannot send a tire to the United States for repair without having to pay duty on it as a new tire on its return. Thus you see to the cost of repair would have to be added the cost of transport, plus the duty on a new tire."

Mr. Kearney spends a great deal of time away from Montreal visiting these branches, and last year travelled some 65,000 miles, sleeping a good portion of the year in trains. Mr. Kearney is very keen on the improvement of roads in Canada, and looks forward to the time when Canada will be a happy hunting ground for the touring motorists and cyclists, due to the provision of good roads.

ITALY VISITED BY EARTHQUAKES

Series of Eight Quakes Cause Panic at Rome.

Special To The Review.

Rome, Italy, April 10—A series of light earthquakes have caused a panic throughout the city to day, and many of the inhabitants are terrified. The quakes were not very heavy and very little damage was done.

The U.S. cavalry (colored) will not be sent on Mexican patrol duty, as race prejudice might be aroused.

Horse Distemper

Prince Edward Farmer Solemnly Declares "Nerviline" Is a Specific.

"After fifty years' experience in raising horses I can safely testify that no remedy gives such good results for an all-round stable liniment as Nerviline." Thus opens the very earnest letter of J. J. Evanston, who lives near Wellington, P. E. "I had a very valuable horse that took distemper a month ago, and was afraid I was going to lose him. His throat swelled and hard lumps developed. His nostrils ran and he had a terrible cough. I tried different remedies, but was unable to relieve my horse of his pain and suffering till I started to use Nerviline. I mixed a bottle of Nerviline and sweet oil and rubbed the mixture on the throat and chest three times a day and you would scarcely believe the way that horse picked up. Nerviline cured him. I also have used Nerviline for colic in horses and cows, and earnestly recommend it to every man that is raising stock."

Nerviline CURES QUICKLY

For strains, sprains, swellings, colic, distemper, coughs, and colds, no liniment will prove so efficacious in the stable as "Nerviline"—it's good for man or beast, for internal or external use. Wherever there is pain, Nerviline will cure it. Refuse substitutes. Large bottles 50c, trial size 25c, at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

CORNS CURED IN 24 HOURS

You can painlessly remove any corn, either hard, soft, or bleeding, by applying Putnam's Corn Extractor. It never burns, leaves no scar, contains no acids; is harmless, because composed only of healing gums and balms. Fifty years in use. Cure guaranteed. Sold by all druggists, 25c bottles. Refuse substitutes.

UNION LABEL

THE TIRE CO. BY-LAW

The by-law which will be submitted to the property holders of the city on April 25th to secure the location of the Independent Tire Company in Peterborough is one worthy of the support of every citizen qualified to vote.

It is not an extravagant by-law. It is not giving to the company concessions which will cost the city money. It will not add to the burden already borne by the tax-payer. The loan of $40,000 may seem high, at first glance, but an investigation into the surrounding terms should convince everyone that it is a good thing for Peterborough and should be supported.

The terms of the by-law, have been made clear on occasions, but that all may get a grasp of what is demanded of the city and of the company, it may be well to repeat what the bargain is.

The company agrees to buy a site, and erect a three-storey brick building suitable for its work, by July 1st, of 1912, such site and building to be worth at least $40,000. It will install machinery valued at $75,000 at least, and always keep this value on hand. It will have a paid-up capital of $150,000, and will within 30 days of starting, employ 40 operatives, ninety days 60 operatives, and within a year shall employ 100, and continuously employ at least that number.

The city makes a loan of $40,000 secured by a first mortgage on site, buildings and machinery, in instalments, the instalments being conditional upon every conditions of the company's undertakings being lived up to. The company undertakes to pay back that loan at the rate of $2,000 yearly, with interest at 4 1-2 per cent., or the same as the city pays on the debentures. The loan thus costs the city nothing, the advantage in the affair being to the company, which gets a lower rate of interest than the bank accommodation would offer.

The only question facing the city rate-payers is:—Is the security for the loan adequate? Assets of nearly $200,000 are involved as against a liability of $40,000. From this it will be seen that the city is properly protected.

Vote for the by-law on April 25th, as the advance of the city depends on the maintenance of the city's reputation for industrial activity. Factories follow each other. To grow into a larger and better city more industries are needed, for where there is a demand for labor will there be population and prosperity. Peterborough needs the rubber factory, which promises a bright future. Will you vote to give the city another boost?

TAX RATES

In an article on tax rates the Galt Reporter says that Brockville has a rate of 29 mills, Berlin 22 1-2, Guelph 22, Brantford 23 1-2, Waterloo 24 and Peterborough 28. As far as Peterborough is concerned the Reporter is only 6 mills out—not much, of course. But it all depends on whether assessment is high or low, as to what the people pay. A fairer basis of comparison is the total taxes paid per head of population. In this Peterborough with a 22 mill rate, is fourth on a list of eighteen Ontario cities, with $10.77 per head indicating that this city is one of the lowest taxed cities of the province. Unfortunately Galt is not listed in the table of the eighteen, and it cannot be compared with Peterborough. Brantford, which in 1909 had a 20 mill rate, paid an average per capita tax of $13.41, compared with $10.77 by Peterborough. With a 23 1-2 mill rate, this tax will amount to about $15.

DIVORCE CASES

Down at Ottawa there is a committee of delightful old gentlemen, who listen with ears wiggling over savory details of divorce cases. This is the Senate Divorce Committee, presided over by Senator Kirchoffer, of Manitoba. The committee has under its jurisdiction Ontario, Quebec, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, Yukon and other territories in Canada; Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and British Columbia retaining their pre-confederation divorce courts.

The Senate Committee does not grant many divorces. In fact, the expense and difficulty put it beyond the reach of most people, and great wrongs may be endured in silence because of this inaccessibility. Since 1868 the average number of divorces has been three per annum, and only in 1906, 1909 and 1910 have there been over ten granted. The records of the Senate show that between the years 1897 and 1906—the years for which figures are available — the Senate Committee granted one divorce for every 27,249 of population in Ontario; one for 170,980 in Quebec; for 58,565 in Manitoba. In Nova Scotia, where there is a regular divorce court, in these years there was one divorce for 8,800 people; one for 17,863 in New Brunswick; one for 2,600 in British Columbia.

During this decade, 539,362 divorces were secured in the United States, or one for 1,360 population; and in Britain one for every 17,000 population. That the part of the Dominion under the jurisdiction of the Senate compares most favorably with the provinces and states under court administration is patent.

The few divorces in Quebec is accounted for by the fact that the Roman Catholic Church refuses to recognize divorce. While it is admitted that divorce is a great evil, and a contradiction of Divine injunction, it must certainly be admitted that grave circumstances call for a decree. The Canadian law prescribes divorce for one sin, yet the Roman Catholic senators vote consistently against divorce, even if the customary legal ground is proven—thus voting against the law. There is a nice question as to whether they observe their oath to serve according to conscience and the law, in thus voting.

CANADA AS THE PRIZE

The Boston Herald, on Nov. 25th, 1904, editorially commented on a speech by Eugene Foss, now Democratic Governor of Massachusetts. As long ago as 1904 the real object of the reciprocity pact was recognized by Americans. Isn't this illuminating to loyal Canadians?

"The United States, Canada and England are the interested parties; the two former, with their elections over, are arranging their line-ups, and Britain, diplomatic but apprehensive, watches from afar. As goes the battle, so rises or sets her star of a great consolidated empire, in the opinion of many careful observers.

"Of late years, there have been two quiet but significant movements in the Anglo-Saxon world—reciprocity in America and Imperial federation in Great Britain and her colonies. The important fact, which it would seem, has not been apprehended by people in general, is that the one policy implies the virtual destruction of the other.

"In plain words, it is held that American reciprocity with Canada means the end of British Imperial federation.

"BUT THE INDICATIONS ARE THAT THE AWAKENING OF AMERICAN STATESMEN HAS COME. THE CONTEST DRAWS ON, AND THE GREAT PRIZE IS CANADA—NOMINALLY COMMERCIAL CANADA, BUT ACTUALLY THE POLITICAL DOMINION.

"When we consider that two-thirds of our foreign trade is with England and her colonies, we should see the importance of not permitting the Chamberlain propaganda to go into effect against us.

"Now, the only way that we can head off Chamberlain and his growing movement is by taking the initiative and making a reciprocity treaty with Canada, for without that great colony the late colonial secretary's scheme must fall to the ground.

"America has not yet realized what a blow this preferential scheme, with a consolidated British empire, could inflict on the United States. Our farmers, in particular, would be badly injured in the important matter of wheat, and still greater throngs of our people would flock over the border into the rich lands of Western Canada. That country would be built up at the expense of our own.

"Reciprocity begets reciprocity. LET US MAKE A STAND, IF ONLY IN A FEW THINGS—IT WILL SURELY GROW. At first, quite likely, we may not be able to get all that we want.

"Premier Laurier, who has recently been triumphantly returned to power, is known to favor reciprocity. We are now at the parting of the ways. Canada is to go with us or with England.

"But, as we have intimated, it will be wise and high statesmanship to approach Canada with a generous treaty of trade, which will not only insure to the benefit, in a commercial way, of Americans generally, but may prevent the consummation of a political scheme which must work us great ill as a nation.

"It is no longer the New England manufacturer, hat in hand, pleading, with scant hope, for industrial life; but an aroused American spirit, quickened by the joy of imminent commercial and political conflict with a mighty rival for possession of an undeveloped empire."

A BIT OF HISTORY

The following bit of conversation took place in Washington over two years ago. With what force does it apply to the present situation, revealing hidden light on the subject?

(Extract from report of tariff hearings before the Ways and Means Committee, December 4, 1908, when the Payne-Aldrich bill was pending in Congress.)

Mr. Champ Clark—Nearly all those who are raising wheat in the northwestern British possessions are Americans who have gone over there, are they not?

Mr. Henry—A great many of them are; yes, sir.

Mr. Clark—Nearly the whole outfit?

Mr. Henry—Yes, sir.

Mr. Clark—Fixing to bring that country into the United States, are they not?

Mr. Henry—I cannot speak for them.

The Chairman—I do not think you ought to give it away if they are.

Mr. Clark—That is exactly what they will do; exactly what they did with Texas.

THE MOST-FAVORED NATION TREATY

Anglo-Japanese Agreement Provides for Exemption of Canada

London, April, 6—The Anglo Japanese Treaty, signed yesterday, marks a new departure in the treaty position of Canada and the Overseas Dominions.

Under the existing treaties with other countries, Canada can only be relieved from the most-favored nation obligations by the denunciations of the whole treaties by the Imperial Government, and this would, in the opinion of the British Government, mean a great breach of the commercial relations of the United Kingdom, and the whole Empire, with the foreign nations concerned.

In order to provide a partial escape from this dilemma, the British Government has now set an important precedent in its trade treaties by arranging with Japan that Canada may withdraw separately from the treaty upon one year's notice, leaving the treaty still in force with the rest of the Empire.

Sir Edward Grey's announcement in the House of Commons last night, indicates that the British Government is at last proposing to take up with the United States Government the differences of interpretation of the most-favored-nation treatment, which the Canadian-American reciprocal proposals have brought into prominence.

It has created much prejudice here against the free trade methods that Britain should have no means, by negotiating a tariff or otherwise, of inducing the United States to give the United Kingdom equally good tariff treatment, as is now to be given to another State of the Empire, namely, Canada.

Many authorities here contend that this differentiation between the different parts of the Empire by a foreign country must, unless checked, ultimately lead to the break-up of the whole Imperial system.

WHEN the doctor is summoned to the farm, it is generally in an emergency case.

Often it is a matter of life or death.

A member of the family has been stricken with sudden illness or an accident has occurred.

Every minute's delay reduces the chances of recovery.

It is then that the Bell Telephone is "worth its weight in gold" to the anxious farmer.

It pays for itself then and there.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

CHAPTER XI.

THE AERONEF VIRGINIA.

VIRGINIA, left alone, was rather glad of it. Her desertion of the Shaynes was a crisis in her life. She had acted impulsively in a matter of great moment and needed time for thought. She had taken flight to Carson's Landing and to shelter in the shade of the sole remaining branch of her family tree, full of confidence that she would find there a silver haired uncle and a delicate old lavender aunt, redolent of the old regime and ready to receive her tenderly loyal to the Carson blood.

Instead of silver hair, Theodore, the audaciously false uncle, had the "little, silky kid's mustache," and there was no aunt. The grandniece of old General Carson, related to Theodore Carson by no chain of descent save the dubious one of the original third Carson brother of hundreds of years ago and the ownership of this plantation, was weakly allowed to assume kinship from the place and name and never thought of sitting down with Theodore and tracing the thing out. She wondered just what the relationship was anyhow. Chloe said that Cahsonses were Cahsonses, and she never bothered about different kinds. He couldn't be a real uncle, Virginia felt sure of that. He might be a son of General Carson by a second wife. He was the head of the family anyhow. She must be satisfied with that.

Of his invention, save that it was in the mysterious shed, chosen because of its remoteness and its unobstructed beach, she really knew nothing. She began to wonder now whether he was a world's genius or only the crude product of a country college, with nothing to command a second glance except his sinewy erectness, the pathetic yearning in his eyes and the wonderful softness in his voice.

"Uncle Theodore," suggested Virginia to Mrs. Stott, "has invited us to visit him. And, do you know, I think we'll go back with the captain if you can overcome your aversion to the water."

"Will the bay be rough?" asked Mrs. Stott as if confident that the captain served out the weather.

"Dead ca'm, ma'am."

"We'll go," said Mrs. Stott.

The ladies hurriedly packed their dunnage and embarked. They were a gay party. Virginia was full of laughter. Her color rose and her eyes dilated as they took the stream early enough to let them through the new canal into the lagoon by daylight.

"Do you see any signs of a storm?" asked Mrs. Stott, noting his upward glances.

"No, ma'am," he returned. "Ah was just tryin' to make out if Ah'd eve' seen that craft befo' aloft thah."

The craft alluded to was a great silver Condor, gleaming in the sun.

Virginia studied her absorbedly with her field glasses.

"I think," said Virginia, "that she's the Roc. I'm sure of it."

"Yes, ma'am," replied Harrod.

"She's lyin' to," said the captain. "Thah goes huh lift down."

"Why," asked Virginia wonderingly, "what can she want over there in the woods?"

"She's jist about ove' yo' home, ma'am," said Harrod.

Virginia grew pale and, asking for the glass, scanned the great aerostat with the lowered lift, like a nexus, to the ground.

"Can't you go a little faster?" said she, laying down the binoculars.

"Aftah we clear Week's bay," said the captain.

Once clear of the channel, they stood for the south shore, the engines firing in continuous explosion. Suddenly with a little scream Virginia leaned out to look upward past the awning. In the water, instead of bird or sail or cloud, she had seen, coming up from the depths under their rail, the Roc, under full speed, her great engines purring like tiger cats, her screws shimmering, her giant hull a resplendent bubble of steel. Looking up, Virginia saw her overhead and cowered back into the boat, for peering over the rail and calling like an evil bird was Silberberg.

"Shall Ah answer the hail, miss?" asked the captain.

"No!" whispered Virginia. "Take no notice, I beg of you, captain!"

asked the captain if he supposed she had been recognized.

"Ah reckon not, miss," said he. "Jist a chance meetin', Ah reckon. She's come to, raght ove' the inn," said the captain.

Virginia sat under the middle of the awning, quite in a tremble. The boat slowly threaded the shelly entrance to the bayou and passed the wharf of the inn. The people on the quay were craning their necks at the descent of the passengers from the Roc.

"Hurry, captain, hurry!" urged Virginia.

Opera House Had Close Shave.

Brockville, April 10.—Brockville's opera house, which is being remodelled at a cost of over $40,000, had a close shave from going up in smoke at an early hour yesterday morning. When the town turned over the building to a private company, it reserved an annex on the west side, extending to the top of the structure, for a hose tower for the fire department. Between one and two o'clock, residents of the neighborhood discovered the tower ablaze. The flames worked through the roof of the opera house, but were extinguished before much damage was done by either fire or water. Over 1,200 feet or hose was consumed, which, with the damage to the tower, is covered with insurence.

Grenfell Dined by Pilgrims.

New York, April 10.—Wm. Butler Duncan, president of the Pilgrims' Society, and the members of its executive committee, gave a luncheon Saturday in honor of Dr. Wilfred Grenfell, famous as the superintendent of the Labrador medical mission to deep sea fishermen, and British magistrate in charge of the Labrador coast.

Dr. Grenfell gave a brief account of the conditions on the Larbador coast and paid tribute to the assistance he had received from students of Yale, Harvard, Princeton and the University of Pennsylvania.

Found Famished Crew.

New York, April 10.—The steamer Philadelphia reached New York from Southampton with news of the schooner Gusta Fritz, which left Langue, South America, two months ago. The liner sighted the signals of distress on the morning of April 3, and found aboard a famished crew. The captain of the schooner said that he has been off his course for 43 days. The Philadelphia supplied the half-starved crew with food.

Tapestries Sold for Fortune.

London, April 10.—According to generally well-informed sources England, is threatened with the loss of the famous Knowle tapestries, belonging to Lord Sackville.

Negotiations are said to be practically completed whereby the collection consisting of thirty-four wonderful pieces, will be sold to a French syndicate for a sum believed to exceed $250,000.

Lieut.-Col. C. E. English's service in the R.C.A. is extended to April 1, 1913.

Would Not Help Empire.

London, April 10.—Lord Selborne, speaking at a meeting in support of Imperial preference, referred to American-Canadian reciprocity. He entirely accepted Secretary Knox's disclaimer in behalf of the United States Government of any idea of absorbing Canada, but complained that this was the first time any part of the British Empire would enjoy preferential treatment in a foreign country over the rest of the Empire.

It was impossible, he said, to regard the precedent with satisfaction, and they could not hold that the agreement was to the commercial and industrial advantage of the United Kingdom.

Friend of Kings.

Lord Farquhar, who, as chairman of the League of Mercy, has received a letter from King George expressing his interest in the good work which the League is doing, was for many years King Edward's adviser on all matters relating to His Majesty's private, financial, and business affairs. It was Lord Farquhar who, when King Edward ascended the throne, discovered that many abuses had crept into the working of the royal household, and these he promptly brought to an end. Lord Farquhar is, in every way, a man of the world, and, say his friends, has been so from boyhood. At least, they tell a story of his walking into a village school near Cromer on his tenth birthday and in a lordly way demanding to inspect the children's writing. The copybooks were laid out and inspected, and then the youthful critic said, "Well, boys, I can't say much for your work, but as it's my birthday you may all take a holiday from now." In one minute the school had cleared.

LIVERPOOL, April 8.—At the start the disposition shown by shorts to cover with offerings lighter and values 1-4d to 1-2d higher, and during the morning the market held firm with support in May, which month further advanced 1-4d. Notwithstanding the prospects of heavy world's shipments and the bearish showing of the Great Britain official report speculative interest was disposed to support and shorts were nervous. Advices from Russia less favorable. At the close market was firm, 3-8d to 1-2d higher than yesterday, with shorts in May nervous.

CHICAGO, April 8.—Discovery that cash concerns here and southwest were having no part in the wheat and flour demand reported at Minneapolis, pulled out support to-day from under the Chicago market. Moisture and warm weather in the spring crop territory operated also in aid of the bears. Closing figures were a shade to ½c lower than 24 hours previous. Corn finished ⅛c to ¼c net higher, oats up ¼c to ⅜c and hog products at 5c to 15c decline.

Tips for Fire Insurance Policyholders

1. Are the insuring companies financially responsible, and in a position to pay all just claims?

2. Are you sufficiently insured at all times?

Remember your stock is much greater at one time of the of the year than at another. Do you regulate the amount of your insurance accordingly?

3. Are your buildings and contents properly described in the policy, and if more than one policy, do they all read the same? Make your description as brief as possible.

4. If you are insured in any more than one company, it is necessary to have a "Concurrent Insurance" clause in each policy, viz., The written consent on each policy permitting you to insure in more than one company without notifying each company. This is very important. Do your policies contain this?

5. If you use gasoline, acetylene or other lighting plants on the premises, the policies should distinctly permit same. Your policy limits the amount of explosives, gasoline, coal oil, etc., to be carried on the premises. Are you exceeding this limit?

6. Have you paid your premiums and obtained a proper receipt for same?

If you have not complied with the foregoing conditions you might get little or nothing in case of fire.

After the fire your policies are unalterable, no matter how glaring their errors, which appear and how far they are from what you expected.

Examine your policies now. It may be too late to-morrow.

AFTER THE FIRE—

Can you prove the amount of your loss?

By stock-taking at least once a year.

By keeping proper books showing—

(1) Your purchases.

(2) Your sales, both cash and credit.

By placing your books in a fireproof safe or vault before closing your premises.

Respectfully yours,

DON'T MISS SEEING POLLY OF THE CIRCUS

A Great Success in New York and Chicago—Big Advance Sale of Seats—A Play That is Full of Interest and Quaint Humor.

Judging from the advance sale of tickets for Polly of the Circus, there will be a bumper house this evening. The play is so well known and so much has been written and told about it that it has been hardly necessary to tell what it is about. It had a great run in New York and also in Chicago, and in every city the S. R. O. sign is the usual thing.

In the company appearing in Frederic Thompson's "Polly of the Circus," with pretty Georgie Olp in the role are, in addition to a score or more of well-known actors, a number of circus people and circus acts, which contribute not a little to the success of the play.

The big third act sawdust scene represents a three-ring circus in actual operation—one of the most realistic stage pictures ever shown on a stage of a theatre. Among the many features of "Polly of the Circus" is a trained horse called "Bingo," a thoroughbred Arabian animal that was brought to this country by Barnum and Bailey's Circus and afterwards sold to the New York Hippodrome when Frederic Thompson was managing director. During the summer months Bingo is one of the features of that amusement place, Luna Park, Coney Island, New York City. Miss Olp and Bingo are great friends. That little actress says that her horse "can do almost anything but talk." With Bingo are a number of other animals and a trained elephant, "Little Hip," that is the wonder of the age, and which, like Bingo, was brought to this country by the management, at a great expense. For "Polly of the Circus" also the Barlow Pony Circus is one of the features, with clowns, acrobats, bareback riders and ringmasters, Miss Effie Dutton, the greatest bareback rider in the world, does stunts from the back of a horse that are unheard of, and to think of it, all on the stage of a theatre.

MONTANA A GOOD WESTERN PLAY

Good House on Saturday to See Wild West Drama

"Montana" presented at the Grand Saturday afternoon and evening, drew two good houses.

The play tells the story of a romance of the western plains. Probably the best situation was where the heroine Miss Fern Foster, appeals to the manhood of one of the cattle-rustlers to save her from the clutches of a villainous half-breed Cree. He responds, though he may have to hang if caught by the sheriff.

It was a fine production of western ranch life, showing the cow-boy element, and was well received by the audience.

A RETURN ENGAGEMENT

The Rosary Here on Good Friday Matinee and Evening

Rowland and Clifford's new play, "The Rosary," which has just closed three successful runs in New York, Boston and Chicago, comes to "The Grand" for a return engagement on Good Friday. The discriminating public will then be given an opportunity to see pictured before them a decided answer to the growing unrest and irreligion of our times. Not that "The Rosary" is a decision merely; it is more. It is a faithful picture of the misery and unhappiness that comes upon a man who lacks faith in the supreme good and its inevitable triumphs in our world.

A typical American family is taken as a fair example of every day conditions that obtain throughout the United States. The husband, a man immersed in business, the exciting business of Wall Street and the Stock Exchange.

Little by little he has fallen away from the faith of his fathers, the faith that brought our country into being. He has replaced it by an agnostic attitude all too prevalent in our day and time. The wife believes, her confidence in an all wise, all pervading good has not been shaken, and so when storm and stress comes, the man with no anchor is swept away by the storm of agony; the woman remains steadfast, moored by her faith to outride the tempest.

Through all the heartbreak and tears, through all the agony and anguish, clear and serene moves the wonderful figure of a modern Catholic priest, whose life has been dedicated to God and the service of his fellowmen. It is his clear spiritual vision that sees through the web that has been woven about the two people that he loves, and it is his faith and God-given power that sets them free.

It is a wonderful preachment of faith's mighty power, of the saving grace of the good that lies about us.

The tremendous story, powerful in its simplicity, is interwoven with the higher threads of sane humor, of the sort that one loves to take away from the theatre and muse over in idle moments.

COSTLY SPORT

Heavy Fines in Gaming Resort Charges Imposed by Magistrate

At the police court this afternoon the arm of the law fell heavily on the keepers and frequenters of the gaming resort, raided by the police on the night of Saturday, April 1st. One of the keepers was fined $200 and the other $100, while the others were each fined $50. This cleans up the slate and ten days' grace or the alternative of sixty days in jail was given by the Magistrate.

TO PUSH THE TIRE BY-LAW

Arrangements Completed for Getting Out the Vote

A meeting of citizens who are interesting themselves in the passing of the by-law dealing with the Independent Tire Company, was held last Thursday evening. All present were in favor of it, and willing to interest others as well. It was felt that with the handicap of the three-fifths vote, to be polled, that it would call for some earnest work to have the by-law carried.

It was decided that a personal canvas of the freeholders should be made and the several polling divisions of the ctiy were divided up and numbers of names allotted to each man, who undertook to associate with himself others, and to see that so far as possible each ractpayer having a vote, should be seen and apprised of the importance of voting in favor of the by-law.

The council having endorsed the proposal, send it on to the freeholders to be assented to on polling day, April 25th. The committees selected were as follows:

South Ward—H. C. Winch, chairman, and Messrs W. C. Ackerman, T. F. Matthews, J. Duignan, Robert Carson, E. G. Patterson, R. C. Braund, C. Gordon, W. McCann.

Centre Ward—G. Kingan, chairman; and Messrs. H. Phelan, F. D. Kerr, and R. Denne.

West Ward—A. Elliott, chairman; and Messrs. P. Campbell, A. H. Stratton, W. H. Denham, R. Hicks, M. A. Morrison, Jas. Lynch, R. Neill.

North Ward—W. Dumble, chairman; and Messrs F. H. Dobbin, V. Eastwood, Jas. Kendry, W. H. Hill, J. J. Hartley, W. J. Thompson.

East Ward—A. G. Gillespie, chairman, and Messrs. H. Thompson, E. A. Peck, R. Glover, Gus Hay.

It was suggested, and the idea will be carried out, that a public meeting be called at which full explanations can be given with regard to the by-law. In addition the fullest publicity will be given in the press, a publicity committee having been appointed to look after that detail.

Vote for the Tire Company By-law on April 25, and give Peterborough another boost onward and upward.

REV. E. W. McKAY AT KNOX CHURCH

Large Congregations Present for Anniversary Services

A large congregation heard Rev. E. W. McKay of Smith Falls, in a forceful address at Knox Church yesterday morning. The occasion of his visit here was of special interest, as he is now pastor of the home church of Rev. H. J. Keith, and the occasion was the fourth anniversary of the church and the induction of the pastor.

A STIRRING ADDRESS

Rev. Mr. McKay close his text from Isiah, 21 chapter, 1st verse, "The burden of the desert of the sea."

"The sea, the land or the sky, has a burden," said the speaker, and "It is just the same with the human body." The burden either crushes us or makes us strong.

THE BURDEN OF THE SEA

The sea is a treacherous, brutal, cruel thing. Go to the seashore and you will feel as though there is a force behind that water. Jonah went to the sea to escape from the Lord. In the book of Revelations John speaks of the time when there will only be a sea of glass.

Ships have to be made especially strong to cross it. If you want to find sailors get the men who cross the North Atlantic around the 31st of December or 1st of January. The storm and the rain has been the making of England. She has mastered the sea. Why comes temptation if not for men to meet, master and crush beneath their feet?

The Atlantic does not separate us from England now that we know how to use it. Jerry McCauley was raised from the depths of his degradation. The forces which he did not know how to use were driivng him down. When God came into his life he was transformed.

THE BURDEN OF THE LAND

Will it always remain a desert? It will until it is tilled, so long as it is left undeveloped. Look at this great Canada. It was given to the Indians but they did not know how to use it, and the white man came. Now, millions of tons of grain, minerals, etc., are being taken out yearly. The great things of our lives are untouched, as the Indian failed to touch the great things in the land.

Rev. Mr. McKay occupied the pulpit at the evening service, and gave another splendid sermon. Special music was given by the choir at both services.

One of the large cars which will be operated on the Rutherford-Grames' motor line to Chemong and other points arrived to-day.

It is a roomy, up-to-date car, which will seat eight passengers comfortably. It was unloaded and set up about 12.30 o'clock to-day and was tested out this afternoon.

At 11.35 o'clock a fire alarm was sent in from 199 Murray street, the home of Mrs. Allen. There was a grass fire at the rear of her property. The firemen quickly extinguished it.

At 10.40 o'clock to-day the fire department received a call to the Bradburn estate, corner of Edinburgh and Bethune streets.

It was only a grass fire.

The watering cart was called into commission to day for the first time this season. This is just another sign that spring may yet call around this way.

The regular meeting of the local centre of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada will be held in the physics room of the Collegiate Institute to-morrow evening (Tuesday) at eight o'clock. A report of the lecture given by Prof. Ritchie, of the Carnegie Institute, California, at Toronto will be given, and also a short address on the planet Jupiter.

The officers for the 57th Regiment for the year were elected, at the meeting Saturday night.

A RESCUE AT WHITE'S POND

Jack O'Brien Had a Cold Sunday Afternoon Dip

Little Jack O'Brien, son of John O'Brien, 494 Park street, had a cold bath about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when he fell into the creek at Park St. near his home.

He was standing near the edge of the water, on some old planks, when he turned to speak to someone, and became overbalanced, falling into the running stream.

The water though not very deep, was running swiftly.

The young lad is one of the O'Brien family that has been particularly unfortunate, death and fire having visited their home.

SMALL BLAZE AT WAREHOUSE

Trouble at Rishor's Wholesale Premises Simcoe St.

The fire department received a call at 10 o'clock and responded promptly.

It was necessary to use a quantity of water to extinguish the fire and though the building did not suffer to any great extent a large amount of stock was damaged.

Two carloads of sugar was deluged with water as well as other goods. The extent of the loss cannot be estimated at present.

INEVITABLE IS DEATH-BE YE ALSO READY

Text of Sermon by Rev. G. W Henderson

Speaking on "Death" at the evening service at Charlotte St. Methodist church last night, Rev. G. W. Henderson used as his text the scripture passages "Death is the inevitable. Be ye also ready."

DEATH IS THE INEVITABLE.

"One hardly dared repeat these words, yet at times hardly dared shun them," said the preacher.

Death was a terrible monster. Forty million people died annually. For every tick of the clock, and every pulsation of the heart, one human being passed into eternity. The average length of man's life was 36 years. About twenty-five died before reaching the age of six years, and over fifty per cent. before seventeen.

Nature had lifted up her voice and declared that all flesh was grass.

BE YE READY.

These scriptures constantly admonished us. Though we admitted that other people were dying we repeatedly forgot that we must also die.

Death was a certainty. By many ways disease might be brought on, and shorten life, or, on the other hand, life might be lengthened by judicious care and living by the laws of nature.

The speaker said he was probably speaking to someone to whom he would never speak again. If he were to say that a sharpshooter would fire a deadly bullet into the audience it would take about one-quarter of a minute to clear the church. Death came like a sharpshooter.

AN HOUR OF TESTING.

Death was an awful hour of testing. He was speaking more particularly of those who approached it in possession of all their faculties. They would then face the problem of the foundation which they had built up. Death was not a friend for the ungodly man. To him it was the trap-door to let him down to hell's dungeon.

PICTURES THAT WERE NEVER TAKEN

POLICE MAKE ONE ARREST IN EAST CITY ROBBERIES

Youth Pleads Guilty to Two Charges at Police Court

A local youth was arrested in the city on Saturday, and at police court this morning was charged with having unlawfully broken into the shop of T. B. Maniece, East City, on Thursday night and stolen therefrom a quantity of maple syrup, cigars, cigarettes and tobacco.

He elected to be tried summarily and pleaded guilty of having taken all the articles but the maple syrup.

A second charge was also against him, of having on the same date taken twelve bottles of whiskey from the store of J. C. Sullivan. He pleaded guilty again.

R. E. Wood, for the prosecution, asked for a remand on both charges until Saturday, April 15th.

It is at the request of Chief Thompson that the name of the prisoner is not divulged, and also that further particulars in connection with the case are not given to-day. This arrest follows a clever piece of work by the police, who expect to have all the parties apprehended within a short time.

TWO COMING.

Robert Anderson was arrested on Saturday. No charge was laid against him to-day, but it is understood he will have to face two charges next Saturday.

INSPIRATION OF HOLY THOUGHTS AND HIGH ENDEAVORS--LOVE

First of Special Addresses at Park Street Church.

The Rev. W. C. Riddiford preached the first of the series on Love, Courtship and Marriage, to a large audience last night in the Park Street Baptist Church.

The speaker took his text from Gen. 29: 18, 20. "And Jacob loved Rachel, and Jacob served seven years for Rachel, and they seemed unto him, but a few days, for the love he had to her."

"It is my ambition," said Mr. Riddiford on his opening remarks, "to make these sermons, heartsearching, heart inspiring, and heart-cleansing, and I sincerely trust that a new ideal of a good, pure woman, and vice-versa, will be planted in the life and mind of all who listen."

In that beautiful little book of Dr. Watkins, entitled "Afterwards," he makes the minister of St. Bedes say in a sermon to the young men of his day "If it be given to any man in his fresh youth to love a noble woman, with all his heart then in that devotion, he shall find an unfailing inspiration of holy thoughts and high endeavours, a strong protection against impure and selfish temptations, a secret comfort amid the contradictions and adversities of life.

Let him give this passion full play in his life, and it will make a man of him, a good soldier in the great battle and if it so be that this woman pass from his sight, or, beyond his reach, yet in this love itself shall be found his exceeding reward.

The young minister speaks right. His Magdalen, like all true Magdalens, are worthy of the best there is in a man. And true it is, "That is is better to have loved and lost, than never to have loved at all." Yes, love is. It is here on this earth. It can be found in human hearts still, for God planted it there.

God made man in His own image, and the essential most beautiful characteristic of God, is His love.

His unchangeable love. His love is not the love Alfred Tennyson speaks of, when he makes Tristram say in "The last Tournament"

"Free love—free field, we love but while we may,
The woods are hushed, their music is no more;
The leaf is dead, the yearning past away,
New leaf, new life, the days of frost are o'er.
New life, new love, to suit the newer day.
New lives, are sweet, as those that went before
Free love—free field, we love but while we may.

But rather would we say that Alfred Tennyson's ideal of true love is found in that immortal passage of Guimever, where the King standing over his fallen sweetheart says:

I did not come to curse thee Guimever
I whose vast pity almost makes me die.
To see thee, laying there thy golden head
My pride in happier summers at my feet,
The sin is sinned.
Lo I forgive thee, as Eternal God forgives
Do thou for thy soul the rest.
Let no man dream, but that I love thee still
Perchance, and so man purify thy soul,
And so lean on our fair father, Christ
Hereafter, in that world where all are pure,
We too may meet before God."

That is love—That is the only thing worth calling love, a love that clings to the one loved, for better or for worse; and when love like that burns in a man's soul towards a pure, holy woman, then God smiles upon the union.

The sweetest suggestion of a love story in all the Bible is the glimpse we get in our text, of the love of Jacob for Rachel. What a beautiful picture it is, and there are thousands of just such pictures to-day. Men are not all brutes and immoral. I do not care what other men may say in the papers.

Women are not all wanton butterflies of fashion. Thank God love still lives and thrives in our city, but there is one thing I wish to impress upon you to-night my dear young friends, that is "discriminate, between lust and love." They are vastly different, in their intent and purpose, presence and destiny.

Jacob was willing to sacrifice for Rachel, and he served fourteen years. But love won out at last. True love will wait and win.

Jacob was different than his brother Esau, I don't think Esau would have waited seven days. And the Esaus are not all dead yet. It is slavery to serve those whom we do not love, with these Esaus it is. A look, a passion, the price, the preacher, then the Lord knows the rest. But Jacob was an ideal lover.

Mr. Riddiford closed a very eloquent and profitable sermon by quoting these encourageous verses, bearing upon the love of Jacob:

"Twas the love that lightened service
The old old story sweet,
That yearning lips and waiting hearts
In melody repeat.
As Jacob served for Rachel.
Beneath the Syrian sky
Like golden sands that swiftly drop,
The toiling years went by.

The speaker closed with a passionate appeal to all young people present to love in purity and in heart.

Next Sunday the subject will be "Courtship" and will be of great and vital interest to all.

RELIGION IS OF SUPREME IMPORTANCE IN MARRIAGES

Rev. C.H. Coon's Address on Matrimony and the Marriage Relation

Another large congregation heard Rev. C. H. Coon at Mark St. Methodist church last evening, when he gave the third of a series of sermons on ethical questions. His subject was "Matrimony and Marriage Relation," it following two other discourses, the first "Social Diversions," and the second "The Influence of Companionships." The preacher received an attentive hearing throughout. The text was Mark 10, 6-9.

Rev. Mr. Coon showed how his subject stood related to the others. Our natural company instinct brings us into social relations, he said. Out of these relations spring the intimacies which lead to the life unions, which, in a large measure, determine and fix the ill or well being of the great mass of the human family. Emphasis should, therefore, be put upon the importance of choosing company of a proper sort, and of a careful discrimination in the encouragement of our intimacies.

Many a sweet, pure and guileless life has been marred and degraded by an alliance that has grown out of those unfortunate associations.

A sentimental novel-fiend cannot be trusted either to make for himself or herself a proper and happy matrimonial choice. Living in the realm of extravagant romance, no person is in a position to settle down to sensible reality.

In speaking of marriage, one could easily say what would appear positively silly and uncalled-for. The pulpit must stand for better things. But the pulpit should teach the sacredness and seriousness of the marriage compact.

DIVINE ORDINANCE.

To be rightly understood, one must know that it is a divinely appointed ordinance. It was not good that man should be alone. The woman was, therefore, brought into being, presented to the man, and the union of the two connected by mutual love, was consummated and blessed by the Creator Himself.

Marriage, therefore, consummated in harmony with God's law, is a hallowed institution coming down to us from the days of primeval innocence—a communion of the purest and most perfect kind—sum and type of every social tie—giving rise to all the nameless joys of home and domestic life—ushering men and women into a state which unfolds the grace and charm of mutual love. It imparts to the heart that is true, peace and joy, light and love, and the frankness and bliss of conscious purity and mutual goodwill.

The affections are awakened. The affections that cluster around the home hearth are affections we all are thankful for—the possession of both rich and poor—dearer always in adversity and trial than at any other time.

THOUGHTLESSNESS.

Pre-nuptial thoughtlessness was to be condemned—treating the matter of matrimony as a mere passing incident—a lustful diversion—a matter of convenience without any particular care of the future.

The folly of this and the painful disillusionment which often follows were described by the speaker. The cold, calculating, mercenary bargaining which often enters into the matrimonial compact of young people, wherein dollars and cents and houses and lands are the great considerations was also condemned,—as also the modern tendency to avoid and shirk the responsibilities of home and family life.

SELFISHNESS.

Many people hesitate to enter into the married relation through fear of drawing a blank or catching a tartar. Some hesitate because they are too mean and selfish to give up their personal liberty to do as they please.

One is inclined to smile when, as is often the case, those over-cautious self-adoring people do catch the tartar, or otherwise make fools of themselves, when, after long deliberation they determine upon matrimony. One would smile, but for the tragedy of it.

The speaker projected his thought beyond the matrimonial act, and asked the question; "How will it be in the after times." The post-maritial days, when there will be reality instead of dreams, etc?

There will be pressure of care, need for economy, business reversals, sicknesses that will demand the most tender ministries, etc.

Amid all, will the solemn vow be kept "for better, for worse, for richer or poorer, in sickness and health, till death us do part."

There will be plenty of sunshine and calm and happy repose. But when the clouds do arise, how will those united lives flow together? Will it be as one?

If they do, little fear of broken hearts, and domestic infelicities and shattered homes.

PRESERVATIVES.

Assuming a happy union of hearts and lives, how could the continuity of that happiness be preserved? Two rules were mentioned by the speaker.

The first was suggested by an anecdote of the late D. L. Moody, whose advice to one in domestic trouble was "keep sweet."

The speaker considered that of all unhappy mortals, the sour one was among the most unhappy.

Happiness and sourness were qualities which to each other were entirely exclusive.

The acidity and venom must all be put out of the heart. Another thing is supreme in its importance if married life is to be happy and home a real type of heaven as it should be. That is—religion.

In the presence of mystery, pain and death a religious philosophy will be created. It's folly to think of utterly banishing religion out of life—cannot be done. It is needed in every department of life, and there is no place where its functions are more necessary than in the home, to control its life and action to the highest ends.

Christ should be supreme in the family. It is only the Christian spirit that can truly refine and enliven the domestic affections and give as a true home.

Every union should be religious.

Every home should be built upon this model. In conclusion Rev. Mr. Coon said:

When I say to young people at the marriage altar; "I pronounce you to be man and wife in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost," it gives me joy to know that I am helping to lay the foundations of a Christian home. It makes me sad to think that often young people go out from the marriage altar to neglect this one thing which alone will make the marriage relations vibrate with real joy, and the home to be a real earnest and antepart of heaven.

JUNIOR CHAMPS OF TORONTO WEST END Y.M.C.A. ALL COMING

Big Athletic Program at the Y.M.C.A. for Good Friday Evening

Good Friday evening a two hours' entertainment will be given at the local Young Men's Christian Association, and a rare treat is in store on this occasion for all lovers of basketball. As a special attraction the Toronto West End Y.M.C.A. junior champions will meet the speedy local five, and a first class exhibition of the game is looked for. This being the first visiting team to Peterborough for some little time, the basketball enthusiasts will no doubt be out in large numbers.

The school boys of the city will also clash in a tug-of-war contest for the championship of the city, every public school being invited to enter a team six boys to a team. Total weight not to exceed seven hundred pounds. These two stellar attractions along with a good program of gymnastic work ought to make a most enjoyable evening.

The summer outings of the local Y.M.C.A. commenced on Saturday, when twenty of the boys took a trip seven miles out into the country to a maple bush, where they enjoyed themselves immensely, watching the different processes which the sap must go through before it becomes the delicious maple syrup which all so much enjoy to eat. After a general inspection of the bush and a game or two, the trip home again had to be faced. The seven miles each way was enjoyed, as the mouthorgan artists and a couple of boy scouts with their bugles were on the job. Outings and picnics of the same kind will be the program regularly now throughout the summer.

The intermediate basketball team will practice to-night.

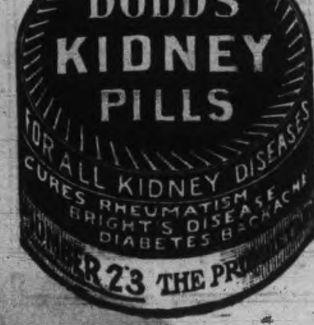
Three more prizes are up this week for competition and are well worth trying for.

LAWN BOWLING

At a meeting of the Brookside Bowling and Lawn Tennis Club, which is called for to-night at 8.30 o'clock, in the Dominion Bank chambers, reports will be read and officers elected. All members are asked to be present. Prospective members will be welcomed.

The old Case homestead on King street east, Hamilton, used in 1812 as an army hospital, was damaged by fire.

There will be some 60 witnesses in the Jardine murder trial at Goderich next week. The accused is in good health.



BOWLING AND SHOOTING PRIZES

The Winners at P.B.A. and Shooting Gallery

In last week's contests at the Peterborough Bowling Alleys and Shooting Gallery, G. Saunders won the mantle clock with the high score of ten pins, and J. E. Sharpe took the gentleman's watch fob with five pins.

In the shooting competitions H. Mackie captured the gold cuff links on No. 1 target, and the gold watch chain went to J. Gillespie for his work on No. 2.

Fancy prizes will be offered this week.

CAPTURED AFTER THRILLING CHASE

An Incident on George Street Which Called for Services of Grocer's Clerk

Pandemonium reigned supreme for a few minutes Saturday evening in the business section of George street. Business was suspended while curious clerks rushed to the doors, pedestrians stood spell-bound at the unexpectedness of the scene, and vehicles were suddenly brought to a halt. All this was caused by the appearance of an innocent old hen—not wearing a harem skirt or hobbles, but in a very plain suit of grey feathers.

She marched calmly down the street, monarch of all she surveyed, seemingly in her element.

The intruder was claimed by a lady in a buggy, who explained that it had been stowed away under the seat, but not being satisfied with the confinement, it took the first opportunity of leaving. This was done very unceremoniously, the hen merely bidding the former captor a rather hilarious adieu.

An obliging grocer's clerk was called to the rescue and he gave chase. The hen seemed to enjoy his fruitless efforts, and decided to call upon a newspaper office across the street. For some reason, as yet unknown, the door was abruptly closed in the would-be caller's face, and a couple of young ladies, who had heretofore graced the doorway, viewed the scene of activities from behind a pane of glass.

It remained at a standstill a while in order to pounder over this mode of receiving callers, and finally with a frenzied rush the perspiring clerk secured the vagrant and carried it to the waiting vehicle.

NEW REAL ESTATE FIRM OPENS UP

The Independent Real Estate Company, formed to do business in Peterborough recently, starts out under the best of auspices. The company has an office at 340 George Street, and will deal in farm lands, city lands, and western real estate.

Those in the company are R. J. Kidd, R. F. Downey, Dr. F. Neal, H. P. Kennedy and W. M. Galbraith. Miss C. M. Smith is secretary. Mr. Galbraith is manager, and the prospects for a most successful career for the company are bright, all of the members being men of fine standing and ability.

K. Okura, of Tokio, has given $5000,000 for the relief of the poor and sick of Japan.

Andrew Carnegie has declined to become chairman of the international arbitration movement committee.

PORTION OF BOLT STRUCK HIS EYE

Port Hoper Bought Here to Hospital for Treatment

Port Hope Guide.—Mr. E. H. Fogarty, Jr., Bruton street, met with a very painful and serious accident while working at the File factory on Friday. One of the employees was engaged driving a bolt out of a machine, and Mr. Fogarty was watching the operation. Suddenly the bolt broke, and a portion of it struck Mr. Fogarty in the eye, splitting the ball. Dr. Powers attended his injuries and this morning he was taken to the Peterborough Hospital.

Dr. Powers received a message from the specialist this morning that the sight of the eye was lost and it would be forty-eight hours before he could tell if he could save the ball.

LADIES HELPED IN THIS RESCUE

Youth Fell Into the Creek Near Matthew's Co.

A young lad about eleven years old fell into the creek on George street, south of the C.P.R. station on Saturday. The blocks of wood upon which he was standing suddenly gave way and he was precipitated into the water. Being a very good swimmer he was able to keep his head above the water.

He shouted lustily and a couple of young ladies came to his rescue. They handed him a long pole by which to keep himself from sinking and then called a gentleman who was driving by in a buggy. They succeeded in completing the rescue and the gentleman took the victim home in his buggy.

Churchill Defends Honor.

London, April 10.—For several years Winston Churchill, the Home Secretary, has been annoyed by a persistent story that while he was a Boer prisoner during the war in South Africa he broke his parole and escaped. Saturday he took measures to prevent any further circulation of the story by bringing suit for slander against one Spencer, a political speaker, who, during the recent elections, repeated the calumny.

Mr. Churchill's counsel declared to the court that there was not the slightest foundation for the story. Mr. Churchill had hitherto ignored it, but its repetition for political purposes during te last two elections had forced him to take the present action and to demand damages as the most effective means of killing the story. The case ended by Spencer, the defendant apologizing. The judge then condemned him to pay damages in a nominal sum.

Tried to Kill Landlady.

Rochester, N.Y., April 10.—George Lettis, once a leading coal dealer of this city, attempted to murder Mrs. Ido Hoffman, aged 44, with whom he boarded, Saturday night. He fired three shots at the woman, one of which struck her in the left shoulder and set fire to her clothing. The second bullet struck a corset stay to the right of the heart. The stay dented the flesh, which was not broken. The stay undoubtedly saved the woman's life. Lettis pursued the woman for a block, firing all the way, until Patrick Boland, a ball player, grappled with him. Boland wrestled the gun away from the man, who produced a bottle of carbolic acid and swallowed enough of the fluid to cause his death.

Patrol Is Lost.

Edmonton, Alta., April 10.—Grave fears are entertained that the worst has happened to the mounted police patrol, consisting of Sergt. Fitzgerald and Constables Carter, Martin and Taylor, who started from Herschel Island for Edmonton, in December last.

The expedition is one month overdue now, and a searching party returned yesterday with no tidings of the missing men.

Great Unrest In Portugal

Lisbon, April 10.—It is feared that the Monarchists plotting at Vigo and Tuy, may take advantage of the discontent in the north of Portugal over the religious question to endeavor to incite the inhibtants to revolt.

The provisional Government sent a cruiser fully manned and with extra guns for landing purposes to Oporto Friday night. All regiments stationed in the north are held ready to quell a rising. The Spanish frontier is closely guarded.

A number of men employed at the Lisbon arsenal, objecting to the new rules of the Minister of Marine, refused to resume work. Saturday afternoon some of them endeavored to penetrate to the Minister's office, crying, "Down with the Minister of Marine." Sailors and the municipal guard quelled the revolt.

A body of mutineers then seized a steam launch and went on board the gunboat San Rafael, asking protection from the commander, who refused and forced them to return. The Government is making arrests.

Serious Rising In Canton?

London, April 10.—A special despatch to The Daily Despatch from Hong Kong, says that a serious rising is reported to have taken place at Canton. It is stated that the Tartar general commanding the troops has been murdered, and that other troops have been hurried to the city, which is in a state of siege.

There is no confirmation of this report from other sources.

Caught In the Hoist.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., April 10.—Harry Cornell, 22 years of age, was instantly killed at the Merchant Mill Saturday afternoon, being caught in the hoist and terribly mangled. An inquest will be held Tuesday evening.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by its correspondents

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I was much interested in the article which appeared in last Wednesday's Review, calling attention to the proposed campaign to increase the membership of the Peterborough Horticultural Society, and to the benefits to be derived by the members individually and by the citizens as a whole, had we a Horticultural Society with two or three times the membership I understand it now has. The Horticultural Society has been doing good and efficient work, but if Peterborough is to keep pace with the other towns and cities in the province in the line of civic and home improvement, it is up to the citizens of Peterborough to lend a more active support to the local society. Why should they not? When one considers that practically the full value of the membership fee of one dollar is returned to the members in the form of premiums, and that all the other privileges and advantages of the society are accordingly free, it is difficult to see why every citizen of Peterborough, no matter how small the amount of space at his disposal for the growing of flowers, should not be a member. In fact, those with the smallest gardens have the most to gain by becoming associated with the society, as it is necessary to utilize this small space to the very best advantage to make a good showing.

In connection with my work I have visited towns and cities in all parts of Ontario. I have frequently been struck with the fine appearance of some towns and the large percentage of homes made beautiful by the planting of flowers and shrubs. Almost invariably upon making any comments along this line I have learned that the town has a good live Horticultural Society, which is mainly responsible for the good work being done. In fact one could almost tell simply by walking through the streets and observing their appearance and the appearance of the individual homes, whether the town had a Horticultural Society, and to what extent it was making its influence felt among the citizens.

Here's wishing the Peterborough Horticultural Society success in its efforts towards beautifying the city, and hoping that the citizens in greatly increased numbers will show their interest in this commendable work by liberally supporting the society. I am,

Yours very truly,
TRAVELLING MAN.

Acute Dyspepsia

"My food seemed to decompose in my stomach," writes Mr. Ralph Clemmens, of Newbridge, P.O. "I had a stomach that failed in some way to perform its work. Digestion seemed more or less arrested and I grew thin, yellow, nervous. The stomach became distended and impeded apparently the action of the heart, for often at night it would do great stunts. At times I would vomit a mucous mass, and at these times my head ached most terribly. A friend, who had been cured of a similar condition, advised me to take Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly, which I did. The result in my case was simply marvelous. Dr. Hamilton's Pills removed the cause, strengthened the stomach, excited the liver to normal action, the kidneys were released of excessive work. Health soon glowed within me. I can now eat, sleep, and live like a live man."

Be advised—Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they are sure to do you good. 25c per box, at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

STATISTICS OF THE RAILWAYS

Figures of a Great Utility Are Presented

Chicago, April 5.—The seventh annual report of the Bureau of Railway News and Statistics, issued to-day, contains the following information:

For the fiscal year transportation revenues amounted to $2,897,266,000, operating expenses to $1,847,180,000, taxes to $104,144,076, and income from operation $801,542,879.

An analysis of the business, according to the report, shows that instead of the railways paying $405,131,650 in dividends, as stated in Commissioner Lane's rate decision, only $166,828,874 could have been paid out of the transportation revenues, the difference being paid out of the income from other sources, such as interest and dividends received from other railways.

There were operated a total of 337,532 miles of track, of which 227,525 miles was main line road. This was an increase of 4,250 miles for 1910.

June 30, 1910, there were 1,684,238 employees on all the roads receiving for the year $1,137,016,508, or 42 per cent of the gross earnings. The average daily pay increased during the past five years from $2.07 to $2.29.

During the year the railways carried 1,760,403,508 tons of freight, an average of 146 miles per ton, far in excess of the figures for 1909.

A NEW PERIL

(Canadian Textile Journal.)

The Montreal "Witness" is one of many who have got into difficulty by proclaiming the virtues of that patent medicine known as Reciprocity. By doing so it has alienated so many of its old-time friends that it has to appeal to its stalwarts to come to its aid. When a good man goes wrong it is a greater calamity than if an ordinary mortal slipped and fell on the icy sidewalk of life, for when he falls he falls like Lucifer. The trouble with the "Witness" is that it has been worshipping idols, and only now has it come to understand that in the opinion of its best friends, it is just as bad to pay its orisons to idols of flesh and blood as to bow down to the images of wood and stone. The "Witness" is free trade by honest conviction, yet it has followed its idols so far as to lose recollection of the fact that the tariff of the United States is the mother of its iniquitous trusts, and that, even if reciprocity were expanded to the extent of complete commercial union, Canada would be tied to a country whose trade restrictions are twice as great as our own. If one could go over the files of the "Witness" for a number of years, one could measure up editorials almost by the mile declaring, in effect, if not in express words, that if trade could be made to expand free and untrammeled the millennium would be almost here. But the man who looks about him with his eyes open can see, on the contrary, that the greed of individuals and of nations, operating under every tariff condition, is breaking down the moral stamina of individual and nation alike, is pushing both Empire and Republic on in this riot of lust till some blind Samson pulls down the pillars on the crowd. The peril of all national perils is too much trade, not too little. Rather should we subscribe to the new Presbyterian creed just promulgated at London, Ont., one clause of which sets forth the real problem as follows:—"The Church emphasizes the danger ever imminent, to the individual and to society as well, of setting material welfare above religious life. The Church protests against the undue desire for wealth, untempered pursuit of gain, and the immoderate exaltation of riches."

REMARKABLE HISTORY OF THE LANCTOT CASE—A GRAFT INQUIRY

Details of How the Liberal Member for Richelieu Got Government Workmen to Finish His House

Ottawa, April 6.—The Lanctot inquiry has ended. The history of this case is so remarkable as to bear repetition. Mr. Adelard Lanctot is the member of parliament for the electoral district of Richelieu, Quebec. He lives, and has lived for many years in the city of Sorel. Across the river from Sorel is a large government ship-yard, under the direction and control of the Department of Marine and Fisheries. Mr. Lanctot built a new house on George street, Sorel, and desired to have it painted and decorated inside and out. He accordingly went to Jean Baptiste Page, foreman of painters at the government ship-yard; just what conversation passed between them is not known, but the fact is admitted that painters in the employ of the government were set to work painting Mr. Lanctot's house. These men worked on the job from June to November, 1910. Moreover, paints, oils, varnishes and other material were taken from the government stores, transported to the Lanctot residence, and used on the job. Men engaged in the work estimated the value of labor material furnished at $1,200.

Mr. Lanctot, in defence, says that he paid for the work in November last, in proof of this, he produces a cheque for $371.62, issued by him on November 22nd, 1910, and made payable to the Department of Marine and Fisheries. This cheque, for some reason, was not cashed until January, 1911. It was supposed to represent the value of labor done. Later on, stores were purchased and sent to the ship-yard to replace those which had been used in painting the Lanctot residence. The total amount turned over to the government in money and material totaled $156.

The guilt or innocence of Mr. Lanctot is not so important as the light thrown by this investigation upon the administration of the Marine Department. The undisputed testimony shows that all the painters who worked on Lanctot's house drew their pay every fortnight from the government. They were instructed to register every morning at the ship-yard and the timekeeper was instructed to report them as having worked at the ship-yard that day. But instead of working at the ship-yard they proceeded to the Lanctot residence where they were set to work, not for the government, but for the member of parliament. The result was that in November, 1910, the government had paid out for labor on property of a private individual at least $365.62. There was nothing to show that the government had any claim against Mr. Lanctot for this amount; nothing was charged against him in the books kept at the ship-yard and there was nothing to show that any labor had been done for him. On the contrary, the books showed that the government employees had been steadily in the ship-yard of the government, and had been paid by the government accordingly. It is true that Mr. Lanctot subsequently sent a cheque to the Marine Department for the above amount; when the cheque arrived the director of the ship-yard did not know what it meant or what it was for. He claims to this day that he did not know that his men had been employed for months at work on the Lanctot residence.

This cheque, of course, did not cover the paints, oils and varnishes taken from the government stores for the Lanctot job. These apparently had not been missed, and an official of the ship-yard named Papineau, testified that he replaced these stores, paying for them out of his own pocket, and being afterwards reimbursed by Mr. Lanctot.

There is reason to believe that the payment for material and labor alike was hastened by threats of exposure. Employees of the ship-yard began to tell tales out of school. Some of the affidavits made by them and presented to the House of Commons by Mr. Blondin, M.P., in support of his charge against Mr. Lanctot, were sensational, to say the least. A number of workmen declared that they had themselves worked at the Lanctot house during July, August and September, 1910. One of them, Alfred Douaire, stated that while working for Mr. Lanctot he was regularly paid by the government, and his time-card was punched for him at the ship-yard. One workman, who spoke of this fact, was told by an official of the yard that the absence of these men must be passed unnoticed, that the men had punched their time and would be paid by the government.

Henri Proulx, another workman at the ship-yard, made a declaration to the effect that he had been ordered to carry paints, varnishes, oils and other materials to Mr. Lanctot's house. He swore he had been instructed to take a circuitous route in order to avoid notice. He said that in January last he was called to Mr. Lanctot's office and there told that he might be reinstated in his position at the ship-yard if he signed a letter which the member for Richelieu read to him. This requested the Minister of Marine to return a declaration made by Proulx in the previous November. The letter said the affidavit had been made in the heat of passion and contained allegations which were not exact. Proulx declined to subscribe such a statement.

Hermenegilde Lambert made a declaration saying—"While I was still in the service of the said government, notably, three years ago, Mr. Alexander Gendron, then and now foreman of the laborers, and consequently my superior, often asked me to send, sometimes one, sometimes two, and sometimes three men under my order and belonging to my gang, to work at Sorel for certain persons, notably for Alfred Baril and Oscar Champagne, two officials employed in the same department, and for Adelard Lanctot, M.P., at the repairing or construction of houses." Lambert stated that several employees of the government worked for three or four days conveying peat to the residence of Oscar Champagne; also he swore that iron pipes were taken from the government stores, transported along by unfrequented streets, and used to drain Champagne's property. This, he said, cost the government about $200.

Dieudonne Peloquin, in his affidavit, declared that for five or six months there had been charges of thefts of cement, woods for construction, iron and paint from the government stores; that during the months of November and December, politicians and officials of the Department, accusers and accused, all went to Ottawa. One employee of the stores department was suspended and then reinstated "when he threatened to tear away the veil that hid many things." Finally calm was restored by the news that all was going to be arranged, the accusers to be silenced by promises of employment and the accused who had received goods and labor, to be compelled to pay their equivalent." This equivalent was fixed by interested parties at $292, and by persons not interested in the affair at $800, $900 and even as high as $1,200. "I believe that the government, during the last couple of years, must have lost in the neighborhood of $50,000 by misappropriation and graft," says Peloquin's affidavit.

CIVIC RULE BY COMMISSION

The city of Dallas, Texas, is under the commission plan of government, and in four years has come to be a model town.

Under the ordinary form of municipal government, Dallas was paying $85 a year for each seven ampere arc lamps. Now Dallas is paying only $60 for the same lamps. Before the commission took hold it was hard to make the Dallas waterworks pay. L. O. Daniels, president of the chamber of commerce, Dallas, says:

"The water supply of the city of Dallas was operated last year at a total expense for salaries, labor, supplies and all maintenance costs of $81,945.14, and the receipts of the waterworks departement were $214,502.14. The surplus is piled up against a day of need, and this year we have voted $500,000 in waterworks bonds, which, together with the surplus in the waterworks fund, will allow us to spend three-quarters of a million dollars in increasing our present water facilities."

The leading men of Dallas are pleased with the commission form of government, but they all agree that if it goes bad there is more chance under it for graft and scheming and crookedness than under the old plan.

Henry D. Lindsley, president of the Citizens' Committee of Dallas, says:—

"The commission form of city government is, therefore, a blessing which can at any time be turned into a curse. It is a powerful machine, capable of being used for tremendous good or tremendous evil. Under its ten continuous years of good government to a city will be productive of greater blessings to the community at large than would be possible in thrice that time under the average aldermanic city administration. Under it one-half ten years of graft will be a calamity of fearful import.

"In order that a commission form of city government may be kept at the high standard that has been set by practically all the cities which have thus far adopted it, it is necessary that there shall be

"1. A willingness on the part of men of character and ability to undertake, for a reasonable length of time, and a personal sacrifice if need be, the responsibilities of public office.

"2. The divorce of city affairs from both part and ward politics.

"3. A solidarity of citizenship, keeping constantly alive the determination that the city affairs shall be honestly and efficiently administered, and a non-partizan citizens' organization as a practical instrumentality for the accomplishment of these.

"4. The preclusion of those officially or most actively connected with such an organization from any dealings with the city involving a personal profit.

"The observance of these basic principles means keeping alive the public weal. While it is true that the best of officials will make mistakes, the administration of the city's affairs as a whole will unquestionably be for the general good. The first and greatest essential of good government will be observed, freedom from graft and corruption of any kind. That city is safe and will remain safe under a commission form of government, which in practice as well as theory, keeps alive these principles. It will move forward in the march of civic development at a pace and with results which will not only redound to its own credit, but will make its an example for the municipalities of the world."

HAVELOCK HAPPENINGS

Special Correspondence

Havelock, April 8.—On Friday afternoon last the pupils of Miss Hutchinson's room held a concert, and presented her with a ladies' companion, accompanied by the following address:—

Miss A. Hutchinson:—

Dear Teacher,—We have learned with regret that you are about to leave us, having handed in your resignation to accept a position in Toronto. We feel it our duty to present you with this address and to express our sorrow at your departure. You have treated us very kindly during your stay. You have taught us in a kindly, patient manner, and we wish you to accept this small gift as a token of our respect and love for you. We hope you will have good success and a good time during your whole life.

The Trustees of Oak Lake are erecting a new school, which will cost about $400. It will be paid for by debentures extending over ten years.

A meeting will be held in the council chamber on Monday evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of discussing sports for men and boys for the athletic season. A large attendance is desired.

C.O.F. Hall Opened.

Toronto, April 8.—Brilliant with electric lights, beautified by foliage plants and flowers, thronged by members of the order and lady friends, gay with music, the Canadian Order of Foresters Hall, College street, had a memorable and most auspicious dedication last night.

Bro. E. J. Freyseng, president of the Canadian Forester Hall, Limited, in an address of welcome, said that the order had been congratulated in the erection of a building which was a credit to the C.O.F., and to the city. The letters of regret included one from Sir James Whitney, Prime Minister of Ontario, and one from Mayor Geary.

An impressive ceremony of dedication was conducted by Bro. J. A. Stewart, high chief ranger, and Rev. Bro. W. J. West, high chaplain, Canadian Order of Foresters.

Hon. J. M. Gibson, Lieutenant-Governor, expressed his sincere appreciation of the invitation to be present, and esteemed it a very pleasing variety to the routine of gatherings which it was his duty to attend. He was greatly charmed with this temple dedicated to "liberty, benevolence and concord."

Nearly Foot of Snow.

Halifax, April 10.—A snow storm unprecedented in April came upon Halifax yesterday. Nearly a foot of snow must have fallen on the level in this city. A despatch from Yarmouth says that snow fell heavily there.

BEAUTIFUL EYES

are made beautiful by long, silky lashes, and well defined, lustrous brows. Eyes, like diamonds, depend on their setting. The beauties of the face are lost if the eye brows are thin and scanty; and the lashes are short and lifeless. Parisian Lash Lustre grows beautiful, soft, silky lashes. It has done so for society women throughout Europe, and it comes here well recommended to do the same for you. Parisian Lash Lustre is not a dye or colorator, but a scientific preparation for beautifying the eye lashes and brows. Our guarantee goes with every box of Parisian Lash Lustre. COMMISSIONER REES PAYS A VISIT TO SALVATION ARMY

The visit of Commissioner Rees, to Peterboro yesterday, formed a red letter day in the history of the local Salvation Army. His presence seemed to stimulate the entire corps and large and enthusiastic audiences rallied to every meeting held during the day.

The commissioner is in command of the Salvation Army in Canada, and his remarkable success in furthering the interests of the Army, during the period of his command, has been the means of marking him out as the coming successor to General Booth.

Of the services held yesterday at the Temple, the afternoon was without doubt the most enthusiastic, and largely attended. Besides a representative audience of the citizens, there were present, Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P. who ably presided, the majority of the members of the city council, F. D. Kerr, A. G. Carruthers, Fire Chief Howard, H. M. Gilchrist of the Y.M.C.A. and other prominent citizens.

Hon. J. R. Stratton in a very appropriate chairman's address, outlined the remarkable and encouraging work which the Salvation Army is carrying on. He considered that there was no other agency in the world, more worthy of aid and success than was the Army. They were doing a grand work and their mission was one of the very highest in the world. When it came down to the saving of souls, in places difficult and dangerous to enter, the Salvation Army fearlessly, and in the name of the Lord, ventured.

He also referred to the extraordinarily successful career of the founder of the Army, General Booth, who is now nearing his last days. He is now 82 years of age, and has been engaged in the good work for 47 of them.

"General Booth," said Mr. Stratton, "has the happy faculty of selecting officers for positions throughout the world that he knows himself to be reliable and tried."

A letter of regret was read from Mayor Morrow, for his inability to be present.

The next address was by Commissioner Rees. He told of his work in other countries of the condition and needs of their people, and the efforts which the Army was making to bring them into the fold.

He expressed himself as being remarkably grateful for the warm manner in which he had been received in Peterboro. His whole heart was in the work, and the audience were not to have the impression that, because he was not often in Peterboro, his heart was not in Peterboro also.

At the conclusion of his address, F. D. Kerr moved a very eulogistic vote of thanks. He said that it must be the unanimous opinion of the audience taht the Army had the right man in the right place, and that they had made no mistake in appointing Commissioner Rees in Canada. The Salvation Army had always been ready to extend a helping hand to the unfortunate ones, and give them a lift up. The Salvation Army work, was God's work. General Booth has been the cause of incalcuable good being done under the providence of God.

H. M. Gilchrist, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., very ably seconded the motion of thanks in a few suitable words.

The Salvation Army Band played several selections and the "Songsters" also contributed to the musical program.

SWITZERLAND IN THE ROCKIES

A glimpse of Swiss life in Swiss settings is to be given to the people who live on this continent of America without their having to cross the Atlantic to obtain it. It is not intended to remove the little European Republic bodily from where it is—though room in plenty could be found for a score or more of Switzerlands in the Canadian Rockies—but a typical Swiss village is to be created that will give visitors to that wonderful sea of mountains a very comprehensive idea of the home, the habits and the customs of the hardy mountaineers from across the sea.

The corps of Swiss guides who are annually brought over by the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. to assist mountain climbers in their ascents are to be furnished permanent homes by the railway company in a part of the Rockies that will suit their native characteristics and afford them, during months of otherwise comparative idleness, ample opportunities for further development of strenuous outside athletic sports. It will give them and their families a new home in this new land, and while commencing on an unpretentious scale, will doubtless develop into a large settlement, peopled by a hardy class of self-reliant adventurous men who know the way to the summit of untrod peaks as the average man knows the highways and byways of his own city. It will add to the picturesqueness of the surroundings, and furnish a pleasing and interesting sight to that great brotherhood of tourists who are continually passing through the mountains on Canada's pioneer transcontinental road. It will be a development of great interest—this growth of the new Switzerland in Canada.

The site which has been chosen for the future Swiss villages of Canada lies in the Province of British Columbia on the north side of the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the first village will be situated at the first western mile post adjoining the quaint Canadian village of Golden. Golden embraces within its borders the point of union of the Kicking Horse and the Columbia rivers. Here the latter brown, slow and solemn finds its pulses quickened, the volume of its flow increased and a change of hue given to the color of its waters by the temptuous entrance of its glacial flood of the Kicking Horse, as it speeds on its way from the Great Divide of the Rockies. On every side of the site mountains of varying contour rise above the small plateaux. To the east are the steep sun-kissed bald peack of the Rocky Mountain Range to the west and to the south are seen the more gradual and well-wooded slopes of the Selkirks which rise in undulating benches to majestic heights, while coursing across it in three different directions are the waters of the two rivers.

Within close range of the western reaches of the Selkirks, on the north bank of the Columbia River lies, sloping to the south, is the old farmstead on which the romance pictured Swiss cottages are to be erected. Along its eastern side foams Hospital Creek, while through the centre trickles a small stream fed by limpid springs from the foot hills. The wooded mountains to the south are favorite haunts of deer and bear; the Columbia river teems with fish which are good for eating: the high rocky peaks to the north which, for nearly every month in the year are snow-capped, are famous as the home of the mountain goat, mountain sheep and the grizzly bear. A movement is on foot to try the introduction of chamois into the mountainous regions which would give further zest to the sportman's appetite. In the nearby mountain fastnesses, in every direction, there are chances for easy hunting during the proper season and for snow-shoeing ski-ing and tobogganing, while skating and curling are already popular pastimes at Golden during the months of snow. Further afield are high virgin peaks yet unclimbed and unnamed which offer great temptation to the experienced Alpinist.

The new village is to be called "Edelweiss—the bridal flower of the Swiss—and its location is on a plateau which rises two hundred feet from the bottom lands, and within unobstructed view of the passing trains. The spot is a most picturesque one. The plateau and the hillsides are dotted with clumps of poplar whose light greenish leaves pleasingly contrast with the darker shades of fir and spruce—these combining to form an unusually pretty picture. The cottages—half a dozen to start with—will naturally be distinctively Swiss in architectural design, construction and surroundings—in fact they will breathe the Swiss atmosphere. In the rich alluvial soil the dwellers will find opportunities galore for gardening in the small individual holdings which are attached to the cottages and these will contribute materially towards the up-keep of the household, and doubtless will eventually expand into sources of supply for the profitable local markets.

The Columbia River, which flows from Lake Windermere, and other mother lakes about one hundred miles south of Golden, is one of the most tortuous waterways in the world. Its course is northwest to a point past Golden called Boat Encampment where it makes what is called the Big Bend, and turns south again crossing under the C.P.R. tracks at Revelstoke, the railway having cut across the mountain range to meet it. From here it flows on into the Arrow Lakes, and into United States territory, finally emptying itself into the Pacific Ocean in Oregon, nearly 2000 miles distant by its meanderings from its source. Between Golden and Windermere there are splendid roads now much used by motors, and these will be extended to Banff and Calgary on the main line of the C.P.R. and to Fort Steel and the Crow's Nest Pass branch of the railway on the south. There will be great automobile highways for motorists through a region that may well be termed the playground of the world, not the least interesting feature of which will be the new "Edelweiss" and its people.

OBITUARY

H. T. Evans

There passed away yesterday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of the city in the person of H. T. Evans, at the residence of his son, David Evans, 226 Woodbine avenue. Deceased, who was in his 88th year, had been ailing for the past few months. He was born in Wales, and came to Canada when he was eighteen years of age. Since 1857 he had resided in Peterborough. His wife predeceased him four years and three months ago. He leaves to mourn his death five sons and three daughters. The daughters are, Mrs. R. R. Jones, of Chicago; Mrs. W. Wilcox, of West Toronto, and Mrs. A. Russell, of this city. The sons are Messrs. George, Albert, Thomas and Charles, all residing in the United States, and David, of this city.

The funeral will take place from the residence of his son, 226 Woodbine avenue, Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, and proceed to Little Lake cemetery for interment. Rev. J. R. Webb will officiate.

Local news items.

Mrs. B. Dunn

The death occurred in St. Joseph's hospital yesterday, after a brief illness, of Mrs. B. Dunn, aged 72 years, relict of the late Frank Dunn.

The survivors are one son, A. Dunn, of Fort William, and one daughter, Mrs. M. Hickey, 303 Bolivar street, from whose home the funeral will take place at nine o'clock to-morrow morning to St. Peter's cathedral, thence to St. Peter's cemetery.

The Late Frank Bell

Another old and respected resident of Peterborough passed away at his late home, 593 George street, yesterday morning, at the age of 67 years, in the person of Francis James Bell, retired Division Court clerk.

Deceased was a son of the late Thomas Bell. He was born in Smith township, where he farmed for a number of years. He was township clerk before moving to Peterborough, about twenty-three years ago, when he was made Division Court clerk, retiring a year ago. He was also U. S. consul, giving that office up at the time of retiring from the clerkship. He was a respected member of Peterborough Lodge A.F. and A.M.

The late Mr. Bell was a Baptist in religion, but a few weeks before his death he asked for Rev. Dr. Langfeldt and was baptised and confirmed as an Anglican.

The funeral will take place from the late residence Thursday at one o'clock to the Lakefield cemetery. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt will officiate.

LAID AT REST

Very impressive were the obsequies of the late William J. Metheral, held yesterday afternoon, and at which the attendance of friends and acquaintances was particularly large. Many and genuine were the expressions of sorrow and respect at his passing. Among the floral tributes were wreaths from the Peterborough Hockey Club, West End, T.A.S. and Strathcona clubs, and Gates Ajar from the employees of the Wm. Hamilton Co. Service at the house and grave was conducted by Rev. J. Couch, of George street Methodist church. The pallbearers were Messrs. F. D. Craig, W. J. O'Brien, Charles Ray, Leo Derocher, Herb McMillan and Ford Turner.

The members of the city council attended in a body, and athletic clubs were also represented. Many young people were present at the final act at Little Lake cemetery when the earth closed over the remains of one whom they will sincerely miss.

Optical Institute Creed

We believe in the glasses we are supplying that in quality, style and accuracy, they are unsurpassed. We believe that honest glasses can be supplied to honest people by honest methods. We believe in working, not waiting, laughing not weeping, in boosting not knocking and the pleasure of the practice of optometry. We believe we are getting the optical practice that we are after, and that there is plenty to get for men who are ready. We believe in to-day, and the work we are doing, in to-morrow and the work we hope to do, and in the rewards of both. We believe in courtesy, in kindness, in generosity, in good cheer, and in honest competition. We believe this in an order for a pair of glasses ready for every man who is ready to take it. We believe we are ready—right now, and we are taking it.

HOLDS THEM OUT OF FAVOR

U. S. Customs Court Decides Against "Favored Nation."

Washington, April 11.—The customs court, in a decision yesterday, held in effect that the so-called "favored nation" clause in the existing commercial treaties with England, France and Germany does not restrict the United States in effecting the proposed reciprocity agreement with Canada.

The court's decision was brought out by a comparatively unimportant contest over the rate of duty which should be imposed on whisky imported from England and France. The point involved is the same raised in opposition to the proposed Canadian reciprocity agreement by those who claimed it was practically forbidden by the "favorned nations clause."

A. Shaw & Co., a firm of New York importers, protested payment of duty on whisky from England at the rate of $2.25 per gallon, holding they were entitled to a rate of $1.75, which is imposed on whisky and other spirits, from France. The essence of their claim was that under the most favored nation clause with Great Britain importations from England are entitled to be entered at the same rate of duty levied upon on special merchandise when imported from France and the other countries with which similar treaties have been executed.

The treaty with England was negotiated in 1815, and indefinitely extended in 1827. The treaties with France, Italy and Germany, forming the basis of the importer's claim, were put into effect by the President under the tariff act of 1897. Under the last named treaty "in view of reciprocal and equivalent concessions," the rate on whisky from France was fixed at $1.75 a gallon. The court holds that by its terms the treaty is one of mutual consideration and concession.

The importers' claim was that the concession of the lower rate of duty to France was a special favor within the purview of the treaty with England.

Citing several German decisions by the Supreme Court, the court held that the portion of the tariff act of 1897, which gave to the present authority to negotiate commercail reciprocity agreements with other nations was not in conflict with the "favored nations" clause with England.

The importance of the decision which was unanimous is interpreted as removing one of the greatest obstacles yet raised against the proposed agreement with Canada.

Repairing Cornwall Canal.

Cornwall, April 11.—The foot of the Cornwall canal is a very busy as well as a very dirty place just at present. The ice was nearly four feet thick in places, and it was necessary for Fallon Bros., who are building a concrete wall above lock 17, to remove it before the water went out. They now have over 100 men floundering about in the mud and slush, digging a foundation. Another bunch is demolishing a part of the wall in the spillway, to connect with the new bywash built by Fallon Bros. last season. Mr. Sargent had quite a contract on his hands cleaning the ice out of the repair basin, where extensive improvements are going forward. An amphibious crew will have several dirty days before them, and concrete work will go on all summer. Then the Government is building two large new derrick boats, and Mr. Cohen has a couple of mud scows nearly completed, while nearly thirty craft of various kinds are undergoing repairs, more or less extensive.

Poisoned Food For Enemy.

Mexicallia, Mex., April 11.—Col. Mayott, commander of the federal forces near here yesterday burned all provisions abandoned by Stanley Williams' filibustering American band, after the fight of Saturday.

According to survivors of the latter force, Mayott's suspicion that the food was poisoned, was well founded. One guerrilla said enough cynaids had been mixed with the flour to kill the entire federal army.

Will Get the Pen Next Time.

Chatham, April 11.—Warren Shupe, convicted of assaulting a local girl, was yesterday fined $37.50 in all by Magistrate Houston, who told him that if he ever came before him again the penitentiary would be the penalty. The magistrate ordered Shupe's wife and little daughter taken from the court-room while he passed sentence.

NINE GOOD REASONS

Why Should You Vote for the Independent Tire Co. By-law on April 25th? --

1. Because it brings a $200,000 factory, paying out at least $60,000 a year wages at no actual cost to the city.

2. Because it will bring many new families to Peterborough, besides giving employment to people here—employing when fully established over 100 operatives.

3. Because the loan of $40,000 to the company is fully secured by a first mortgage on the site, buildings and machinery, the latter of which must be at all times worth $75,000—total assets nearly $200,000.

4. Because the company must before getting the loan completed have $150,000 paid up capital, thus ensuring financial stability for the concern, all money after the machinery is paid for, to be kept as working capital.

5. Because automobile tire manufacturing is going to be a much greater business, and there is every prospect that this company will grow to much greater importance.

6. Because the terms provide for the repayment of the loan $2,000 a year, with interest at 4½ per cent., costing the city nothing for carrying charges.

7. Because Peterborough needs more factories, if they can be obtained on good business terms, and the Tire company terms are satisfactory.

8. Because no extra burden is laid on the general taxpayer through getting this industry. The arrangement is not a bonus—it is simply assisting the financing of the company the same as a bank would do, and within a safe bound.

9. Because loyalty to your home town, and its progress, to its business interests which are your interests, should induce you to help make this a bigger, better and busier burg.

WOMEN PENNED IN CABIN; HAD NO CHANCE TO ESCAPE WATER

All Women Lost — Iroquois Turned Turtle in a Rough Sea—Twenty-One Drowned in B.C. Coast Disaster.

Special to the Review.

Victoria, B.C., April 11.—According to information received here to-day, every woman on board the steamer Iroquois, that was wrecked yesterday morning, was lost. Six of the women passengers were penned in a deck cabin and had no chance whatever for escape. The men secured life preservers but made no effort to throw any to the women in the water.

Victoria, B.C., April 11.—The steamer Iroquois, Capt. Sears, which plies between Sydney and the Gulf Islands, was wrecked shortly after nine o'clock yesterday morning and a large number of passengers and members of the crew were drowned, estimates varying from 20 to 25. First bulletins had stated it was believed that all those on board had been saved, with the exception of A. G. Munro, purser. At one p.m., it was estimated that there were between 20 and 40 passengers aboard, the first estimate being made by Capt. Sears, and the second by the officials of the Victoria and Sydney Railway Co. The crew numbered twelve.

The known drowned of the crew are: A. Olsen, Robert Hornbull, Chinese cook, D. N. Davidson, A. G. Munro, purser; and Dryden. One man's body has been recovered. He was wearing a ring bearing the initials P.M.

Capt. Sears came ashore with a number of others who were saved on a raft, which was part of the wreck. The accident occurred in the channel near Mary Island, opposite Capt. Curtis' house, which has been turned into a morgue and hospital. Capt. Curtis put off in his launch and saved a number of lives. George and Clifford Brethour of Sydney also put out launches and did good rescue work. Many Indians also put out in canoes.

When the Iroquois foundered part of the upper works were left above water and people ashore could see the survivors clinging to this portion of the wreck. The swirl of the water soon tore off the housework, the scene being covered with wreckage and people struggling for their lives. Of the bodies which drifted ashore many were equipped with life belts. A number of launches put off for the scene, but were unable to get near the wreck. The first of the survivors to be landed was Capt. Sears of the wrecked boat, wh[illegible] Isbister and two Indians belonging to the crew, were towed ashore. The boat is believed to have foundered in comparatively shallow water, her boilers blowing up and part of her housework remaining unsubmerged.

G. Neeves, of Sydney, a witness of the disaster, has arrived here, but is unable to tell how many lives were lost.

"A squally southeast wind was blowing," said Mr. Neeves, "and the sea, while choppy, was not rough. About twelve minutes after leaving Sydney, as I was standing at the railway station waiting to catch the train to Victoria, I noticed the vessel keel over on her port side. Those with me cried out. We watched her for several minutes when she slowly disappeared. The distance was so great and the mist so heavy that we could not see what had taken place on board. In about half an hour one of the boats from the wrecked vessel came ashore and we heard that another had swamped, but were unable to find out before the train left for Victoria, how many, if any, lives were lost."

Mr. Neeves, who is quoted above, says that over thirty passengers, bound to Pier Island, Salt Island, Mayne Island, and Nanaimo, took passage on the Iroquois from Sydney. The crew numbered twelve, so there must have been more than forty persons aboard when the accident occurred.

When the ship was rapidly filling and settling, Purser Munro ran back to his office to secure the books and valuables, which were aboard. When he again came back on deck he jumped on a bale of hay, but after it had had been in the water for a few seconds it began to sink. Not being a good swimmer, Munro was drowned. He is survived by a wife and young child.

NO DIVORCEES

London, April 10.—King George, according to the Daily Express, has revived the rule prescribed by Queen Victoria as to the non-attendance of divorced persons at court. Some relaxation of the rule was granted by King Edward.

HOPING FOR DAY OF ANNEXATION

Los Angeles Herald Backs up Clark's Statement

The Los Angeles (California) Herald, in a recent article says—

"It was unfortunate just at this juncture, when every vote in the legislative councils at Washington and Ottawa is needed to ensure the ratification of the Canadian reciprocity treaty, that Champ Clark should have made his half jocular break about the annexation of the Dominion. The Canadian reactionaries will make the most of it, though it seems unlikely that they will be able to prevent approval on this side.

"But, just the same, though this was the wrong time to say the right thing, many of us may live to see the very result that Champ Clark hopes to see brought about by this reciprocity agreement.

It may be predicted that the razing of the tariff bars will in time show both parties to the bargain that they have everything in common. Their social and trade relations are apt to become so interwined that the most natural thing will be political union.

"The late Goldwin Smith was the leader of a considerable party of annexationists in Canada. They have less strength, relatively, now than formerly, owing to the foolish tariff attitude of this country that has alienated many. But they are a good nucleus for the future annexation party."

WHISTLE IN COURT GAVE THE OFFICIALS COLD SHIVERS

Viterbo, Italy, April 11.—President Bianchi's way of dealing with disturbances at the trial of the Camorrists is to suspend the sitting. Yesterday the sound of a whistle from among the spectators was sufficient to start a commotion that ended in an adjournment.

Giacomo Ascrittore was under interrogation. He is charged with having falsely denounced de Angelis and Amadeo as the murderers of Gennaro Cuoccolo and wife. He said that Amadeo had often had to ask him for the loan of a few francs.

"Now," he said, pointing to Amadeo, who was in the audience, "he comes here as an accuser. Then he was without a cent; now, he goes to the expense of having five lawyers." He further alleged that Amadeo, while drunk, had told of dividing the proceeds of the murder.

South Africa and Navy.

London, April 11.—The Cape Times yesterday re. Friday's debate in the Union House Assembly on naval defence criticises statements about Australia's and Canada's tinpot navies, and says while the two Governments may not have chosen the wisest course for successful co-operation with the Mother Country in defence of the Empire, they are willing to pay for their conviction of the soundness of their policy. South Africa would present a very sorry figure in comparison.

Railway to Bayfield.

Bayfield, Ont., April 11.—The Ontario West Shore Railway Co. is in negotiation with the corporation council of Bayfield in connection with the proposed extension of the railway south from Goderich to that place. The people of Bayfield have long been looking for railway connection, and no doubt will be quite willing to assist the Ontario West Shore project.

MR. JOHNSON, FORMER MAYOR OF CLEVELAND, IS NO MORE

At Age of Fifty-Seven Famous Exponent of Three Cent Fares, Municipal Ownership and Single Tax Passes Away—Had Been Ill For a Long Time—Was Four Times Mayor of Cleveland.

Cleveland, April 11.—Tom L. Johnson, twice Congressman from 21st Ohio district, four times mayor of Cleveland, champion of three cent street railway fares, and prominent advocate of the single tax theories of the late Henry George, died in his apartments in the White Hall, East 107th street, at 8.45 o'clock last night, after a long illness. Death was caused by cirrhosis of the liver. He was 57 years old.

Thomas Loftin Johnson was born in Georgetown, Ky., July 18, 1854. At the age of fifteen, he took a position with the Louisville Street Railway Co., where he applied himself so well that after six years service, he had thoroughly mastered every detail. He invented and patented numerous improvements, the sale of which formed the nucleus of a fortune later estimated at more than $1,000,000. In 1876 he bought a badly managed traction line in the City of Indianapolis, rejuvenated and placed it on a paying basis. Later he acquired large street railway interests in Cleveland, Detroit and Brooklyn, which he afterwards sold and centered in Cleveland, his adopted city. There, too, he operated an iron manufacturing establishment.

Tom Johnson first came into the public eye in 1891, when he was elected to Congress by the Ohio Democrats through his advocacy of the "single tax" theories of the late Henry George. As an exponent of the municipal ownership of public utilities, with stress on street railway lines, he became even more famous. So firm a believer was he in its principles, that he spent most of his fortune fighting its opponents in Cleveland.

PRICE JUMPED

Calgary, Alta., April 10.—The rise in value of western farm lands is illustrated in the sale of a 160-acre farm in the irrigation block, close to Gleichen, at roughly $10,000. Less than a year ago this farm was sold at the rate of $40 per acre, and was originally purchased from the railway a few years previously at $15 and $25 per acre on easy instalment payments.

SEVENTY-TWO ARE READY TO GIVE

Skin Contributors Waiting for Operation on Sick Man

Montreal, April 11.—Seventy-two Montreal young men will save their skin for a time at least.

The skin-grafting operation to save the life of William Thomas, did not take place as scheduled yesterday at the Montreal General Hospital, on account of the patient's condition, being indefinitely postponed until he has improved sufficiently to undergo the strain.

In the meantime the gallant seventy-two who have offered so freely of their epidermis will have to hold themselves in readiness until the decision of the doctors.

To-day, according to Dr. Shanks, the medical superintendent of the Montreal General Hospital, the patient is doing as well as one in his condition could be expected to do. The doctor was not prepared to say when he would be ready for the operation.

No more volunteers have offered their skin during the past week and it looks as if Canada's first skin grafting association would begin business with a charter membership of seventy-two.

Swallowed Paris' Green.

Lindsay, April 11.—Thomas Kelly, aged 77, an inmate of the county house of refuge, ended his life in a lane at the rear of the institution by swallowing a considerable quantity of paris green. He had been acting strangely of late; but when missed it was thought that he had simply wandered away towards his old home in the Township of Emily.

Grasped Live Wire.

Niagara Falls, Ont., April 11.—Jos. Cornelius, a lineman employed by the city electric light station, had a narrow escape from being electrocuted while working on a pole forty feet from the ground yesterday. Cornelius, while repairing a line to the transformer grasped a live wire, which was thought to be dead. His condition is serious.

GOVERNMENT TO INVESTIGATE CHARGES OF GRAFT AT SOREL

T. W. Crothers Ridicules the Idea of the United States Entering on a Tariff Agreement For the Benefit of Any Other Country—Hon. L. P. Brodeur Reports on Progress of Investigation at Sorel Shipyards.

Ottawa, April 11.—The debate on the reciprocity agreement yesterday was listened to by a bare quorum, most of the members having departed for their homes. There was, however, some good debating and some clever repartee and rejoinder.

F. D. Monk enquired as to the investigation at the Sorel shipyard. He was informed by Hon. L. P. Brodeur that the departmental investigation now going on was not in public, that it was being conducted by C. Doutre, purchasing agent; A. Boyle, chief accountant; R. A. Wallard, agent of the Department at Montreal, with J. L. Perron as counsel. One of the charges is that Government buoys have been converted for private use. Enquiry has been in progress since September last. Three employes have been proceeded against in the courts. Of these two have been convicted, and the other committed for trial.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier introduced a bill to amend the Indian Act. Its chief provisions are that where a railway is run through an Indian reserve the Governor-in-Council shall have power to authorize the building of the railway, also when an Indian reserve is within ten miles of a city of over 10,000 people, application may be made to the Exchequer Court by the superintendent-general of Indian Affairs for enquiry and report as to whether it is expedient in the interests of the white population that the reserve should be removed.

C. J. Thornton resumed the debate on the reciprocity agreement.

He deprecated the discussion of the agreement from the standpoint of local conditions alone. He admitted that the agreement might help some classes in the community, but he believed that from the national point of view, it would be distinctly disadvantageous. He described the McKinley tariff duty on barley as "a blessing in disguise," because it had turned to attention of Canadian farmers into more profitable lines. Now, new lines of industry had been developed at the cost of years of labor and heavy cost. Yet, it was proposed by the present agreement to upset all these arrangements.

Mr. Thornton quoted at length from the Premier, and the Finance Minister in favor of tariff stability, and in favor of public enquiry before any considerable tariff changes were made. Yet, both these good doctrines were thrown to the winds in this agreement.

During the early part of these citations the Premier went out; the Finance Minister was already absent. "It is the duty of the Prime Minister and of the Finance Minister," commented Mr. Thornton, "to stay in the House during every minute of this discussion."

Mr. Thornton went on to say that he wished to direct his remarks especially to these two Ministers.

E. B. Devlin (Wright, Liberal) denied the truth of the assertion that the flag followed trade, and gave as a proof of his contention the trade of Great Britain. For instance, Great Britain bought from Canada, 19 million hundredweight of wheat, but 26 million from Russia. Great Britain's purchases of butter were: From Canada, 24,000 cwt.; from Denmark, 1,500,000 cwt., and from Russia, 573,000 cwt. The purchases of bacon were: From Canada, 301,000 cwt.; from Denmark, 1,701,000 cwt., and from the United States, 1,500,000 cwt. He declared that when the Conservatives were in power they had discriminated against the imports from Great Britain.

T. W. Crothers (West Elgin) declared that the time had arrived for earnest thought and plain speech. Whoever knew, he asked, of the Americans entering into a bargain for the benefit of the other party. It was nonsense to talk of the friendliness of the United States in this matter. He denied that it was the part of wisdom to change from a certainty to an uncertainty.

Mr. McLean of Huron moved the adjournment.

Clerk Foiled Hold-Up Man.

Woodstock, Ont., April 11.—The village of Tavistock was greatly excited by a daring attempt at a hold-up, which was made yesterday at the G.T.R. station half a mile west of this village. An unknown man presented himself at the wicket asking the clerk for a ticket to Tillsonburg. The clerk handed out a ticket, asking $1.25 payment. The stranger appeared to search in his pockets for the money, but instead drew a revolver, saying: "I have no money, but I want all that is in that till."

Charles Sibley, the clerk, a lad of only fifteen years, slammed the till closed and dropped the wicket, just ducking his head in time to dodge a bullet fired from the revolver. The would-be thief then took to his heels.

Have You a Cold?—It Can Be Completely Cured By

Catarrhozone

Catarrhozone is not like other remedies, but is so healing and soothing that when it is breathed through the inhaler it kills the germs that cause diseases of the throat and lungs.

Catarrhozone quickly soothes and heals the mucous surfaces so that in a short time the whole mucous lining is healed.

If you are subject to throat irritation or have a tendency to consumption you should use the "Medicine that is breathed."

Thousands who have used it tell of its merit.

Air which you breathe through the Catarrhozone inhaler carries healing to the very spot affected, and there is no chance of failure by going to the wrong place. That is why it cures.

UNION LABEL

THE POWER QUESTION

The announcement by Hon. Adam Beck at Brockville that the Hydro-electric power commission has entered the eastern power field, and proposes to give the municipalities within a reasonable reach of Kingston, cheap power, is significant of the energy with which the Ontario government intends to prevent the tying up of the power situation by the big electric companies.

Mr. Beck at Brockville discussed the Trent Valley power situation at some length, claiming that the Dominion government by granting a charter to the Electric Power company—the holding company which controls the power companies of the Peterborough district—thwarted the hydro-electric commission in its endeavor to secure development of the water powers of the district for the benefit of the people. Hon. Mr. Beck claims that the provision by which the control of the rates is in the hands of the Dominion railway commission, is not sufficient guarantee of proper treatment for the people; that a regulation by a body such as the hydro commission is much preferable, from the very fact that it will undertake, not merely the regulation of rates according to the capitalization of an existing company, but the provision of of rates upon the actual cost of production and transmission.

It must be said that Hon. Mr. Beck's policy has much to commend itself, but it is not a practicable scheme unless enough demand for power can be secured by a combination of municipalities to warrant the heavy expense. In the case of a city like Peterborough, it is questionable whether an arrangement could be effected whereby the city would save any money by a civic power plant, or even through the hydro electric commission. The enormous first cost of such a plant, the cost of transmission system, a distributing plant means a very heavy annual charge, and unless there is a good field for power, with prospects that the demand may increase, the chances are that it would be merely a sink-hole for city money for some time to come. The hydro-electric scheme for supplying Kingston as one of the eastern municipalities makes an offer of $29.45 per horse power for 1,200 h.p. The cost will be $19.20 if 2,400 h.p. is taken.

When power in Peterborough costs about $21 per h.p. it will be seen that this city is already, without the spending of a cent, getting a better price than Kingston would by taking 1,200 h.p. from the commission, under the present offer. The Seymour company has offered to Kingston power at $25 per h.p. without reference to quantity.

To lower the price of power in Peterborough would be a great boon for the city, and it is not pleasant to contemplate the prospect of the city being in the grip of a power monopoly, but the cost of getting out of this may be a great deal higher than the people are likely to consent to pay.

THE CENTRAL SCHOOL

Expressions of opinion from citizens who are interested in the school question have been very favorable to the views advanced by the Review, questioning the wisdom of trying to patch up the old Central school instead of building a new one. The policy of scratching along somehow without proper school accommodation that was adopted years ago will not do for the policy to-day.

From an economic standpoint, it is not good business; the result of such a policy being that to-day Peterborough has only three public schools which might be dignified with the name. To build two three-storey vestibules to the Central school, to widen the hallways, and renew the floors will not make it more than a third or fourth rate school at its best. The walls may be thick, but four thick walls don't make a school, on the same principle that one swallow doesn't make a summer.

The building of a good school of the King Edward type is what the centre of the city needs. It is admitted that the building of the east and west ward schools is more imperative, but the fact remains that to spend $12,000, which with the inevitable extras, will probably reach $15,000, patching up the old Central and Collegiate, putting the money to a purpose that cannot be of permanent use.

What if the Central school is repaired, and made habitable during school hours? Does the Board of Education suppose that the half century the building has accommodated children can be lengthened into another half or quarter of a century? The requirements of accommodation for the children—the growing hope, the future citizens of the century—are becoming more exacting every year. Will not the day come soon when a new building must replace the antiques?

The issue should be faced squarely now, because now is the time; and there isn't much economy in spending $12,000, or $15,000 possibly, for the sake of dallying with the question.

THE MILK ACT

The Ontario Government at the last session passed a new milk bill, which gives municipalities much wider powers in respect of the control and inspection of all milk sold in the municipality. In fact, the new milk act leaves nothing to be desired in the powers conferred on the municipalities to regulate this important matter.

Under the new act a municipality has the power to have its inspectors visit and pass upon the cleanliness, ventilation and sanitary conditions of the places in which cows are kept and milk produced. Under the old act the inspection must be by officers of the municipality in which the dairy was located, and a Board of Health certificate was sufficient warrant to enable the sale of milk in any other municipality. This clause is very important, removing as it does a great bar to close, vigilant supervision over a city's milk supply:

"Every inspector shall have the right of entrance to the premises, no matter where located, of every person producing milk for sale or consumption within the municipality for which he is inspector, of fully inspecting the same, and of taking for examination and having tested samples of milk produced therein, and of the water supplied to cows or used in cleaning dairy utensils."

It will be noticed that the water that is given the cows comes under the range of inspection. There is no provision in the act for the inspection of the feed for cows. In the case of Peterborough, where it is claimed that cows in some dairies have fed on pasture that has been poisoned by sewage from the river, this would be important, but the scope of the act is otherwise so broad that any suspicion of uncleanliness in any particular can be investigated, and the license cancelled.

Under the new act, which will probably be taken in hand by the City Council, and by-laws passed accordingly, there will be no excuse for unhealthy milk being sold. If it is, it is because of the negligence of the municipality.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Vote for Independent Tire Co. by-law on April 25th, and give the wheel of Peterborough's progress another turn. The by-law is worthy of your support, Mr. Freeholder. Peterborough needs the business.

Reports from sea-side resorts say that the bathing maids refuse to adopt the harem skirt, for quite another reason than they would refuse to wear it on the street. How mortals are bound up in their conventionalities, to be sure!

Trustee Booker in Hamilton, told the Board of Education that the Victoria avenue school, Hamilton, wasn't fit for a pig-stye. It is a school built in the seventies, a five-storey affair, very much better than the Peterborough Central school. If that isn't "fit for a pig-stye," what class does the Central school qualify in?

SUFFERED THREE YEARS

Till Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cured his Kidney Trouble

There are few diseases that cause more acute suffering than Kidney Trouble, and Mr. F. A. Thomas, of Sudbury Ont., is one of those who know it. He writes:

"For over three years I suffered from kidney disease. First I thought I had sprained my back, for suddenly the pain would catch the small of my back and it would be impossible for me to straighten myself up for several minutes. A dull ache across the kidneys was always present, my urine was thick and cloudy, and passing it caused a burning, scalding pain. Tried medicines, but they failed. I was advised to try Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, as they had cured my wife years before. A few boxes affected a complete cure. I now enjoy the blessings of good health, which is due to this remedy."

Don't neglect kidney trouble—it's too dangerous as well as too painful. That old, reliable family remedy, Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, has cured thousands and will cure you. It is equally effective in curing constipation and its attendant evils, biliousness, indigestion and sick headaches, and in purifing the blood. 25c a box at your druggist's. 10

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, April 10.—There was an improved enquiry from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat, and bids in some instances were 1½d higher, but even at this advance they were fully 2c per bushels out of line. The inquiry for oats was also good, but on account of the recent advance in prices in the west and the higher rates of ocean freight, bids were 6d to 9d out of line. Owing to the recent weakness in wheat, and the fact that lake and rail freights from the west will be reduced in a few days, coupled with the continued cutting, a weaker feeling developed in the flour market, and prices for spring wheat grades were reduced 30c per barrel. The demand for bran and shorts is good, and prices rule firm.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, April 10.—At the Montreal Stock Yards west end market the receipts of live stock for the week ending April 8 were 3025 cattle, 210 sheep and lambs, 2350 hogs and 2375 calves. The supply on the market this morning consisted of 800 cattle, 150 sheep and lambs, 1500 hogs and 650 calves. The weather was fine and cool, and this important factor, coupled with the generally good condition of the market, gave the drovers and dealers an opportunity to display their stock to the best advantage for the Easter trade.

The quality of the cattle offered was generally above the average that comes to this market, as is always the case at Easter time, consequently the butchers had no difficulty in picking out something extra for their stalls and shops. The gathering of buyers was large, and, as the run of cattle was not any larger than expected, an active trade was done, and the prices realized for the extra choice stock were ½c to 1c per pound higher than the ordinary sold at. Extra choice Easter steers sold at 7¼c to 8c; choice at 6¾c to 7c; good at 6¼c to 6½c; fairly good at 5¾c to 6c; fair at 5¼c to 5½c, and the lower grades at 4½c to 5c per pound. There were a number of good to choice bulls on the market, which weighed from 1800 to 2300 pounds, and these sold at 5½c to 6¼c per pound, and cows brought from 3½c to 5½c per pound, as to quality.

The market for hogs opened stronger, and prices ruled 15c to 20c per 100 pounds higher than last Wednesday, with sales of selected lots at $7.40, but later in the day the supply turned out to be somewhat in excess of the requirements, and in consequence a weaker feeling developed, and prices reacted sharply and declined 20c to 25c per 100 pounds below last Wednesday's closing figures, and sales were made at $7 per 100 pounds, weighed off cars, making the range for the day $7 to $7.40.

The display of small meats was not large, owing to the fact that butchers generally leave the buying of such stock until later on in the week, but there was some choice stock among the offerings, for which good prices were realized. A few very choice fat lambs sold at $10 each, and the commoner ones at from that down to $3.50. Calves weighing all the way from 400 to 700 pounds each sold at 6c to 8c per pound, and the lighter ones at from these figures down to 3c per pounds. Old sheep brought 5½c per pound.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, April 10.—Cattle—Receipts, 5000 head; market for choice grades fairly active; common slow and lower; prime steers, $6.40 to $6.60; shipping steers, $5.75 to $6.10; butcher grades, $5.50 to $6.25; heifers, $4.50 to $6; cows, $2.25 to $5.25; bulls, $3.25 to $5.50; milch cows and springers, $30 to $65.

Calves—Receipts, 2500 head; market fairly active and steady; cull to choice, $5.75 to $9.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"Ah cain't, ma'am," said he. "Ah'll hev to lie to a minute foh that boat. Neve' fear, miss; yo' all raght with me!"

"Here you see," said a voice from the wharf, "two soon to be discarded modes of navigation—the boat displacing water and the aerostat floating in the air upheld by gas. The hydroplane must replace the boat; the aeronef, the aerostat. I have made a specialty of this. I know. The value of that cigar shaped craft up there as junk, deducted from her present value, is the measure of Mr. Finley Shayne's loss when our big show opens its ticket wagon. Seest thou?"

Virginia looked attentively at the speaker, startled to hear her uncle's name mentioned almost in his presence. She saw a youngish man of medium height, thin habit of body and long, thick hair, who was gazing, with every appearance of interest, not at the airship, but at a lady of perhaps twenty-seven years, short, plump, admirably gowned in a sort of reduced half mourning, with her jolly little face turned toward the Roc, her brown hair tousled about her face, her prominent little chin carrying the facial angle forward and downward.

"That talk will do with me," said she, "but you've got to show papa something besides oratory pretty soon or there'll be trouble. He tells me that you and Mr. Carson are the first ever to sell him a gold brick, and he proposes to make an example of you. You're supposed to be in custody now. Why, here's papa!"

Mr. Waddy came down the wharf, combing his whiskers and mustache out in front of his nose with his fingers. As Harrod's boat glided within arm's length of the wharf the lift descended from the airship, filling Virginia with terror.

"I don't think I'll get you another posy, Caroline," said the old man, "picking it to bits like that."

"I'm trying my fortune," said she, with a little embarrassed laugh.

"Humph!" said her father.

The younger man, seemingly recovered from his perplexity, was touching the row of buttons one by one, and as the launch gathered way Virginia heard him say to button after button: "She loves me! She loves me not! She loves me! Hooray!"

The shout greeted the favorable answer of the oracle. The lady, as if feeling the fingers in her curls, turned and gently slapped the gentleman's ears. The launch shot into the canal and out of sight. The ladies were made sole owners of Carson's cabin, and the men slept with the aeronef by night, while by day Captain Harrod stood by to aid Theodore, slipping away to the top of the dunes at times to scan the offing for the slimy nosed Stickleback, inexplicably reappearing with her oval deck just awash, her thin, semi-invisible periscope in air. Having arranged with Reagan for a cessation of the contraband business until the aeronef was off the stocks, the captain was worried. He waved the Chautauqua salute one day, whereupon the submarine sounded like a gallied rorqual. The captain's ingenuity was not equal to the task of developing a theory to account for her presence or her alarm.

Carson suddenly became possessed of an unremitting energy that commanded Virginia's admiration. As he told her again of his struggles, his experiments, his falling into the garden of Dr. Witherspoon, his meeting with Craighead, the financial enlistment of Mr. Waddy and of the puzzling messages he had received she became an enthusiast too.

"I'd like to meet Mr. Craighead," said she. "I'd like to feel sure that he can secure a monopoly of the navigation of the air."

"You might form an opinion of him," said he, "by reading his telegrams."

"Craighead," replied Carson. "Here they are. What do you think of them?"

The first was dated Charleston, W. Va. "Air products incorporated," it ran. "Immense sensation in trust incubator and brooder. Why don't I hear from illustrious co-conspirator? Craighead, the Plute."

"Tries to be humorous," said Virginia. "Let's see the next."

The next date was dated, "En route to Cosmopolis from Incubator," and was unsigned. "To him who commands the winds, from him who winds the commands, greeting," it ran. "Be of good cheer. The train is laid, the gin is set, the dogs of war strain forward in the leash. But is there any aeronef? Broom end of pipe dream assumes terrifying concreteness. Noble, sir, assure me of thine! Just wire saying you are you and there is an aeronef, collect!"

"Did you answer this?" asked Virginia.

Theodore shook his head.

"It was days and days before I got it."

"Why didn't he send it to the plantation?" asked Virginia.

"I gave him this address," said Theodore. "I—I stayed there too—too long."

He opened the gyroscope globe and began running the engines lightly, setting the heavy little wheels spinning, rocking the aeronef from side to side to note the operation of the balancing devices. Preserving their perpendicularity, as if of intelligent purpose, the gyroscopes moved the levers of the wing differentials which would accelerate the propeller wheels of the lowered wing and correspondingly slow the upper. Right or left, stern or bow, the depressed area would work the harder, the raised part slower, while powerful rudders co-operated, moving like a fish's fins, even now while the propeller rested. Theodore was getting past an awkward reference to his long stay at the plantation by a painstaking examination of the brain of his airship.

"See how it works, Virginia," he exclaimed. "It knows the levers to be moved. Why, if a puff starts to overturn her she'll strike with the lowered wings alone like a bird. And see the intelligence of those rudders! And Wizner said she'd turn turtle!"

"And Mr. Craighead doesn't get any report of all this! What must he think?"

"I told him about it," said Theodore proudly. "And it was no time to telegraph apelogies. It was a time to work."

Virginia opened another of Craighead's telegrams. It was addressed to Palmetto Beach, "or somewhere it is hoped," and seemed to be regarded by Craighead as very important. "My luck hath turned! It is Craighead Felix now," said he. "Have found a gang of grafters organized to get us grants in no time; will cinch New York by Friday; Chicago already hemmed in. New thought—fee of roads in grangers everywhere. Will secure title except for road purposes. Shayne, thy sun sets apace! Whoop! Whoop! Whoopee! We've got 'em, we've got 'em! Caroline's dad ready to bust all eight banks to back scheme. You must make good, Theodorie. Answer for the sake of divine pity just one leetle teeney peep! Napoleon Bonaparte Hannibal Miltiades Craighead."

"What does he mean," asked Virginia, "by all this about grants, highways and fee simple? It's awfully queer."

"And who is Caroline?" asked Virginia.

"Mrs. Graybill, Mr. Waddy's daughter. Now, listen, Virginia, and watch. She's ready to try."

SPRING SKIN TROUBLES

Pimples, Eruptions and "Spotty Complexions"

At this season, scores of people—girls and young women especially—find their faces disfigured by pimples, dark spots, eruptions, etc. The skin needs attention—needs renovating after the trying time it has passed through during the winter.

Just think what it has gone through! You have been out in rain and sleet and snow. You have been at one moment perspiring from skating, or some other exertion. Then you have stood to "cool off." You have spent hours of the day indoors at a temperature equal to summer heat. Then you have covered up your skin—except your face—and gone out into a temperature away below zero! No wonder that, with all these changes, the skin of the face and neck shows signs of needing attention.

Zam-Buk and Zam-Buk Soap are the remedies. Smear Zam-Buk lightly over the spots, the eruptions, the sallow patches, at night, and wash with Zam-Buk Soap (only 25c. per tablet) each day. Then notice how quickly your appearance improves. As the rich, refined, herbal essences sink deep into the tissue, the hard, scurfy-like patches are removed. Better color results. The cells of the skin become transparent. The blood beneath is able to impart its proper coloring to the tissue, and the delicate bloom of health replaces the sallowness and pallor disease.

Zam-Buk is also a sure cure for skin injuries and disease. Eczema, ulcers, ringworm, yield to its use. For cuts, burns, bruises, children's rashes, etc., it is unequalled, and for piles. Mothers will find Zam-Buk Soap best for baby's bath! All druggists and stores at 50c. box for Zam-Buk and 25c. tablet (or 3 for 70c.) for the Soap. If you have any difficulty in obtaining, order from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, and send price.

Murder Trial On at Cobourg.

Cobourg, April 11.—The spring assizes, which opened here yesterday before Justice Clute, adjourned yesterday afternoon at 2.30 almost immediately after grand jury was sworn in and their duties explained. Three criminal cases are on the docket, interest centering in the Brimscombe murder case, which, it is expected, may come on to-day. Peter White, K.C., of Pembroke, will act as crown prosecutor, with W. F. Kerr, county crown attorney.

Matthew's defence will be conducted by F. M. Field, K.C., of Cobourg; W. L. Payne, K.C., Colborne, and E. Guss. Porter, K.C., of Belleville.

There is one civil case and two other criminal cases on the docket.

Incorporation of All-Red Line.

London, April 11.—The Western Daily Press, Bristol, says the Canadian Senate's action in passing the incorporation of the Imperial Steamship Co., which proposes to establish an all-red service, will be received with mingled feelings in several British ports. It points out the difficulties of such a scheme, and does not think the same can do much to shorten the passage between Britain and the Dominion.

MORE PINKHAM CURES

Added to the Long List due to This Famous Remedy.

Glanford Station, Ont.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years and never found any medicine to compare with it. I had ulcers and falling of the uterus, and doctors did me no good. I suffered dreadfully until I began taking your medicine. It has also helped other women to whom I have recommended it."—Mrs. HENRY CLARK, Glanford Station, Ontario.

Another Cure

Harvey Bank, N. B.—I can highly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any suffering woman. I have taken it for female weakness and painful menstruation and it cured me.—MRS. DEVERE BARBOUR.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, indigestion, dizziness, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result is worth millions to many suffering women.

If you want special advice write for it to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

PRINCE OF TRAVELERS.

Bronze Statue of Celebrated Venetian Found In Canton.

The name Marco Polo is the most remarkable in the history of travel, though the individual in his dim personality can hardly rank as one of the greatest men among explorers. Yet he has his own real, undisputable and unique claims to glory. He was the first traveler to trace a route across the whole longitude of Asia, naming and describing kingdom after kingdom from the shores of Cilicia to the Yellow Sea—the first traveler to reveal China in all its wealth and vastness, with its mighty rivers, its huge cities, its swarming population and rich manufactures; to tell us of the nations on its borders, with their eccentricities of manners and worship; of Tibet, of Burma, of Laos, of Siam, of Cochin-China, of Japan; the the first to speak of that museum of wonder and beauty, the Indian Archipelago; of Java, the pearl of islands; of Sumatra; of Ceylon with its Mountain of Adam; of India, not as a mythical region, but as a country seen and partially explored; of the secluded Christian kingdom of Abyssinia; of Zanzibar, Madagascar and Socotra; and, in remotely opposite quarters, of the high plateaus of Palmir, with their wild sheep; of Siberia and the Arctic ocean; of white bears, sledge-dogs and reindeer-riding Tunguses. That all these should be the revelations of one man and one book surely accounts for and justifies the author's high place on the roll of fame, without our seeking to invest him with imaginary attributes.

In recognition of his services to the Chinese Emperor, a bronze statue of this celebrated Venetian traveler was placed in the temple of "the 500 Genii," or Disciples of Buddha, at Canton. The floor of the temple is of marble, and the tables and chairs are all either marble or ebony. There is an inner court where under huge plantain trees the monks having the guardianship of the temple spend all their leisure. There is also a lotus pool in the centre, which is a vision of loveliness when the sacred blossoms are in bloom. Finally, there is the Lo-hangiang, or Hall of Saints, full of solemn brooding figures. The interior of the inner shrine is very dim and dark and mysterious, and the air is heavy with the perfume of incense.

Marco Polo died in Venice in 1325, but the vast compass of his travels and his romantic stories had already inspired the then known world, and resulted in the many notable discoveries following that date.

Fooling a Solomon.

An Irish magistrate was perplexed by the conflicting claims of two women for a baby, each contending that she was the mother of it. The justice remembered Solomon's procedure in a similar case and, sending an officer of the court for a carving knife, declared he would give half to each. The women were shocked, but had no doubt of the authority and purpose of his worship to make the proposed compromise. "Don't do that!" they both screamed in unison. "You can keep it yourself."—From "Irish Life and Humor."

Convicted by Hoof Marks.

Danville, Ill., April 11.—Fred. C. Garner was found guilty yesterday of killing Mrs. Elsie Cochrane, and his sentence was fixed at twenty years in the penitentiary.

Some months ago the body of the woman was found several miles from her home. Evidence of peculiarity of the shoes on Garner's horse, tallying with hoof marks near where the body was found, was a feature of the trial.

Victim of Hydrophobia.

New York, April 11.—Abraham Nahon, aged 42, former secretary of the New York American Baseball Club, died yesterday from hydrophobia in the Neurological Institute. He contracted the disease from a pet bulldog last November, which licked his hand while he was attending the animal, which later developed rabies.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Two keepers of a gambling resort at Peterboro were find $200 and $100, and six frequenters $50 each. All pleaded guilty.

Messrs. Plummer and Murphy of the Dominion Steel Co. are at Ottawa asking for an extension of the bounties on wire rods.

The Halifax Y.M.C.A. received a cablegram from Lord Strathcona yesterday announcing that he would give $10,000 to complete the building fund.

The contract for the construction of the Plaza Laurier at Ottawa has been awarded by the Government to McGillivray & O'Toole of Ottawa at a figure said to be around $235,000.

The Pere Marquette-Lehigh Valley line announces the appointment of Miss I. N. Carpenter of Rock Island, Ill., as soliciting agent in the freight department, with headquarters in Davenport, Iowa.

When at worship in the church of the Notre Dame College at Hull, Brother Crescentinian, who has been in the Roman Catholic ministry since 1855, was stricken with paralysis, and died yesterday morning.

"General" Stanley Williams, the one-time American soldier, who was wounded Saturday in the spectacular assault when his little force of 80 rebels engaged the entire eighth battalion of the Mexican army, is dead.

The Y.M.C.A. closed their building campaign at Guelph, inaugurated six days ago, with $66,934 subscribed. Fifty thousand dollars was the sum originally aimed at, but on Friday it was decided that $60,000 would be needed.

Seven years at hard labor was the sentence meted out to each of four leaders of a Black Hand band in the Common Pleas Court at Newark, N.J., yesterday. A fifth prisoner, a wealthy Italian, got three years. The quintette were convicted of drugging and robbing two men.

Baby Heir to Millions.

Some idea of the wealth to which the baby son recently born to Earl Fitzwilliam is heir may be gathered from the fact that the late peer's estate was valued at considerably over $10,000,000. Earl Fitzwilliam has large estates in England and Ireland which are said to produce him nearly $700,000 a year. A practical-minded peer, the earl has played many parts, and distinguished himself as a mechanic, mining engineer, big game hunter, soldier, politician, and magistrate.

Tips for Fire Insurance Policyholders

1. Are the insuring companies financially responsible, and in a position to pay all just claims?

2. Are you sufficiently insured at all times?

Remember your stock is much greater at one time of the of the year than at another. Do you regulate the amount of your insurance accordingly?

3. Are your buildings and contents properly described in the policy, and if more than one policy, do they all read the same? Make your description as brief as possible.

4. If you are insured in any more than one company, it is necessary to have a "Concurrent Insurance" clause in each policy, viz., The written consent on each policy permitting you to insure in more than one company without notifying each company. This is very important. Do your policies contain this?

5. If you use gasoline, acetylene or other lighting plants on the premises, the policies should distinctly permit same. Your policy limits the amount of explosives, gasoline, coal oil, etc., to be carried on the premises. Are you exceeding this limit?

6. Have you paid your premiums and obtained a proper receipt for same?

If you have not complied with the foregoing conditions you might get little or nothing in case of fire.

After the fire your policies are unalterable, no matter how glaring their errors, which appear and how far they are from what you expected.

Examine your policies now. It may be too late to-morrow.

AFTER THE FIRE—

Can you prove the amount of your loss?

By stock-taking at least once a year.

By keeping proper books showing—

(1) Your purchases.

(2) Your sales, both cash and credit.

By placing your books in a fireproof safe or vault before closing your premises.

Respectfully yours,

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"Ah cain't, ma'am," said he. "Ah'll hev to lie to a minute foh that boat. Neve' fear, miss; yo' all raght with me!"

"Here you see," said a voice from the wharf, "two soon to be discarded modes of navigation—the boat displacing water and the aerostat floating in the air upheld by gas. The hydroplane must replace the boat; the aeronef, the aerostat. I have made a specialty of this. I know. The value of that cigar shaped craft up there as junk, deducted from her present value, is the measure of Mr. Finley Shayne's loss when our big show opens its ticket wagon. Seest thou?"

Virginia looked attentively at the speaker, startled to hear her uncle's name mentioned almost in his presence. She saw a youngish man of medium height, thin habit of body and long, thick hair, who was gazing, with every appearance of interest, not at the airship, but at a lady of perhaps twenty-seven years, short, plump, admirably gowned in a sort of reduced half mourning, with her jolly little face turned toward the Roc, her brown hair tousled about her face, her prominent little chin carrying the facial angle forward and downward.

"That talk will do with me," said she, "but you've got to show papa something besides oratory pretty soon or there'll be trouble. He tells me that you and Mr. Carson are the first ever to sell him a gold brick, and he proposes to make an example of you. You're supposed to be in custody now. Why, here's papa!"

Mr. Waddy came down the wharf, combing his whiskers and mustache out in front of his nose with his fingers. As Harrod's boat glided within arm's length of the wharf the lift descended from the airship, filling Virginia with terror.

"I don't think I'll get you another posy, Caroline," said the old man, "picking it to bits like that."

"I'm trying my fortune," said she, with a little embarrassed laugh.

"Humph!" said her father.

The younger man, seemingly recovered from his perplexity, was touching the row of buttons one by one, and as the launch gathered way Virginia heard him say to button after button: "She loves me! She loves me not! She loves me! Hooray!"

The shout greeted the favorable answer of the oracle. The lady, as if feeling the fingers in her curls, turned and gently slapped the gentleman's ears. The launch shot into the canal and out of sight. The ladies were made sole owners of Carson's cabin, and the men slept with the aeronef by night, while by day Captain Harrod stood by to aid Theodore, slipping away to the top of the dunes at times to scan the offing for the slimy nosed Stickleback, inexplicably reappearing with her oval deck just awash, her thin, semi-invisible periscope in air. Having arranged with Reagan for a cessation of the contraband business until the aeronef was off the stocks, the captain was worried. He waved the Chautauqua salute one day, whereupon the submarine sounded like a gallied rorqual. The captain's ingenuity was not equal to the task of developing a theory to account for her presence or her alarm.

Carson suddenly became possessed of an unremitting energy that commanded Virginia's admiration. As he told her again of his struggles, his experiments, his falling into the garden of Dr. Witherspoon, his meeting with Craighead, the financial enlistment of Mr. Waddy and of the puzzling messages he had received she became an enthusiast too.

"I'd like to meet Mr. Craighead," said she. "I'd like to feel sure that he can secure a monopoly of the navigation of the air."

"You might form an opinion of him," said he, "by reading his telegrams."

"Craighead," replied Carson. "Here they are. What do you think of them?"

The first was dated Charleston, W. Va. "Air products incorporated," it ran. "Immense sensation in trust incubator and brooder. Why don't I hear from illustrious co-conspirator? Craighead, the Plute."

"Tries to be humorous," said Virginia. "Let's see the next."

The next date was dated, "En route to Cosmopolis from Incubator," and was unsigned. "To him who commands the winds, from him who winds the commands, greeting," it ran. "Be of good cheer. The train is laid, the gin is set, the dogs of war strain forward in the leash. But is there any aeronef? Broom end of pipe dream assumes terrifying concreteness. Noble, sir, assure me of thine! Just wire saying you are you and there is an aeronef, collect!"

"Did you answer this?" asked Virginia.

Theodore shook his head.

"It was days and days before I got it."

"Why didn't he send it to the plantation?" asked Virginia.

"I gave him this address," said Theodore. "I—I stayed there too—too long."

He opened the gyroscope globe and began running the engines lightly, setting the heavy little wheels spinning, rocking the aeronef from side to side to note the operation of the balancing devices. Preserving their perpendicularity, as if of intelligent purpose, the gyroscopes moved the levers of the wing differentials which would accelerate the propeller wheels of the lowered wing and correspondingly slow the upper. Right or left, stern or bow, the depressed area would work the harder, the raised part slower, while powerful rudders co-operated, moving like a fish's fins, even now while the propeller rested. Theodore was getting past an awkward reference to his long stay at the plantation by a painstaking examination of the brain of his airship.

"See how it works, Virginia," he exclaimed. "It knows the levers to be moved. Why, if a puff starts to overturn her she'll strike with the lowered wings alone like a bird. And see the intelligence of those rudders! And Wizner said she'd turn turtle!"

"And Mr. Craighead doesn't get any report of all this! What must he think?"

"I told him about it," said Theodore proudly. "And it was no time to telegraph apologies. It was a time to work."

Virginia opened another of Craighead's telegrams. It was addressed to Palmetto Beach, "or somewhere it is hoped," and seemed to be regarded by Craighead as very important. "My luck hath turned! It is Craighead Felix now," said he. "Have found a gang of grafters organized to get us grants in no time; will cinch New York by Friday; Chicago already hemmed in. New thought—fee of roads in grangers everywhere. Will secure title except for road purposes. Shayne, thy sun sets apace! Whoop! Whoop! Whoopee! We've got 'em, we've got 'em! Caroline's dad ready to bust all eight banks to back scheme. You must make good, Theodorie. Answer for the sake of divine pity just one leetle teeney peep! Napoleon Bonaparte Hannibal Miltiades Craighead."

"What does he mean," asked Virginia, "by all this about grants, highways and fee simple? It's awfully queer."

"And who is Caroline?" asked Virginia.

"Mrs. Graybill, Mr. Waddy's daughter. Now, listen, Virginia, and watch. She's ready to try."

SPRING SKIN TROUBLES

At this season, scores of people—girls and young women especially—find their faces disfigured by pimples, dark spots, eruptions, etc. The skin needs attention—needs renovating after the trying time it has passed through during the winter.

Just think what it has gone through! You have been out in rain and sleet and snow. You have been at one moment perspiring from skating, or some other exertion. Then you have stood to "cool off." You have spent hours of the day indoors at a temperature equal to summer heat. Then you have covered up your skin—except your face—and gone out into a temperature away below zero! No wonder that, with all these changes, the skin of the face and neck shows signs of needing attention.

Zam-Buk and Zam-Buk Soap are the remedies. Smear Zam-Buk lightly over the spots, the eruptions, the sallow patches, at night, and wash with Zam-Buk Soap (only 25c. per tablet) each day. Then notice how quickly your apparance improves. As the rich, refined, herbal essences sink deep into the tissue, the hard, scurfy-like patches are removed. Better color results. The cells of the skin become transparent. The blood beneath is able to impart its proper coloring to the tissue, and the delicate bloom of health replaces the sallowness and pallor disease.

Zam-Buk is also a sure cure for skin injuries and disease. Eczema, ulcers, ringworm, yield to its use. For cuts, burns, bruises, children's rashes, etc., it is unequalled, and for piles. Mothers will find Zam-Buk Soap best for baby's bath! All druggists and stores at 50c. box for Zam-Buk and 25c. tablet (or 3 for 70c.) for the Soap. If you have any difficulty in obtaining, order from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, and send price.

Murder Trial On at Cobourg.

Cobourg, April 11.—The spring assizes, which opened here yesterday before Justice Clute, adjourned yesterday afternoon at 2.30 almost immediately after grand jury was sworn in and their duties explained. Three criminal cases are on the docket, interest centering in the Brimscombe murder case, which, it is expected, may come on to-day. Peter White, K.C., of Pembroke, will act as crown prosecutor, with W. F. Kerr, county crown attorney.

Matthew's defence will be conducted by F. M. Field, K.C., of Cobourg; W. L. Payne, K.C., Colborne, and E. Guss. Porter, K.C., of Belleville.

There is one civil case and two other criminal cases on the docket.

Incorporation of All-Red Line.

London, April 11.—The Western Daily Press, Bristol, says the Canadian Senate's action in passing the incorporation of the Imperial Steamship Co., which proposes to establish an all-red service, will be received with mingled feelings in several British ports. It points out the difficulties of such a scheme, and does not think the same can do much to shorten the passage between Britain and the Dominion.

MORE PINKHAM CURES

Added to the Long List due to This Famous Remedy.

Glanford Station, Ont.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years and never found any medicine to compare with it. I had ulcers and falling of the uterus, and doctors did me no good. I suffered dreadfully until I began taking your medicine. It has also helped other women to whom I have recommended it."—Mrs. HENRY CLARK, Glanford Station, Ontario.

Another Cure

Harvey Bank, N. B.—I can highly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any suffering woman. I have taken it for female weakness and painful menstruation and it cured me. — MRS. DEVERE BARBOUR.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, indigestion, dizziness, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result is worth millions to many suffering women.

If you want special advice write for it to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

PRINCE OF TRAVELERS.

The name Marco Polo is the most remarkable in the history of travel, though the individual in his dim personality can hardly rank as one of the greatest men among explorers. Yet he has his own real, undisputable and unique claims to glory. He was the first traveler to trace a route across the whole longitude of Asia, naming and describing kingdom after kingdom from the shores of Cilicia to the Yellow Sea—the first traveler to reveal China in all its wealth and vastness, with its mighty rivers, its huge cities, its swarming population and rich manufactures; to tell us of the nations on its borders, with their eccentricities of manners and worship; of Tibet, of Burma, of Laos, of Siam, of Cochin-China, of Japan; the first to speak of that museum of wonder and beauty, the Indian Archipelago; of Java, the pearl of islands; of Sumatra; of Ceylon with its Mountain of Adam; of India, not as a mythical region, but as a country seen and partially explored; of the secluded Christian kingdom of Abyssinia; of Zanzibar, Madagascar and Socotra; and, in remotely opposite quarters, of the high plateaus of Palmir, with their wild sheep; of Siberia and the Arctic ocean; of white bears, sledge-dogs and reindeer-riding Tunguses. That all these should be the revelations of one man and one book surely accounts for and justifies the author's high place on the roll of fame, without our seeking to invest him with imaginary attributes.

In recognition of his services to the Chinese Emperor, a bronze statue of this celebrated Venetian traveler was placed in the temple of "the 500 Genii," or Disciples of Buddha, at Canton. The floor of the temple is of marble, and the tables and chairs are all either marble or ebony. There is an inner court where under huge plantain trees the monks having the guardianship of the temple spend all their leisure. There is also a lotus pool in the centre, which is a vision of loveliness when the sacred blossoms are in bloom. Finally, there is the Lo-hangtang, or Hall of Saints, full of solemn brooding figures. The interior of the inner shrine is very dim and dark and mysterious, and the air is heavy with the perfume of incense.

Marco Polo died in Venice in 1325, but the vast compass of his travels and his romantic stories had already inspired the then known world, and resulted in the many notable discoveries following that date.

Fooling a Solomon.

An Irish magistrate was perplexed by the conflicting claims of two women for a baby, each contending that she was the mother of it. The justice remembered Solomon's procedure in a similar case and, sending an officer of the court for a carving knife, declared he would give half to each. The women were shocked, but had no doubt of the authority and purpose of his worship to make the proposed compromise. "Don't do that!" they both screamed in unison. "You can keep it yourself."—From "Irish Life and Humor."

Convicted by Hoof Marks.

Danville, Ill., April 11.—Fred. C. Garner was found guilty yesterday of killing Mrs. Elsie Cochrane, and his sentence was fixed at twenty years in the penitentiary.

Some months ago the body of the woman was found several miles from her home. Evidence of peculiarity of the shoes on Garner's horse, tallying with hoof marks near where the body was found, was a feature of the trial.

Victim of Hydrophobia.

New York, April 11.—Abraham Nahon, aged 42, former secretary of the New York American Baseball Club, died yesterday from hydrophobia in the Neurological Institute. He contracted the disease from a pet bulldog last November, which licked his hand while he was attending the animal, which later developed rabies.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Two keepers of a gambling resort at Peterboro were find $200 and $100, and six frequenters $50 each. All pleaded guilty.

Messrs. Plummer and Murphy of the Dominion Steel Co. are at Ottawa asking for an extension of the bounties on wire rods.

The Halifax Y.M.C.A. received a cablegram from Lord Strathcona yesterday announcing that he would give $10,000 to complete the building fund.

The contract for the construction of the Plaza Laurier at Ottawa has been awarded by the Government to McGillivray & O'Toole of Ottawa at a figure said to be around $235,000.

The Pere Marquette-Lehigh Valley line announces the appointment of Miss I. N. Carpenter of Rock Island, Ill., as soliciting agent in the freight department, with headquarters in Davenport, Iowa.

When at worship in the church of the Notre Dame College at Hull, Brother Crescentinian, who has been in the Roman Catholic ministry since 1855, was stricken with paralysis, and died yesterday morning.

"General" Stanley Williams, the one-time American soldier, who was wounded Saturday in the spectacular assault when his little force of 80 rebels engaged the entire eighth battalion of the Mexican army, is dead.

The Y.M.C.A. closed their building campaign at Guelph, inaugurated six days ago, with $66,934 subscirbed. Fifty thousand dollars was the sum originally aimed at, but on Friday it was decided that $60,000 would be needed.

Seven years at hard labor was the sentence meted out to each of four leaders of a Black Hand band in the Common Pleas Court at Newark, N.J., yesterday. A fifth prisoner, a wealthy Italian, got three years. The quintette were convicted of drugging and robbing two men.

Baby Heir to Millions.

Some idea of the wealth to which the baby son recently born to Earl Fitzwilliam is heir may be gathered from the fact that the late peer's estate was valued at considerably over $10,000,000. Earl Fitzwilliam has large estates in England and Ireland which are said to produce him nearly $700,000 a year. A practical-minded peer, the earl has played many parts, and distinguished himself as a mechanic, mining engineer, big game hunter, soldier, politician, and magistrate.

THEATRICAL

"POLLY OF THE CIRCUS."

Polly of the Circus, Little Hip and her other friends in the great circus play, were given an enthusiastic reception at the Grand Opera House last night, the features of the third act being accorded liberal approval by the large audience. The incidents in the life of the star bareback rider, following her accident, which brought her in touch with the Rev. John Douglas and his lofty-minded flock, were well acted, but the realistic performances in the ring were the strong points in the play. The big, rough canvass man was there; the proprietor bellowed forth his instructions; the clowns went through the usual happy stunts; the trained elephant and ponies, to the tune of the long whip, did their work faultlessly, and the acrobatic troupe put on their difficult feats in a manner that brought down the house. Everything was up to the minute, and the finale, showing Polly and the Rev. John together and happy at last, and in sight of the big wagons moving slowly from the grounds was another winner.

ESTATE OF DAVID KNOX

RETURN ENGAGEMENT OF "THE ROSARY"

At the Grand on Good Friday Matinee and Night—A Fitting Play for That Day

The large audience that saw the productions of "The Rosary" when it was at the Grand Opera House last week, will be pleased to hear that a return engagement has been arranged for Good Friday. This beautiful play is really appropriate for the day with its religious associations and settings. The Rosary is a drama which breathes purity and good fellowship and leads the way to a brighter view of life and humanity.

The theme of the play concerns a man and a woman happily married and surrounded with every luxury that money and culture can secure. But the husband is an unbeliever, an atheist, without faith of any kind.

There is a jarring note in the household harmony, a personality at war with the peace and love of its members. No one notices this until a friend of the husband comes, Father Kelly, a priest of the modern world, with a deep insight into human nature and a divine love for his fellow men. And when stress and trouble come, when the home is wrecked and husband and wife are brought down to the depths of suffering agony, it is the priest's own courage and faith that saves them, drives away the clouds of suspicion, doubt, mistrust, and brings them both into the sunlight of hope and love.

"The Rosary" will be seen at Grand Opera House on Good Friday, matinee and night.

THE JOY RIDER

Full of Laughs and Comedies at the Grand To-morrow Night —Many New Musical Hits

If you want to have an evening of chuckles and laughs, see George Sidney (Busy Izzy) in "The Joy Rider" at the Grand to-morrow night. A good laugh is as good as a tonic for you, so you had better try the treatment to-morrow night.

The inimitable and unique George Sidney (Busy Izzy), that comical caricaturist and fun purveyor, with his big musical company, including the clever comedienne, Miss Carrie Webber, will begin an engagement at the Grand Opera House Wednesday night, April 12, in the second edition of that hurricane of fun, "The Joy Rider," for the further exploiting of this clever fun maker's peculiar and popular comedy eccentricities. Without considering the big clever company that surrounds him, George Sidney himself holds a magnetic relation to the public unlike that of any other funmaker. He has a droll, laughter-compelling personality, a modest, yet suggestive make-up and a quality of pure, unaffected humor, that seems a law unto himself. The apparent personal enjoyment of the topsy-turvy situation of which he is usually the victim, in the character of the busy one, provokes merriment in itself. In the comedy full recognition of this natural humor possessed by Mr. Sidney is given, and the entire production has been constructed so that others of the cast have every opportunit.

There are many musical features in 'The Joy Rider,' all of which were written especially for the comedy, and the following may be mentioned:— 'There's a Girl in the Moon,' 'The School of Love,' 'The Bowery Rag,' 'Maybe You're not the Only One,' 'My Picture Puzzle Girl,' 'Sundae For Two,' 'I Want a Beau,' the usual Sidney parodies, and the many bright sparkling musical interpolations which have always characterized the Sidney productions.

AT CRIPPLE CREEK

A Thrilling Tale of The West in the Days of the Gold Rush—A Carload of Scenery

One of the most interesting melodramas produced within recent years is "At Cripple Creek," which sprang into instant favor upon the occasion of its initial presentation. The product of the versatile Hal Reid's pen, it placed him upon a high pedestal of excellence as a dramatist, and made an enduring reputation for itself.

The characters are all deftly drawn and sharply contrasted. They include a rough, big-hearted miner, whose honest, straightforward plan of life is pitted against the villainy of the keeper of an evil resort; a bad Mexican; a good Indian and several types common to the West. The story is full of realism, picturesqueness and force, and the action is rapid and keeps the audience thoroughly interested every minute of the time. The first action shows the interior of The Temple of David, a saloon and concert hall at Cripple Creek. In the second act is shown the exterior of Joe Mayfield's cabin, and in this act is accomplished a startling leap for a life in which the friendly Indian rescues a child by swinging from a cliff on an overhanging vine. Act three shows the interior of the Last Dollar cabin, a unique setting. The last scene is a simple interior, and in this act everything is made right, the hero vindicated and the villains brought to a realization of their wickedness. The characters in "At Cripple Creek" call for acting ability of a high order, and the company is composed of high-grade performers.

"At Cripple Creek" is at the Grand on Easter Monday night, and there is likely to be a crowded house.

TAG DAY ON THE WAY ONCE MORE

A Reminder for the Owners of Dogs to Get Busy

This annual announcement means considerably more to dog owners this year than ever before. The price of tags has increased, making the high cost of living still higher. One male dog will not cost any more than usual, but the increase affects those owners who have more than one or females. Tags may now be obtained from the office of the City Clerk at the following prices and for which there will be no bargain days:—

One dog, $1.
Each additional dog, $2.
One female, $3.
Each additional female, $5.

All licenses must be secured by May 1st, and if the by-law means anything, owners will avoid a whole lot of trouble by acting promptly. The dogs will also be safer with a tag attached after that date.

RUBBER COMPANY BY-LAW

There will be a meeting of supporters of this by-law on Tuesday evening at 8 p.m., at the office of G. Walter Green, McDonnell Street. Come all. D. W. Dumble, Chairman Com.

NO SPRING HORSE SHOW AT LINDSAY

Farmers Lacking in Interest this Year

The Lindsay Warder says:—The Spring Horse Show has been held annually in Lindsay for several years, but at the meeting of the Agricultural Society Thursday it was practically decided to abandon it. At this show there has always been a creditable showing of horses, both imported and Canadian bred, and the show has been fairly well attended by horsemen and farmers.

However, the arranging of the show has been left to the farmers, and interest has not been shown in the matter this year. Usually, the fair has been held in the month of April.

PICTURES THAT WERE NEVER TAKEN

Last season many people regretted the fact that they did not have a Kodak or Camera to snap what they believed to be good subject for Pictures. Right now is the time to buy a Camera or Kodak. TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL

The regular monthly meeting of the Trades and Labor Council will be held to-morrow evening, in their hall, on Simcoe street, at 8 o'clock sharp. All the members are urged to attend this meeting as business of importance will be taken up, and the reports of the committees on Labor Day sports and co-operation will be heard.

THIRTY THREE YOUNG LIVES CONFIRMED AT ALL SAINTS'

Helpful Admonitions by His Lordship Bishop Reeve

With all the solemnity and impressiveness attendant upon such occasions thirty three young lives, of whom fourteen were boys, signified their intention last night of living for God, by receiving the apostolic rite of confirmation at All Saints Anglican Church administered by His Lordship Bishop Reeve of Toronto.

There was an especially large attendance of the members of the congregation, all of whom must certainly have felt the significance of the ceremony and it's purpose.

The choir for the first time was attired in the beautiful new surplices gowns of white, and were present in almost full strength, a feature which added exceedingly to the effectiveness of the occasion.

The sermon preached by Bishop Reeve was most appropriate, and must certainly have been a source of inspiration and encouragement to the young people, just venturing out into the world. His text was found in Eph. 1, and 13; "In whom ye also trusted, after that ye heard the word of truth the gospel of your salvation, in whom also after that ye believed ye were sealed with that holy spirit of promise.

The sermon was thoroughly elevating and was replete with helpful thoughts, expressed in simple language, which the class could have no difficulty in grasping.

Referring to that portion of his text which read, "ye were sealed with the Holy Spirit," the speaker said that those who were sealed with the Holy Ghost were divinely impressed.

"You who have been confirmed long ago," he asked, "what about your life?" Did you change your belief and your manner of living and make all your actions count for the glory of God?

"When people looked at your actions and life, did they find you an example, and fashion their lives from yours? Verily, ye must show by your consistent life that you have confirmed and dedicated to God."

His Lordship has a mind well stored with helpful thoughts, which he delivered at some length, and throughout his discourse received a most attentive hearing.

Vote for the Tire Company By-law on April 25, and give Peterborough another boost onward and upward.

READ A PAPER ON LORD NELSON

Last Saturday night at the Armouries, at a meeting of No. 1 company, Boy Scouts, Master Herbert McClellan, sergeant of the Beaver Patrol, read a paper on Lord Nelson. The boys appreciated the paper very much, and in a short time Master Herbert is to read another paper on Duty. These meetings of the Boy Scouts are doing a vast amount of good. The boys are not only growing physically, but the very best ideals are being worked into their young minds. A Boy Scout is taught to be a gentleman in every sense of the word and those at the head of the organization in Peterborough may well feel proud of its one hundred and fifty or more members.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF SPORT

NEW OFFICERS OF BROOKSIDE BOWLING AND TENNIS CLUB

Peterboro to be Represented in Inland League—T. Brightman Elected President

The Brookside Bowling and Tennis Club got off to a good start last night when the annual meeting was held in the chambers of the Dominion Bank. The knights of the jack turned out and entered into the business of the evening with an enthusiasm worthy of exponents of the great game on the green. The attendance included a number of new members, and altogether the meeting was a big success. The president, J. E. A. Fitzgerald, was unable to be present, and Thos. Brightman held down the chair.

Reports were read and adopted, and both showed a highly satisfactory condition of affairs.

In his report Dr. Marshall stated that $100 had been paid on the indebtedness of the club.

Probably the most important item of the evening, the election of officers for the year, resulted as follows:—

President—Thos. Brightman.
Sec'y-Treas.—G. E. Clarke.
Executive Committee—Messrs. D. H. Moore, T. E. B. Yeates, R. M. Waddell, R. Cottrell, D. Belleghem, R. J. Soden and T. Pratt.

AN INLAND LEAGUE.

A committee was appointed to form a league to be composed of Peterborough, Port Perry, Lindsay and possibly Keene.

J. C. Eaton, of Toronto, has donated a handsome trophy for a bowling league of clubs along the lake shore, and the Inland League will be in on the silverware. The two organizations will play their schedule of games, and the winners of each play off for the trophy.

The green and tennis courts will be put in shape as soon as possible, and those wishing to join the club should communicate with the secretary or other officers at an early date.

MILLBROOK READY.

Millbrook, April 10.—(Special)—At a meeting of the Millbrook Lawn Bowling Club it was decided to join the northern section in the Lake Shore Lawn Bowling League, consisting of Port Hope, Lindsay, Peterborough and Millbrook. The front or southern section will be composed of Bowmanville, Oshawa, Port Hope and Cobourg. Other clubs may join later on. Last year Millbrook had a club membership of about seventy-five.

PORT HOPE IN LINE.

Port Hope, April 10.—Port Hope Lawn Bowling Club has organized for the season of 1911, with the following officers:—Hon. President, Dr. L. B. Powers; President, Henry Reynolds; Vice-President, Dr. A. G. Aldrich; Secretary-Treasurer, R. Hayden; Executive Committee, F. L. Curtis, R. G. Russell and officers of the club. Messrs. H. B. Rosevear and E. E. Snider were appointed delegates to the annual meeting of the Lake Shore Lawn Bowling League, to be held at Oshawa on April 14.

LINDSAY ON THE JOB.

Says the Lindsay Post:—At an enthusiastic meeting held recently in the parish hall, the St. Mary's Bowling Club was organized for the season with the following excellent officers:

Patron—Venerable Archdeacon Casey.
President—T. Burke.
Vice-President—B. J. Gough.
Sec.-Treas.—J. A. Gillogly, sr.
Asst.—Jas. Gillogly, jr.

The president was empowered to appoint a management committee.

The club decided to enter District No. 2, of the Lakeshore League, and the prospects for a very successful season are very bright.

PUSHBALL A COSTLY GAME

Ball is Six Feet in Diameter and Costs $300—Game Originated in America and Was First Played in New York in 1902

The biggest and most costly ball used in a game is the pushball, which is made six feet in diameter and costs $300, though even at that price there is said to be no very great profit in it.

The outside covering of the pushball is made of a cowhide leather that is imported from England. This covering is composed of twenty strips, which are sewed together by hand. Each of these strips is between nine and ten feet long, or half the circumference of the ball.

The strips are widest in the middle, tapering uniformly to points at either end, at the poles of the ball, where they are further secured by leather caps sewed on. To get the leather needed for a pushball it is necessary to cut up five or six hides, which makes the cost of the cover high. It takes two men the better part of a week to sew this material together.

The bladder for the ball is made of the best rubber, which is cut into strips and cemented together in such shape that it will form a globe fitting the leather covering when inflated. The leather covering is practically indestructible. The very best rubber bladder may give out in two or three years. A new bladder costs $150. A large cylinder foot pump suitable for inflating this mighty ball costs $10.

The game of pushball is of American origin. The first pushball was made in Newton, Mass., in 1894. This ball had a covering of leather shaped on a wooden form built for the purpose.

According to Push Ball, which contains a history of the game with the playing rules, the first pushball game in New York was played with a canvass ball stuffed with hay on Thanksgivind Day; November 27, 1902. At the last moment the manager of the Athletic Park where the game was to be played found it impossible to get a ball in time for the match, but he was not dismayed by that. Canvas was bought and a bale of hay, and there was pressed into service a neighboring shoemaker to do the sewing. The result was a ball that may not have been a perfect sphere, but still it was a pretty good looking ball and it would do.

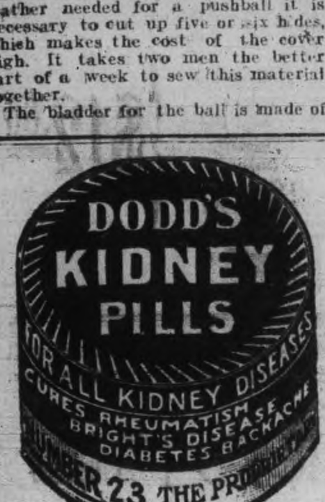
But when it was finished—it had been made out in the field—it was too big to get through any door, and so it was left out overnight, the night before the match, and that night it rained. In the morning when this canvas-covered, hay-stuffed pushball was put in play it was found that it had accumulated rainwater, and it accumulated more as it was rolled from the pools about the field. The ball that should have weighed fifty pounds or thereabout soon came to weigh nearer 500, and it soon began to lose shape.

It was tremendously hard work pushing this ball about on a muddy field, and only half a game was played, and though one side had scored a goal, the first pushball game played on Manhattan Island was declared a draw.

In its earlier developments the pushball was made of an airtight rubber fabric, but that ball was soon superseded by the ball in its present perfect form, of leather, with a rubber bladder.

The game of pushball is played between opposing teams of men on a gridiron with a goal at each end, each team trying to push the ball through the opposing team's goal. Commonly played on a field, pushball may be played indoor as well as out. Usually played by men afoot, it is also played by men on horseback.

Soon after its origination pushball was introduced into England, where it is now perhaps played more than it is here. It is also played on the Continent. In this country pushball is played by college teams, and by teams of athletic associations, and in riding schools and at army posts. The Giants use a pushball in their early spring training down in Texas.



LEAGUE RALLY VERY SUCCESSFUL

Young People Largely Represented at George Street

The program for the rally of Epworth Leagues of the city, which was held in George St. church last evening, was strictly adhered to, and the meeting was a success in every way.

The attendance was encouraging, and as a result of the meeting the work will proceed on a stronger associated basis than ever.

Rev. Isaac Couch was chairman, and his address was stimulating and helpful. He urged the young leaguers to be more faithful and to devote whatever time possible to the furtherance of league work.

Mr. R. F. Downey, president of Charlotte St. Epworth League, gave a splendid address on the subject of "Loyalty."

Loyalty to the league, and active work were the keynotes of success in league circles, as in everything else.

Miss Edna Pringle's solo was very sweetly given, and the quartette by Messrs. Lee, Fleming, Downey and Skitch was greatly appreciated.

Messrs. Downey and Fleming also gave a duet in a very pleasing manner.

OTTAWAS FIGURED CLOSE TO LIMIT

Only $12 50 Remained After Players Had Been Played

Ottawa, April 10.—It has just been ascertained that the salary list of the Ottawa hockey team for the season just closed was figured out so finely there remained $12.50 to come and go on, without overstepping the $5,000 limit. Walsh, Lesueur, Lake, Kerr, Shore and Ridpath received $620 each. Darragh and Currie came in for $300 apiece. Stuart took down $500 and Gaul, who was with the team for a month at the start of the season, accounted for about $100.

The players counted upon about $3,100 bonus to be derived from the Stanley Cup gates and the games played in Boston and New York. However, they took down but $2,300, and in consequence some of them are inclined to kick. Prior to leaving for the States on their barnstorming tour, the players met in the Russel House and in the presence of one of the club officers completed arrangements, which were as follows:—That the revenue derived from the games in New York and Boston be divided into eight equal shares, seven of the regular players to receive seven full shares, and the eighth share to be split between the two spare men. According to the players, the club was to allow one thousand dollars to the team for expenses and executive officers were to defray their own expenses or take it out of the funds of the club. When it came to reckoning up time, it was found that the expenses reached $1,800, the amount over the $1,000 being taken out of the gates down in New York.

It is reported that Glamis is to have another another general store business again.

RAPID STRIDES MADE BY GOLF

Has Grown More Than Any Other Game in Past Ten Years

This is the time of year when one should join a golf club. No longer can the Scotch game be classed as a pastime exclusively for the rich. At first it appeared so, for then it could be played only at the fashionable country clubs, which picked their members from the social register and charged high dues. The man who at that time sneered at golf as being the plutocrat's game is playing golf today.

Golf has grown at a greater rate on the last ten years than any other sport in America. It has long since left the rich man's domain, and must now be rated as a popular sport. It is within the reach of everybody. There are golf clubs that cost as low as $25 a year in membership dues. A set of clubs, many of which last a lifetime, cost about $10.

Golf has grown strictly on its merits. No sport was ever more ridiculed when it was first played in this country. Had the sport no merit it would have been laughed off the continent. The fact that it survived the jeers and sneers and has grown so tremendoubly is the best possible argument for the sport.

To-day the game is scoffed at only by the very ignorant and stupid; persons who would sneer at Niagara Falls, Pike's peak or the scene at Rouen. It is the only game that can be played a lifetime; all sorts and ages of men and women are eligible. But it must not be inferred that it is a game for the anemic and the weakling.

There are many six-foot and 200-pounders playing the game every day, for it requires strength as well as skill, yet at the same time the round-shouldered, non-athletic can play it and will grow robust playing it.

Best of all about the sport is that one does not look at golf, but plays it.

HOAGLAND WON THE SIX DAY RACE

Auburn Ped Went 95 Miles 6 laps in 5 Hours

A despatch from Indianapolis says: Williard Hoagland, the 53-year-old walker of Auburn, N.Y., to-night won the National six-day walking and running match at Tomlinson Hall, carrying the Hoagland-Dineen team into first place. Hoagland's score was 95 miles 6 laps for the total of fifteen hours on the track during the week. Dineen, of Boston, the runner of the team, made 136 miles, 14 laps. The score for the team was 321 miles 20 laps. The track was 22 laps to the mile.

The Houlihan-Crooks team finished second with 226 miles 16 laps. Crooks, running 138 miles, bettered Dineen's score, but was unable to overcome Hoagland's margin. The Caustin-Thibeau team was third with 218 miles 10 laps; Shelton-Davis, fourth, 213 miles 7 laps; Myers-Tallfeather, fifth, 204 miles 11 laps.

The prizes were $500, $250, $125, $75 and $50 for the five teams in the order in which they finished.

SPORT TALK

This is great weather for the baseball microbe and the local ball tossers are beginning to get busy with the annual supply of gaff on the subject of what's doing.

A meeting in the interests of the City Baseball League will be called for in the near future and that will be soon enough.

The T.A.S. has a double proposition on its hands. Some want a Midland league team and others a City League outfit. The abstainers can produce the two teams if necessary, but at this distance it looks like city league only.

Guinian, McFadden, Flaherty, and O'Hearn, the mainstays of the team, are here, and with a good local league will no doubt remain, despite any offers coming this way.

The Y.M.C.A. might be induced to handle a team this season. The P. A. C., West Ends, and Strathconas are again possibilities and the next few days may see something doing.

But this four team league proposition wants to hit the sidetrack. It has never been a success. Three teams is enough for this city.

Landslide on C.P.R.

Ottawa, April 11.—A landslide occurred Sunday between Ironsides and Chelsea, on the Gatineau branch of the C.P.R. The landslide was discovered yesterday by the outward-bound train which had to back down to Hull. A gang of men were sent up, but it was found that the whole hillside would have to be removed, as the water had undermined it.

Word was sent to Chelsea for the down train to transfer passengers. This was a difficult task as the country around is of blue clay, and the passengers had trouble wading through it. The track was covered for quite a distance, and it is feared that more of the mountain is in danger of sliding.

Poaching Tug Captured.

Kingsville, April 11.—The fishing tug Eagle of Lorain, Ohio, was captured yesterday afternoon as a poacher in Canadian waters, and the vessel, with a crew of six men, was brought here. The Eagle had on board 3,000 pounds of fish and 30 boxes of net twine. All of this, with the tug, has been confiscated.

Good bass fishing is had these days at Scugog. Three recent ones caught weighed eight pounds.

The experienced buyer never permits the shrewd merchant to convince him that an imitation is superior to the genuine advertised article. In refusing a substitute he protects himself and the manufacturers who have expended enormous sums in giving the public information regarding their products.

Advertised articles have stood the test of public approval on their merits and materials embracing their make-up The mere fact that they are imitated is competent testimony of their worth.

The old princes and monarchs of Europe sometimes ruled not wisely but too much, but they all drank the best beer brewed — when they could get it.

"Salvador" BEER

was by all odds the best brewed in Europe for centuries and is the best to-day.

The Reinhardts' secured the secret formula for this famous brew and they alone have the sole right to make it on this side of the Atlantic.

"Salvador" Beer is brewed scientifically from choice Bavarian Hops, selected Barley Malt and pure sterilized spring water. Do you wonder that it has become Canada's most famous beverage?

A GOOD ADHERENT.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—In last evening's Review I read a short obituary of the late Frank Bell, a man of sterling integrity and unflinching courage. He had his faults, no doubt, as other people have, but there were few men of equal strength and solidity of character. As such he never stooped to meanness, and it is on this account that I wish to draw your attention as well as to the fact that whatever he may have done in his latter days in the way of changing his denomination when he was not so clear as he might have been, he was a strikingly firm adherent of the faith of his fathers all through his long and useful life. Whatever allegiance he gave to a church, he gave to the Baptist church, which he often spoke of to me as the church above all others of the most purely scriptural character.

Thanking you,

Yours,

AN OLD FRIEND.

GERMS CARRIED IN FALSE HAIR

Stories which have been circulated at different times of terrible diseases caught from the wearing of false hair are being brought pretty close to home at the present moment. Dr. J. F. Laberge, of the Quebec Provincial Board of Health, is about to issue a statement to the effect that there is danger that the plague which is causing such frightful suffering and death in China may be brought into Canada by false hair. The officers of the Health Department are making inquiries at the local hair stores in order to discover what proportion of the switches sold by local dealers comes from China.

The men who conduct the hair business state that they import the bulk of their goods from Germany, but they add that Chinese hair is also on sale here. It is claimed that most of the corpses taken to the morgues in the plague-stricken districts of China are minus the pigtails, and the reason is that the hair has been taken by agents of the hair companies.

FIVE HUNDRED MEMBERS FOR HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

A Broad Plan of Action Whereby City Will Be Beautified.

The first step in a movement which is likely soon to make the Peterborough Horticultural Society talked about from one end of the city to the other was taken last night, when a meeting of the directors of the society was held in the city engineer's office. Those present were President Campbell, Secretary Frank Wise, T. A. S. Hay, Hon. J. R. Stratton, John Riddell, Walter Stocker, J. Edgar, S. Jordan, R. M. Glover and H. B. Cowan. The meeting was called for by the secretary with a view to considering ways and means of bringing the advantages of membership in the society more prominently before the citizens of Peterborough, of increasing the membership, and of laying plans for the work of the society along the lines of home and civic improvement. It was pointed out that other places in Ontario, with a population of only seven or eight thousand, have horticultural societies with a membership in some cases nearly double that of the Peterborough Society. In a city such as Peterborough the membership of the Horticultural Society could be easily increased to 500 or over, and it was decided to aim for at least that number in the campaign which is now being planned. The present membership of the society is about 160.

A NEW NAME.

On the suggestion of Mr. Hay it was decided to discontinue the present name of the society, which is now known as The Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society. This name, owing to the fact that Ashburnham has been a part of Peterborough for several years, is very much out of date, and it was felt that it would be well at this period to select a new name. A number of suggestions were made, but the matter of definitely deciding was left over until the next meeting.

LADIES ON THE BOARD.

Suggestions for interesting the citizens of Peterborough in the Horticultural Society were considered, chief among which was the offering of some premiums to all new members, so that aside from the benefits of membership in the society and being entitles to compete in all competitions if desired, each member would actually receive in plants and other premiums actually more than could be purchased for the dollar by the members themselves. It is probable that the premiums offered at this time, the chief will be a dozen plants, suitable for bedding out purposes. It was also decided to add to the present board an auxiliary committee of five ladies, as at present the ladies are not represented on the Board of Directors.

Plans were discussed regarding the work to be undertaken by the society along the line of home and civic improvement. It is probable that the town will be divided into sections and prizes offered for the best kept lawns and gardens in each section, as well as possibly special prizes covering the whole town. In order to give all classes an equal chance in all competitions, it is proposed to divide the competitions into different classes, as when a general competition is conducted covering all classes of lawns and gardens it is hardly fair to those with small grounds or who look after them themselves to have to compete with members having large grounds, or who use hired labor to care for them. It is also proposed to lay out plans for some extensive civic improvements with a view to the beautifying and general improvement of the city. There are splendid opportunities for work of this character, which would do much towards making Peterborough the most beautiful city in Ontario.

500 MEMBERS.

A committee composed of Messrs. Riddell, Hay, Stocker, Edgar and Marsh, was appointed to draw up plans on which to conduct the work of the society, and to adopt a plan of campaign for the securing of at least 500 members this spring. This committee will meet in the course of two or three days, when full particulars in regard to the work to be done and the plan of campaign will be published. The society is going after big things, and there will be some interesting developments to report as soon as plans are definitely decided.

In the meantime, those desiring to become members of the Horticultural Society may do so and obtain the full benefit of all special premiums being offered, upon payment of $1.00 to the secretary, Mr. Frank Wise, of the Little Lake Cemetery Company, or if more convenient they may leave their membership fees together with their names at either the Review or the Examiner office, when it will be forwarded to the secretary.

CHILDREN AND MORALITY IN THE SCHOOLS OF TORONTO

Toronto, April 6.—"The educational system of the Toronto public schools has failed in a large measure to correct the moral home training of its pupils."

This statement made last night by the former head of the Toronto police morality department, Chief Inspector Archibald, comes as a sequel to the charges made against the moral character of London schools by Mrs. May R. Thornley, president of the W.C.T.U. of that city a few days ago.

"This is almost the universal opinion of those best qualified to judge," went on the chief inspector, "and personally, I haven't the slightest doubt but that there has been a very great laxity in the enforcing of the principles of manners and morals in our city schools.

"The state owes it to the children to correct the immoral habits of the unfortunate ones reared by incompetent, and in many cases, immoral parents. Many small children wander aimlessly along the street in the day time and at night, finding their way into nickle shows, and at times leaving themselves liable to be picked up by designing men. I blame the parents chiefly, but if the teachers in our schools did their duty conditions would not be so deplorable in Toronto.

"Hundreds and hundreds of cases of the immorality complained of in London have come to my notice and I have heard some very bad things. It is criminal in the extreme not to educate our children in morals, especially those of self."

Upon learning these startling statements a reporter interviewed several of the officials of Toronto schools and their views were also unanimous in contradiction.

Inspector Walter H. Elliott defended the schools in their performance of the duty in question. He said: "I believe there is no institution that contributes so much to the moral health of the community as the school, and yet, I believe no school can wholly correct the evil influences of some homes, and the street, nor should it be held responsible for its failure to turn out saints where heredity and environment is combined against it.

"Since I have become inspector not a single serious case of immorality have come to my notice. I am convinced, however, that many unwarranted deductions will be made from the published statements of Mrs. Thornley, but if these statements will lead to greater parental oversight, which is lacking in too many cases, then great good will be accomplished. This, however, will only be through the parent resuming a portion of his rightful responsibility.

"I strongly favor instruction to boys and girls of our schools on sex relationship and other allied topics. In Toronto we have all the organizations necessary for such work. Lectures should be given at stated periods to boys by the male physicians, and to the girls by lady physicians."

Inspector Chapman said that although twenty years' inspection of Toronto schools had revealed no such conditions, he believed the present method of teaching morals inefficient.

"If we had an authorized textbook on 'Morals and Ethics' and teachers were required to treat this subject with as great care as other studies," he said, "the moral standard of our children would be raised."

Chairman Louis L. Levee of the Board of Education, who has been a member of the board for over eleven years, told a reporter that "not a single complaint of this kind had ever come to his notice."

Winnipeg, April 11.—The annual crop report issued by the C.P.R. yesterday declares conditions are unprecedentedly good in the three prairie provinces. It is expected seeding will be well under way by April 20.

TOWN UP IN ARMS.

Little Spanish Burg Decides to Turn Republic.

Madrid, April 11.—An embryo republic has been proclaimed at Canillas de Aceituni, in the Province of Malaga.

The populace of the town rebelled against the royal authority, and attacked the barracks of the civil guard.

Several persons were wounded in the fighting that followed.

Reinforcements of troops are being hurried to the scene.

Had the insurrectionary outbreak occurred near the Portuguese frontier, or in the southerly and historically rebellious Catalonia, it would have given more concern to the Government, which is determined not to tolerate the intervention of the Portuguese Republicans in Spanish affairs.

The Government already has made representations on several occasions at Lisbon regarding the number of Portuguese who are in close correspondence with the Spanish Republicans and plotting for a republic in Spain. This Government is not hostile to Portugal, but has notified the provisional Government that Portugal cannot be used as a base for the protection of designs against the Spanish monarchy without awaking serious distrust on the part of the Government at Madrid.

The Cabinet has considered what action should be taken in the event of anarchy in Portugal as a consequence of a prolonged civil war between anarchists and Republicans. In the event of such a situation, Spain feels her own security almost certainly would demand her intervention.

May Be Slick Thief.

New York, April 11.—Frank J. Plass, a jeweler, is charged with complicity in the theft of $85,000 worth of securities from Aaron Bancroft on March 2nd last. Plass was arrested Sunday, but news of the arrest was withheld until yesterday.

Bancroft was jostled by two men in the corridors of a safety deposit company, while he was carrying the securities in a large envelope, and a substitute envelope handed him. Two weeks later his counsel received word that for $5,000 the securities would be returned. The reward was paid, but the thieves withheld $20,000 of the securities and drove off in a taxi. The police charge Plass was in the cab.

PASSING OF OLD SOLDIER JAMES NEWTON BELL DEAD

Answered the Last Call A His Home in Bridgenorth Aged 87 Years

At the good old age of 87 years, James Newton Bell passed away this morning at the residence of his son, at Bridgenorth. The late Mr. Bell was a son of the late John Bell, and was born in New York State, near the boundary of Quebec.

He comes of a long-lived and active family, his father living to the age of 108 years.

Deceased's father, the late John Bell, was very active in military affairs, entering the army when he was about 15 years of age. He saw active service in the war of Independence, taking part in the battle of Bunker Hill, as an American gunner, in 1766, when 5,000 Americans were compelled to retreat from 3,000 British, after a desperate conflict in which there was great loss of life. He also was present at engagements on Lake Champlain and other places during that memorable campaign.

Before the War of Independence he took part in the British-French war, when Canada was ceded to Britain for the last time.

The late James Bell followed in his father's footsteps so far as being a soldier for both Great Britain and the United States, as he belonged to the Havelock Volunteers, at Quebec, and was under Captain Fitch in the 153rd New York Volunteers.

His grandchild, James Farnham, was gun-pointer on the Brooklin ship which was sent from Brooklyn City, N.Y., to the relief of the Armenians the time the Turks were massacring there about ten years ago.

Thus the family for three generations, at least, have been deeply interested in military affairs.

Deceased was married to the late Margaret Brandon, and after her death he married once more, this time to the late Mrs. Mack, sister of the first Mrs. Bell.

He was a first-class carpenter, and lived in New York State until about eight years ago, when his second wife died. His son, Nelson George Bell, of Bridgenorth, went to see his father and persuaded him to part with the old home there and come and live with him.

Mr. Bell was of a quiet disposition, making friends everywhere, and a strong believer in the Methodist doctrine. During the past eight years he has only been to church once, as his hearing has been defective, but all his other faculties were remarkably sharp for one of his age.

Those left to mourn his loss are one son, Nelson George, of Bridgenorth, and three daughters, Mrs. M. Joy, Maine, Conn.; Mrs. D. Allan, Nashway, New Hampshire, and Mrs. J. Farnham, Conn.

The funeral will take place at 2.30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, from the residence of his son, Nelson George Bell, Bridgenorth, to Bridgenorth cemetery, for interment.

GRAND TRUNK SYSTEM BUILDING

At Festival of Empire, Crystal Palace, London, England

The progressiveness of the Grand Trunk in connection with their publicity propaganda is again demonstrated in the erection of a magnificent structure to house their exhibit at the Festival of Empire, which is to be held at the Crystal Palace grounds London, England, this year. The building is ornate in its architectural style, and is a reproduction on a small scale of the New Grand Trunk passenger station now nearing completion at Ottawa. At this exhibition, the Company are putting up one of the finest exhibits that they have ever installed and will embrace all portions of the System, including the Grand Trunk Railway, the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, and the Grand Trunk Pacific Steamship Company.

The several tourist and fishing and hunting districts in Eastern Canada will be represented through large photographs and a valuable collection of mounted fish and game. Western Canada will be put before visitors in an interesting and instructive way by large pictures, showing the agricultural possibilities and developments, as well as by the exhibit of grains in the straw, grasses, and the products of the land from Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta. The mountain division of the Grand Trunk Pacific will be well portrayed through a series of oil paintings of some of the principal show places of the Canadian Rockies, painted by G. Horne Russell, the well-known Montreal artist, who spent last summer in these mountain fastnesses. The centre of the interior of the building will be occupied by a large model about ten feet square of the "Chateau Laurier," the Grand Trunk's beautiful new hotel at Ottawa. There will also be a large oil painting of a portion of the city of Ottawa, showing the new station and hotel, the parliament buildings and surroundings. Models of the steamships "Prince Rupert" and "Prince George" of the Grand Trunk Pacific, North Pacific Coast service will be on view. A separate room has been provided in the building for the projection of cinematograph picutres, and the subjects owned by the Company will be shown several times each day. Among these cinematograph films are Lachine Rapids, Maskinonge fishing near St. Anne de Bellevue, Apple Culture near Whitby, Ont., several scenes in the "Highlands of Ontario," Niagara Falls, views showing the construction of the new National Trancontinental Railway, and agricultural scenes in Western Canada. Thousands of publications will be distributed. Mr. S. W. Cummings will be in charge of the exhibit.

W. Miles owns a 95 acre farm near Forest, on which is a large peach orchard, for which he has been offered $10,500.

ANNIVERSARY OF CHURCH AND INDUCTION OF REV. H. J. KEITH

Address and Life Memberships in W. F. M. S. for Mrs. Keith

Knox church lecture hall was the scene of a large social gathering last evening in connection with the fourth anniversary of the inception of Knox church as an independent congregation and also the fourth anniversary of Rev. H. J. Keith's induction as its pastor.

A good musical program was given along with the address of the evening by Rev. Mr. McKay and short messages from Rev. James Rollins, Rev. Robt. Pogue and Rev. R. J. Webb.

Probably the most pleasing part of the program was when Mrs. (Rev.) H. J Keith was called to the front and Mrs. McPherson, Mrs. Allan and Mrs. McKenzie presented her with an address, expressive of the esteem in which she was held by all who know her. A life membership in the Women's Foreign Missionary Society accompanied it. Mrs. Keith has always been deeply interested in Foreign Missions and she will value this gift very highly.

H. Shurter as chairman, called the following program after a few opening remarks of his own.

Prayer—Rev. H. J. Keith.
Piano duet—Misses Chiles.
Banjo solo—J. Parkins.
Address—Rev. A. J. McKay.
Vocal solo—Miss Robson.
Pianaforte—Mrs. Butters.
Presentation to Mrs. Keith.
Recitation—J. McPherson.
Vocal solo—Robert Dixon.
Banjo solo—J. Parkins.
Message from visiting pastors.

REV. A. J. McKAY.

The speaker congratulated Knox church congregation and its pastor, Rev. H. J. Keith, upon the magnificent building they had erected during the past year. It was a credit to any place.

He was not only glad to meet with a progressive people such as was in Knox church, but he was glad to visit a city which was going ahead as Peterborough was.

He was pleased to meet so many men at the Brotherhood meeting Sunday afternoon. If the men would wake up and take hold of religious matters as the women were the gospel would be spread a great deal quicker. Religion was for the man as well as for the woman.

In his closing remarks he gave a very interesting talk on the characteristics of his home land, Scotland.

Rev. H. J. Keith made a few closing remarks when everyone adjourned to the dining hall where refreshments were served by the ladies.

SPRING ASSIZES

Deline Will be Tried — Justice Teetzel of Hamilton to Preside

The Spring Assizes for 1911 will open on April 18th at the Court House, presided over by Justice Teetzel, of Hamilton.

The outlook at present indicates that there will be a very light session. The time for filing cases ends on Wednesday, and so far only two have been entered, one criminal and one civil case. Deline, the man accused of wife murder, will face the charge, and in the civil case of the Union Bank endeavoring to recover some money improperly given out by them. Hall & Hayes are acting for the plaintiffs in the latter case.

The jurors have been notified to report for jury duty on Friday, April 18th, at one o'clock.

MURDER TRIAL AT COBOURG; MATTHEWS PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Grand Jury Brings In a True Bill at Cobourg In Hotel Case, and Justice Clute Opens the Trial—Father of Prisoner In Court—Matthews' Mother Died During Her Son's Incarceration.

Cobourg, April 12.—"Not guilty" was the answer made by Henry I. Matthews, jr., at the spring assizes here yesterday, when arraigned, charged with the murder of Josephine Brimacombe.

At 11.15 yesterday morning court resumed, Mr. Justice Clute presiding. At 11.30 the grand jury brought in a true bill in the Matthews' murder case, and at 11.40 the prisoner, outwardly composed and seemingly confident, entered the box. Excepting that he is slightly pale, his confinement since December has not told upon him. His father, Capt. William Matthews, was present in the court. The room was crowded, great interest centering in the case, which is one of the most notable ever tried here. The Matthews' family is highly esteemed in East Northumberland and well known throughout the district. Matthews is a married man with a family. His mother died during his incarceration. The murdered girl seemingly bore a good name.

The crime with which the prisoner, who is familiarly known among his associates as "Son" Matthews, is charged, occurred at the Bristol Hotel, Colborne, in December last. The murdered girl, a deaf mute, employed as a servant, was found dead in a room by the proprietor, George Tisdale, with marks on her throat, which led to the belief that she had been strangled.

The selection of a jury occupied a considerable length of time, a large number being objected to. In the final choice it was found that the majority are from Durham County. Crown Prosecutor Peter White of Pembroke stated the case for the crown. Associated with him in the prosecution is W. F. Kerr, county crown attorney. The prisoner is defended by E. Gus Porter, K.C., M.P., Belleville; W. L. Payne, K.C., Colborne, and F. M. Field, K.C., Cobourg. It was decided to exclude all witnesses excepting the medical experts and Constables Smith and Jarvis.

Witnesses called at the afternoon session were W. H. Smith, constable, Colborne; George Teasdale, proprietor of the Hotel Bristol, where the alleged murder took place; Irving T. Bradley, a merchant and a boarder at the hotel; and Don. Haynes, who had been employed about the hotel for some time. Their evidence, largely corroborated that given at the preliminary investigation. A plan of the hotel was submitted by Mr. Smith, the first witness. A blue print of the premises was also brought into use. The pillowslip with a stain upon it, said to be vomit, and the clothing worn by Josephine Brimacombe at the time that she was found dead, were brought into court as exhibits.

A Long-Lived Family.

Barrie, April 12.—Mrs. John Brunton, one of Allandale's oldest and most respected citizens, dropped dead shortly after six o'clock yesterday morning. Deceased was eighty years of age. Besides her husband, nine sons and one daughter survive, the youngest being nearly forty years of age. This is the first death in the family.

Found Trawlers' Boat.

Cuxhaven, April 12.—A fishing smack, which had arrived here from Iceland, reports finding an empty rowboat belonging to the steam trawler Burgermeister Burchand, which is believed to have foundered off the Shetland Islands. The Burgermeister Burchard was commanded by Capt. Buss and carried a crew of 13 men.

THE OWNERS ARE INDICTED

Isaac Harris and Max Blanck Are Charged With Manslaughter.

New York, April 12.—Isaac Harris and Max Blanck, owners of the Triangle Waist Co., were indicted yesterday afternoon by the grand jury which is investigating the circumstances of the Washington place fire of March 25, when 145 employes of the company lost their lives. The indictments, four in number, charge each man with manslaughter in the first and second degree. The maximum penalty for which is 20 and 10 years' imprisonment respectively. Harris and Blanck were arrested at their homes, were arraigned, and after entering pleas of not guilty, were released under $25,000 bail.

The indictments charge that the defendants are responsible for the deaths of Rosie Grasso and Margaret Schwartz, whose charred bodies were found on the ninth floor of the burned building. The Grasso girl was 16 years old, Margaret Schwartz was 22. The district attorney hopes to prove that the girls tried the door on the ninth floor in an effort to escape, but that it was locked. A charred piece of the door in question, with the bolt shot, was shown to the grand jury, as well as a part of the burned stairway. A few minutes afterwards the indictments were returned. Other indictments may follow.

SHELDON TO COME TO COURT TO-DAY

Montreal, April 12.—Subpoenas were issued yesterday afternoon to the witnesses who will be called to-day to show cause why C. D. Sheldon should be held for trial on charges of theft and false pretenses, aggregating $35,000.

Most stress for the time being will be laid on the charge of theft, in which George Milette is the principal complainant. "I gave $2,000 to Sheldon and I never received any account of it," will be the substance of his evidence.

Judge Leet will remand Sheldon for voluntary statement eight days from now. Then Sheldon will have to decide whether to appear before a jury in the King's Bench in June or take a summary trial before a judge immediately.

C.P.R. Changes.

Montreal, April 12.—W. A. MacInnes, freight traffic manager of the C.P.R., yesterday announced that the re-organization of the company's freight traffic department for eastern lines, which has been in progress for some time, is completed. W. B. Bulling will continue to hold the position of assistant freight traffic manager at Montreal, but in the future his duties will be the general supervision over all matters pertaining to rates and divisions, and all matters under the jurisdiction of the Railway Commission and the transcontinental freight bureau.

W. M. Kirkpatrick, who has been the general freight agent at Toronto, will come to Montreal to take up a new office that will relieve Mr. Bulling to a considerable extent. He will have the title of general freight agent, and will be in charge of the solicitation of the freight traffic, and of interchange with connecting lines.

THE DAMAGE WAS ONLY SIX CENTS

New York, April 12.—Six cents damages was awarded yesterday to Wm. Casey by a Brooklyn jury in the Supreme Court for the injury to his reputation sustained when he was arrested and photographed by Brooklyn detectives, charged with a crime of which he was acquitted on trial. Casey sued Gen. Theodore Bingham, police commissioner, for $25,000, and seven detectives for $10,000 each. The case against Gen. Bingham was thrown out of court, and yesterday's verdict followed the trial of the action against the detectives.

Six Jumped From Third Floor.

Gallopolis, O., April 12.—Six employes of the Ohio Valley Furniture Co. were badly injured here last night by jumping from the third floor of the plant, when a fire started. The structure was destroyed by the flames, the loss being $100,000. The insurance was $50,000.

College Athlete's Death.

Halifax, N.S., April 12.—Daniel J. Nicholson, champion all-round athlete of Dalhousie College, died yesterday of pneumonia. He was studying law, and belonged to Middle River, C.B.

THE P.E.I. PROHIBITIONISTS ASKED FOR STRINGENT LAW

Would Have Private Houses Searched for Liquor—Are Turned Down.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., April 12.—A "temperance" delegation waited on Premier Hazen Monday, asking for amendments to the Prohibition Act, making it unlawful for any man to keep liquor in his possession unless for medicinal, sacramental, or mechanical purposes, also giving the authorities the right to search residences of private citizens suspected of having such liquors, proof of legal possession to fall on the possessor of the liquor, the dispensing of liquor to be taken out of the hands of druggists and vendors and placed in the hands of commissioners appointed by the Government.

The Premier said the measure was too drastic and would defeat the working of the Prohibition Act. He declined to pass the legislation asked for.

Troops Charge Crowd.

Epernay, Department of Marne, April 12.—Upon hearing the decision of the Senate the leaders summoned the wine-growers to assemble at Epernay, and the call was quickly answered. The rioters smashed 50,000 bottles of champagne, throwing up barricades with casks and hoisting the red flag. Gallons of wine were poured into the streets at Damery. At Ay a squadron of the 31st Dragoons caught up with them, driving them out of town. Several rioters were injured

Coronation Day In Montreal.

Montreal, April 12.—The Mayor announced yesterday that he will proclaim June 22, Coronation Day, a civic holiday.

In his proclamation he will ask that citizens observe the day as one of public rejoicing.

There will be a fireworks display on the mountain, and citizens will be asked to decorate their houses.

IS IT A GOOD DEAL?

The Peterborough ratepayer who is qualified to vote on the Independent Tire Company by-law, on April 25th, will naturally face this question:

Is it a good thing to support?

The business men who know the details of the proposition, who have the by-law in hand, unhesitatingly say "Yes." Is the city safe-guarded? Yes. Does the city stand to lose on the deal? No as far as business foresight can tell. Does it cost the city money? No; the company pays the interest on the loan, and $2,000 a year on the principal.

As the agreement entails no burden of any kind on the general tax-payer, the only consideration is whether the security for the loan is adequate. The company has assets of $200,000 as against the liability to the city of $40,000—a fairly safe margin, surely.

The loan of $40,000 may seem rather large, but the factory will be a good one, employing 100 operatives after the first year, and distributing $60,000 a year wages at least. After all, the main consideration with respect to the loan, is whether it adds to the people's taxes, and whether it exceeds safe business judgment. In both cases, the answer is NO.

To refuse a good factory when the terms are reasonable and business-like, is to put up the sign "No factories need apply." Peterborough cannot afford, as a progressive, business city, to do that. It is important that YOU if a free-holder, should vote for the by-law

BARRIE GIRL IS SENTENCED

Got Seven Years For Murder of Her Infant.

Barrie, April 12.—In one hour and fifteen minutes from the time that Pearl Smith, trembling with emotion, entered the court-room, assisted by Mrs. Beeson of the Salvation Army and an officer of the law, charged with the murder of her infant, the case was closed and sentence passed.

She was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary.

Precisely at 4 p.m. Crown Prosecutor Frank Arnoldi addressed the jury, rehearsing the incidents connected with the case, from the time the girl left the Salvation Army Hospital in Toronto until the time of the inquest on Feb. 9.

The first witness called by the crown was Mrs. Beeson, matron of the hospital, who stated the girl had come to the hospital, and, after staying three weeks, returned to Collingwood with her child. Witnesses also stated, in answer to a question by crown counsel, that the clothes shown her at the post mortem examination were the ones supplied by her when Pearl Smith was leaving the hospital. Asked if there was any other way she could identify the child, she replied she could identify the child by marks on chin about the size of a pin.

Gordon, a lad of 13, told of finding the body on Feb. 4 while going through the bush on his way to fish. The evidence of Dr. Alex. McFaul, the coroner at Collingwood, and Dr. McKay, who conducted the post-mortem examination, corroborated the evidence given at the inquest. Constable William Smith gave evidence as to the taking of the body to Trott's undertaking rooms. He stated he was directed to the spot by the boys Gordon and Shaw, and found the child lying under some trees in the woods, about ten feet from the path, covered with snow, with the right hand protruding from beneath.

At this point counsel for the prisoner, with the consent of the crown prosecutor, asked that his lordship would change the indictment from that of murder to a charge of manslaughter, and in that event his client would change the plea of not guilty in the case of murder to guilty for the lesser charge. His lordship at once proceeded to change the indictment, as he considered the ends of justice would be as well served.

"The crime of abandonment is not uncommon," said the judge. "This is the second case of this kind that has come up in this county during the past year. A girl that will live this kind of life must be punished, and it is necessary that you should be punished, not only for yourself, but as an example to the public. I must remind you that the court can sentence you to imprisonment for life on this charge, or for a shorter term," said the judge, "but I do not intend to give you a severe sentence in this case."

His lordship then told the prisoner that he was glad to see the Salvation Army had interested themselves in her case, and he felt sure they would follow her and care for her while she was in prison as well as when she came out. If she would be guided by their prayers and advice she would be able, while still a young woman, to regain her place in decent society after leaving prison.

Col. G. W. Bruce, K.C., prisoner's counsel, thanked his lordship for the leniency shown.

On hearing the sentence the young woman broke down completely and left the court-room crying bitterly.

A Toronto Man on Board.

New York, April 12.—Two new directors of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. were elected at the annual meeting here yesterday and all the old members of the board were re-elected. The new men were McKenzie of Toronto and Robert D. Deforest of this city.

MORE PROFIT IN WORK HERE

Comparison of Cost of Living in U. S. and Britain

Comparison Much in Favor of This Continent

London, April 11—The Board of Trade has issued a report showing the comparative cost of living in England and the United States. The report shows that merchants and farmers have considerable advantages over other classes in the matter of wages, hours, of comforts and advantages of saving money. The report gives the results of investigations begun in 1909 in 28 American cities and towns. The employments chosen for enquiry were the various branches of the building, engineering and printing trades. Among the main conclusions are that the food of the average English family depending on the trades named would cost about 38 per cent. more in the United States, and that the rent in America would be in proportion of 207 to 100 in England. In other words, the cost of food and rent, are 52 per cent. greater in the United States than in England.

But the wages in the United States are at the rate of 230 to 100, or more than two and a quarter times greater in the United States.

Since there is proof that employment is more intermittent in the United States than in England, workers have a much greater margin when allowance is made for higher expenditure. The report says: "The margin is clearly large, making possible the command of necessities, conveniences and the minor luxuries of life to an extent greater than in England, although the effective margin is, in itself, curtailed by the scale of expenditure. The higher expenditure is in some instances necessary and in others voluntary, in accordance with a different and higher standard of material comfort."

Fell In Mill Pond.

Ingersoll, April 12.—While playing with some companions at the edge of Partlo's Pond, little Ray Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Jackson, aged 6 years, fell into the mill race, and but for the prompt action of John Devlin, he probably would have drowned. The mill race flows under a double house, and the lad was quickly carried by the current out of view. Mr. Devlin rushed from his blacksmith shop into the cellar of the house and pulled up some timbers which form a covering for the race, succeeded in pulling out the child, who apparently was none the worse for his experience.

Chinese Bring Libel Suit.

Liverpool, Eng., April 12.—A libel suit brought by leaders in "Chinatown," against the editor of the Liverpool Magazine was opened yesterday. The defendant is charged with imputing immoral practices to Chinese laundries, and with defaming generally "subjects of the Chinese Emperor, with intent to excite hatred against them."

The case was adjourned after the court had issued a temporary injunction restraining a repetition of the allegations.

BANK MANAGER CANNOT BE FOUND

Special to the Review.

Guelph, April 12.—William Duthie, the manager of the branch of the Union Bank at Hillsburg, has been missing since Tuesday, April 4, when he left for Toronto on a business trip. The bank inspector, who has examined his accounts, reports that they are all correct. His wife, who is living in this city, with her two children, is almost distracted at the absence of her husband.

RECIPROCITY SCRAPPING IS STILL FEATURE AT OTTAWA

Quiet In Crow's Nest.

Fernie, B.C., April 12.—The executive of the district 18 has been called to meet at Frank on Thursday morning. None of the international members has reached town, and the executive meeting of the operators at Frank has not resulted in anything tangible. President Stockett returned to Hosmer Monday night, and as Manager Willson is here, it is not expected that another meeting will be held for a few days. This is pay day with the Crow's Nest Pass Co., the earnings for March being handed out to the men at both camps. Nearly $200,000 will be paid to the employes here and at Michel. Every part of the district reports perfect quietness, and the miners here are more than usually careful of the cash they are getting.

The Colonel Describes Huron Member's Remarks on Reciprocity as Bordering on Treason—Gerald T. White Would Like to See Stamps Made by a Canadian Artist—Minister Hopeful Miners Will Arbitrate

Ottawa, April 12.—The reciprocity debate yesterday was highly entertaining, if not instructive. M. Y. McLean provided some of the amusement. Col Hughes provided some more. Mr. McLean proclaimed himself an out-and-out free trader, and the colonel took him to task, describing his free trade harangue as a "lugubrious socialistic utterance."

Before the reciprocity debate was resumed there were some interesting points raised.

Hon. George E. Foster acknowledged that there had been an error regarding the figures he had used in his criticism of Mr. Fielding's budget speech. The customs figures for 1896 had been placed under the year 1910. He said the mistake was incomprehensible to him, and he had corrected the figures in the revised Hansard.

In reply to Mr. Herron of Alberta, the Minister of Labor said Governmental action regarding the strike of miners there had been delayed until the meeting of the miners Thursday evening. He was hopeful that the operators and the miners would accept the appointment of a board of conciliation and investigation under the Industrial Disputes Act.

Gerald T. White (North Renfrew), discussing the question of the issue of the coronation postage stamps, argued that the Government should encourage home talent, and that Canadian artists should be given a chance to compete for the design of the Canadian stamps. He suggested that the Postmaster-General should offer prizes for competition for a design.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux replied that he had been made aware of the desire of the Imperial Government that Canada should adopt, as far as possible, the imperial design. The design had been received, but the Department had not yet passed upon it. It was not intended to issue a series of stamps, such as was done in the case of the Quebec tercentenary. The postal union was opposed to frequent changes in the design. However, the chief object of the new stamps was to represent as accurately as possible the features of the new King, and the American Bank Note Co. of Ottawa was quite able to cope with the situation. It was not necessary to offer prizes for a design.

M. Y. McLean (South Huron), continued the debate on the reciprocity agreement. He said that the large majority of his constituents were in favor of the agreement. He declared himself a free trader, and said that free trade would be the best fiscal policy for Canada. He would raise revenue by the best system of direct taxation that could be devised. He was free to admit, however, that at the present time such a policy was not probable. As free trade was impossible at the present time, he advocated making a fiscal arrangement with any country that would do the same with Canada.

Mr. McLean and Col. Sam Hughes had a round over T. W. Crother's assertion that the preference was first offered to the whole world and not specially to the Mother Country. Mr. McLean quoted Mr. Fielding that the offer referred especially to Great Britain, and Col. Hughes quoted the same Minister in reply to Sir Charles Tupper that Canada was willing to give any country the preference which treated Canada in the same way.

Col. Hughes, who followed, then went after Mr. McLean for his slur on the loyalty of the Opposition. Col. Hughes found his answer in a speech by Mr. McLean on the naval bill, when Mr. McLean denied that Great Britain had ever protected the shores of Canada.

"That utterance," said the colonel, "bordered on treason." (Opposition cheers.)

JARDINE IS ON TRIAL FOR LIFE

Special to the Review.

Goderich, April 12.—When the charge of murder was read to Edward Jardine this morning, he pleaded not guilty in a firm voice. His trial for the murder of Lizzie Anderson was proceeded with, and Goerge Tate Blackstock, the prosecutor for the Crown, commenced a review of the events leading up to Jardine's arrest.

STRANGLED HER OWN DAUGHTER

Special to the Review.

Boston, April 12.—After killing her twelve year old daughter by strangling the child to death, Mrs. Clara Russell gave herself up to the police.

Was It Worth It?

New York, April 12.—Three New Haven, Conn., girls, the Misses Belle, Henrietta and Marion Fouchtwanger, will receive $1,000 each from the estate of their uncle, Meyer Fouchtwanger, who died in this city April 6, for not marrying during his life-time. The young women filed a petition with the will yesterday, saying that they had complied with their uncle's wishes.

Had Thirty Chickens Burned.

Kingston, April 12.—Fire in a brooder at the home of James A. Holland, destroyed 30 pure bred chickens, the property of George Holland, poultry fancier. The reason assigned is the lamp by which the brooder was heated exploding. Mr. Holland's hands were badly burned in trying to extinguish the flames.

AVIATOR CROSSES ENGLISH CHANNEL

Special to the Review.

Dover, Eng., April 12.—Prier, the French aviator, who left London for a flight to Paris, in which he intended to make no stops, has passed over the English channel in safety.

Gave Quart of His Blood.

New York, April 12.—Two hundred men called at Mount Moriah Hospital yesterday to answer to an advertisement offering $25 for a quart of human blood. Most of them were penniless, and all declared that the monetary reward was their sole consideration in applying.

G. J. Allen, a strapping sailor, was selected, and for half an hour blood flowed from his arteries into the veins of Mrs. Rosie Reisler. Allen wanted to depart when the operation was concluded, but surgeons detained him until he recovers his strength. Mrs. Reisler, who had lost blood through an internal hemorrhage has a good chance of recovery.

Combine Business and Pleasure.

Kingston, April 12.—The board of visitors of the Royal Military College will visit and inspect the college on the 24th inst. Col. Sam Hughes is president of the board, with Lt.-Col. H. S. Sherwood and Major A. H. MacDonnell as members, and Lt.-Col. Dunbar, secretary. It is expected that the board will be here a week or more. Its visit is so timed that its members may be present at the fancy dress ball of the Horse Artillery officers on the 20th.

DEMOCRATIC BILL IS IN CONGRESS

Special to the Review.

Washington, April 12.—The reciprocity bill of the Democratic party, and which is similar to the McCall measure, was intoduced into Congress today.

ELECTION FOR THIS AUTUMN

Toronto Liberal Prophesies Early Dissolution

Toronto, April 12.—That there will be a general election next autumn on the question of reciprocity, was the statement of a prominent Liberal politician yesterday. This gentleman, who wishes his name to be withheld, is closely in touch with Dominion and provincial politics, and on several occasions has "called" election dates and results. He expressed his firm conviction yesterday that there would be an appeal to the country in the autumn, probably in late September, or October, and that the voters' lists used for the last general election were at the present time being revised and studied by Liberals, to whom word has been sent to be prepared for the announcement of an election.

OVER-WORKED KIDNEYS

Cause, Rush of Blood, Fullness, Dizziness.

J. T. Chetland, the well-known railway engineer of Hamilton, found the strain always resting upon men of his occupation vastly intensified by a tendency of the blood to rush to his head, and often at times when clearness of vision and great steadiness were demanded. Finding some difficulty in bending—a stiffness with pain having settled in his back, it occurred to him that his kidneys might be at fault. "This was a happy idea, for by it I not only got rid of the pain but many other troubles as well. I took a full dose of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and was glad to note that some obstruction of the kidneys, which I had lately noticed, was at once relieved. The flushed appearance of my face gave way to a more rational color and there was a perceptible improvement in my appetite. Dr. Hamilton's Pills certainly act splendidly upon the blood, removing heat and fulness and that sort of dizziness that makes a man at the throttle wish when it siezes him that he were elsewhere."

No medicine gives such unquestionably good results for stomach, liver, and blood troubles as Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they are mild, certain, and always curative. Refuse any substitute. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c per box, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE FARMERS' MARKET

The more the reciprocity pact is considered from the standpoint of the Canadian farmer, the less value does the gaining of the United States market seem. In fact, the opening of the valuable Canadian market is going to injure the Canadian farmer much more than he will benefit by the opening of the U. S. market.

In the case of eggs, it is now well known that the United States price on the average is lower than the Canadian price. Poultry raising is a much more extensive industry in the American states than in Canada, the milder climate enabling a steadier production all the year round.

In the case of barley, for instance; In 1909 in the case of Minnesota, the average price of barley was 46 cents, in Dakota it was 43 and in South Dakota it was 45 cents. In Winnipeg in the months of October and November it was 46 cents, showing that the Canadian price for the west was just as high as the price in the states to the south. But it is estimated that three and one-half pounds of barley will make one pound of pork. Allowing a price of $7 per cwt. for pork, that means 96 cents a bushel for barley, fed to hog, which is certainly the true economic way of handling a product such as barley. The finding of a new market for barley is not going to enable the farmer to get more benefit than he could get right at home by turning it into pork, at a handsome profit to himself.

In the case of cattle; Australia exported last year over 70,000,000 pounds of beef, frozen. New Zealand exported 54,000,000 pounds of frozen beef. Argentina exported 450,000,000 pounds of frozen beef, making a total of 650,000,000 pounds of frozen and pressed beef from these countries, which under the most favored nation clause, get access to the Canadian market not at a duty of 3 cents a pound, but of 1 1-4 cents a pound. Under that reduced duty beef can be laid down in Montreal at 7 cents a pound, ready for the butcher's stall. In addition to this, the United States exported some 182,000,000 pounds of beef. Does this look as if the Canadian cattle raiser was going to have such a tremendous advantage through reciprocity?

Here is another phase of the matter; The field crops, dairy products and farm animals of Canada produced in 1910, in Canada were worth $1,200,000,000. The total exports of the farm in 1909 were $114,000,000, showing that there remained in Canada about 90 per cent. of the farm production. Now, for the sake of improving the market for this 10 per cent. the agreement will sacrifice all protection on the 90 per cent. It is argued that the production will increase, and though prices may be lower, the net gain will be the same. In fact, Ralph Smith, M.P., for Nanaimo, put this argument forward in the House of Commons. But do the farmers of Canada want the job of handling a lot more products to get no more gain. Is it more satisfactory to sell one acre of land for $1,000, or to sell ten lots to different purchasers at $100 each? It means that the farmers work harder for a closer profit. Obviously, the pact that was designed as a great farmer's boon is going to fail of its very purpose.

THE TIRE CO. BY-LAW

The by-law which will be submitted to the property holders of the city on April 25th to secure the location of the Independent Tire Company in Peterborough is one worthy of the support of every citizen qualified to vote.

It is not an extravagant by-law. It is not giving to the company concessions which will cost the city money. It will not add to the burden already borne by the tax-payer. The loan of $40,000 may seem high, at first glance, but an investigation into the surrounding terms should convince everyone that it is a good thing for Peterborough and should be supported.

The terms of the by-law have been made clear on occasions, but that all may get a grasp of what is demanded of the city and of the company, it may be well to repeat what the bargain is.

The company agrees to buy a site, and erect a three-storey brick building suitable for its work, by July 1st, of 1912, such site and building to be worth at least $40,000. It will install machinery valued at $75,000 at least, and always keep this value on hand. It will have a paid-up capital of $150,000, and will within 30 days of starting, employ 40 operatives, ninety days 60 operatives, and within a year shall employ 100, and continuously employ at least that number.

The city makes a loan of $40,000 secured by a first mortgage on site, buildings and machinery, in instalments, the instalments being conditional upon every conditions of the company's undertakings being lived up to. The company undertakes to pay back that loan at the rate of $2,000 yearly, with interest at 4 1-2 per cent., or the same as the city pays on the debentures. The loan thus costs the city nothing, the advantage in the affair being to the company, which gets a lower rate of interest than the bank accommodation would offer.

The only question facing the city rate-payers is;—Is the security for the loan adequate? Assets of nearly $200,000 are involved as against a liability of $40,000. From this it will be seen that the city is properly protected.

Vote for the by-law on April 25th, as the advance of the city depends on the maintenance of the city's reputation for industrial activity. Factories follow each other. To grow into a larger and better city more industries are needed, for where there is a demand for labor will there be population and prosperity. Peterborough needs the rubber factory, which promises a bright future. Will you vote to give the city another boost?

PLAY CENSORING

The Toronto morality officials have been drawing considerable attention to themselves of late by prosecuting book-sellers for selling books which might be described as immoral in tendency, although recognized as classics; and lately for censoring the play called the Kreutzer Sonata, in which Madame Bertha Kalich appeared.

It was on the order of Morality Supervisor Kennedy that the play was censored, although the same play was produced by Blanche Walsh three or four years ago in Toronto, without a word of protest. The play is, without a doubt, one on which the ordinary theatre-goer will look askance. It has a strong Tolstoic flavor; an Ibsenesque concentration of tragedy. As a sample of drama, it is powerful, thrilling, although the story leaves a bitter taste in the mouth. What is most peculiar, however, is that the Toronto Morality Department did not object to the salacious lines, to the suggestions of raw immorality behind the plot, but merely objected to a struggle over a bottle of carbolic acid, and the firing of a revolver shot, which, in a terrific climax, puts an end to both the husband and sinning sister of the suffering wife.

Thus Toronto puts into force a rule that prohibits the committing of actual murder on the stage. When Hamlet is put on the boards Laertes and Hamlet may not fight with poisonous-tipped swords; Othello may not smother Desdemona in her bed. The Shakespearean plays are full of dread carnage, but according to the new dictum anything that savors of undue violence is to be discouraged.

The presentation of the Kreutzer Sonata, with its morbid, strained treatment of a phase of life not often found in English-speaking countries, luckily, may be questionable, but the principle of censoring should be applied very carefully or sparingly.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The letter from West End is not printed from the usual cause—no name signed to the communication.

Time does not abate, but rather strengthens the conviction on the part of the country that the reciprocity pact will fail of its purpose—and that economically it is going to injure rather than benefit Canada.

The reciprocity newspapers are consoling themselves with rumors about the manufacturers dropping their opposition to reciprocity. As business men who see the evils Canada is laying herself open to, the manufacturers in common with the other thinkers of the country, cannot help opposing reciprocity. The story is absurd.

The decision of the United States customs court that the "favored nations" clause does not conflict with the reciprocity treaty, clears up what threatened to become a serious question. Britain, Argentina and other countries were thinking of demanding the same treatment as Canada was getting, but the United States seems to be in a better osition than Canada, which has to include twelve countries on the free list in order to place the United States there.

The sale of a copy of Dr. Alexander Leighton's "Appeal to Parliament," or Zion's plea against the Prelacie, published in 1628, for $20 in London, recalls the way offenders against the mighty were punished two or three centuries ago. For publishing this book, the author was sentenced by the Star chamber to be twice publicly whipped, pilloried in Cheapside, his ears cut off, his nose twice slit, his cheeks branded with hot irons, with the letters S.S. (sower of sedition) and to pay a fine of $20,000 and imprisonment for life. What a difference between liberty of speech and action to-day and two or three centuries ago.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS SAY

WHERE DOES THE MONEY COME FROM.

Mail and Empire.

The Liberal machine at Ottawa is very flush just now. By some of the western papers it is mentioned that articles and telegrams are rolling in upon them, all paid for in advance by some unknown friend, and all advocating the interests of the United States in this contest. The Nelson News declares that it is swamped with manufactured literature. At the present moment a costly campaign is being carried on at the expense of the machine. False interviews are being published to convey the idea that the country is hot for the bargain. Immense quantities of pamphlets are going out from Ottawa. Millions of documents are being mailed by a state that has been employed to send them forward. Stumpers are haranguing the people from every stump. Where does the money come from? Nobody, of course, would suspect the United States trusts. But they are the only agencies that are interested in pushing this thing through.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

He threw in the clutch, and the wings began whirring like great buzzes. Faster and faster the wing sections whirled until the aeronef strained upward on her lashings like a restive horse. Theodore tipped a lever, and she leaped forward, stretching the ropes at an angle of forty-five degrees. He reversed it, and she slacked backward, as might an eagle repulsed by a foe. Virginia swung her hat and shouted.

"Pull the line on the end of that wing," said he, "and see if you can tip her. Pull!"

Virginia walked gingerly forward, her dress flying, her hat whisked to the top of the room. Grasping the flying rope end, she pulled downward. The wings settled slightly, and then as the gyroscope brain felt the depression the lowered wings lifted as if consciously rising to a load. It was marvelous.

Reaching up, she pulled herself clear of the floor, her strong little form swaying like a most charming pendulum. The enormous dragon fly, throwing its power into the depressing wing, rode level, with nine stone weight of solid American girl dangling from the tip of one wing—a mechanical paradox. The boat stood in air as level as a ship in a calm.

"Hurrah!" shouted Theodore, swinging his arms. "Never anything like it in the world. Carried you on one wing and kept level. Hurrah for the Virginia!"

He eased her down and stepped to where Virginia waited, hands outstretched, red from the rough rope, hair blown abroad.

"And are you going to name her that?" she cried. "Oh, how perfectly dear of you!"

Theodore held the chafed hands, triumph in his face. He opened the little red palms and kissed them over and over again. Mrs. Stott came in and saw him doing it.

"I hurt my hands," said Virginia, showing them. "And uncle is kissing them well."

"Very kind and self sacrificing, I'm sure," replied Mrs. Stott.

CHAPTER XII.

MR. CRAIGHEAD IN CUSTODY.

THE money for the last touches to the airship was to be the extent of Mr. Waddy's new financial venture, and then came Craighead with his new hatched plan for actually monopolizing the air, and Mr. Waddy, having submitted it to his local lawyer, hesitated and was lost.

"I'll go into it," he said. "We'll make everybody come and settle that wants a trip by airship. Hey?"

"Exactly," replied Craighead.

"Jest as if the whole country was our farm," cried Mr. Waddy.

"It will be for circumambient purposes," replied Craighead. "And, as you so well said, a farm's a cinch. And remember, Mr. Waddy, in putting Shayne and his pirates down and out we and our pirates are making way for the matchless, unsinkable, double acting, universal speed, direct drive, nonhalation, orthochromatic Carson aernoef. Don't forget our haughty southron coconspirator who will wing his way to Illinois by the time we return. Don't fall down and forget that."

"Well, you'd better have him on hand," said Mr. Waddy, "as he promised, or I'll know why he took my good hard money."

It was on occasions of this sort that Mr. Craighead had sweated telegrams begging to know if Theodore really had any airship.

"But think, my dear sir," protested Mr. Craighead, "of the untold millions in the Broom idea—aerial monopoly. Even if Theodore should be only four clubs and a spade, we still hold the aces, my dear Mr. Waddy. Do not grind your teeth thus so long as the American Nitrates and Air Products company remains as the Archimedean lever with which to pry up and dump the world. We are ahead whatever happens to the aeronef end of the deal."

HE WENT ABOUT WITH MARVELOUS RAPIDITY.

"Well, the aeronef end," said Mr. Waddy, "had better come to the center or I'll see what law there is for getting money by false pretenses."

The two men were the best of traveling companions. Mr. Waddy insisted on going in the smoker. Mr. Craighead took the stateroom while his money lasted and then borrowed of Mr. Waddy.

Mr. Craighead had advertised for people to organize a rapid business campaign covering the civilized world to meet him in West Twenty-third street at the studio of an acquaintance to whom he had neglected to impart any knowledge of the tryst with the specialists. Waddy and Craighead arrived somewhat late on account of the time consumed in adjusting Mr. Craighead's aura and found a crush of people entirely alien to the fine arts, filling the studio and the hall outside. Craighead's sculptor friend, with a lady model, escaped the angry mob into the scaffolding of an equestrian group representing an Indian maiden in a stampede of buffaloes. The model had been posing for something—an Indian maiden perhaps—and had feathers in her hair.

Craighead broke through by impersonating an officer, shouting "Make way for the police!" and uppercutting the crowd with his elbows.

"Hello, De Land!" said he, nodding to the sculptor. "Most beauteous princess of the Apaches, how?"

"That you, Craig?" called down the sculptor. "What, not sober? Go after the police. Turn these people out, please, Craig!"

"Friends of mine," said Craighead. "I advertised for 'em. Hope you haven't been incommoded, old man."

"Not at all!" replied the sculptor sarcastically. "But get them out so Miss Brown and I can descend."

Craighead's manner of disposing of the crowd commanded Mr. Waddy's sincere respect. He went about with marvelous rapidity, sending away those whose nonutility was unquestionable and making engagements with others at "our Wall street office," the name of which made everybody more respectful.

The dinner to which Mr. Craighead took Mr. De Laud, Miss Brown and Mr. Waddy was the first of a series which reduced Mr. Waddy to torpor. The old gentleman, in his long frock coat which buttoned to a surtout, his frowzy face and his evident attachment to Mr. Craighead, was remembered in certain ultra bohemian circles for his surreptitious slinking into the dimmest corners of cafes and roof gardens. He had a dark secret, Mr. Craighead said, which, he did not explain, originated in Mr. Waddy's agreement with the lady in goggles that the whole situation was improper. He felt obliged to keep with Craighead because of a suspicion that the aeronef was a figment of two Slattery institute imaginations, and he did not purpose to let any guilty man escape. So he providently engaged a detective to shadow both himself and Mr. Craighead, the unremitting presence of whom in very plain clothes made Mr. Waddy feel and look guilty and fugitive.

Alberta Lady Tells of Her Cure by Dodd's Kidney Pills

Was weak, nervous, run down and suffering from Rheumatism—Dodd's Kidney Pills made her a new person.

Beauvallon, Alta., April 11.—(Special)—Women who are nervous, run down and suffering from Rheumatism, cannot fail to be interested in the case of Miss Gertrude E. Reyome, of this place. She was exactly in that condition. To-day she is as she puts it herself "a new person." Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her. Here is her statement given for publication—

"My Kidney Disease started from a cold two years ago. Rheumatism set in, and I was weak and nervous, and in a run down condition. I was attended by a doctor who did not appear to understand my case. Three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills made a new person of me."

Is not Miss Reyome's condition an exact description of nine-tenths of the ailing women of Canada? The doctor did not understand her case. It was simply enough. It was Kidney Trouble And Kidney Disease is the one great cause of women's troubles. Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure it.

To Purify Water.

To purify water sprinkle a tablespoonful of pulverized alum into a hogshead of water (the water to be stirred at the same time). It will after a few hours, by precipitating to the bottom the impure particles, so purify the water that it will be found to contain nearly all the freshness and clearness of spring water. A pailful containing four gallons may be purified by a teaspoonful of alum.

Rev. Father Morriscy

Father Morriscy's "No. 11" Cures Stomach Troubles.

When your stomach is working right you never know it is there. But when it feels as heavy as lead—when you have Heartburn, Belching of Wind, Sourness, a gnawing hunger, with distress after eating—when you feel irritable and depressed — then you may know that the digestive fluids in the stomach are not sufficient to digest what you eat.

Father Morriscy's "No. 11" Tablets supply these fluids in concentrated form. Each tablet, dissolved in the stomach, will digest 1¾ pounds of food, which is more than an average meal.

Read what Father Morriscy's treatment did for Mr. Gosline, of Salmon Lake. He writes Nov. 30, 1908:

"I was troubled with indigestion, so severe that I really thought I had cancer of the stomach. I took much doctors' remedies, till I was forced to seek another resource, and this was the Rev. Father Morriscy. His treatments worked miracles, until I have been entirely cured, so that now I do not look to the quality of the diet but to the quantity."

Census Secrecy.

"Among lodgers," said the census enumerator to a reporter, "and more especially among women, there seems to be some anxiety on the question of disclosing their ages. Their idea is that they will have to give particulars to their landlady. The latter may gossip, and the lodger, in consequence, suffer in business or employment.

"As a matter of fact," he continued, "there will be no such difficulty, for the lodger must receive a separate census-paper from us. When he or she has filled it up, it can be handed over to the enumerator direct, or given in a sealed envelope to the landlord or landlady.

"And, as for officials, they are all required to take an oath of secrecy.

"With hotels, boarding-houses, clubs, and the like, however, the person in charge must fill up a schedule with respect to all the inmates, and in these cases the only way out is for the boarder to become a lodger for one night only—the night of April 2nd. —Answers.

Where Women Don't Like to Shop.

The stranger in Korea finds that he has struck topsyturveydom when he learns that women do not like shopping, that the prominent merchants keep their wares concealed in closets instead of displaying them in showcases and that the customer who does not fancy the first piece of goods brought from concealment is likely to be told that the merchant is quite sure he has nothing better. Elsewhere the street sign plays an important part in attracting trade. The large merchant houses in Korea are entirely without street signs.

Big Hotel For Montreal.

Montreal, April 12.—The property occupied by the W. H. Scroggie Co., Ltd., at the cornere of St. Catharine and Peel streets, was purchased yesterday by the firm of Carrick, Limited, for a syndicate who proposes to erect a big hotel on the site. The property has a frontage of 113 feet 6 inches on St. Catherine street, 117 on Peel street, and 113 feet on Dominion square. The purchase price was understood to be in the neighborhood of $300,000, or about $40 a foot.

Tips for Fire Insurance Policyholders

1. Are the insuring companies financially responsible, and in a position to pay all just claims?

2. Are you sufficiently insured at all times?

Remember your stock is much greater at one time of the of the year than at another. Do you regulate the amount of your insurance accordingly?

3. Are your buildings and contents properly described in the policy, and if more than one policy, do they all read the same? Make your description as brief as possible.

4. If you are insured in any more than one company, it is necessary to have a "Concurrent Insurance" clause in each policy, viz., The written consent on each policy permitting you to insure in more than one company without notifying each company. This is very important. Do your policies contain this?

5. If you use gasoline, acetylene or other lighting plants on the premises, the policies should distinctly permit same. Your policy limits the amount of explosives, gasoline, coal oil, etc., to be carried on the premises. Are you exceeding this limit?

6. Have you paid your premiums and obtained a proper receipt for same?

If you have not complied with the foregoing conditions you might get little or nothing in case of fire.

After the fire your policies are unalterable, no matter how glaring their errors, which appear and how far they are from what you expected.

Examine your policies now. It may be too late to-morrow.

AFTER THE FIRE—

Can you prove the amount of your loss?

By stock-taking at least once a year.

By keeping proper books showing—

(1) Your purchases.

(2) Your sales, both cash and credit.

By placing your books in a fireproof safe or vault before closing your premises.

Respectfully yours,

Peruna Secrets You Should Know

Golden Seal, the root of the above plant, is a very useful medicine. Many people gather it in our rich woodlands during the summer. Few people know how valuable it is in dyspepsia, catarrh, and as a general tonic.

Many thousand pounds of this root are used each year in the famous catarrh remedy, Peruna. This fact explains why everybody uses Peruna for catarrh.

PRESENTATION TO MRS. LANGFELDT

Address of Appreciation and Signet Ring From Girls Auxiliary

A large number of members of St. Luke's Girls' Auxiliary met last night at the residence of the president, Mrs. W. Lang, 482 Mark street, the occasion being a social evening spent with Mrs. Langfeldt, the retiring president. Before the refreshments were passed Miss Isabel Hay read the following address, which was accompanied by a gold signet ring:—

Dear Mrs. Langfeldt,—We, the members of St. Luke's Girls' Auxiliary, wish to express our sincere regret that the time has arrived when we are to be deprived of your connection with our society, except as an honorary member.

As our president during the last three and a half years we have enjoyed your kind advice and co-operation. As our friend we have learned to love you.

By your gentle disposition the most diffident have gone to you with their troubles and anxieties, and have found in you a friend.

As a slight mark of our love and esteem, we ask you to accept this small remembrance, and most sincerely wish you good health and happiness in your new home.

Peterborough, Ont., April 11, 1911.

Mrs. Langfeldt thanked them heartily for this kind token of their friendship, and assured them of the great pleasure it had always been to her to have been associated with them.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN MAY VISIT PETERBOROUGH

And Give Lecture Some Time in May—Y.M.C.A. Board Meeting.

The Board of Directors of the Y.M.C.A. met in the rooms of the association last night. J. J. Turner, jr., was in the chair, and there was a very good turnout of members. W. C. Switzer was present for the first time and was heartily welcomed by the directors.

A letter was read from the Provincial Secretary, offering Peterborough association the opportunity of having William Jennings Bryan for a lecture in May. It was decided that steps should be taken to have Mr. Bryan come and deliver a lecture here.

The financial report was presented by the treasurer, J. J. Howden, and was received with pleasure, as it showed that the association was gradually improving its financial condition.

In his report, the general secretary referred to the great strides being made by the Y.M.C.A. in other cities in Ontario. He drew attention to the victory in Guelph, where the people had decided to try to raise $50,000 in eight days, and had raised $67,000 in six days. Brantford was about to institute a canvas for $100,000 to build a new building, after using the present quarters for 40 years. Orillia, with a population about one half the size of Peterborough, had just raised $10,000 to put on an addition to their building, and this while the churches were raising money to build Sunday school buildings. From these facts he called upon the directors to feel encouraged to carry on an aggressive work in this city, believing that the citizens would some day stand behind the association here as they are doing in other places.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

St. Paul's Junior Brotherhood of Andrew and Phillip will not meet on Friday night, as announced.

The debate on the subject, "Does Reciprocity Lead to Annexation," which was held in the lecture room of Park St. church last night, was won by the debaters from St. James' church, who took the negative. A debating society may be organized in the south end of the city.

There will be a football meeting in the "Y" parlors to-night for the purpose of organizing a team. Everyone interested in football is requested to turn out.

On Friday morning the first baseball game of the season will be played in the Central school yard, between a Y.M.C.A. team and the Thistles.

Lovers of tennis will be pleased to know that the "Y" courts will be in shape for next week. A new supply of cinders will be put on.

Rev. Chas. Carpenter will be the special preacher at St. Luke's Church to-night.

The date of the engagement of Margaret Anglin in "Green Stockings" is Wednesday, April 20.

The organ at St. Peter's Cathedral is undergoing some repairs, which are being effected by Messrs. Reyner and Cunningham. The bellows underneath it have been worn away slightly, and had to be renewed. The organ has been in the church, it is said, for over sixty-five years, and is yet in remarkably fine condition.

Rev. Robert Pogue, of Peterborough, will give a lecture on "The Life and Works of John Wanamaker," Friday night, April 14th, in the Presbyterian church, Keene. Doors open at 7.30 p.m. The program will begin at 8 p.m.

Midweek service will be held at Knox Church to-night at eight o'clock.

The City Council is on an inspection trip to-day about the city and the program includes a meeting with the Board of Management of the Protestant Home, in regard to a site for the new building.

Louis Nethersole, advance man for Miss Margaret Anglin, who comes to the Grand Wednesday, April 20, is in the city to-day. Mr. Nethersole is a brother of Miss Olga Nethersole, and on this, his first visit to Peterborough, is very much struck with the progressive appearance of the city.

The crop of Easter lilies this year is very poor. Local dealers will be short on their own supply, and will have to import. Local prices are from 35c. to $7, the price varying according to bloom.

The officers of the 57th Regiment held a meeting last night at which they discussed matters, which, however, are not sufficiently advanced, to permit of publication.

MOVING PICTURE MAN IS MISSING

Manager of Byou Theatre at Kingston Short of Cash

Kingston, April 12.—S. Simms, who for the past few months has been manager of the Bijou Theatre, has shaken the dust of Kingston off his feet and left for parts unknown, leaving behind a host of sorrowing creditors. Simm's liabilities amount to about $600, and the assets which remain in the theatre are represented by everything which was not movable. Among other things, Mr. Simms took the moving picture machine with him. He left the city Sunday noon, presumably for the States.

Saturday night Mr. Simms paid his staff two weeks' wages by cheque on a local bank. On Monday, when these were presented at the bank, they were refused, there being no funds. Mr. Powell, owner of the building, has made a seizure for two months' rent. A few days ago the police pressed Mr. Simms for the payment of his license, which amounts to $50 a year. He promised to pay it this week.

MARGARET ANGLIN TO APPEAR HERE

Not for many years have Canadian playgoers had the opportunity of witnessing the art of Margaret Anglin, who is perhaps one of America's most distinguished actresses, of whose success Canada may be justly proud. In the winter of 1903 she last visited Canada and appeared in a delightful little comedy entitled "Cynthia," at the head of her own company. Since that time her progress and advancement have been most marked. She has achieved fame and distinction not only in the United States, but also in far off Australia, where she played for a season a couple of years ago. To-day she is acknowledged to be pre-eminent in her profession, and the gratifying news of her return to Canada after so long an absence is very welcome.

Her managers, Messrs. Liebler & Co., have arranged a short tour for her in Lower Canada before she closes her season and departs for her vacation in Europe. Among the cities that she will visit on her tournee are Ottawa, Kingston, Peterborough, Hamilton, Toronto, London, Belleville, Brantford, Galt and St. Thomas.

The play selected is "Green Stockings," a comedy written by A. E. W. Mason, the celebrated English writer, and George Fleming, and in which Miss Anglin has won a great deal of success in the States during the past winter.

Miss Anglin plays here on Thursday, April 20, in the Grand. Other announcements will follow.

NEW PRESIDENT WAS APPOINTED

The board of directors of the Central Milling Company held a short meeting last evening, and made a couple of new appointments.

All the members were present. Mr. John Riddle was appointed a member of the Board of Management, and James Murty was appointed president to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Mr. Stothart.

RESTLESS NAG TOOK A JAUNT

A runaway occurred early this afternoon that caused spectators to take notice for a short time.

Mr. Hannah of Smith, had placed a large window frame, containing several panes of glass in his vehicle, which was standing in an alley-way off Simcoe street. The horse, inclined to be restless, made a dash for the freedom of the street, and in doing so threw the window frame on to the pavement on Simcoe street beside Barrie's fur store.

Then with a free course before it, George street was the scene of its next swift perambulation. At the corner of George and Hunter Harold Gibbs pluckily brought it to a halt, and returned the animal to its owner.

The only damage which resulted was caused by the breaking of the glass in the window frame, and which was strewn along the pavement for some distance.

VISIT OF HAMILTON SILVER BAND

Peterborough is to be honored by a visit for the Easter week-end of the Hamilton I. Silver Band, of Hamilton city. This band comprises forty bandsmen, and is one of the finest S. A. musical organizations in Canada. It is under the leadership of Bandmaster Walter Woodard. The band will arrive per C.P.R. on Good Friday morning, at 11.26 and march to the S. A. Temple, where dinner will be served. Both the Hamilton I. and Peterborough Silver Bands will participate in the united open-air service in Central Park in the afternoon, and at night will give a great united musical festival in the Armouries, the use of which has been kindly granted by the military authorities. There will be music galore on Saturday and Sunday all day, and the band will return home to Hamilton on Monday.

WELL HARDLY NOT

No More Card Players up on the Carpet

It was rumored in the city last night that several more players in a certain gambling joint had been taken into custody, but on inquiry being made at police headquarters it was officially denied, the authorities stating that there was no truth in the matter at all. That recent lesson will likely have a far reaching effect.

SERVICE AT PARK GOOD FRIDAY

Salvation Army Bands Will Lead In the Hymns

Under the auspices of the Ministerial Association, a bright and rousing citizens' service will be held on Good Friday afternoon in Central Park, and it is especially desired that large numbers of citizens will assist in the services by being present.

The speakers will be Canon Davidson and His Honor Judge Huycke. All the local clergy are expected to attend, and a successful and interesting service is anticipated.

With their usual kindness, the Salvation Army Band has consented to assist in the musical part of the service and lead all the hymns.

Park St. Church

The Park Street Baptist Church has been placed in the hands of Mr. Archie Jackson to be decorated for Easter Sunday, which is a certain assurance that it will be done right.

The pastor, Rev. W. C. Riddiford will give an Easter message in the morning, and in the evening he will deliver the second sermon in the series on "Love, Courtship and Marriage." The subject for Easter Sunday evening will be "Courtship."

Mr. Riddiford leaves to-morrow to attend the half-yearly meeting of the Baptist Home Mission Board, in Toronto, and also the Baptist Young People's Convention that commences in Hamilton on Good Friday.

CONFIRMED AT ST. JOHN'S

Helpful Address by His Lordship Reeve

"Stir up the gift of God that is in me in the laying on of my hands," was the text taken by His Lordship Bishop Reeve, for his address to the candidates for confirmation at St. John's church last night. His Lordship's remarks could be clearly interpreted, and must have been encouraging and helpful to those who sought to dedicate their lives to God.

Bishop Reeve explained the Biblical meaning of the text as spoken by St. Paul at the confirmation of Timothy. There was some danger of Timothy shrinking from what his Christianity would bring him up against. Just so was there the same danger of Christians, and especially young Christians, They might be ashamed to acknowledge Christ.

The gift of God could not be bought, as thought Simon the sorcerer. He saw miracles performed and asked for the power so that he might make money. The speaker appealed to those present who had already been confirmed to stir up the gift, and not be ashamed of taking up some good work for God, or standing up for Jesus Christ.

To receive the gift it was necessary to pray. It was the simplest and most effectual way, and a way within the reach of all, whether in the home, office, workshop or any other place. We could always pray, and He always listened. There was no excuse for anyone neglecting to receive the gift.

The candidates were urged to not only receive the gift, but to retain it, and work for God, who would not fail to do His part. It would be necessary to be always active. The gift should be made use of daily. They could be helped by the reading of God's holy word and the study of it, carefully and prayerfully. They could make their lives such that others would be helped and shown that the gift really meant something.

Lethbridge Herald:—Mrs. C. F. P. Conybeare invited a very few of the younger set in last night for a game of cards with F. Le Roy, of Peterborough, who was a guest at "Riverview," during his short visit in the city. Games were in play at three tables, "500" at two and bridge at the other. A shower of crimson carnations lent brightness to the drawing room, and the attractive supper table was centred with a tall cut glass vase holding similar flowers in pink and white. The favors, both popular books, were awarded to Gladys Downer for the highest "500" score, and Mr. Martindale for bridge.

FREIGHT CARS OFF THE TRACK

Broken Rail Between Campbellford and Hastings

Three freight cars left the track between Campbellford and Hastings about 6 o'clock this morning. The cause was a broken rail.

The auxiliary force was called from Lindsay to the scene, and it was found that the cars were loaded with which and the only way by which they could be gotten back into line again was to trans-ship the cargo. This took considerable time and traffic was blocked.

When the Belleville passenger train came along it could not get any farther than the wreck, and the Lakefield train was called into commission. It went to this side of the tie-up and the Belleville passengers had to transferred. They arrived in Peterborough about an hour behind time.

DEPORTATION OF ENGLISH FAMILY

Arthur Ashcroft, late of England, with his wife and four small children, were deported to-day, being taken from the city by Inspector Devlin on the 11.28 C.P.R. to St. Johns, N.B., en route for the Old Country.

The necessity for Ashcroft's deportation was rather peculiar, as he is by no means in appearance an undesirable, being of a very gentlemanly appearance and his conversation is intelligent and fluent.

His wife is eminently respectable. Ashcroft, however, was unable to support his family, hence the recommendation for his transportation back to England was approved.

ASTRONOMICAL SOCIETY MEETING

Interesting Meeting of Members of Local Centre

At the regular meeting of the local Centre of the Astronomical Society last evening, Mr. H. O. Fiske, president, and Dr. Marsh, secretary, gave reports of the recent meeting at Brighton, Ont., which they had attended and took part. Over 300 were present and there are encouraging prospects for the formation of a branch in that district.

Dr. Marsh also gave a review of a recent address given in Toronto by Prof. Ritchie, of the Carnegie Solar Institute, Mt. Wilson, Cal. He described the lecture as one of very great interest, coming from an expert in astronomical research and probably the most talented scientist in this field, on the continent. Prof. Ritchie in addition recounting recent advances, promised additional facts so soon as the magnificent and collosal telescope, now under construction, should be completed.

Mr. Seegar, who is using one of the telescopes of the local branch, recounted his observations, made recently on the planet Jupiter and the Sun. Dr. Marsh's address on the planet Jupiter was postponed on account of the electric light not being available for the lantern and slides.

BRIGHT YOUNG LIFE CUT SHORT

Maida Irene Fairbairn Succumbs at Isolation Hospital

With shocking suddenness the bright young life of Maida, Irene Fairbairn, was brought to a close at 12.30 a.m. to-day at the Isolation Hospital, where she was conveyed last night to undergo an operation resulting from the after effects of an attack of scarlet fever.

The little child who was only four years of age, was generally beloved for her bright sunny disposition, and the blow, has fallen especially heavy on her parents, who are prostrated with grief.

It appears that the deceased child had been suffering from scarlet fever at her home on the 4th line of Smith, near Fowlers Corners. She was thought to have been recovering nicely when it became apparent that an operation was necessary to remove a growth that had developed behind the ear.

The little tot never recovered from the effects of it however, but passed peacefully away.

Besides her sorrowing parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fairbairn, there are left in the family two little sisters, who will keenly feel her departure.

The funeral has been arranged to take place to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock from the Isolation Hospital to Lakefield cemetery.

As far as is known this is the first death that has occurred at the Isolation Hospital since it's opening.

WHY THE DUST CAN'T BE LAID

City Officials in a Dilemma as to Streets

Complaints about the dust from citizens have been coming in thick and fast, but the members of the Board of Works say that the peculiar weather conditions are responsible for the inability to cope with the evil. The cold each night, freezing up the muck on the roadway, makes it impossible to do much to the roads, which are dusty only in spots.

The Board of Works is having the streets cleaned, and as they thaw out a sweeper will clean away all superfluous dirt, so that the oiling will not make a greasy mass when it is applied. The oil is not here yet, and watering cannot be resorted to, because no watering contracts have been let, or authorized by the Council.

Warmer weather will enable the city officials to get the streets in good condition.

WHY RECIPROCITY WON'T BENEFIT FARMERS

Ottawa, April 12.—The resumption of the reciprocity debate on Wednesday produced a remarkably interesting discussion on the proposal from a farmer of Eastern Canada. Mr. George Bradbury opposed it as a Westerner. Mr. Ralph Smith, the Liberal who spoke, said one or two things which should interest farmers extremely.

STARTING DOWN EAST.

Let us begin with Eastern Canada and Andrew Broder, and, eliminating the merely debating portions of his speech, examine the arguments which he brought to bear on the proposal.

FOUR LARGE INDUSTRIES HURT

"How is the farmer in Ontario to be affected?" he asked. "It will affect four large industries adversely:

"1. The hog market.
"2. The horse market.
"3. The egg market.
"4. The apple market.

"These are four principal products of Ontario and Quebec. There are others, but these I will deal with.

THE HOG MARKET.

"Why do I say that it will affect the hog market?

"There are in the United States 49,000,000 hogs, and there are something less than 3,000,000 in Canada. That is 16 to 1, and it is worse than Bryan's. I intend to make a comparison of the average price for five years in Montreal and Chicago. Some people take Buffalo, but it is not a centre compared with Chicago, which is the principal centre for hogs. Here are the yearly average prices of the hogs for five years in Montreal and Chicago—

Year.	Chicago.	Montreal.
1907	6.10	7.43
1908	5.70	7.10
1909	7.35	8.64
1910	8.90	9.60
Average for the five years	$6.85	$8.10

16 AMERICAN TO 1 CANADIAN HOG

"I shall take the average in another way. They have 16 hogs to our one. Hogs in the slaughter houses in the United States and Canada average a little more than 200 pounds each, we will say 200 pounds, and they are 16 hogs ahead. Their 16 hogs at $6.85 a hundred-weight will each be worth $13.70, while our one at $8.10 will be worth $16.20. Striking an average for 17 hogs you will have a loss to the Canadian farmer of $1.18 per hundredweight. In other words a loss of $2 36 per hog taking a five years' average for these two places. No man will pretend to say that the Canadian one hog will control the market, that would not be reasonable. The 16 hogs will decide what the market price shall be.

THE PACKING INDUSTRY.

"Previous to 1891, we had only four packers in this country, excepting some small ones who bought hogs in the fall from the farmers, and for a short time packed pork. We had Davies' at Toronto, Fearman's at Hamilton, and the Ingersoll packing house. Now, we have packing factories established from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Up to 1892 many hogs were brought in in bond and killed in the packing houses because they could not get a continuous supply in Canada.

BARLEY AND HOGS.

"When the United States put a duty of 20 cents a bushel on barley the effect was virtually to shut our barley out of the United States. What occurred? Coincident with this fact grew up a larger supply of hogs in Canada and our packing houses had a continuous supply. The feeding of the barley to the pork instead of shipping it gave better results, and has increased the hog product of this country. I have here a statement showing the average delivery of hogs at inspected packing houses during last year, 1910, which shows how continuous the supply was:

January	112,814
February	75,088
March	116,574
April	106,995
May	107,263
June	163,082
July	93,017
August	79,263
September	108,926
October	142,847
November	147,504
December	138,898
Total	1,332,211

"That is a very important matter in the interests of the industry, a continuous supply of hogs. That has grown out of the fact that we have raised a great deal of barley, but instead of exporting it we have fed it to hogs and given the finished product, so far as the farmer is concerned, to the factories of the country and we made more money. I need not refer to the exports of meat which have been falling off to some extent owing to the larger consumption of hog products in the western country.

CHANGES IN BARLEY.

"I do not look upon that question of barley as of much interest to the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec. We will never become the producers of that malt barley which they sought after a few years ago. That is a strong statement to make, but I wish to show why I make it.

MALTING CENTRE HAS MOVED WEST.

"New York State used to be the great malting centre of the United States, but that centre has moved to Chicago, Milwaukee and Minneapolis. That western country has come to be the finest barley producing country in the world and grows the largest barley crop in the United States. Thus we have lost our position in that respect and cannot regain it. The value of barley in the State of New York has fallen from $9,000,000 to $7,000,000, and the whole business has been transferred to the western states, which formerly was done in New York. So that whatever effect this agreement might have on the western provinces it will not have the effect in Canada which some people think it will. Besides if a policy which encourages people to ship out their raw product is not the proper policy, why revert to it?

THE HORSE MARKET.

"What about horses?

"There are 21,000,000 horses in the United States. There are 12 states lying along either side of the Mississippi river which are adjacent to our western country, and in those 12 states, one-quarter of the whole United States in number, you find 11,600,000 horses. Does any one pretend to say that our western market, which is our best market for heavy horses will not be supplied from those states?

THE EGG MARKET.

"A good deal has been said about eggs. The consumer will get from the American jobber a good deal of inferior produce as compared with that which he has at home. Are these eggs that are being shipped in from Chicago the kind of food that our consumer wants?"

SOME AMERICAN ASPECTS.

On the more general aspects of farming, Mr. Brodeur observed:

"The United States, with their enormous acreage, have only improved 50 per cent. of their farm acreage. But is what the limit of their farm acreage? Why, we have no idea of that limit. This country is producing wheat 13 bushels to the acre. The crop in England is 33 bushels to the acre. Now the United States have increased their product per acre about a bushel in the last eight years. If they would adopt scientific farming and a proper agricultural system, then they could double their product which would give 26 bushels per acre, and still be seven bushels per acre less than England, and they would then export 700,000,000 bushels of wheat."

PRICES OF BEEF AND PORK.

Mr. Borden noted that it would be easy for the United States by adopting improved methods of agriculture greatly to increase their corn crop. This, he said, would cheapen beef. He continued: "Pork in Chicago, the day before yesterday—there was no quotation yesterday, being a holiday—was $15.70 for May pork a barrel, while mess pork in Montreal was $23 a barrel.

WHEAT AND THE MILLING INDUSTRY.

Turning to wheat he said:—"What will be the effect of transferring our milling interests to Minneapolis and other points in the American northwest? It means that the shorts and bran will be sent to the to the western states instead of being sent east as at present. You can ship the bran on the wheat, but you cannot ship it in bulk after it has gone to the grindstone. These things affect our people, and we ought to deal with them in a common sense way."

Montreal Regiments to Camp.

Montreal, April 12.—It was definitely stated yesterday that the officers and forces of all the city infantry and cavalry regiments will be ordered in camp this summer at Farnham, while the artillery will go to Petewawa.

The infantry and horse will leave Montreal on the evening of Thursday, June 15, and remain in camp for three days. The authorities claim that a regular camp for at least three days is badly needed, and that the men will only lose practically a day and a half, as the camping days fall on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The Government will pay all expenses. It is likely that next year six days of camp will be asked.

The Jardine Case.

Goderich, April 12.—Late yesterday afternoon the grand jury, in the trial of Edward Jardine, charged with the murder of Lizzie Anderson, returned a true bill of murder, and the trial will proceed to-day. Justice Falconbridge intimated that the case must proceed with all speed, and it is probable that a sitting will be held on Good Friday. George Tate Blackstock will prosecute and L. E. Daniels will defend.

The rumor of a confession will not down. It was mentioned by the judge in his address, and a lawyer declares that he knows that such a statement was obtained.

The trial of George Vanstone for the murder of his son will not take long. It is expected that he will be sent to an asylum.

A Likely Candidate.

Kingston, April 12.—Frederick Ferguson, of Inversary, is mentioned as a likely Liberal candidate for the Provincial Legislature from the County of Frontenac.

Poolrooms Must Close.

Kingston, April 12.—The City Council have voted to close the poolrooms at 11 o'clock each night, because of gambling.

LINEUP FOR GAME WITH WEST END

Basketball at Y.M.C.A. Gym Good Friday Night

The local Y.M.C.A. basketball team is practicing hard for their game Good Friday night with the Toronto West End Y.M.C.A. junior champs. This game certainly will be a good exhibition of fast basketball. The following is the lineup:—

Peterborough—Hastie, Nicholls, forwards; Wallace, centre; Hanwell, Fitzgerald, defence.

West End Y.M.C.A.—Moriarity, Montgomery, defence; Graham or Witheridge, centre; Aldred and Garrett, forwards.

The public schools are interested in the tug-of-war contest which will be for the city championship. Central, South Central and East City schools have already entered teams.

Other attractions will be added to the night's entertainment. That the public is interested in this line of sport is shown by the advance sale of tickets, which are being sold by the boys, or can be purchased at the Association.

To-morrow night at the Y.M.C.A. will be Peterborough Canoe Co. night, when the employees of that factory will put on the program. It will consist of tug-of-war, bowling and billiards. A basketball game will also be played by the Junior leaders and P.C.I. seconds.

LANG'S CHANCE TO SHOW THEM

Toronto Welterweight Matched With Kennedy of New York

Toronto Star—Ever since Hilliard Lang, the crack Toronto welter, has been in the pro. game he has complained that he has always had to give away from seven to twenty pounds weight in his bouts. He will not have that complaint to make in his next bout, which will be the star bout for the opening of the Olympic Club on April 28.

To-day he signed articles with T. F. Ryan to meet Jack Kennedy, a New York welter of considerable class, and now Torontonians will have a chance to see what he will do with a good, aggressive boy of his own weight.

Kennedy has boxed such men as Paul Bowser, Jack Denning, "Knockout" Brown of Chicago, whom Lang bested in Winnipeg; Joe Stein, of Philadelphia; Billie West, of New York; Dan Savage, Jack Nelson, and has put away Jack Curly, Benny Franklin, Harry Stone, Johnnie Waltz and holds newspaper decisions, Dixie Kid (twice), Dixo Brown, Bill Hurley, Harry Temple, Harry Mansfield, Kid Williams, Australia Ted Nelson, welterweight champion of Australia, Fighting Dick Nelson and Tommy Quill. Kennedy is a rushing two-handed man, and just the man to wake Lang up and make him show something.

Tommy Burns wanted to take Lang west with him last night when he headed for Calgary.

BASEBALL

They're drawing near, they're almost here, the days that kids all love so dear, the days that old kids pause and look back to the times when slate and book were placed away, while they framed up a baseball fray. And now once more the mask and bat, the nickle ball—they're dear at that—are seen again; the youths choose up, perhaps they fight, none want the job of playing right; one wants to play at second base, another wants first chance to lace a shoot—be first to score, and then he wants to bat some more.

Cy Young recently celebrated his forty-fourth birthday. This patriarch among baseball players is a living example of what clean living can do to the athlete. Young is still drawing a salary in the major league at an age when the average ball player has been retired ten years. It is an exception when a ball player is still in the fast set at the age of 34. Most of them start to fade after the thirty-year mark and go to the minors in a season or two.

Young's arm, however, doesn't seem to wear out. In all the twenty-two years that he has pitched baseball he really has had only one bad year. Last year he won seven games and lost ten, which is far below his normal clip.

Friends insist that last year's record was not proof that the veteran was finally yielding to nature, but that he was simply having an off-season like all other pitchers, including men like Joss and Walsh, whom nobody would admit are passed simply because they had bad seasons in 1910.

Old Cy will come back, they declare. His good habits and healthful environment on his farm in Ohio will let him do what is impossible for most others. It would be a crowning effort for the veteran to repeat some of his performances of other years for Cleveland this season.

Indians on Verge of Starvation.

Winnipeg, April 12.—Indians in the Hudson Bay district are almost on the verge of starvation, and have had to be assisted by the Hudson Bay officials. The terribly severe winter, with the scarcity of furs in the region around Churchill, Nelson and Trout Lake, is assigned for the state of affairs by Rev. H. T. Wright of Nelson, who with Rev. Mr. Godsell, from Trout Lake, came in from the bay and have arrived in the city.

Deathly Cramps, Stomach was Bloated

A Bad Case That Proves Cramps and Stomach Disorders are Cured Fast by Nerviline.

"The distress I suffered from cramps last summer was so severe I thought it meant death," writes P. R. Emerson, of Guys Hill, P. O. "I was doubled up with pain and in such bad shape I couldn't walk a hundred feet. I remembered having Nerviline on hand and took half a teaspoonful in sweetened water. In five minutes I was well and my stomach derangements disappeared entirely."

NERVILINE AN INSTANT RELIEF

For cramps, flatulence, diarrhoea and disorders of the stomach and bowels, Nerviline knows no equal—one million bottles used every year—fifty years on the market, that's proof enough of its merit. Large bottles, 50c., trial size, 25c. All dealers or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

IN MEMORIAN

In loving memory of Mrs. Pennington Alexander, who "went home" Feb. 27th, 1911, aged 95

Grandma, you answered the Father's call,
For which you waited long;
You have entered the Golden Gates
And joined the angel throng.

Your friends will always miss you,
But our loss is your great gain.
Earthly cares are gone forever,
And you are free from pain.

We all know that you are happy,
Safe in the Shepherds' fold;
Joy was written on your face,
As you lay so still and cold.

We feel your presence around us,
Though your face cannot be seen,
And always in our hearts
We will keep your memory gseen.

You were always so unselfish,
And you bravely bore the pain,
Of hours of untold suffering
On the couch where you have lain.

In your lowly bed we leave you,
Taking your peaceful rest,
Though it is hard to lose you,
Yet God knows best.

A FRIEND.

KEENE FARMERS ARE PLOUGHING

Basket Social To be Held at Town Hall

Special Correspondence.

Keene, April 11.—D. McGregor, of Toronto, was in the village on Sunday last.

William Campbell, son of William Campbell, postmaster, is home on a visit at present.

T. Stillman is moving from our village to Havelock.

John Drummond is preparing to commence a tinsmith business in our village. We wish him every success in the enterprise.

Several farmers in this vicinity have commenced plowing their land.

Miss Annie and Clara Hore depart for the west on Thursday.

A large number of fish have been hooked through the ice on Rice Lake during the past two weeks.

Mushrats are very plentiful this spring and trappers are very busy at present in the marshes

We are glad to see George McIntyre, who underwent an operation three weeks ago, is able to walk around again.

A basket social is to be held in the town hall on Wednesday night, the 19th, under the auspices of the Epworth League of the Methodist church of this place. A very enjoyable time is anticipated, as a good program is being prepared for the occasion.

The roads in and around Keene are in first-class condition at present for travelling on.

Another stretch of cement sidewalk is to be laid on our streets, which will be a benefit to pedestrians.

The town hall here is to be reshingled.

A christy stiff hat was found on the verandah of one of our citizens on Sunday morning last. The owner can have it by calling at the gate and proving property, with a promise to shy clear of that verandah in the future.

ALFALFA WILL BRING MORE PROSPERITY TO THE FARMERS

Peterborough County Men Tell of Experiences by Which They Benefited in Alfalfa Usage.

How about the prosperity of our Peterborough county farmers? Are they prosperous? Are they as prosperous as they should be? A local farmer on Saturday last said there was not much money in farming. His was a grave case. Last year his oats yielded 20 bushels to the acre, and these are selling on the local market at 35 cents a bushel. Not much money in that to be sure! Unless he does better on other crops that man will soon have to quit the farming business. How would it be if he would

The alfalfa crop as has been shown in these columns recently, is thoroughly adapted to Peterborough county soils. It yields abundantly and it has possibilities of vastly increasing the prosperity of our local farmers if they will but grow it and grow it abundantly. Scores and scores of Peterborough county farmers will this year sow alfalfa for the first time, thanks to the organized campaign that has been conducted here, in this county, in regard to this great crop.

More valuable information in regard to alfalfa locally was brought out last week at a special alfalfa meeting of the Central Smith Farmers' Club. After listening to what Mr. G. F. Marsh and Mr. Chas. C. Nixon, of Peterboro, had to say about alfalfa in their addresses, several of the club members gave their experience with alfalfa. Mr. Wm. Scott, son of Mr. R. Scott of the 5th line of Smith told how they had fed their horses on alfalfa hay last fall and worked them for over a month on alfalfa hay alone without grain. The horses worked well and while they did not get fat, they maintained their condition on the alfalfa alone.

FEEDS ALFALFA TO HORSES

Speaking of how to feed alfalfa to horses, Mr. Scott said, "When feeding alfalfa to horses we need to be careful not to feed too much. We would not think of filling a horse's manger with bran; why should we do it with alfalfa, which is nearly as rich as bran." Mr. Scott told of a neighbor Mr. P. Westlake, who had an acre of alfalfa last year and on one occasion after feeding his horses oats, he placed some alfalfa hay in their mangers. The horses left off eating the oats for the alfalfa hay

Mr. Alex. McGregor of Central Smith has had a considerable experience with alfalfa and in regard to it he said: "Alfalfa hay will give results as good as June grass. I have a considerable acreage seeded to alfalfa and I intend to sow more this spring. When I have alfalfa hay, corn ensilage and a few roots I want nothing better for my cows and I can get along nicely and secure large yields of milk without feeding grain or chop when I have these three feeds'

WILL HAVE LARGE ACREAGE

Mr J. K. Moore, when called on for his experience with alfalfa stated that they had already 19 acres of it and that they were going to sow 10 acres more to alfalfa this spring. He stated that alfalfa was great feed and they wished they had more of it. His son, Mr Charlie Moore, told of one of their horses that had been stalked up in the legs and they had cleaned it out without giving it a ball. They simply fed the horse alfalfa hay. They had found alfalfa hay to be good for the horses, splendid for the cattle and also that it was relished by their pigs.

A pen of weanlings pigs, Mr. Moore said, would eat a large handful of alfalfa at each feeding.

Our farmers who will sow alfalfa seed according to the most approved practice, are practically certain of a good stand. They are equally certain of a yield of at least three tons of alfalfa hay per acre. They are quite certain of securing at least four tons and in a good season and on favorable soil, they ought to secure five tons and it may be more per acre. Alfalfa hay being approximately as good as bran, bran selling as it does for $22 a ton, every Peterborough farmer who is alive to his possibilities of making his farm more money will grow alfalfa this year.

A BALANCED RATION

Alnson Groh, the Prize-Winning farmer of Waterloo county, who was through this section on Institute work this past winter writes that it is folly for a farmer to grow grain to balance rations when alfalfa furnishes a balanced ration with less work and less expense. "Alfalfa," said Mr. Grok, "draws that most expensive of fertilizers, nitrogen, from the air. From away down in the sub soil, where the roots of ordinary crops never reach, it brings to the surface a supply of potash and phosphoric acid. And alfalfa kills weeds. It is cut so often during the summer that no weeds ever get a chance to slower."

Our readers are again reminded of the special Alfalfa competition, which has been arranged for the benefit of the farmers of this county. Those who sow alfalfa and enter the competition may have the advantage, without cost to them, of practical instruction in regard to the cultivation and mehtods of seeding and handling the crop. All intending alfalfa growers should communicate with the secretary of the Alfalfa Competition, care of Farm and Dairy, Peterborough, Ont.

Parisian Sage is the World's Greatest Hair Grower and Beautifier

Men, women and children are delighted with Parisian Sage this wonderful hair tonic and dressing.

BEAUTIFUL EYES

are made beautiful by long, silky lashes, and well defined, lustrous brows. Eyes, like diamonds, depend on their setting. The beauties of the face are lost if the eye brows are thin and scanty; and the lashes are short and lifeless. Parisian Lash Lustre grows beautiful, soft, silky lashes. It has done so for society women throughout Europe, and it comes here well recommended to do the same for you. Parisian Lash Lustre is not a dye or colorator, but a scientific preparation for beautifying the eye lashes and brows. Our guarantee goes with every box of Parisian Lash Lustre. A two weeks' treatment will bring beauty to your eyes that you have never before possessed. By mail, prepaid, in opal boxes, on receipt of price, fifty cents. B. V. Liverpool Grain and Produce.

Flour—Winter patents dull, 27s.

Hops—In London (Pacific Coast), firm, £4 15s to £5 5s.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, April 11.—There was a good inquiry from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat at an advance in prices of 1½d to 3d, but even at this rise exporters stated that bids were 1c per bushel out of line. Cable advices on oats state that the advance in prices and in ocean freight rates has checked any further business, bids being 1½c per bushel out of line. In sympathy with the strength displayed in oats in Winnipeg, a stronger feeling prevailed here, and prices for Canadian westerns advanced ½c to ¾c per bushel. There was an improved demand for round lots, and a sale of 25,000 bushels of No. 2 Canadian western was made at 38¼c per bushel, ex-store, and 38c was bid for 150,000 bushels, but sellers were firm at 38½c. There was a fair inquiry from European sources for spring wheat flour, but, as all the bids did not meet millers' views, only a few sales were made. The local and country trade was quiet.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 38¼c to 38½c, car lots, ex-store; extra No. 1 feed, 37¾c to 38c; No. 3 C.W., 37¼c to 37½c; No. 2 local white, 36c to 36½c; No. 3 local white, 35c to 35½c; No. 4 local white, 34c to 34½c.

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, firsts, $5.30; seconds, $4.80; winter wheat patents, $4.50; strong bakers', $4.60; straight rollers, $4 to $4.25; in bags, $1.75 to $1.85.

Corn—American, No. 3 yellow, 59c to 59½c.

Dressed hogs—Abattoir, $9.75 to $10 per 100 lbs.

Lard—Compound tierces, 375 lbs., 10¼c; boxes, 50 lbs. net (parchment lined), 10⅜c; tubs, 50 lbs. net, grained, two handles, 10½c; pails, wood, 20 lbs. net, 10⅝c; tin pails, 20 lbs. gross, 10c.

Pork—Heavy Canada short cut mess, barrels, 35 to 45 pieces, $22.50; half-barrels, $11.50; Canada short cut and back pork, 45 to 55 pieces, barrels, $23; Canada clear pork, barrels, 30 to 35 pieces, $21; bean pork, small pieces, but fat, barrels, $16.50.

Cheese—Westerns, 11¼c to 11⅝c.

Butter—Choicest, 25c to 25½c; seconds, 23c to 24c.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, April 11.—The railways reported 83 cars of live stock at the City Yards, consisting of 1200 cattle, 1100 hogs, 650 sheep and lambs, 605 calves and 5 horses.

Butchers.

Prime picked lots, $5.80 to $6, and $5.65 to $5.70; medium, $5.20 to $5.40; common, light cattle, $4.80 to $5.15.

Stockers and Feeders.

C. Zeagman & Sons sold 14 stockers, 780 lbs. each, at $4.80, which is the only sale we heard of.

Milkers and Springers.

Veal Calves.

Upwards of 700 calves were marketed to-day, which was the largest run of the season thus far. The result was that prices dropped about two cents per pound. The average price would be about $5 per cwt., and a range of $3 to $6.50 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Sheep, ewes, sold at $4 50 to $5 per cwt.; rams, $4 to $4.50; yearling lambs, $6.50 to $6.75; spring lambs, $3 to $6.50 each.

Hogs.

The hog market was weak, at $6.50 for selects, fed and watered at the market, and $6.30 to drovers for hogs f.o.b. cars at country points.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, April 11.—Cattle—Receipts, 700 head; market dull and weak; prime steers, $6.40 to $6.50; butcher grades, $3 to $6.30.

Calves—Receipts, 250 head; market active and steady; cull to choice, $5 to $8.75.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 8000 head; market very dull and weak; choice lambs, $6.50 to $6.60; cull to fair, $5 to $6.25; yearlings, $5.50 to $5.85; sheep, $3 to $5.15.

Hogs—Receipts, 1700 head; market slow and lower; yorkers, $6.75 to $6.80; pigs, $6.90; mixed, $6.60 to $6.70; heavy, $6.35 to $6.50; rough, $5.50 to $5.75; stags, $4.75 to $5.

New York Live Stock.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts 4900 head. Sheep nominally steady; lambs 10c lower. Prime unshorn lambs, $6.75; good clipped, $5.60; Maryland springers, $5.50.

Hogs—Receipts 2540; nominally steady at $6.75 to $7.25.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, April 11.—Hogs—Receipts, 14,000; market steady; mixed and butchers, $6.15 to $6.55; good, heavy, $5.85 to $6.40; rough, heavy, $5.85 to $6.10; light, $6.25 to $6.70; pigs, $6.25 to $6.70.

Cattle—Receipts, 2000; market slow; beeves, $5.15 to $6.70; cows and heifers, $2.60 to $5.80; stockers and feeders, $4 to $5.70; Texans, $4 to $5.70; calves, $5 to $6.75.

NEWS NOTES FROM NORWOOD

Norwood, April 11.—The Norwood village council met on Wednesday evening, April 5th, in the council chambers. Members all present, with Reeve A. Breault in the chair. Minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed. The following accounts were ordered to be paid, on motion of Councillors S. Henderson and C. J. Searight —W. H. Harrison, first quarter electric light, $157.50; Municipal World, supplies and subscription, $5.31; J. B. Pearre & Son, broom for T. Hall, 50c.; Jas. L. Johnson, salary, constable for March, $16.66. A communication was read from the Ontario Sewer Pipe Co., giving quotations on sewer pipes and tiles for drainage, as a portion of Ridge street requires drainage. It was moved by C. J. Searight, seconded by S. Hendren, that the council order the necessary quantity of pipe to drain Ridge street from Mr. Fred Bonyard, or Norwood, at 4c. per foot for 4-inch pipe, same to be first quality.—Carried. A discussion took place as to the procuring from Asphodel of the grader and stone crusher for improving certain streets in the village. Moved by C. J. Blake, seconded by T. Watson, that Councillors Searight and Hendren be a committee to interview Mr. Buck, manager of the crusher, to ascertain when it may be procured, and to get what further information is necessary, and that an adjourned meeting of the council be held on Wednesday evening, April 12th, to further consider the matter.—Carried. The reeve intimated that the Woman's Institute asked to have the hall for their concert on April 21st, at a reduced rate. The clerk was instructed to collect the usual rate, $10.

Moved by T. Watson, seconded by C. J. Searight, that the collector's roll be held over one month to allow time to collect the remaining taxes before returning same to county treasurer. —Carried. Moved by C. J. Searight, seconded by T. Watson, that the village treasurer be requested to have his bonds completed at once.—Carried. Moved by Councillor Hendren, seconded by Councillor Searight, that dog taxes wrongfully levied against W. Hudgins, $2, and J. S. Johnson, $1, in 1910, be struck off the roll.—Carried.

Mr. Edward Howley, who has been employed as sectionman on the C.P.R., is moving to Indian River to take the foremanship of the section there, vacated by Mr. Shepherdson, who is moving to Peterborough.

Mr. Howard Sanders, of Michigan, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Searight.

Mrs. E. C. Squire and daughter, Reba, are visiting friends in Toronto.

The sad news reached town on Wednesday of the death of Mrs. Abel Tucker, formerly of Norwood. The deceased had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. Squire, in Queensboro, and on Wednesday passed peacefully away. The remains were brought here on the morning train on Thursday, and the funeral took place on Friday from the home of her son, Mr. A. T. Elliott, King street. She leaves to mourn her death her sorrowing husband, and three daughters, Mrs. T. Loughridge, of Toronto, formerly of Norwood; Mrs. Gormly, of Toronto, and Mrs. H. Squire, of Queensboro, also one son, Mr. T. Elliott, King street. Much sympathy is felt for the sorrowing family.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Garlick are moving into the frame house on Queen street, owned by Rev. Wm. Peer.

Misses Florence Foster and Annie Thompson, who are attending Normal School in Peterborough, are home for their holidays.

Mrs. E. P. Cuffe and daughter, Lois, have returned from visiting friends in Toronto.

BARBER SHOPS CLOSED

All Union Barber Shops close on Good Friday. Open till 11 o'clock night before.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL

The Trades and Labor Council will meet to-night at eight o'clock sharp in the Knights of Pythias Hall, on Simcoe street. All members should make it a point to be present at this meeting as some important questions will come up for discussion.

MT. JULIAN NEWS IN BRIGHT FORM

Meeting of the Women's Institute —Cheese Factory

Special To The Review.

Mount Julian, April 8.—On Saturday, March 11th, a very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lander, it being their crystal wedding. On account of Mrs. Lander's ill health only the relatives were present. The early evening was spent in music, singing and pleasant conversation in the parlor, after which all adjourned to the dining-room where refreshments were served. Then followed a bountiful supply of fruit, candy, nuts and toffee, which were thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Wednesday at the home of Miss Laura Windover. In spite of the inclement weather all the officers and a fair number of members were present. The meeting was as usual opened and closed by singing. The subject for the day was a paper given by Mrs. St. George Baldwin, Toronto, and read by the president, Mrs. Lander, on "The Rights and Privileges Enjoyed by Women in Christendom, Compared to Those in Heathendom." The paper was very instructive and very much appreciated by all. Receipts were given by various members. The May meeting which is the annual meeting, when all members are expected to be present, if possible, and renew their membership, will be held at the home of Mrs. Jas. Reid.

A meeting in the interests of the cheese factory is called for Saturday April 15th, at 2 p.m. The company are erecting a house for the use of the cheesemaker. Mr. Geo. Wheatley has been re-engaged as maker.

Mr. and Mrs. Weston Bronson, who have resided in Alberta for the past six years, have returned to Burleigh. They are at present the guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stone. Their many friends are pleased to see them in our midst again.

Mr. W. C. Stone is building a fine new house on the old homestead.

Mr. J. T. O'Connel, whose house was destroyed by fire a short time ago, is building a new one for his tenant. The building burned was an old landmark of the township known as "The Depot."

We are pleased to see Mr. S. Wilson around again. Mr. Wilson had the misfortune to have his foot crushed while loading logs and has been confined to the house for a few weeks.

Mrs. Wm. Windover, who has been visiting in Lakefield, has returned home.

Rev. C. Lord intends holding the annual vestry meeting for Holy Trinity on Saturday evening, April 22nd. Owing to the large mission he has in his charge—there being five churches—it is impossible for him to give us any Easter service.

Some of the farmers are busy in the sugar bush; so far it has been a very poor season.

Messrs. R. and L. Northey have again made their round with their sawing machine.

We are pleased to see Mr. Wm. Thompson, who has been quite ill with tonsilitis and la grippe, out again.

Mr. R. Hamilton and Mr. Brown, of Hall's Glen, passed through the neighborhood on Thursday last. They drove across Stoney Lake. They reported the ice quite sound in the lake, but very bad at the shores. Last year the ice was entirely gone April 5th.

Vote for the Tire Company By-law on April 25, and give Peterborough another boost onward and upward.

HIGH PRICE FOR A DRUNK IN LINDSAY

Costs Run up to $6 on Top of a $2 Fine

Lindsay Warder:—George Chaussie, a marble cutter, formerly of Oshawa, and late of Peterborough dropped into town yesterday on a business trip. This morning before Police Magistrate Jackson, he stated that he had no particular address, but he originally came from Whitby, and was in business for himself. He had imbibed more "booze" than he could carefully handle yesterday afternoon, and awoke this morning to find himself in the coop. The man was fairly well dressed and as the magistrate said, "Two dollars and costs," he dug down for the price, but he had not heard what the costs would be. Six dollars and ten cents was the total amount, which proved to be beyond the gentleman's means. He will endeavor to get the necessary amount from some source. If he meets with no success he will spend fifteen days in jail."

From Stanley Barracks

Harry Portsmouth, of the 45th Regiment, Lindsay, has returned to Peterborough, after finishing a three months' course of training at Stanley Barracks, Toronto.

In appearance he shows the result of the stiff and thorough training which is given at the Barracks.

While the drill is somewhat heavy, still it is very useful, and a recruit has plenty of leisure time on his hands after the day's duties are performed. The lectures, which form part of the course, are extremely valuable and interesting.

Another local boy was at the Barracks with Mr. Portsmouth. He is also in the city, and at present is drill instructor with the 57th Regiment.

Mr. Portsmouth has been attached to the local regiment for drill purposes.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS

SNEAK THIEF AT SNELGROVE'S

Articles of Clothing Disappeared From Box in Shed

Some sneak thieving has been going on by certain individuals who ply the rag and bone trade in the city, and one of the sufferers applied at the police station to-day for relief.

Mr. Snelgrove had at the rear of his barber shop, in a shed, a box containing some very serviceable odds and ends of clothing, and yesterday morning he noticed a rag and bone merchant apparently prowling around in the rear of his shop. He did not anything, however, till later in the day, when he discovered some of the clothing had disappeared.

Detective Newhall is working on the case, and it is therefore expected that little trouble will be encountered in recovering the missing articles.

PICTURES THAT WERE NEVER TAKEN

BAILIEBORO

Special Correspondence

Bailieboro, April 10—A new telephone line is being erected by Dr. H.A. Turner of Millbrook, connecting Mr. Wilbur Barnard with the main line at Mr. Wesley Hutchison's. Several residents along the line are also taking advantage of this great convenience and are having phones installed.

Mr. James Johnston our well-known and highly respected dealer in general farm produce, intends moving to Springville, where he has secured the post office and store formerly occupied by Mr. Trew.

Mr. Freddie Jewison, Jr., was the guest of Mr. James Johnston of Port Hope on Sunday evening.

Mr. Dainley, the genial teacher of Cork school, was the guest of Mr. David Lunney on Sunday.

Mrs. J. White entertained a few of her friends at a quilting, on Thursday last. During the evening a number of young men gathered in and a very enjoyable time ensued.

Prof. Charles A. Hollinbeck of the Methodist choir, intends to have his singers render special Easter offerings on Sunday evening. All members of the choir are most cordially invited to attend this service.

Now that the warm and genial spring weather is approaching again, the busy housewives are all interested in the soul-absorbing sport, their once-a-year house cleaning. Perhaps some cannot account for all this kind of thing that makes you neglect your meals. But it is easily accounted for. She's putting to fight the armies of the aliens. Dirt and soot are women's hereditary enemies, and when she gets after it right, and lines up her forces, and sorties out from behind a barricade of water-pails and ammonia, bottles, and armed with brooms and mops, forces the enemy out of the garret into the upstairs hall and bedrooms, and then drives him down the back stairs and front stairs simultaneously, she's got a feelin' in her breast like what David had when he jumped over Goliath's headless body, and pursued the Philistines from Dan to Beersheba, or what Sir James Whitney and his stalwarts had when they charged the late Ontario Government. There's glory in her soul!

We believe in the glasses we are supplying that in quality, style and accuracy, they are unsurpassed. We believe that honest glasses can be supplied to honest people by honest methods. We believe in working, not waiting, laughing not weeping, in boosting not knocking and the pleasure of the practice of optometry. We believe we are getting the optical practice that we are after, and that there is plenty to get for men who are ready. We believe in to-day, and the work we are doing, in to-morrow and the work we hope to do, and in the rewards of both. We believe in courtesy, in kindness, in generosity, in good cheer, and in honest competition. We believe this in an order for a pair of glasses ready for every man who is ready to take it. We believe we are ready—right now, and we are taking it.

HOSTLER OF HOTEL HEARD SOUNDS FROM UPPER ROOM

Hostler at Hotel Says the Sounds From Upstairs Sounded Like Some One In Distress, But He Did Not Think at the Time That It Was Miss Brimacombe Who Made Them—Lasted Five Minutes.

Cobourg, April 13.—Lorenz Macdonald, hostler at the Hotel Bristol, was an important witness for the crown at yesterday's sessions of the Matthews' murder trial. An effort was made to get him to imitate the sounds which he alleged he heard after retiring to his room on the evening of Dec. 17. His answer was that it was a sound of some one in distress, a whining or choking sound. He had known Johanna Brimacombe ever since she was born. "He did not think it was Joey," when he heard the cries. It was a woman's voice.

Macdonald said he saw Matthews in the kitchen with Miss Brimacombe that night. Matthews was standing by the stairs and the girl was about two feet from him. Witness came from the bar into the kitchen. Soon afterwards he went to his room on the third floor, shut the door and bolted it. After he was in bed he heard whining or groaning. He got up, opened the door and stuck his head out to listen. Cross-examined by the crown he fixed the time as twelve minutes after eight when he went to his room. The sounds were heard a very few minutes after. Joey and Matthews were both in the hall when he passed upstairs to bed.

He saw nothing between Matthews and the girl. The latter had his overcoat on. He did not know whether the prisoner had his hat on or not. The next morning he (the witness) was in the kitchen, waiting for Joey to come in. Teasdale told him she was dead. He went up with Teasdale to the room. No one else was there. No one had been in the room that morning before he and Teasdale were up.

Witness said he thought the noise he heard was Teasdale and his wife. "I did not think it possible that Joey was making the noise," said Macdonald. In answer to a question witness said that Joey was in the kitchen when he came in from the barn. Mrs. Teasdale had said there was vomit on the floor. Questioned as to the girl's general health, the witness said he never knew her to be sick.

Joseph McMurray of Haldimand said he was at the Bristol Hotel on Saturday, Dec. 17. Between 7 and 8 o'clock he went into a strange room and from there into the hallway. Archer Brown was there and Wilson Murphy came in. Witness went down to the back of the hall and got two drinks. He stood in the hallway at the foot of the stairs. Edward Ley was also in the hall. Witness heard a noise upstairs that attracted attention. It was a peculiar noise, he would call it a scream, said witness.

Witness first saw Matthews when he was halfway down stairs. His vest was unbuttoned, his coat unbuttoned and his watch hanging out. There was a spot on the left lapel of the prisoner's coat. Witness thought he had had too much.

Robert Rogers, who was employed at the hotel, said he saw Miss Brimacombe and Matthews in the dining-room after one o'clock on the day of the murder. He saw Matthews make some sort of sign. The last he saw of Matthews was after 8 p.m. Witness heard no disturbance during the night.

John Cainan, farmer, deposed that he was at the Bristol Hotel on Dec. 17. He saw Edward Lee in the hall. He saw McMurray in the hall, and also saw Smith and Murphy. The latter drew his attention to a noise. Haynes had gone into his tea before this. Witness thought the noise was like a parrot. It kept up for five minutes or more and sounded as if something was wrong, as if some person was in trouble.

Dwight MacDonald, when summoned, came in drunk and was committed to a cell until 9 o'clock this morning.

Rand Gold Output.

London, April 13.—The output of gold at the Rand in March was 676,065 fine ounces, valued at £2,871,740. In February the production amounted to 610,828 fine ounces and in March last year it was 607,119 fine ounces.

Silk Firms Merge.

Montreal, April 13.—Three silk companies are merged in the new company, Belding Paul & Corticelli Silk Co., with a capital of $1,600,000. The third company is the Cascades.

OFFICERS FOR THE CONTINGENT

To be Sent to Coronation Cannot be Announced

Ottawa, April 13.—Sir Fred. Borden announced in the House of Commons Tuesday that the names of officers who would proceed with the Canadian military contingent to the coronation would be submitted to the Cabinet-in-council yesterday, and that the announcement of the names would be made thereafter. The Ministers sat in council yesterday as arranged and the list of officers was sent to the Privy Council officers addressed to the Minister of Militia. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and other Ministers sat until they were tired, but the Minister came not. The order, therefore, did not pass, and no announcement could be made. It is said that he had forgotten, and the statement is made at his home last evening that he left yesterday for Canning, N.S. Four hundred and sixty-two officers in various parts of Canada are anxiously waiting to know if they have been selected. There were only 48 officers to go; yet they are to leave on June 9, and have barely time now to get their uniforms. Sir Frederick is expected back next Tuesday.

CROWNS POSITION IN MURDER CASE

Grounds on Which Conviction of Matthews Will be Pressed

Special to the Review.

Cobourg, April 13.—It is said here to-day that the ground on which the Crown will press for a conviction in the Matthews murder trial, is that the death of Josephine Brimacombe was caused by suffocation as a result of tight corsets during a criminal assault upon her.

MONEY GIVEN TO AGED PEOPLE

King George Officiates at Ceremony of Maundy Thursday

Special to the Review.

London, April 13.—His Majesty King George officiated to-day at the ancient ceremony of Maundy Thursday, in which money is distributed to aged people.

C.P.R. Blamed for Employe's Death.

Woodstock, April 13.—Information has been laid by the crown against the C.P.R. for neglecting to protect their yards at Thamesford, thereby causing the death of Brakeman R. A. Lane in an accident on Jan. 30. One freight ran into another stationary freight and set it on fire.

New York Stock Exchange to Close.

New York, April 13.—The Stock Exchange decided yesterday to close on Friday and Saturday, thus giving a holiday from Thursday to Monday.

FOUGHT IN THE SOUDAN AND NORTHWEST REBELLION

Major General Frederick Wilson Dead at Montreal.

Montreal, April 13.—The death occurred yesterday of one of Canada's most distinguished and experienced soldiers, in the person of Major-Gen. Frederick Wilson. Although Gen. Wilson had been in feeble health for a very long time it was only during the previous few weeks that he was confined to his house.

The deceased had practically devoted his life to military affairs, and had fought for the Empire in two campaigns, the Gordon relief expedition to the Soudan and the Northwest rebellion in 1885-86.

He was born in Kingston in 1852. After education at Trinity College School and Trinity College, Toronto, when 19 years of age he joined the 47th battalion as an ensign. The following year, 1872, he was appointed second lieutenant in the Kingston Field Battery and in 1874 was promoted lieutenant in "A" Battery. In 1877 he was promoted to captain and won his majority in 1883. In 1884 he was transferred to the imperial army and was sent to Egypt, where he served under Viscount Wolseley in the expedition sent out for the relief of Gen. Gordon in Khartoum. He was then recalled to Canada on the outbreak of the Northwest rebellion, and while in England on his return was presented to Queen Victoria, and presented with the Egyptian war medal and clasps, and also with the khedive's star.

Declined to Reduce Rates.

Washington, April 13.—In a decision yesterday the Interstate Commerce Commission declined to make any reduction in what are known as ex-lake grain rates from Buffalo, N.Y., to eastern destinations, either on domestic or export traffic. The Chicago Board of Trade maintained the present rates to divert the trade from the water and rail route to the all-rail route, resulting in undue prejudice against Chicago.

Increased Passenger Rates.

Boston, April 13.—Announcement was made yesterday on an increase—generally of one dollar—in the passenger rates on all transportation lines operating between the Maritime Provinces and New England, to go into effect May 1 next. This will affect three railway companies, and three lines of steamers, including the C.P.R. and the Dominion Atlantic.

BIG STRIKE ON THE GREAT LAKES

Ten Thousand Men Will Be Effected

Special to the Review.

Chicago, April 13.—The Lake Seamen's Union to-day ordered a general strike on the Great Lakes. Ten thousand men will be affected.

IS IT A GOOD DEAL?

The Peterborough ratepayer who is qualified to vote on the Independent Tire Company by-law on April 25th, will naturally face this question;

Is it a good thing to support?

The business men who know the details of the proposition, who have the by-law in hand, unhesitatingly say "Yes," Is the city safe-guarded? Yes. Does the city stand to lose on the deal? No as far as business foresight can tell. Does it cost the city money? No; the company pays the interest on the loan, and $2,000 a year on the principal.

As the agreement entails no burden of any kind on the general tax-payer, the only consideration is whether the security for the loan is adequate. The company has assets of $260,000 as against the liability to the city of $40,000—a fairly safe margin, surely.

The loan of $40,000 may seem rather large, but the factory will be a good one, employing 100 operatives after the first year, and distributing $60,000 a year wages at least. After all, the main consideration with respect to the loan, is whether it adds to the people's taxes, and whether it exceeds safe business judgment. In both cases, the answer is NO.

To refuse a good factory when the terms are reasonable and business-like, is to put up the sign "No factories need apply." Peterborough cannot afford, as a progressive, business city, to do that. It is important that YOU if a free-holder, should vote for the by-law

JARDINE INSANE?

Doctors Examined in Regard to Psychology of Case.

Alleged Confession Not Produced in Court.

Goderich, April 13.—Edward Jardine is now fighting for his life, accused of the murder of young Lizzie Anderson, whose body, nearly nude, the marks of a blow on the forehead, and with the throat cut, was found in the basement of a vacant house by her father and others four days after she disappeared after having attended the last fall fair.

G. T. Blackstock, K.C., of Toronto, is crown prosecutor, and the prisoner's counsel is L. T. Dancey of Goderich. The prisoner pleaded "not guilty."

Mr. Blackstock dwelt on the alleged expressed determination of the girl to go home from the fair with the prisoner, and told of Jardine's statement to County Crown Attorney Seager that the last time he had seen Lizzie Anderson she was in the company of a stranger.

"The crown will show you," said Mr. Blackstock, "that all efforts to find this stranger have failed, and we will try to prove that the mention of this stranger was a ruse or trick for diverting suspicion from himself."

In reference to Jardine's alleged confession, Mr. Blackstock said he would not refer to the contents of certain statements the prisoner had made because he understood some objections might be made by the prisoner's counsel to their admission.

Mary Anderson, mother of the dead girl, said that her daughter had always borne a good character, and Wesley Anderson, her father, told of going three times to the Jardine home during the night when he was searching for his daughter.

The cross-examination in the afternoon of Dr. Garrow, who made the post mortem, showed the probable line of defence, insanity.

"Would you say these blows were made by a sane or insane man?"

"Oh, I couldn't tell, I should suppose any man who would commit such an act would be insane at the time."

"Would you say that a sexual pervert would not know what he was doing in the commission of such a crime?"

"Not for a moment, though he might clear up immediately after."

Mr. Blackstock: "This insanity would not be operating while he was decoying a girl into a lonely place or making the arrangement?"

"No."

Mr. Dancey: "At the time he was committing the deed would he understand the quality of his act?"

"Witness: "Not for the moment."

Mr. Blackstock: "This frenzy of passion does not differ from any other, except in its cause."

"No."

The succeeding witnesses told of seeing Miss Anderson and Jardine at the fair grounds and described their appearance with a very degree of detail. These were Fred. Glidden of Colborne, Frank Glazzer of Dunlop, Miss Eliza Carrick of Goderich and Beryl Irwin and Bella McLeod, girl companions.

TORNADO IN WESTERN STATES

Lives Lost and Many Injuries—Half Million Damage

Special to the Review.

Kansas City, April 13.—Twenty-five persons have been killed and over one hundred injured as the result of a tornado in Kansas and Oklahoma last night. The damage to property is estimated at five hundred thousand dollars.

SHELDON IS ARRAIGNED

Three Charges of Embezzlement Aggregate $35,000

Montreal, April 13.—C. D. Sheldon appeared before Judge Leet to-day on three charges of embezzlement, aggregating $35,000. Crown Prosecutor Walsh elicited from witnesses Sheldon's acceptance of their money and this was not questioned. Judge Leet announced that the evidence was sufficient to warrant commitment for trial.

Sheldon will appear again Thursday and elect whether he will stand trial before a judge of sessions or go before a jury in the King's Bench.

The principal witness heard was David Burnside, Sheldon's office manager. The damaging side of Burnside's evidence was that Sheldon furnished him with brokers' accounts showing the day's profits, which he had since ascertained were false. From these statements the statement showing the profits as allowed "to investors" were prepared.

Sheldon told him that he had a million dollars on deposit in New York, and Burnside asked him if this was available. Sheldon replied that it was, and Burnside suggested that he get $200,000 of it with which to meet the demands of clients. Sheldon said that he would, but never again came near the office. Judge Leet then committed Sheldon for trial on all three charges.

Playing a War Game.

Brockville, April 13.—The practical results of a war game which has been carried out on paper among the officers of the Canadian militia throughout eastern Ontario the past winter took place in this vicinity yesterday afternoon. The opposing forces were in charge of Col. Benson of Ottawa, the officer commanding eastern Ontario. The staff of umpires was headed by Gen. Colin McKenzie, inspector-general of the Canadian militia. At a dinner, given here in the evening, the company listened to the criticism of the whole game from Gen. McKenzie.

TRACED BY BLOOD TRAIL

Montreal, April 13.—A burglar gained entrance to a room of the Windsor Hotel early yesterday. The window was partly open, and it is presumed the burglar got in from the fire escape.

When the occupant of the room, a Toronto man, was awakened by noise made by the intruder, he silently crawled out of bed and cautiously made his way to the electric switch. When the room was flooded with light he spied a young man, about 25 years of age, holding a revolver in his hand. The guest made as if to throw up his hands, but succeeded in coming closer to the burglar, without the latter's suspicions being aroused. He then made a dive for him and succeeded in bringing him to the floor.

In the wrestling and scuffling that ensued the revolver was discharged, but without any effect.

The occupant of the room succeeded in getting hold of the gun, and took it away from the burglar. When the man realized that his weapon had been taken away from him, he made a supreme effort and managed to break away from the embrace of his intended victim.

He made a rush for the window, but just as he was halfway through the guest fired at him and must have succeeded in hitting him, as the man let out a yelp and slid down the fire escape. In his hurried exit he left his cap behind him as well as his revolver.

Three detectives are now working on the case. They succeeded in tracing the man as far west as Mountain street by the trail of blood.

FIELDING AGAINST LOWERING OF BRITAIN'S TARIFF RATES

Confronted by Mr. Borden With a Definite Question, the Minister of Finance Says That Further Tariff Changes Will Be Small and Will Not Include Fifty Per Cent. Preference to Motherland.

Ottawa, April 13.—The feature of the sitting of the Commons yesterday was the announcement by Mr. Fielding, in reply to R. L. Borden, that if there are any changes in the customs tariff, they will be small, and that the changes will not include an increase in the British preference up to 50 per cent.

This statement regarding the preference is regarded as qualified, but the general opinion is that there will be no change in the preference this session at least. He also said that the Government could not admit agricultural implements free.

The reciprocity debate was continued by J. A. Sexsmith, Conservative, of East Peterboro, who opposed the agreement as a farmer. He said it would be inimical to the interests of the farmers of Canada. The House adjourned until next Wednesday.

On the House being moved into committee of ways and means, R. L. Borden asked for a definite statement from the Government regarding the British fiscal preference.

Mr. Borden quoted Mr. Fielding's statement in the House to the effect that if the reciprocity agreement was confirmed "it would probably necessitate some readjustment of the rates in our tariff laws generally, with a view to the maintenance of the preference at whatever rate we may see fit to make." He also referred to the telegram sent by Mr. Fielding to Lord Strathcona, in which he had said that "in every case Great Britain will still have the same rate or a lower one."

He asked, therefore, for a definite pronouncement as to whether it was the intention to increase the British preference and to what extent. Also, whether, in view of the reciprocity agreement, it was the intention of the Government to introduce any tariff changes this session, and especially any tariff changes affecting the preference.

Mr. Fielding said the intimation of Mr. Borden that he was not obliged to make any statement of policy would be interesting to those who believed that those who criticized should have an alternative policy.

"It has been intimated by many opponents of this agreement," said the Minister of Finance, "that on making it the Government had taken a step which would prevent them from increasing the British preference. It was indicated, especially perhaps in England, that an offer of imperial preference was likely to be made to us and that this agreement would prevent us from accepting it. Consequently I have from time to time denied that there is anything in this agreement to prevent us from increasing the preference if we desire to do it. It was in that sense that I sent the telegram to Lord Strathcona.

"I do not agree," continued Mr. Fielding, "that changes were foreshadowed in that telegram. At the time I introduced the agreement I said that it might be necessary to make some changes. I repeat that statement to-day. But let me say at once that, if such changes are made, they will be in small matters; and they will not include an increase in the preference to 50 per cent. The farmers have asked for an increase in the preference and we are going to tell them frankly that we cannot make that change, that the manufacturers of Canada cannot be carried on if that change is made. We are going to say to them that by bringing in this agreement we are meeting their demands to a large extent, and we are going to ask them not to press that matter, because it would be a disturbing influence, while reciprocity will have no disturbing influence, but will work for the general advantage of Canada."

Caught the Burglars.

Hamilton, April 13.—Joseph Kibble and William Hurd, who were captured by the police early yesterday after an exciting chase, were committed for trial on a charge of burglarizing the residence of Dr. Wm. Bell.

The doctor heard a noise in his kitchen and telephone for the police, who caught Hurd and Kibble in the vicinity. Kibble is out on parole from Kingston.

STANDPOINT OF FARMER

Mr. Sexsmith Discusses Reciprocity in House of Commons

Ottawa, April 13.—The main debate upon the tariff resolutions in the Commons yesterday, was continued by Mr. Sexsmith, the Conservative member for East Peterborough. Mr. Sexsmith spoke from the standpoint of the Eastern Ontario farmer, whose prosperity is menaced by the reciprocity agreement. He showed conclusively that the current of trade is from the United States to Canada and not from Canada to the United States To strike down the tariff which now protects the Canadian farmer would expose him to resistless competition from the United States, Australia, New Zealand and the twelve favored nations.

FORGIVENESS FOR HARRY ORCHARD

Widow of Governor Stenenberg Visits Life Prisoner

Special to the Review.

Boise, Idaho, April 13.—Harry Orchard, the confessed murderer of fifteen men, and who is now serving a life sentence, was called upon to-day by the widow of the late Governor Steunenberg, one of Orchard's victims, to tell the prisoner that she forgave him. Mrs. Steunenberg made a long journey to accomplish her purpose, and she told Orchard that God had told her to forgive him. Orchard comes from near Brighton, Ont.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE GOVERNMENT

Toronto, April 13.—Sir James Whitney yesterday afternoon announced that the following appointments had been made by the Ontario Government:

James H. Metcalfe, Kingston, formerly a member of the Ontario Legislature, to be fish and game warden.

The Government has also decided to locate the additional agricultural department representatives at Newmarket for the County of York; Orangeville, for the County of Dufferin; Dutton, for the County of Elgin, and one in the County of Grey.

LONDON HAS ELECTRIC MERGER

London, April 13.—Malcolm J. Kent, a director of the London Electric Co., yesterday afternoon gave the first definite statement regarding a merger which may mean a change of management for the London Street Railway Co.

Mr. Kent stated that an option has been given on the street railway. This has not been taken up as yet, but the deal, he said, likely will be closed one way or the other within a week.

Mr. Kent did not feel himself in a position to state definitely the purpose of the proposed change. But he gave this general idea.

The movement here is but one movement of many which aim to bring street railways and radials of a number of places under one management.

When this is done the districts between here and Niagara which are not already served by radials will have such lines constructed. These and the street railways brought in will get their power from the main company.

The merger, it is believed, is but the widening of the movement which started in Toronto during the past few days. It will give the power companies, behind which are Mackenzie and Mann, and a number of New York capitalists, a market for their power, and will enable the companies to serve the people along the transmission lines which will be erected.

POLICE CATCH JEWELRY THIEVES

New York, April 13.—Inspector Russell at police headquarters yesterday made known that he had received word from Detective Lynch of the Boston police department, now in Austria, that he had had under arrest there, in the Province of Galicia, Jacob and Joseph Goldberg, who are wanted by the Boston police for a $15,000 jewelry robbery, and who jumped their cash bail of $5,000 after being captured in this city soon after the Boston robbery.

Previously it was supposed that both had been burned to death in company with Harris Rothstein, alias "Kovak, the Smith," in the destruction by London police and British soldiers of the anarchist den at Houndsditch, London. Rothstein, it is still thought, may be dead.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

The power situation seems to be Beck-oning to Peterborough.

—o—

That Brooklyn man who got six cents damages for injuries to reputation, should have been in the Farmers' Bank affair.

—o—

The people who imagine that a colonelcy is a cinch must be taking hints from the south, where every other man is a colonel.

If the Fiddy-seventh go to Windsor on Victoria Day, the boys should be tagged, "These boys belong to Peterborough girls. Keep off the grass."

—o—

Hon. Adam Beck had to go to Lindsay to-day. Even being a minister of power has its penances.

—o—

The Georges aren't rushing to help King George out with their nickles and dimes. Can it be that there aren't many of them here?

LUNG TROUBLE

Mrs. Biny Brown, of Tenecape, N.S., Was Cured by Catarrhozone of Lung Trouble and Catarrh, a After Hundreds of Other Remedies Failed

If your lungs are weak; if there is consumption in your family; if Colds, Catarrh, and Bronchitis bother you, be sure to use Catarrhozone It is especially adapted for these diseases and cures every time

Mrs. Brown took cough mixtures, but they made her sick. Then she used an atomizer, but, after resorting without benefit to poultices, she tried Catarrhozone.

"I used Catarrhozone Inhaler," writes Mrs. Brown, "five minutes every hour, and soon recognized that it was going to cure me. I could feel the soothing medicated air spreading through the air passages of the throat, and it touched the sore spots in the lungs that other remedies failed to reach. Catarrhozone seemed to go just where it was needed most, and soon put a stop to my cough. It restored me to perfect health, and I am convinced that no cough, cold, or catarrh can exist if Catarrhozone is used."

No treatment is so clean, so pleasant, so certain to cure as Catarrhozone. By means of the Inhaler, the local symptoms, such as coughing, inflammation and congestion are speedily corrected. Ferrozone tablets, which are taken after each meal, purify and cleanse the blood of all poisons, and build up and strengthen the system.

This local and constitutional treatment is always effective, and cures cases that have been given up as hopeless. Money can't buy or produce anything better, and to get cured it is absolutely necessary to use Catarrhozone.

The Daily Review

SATURDAY, APRIL 8, 1911.

ALFALFA CULTURE

It will be a happy day for Ontario, and especially for Peterborough county, when alfalfa culture is thoroughly understood and more generally adopted by the farmers. The claims made for alfalfa seem almost too good to be true. But even were alfalfa only half as profitable as it is claimed to be; yes, even one-quarter as productive, it would still give returns exceeding the returns from many crops our farmers now grow.

One thing is certain about the adaptability of our soil to the culture of alfalfa. We can grow the crop. A sprinkling of our local farmers have grown alfalfa successfully, and not one of them has yet been found but is satisfied that alfalfa is a money-making crop. A goodly number of our farmers have already planned to sow a considerable acreage this spring to alfalfa. Others will be well advised in sowing alfalfa and in taking advantage of the alfalfa competition that has been arranged especially for the benefit of the farmers of Peterborough county.

When farmers of this county generally grow the alfalfa crop, then, as Joseph E. Wing has said of Pennsylvania, our fields will be covered with beauty regardless of heat, or floods, or drought; then will the barns stand filled to bursting; orderly stacks will dot the fields; cows will be well fed, and have full udders; the sheep and pigs will be fat and content; the villages, even, will feel the influence of the alfalfa plant, for labor will be in greater demand; land values will advance; the boys will stay on the farms, where they will be needed, and new evidences of prosperity will be seen on every hand.

CANADIAN DIVIDENDS

Although in comparison with the dividend disbursements of U.S. banks the amount paid out by Canadian banks is not notably large, when considered in relation to the money market here, and the relative scarceness of funds, the sum reached is a surprising amount, say the Financial Post in its investment number.

The following table approximates closely the amounts of dividends paid this month by the various classes of securities mentioned:—

Rails	$6,460,000
Phones and telegraph	265,000
Trains, L. H. & P.	1,066,750
Loan and Trust	239,937
Life insurance	13,750
Banks	735,750
Industrial	1,387,340
Cobalt mines	1,275,000
Listed bonds	1,094,250
	$12,536,777

Nor does this touch the large municipal and government interest disbursements, which value, of course, far smaller than in January and June, must still amount to a large sum. Taking all these into consideration and remembering that but few western companies are listed or known in the East, it is safe to assume that, from $18,000,000 to $20,000,000 have to be arranged for at this season. It is not at all surprising in view of this that that money should have been scarcer than usual during the past couple of weeks. It is a fortunate thing, however, in view of the scarcity of money that our system of branch banks admits of the transfer of these various amounts without materially disturbing the financial situation.

This is by no means easy to answer; certainly a large part goes right back to the banks to be drawn upon for the living expenses of many people, thus helping to keep business brisk and trade active. A very large portion, too, is credited to England to pay our large interest bills on the $1,800,000,000 of the capital borrowed there.

Although at the lowest possible calculation our monthly interest account with the English investor exceeds $6,000,000, the term "credited" is used in preference to "paid," for the reason that happily, this large payment is offset by the huge amount of capital that continues to flow into this country. A very considerable part of this $72,000,000 annual British interest and dividends thus does not have to be provided for by the banks.

Over and above these amounts, however, there is a very material proportion of the dividend disbursements not used in the manner mentioned, which must find its way back into investment or help to swell the deposit accounts of the various banks.

AS TO NEW ZEALAND

Sir Joseph Ward, Premier of New Zealand, who is touring Canada, is an enthusiast on the subject of taxation as "she is made" in his country. They have a peculiar adaptation of the single tax idea in force, and Sir Joseph Ward says that it is working splendidly, and he hopes to see thirty million people inhabiting New Zealand some day.

In New Zealand a system is pursued of taxing lands and income—a graduated tax for both.

As New Zealand is only the size of Great Britain, or about 75,000 square miles smaller than Ontario, it has been found necessary to limit land holdings—thus avoiding the evil of great landed estates that are the curse of Britain.

On estates valued at $200,000 or upwards, there is a graduated tax by the addition of 25 per cent. for every $5,000 value over. Farm lands up to $7,500 value are exempt from taxation, the object being to encourage the small holders of land. This has had a tendency to discourage the concentration of population in the cities, and has encouraged the back to the farm idea.

The government has in a paternal way bought large tracts of land, and sold it in subdivisions to people of limited means, helping them to earn their livelihood by producing wealth. This is accountable for New Zealand's great exports of dairy and meat products.

The farm exports of New Zealand, from a population of one million, were $115,000,000, or more than the exports of 7,500,000 Canadians in 1910.

No improvements are taxed either in town or county, the land tax being in all cases on the unimproved value of the land. In addition to this, no income tax is imposed under $1,500, and the government bonuses the birth of children.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Belleville increased during the last year from 10,012 to 10,432, according to the assessor. Keep coming Belleville. Some day you'll overtake Kingston.

The charges against the Belleville city clerk and an ex-mayor of selling lots below their rightful value, allowing relatives to make a rake-off, will be investigated before the county judge. The bay city was slow in moving, but let's hope with none the less certainty.

Nova Scotia farmers ought to be happy. According to the Toronto Globe they have a "local market which it has so far been beyond the capabilities of Nova Scotia to supply." Clearly, the Nova Scotia farmer doesn't need reciprocity or more markets.

In 1896, when the Liberals came into power at Ottawa, the national debt was $258,000,000. It is now nearly $350,000,000. Yet Finance Minister Fielding has been able to present big surpluses, the one of 1910 being $30,000,000. The only conclusion is that Canada has been spending surpluses and borrowing also, quite heavily. Governmental extravagance is at the bottom of it all.

The talk of King George rehearsing for the Coronation leads one to remember that Shakespeare said a volume in this expression: "All the world's a stage. And all the men and women merely players. They have their exits and their entrances, and one man in his time plays many parts" A king is no different from other mortals, except he has many more and difficult parts to play—parts that need months of steady rehearsal.

The present management of the Kingston Standard has been in control of the paper three years and has accomplished much in the upbuilding of a good newspaper. The Standard is inclined to fancy the role of general adviser and corrector of the Conservative party in the Dominion—one of those candid friends who make sure you are fully aware of all your real or imaginary short-comings—but this is only an outlet for the surplus energy behind the paper. We wish the Standard many more years of growth and prosperity.

The Toronto Globe says that the fight against reciprocity that is being waged all over the country is being financed by the Tariff Reform league of Great Britain. The champions of reciprocity certainly are hard put to devise an excuse for the opposition so generally manifested. There is no prospect of Canada getting a preference in the markets of Britain now, or for some time to come, and the Tariff Reform league although it has a worthy object, is toothless and clawless. Why should it spend money in Canada, when it hasn't the ghost of a show at present in Britain?

The Democrats will introduce into the House of Representatives as soon as the reciprocity bill is disposed of, a free list bill, removing duties from agricultural implements, plows, harrows, reapers, binders and mowers, boots and shoes, saddles and saddlery, wire fencing, cotton bagging and ties, coarse sacks, burlaps, lumber, flour, dressed meats and meat products and sewing machines. If such a measure were to get through the senate, would Republican Taft veto it? These items are selected for the relief of the American farmer. It would put the Republicans in a very nice predicament.

ABOUT THE SPHINX

Montreal Star.

The Sphinx has too long occupied its unique and honored position to be dislodged from it by the iconoclastic speculations of any Harvard professor. Suppose its head was intended to be a portrait of Chephren, who built the second pyramid, what has that to do with what the sphinx has represented to civilized peoples for nearly two thousand years; Chephren finished his work and was sealed in his tomb, about five thousand years ago. If he looked like the Sphinx, he had been dead long enough to have lived this down long before his portrait came to be adopted as the symbol of secrecy and silence, or as the source of a legend in which the centuries have delighted. Chephren may have been an excellent king, but his portrait as a portrait would hardly have held the interest of succeeding generations as closely as has his statue, used for an entirely different purpose and honored for a very different reason. There have been many other cases where the secondary use to which some human achievement has been put has dwarfed its original purpose, and the world has by no means been invariably the closer thereby. It will take more than facts and logic to rob the Sphinx of its mythological attributes, and it is probably quite as well that this should be so. There are finer things in the world than historical accuracy.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

His second reason for becoming Mr. Craighead's double was his sense of duty of preventing that pupil of Dr. Witherspoon from breaking the vow of abstinence. So he drank most of the intoxicants served to Craighead, somewhat to the injury of his health, but much to the betterment of his reputation as a roisterer. Altogether it was a relief to get Craighead back home, where he installed him as a lodger and boarder, charging him well for his accommodation and lending him the money on his note to pay for it. On arrival he went to bed and turned Craighead over to Mrs. Graybill, with strict injunctions to telephone the sheriff's office if he was unaccounted for for more than an hour.

It was a situation with some unique aspects. Mr. Craighead began whiling away time with a work on the "Morphology of the Crawfish" and dips into De Quincey's "Spanish Nun." Looking from the library window, he saw Mrs. Graybill enter a summer house, leaving a red hat on the railing outside.

The "Morphology" grew uninteresting. Craighead stepped from the window, went into the summer house and started at finding Mrs. Graybill there, her hair tousled about her head, her little nose elevated in that comical resemblance to her father's. "Mr. Waddy informs me that the late Mr. Graybill was a minister of the gospel," he ventured.

"Yes," she replied, "he was."

"And that he has been called," Craighead went on, "to a better life a year or more?"

"Fourteen months," answered Mrs. Graybill.

"I have been reading," said Craighead, "a work on the 'Morphology of the Crawfish.' It holds me enthralled. The person who fails to glean wisdom from the crawfish has never tested his intelligence with a bare toe or studied his morphology."

Mrs. Graybill looked at Craighead sternly.

"Don't pose!" said she. "Don't think that I want a beautiful lesson in everything, if I have been a minister's wife. Tell me of Mr. De Land and—and Sadie Brown and the chop suey and—and that life. Tell me, Mr. Craighead!"

The point here is that there was no danger of Craighead's running off while she listened with such breathless interest to his adventures. He explained his natural transition from the study of artistic anatomy to surgery and then through medical jurisprudence to law, and over all gloomed the shadow of his wonderful, his poetic, his epic dissipations. Mrs. Graybill was shocked, but she asked for all the horrible tale that he might so relieve it that nothing would ever, ever induce him to drink again.

"Only one thing would ever do that," said he, "or maybe two. The pangs of despised love"—

"Which you have never experienced?" she asked.

"Never," said he, "as I am now likely to."

"And the other shock that might overturn your self control?"

"The failure of Carson," replied Craighead. "That would put me down and out—down and out!"

The relations of Craighead to Mr. Waddy became more and more strained, for the former could no longer explain satisfactorily the failure of Carson to appear with his airship. Finally as a last resort Mr. Waddy resolved to take Craighead and Mrs. Graybill and go to the south to settle the whole problem. Thus it was that the three were at Palmetto Beach when Captain Harrod with the launch passed through Strong's bayou with Virginia and Mrs. Stott on the way to the cabin where the first Carson aeronef was preparing for its delayed flight north. Tickets had been bought to Palmetto Beach on Craighead's statement that Carson was here.

"Ah!" said Craighead. "How natural it all looks! I seem never to have left these balmy, if somewhat sandy, shades. Dear old Yupon Hedge inn!"

Mr. Craighead was halted by a liveried attendant.

"Beg pardon, sir," said he. "This is a private clubhouse. The inn's over there!"

"Oh, certainly," replied Craighead. "All cement walks look alike to me."

Craighead searched in vain after their arrival at the inn for Carson.

If Craighead's easy flow of speech was somewhat impeded by his sense of the uncertainties, not to say dangers, of his position, it was worse when he and Mr. Waddy and the handsome, sympathetic Mrs. Graybill returned from the plantation, having elicited from the reluctant Chloe the information that Mr. Theodore, his machine, his niece and his niece's companion were at Harrod's camp on the beach, which was "off thatterway." They jist went down the river, through a canal, across some land, and then they were thar. She didn't know about no aeronef, but Mr. Theodo' was a-projickin' around with some flyin' machine. She reckoned the canal at Palmetto Beach was the one, but she didn't know. This information, Mr. Craighead declared, made everything clear, but on returning to the inn Mr. Waddy hired a local officer to guard Mr. Craighead's room and began taking thought of having a warrant issued against him for something—Mr. Waddy was not quite clear for what.

Craighead was trapped, lost, betrayed. He sat in his room chewing a cigar and calculating the distance to the ground. It looked feasible to get down a pillar of the veranda and into the woods. Carson was an impostor, they were guilty of fraud, there was no aeronef, and the Air Products company would collapse at Mr. Waddy's defection.

Ting-a-ling-ting-ting-g-g-g!

His telephone rang. Was his good angel Mrs. Graybill on the wire? She was.

"You know who this is?"

"Know these tones?" he gushed. "Why, were I in deepest hades through geological depths of burning marl and lignite and other carboniferous deposits I'd know them! What is it, fair one?"

"Oh, nothing! Only I have just learned at the postoffice that Mr. Carson is back a few miles, through a lagoon, and the man will get us a guide with a boat to take us through those narrows in the morning. Is that all right?"

"You are— My God, Caroline, you have saved me from you know not what! I shall love you, love you, love you"—

And the telephone was hung up.

They went through the canal in great style. They skimmed the black waters of Freshwater lake and landed at the shelly hummock. While the boatman searched for the path to the gulf beach they sat on the shell mound, fascinated by the strange landscape. The expanse of black pools and reedy marshes between them and the line of surf, which they could hear roaring beyond the dunes, was dotted with clumps of tall pines and splotched with scrub oak thickets.

"Those pines," said Mrs. Graybill, "are like palms. Why, what's that?" exclaimed Mrs. Graybill.

Rising from beyond the dunes, as if from the sea, there soared a great something which moved like a bird. It swelled like a magic ship as it neared them, sailing low and dominating the sky like a cloud. It came with the most amazing speed, like an eagle in midswoop, so swift, so light, so facile that all impression of weight was abolished, and the huge thing filled the mind with the notion of levity—like a humming bird.

"Oh, of course," said Craighead, his hands trembling, his face white, "this man Carson is a fraud! Oh, yes, we knew it all the time! But you see that his aeronef has gone through the empty form of eventuating, all the same. Flying like a frigate bird! Shayne, charge! Roll over, Silberberg, and don't dare move till I say so! Oh, this is rotten—rotten! I've got to kiss some one! Hurray!"

Mrs. Graybill was running along the path after the guide, Mr. Waddy puffing along behind, hopelessly unplaced.

"Did you see Carson?" said Craighead. "And there was a girl with him."

Emerging from the dunes, they saw the airship skimming off along the line of beach foam. Down the beach stood Mrs. Stott and Captain Harrod, looking after the airship in amazement and delight. Then, turning like a frightened heron, she swept seaward and came down the wind like an arrow, Virginia waving an American flag over the rail and Theodore swinging his hat.

Suddenly as she passed them with a maneuver so astounding for aerial craft that they could scarcely believe their eyes she stopped. The sharp whir of the beating wing sections told of the sudden reversal of their stroke and of the unprecedented phenomenon of the almost instant arrest of such a machine in midair. It was an unnecessary strain, thought the captain.

He saw the reason, however, a moment later. A black slimy nose—the nose of the Stickleback—poked itself above water right ahead of the Virginia. A boat that looked stove and sinking drew away from her, with a struggling, gesticulating figure in it waving a signal of distress. The slimy nose sank, and the apparent castaway was left as if to perish unless rescued by the Virginia.

GIRLS WITH BAD COMPLEXIONS

The skin should really be so soft and transparent that the blood in the vessels beneath can impart to it the pale, rosy tint which is the ideal "bloom of health." Often, however, the skin becomes coarse and rough, and its cells filled with various impurities, which should be thrown off. This results in those "muddy," sallow complexions, spots, blackheads, etc.

Girls who are troubled in this way will find Zam-Buk and Zam-Buk Soap perfect skin foods. Smear Zam-Buk lightly over the spots, the eruptions, the sallow patches, at night, and notice how quickly your appearance improves. Wash each day with Zam-Buk Soap (only 25c. per tablet). As the rich, refined, herbal essences sink deep into the tissue, the hard, scurfy-like patches are removed. The cuticle is softened. The cells beneath are stimulated to healthy operation. The pores resume their work properly, and a good complexion results.

CARUSO AND HIS LATEST ROLE

Superstition Keeps Him Away From the Stage it is Said

There's a brand new story now about Caruso. Since early in February "the golden voice" has been unheard on the great stage of the Metropolitan Opera House, and it has been stated many times that it is tonsilitis that is keeping him from singing. Caruso has had trouble with his throat before. A year or so ago he had an operation while abroad, and it was said then that his voice had been much impaired. But he "came back" all right, and has been getting his $2,000 per night right along this season. Since February, however, he has been at Atlantic City, under the care of his physician.

One of the yellow newspapers breaks to day with a story that it is not tonsilitis at all that is keeping the Italian from the stage—it is superstition. The story runs that Caruso has been told by some soothsayer or fortune-teller that he is destined to die by some sword, dagger or other weapon used in some of the operas he sings in, or by some accident on the stage. The story continues that thus Caruso now refuses to stand up in "Tosca" and be shot to death by soldiers; that he won't sing in "Pagliacci," because Canio kills his wife in the last act with a big knife; that he won't appear in "Madam Butterfly" or "Cavalleria Rusticana," because there are knives in these. The story even goes so far as to say that the one blacksmith will not act Johnson in "The Girl of the Golden West," because he has to have a halter around his neck.

Caruso, though he is as strong as an ox, has met with mishaps on the stage. When singing in "La Boheme," an iron bar fell and struck him on the head, and now he has a clause in his contract that no scenery will be moved while he is on the stage. He has been threatened by the Black Hand, and last fear was in pitiful fear of these men, taking around armed guards with him, and he has been threatened by a man who declared he would ruin the tenor's face with vitrol.

Caruso has never shown any particular courage, and besides it is well known that he is not only terribly vain, but inordinately superstitious, and there might be something in the story published to-day after all, if it was definitely known that he had been to see some soothsayer. Atlantic City is full of them, and they live along the board walk in droves.

Sickness is usually caused by the accumulation of waste matter and impurities within the body.

200 GIRLS LIVES SAVED IN FIRE

Fireproof Stairway Prevents Another Disaster

New York, April 11.—The lives of 200 girls were saved to-day in a factory fire in Hoboken, when the flames had cut off all escape by the fire escapes on the building, by the presence of a fireproof stairway enclosed in a brick tower at one end of the building.

Work has just started in the paper box factory of Owners & Praeger, when fire was discovered on the third floor. In an instant, the flames swept over the floor and up to the fourth floor, where 200 girls were at work. The stairways were already filled with flames and impassable. When the girls ran to the windows where there were iron fire escapes, they found escape cut off by the flames, which were pouring from every window on the third floor. They then took to the tower stairway and all got out.

BETHANY

The C.P.R. is busy shipping machinery trucks, etc. into Bethany and points south of the town. On Thursday an official of the C. P. R. was in the village and engaged nine men to unload a carload of dump-cars and rails to be used in constructing the new railroad. Two or more carloads of supplies are expected next week when the contractors will begin to build the camp and proceed with the work of construction.

W. Brown has been a frequent visitor to Lindsay this past week on business for the C.P.R. and in consequence all operations at the saw mill have had to be suspended.

A meeting of the Bethany Football Club is to be held on Tuesday, April 11 at 8 o'clock to appoint delegates to attend the annual meeting of the Midland League in Peterboro. All members of the club are requested to be present.

Lord Strathcona will give $10,000 to Halifax Y.M.C.A. building fund when $30,000 more is added to the present total of $110,000.

REDUCED TO A SKELETON

DOCTOR SAID SHE WOULD DIE

"Fruit-a-tives" Saved Her Life

RIVIERE A PIERRE, QUE., May 9th 1910

"I look upon my recovery as nothing short of a miracle. I was for eleven years constantly suffering from Chronic Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Constipation. The last two years of my illness, I was confined to my bed nearly all the time. I was so thin I weighed only 90 pounds, and I vomited everything I ate. Even water would not stay on my stomach.

The doctors gave me up to die as the stomach trouble produced heart weakness and I was frequently unconscious.

At this time, a lady friend strongly advised me to try "Fruit-a-tives" and how thankful I am that I did so. When I had taken one box, I was much better and after three boxes, I was practically well again and had gained 20 pounds.

I have taken thirteen boxes in all and now weigh 150 pounds and am absolutely well—no pain—no indigestion—no constipation—my heart is sound and complexion clear".

Tips for Fire Insurance Policyholders

1. Are the insuring companies financially responsible, and in a position to pay all just claims?

2. Are you sufficiently insured at all times?

Remember your stock is much greater at one time of the of the year than at another. Do you regulate the amount of your insurance accordingly?

3. Are your buildings and contents properly described in the policy, and if more than one policy, do they all read the same? Make your description as brief as possible.

4. If you are insured in any more than one company, it is necessary to have a "Concurrent Insurance" clause in each policy, viz., The written consent on each policy permitting you to insure in more than one company without notifying each company. This is very important. Do your policies contain this?

5. If you use gasoline, acetylene or other lighting plants on the premises, the policies should distinctly permit same. Your policy limits the amount of explosives, gasoline, coal oil, etc., to be carried on the premises. Are you exceeding this limit?

6. Have you paid your premiums and obtained a proper receipt for same?

If you have not complied with the foregoing conditions you might get little or nothing in case of fire.

After the fire your policies are unalterable, no matter how glaring their errors, which appear and how far they are from what you expected.

Examine your policies now. It may be too late to-morrow.

AFTER THE FIRE—

Can you prove the amount of your loss?

This can be done only by using the following methods—

By stock-taking at least once a year.

By keeping proper books showing—

(1) Your purchases.

(2) Your sales, both cash and credit.

By placing your books in a fireproof safe or vault before closing your premises.

Respectfully yours,

OPERATIONS AVOIDED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Belleriver, Que. — "Without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I would not be alive. For five months I had painful and irregular periods and inflammation of the uterus. I suffered like a martyr and thought often of death. I consulted two doctors who could do nothing for me. I went to a hospital, and the best doctors said I must submit to an operation, because I had a tumor. I went back home much discouraged. One of my cousins advised me to take your Compound, as it had cured her. I did so and soon commenced to feel better, and my appetite came back with the first bottle. Now I feel no pain and am cured. Your remedy is deserving of praise." — Mrs. EMMA CHATEL, Valleyfield, Belleriver, Quebec.

Another Operation Avoided.

Poughkeepsie, N.Y.—I run a sewing machine in a large factory and got all run down. I had to give up work for I could not stand the pains in my back. The doctor said I needed an operation for womb trouble but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did more for me than the doctors did. I have gained five pounds. I hope that every-one who is suffering from female trouble, nervousness and backache will take the Compound. I owe my thanks to Mrs. Pinkham. She is the working girl's friend for health, and all women who suffer should write to her and take her advice.—MISS TILLIE PLENZIG, 3 Jay St., Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Thirty years of unparalleled success confirms the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases.

DO IT NOW

The habit of putting off doing the things we ought to do is responsible for much of the trouble people spend so many regrets over. It almost seems that getting their eyes looked after in time is the duty most often put off by most people. Any inconvenience, even pain and discomfort are endured rather than "come to glasses." Could people only realize the feeling of positive relief and the added power of work that glasses would give them this urgent duty would be attended to at once. Could they only witness, as does the eye-sight specialist the numerous cases where it has been left too long undone and no help can be given any more with glasses, articles like this would be unnecessary As it is we must keep on giving the old advice. We make no charge for consultation.

DON'T LIKE ROLLER RINK

Brock St. Residents Object—Petition to the Council

A petition, largely signed and containing a protest against the operation of the Brock street roller rink, is to be sent in to the City Council. Brock street residents object very strongly to the noise and disturbance which comes from the rink, and it is stated that they are prepared, if necessary, to take the matter into court, if redress cannot be obtained otherwise. Brock street is purely a residential part of the city, and protests have been madeb efore against the roller rink. Such steps have been successful in other places, notably, Orillia and Westmount, Que.

NEW HOME IN THE NORTH END

Proposed Site at Corner Hilliard and Anson Streets

Yesterday afternoon the Board of the Protestant Home met the City Council on the Hilliard property and discussed the proposed site.

It was decided that the land just north of Anson street, would be the most suitable. The lot selected will consist of about five acres lying along the brow of the hill, and will be a most desirable situation.

The new building will be a handsome structure and will do a great deal to improve the appearance of the neighborhood. The plans for the building, which were submitted by Mr. Sandford Smith, were considered most satisfactory and the work will be pushed forward as much as possible.

It is hoped that the citizens generally will bear in mind the very urgent neeed of funds. The Board are anxious that the building should be as perfect as possible in every detail.

As the work of the Home will be to care for the Protestant poor of the city, it should appeal most thoroughly to all public spirited men and women. All subscriptions may be paid to Mr. Travers of the Bank of Montreal.

JUDGMENT OF $12 TO PLAINTIFF

The Police Court Cases To-day—Knights of the Road Arrive

Mrs. Edith Glover became very loquacious at the police court this morning in trying to convince Magistrate Dumble that Herbert Neiff was her debtor to the amount of $12.

She succeeded and Herbert will have to leave that amount at the city Clerk's office, as soon as he can secure it.

Mrs. Glover worked for the Neiff family and claimed that there were wages coming to her for that amount.

The reason that she did not get it was on account of Neiff being unable to secure any money having been out of work for two months.

THE HOLIDAYS

King's Birth-day and Coronation are Included

Ottawa, April 13.—June 3, the birthday of His Majesty King George, and June 22, Coronation Day, will be proclaimed a statutory or legal holidays in Canada. Some time ago His Majesty instructed through the Colonial Office that he would prefer to have his birthday celebrated on the actual anniversary of his birth, instead of adhering to the precedent set by the late Sovereign, King Edward, whose birthday was officially celebrated on Victoria Day, instead of on November 9th.

The proclamation of June 3 as a public holiday is not likely to have any effect upon the observance of Victoria Day. It is possible that the recognition of King's birthday may be confined to official circles only.

All interested in the Knox Church football team are requested to meet in the manager's room at the church to-night at eight o'clock.

All members of the Park Street football team are requested to be out to practice on Friday morning at 9.30 waether permitting.

THEATRICAL

THE JOY RIDER

George Sidney, as Bizzy-Izzy, appeared at the Grand last night with a very capable supporting company in "The Joy Riders." It is a merry burlesque, with some catchy songs, and was thoroughly enjoyed. The chorus was sprightly and the jokes were good.

POLICE COURT

Two sons of rest were gathered in by the police yesterday and faced the Magistrate this morning.

They were remanded for a week to allow the chief to obtain information as to their past history. One of them said that he had just arrived from Lindsay.

They were fondly trying to imagine themselves gentlemen of leisure at a local hotel, when arrested and taken to the cells.

The second man hailed from Belleville, so he said.

"There are an awful lot of these people come from Belleville," remarked his Worship.

GOOD DISPLAY AT E. N. McWILLIAMS

Window Decoration is Tasteful and Cleverly Designed

A very effective and appropriate window display, in keeping with the Easter season and demands may be viewed at E. N. McWilliams hat store on George street.

The designing and general appearance of the window is remarkably pleasing, and the reigning styles in the hat and cap line that will enjoy the greatest popularity this season are on exhibition.

The main feature is the display of English and American blocks. In the immediate background of the window is a beautiful Easter lily in full bloom. From it trimmings of purple ribbon branch off. The predominating colors are white and purple. In black wording above the display are the words, "Special Easter Styles," which, when illuminated at night, are brilliantly reflected.

Some very nobby hats are exhibited both in derbies and soft felt.

COLEMAN'S WINDOW.

A window arrangement in the confectionery line that would be difficult to excel in cleverness and originality and which is eliciting considerable favorable comment can be seen at Coleman's.

The northern window is filled with quaint and suitable Easter ideas in miniature eggs and chicks and proves a great source of attraction for the little tots.

Handsome show cards are also hung around at convenient distances inscribed with Easter mottoes and ferns and some large Easter lilies give the window an additional attractiveness.

The south window is equipepd with a complete stock of every thing possible in the confectionery line.

ATHLETICS LOST THE FIRST GAME

American League Champions One Run Behind With New York

Philadelphia, April 12.—New York defeated the world's champion Athletics this afternoon in the opening game of the American League season here by 2 to 1. Vaughn pitched remarkable ball for the visitors and only three hits, two doubles and an field single, were made off him. Philadelphia's run was the result of a muff of Bender's fly by Wolter, and Hogan's two-bagger. Before the game began Collins was presented with an automobile. Score by innings:—

		R.	H.	E.
New York	001000010	2	7	3
Philadelphia	000010000	1	4	3

Batteries — Vaughn and Blair; Bender and Thomas. Umpires—Evans and Egan.

BASEBALL

The destruction of the ball park at Washington was followed closely by the announcement that the owners immediately would start to erect a steel an dconcrete stand in his place. Therefore, Washington will have accomodations for the fans befitting a major league club, something which was not the case in the past.

With the new Washington park already in process of construction, the American League can boast of first class modern stands in six of the eight cities on its circuit.

Shibe Park of Philadelphia was the pioneer in great baseball improvements in the American League. Then came the fine and up-to-date Cleveland park, although it is somewhat smaller than the Philadelphia structure. Comiskey went a little further than the Shibees and his new grounds opened last summer are the largest in baseball.

Frank Farrell expects to even outshine everybody else in the new plant that he is erecting in the Bronx: It was originally planned to open the park July 4, but because of some vexations that delayed the contractors it will not be finished until the beginning of the 1912 race.

SPORT TALK

New York, April 12.—National Swimming Champion Daniels was not satisfied to-day with his last night's feat of clipping two-fifths of a second off the world's mark for two hundred meters. He said he would have another try at the mark, which is now two minutes, twenty-six seconds, and will ask the New York Athletic Club to arrange the details.

The annual meeting of the Midland Football League will be held here tomorrow. An effort will also be made to re-organize the Midland Baseball league.

The baseball season will commence to-morrow, when a number of junior teams will line up.

FOOTBALL

The following members of All Saints Football Club are asked to be at the Post Office, Friday morning at 9.30 to go to Warsaw to play a friendly game with the Midland League team of that place:

Downs, Bell, Flowers, Willis, Dawson, Hildreth, Abbott, Rew Robinson Farr, Johnson, Austin and Moriety.

All players are asked to wear white shirts.

MAPLE LEAFS ON THE ROAD

Play Games at Lynchburg To-day and To-morrow

Norfolk, Va., April 12.—Cold and wet weather caused the cancellation of the games Toronto was to have played here to-day, and the team moves on to Lynchburg for two games to-morrow and Friday. Scranton and Wilkesbarre will be the next places before the opening of the Eastern League season at Baltimore on Thursday of next week.

Slattery, McDonald, McWhirter and Lush will go direct to Baltimore, to await the arrival of the team.

The deal to place Pitcher McDonald with Richmond did not go through, and "Lefty" is still on the Toronto list.

Kelley has decided to carry Catcher Bobby McWhirter for at least part of the season with the Leafs. Several minor league managers have asked for the boy, but Kelley has thus far declined to let him go.

When Connie Mack offered Ben Houser to Washington and other clubs, Kelley asked for an option on his services, fearing that Tim Jordan might not come to terms. Jordan signed his contract a few hours before the option expired, and it was therefore allowed to lapse.

Manager McGinnity, of Newark, is trying to get Pitcher Dick Rudolpa from the Giants. As the player was drafted from Toronto he cannot be disposed of to Newark without the consent of the Leaf management. As Toronto is well fixed for pitchers, McGinnity may get Rudolph on payment of a goodly sum to Toronto, as well as the purchase price to the Giants. It may be, however, that McGraw will decline to part with the pitcher at all.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by its correspondents

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—In your report of the deportation of Arthur Ashcroft you say "the necessity for Ashcroft's deportation was rather peculiar, as he is by no means, in appearance, an undesirable, being of a very gentlemanly appearance, and his conversation is intelligent and fluent. His wife is eminently respectable. Ashcroft, however, was unable to support his family, hence the recommendation for his transportation back to England was approved."

What a commentary this is upon our city of churches, with their spires pointing heavenward! O, Canada, the home of the brave and the free, can we sincerely sing thy praises whilst such a proceeding is being enacted in our midst? Whoever heard of a Doukobor or Galacian, or any foreigner, owing allegiance to another power being sent back? And yet, in the most cold-blooded manner we deport a fellow British subject with his wife and family, who were spoken of so highly as above described!

Yours, etc.,
LOYALTY.

Peterborough, April 19, 1911.

To the Editor of The Review.

Sir,—I see by your paper that the council trots out the same old excuses every spring for not watering the streets in time. To "say that the peculiar weather conditions are responsible" is one of the annual excuses, and is as childish as it is untrue. We have the same conditions every spring. They also complain that the streets are only dusty in spots. Then all the better, they have that much less to do. Their last excuse, that "no watering contracts have been let, or authorized by the council," is a self-accusation, and shows their incompetency in the discharge of their duties.

Yours, etc.,
CITIZEN.

Montreal, April 13.—McGill University will confer the honorary degree of doctor of laws on Dr. S. E. Dawson, C.M.G., on the grounds of his distinction as author in literature and history, and his services in an official capacity under the Government of Canada; and on Dr. Jean C. Bracq, for distinction in literature, and his valuable contributions toward the settlement of the Newfoundland fishery question. A special convocation will be held to confer the same honorary degree on Premier Gouin.

The principal reported that in connection with the forthcoming congress of universities of the Empire to be held in London in 1812, the suggestion had been made that a preliminary meeting of the heads of Canadian universities should be held to prepare Canadian business for the conference, and acting in consultation with the president of the University of Toronto he had called a meeting of all the presidents of Canadian universities at McGill University on Tuesday, June 6.

Big Copper Vein.

Kenora, April 13.—Dr. Scovill of this city, and J. W. Moore, have discovered a phenomenal copper vein fifteen miles from here. The vein is 155 feet wide, and the ore body assays high in copper. The parties are holding the property at $15,000,000. This seems an extravagant figure, but there are some capitalists from Chicago, who have made an offer in cash to Messrs. Scovill and Moore, but the offer has been turned down.

CHEESE AND BUTTER MAKERS

In Convention To-day—Officers Elected for the Year

At the convention of the Peterborough cheese and butter makers, helf Wednesday morning and afternoon, the following were among those present—Messrs. J. P. Flood, J. P. Andress, R. A. Peters, John Riddell, H. C. Duff, B.S.A.; A. H. Campbell, S. Abbott, B. Bell, J. J. Hogan E. Stephens, L. A. Southworth, G. Wright, G. Bass, D. A. Oakley, A. L. Andress.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year—

President—J. P. Flood, Ennismore.

Vice-Pres.—Ernest Stephens, South Dummer.

Sec'y-Treas.—A. L. Andrews, Indian River.

Ass't Sec'y—L. A. Southworth, Omemee.

R. W. WARD.

Mr. R. A. Ward was the first speaker of the day. He said that to be a successful cheese and butter maker it was necessary to improve the quality of the milk. Where the cheesemaker was attentive and alert his milk would be sent to him better.

Every cheesemaker should have his factory in good shape before the first milk came in. The sanitation of the milk was an important matter. There was a law now regarding this, and it would be enforces.

He was pleased to state that all the factory men under his jurisdiction were trying to exclude flies from their factories.

D. J. CAMERON.

In opening his remarks, Mr. D. J. Cameron said he hoped every cheese maker would put forth every effort to retain the good name Peterborough district had for keeping the cheese up to a good standard. He explained some mistakes the cheesemakers were constantly making, and how to avoid them.

G. A. Gillespie gave an interesting talk on "Who Should do the Testing at the Factories?"

L. A. Zufelt, superintendent of the Kingston Dairy School, gave a talk on the general principles of cheese and butter making, based on practical experience of his own.

The meeting was continued throughout the afternoon.

OBJECTED TO THE SURPLICE GOWN

Fair Member of Rev. G. A. Woodside's Congregation Didn't Like It.

On a recent Sunday evening the first occasion on which the choir of the Division streeet Presbyterian church, Owen Sound, were habited in surplice and gown, Miss E. Black, a lady of good family, caused a sensation. As the last majestic notes of "Come Ye Disconsolate," the opening hymn, died away and the sermon was about to commence, she stood up in her pew near the front of the church and denounced the minister, Rev. G. A. Woodside, for allowing the choir to take part in the services clad as they are in flowing gown and surplice. "Is this a Presbyterian church with those things? I am surprised that you, the minister, should allow it! Oh, we are all going to ruin," she cried, and sobbing, sank down.

Seek an Injunction.

Niagara Falls., Ont., April 13.—O. E. Dores and City Solicitor F. A. McBurney have been served on behalf of former Mayor R. P. Slater, with papers to prevent the seating of Wm. E. Tuttle, a former newspaper man, as industrial commissioner. The injunction is based on the contention that Ald. Homan, who voted for Tuttle, is not legally entitled to sit in the City Council by reason of his alleged interest in the contracting firm which is building the new fire hall.

Tuttle was chosen industrial commissioner on April 3 over Slater, who wanted to do the work on commission. There being a tie, the deciding vote was with Mayor Dores, who cast it for Tuttle. The salary allowed for the remainder of the year was $2,000.

New York, April 13.—A cable from Calcutta says:—

Grave fears are felt for the safety of an expedition under Deputy Commissioner Bentick, of the military police, which set out to punish the Abor tribesmen who murdered Noel Williamson, a British official, and his party on the Assam frontier last week.

PURE BRED HOLSTEINS FOR PETERBOROUGH COUNTY

Fancy Prices Paid for Animals at Recent Sale

An indication of the increased interest that is being taken in the breeding of pure bred Holstein cattle by the farmers of Peterborough county and vicinity was shown last week by the number of local farmers who attended the auction sale of pure bred Holstein cattle held last Friday in Bellevillle, where they purchased some exceptionally fine animals.

One Peterborough county breeder, Mr. G. A. Brethen, of Norwood, sold 15 animals at this sale at prices which may surprise some farmers and which reflect great credit on the stock he has been breeding. The 15 animals he offered sold for $3,090, or an average of $206 apiece. Included among these fifteen were four calves. Were these deducted, the average for the 11 animals sold by Mr. Brethen was $258. He sold one animal for $350 to Mr. P. J. Salley, of Lachine Rapids, Que., who immediately after the sale asked $500 for the same animal. Mr. Brethen bought one or two fine animals at the sale.

Other local farmers who attended and made purchases included James White, of Indian River, who paid $270 for an exceptionally fine Hogstein heifer sold by F. R. Mallory, of Frankford; Mr. Sam Magee, of Norwood, paid $215 for a Holstein heifer; Mr. E. R. Tate, of Lakefield, paid $230 for a heifer and $215 for a cow sold by Brethen; Mr. J. O. Ball, of Springville, bought a bull calf from A. D. Foster, of Bloomfield, for $870, and W. R. Shields, of Mount Pleasant, a heifer calf from the same breeder for $100; Mr. Thomas Shearer, of Villiers, bought a calf from Mr. F. R. Mallory for $50.

The purchase of these pure bred animals by local breeders is likely to result in a greater interest being taken in the breeding of Holstein cattle in Peterborough county. It should in time help to make this a noted Holstein centre.

YOUTH MADE SALE OF THE CHOP AT BARGAIN PRICES

Witness Says He Bought it at 50 Cents a Sack.

The three lads, McColl, Copperthwaite and Shearer, who are accused of stealing chop, from the Quaker Oats Company mill were again in police court this morning. A further enlargement till Friday, April 21, was made.

This morning was chiefly occupied with hearing the evidence of a farmer's son to whom the stolen goods were sold. The father of the boy was not present in court.

From the evidence it appears that the young lad who is on a milk route in the city, went to Houedry's on April 1st, and saw Shearer, who appeared to be employed there. Shearer inquired of the milk dealer if he wanted to buy chop that was damaged.

On receiving an answer in the affirmative, Shearer placed six sacks into the milk wagon, and for which he received 50 cents a sack from the lad.

The chop regularly sells at $2.40 a bag. The witness said that he went to Houedry's about eleven times and bought 46 sacks at the same price, 50c.

From this it will be seen that Shearer realized $23 on the deal.

G. N. Gordon appeared for Shearer and asked that the prisoner be allowed to change his election as to how he would be tried, but His Worship refused. He previously asked for a summary trial and pleaded not guilty.

Shearer will be confined in jail while the other two lads Mc Coll and Copperthwaite were allowed out on their promise to appear on Friday week.

County Crown Attorney, Wood, prosecuted.

PETERBORO REGIMENT MAY GO TO WINDSOR ON MAY 24TH

Suggestion From the Local Headquarters Agreeable to Windsor

The Windsor Record says:—The present condition of affairs looks more promising for a glorious patriotic celebration to be held in Windsor on May 24th next. It is probable that a tactical day, similar to the one which was planned to have been held in London last fall, but was postponed owing to disagreeable weather, will be pulled off in Windsor.

Colonel Laing of the Twenty-first regiment, received a communication from officials of the Fifty-seventh regiment (Peterborough Rangers) last night stating that they wished to come to Windsor to celebrate this summer on some national holiday, and would agree to pay all their own expenses, but that the city make arrangements to supply ground for the proper location of at least 400 soldiers.

The suggestion of the Peterborough officials meets with the hearty approval of Col. Laing and the officers of the local regiment, the matter being discussed at the adjourned annual meeting of the officers of the regiment held in the armories last night. The message was received while last night's meeting was in session.

The communication has been forwarded to Mr. O. F. Fleming, president of the Windsor board of trade, and will be brought up at a special meeting of the board to be held next Friday, when the suggestion of the Thirty-eighth regiment (Dufferin Rifles) of Brantford, who also wish to come to Windsor on May 24th, will be considered.

"I feel quite certain that, if arrangements can be made for these troops to come to a feasible proposition that a tactical field day, similar to the one that was to have been held in London last fall, can be arranged, to be held in Windsor on May 24th," said Col. Laing. "I wouldn't be surprised if Col. Hodgins, D.O.C. of London, would agree to take charge of the whole affair and make it one grand day for Windsor. A number of other regiments might be induced to celebrate here."

Mr. Fleming, president of the board of trade, stated this morning that he thought the regiments certainly should be invited to celebrate in Windsor. Mayor Hanna is of the same opinion, and states that he, with the members of the council, will cooperate with the board of trade and try and make the event one grand success.

The C. P. R. bridge at the canal was opened this morning for the first time this season. This is another step towards the opening of navigation.

General Road-Master Bibby, of the Northern Division of the Grand Trunk from Allandale and W. Cairns of Lindsay, Master of Bridges and Buildings, were in the city this morning. The officials went on to Madoc and will visit to other points.

To-morrow (Good Friday) solemn services will be observed at St. John's church. The chief service is to be held at 11 a.m. A short children's service [illegible] o'clock, and the performance of Stainer's "Crucifixion" given at eight o'clock, with appropriate devotions.

Arrangements are fully completed for the citizens' open air meeting Good Friday afternoon in Central Park. Different clergymen of the city will assist and the singing is to be lead by the massed Salvation Army bands.

The 5th Troop of Peterborough Boy Scouts will meet at the corner of Charlotte and the boundary at nine o'clock sharp Friday morning for a good day's scouting returning so as to be back at four o'clock. The boys will be divided into two parts, one company following the other. The cooking contest and tent pitching will be held. Each corporal and patrol leader is requested to bring a piece of rope. Each has to eat his own cooking. Survivors will march back at three o'clock. Every boy must have his stave.

The Christian convention opens to-morrow morning. Degelates began to arrive on the C.P.R. this afternoon. Mr. McMurdo, sr., of New York, will arrive to-night and will address the convention to-morrow, after which he will go on to Brantford to attend a similar convention. Mr. Benner, of Orillia Tract Department, will have a large assortment of tracts, booklets and Bibles on display in the hall. The first meeting will start on Friday at 10.30 a.m.

A practice of All Saints' choir is called for to-night at eight o'clock.

The show windows of W. J. Kent's drug store, corner Hunter and George streets, are receiving more than passing notice these days. This week's windows contain Easter goods, which are displayed to great advantage by the aid of artistic lattice work and floral decorations. The designing and trimming is the work of Mr. George R. Ross, formerly of Midland and Toronto, who has more than once brought credit alike to himself and employer in this line since his connection with the store.

Messrs. Ed. Lynch and Ben Gibson, of Hastings, have purchased from Mr. Boyd, of Bobcaygeon, his handsome private boat, the "Calumet. It is a sixty-foot craft.

The meeting of No. 2 Troop Boy Scouts is called for to-night instead of to morrow.

Notices of Easter services and music of the city churches, for publication in Saturday's issue of the Review must be sent in early.

To-morrow being Good Friday the Review will not be published.

THE MYSTERY OF THE SPHINX

Harvard Professor Has the Riddle of the Ages Solved

Boston, Mass., April 13—Professor Geo. A. Reisner, of Harvard, who headed an expedition sent to Egypt jointly by Harvard University and the Museum of Fine Arts, declared he has solved the riddle of the ages, the mystery of the Sphinx. He says he has clearly established that the battered visage joined to the body of a lion is merely the sculptored countenance of Chephren, the builder of the pyramid that bears his name, who lorded it over Egypt about 285 B.C., nearly five thousand years ago.

It was the discovery of the statue of Mycerinus that unriddled the Sphinx he declares. When Reisner uncovered the wonderful statue of Mycerinus from the headdress, he readily discovered that the Sphinx was a sculptured portrait of Chephren imposed upon the body of a lion.

The old Egyptian monarchs believed themselves divine, he points out, and he thinks it is probable that Chephren thought to give some idea of his divinity to his own time and to posterity by showing himself different from any other man who had ever lived.

PUT HER LOVE AWAY FOR SAFETY

Hartford Girl Was Very Thoughtful for Him

New York, April 12.—A special to The World from Hartford, Conn., says Miss Cecilia B. Wilson, of the Co-operative Nurses' Club of this city, has put her sweetheart, John White, in a penal institution for safe keeping while she goes to Bermuda on a three weeks' vacation. She expects to sail from New York Wednesday.

"John is a goose, and so she had to apply cold storage methods for his proper preservation," explained one of the nurse's friends.

Miss Wilson is Scotch. So is John White. He is a shoe manufacturer at Brockton, Mass. The two have been engaged for fifteen years. When she went to Brockton to bid him good-bye he was so mellow he hardly knew her and he merely nodded and smiled when she said she was going to Bermuda. She looked at him tearfully and then she hurried to the Lynn, Mass., police court and asked Judge Fiske to commit White to some nice, safe public institution where he could get into a proper state of sobriety by the time she returned from Bermuda.

The judge committed White to the Massachusetts State Farm at Bridgewater. After it was all over and she had got back to Hartford, Miss Wilson found the Bridgewater place is a penal institution. She had imagined it was a sanitarium.

A big gold rush through Elk Lake up the Montreal river to Metachewan district, is reported.

NEW YORK'S NEW FIRE SYSTEM

Will Revolutionize All Previous Fire Methods

New York City is to have a system of fire protection which will not only revolutionize all previous methods, but will make this the most thoroughly protected against fire of any city in the world.

The new system is styled the air alarm. Its basis consists of a small hollow wire of copper alloy, one-eighth of an inch in diameter and containing a tiny insulated wire.

The hollow wire acts as a conductor for the aid, whose expansion causes a fire alarm to sound. The tiny wire known as the trouble wire. If, for any reason the hollow wire is cut or broken, the result is that an electric circuit is also broken, which causes the little wire to send a "trouble alarm" to the headquarters of the alarm company. Fire headquarters hears nothing, unless there happens to be a real fire at the time the wire breaks, or is cut.

DETECTS FIRE AT OUTBREAK.

Loops of this inconspicuous hollow wire are strung around the molding of the rooms, houses, tenements, and buildings to be protected, the loops ending in a detector which consists of a disc containing a delicate diaphragm.

If a fire starts in a room the air in the hollow tube expands under the influence of the heat and operates a sensitive diaphragm in the detector, causing it to close an electrical circuit which sets in operation all the marvelous fire alarm machinery.

REMOVES DEFECTS OF SYSTEMS.

All the older systems are largely defective, due to the use of what is known as a "thermostat" placed at intervals on the ceiling. These are constantly exposed to the effects of the air, and the electrical contracts become oxidized, or clogged with dust, and when needed fail to operate at all, or only after a raging fire is in full blast.

Briefly, the new system scores its main success in the principle that the best way to solve the great fire hazard problem of the day is to deal with incipient fires instead of conflagrations.

The new system gives an almost instantaneous alarm. If a pair of curtains catch fire, or even a newspaper, an effective alarm is given within ten to forty seconds. Moreover, another alarm is rung on a box outside of the building, which also indicates the exact location of the fire. Thence the alarm goes on, and directly into fire headquarters, where the exact location is also announced.

PRESENTATION TO C. J. CALEY BY LOCK CO. EMPLOYEES

An Appreciative Address and Silver Tea Service—Going to New Haven, Conn.

The men of the Peterborough Lock Mfg. Co., met in the shipping room, after six o'clock last evening, to do honor to Mr .C. J. Caley, who has acted in the capacity of manager for the concern during the past eighteen months, and who leaves, with Mrs. Caley to-morrow morning on the local C.P.R. train for New Haven, Conn., he having retired from the activities in the lock business.

The following appreciative address was read by E. H. Howson, secretary-treasurer of the company, and John Emmerson, foreman of the tool room made the presentation to Mr .Caley of a silver tea service:

Dear Mr .Caley,—May we say that when it became known throughout the shop that you had resigned from the position of manager and intended leaving at the end of the present week, it was felt by everyone in the factory that they would like an opportunity of meeting you in a body to have a handshake and say good-bye.

We feel in the present instant that we are not only taking leave of a friend, but also of a man who has always been willing to give us the benefit of his extensive knowledge of the hardware business, and gave it in a gentlemanly way.

Your many good qualities will remain long in our memories and the improvements made by you in the factory will further strengthen this memory. We trust that this small remembrance that we now ask you to accept will, on your part, bring back to mind your old friends in the Lock Company.

We wish you and Mrs. Caley a safe journey home and every success and happiness in the future. May the dial that indicates the course of your lives from month to month always stand at "fair weather," and that all good influences may radiate from your esteemed personality doing good to others and prove a pleasure to to yourself.

Signed on behalf of the employees of the Peterborough Lock Mfg. Co.

Mr. Caley, in his acknowledgement of the honor done him, said that the occasion was indeed a surprise to him. He thanked the men for the assistance they had given him during his work with the company. While he was going away, he was not really leaving the company and hoped to visit the plant from time to time, to keep a fatherly eye over his late employees as it were. Mr. Caley assured the men that he would always be ready to give them the benefit of his experience, and if he could do anything for the foremen or the men, which would help to increase their knowledge of the hardware business, all they had to do was to drop him a line.

Mr. Caley has been a very successful man in the lock business and he commenced his climb of the ladder at the first rung, serving his apprenticeship in the Norwich Lock Co., of Norwich, Conn., and remaining with that concern for eleven years. He was foreman in the Sargent Co., of New Haven ,Conn., for seven years, and held a similar position with Yale and Towne, of Stamford, Conn., in the lock department for nine years. Before coming to Peterborough he was identified with the Russell, Erwin Mfg Co., of New Britain, Conn., for a period of nine years, first acting as general superintendent and later as general manager.

He is a Past Master of the A.O.U.W., a member of B.P.O.E. Lodge of Elks, and of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers of New York; Past President of the American Brass Founders' Association, and president of the American Foundrymens' Association. He is also a member of the Institute of Metals of London, Eng.

Mr. Caley will still be connected with the Peterborough Lock Co., as director and will be on the Board of Advisors. His late position will be taken by Mr. E. H. Howson.

HON ADAM BECK PRESENTS BIG POWER SCHEME TO CITY

Minister of Power Was in the City Last Night—Full Report Will be Published Saturday.

As late as 6 p.m. yesterday afternoon it was learned that Hon. Adam Beck, who is known as the Minister of Power, in the Ontario Cabinet, and is chairman of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, would call at Peterborough, being on his way to Lindsay where he addresses a meeting today. Industrial Commissioner Duggan being in Toronto, learned of this, and wired late in the afternoon to that effect. A gathering of the local Citizen's Association was held at the residence of Mr. M. A. Morrison and was addressed by Hon. Mr. Beck, who brought with him the report of Chief Engineer Sothman, of the Hydro-Electric Commission on the power situation and possibilities in the Trent district, as affecting Peterborough, and as now available for exploitation in the city's service.

This report Hon. Mr. Beck read, prefacing his reading by a general review of the operations of the Hydro-Commission, and gave some statements of results so far achieved.

The members of the press present made a copy of the report as read, and it will be formally presented to the City Council and Board of Trade at an early date.

The report was full and exhaustive and conclusive. It is just such a report as might have cost the city several thousand dollars to secure as a private undertaking. Industrial Commissioner Duggan has been working on the power question and was assiduous in getting the report for the benefit of the city, and is entitled to credit for his good work in such respect.

The report will be printed at length in Saturday's issue of the Review, and the careful attention of citizens of the city is asked to its statements and the facts there displayed.

CHEAPEST POWER IN CANADA FOR PETERBOROUGH

HON. ADAM BECK ADDRESSES A GATHERING OF CITIZENS

REVIEWS POWER SITUATION IN PROVINCE

Tells What Has Been Accomplished at Ottawa and in the West--The East to be Suppjied at an Early Date--The Present Has No Conception of the Value of Power Twenty Years Hence.

Following is a report of the remarks made by Hon. Mr. Beck, who addressed a meeting of citizens on Wednesday evening. The remarks prefaced his reading the report from the engineers of the Hydro-electric Commission on the power situation at Peterborough in its relation to ownership by the city of a plant.

Hon. Mr. Beck prefaced the reading of the report by saying that the inception and work of the commission grew out of the necessity among the municipalities of the western part of the province for a supply of power and light at reasonable cost. The western part of the province was not favorably situated so far as available water-powers were concerned. It was to Niagara Falls that they looked for a supply of current. Industrial municipal development and construction of lines and equipment was out of the question. The expense would be excessive, for any one place to stand. Fortunate it was for Peterborough, if the city chose to recognize the opportunities, that nature had placed so much water flowing down hill and within easy reach. He would not give the palm to Niagara, when the cost of development and service were considered.

IS DFIFERENT NOW.

Some years ago the possibilities of the distribution and generation of electric powers were limited. Long distance transmission was in its infancy. Then came a change, and the science made gigantic strides, and side by side with this advancement men asked how this power could be made and distributed at a reasonable price.

The most convincing way to illustrate what had been accomplished would be to tell of the results now gained by the work of the commission. Take the case of Hamilton. If ever there was a power development made at a low initial cost it was that of the Cataract Power Co. There was little to do but to build a fore-bay in the disused old Welland Canal, instal the plant and let the water tumble down hill, when the power came to be sold in Hamilton the anticipated reasonable price was not apparent. It was true that the Cotton Co., the Deering Works and some other large consumers of power had favorable contracts, but to the householder in Hamilton there was no benefit. When the union of municipalities was formed for the distribution of power in west the commission visited Hamilton. They were told there was no need for its services. But it developed that Hamilton came to pay 10c. per kilowat hour for water generated power, while at Toronto 8c. per hour was the price for stam made power. Then Hamilton joined the union.

THE ELECTRIC CITY.

Peterborough was known as the Electric City He did not know the rates. If there were 10c. or even 8c. per kilo. hour they could see how they stood when he would say that at London, with hydro power the rate was 4 1-2c. per hour, about one-half.

Take the case of Ottawa! What had it achieved in the way of making power cost less to the consumer. That city was very favorably situated, but it had enjoyed no special advantages because the supply was controlled by private enterprise. The last report of the operation of the municipal electric commission of that city claims that the rates are lower than in any other municipality or offered by any company in Canada. Under private enterprise Ottawa paid 15c. per Kilo hour. It is now 3c. to 4c. per hour, and no charge for meters. The charge for street lighting lamps is $65 per lamp per year. The civic plant has now reached the stage where it is well on its feet, and the profits can be returned to the customers in the shape of reduction of rates, and this reduction, made for this year, amounts to 19 per cent. The rate now is 3 1-2 per kilo hour.

HAMILTON'S EXPERIENCE.

Hamilton had an experience in street lighting charges. Tenders were asked for. The Cataract Co. submitted two offers; First a five year contract at $85 per lamp per year. Second, a charge of $80 on a ten year contract. The Commission's estimate of a reasonable price was $42 as against the $85 offer, and the lower offer covered sinking fund, interest, depreciation, etc. Then the Cataract Co. cut the price to $47.50 and the offer was accepted. Hamilton had gained $37.50 per lamp per year as the result of the Hydro-Commission being in existence. At Ottawa the results of the civic operations were that one year after being in operation there was a profit of $17,000. In 1909 this was increased to $23,642 and in 1910 to to $27,783, after paying interest, sinking fund and ample allowance for depreciation. In addition they bought $4,000 worth of land and paid off $2,000 of debentures. In three years they had made $70,000 of a surplus.

FOR SMALL USERS.

The underlying principle of the Hydro-Commission was that the small users should get a fair rate as compared with large users. There was no difference except perhaps, in the matter of appliances for distribution of the power, and a factor in this was the earnest desire of the commission to see that everything made use of was of the best, and that permanent construction should be the rule. Safety was the first consideration, and the lines in the west had been equipped with automatic controlling devices, at a cost of over $100,000, which ensured, if a break did ever occur, that before the wire fell and reached the ground the wire was practically dead. There was no more liklihood of the system as erected proving weaker than there was of weakness in any of the standard bridges erected for railroad service, and which stood the test of prolonged and severe traffic. The whole system had been built and finished for $200,000 below the estimates, a thing unparalleled in construction and equipment work. The skill, engineering knowledge, and long experience of the whole engineering corps was at the service of municipalities for purposes of investigation and cost nothing. Any place, no matter how small, could call for a report on power possibilities and it would be supplied.

TEN YEAR OLD YOUTH'S PLUCKY FIGHT IN WATER

His Rescue Made by James Ellis, Proprietor of Mattress Factory

A serious drowning accident was narrowly averted about four o'clock yesterday afternoon, when Jim Dixon, ten years of age, son of George T. Dixon, of the Bridge Works, Campbellford, fell into the Otonabee river at the old Rogers dam at the end of Douro street, and after being carried by the current to the Hunter street bridge, was rescued by James Ellis, proprietor of the Peterborough Mattress Co.

BANK WAS UNDERMINED.

The little boy was visiting his aunt, Mrs. J. H. Smith, 444 Rogers street, and went with his cousin and some chums to play at the river.

Three of them were sitting on the bank overlooking the river, when it caved in, precipitating James Dixon into the swift current.

The dredge had been doing some work there and the boys did not notice that the bank was undermined.

The other two were able to jump back in time, but could not help their little mate, as he was being carried swiftly down stream.

MADE PLUCKY FIGHT.

The boy made a plucky fight against death. He was able to swim a little, but the water was very cold, and his clothes also hampered him. Nevertheless he came within about two feet of the land a couple of times, only to be again carried off his feet by the current. His head struck the bottom several times, jarring him considerably, but he kept fighting away. Before he got to the Hunter street bridge he lost consciousness and was being taken down the main current.

THE RESCUE.

Many citizens were crossing the bridge at the time, and saw the victim coming, but not one made a move to attempt a rescue.

James Ellis noticed something coming, which he thought was a bag of sawdust, but on seeing the face knew it to be a body. He quickly threw off his coat and waded out to the edge of the current. He succeeded in reaching the drowning lad about the place where an old wagon protrudes above the water, and catching that, worked his way back to shore.

The boy was frothing at the mouth and his pulse was quite feeble. Dr. Frederick was summoned, but before he arrived Mr. Ellis accomplished some good work, reviving the youngster. The water was ejected by Dr. Frederick, and the patient was removed to a neighboring house, and later to the home of his aunt, Mrs. Smith.

NOT MUCH HARM DONE.

To-day the boy was walking about the house, but is pale and somewhat shaken up after this thrilling experience. He expressed himself as very grateful to his benefactor.

Altogether the distance he was carried was in the neighborhood of a mile, and his escape from drowning was somewhat unusual.

MURDERED IN TORONTO

Italian Kills One and Wounds Three in Holiday Affray.

Toronto, April 15.—Once more a holiday celebration among foreigners has ended in bloodshed. In a row following a general drinking bout Donato Panzine, an Italian, in a jealous rage stirred by drink, has taken the life of Veci Gioacchino, and seriously wounded several others.

At 9.55 last night two young men walking east on Agnes street saw a man stagger from the door of the house of Anthony Fratorti, 40 Agnes street, and with the blood pouring from a great gash in the neck, totter westward. A moment later another man, Panzine, now charged with the murder of the first, appeared in the doorway and stepped into the street. He drew his coat about him as he came and covered a great nine-inch butcher knife with it. He turned east and entered a lane through an arch at the side of the house. A moment later the young men heard a groan and some one dropped.

The police at the Agnes street station were summoned by a cry of murder. Detective Montgomery and Station Dutyman Phillips rushed into the street in time to see Veci Gioacchino stagger into the roadway beneath the electric light at the corner of Agnes and Teraulay streets and there drop. Plainclothesman Wilson had already rushed to the house, where the row had occurred. He ran into the alley and at the back of the house found Vincenze Acciaitoe burying a 32-calibre revolver in an outhouse. He seized him and the man also handed him a murderous-looking butcher knife, which had been stuck, blade down, in the earth. There were still bloodstains upon this knife.

Meanwhile Detective Montgomery had reached the front door which he found locked. He burst it in and, in the front room found a number of Italian women holding Donato Panzine down upon a bed. The detective took him in charge and placed him in the station charged with the murder of Veci Gioacchino.

The injured men, Frank Russello, 40 Agnes street, and Andy Mele, 158 Chestnut street, were found in the yard and lane. They were hurried to the hospital, where their injuries were dressed, while the dying Veci was rushed there in the patrol wagon. At the hospital door it was found that he was dead, and was taken on to the morgue.

The story, as nearly as could be gathered up till an early hour this morning, is that there had been a celebration at the house in Elm street, where Donato lived. It is also said that the trouble arose over jealousy of Donato directed against Veci and relating to Anthoney and Georgina, two daughters of Fratorti. The fight started in the kitchen where the bloody revolver was found. It was continued in the darkness of the yard and the alley to the east. Just how the injury was inflicted upon each is not shown.

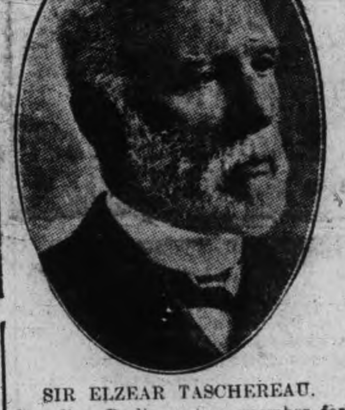
It is said that "Gen." Stanley Williams, the dead Mexican rebel, was formerly a sergeant in the N.W.M.P. and served with the Canadian troops in South Africa.

GREAT CANADIAN JURSIST SIR ELZEAR TASCHEREAU DEAD

Former Chief Justice of the Province Suffered an Attack of Paralysis a Week Ago and Had Recovered Enough to Contemplate Going to Coronation When a Relapse Occurred.

Ottawa, April 15.—The Rt. Hon. Sir Elzear Taschereau, P.C., died at his residence, 265 Laurier avenue east, yesterday morning, in his 75th year. The deceased had been stricken with paralysis some three weeks ago, but recovered somewhat until three days ago, when the fatal termination became inevitable.

The late Sir Elzear Taschereau was born in 1836 on the 7th of October. He was the eldest son of the late Pierre Elzear Taschereau and Catherine Henedine, daughter of the late Hon. Amabel Dionne, M.L.C.B., and was born at Ste. Marie de la Beauce, Que., of which he later became Seigneur. He was educated at the Quebec Seminary, and was called to the Bar in the year 1857, and practiced in the city of Quebec, where for some years he was the law partner of Mr. Justice Blanchet. At the age of 35 he was appointed to the Supreme Court Bench at Ottawa on Oct. 7, 1878. In the year 1867 he was created a Q.C., by Viscount Monck, and in the following year he was appointed clerk of the district of Quebec, an office which he resigned not long afterwards. On Jan. 12, 1871, he was raised to the Bench as a judge of the Supreme Court of the Province of Quebec. As a politician he figured largely in the



SIR ELZEAR TASCHEREAU.

Canadian Parliament as member for the constituency of Beauce, for which he was first elected on July 15, 1861, re-elected in 1863, but defeated in the year 1867.

While in Parliament he took a prominent part in the Confederation debates, and supported Messrs. Macdonald and Cartier in carrying the resolutions in favor of the political union of British North America. In 1873 he was transferred from the district of Quebec to that of Kamouraska, with resident headquarters at Riviere du Loup.

He wrote and published in the year 1874 "The Criminal Law of Canada with notes, commentaries, precedents and indictments, etc.," consisting of two volumes, and also "The Code de Procedure Civile du Bas Canada, with annotations." Other publications were "The Criminal Code of the Dominion of Canada as taken in 1893, with commentaries, etc.," and "Notice Genealogique sur la Famille Taschereau," in the year 1896.

He received the degree of LL.D. from Laval University in the year 1890, and was raised to Chief Justice of the Dominion of Canada in 1902. In this same year he was created a knight, and in the year 1904 was made a Privy Councillor. In 1904, between the time of the departure of Lord Minto and the coming of Earl Grey he was administrator of the Government, with the title of His Excellency. This title was at first not accorded him, but he claimed his right, wrote to the Colonial Office and received a favorable answer.

He retired from his judicial position in 1906.

The deceased gentleman had attended a number of sessions of the judicial committee of the Privy Council and was there last year. It was his intention to go over this year; in fact he had stated not many days before his death, after having recuperated from his first stroke, that he was thinking of attending the coronation.

He was married in 1857 to Mary Antionette, daughter of the late Hon. R. U. Horwood, M.P.P., Quebec, who predeceased him in the year 1896. He again married in the year 1897, Marie Louise, daughter of the late Charles Panet, of Ottawa. His first family consisted of two sons, Elzear, of the Supreme Court, Ottawa; Rev. Auguste, of Riviere du Loup, and three daughters, Mrs. Louise Tache, of Montreal; Mrs. F. Beard, of Ottawa, and Mrs. Eugene Panet, of India. His present family consists of three sons, De Montarville, Maurice and Edward.

Flew With Three Sisters.

Brussels, April 15.—Aviator Lanser yesterday flew in an aeroplane from the aviation field at Kiewit to the Belgian capital, carrying his three sisters as passengers. The distance was about 54 miles, which is a new record for a cross-country aeroplane flight with four passengers.

Tire By-law Meeting

A meeting of the sub-committee to discuss the Independent Tire Co. by-law, will be held at the home of Dr. Morrison on Monday night at eight o'clock.

The residents of sub-division No. 14, West Ward, include those on Weller, Elm and Cedar streets, and all are asked to consider this invitation as a personal one, and attend the meeting.

SIX ITALIANS HELD ON REMAND

Uncertainty As to Who Committed Murder During Brawl

Special to the Review.

Toronto, April 15.—Owing to an uncertainty as to the actual weilder of the knife which caused the death of Veci Gioacchi, in a brawl last night, six Italians under arrest were remanded for a week on charges of vagrancy, the charge of murder being withdrawn for the time being.

Editor Burned to Death.

Claremont, N.H., April 15.—Samuel H. Storey, editor of the Narrative, a weekly publication, met a tragic death yesterday. While apparently asleep on a sofa in his apartment, fire from an overheated stove communicated to the furniture and burned him to a crisp.

Storey lived alone in his newspaper office, and, according to his own statement, lived on nine cents a day. He was one of the oldest pubishers in the state, having been born in 1833. He had no relatives so far as known.

RECIPROCITY BILL IN U.S. HOUSE

Debate Will Probably Last For Three Day.

Washington, April 15.—The Canadian reciprocity bill formally was laid before the House just before adjournment yesterday and after general debate which probably will continue for three days, it will be passed. That this action will be taken is no longer a matter for speculation. The Democratic House, in its conduct of the resolution providing for the direct election of Senators, which passed yesterday, and the bill providing for the publication of campaign contributions which passed yesterday, has indicated beyond all doubt its ability to put through its legislative program.

Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee, called up the Canadian bill at five o'clock. While no time was fixed for general debate, a motion was adopted dividing whatever time is consumed between Mr. Underwood, who reported the bill, and Representative Dalzell of Pennsylvania, the Republican member of the ways and means committee, who will lead the opposition to the measure.

Mr. Underwood announced on the floor that he would yield five hours of his own time to Representative McCall of Massachusetts, author of the reciprocity measure which passed the House last session, and, which the pending Democratic measure is a counterpart. He also declared informally that he did not want to limit the discussion of the measure, but that he believed it should be concluded within three days. Speaking for the opposition, Mr. Dalzell said he had no desire unduly to protract the debate.

Hon. G. P. Graham will have the Railway Act amended so as to safeguard against fires.

Four "Black Hand" operators at Newark, N.J., were yesterday sentenced to seven years each.

GODERICH YOUTH CONVICTED OF MURDER OF ANDERSON GIRL

After Seventy-Five Minutes Jury Decides Against Prisoner—Chief Justice Falconbridge Says There Is Not the Slightest Chance of a Commutation of the Sentence and Advises Him to Prepare for Death.

Goderich, April 15.—Edward Jardine was yesterday found guilty of the murder of Lizzie Anderson in a lonely spot near the fair grounds on Sept. 20 last, and was sentenced by Chief Justice Falconbridge to be hanged on the 16th of June.

The court was crowded when the trial was re-opened at 9.30 yesterday morning, and almost immediately L. E. Dancey, the prisoner's counsel, began his address to the jury. He declared that there was not a tittle of evidence on which to base a conviction, except the prisoner's confession to Dr. Smith. There was, he contended, no reason or motive for the commission of this act. Yet the indictment charges "malice aforethought." "If you find there is no malice, you will be quite justified in finding him guilty on account of the insanity, and to my mind that is the proper verdict in this case," he said.

"Physicians for the defence and also Dr. Garrow, a crown witness, gave the opinion that at the time of the crime the man, being a sexual pervert, would not have knowledge of the quality of his act.

"You have witnessed the conduct of the prisoner in the box, the most uninterested man in court, apparently.

EDWARD JARDINE.

Our hospitals and asylums are full of such as he. Can you decide for capital punishment in his case?"

Mr. Dancey spoke for 45 minutes, and was followed by Mr. Blackstock, who spoke for an hour. The case went to the jury at noon. When court reopened at 1.15, the jurymen were in their places.

"Gentlemen of the jury, have you agreed on a verdict?" asked the clerk.

"We have."

"What is it?"

"We find the prisoner guilty," said Foreman Andrew.

Jardine was then ordered to stand up.

When asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed, he replied: "No."

Chief Justice Falconbridge in sentencing the prisoner, declared that there was not the slightest hope that the sentence would be commuted.

"I would recommend you to spend the remaining days left you on earth in preparation of the judgment of the world to come."

To Pay For Railway.

Seattle, Wash., April 15.—A topic of discussion in Japan when the steamship Kamakura departed from Yokohama, on March 28, was the loan of $5,000,000 by Japanese banks to the Chinese communication department, the money to be expended for railway purposes. The issue price of the loan was 95, and the rate of interest five per cent. The money will be used to pay for the Peking-Hankow Railroad, wrecked under pressure by the Chinese Government.

PERJURY IN TRIAL AT COBOURG

Brimacombe Girl Alive at Nine O'clock on Night of Tragedy

Special to the Review.

Cobourg, April 15.—As a result of the evidence of Henry Hickman last night in the Matthews trial, which was to the effect that he saw Johanna Brimacombe alive at nine o'clock on the night of the tragedy, there were rumors to-day of witnesses for the Crown being arrested for perjury. H. F. Keys, a witness wanted for to-day, has left the town.

Vanstone Gets Life.

Goderich, April 15.—George Vanstone was last night found guilty of manslaughter in connection with the death of his son, whom he beat with a stick, and was sentenced by Justice Falconbridge to life imprisonment. The prisoner's wife burst into tears when she heard the sentence. The trial lasted less than four hours, the defence being insanity. The lawyers for the prosecution and defence left the address to the jury in the hands of the judge.

Auto Racer Killed.

Kansas City, Mo., April 15.—Ned Crane, driving a Buick racing car in a practice test at Elm Ridge track here yesterday afternoon preparatory to an attempt to-day to establish new records, was instantly killed when his machine threw two tires and turned over. An employe of the Buick factory, riding with Crane, was dangerously injured.

TO PREPARE FOR AN INVASION

Is Order to United States Troops in Event of Further Fighting.

Special to the Review.

Washington, April 15.—The United States troops on the Mexican border were to-day ordered to prepare for an invasion of the Southern Republic in case of any further fighting in border towns. In spite of this order the insurgents are preparing for an attack on Juarez, just across the line from El Paso.

Publish My Letter The World Over

The Words of Harold P. Bushy, Who Was Permanently Cured of Chronic Lumbago by "Nerviline."

"Three years ago I discovered that a man subject to lumbago might just as well be dead as alive." These words open the sincere, straightforward letter of H. P. Bushy, a well-known man in the plumbing and tinsmithing business in Portland.

"One attack came after another, and lumbago got to be a chronic thing with me. I could scarcely get in a day's work before that knifing, cruel pain would attack my back. I used a gallon of liniments; not one of them seemed penetrating enough to get at the core of the pain. I read in the Montreal Witness about Nerviline, and got five bottles. It is a wonderful medicine—I could feel its soothing pain-relieving action every time it was applied. When I got the disease under control with Nerviline, I built up my strength and fortified my blood by taking Ferrozone at meals. This treatment cured me permanently, and I urge everyone to give up the thick, white, oily liniments they are using, and try an up-to-date, penetrating, pain-destroyer like Nerviline.

THE POWER REPORT

We do not print in this issue, as promised on Thursday, the report from the Hydro Commission on the power situation at Peterborough, so far as it may concern the project of municipal exploitation.

The press had been advised, in the interval, that this report was supplied, following on a request from the City Council, made some time ago, and it should have been transmitted to the city officials in due course It was, however, brought by Hon. Mr. Beck, and was read at the gathering he addressed on Wednesday evening.

The report will appear after it has been in the hands of the Council and formally given out for publication.

The remarks made by Mr. Beck are printed, as they deal with the power situation at points in the province widely diverse.

THE TRUST DANGER

The reciprocity pact will tend to unite the United States and Canada closer commercially. It will solidify the two peoples on the continent, break down the barriers that have been the safeguard of Canada since she became a nation and decided to carve out her own destiny. The more barriers are removed between the two countries, the more Canada will be thrown into the hands of the great financial manipulators of the United States, under the oppression of which 90,000,000 are to day looking to a nation of 8,000,000 for relief. This tendency cannot be avoided. But does Canada in wanting more trade with the United States, want also her commercial methods? Is Canada prepared to be dominated by the same powerful forces that dominate legislation at Washington, that have dominated during the Republican regime, until a desperate people rose with one accord in protest?

It is openly recognized, and almost philosophically accepted that the "interests" of the United States manage to get their weal considered first in the legislation at Washington. They have had their lobbyists, their unseen influences at work for years, directing and moulding legislation to suit their ends, and the people who elected representatives have had to endure the spectacle of congress being made a tool of the trusts. Anyone who has read of the iniquitous tariff schedules in cottons, woolens, and in steel and iron, and of the machinations of the "interests" would dread the day when such methods would be applied at Ottawa.

It is true that even to day, there are lobbyists at Ottawa, seeking to mould or influence legislation in the interest of manufacturers or of business people. But with the assimilation of Canadian commerce with the United States "practical" methods, will Canada be able to keep free from the chloroforming of public conscience such as the United States suffered for many years? It is openly charged that the American interests are at the bottom of the reciprocity agitation that they wish to include Canada in their toils without having to jump a tariff barrier. The Standard Oil Company controls the Ontario Oil fields. The copper trust controls copper mines in Northern Ontario. The timber of the United States is held in the hands of a few individuals—or eighty per cent of it, to be correct — and they would like to get the Canadian forest reserves into their paws. They they would control the whole forest product of the continent.

The trusts work insidiously. In the guise of many apparently harmless or philanthropic moves, they work their deadly aim of further enmeshing the public. Backed by unlimited millions they seek to create public sentiment through newspapers, through inspired articles, through lobbying. The cloven foot may be found in many directions, and it apparently has started for Canada at last

This reciprocity pact which, offers the bait of an enlarged market with the trusts, is drawing Canada toward the vortex. When the Dominion becomes involved in it, is swirled around without balance, it will be too late to withdraw. The time to stop this tendency is NOW, before the maelstrom has rendered powerless the good intentions of the Dominion. If Canada wants the spectacle of parliament being besieged by trust influences from a foreign country, of a campaign of education being conducted by newspapers like the Toronto Globe to betray the country into the clutch's of these gigantic over-riders of the law; if it wants to have a premier who finds it necessary to apply the big stick to maintain at least a semblance of public right and justice, then let it vote for reciprocity, the first step toward the glorious end of a part of the British Empire.

Fifty thousand bottles of champagne were smashed by rioters at Dizzy, France. The place at least was quite appropriate.

One hundred people in New York responded to an advertisement to sell a quart of blood for the benefit of a patient at a hospital. There are some people who don't object to being bled, at any rate.

The Anglo-American arbitration treaty is progressing nicely at Washington. It is expected that the treaty will be ready in time for submission to the senate this session. There has not been any visible sign that armaments of the nations are affected, however.

The King's Birthday on June 3 and Coronation day will be statutory holidays. With Victoria day, the King's Birthday, Coronation day, and Dominion day so closely bunched, it will seem to most people a month of holidays, relieved of the monotony by a little work sandwiched in.

BOSTON HERALD: IN PLAIN WORDS IT IS HELD THAT AMERICAN RECIPROCITY WITH CANADA MEANS THE END OF BRITISH IMPERIAL FEDERATION. THE GREAT PRIZE IS CANADA, NOMINALLY COMMERCIAL CANADA, BUT ACTUALLY THE POLITICAL DOMINION.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier will not go to the imperial conference in May, as he has to stay at Ottawa in order to save his Liberal followers from making a mess of things. Not one of his ministers has the necessary to keep things moving nicely. Which goes to show, after all, that the Liberals are perilously near the internal dissension line. Left alone, they would split into warring factions, and fall.

When Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Cured her Chronic Liver Complaint

Mrs. R. Smith, of Winnipeg, Man., tells an interesting story of relief from almost intolerable sufferings:

"I can hardly tell you how great my sufferings have been. Chronic liver complaint accompanied by biliousness were a daily source of trial to me. Every day I experienced the sickening effects of these ailments. I longed for some medicine that should permanently drive them away.

Hearing of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, I thought they were worthy of a trial. My surprise was indeed great. From the very first I experienced relief. Continuing with them I found my troubles were slowly but surely leaving me, and before long I once more knew what it was to be free from the harassing effects of the ailments that had long sickened and weakened me. So great is my faith in Dr. Morse's Indian Pills that I shall never on any account be without them."

AN APOLOGY TO FATHER McCOLL

Orange Sentinel

Our attention has been drawn to the fact that we have done Father McColl of Peterboro, an injustice in accepting as true, and commenting upon, a statement in the Peterboro Times of January 19. That issue of the Times contained what purported to be an extract from a letter that Father McColl had written to Canon Davidson in reply to an invitation to take tea with several local clergymen. The words used in the Times were: "There can be no compromise between the men in the church and those outside of it. The warfare between the two will be one also in which kid gloves will play no part."

Although a prompt denial was given to this in Peterboro; the fact has not come to our knowledge until now. The Sentinel therefore frankly expresses its regret at having taken the report in the Times as true, and extends to Father McColl its sincere apologies at having unwittingly misrepresented him in this way.

THE QUEEN'S SEPARATION

A Queen's graduate, writing on the method of taking the vote as to the future relations of Queen's and the Presbyterian Church, puts the case forcibly, as well as wittily, when he says, "Reference has been made to the fact that the graduates of Queen's have been asked to vote for one of two plans (1) Separation from the Church, or (2) a modified connection. Those graduates who want to vote for the retention of the present connection are given no chance to express themselves. The University trustees' reference of the question to the graduates is like the negro preacher who told his flock, 'Breddern, dere am just two roads for you to take. Dere am de broad road that leads down to damnation, and de narrow way dat takes you to perdition.' 'Is dat so, brudder?' said a venerable darkey in the audience. 'Is dat so, brudder? Den dis nigger mus' take to the woods.'"

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

CHAPTER XII. (Continued.)

Accepting the humane task, lower, lower, lower sank the aeronef, until its car appeared almost to touch the waves. The man in distress seemed to throw something like a lasso over the nacelle of the airship, and the great bird rose slightly, as if to be safe from the billows. The Stickleback again peeped above the waves, her manhole opened, and the castaway of the stove boat went down into the submarine.

It was absolutely beyond the power of any one looking on to guess what was taking place. Why had the man made the signals for help if the submarine was standing by? If the coming of the submarine to his rescue was unexpected, why had he not cast off the line from the aeronef? Why— And suddenly they all felt that something sinister, something devilish, was taking place. They heard a shout from Theodore, a scream from Virginia. The submarine had come awash again, and from her open manhole came the crack of a pistol—a pistol aimed at the airship. Then she sank again, and the airship was drawn downward by the line. Struggling toward land, hanging by the fatal thread, like a trapped bird, she strained at her tether, while the grim submarine, like a devilfish which had thrown a tentacle about a waterfowl, made seaward, out into the gulf, out into deep water, with a purpose as manifest as it was deadly.

CHAPTER XIII.

DEVILFISH VERSUS BIRD.

When the aeronef was run out on her ways by the long shed in which she had been built there was a flutter of expectancy among those so deeply concerned in her flight.

"The first mate always sails with the ship, uncle," Virginia suggested.

"Would you really go on the trial trip?" he asked.

"Try me," said she. "I want to."

"You'd be worth a dozen of Captain Harrods," replied Carson. "He hasn't the faintest idea of the principles of the Virginia, while you could fly her in a week."

"I could now," asserted Virginia. "The Virginia is a simple, manageable little thing, like her namesake."

"If she shows all her namesake's sweet traits"— began Theodore.

"Then I'm to go?"

"Captain," cried Theodore, "here's a girl that wants to ship as first mate! Make sail, captain. We're going."

But Virginia seated herself beside Theodore, wearing a dress of soft white wool, a close fitting little cap on her head and carrying a jacket over her arm.

"Now, shall I keep the manometer readings? Oh, you haven't any! Well, then, the altimeter statoscope?" she suggested.

"It's self registering," said Theodore. "Really there's nothing to do except in emergencies, and"—

"And there'll be no emergencies!" she cried. "Throw in the clutch, admiral of the circumambient inane! You do the work, and I'll play lady! We're off!"

"Are you willing," said he, turning to her, "to forgive me for this and everything I may ever have done, whatever happens?"

"Whatever happens or doesn't happen, I forgive you!" she cried. "Throw in the clutch before the gyroscopes stop and the Virginia gets brain fag—or shall I"—

"Just for luck," said Theodore, "you throw it in."

She threw over the lever, and the wing sections started like 40,000 boys' "buzzes." The big bird rose perpendicularly from the ways and fanned the ground no more. Theodore turned on a little more speed, put the rudders aport to bring her head to the light seaward wind, and as she mounted higher and higher he tried her control. He pushed over the lever that determined the thrust of the driving blades, and she shot in over the dunes like a wild thing until he headed her back for the gulf. Well inside the bar, so that an overturn might not mean a drowning, he circled about in a wide curve, which he gradually narrowed by a more extreme use of the helm until she was spinning round and round in an orbit, in which the tips of the inner wings were almost stationary and "treading" air like a pausing swimmer.

"That tests out the balancing device!" shouted Theodore. "How's that?"

"Aye, aye, sir!" said Virginia. "That do sure test out the balancing device. And if you let her chase her tail like this much longer I'm going to be indisposed. Please whirl her the other way awhile, unkie."

Virginia walked forward. They were flying higher now, and she could see the pine woods far inland, with their square patches of plowed fields, their white houses behind the great green globes of the china trees. Far over the northwest soared a great aeronat, silver white, as if covered with tin foil.

"I wonder if that isn't the Roc?" queried Virginia.

"If it is," said he, "and she comes about this place we'll show her what real aviation is."

SHE LEARNED FROM HER LITTLE GIRL

Dame Bouchard Found Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

They cured her Daughters Kidney Disease and she tried them herself with the result that her backache and heart trouble are gone.

Jonquieres, Chicoutimi Co., Que., April 14.—(Special) — Encouraged to use Dodd's Kidney Pills by the fact that they completely cured her little girl of kidney disease, Dame Jos. Bouchard, of this village, is satisfied she has at last found permanent relief from the heart trouble and backache that have troubled her fo iso long.

"Yes," Dame Bouchard says, in an interview, "I am happy to tell you Dodd's Kidney Pills have made me well. They completely cured ny little girl, twelve years old, of kidney disease, so I made up my mind to try them for my backache and heart trouble. I have taken twelve boxes and feel sure that they will completely cure me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are doing a great work in this neighborhood. They have yet to find a case of kidney disease they cannot cure. Whether the disease takes the form of Backache, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Urinary Trouble or Bright's Disease, it is all the same to Dodd's Kidney Pills. They always cure it.

HON. ADAM BECK ADDRESSES

THE COMMISSION'S WORK

Hon. Mr. Beck went on to briefly describe the formation of the Power Commission and its relation to the province. Practically, under direction of the commission, the government loaned the money to municipalities, but saw that sufficient money was raised to pay 4 per cent. interest, expenses, and to return the debt in 30 years. There was no revenue to the province.

NO POWER FOR SALE.

Efforts made by the commission to secure power in the Trent district had not been successful. The several companies operating as one said they had none for sale. Franchises had been secured at all available points by what was practically a monopoly. To supply the eastern district the Hydro-Electric had to go to the United States for a supply of power, which would be served as far east as Kingston.

CHEAPEST IN CANADA.

Peterborough could have its independent service and get power cheaper than at any point in Canada. That was the report of the commission to be laid before the city. The value today of a power was not the value ten years hence. Now was the time to secure it. Don't wait for the future. The report was conservative, reliable and safe. Facts were facts. The city now had the truth in power matters. It gave contrasting figures as to the development and cost of acquiring and using power from two sources, both available and within easy reach of the city.

In reply to a question as to the relative position of the city with power at $20, and no development expense, or development and an expense of $17.50, Mr. Beck said that if the municipality had any regard for the future it had better secure what it wanted now. With coal going up in price, no one could say what the value of water power would be fifteen years hence.

WOULDN'T DISCUSS REPORT

He would not discuss the report in advance of reading it, but it demanded careful consideration in every detail, and comparison with what was being done in other centres.

After listening to the report of which Hon. Mr. Beck read, a vote of thanks was moved by Mr. D. O'Connell, who took occasion to express the deep sense of obligation the city felt, and to acknowledge the invaluable aid rendered. Rev. Mr. Davidson seconded the motion. Mr. Beck briefly acknowledged the thanks of the meeting.

Mr. Ryerson Ritchie and His Honor Judge Huycke, chairman of the association, also spoke in commendation and appreciation of the commission and its chairman.

HEALEY'S FALLS.

An inquiry was made as to the position in the field of power exploration of Healey's Falls. There seemed to be a question of jurisdiction between the Dominion and Ontario Governments.

Hon. Mr. Beck said that a bill had been submitted to defend the rights of the province. The province was assured that it had control of the falls, and they felt they were secure. It might require a law suit to determine the exact status in the matter, but such a course would settle all points.

With acknowledgement to the host of the evening, the meeting adjourned.

May Lose Eyesight.

Toronto, April 15.—William Faline is in the General Hospital in a critical condition as a result of severe burns on the face and hands received while at work on the premises of the Imperial Varnish Co., at the foot of Morse street.

Faline, who is 32 years of age, is employed by the Polson Iron Works, but yesterday he was working on repairs to a boiler in the varnish works. The oil lamp he was using exploded.

It is feared that, should he recover, he will lose his eyesight.

Boy Immigrants for Toronto.

St. John, N.B., April 15.—The Canadian Pacific Railway liner Empress of Britain arrived shortly after noon yesterday with 1,480 passengers—180 cabin, 453 second cabin and 847 steerage. Included were two special parties of farmers and 94 boys from the Fagan Home, London, bound for the home in Toronto.

A female second cabin passenger, who gave her name as "Miss Jack May," was detained by the Canadian immigration officials, she being attired in male costume.

Girls Got Safely Out.

St. Louis, Mo., April 15.—Two hundred girls and women, employed in a shirt factory on the seventh floor of a Washington avenue building, left with the assistance of firemen down the fire-escape, following an explosion and fire late yesterday on the third floor.

"One woman leaped to the sidewalk from the second floor and was picked up unconscious.

THE CRUCIFIXION BY CHORISTERS AT ST. JOHN'S

Excellent Work in Presentation Before Large Congregation

The choir of St. John's Church, under the direction of Mr. Richard J. Devey, organist and choirmaster, for the sixth year demonstrated their fine ability in choral work, by again presenting Sir John Stainer's solemn meditation, "The Crucifixion" on the evening of Good Friday. The large congregation reverently followed the unfolding of the world's great tragedy, from the lesson read by Canon Davidson to the closing hymn, "It is Finished." The choral numbers and hymns were rendered better than ever, and if special numbers many be mentioned, "From the throne of His cross," "God so loved the world," and the men's chorus in the "Seven words from the cross," were rendered pleasingly. Mr. H. W. Morphet and Mr. George Chandler, All Saints, took their tenor parts as in former years, and as did all the soloists acquitted themselves admirably. Mr. Hagup Sawers handled the bass solo parts with confidence, and Mr. Halpany and Mr. Chandler were heard to advantage in the duet, "So Thou liftest Thy Divine petition." Mr. A. Flowers, and Mr. N. Greenhalgh filled the other parts of the bass numbers ably, while the lovely quartette, which was sung with the parts doubled, and without accompaniment, "God so loved the world," in addition to the above voices, had the skillful assitance of Mrs. R. J. Devey, Mrs. W. Common, soprano; and Seward and Mrs. Hinchliffe, alto. Miss Maggie Flowers presided with skill at the organ, and Mr. R. J. Devey conducted in his usual earnest effective manner. A member of the congregation who has heard each of the six performances stated afterwards that last night's work was the best of them all.

In the vestry, Canon Davidson spoke a few words of hearty appreciation to the choristers.

The wardens, Mr. A. L. E. Coulthard and Mr. W. Johnston looked to the comfort of the congregation in the seating arrangements. Mrs. Tetford of Ennismore came in to help in the chorus, and was given a hearty welcome by the choir.

SERVICE AT THE CENTRAL PARK

Large Attendance of Citizens—Music by S. A. Bands

A large number of citizens turned out yesterday afternoon to the meeting held by the Ministerial Association in Central Park.

Rev. Canon Davidson and His Honor Judge Huycke were the principal speakers, and on the platform with them, were a number of the members of the Ministerial Association.

The service was in keeping with the significance of Good Friday.

And Take Mrs. Ripley's Advice

Lots of women are suffering tortures with their backs, when they need not do so. Mrs. Ripley had such frightful pains in her back that she could not do her housework. She tells how she cured herself. WILLIAMSDALE EAST.

"I cannot refrain from writing you about the benefits I have received from taking GIN PILLS. I suffering dreadfully with my back and have suffered with it for twenty years. I tried everything but got no relief, until I bought GIN PILLS. I have taken six boxes of GIN PILLS and now I have not the sign of an ache or pain in my back. I am now 48 years of age and feel as well as I ever did in my life. There is nothing that can hold a place with GIN PILLS for curing Pain In The Back to which women are subject."

ONE FOURTH OF ALL THE MOTOR CARS BUILT IN AMERICA IN 1911 WILL BE

Ford Model T's

It has been estimated by Motor Car Manufacturers that 150,000 automobiles will be built in 1911. Out of this immense quantity 37,500 will be FORD MODEL T's built by the Ford Motor Co.

There is a reason for this exceptionally large number of FORDS and FORD popularity.

The demand for a car of Ford design and Ford quality has been so great that a yearly output of over 30,000 Model T's has been required to supply the demand of buyers.

Ford design and construction, Ford quality in material, strength, durability and service, ECONOMY in UP-KEEP are features that have caused FORD to manufacture this season ONE-FOURTH of all the cars built in AMERICA.

DO IT NOW

The habit of putting off doing the things we ought to do is responsible for much of the trouble people spend so many regrets over. It almost seems that getting their eyes looked after in time is the duty most often put off by most people. Any inconvenience, even pain and discomfort are endured rather than "come to glasses." Could people only realize the feeling of positive relief and the added power of work that glasses would give them this urgent duty would be attended to at once. Could they only witness, as does the eye-sight specialist the numerous cases where it has been left too long undone and no help can be given any more with glasses, articles like this would be unnecessary. As it is we must keep on giving the old advice. We make no charge for consultation.

REV. DR. LANGFELDT TO SAY FAREWELL

To Congregation of St. Luke's To-morrow—His Appontment

Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, after being rector of St. Luke's since 1901, has resigned, and has received, at the request of the people, from the Bishop, the appointment as rector of the parish of Innisfil. Dr. Langfeldt will begin his duties about May 1. He will preach his farewell sermons at St. Luke's church to-morrow, and services of added interest have been arranged for the occasion.

NEVER PUT OFF TILL TO-MORROW-

An Echo of the Farmers' Bank Smash

Tales of intense dissatisfaction reach here from the northern part of the county of Peterborough, especially in the direction of Galway, the most northern in the west riding. The capital of this township is Kinmount, at the polar end of the Bobcaygeon road. Here until recently was established a branch of the far famed Farmers' Bank. It is rumored that on the eve of the explosion in which so many people lost their livelihood, a very well known Gallwayite had a dream, which some say was prompted by a friend's advice. At any rate, whether he had a dream or not, he took the overland route to Kinmount, with all speed and got his money out in time. Some of his neighbors were not so fortunate and awoke to find the savings of years had vanished in the smoke.

WEIGHED AND FOUND WANTING

Offenders Gathered in to Face th Magistrate

George Robinson, who lives in Lindsay was drunk yesterday, and it cost him the usual $2 at police court this morning.

WOULDN'T PEACH

Arthur Tooby pleaded not guilty of being drunk and disorderly on the 13th. When arrested he was shouting and creating a general disturbance, and the officer experienced some difficulty in making the arrest. There were others with him at the time, but Toohy was the only man arrested. He refused to disclose the names of his rowdy companions.

The case was adjourned till Wednesday, April 19th.

$10 FINE.

Robert Sheridan, the blacklister who bought the bottle from F. R. J. Mitchell, will have to hand over $10. It was his first offence.

A HANDOUT

A Toronto man named William Sharp was arrested for vagrancy last week, and could not favorably account for himself. Friends in Toronto however sent him enough money to take him back, and he will leave the city to day.

ALSO ANOTHER

A man named Lees, who was out of work, and who is a painter by trade was arrested last week for vagrancy. Ald. Duncan has given him a job that will keep him occupied some time at least.

FROM BAD TO WORSE

The celerity with which a vagrant named Brown beat it out of court, when he was ordered to go was very laughable. He told His Worship that he was on his way to Lindsay to work on the C. P. R.

"Don't come back here again," came from the Magistrate as he disappeared

MEHAFFY'S CASE

Charged with breaking into the stores of J. R. Bell and George Wheeler on April 7, and stealing, Walter Mehaffy appeared to-day. He elected to be tried summarily and pleaded not guilty to both offences.

Mehaffy and Robert L. Anderson also stole a turkey from George Whibbs of East City, Mehaffy pleaded guilty to this charge. Anderson was not present himself, but his father gave bond for him to appear within a week.

Judgment was reserved till April 22nd.

TO BE HELD TUESDAY 18TH

The adjourned meeting of the local centre of the Astronomical Society will be held at the Collegiate on Tuesday evening, April 18th. There will be a lecture on the planet Jupiter, illustrated with lantern slides. In addition the slides that should have accompanied the review of Prof. Ritchie's lecture, will be presented. The evening promises to be one of great interest. All invited.

BEAUTIFUL EYES

are made beautiful by long, silky lashes, and well defined, lustrous brows. Eyes, like diamonds, depend on their setting. The beauties of the face are lost if the eye brows are thin and scanty; and the lashes are short and lifeless. Parisian Lash Lustre grows beautiful, soft, silky lashes. It has done so for society women throughout Europe, and it comes here well recommended to do the same for you. Parisian Lash Lustre is not a dye or colorator, but a scientific preparation for beautifying the eye lashes and brows. Our guarantee goes with every box of Parisian Lash Lustre. A two weeks' treatment will bring beauty to your eyes that you have never before possessed. By mail, prepaid, in opal boxes, on receipt of price, fifty cents. B. V. Marion, sole distributer, Bridgeburg, Ont.

EASTER MARKET

Eggs at 16 Cents—Other Prevailing Prices

The market this morning was undoubtedly the most flourishing of the season. The attendance was extremely large, and the offerings in all lines of produce was by no means stinted.

Every available nook and corner in the market hall was occupied, and the jam reminded one of the time when the Christmas shopping was at its height.

A considerable quantity of maple syrup was on hand to-day. This was quickly bought up. It sold at 40 cents a quart.

Some fat, juicy chickens were also sold, although the prices were rather high.

Potatoes have jumped a little. Some really splendid turkeys were also up in price.

The following prices prevailed—Pork, 11c to 12c; veal, 8c to 10c; turkeys, 20c lb.; chickens, 80c each; potatoes, $1 bag; maple syrup, 40c quart; live piglets, $6 pair; butter, 25c lb.; eggs, 16c doz.; baled hay, $14 ton; hay in bulk, $14 ton; apples, 40c and 50c peck.

RAGING HEADACHE STOPPED AT ONCE

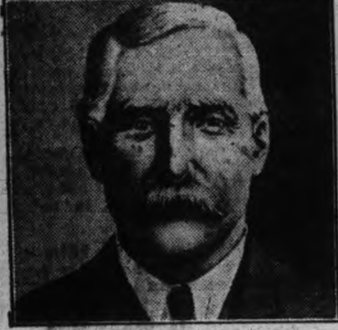
When He Took "Fruit-a-tives"

SHANLY, ONT., Sept. 23rd, 1910.

"You certainly have the Greatest discovered Headache Cure in the world. Before "Fruit-a-tives" came before the public, I suffered tortures from Headaches caused by Stomach Disorders.

"One of your travellers called on me when I had one of my raging headaches and had my head almost raw from external applications.

"I hated to see any person coming into the store (much less a commercial traveller) and I told him very curtly that I had a headache but he insisted on my trying "Fruit-a-tives".



"I did so, with what I would call amazing results. They completely cured me and since then (nearly six years ago) it is only necessary for me to take one occasionally to preserve me in my present good health. I was 65 years old yesterday and have been a general store keeper at the above address for twenty-five years". WM. PITT

Dealers everywhere have "Fruit-a-tives" at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50 or trial size, 25c. or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

"PILLS LIKE A FYLE"

So Harsh and Drastic are Many Pills as to Seriously Injure Health.

In a letter written from his home in Valencia, Mr. Marsh Selwyn does service to thousands by drawing attention to the injuries inflicted upon delicate people by drastic purgative pills.

"For a long time I suffered from constipation. This condition compelled the use of pills. Like many another, I made the unwise choice of using pills that were like lightning in their activity. I began to be filled with intestinal disturbances, constant rumblings, gas in the bowels and diarrhoea. I grew pale and emaciated. Then the doctor told me drastic irritating pills had caused catarrh of the bowels, an almost incurable disease. Explaining my situation to a friend, he advised a trial of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I speedily experienced the healing and curative effect they exert on the stomach, liver and bowels. The intestines, freed from irritating drugs, rapidly regained natural tone, the bowels acted as if nature and not Dr. Hamilton's Pills were at work. I know it will be of value to thousands to know that a pill as mild and curative as Dr. Hamilton's is available to the ailing."

For bowel disorders, sick headache, constipation, liver and stomach derangement, there is no pill so invariably sure to cure as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Refuse a substitute. Sold in 25c boxes, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

OPENING OF CASH BARGAIN STORE

Attractive Premises With Complete and Up-to-date Stock

A handsomely fitted out addition to the clothing stores of the city, was opened this morning and will be known hereafter as the Cash Bargain store.

It was formerly the Knickerbocker store, and after undergoing alterations for the past couple of weeks, was formally thrown open for business to day.

The new store presents a remarkably creditable appearance from the street, which impression is increased when one enters. Everything looks bright and inviting.

The stock is one that can be highly recommended and is composed of a first class line of ladies' and gents' furnishings, blouses, hats and many minor necessities of clothing.

The store will be conducted on a strictly cash basis. Mr. H. Zacks has left nothing undone which will enable him to cater to the best custom in the city, and the public are cordially invited to drop in and inspect his complete and up-to-date stock.

ANOTHER GREAT ARTIST PAYS TRIBUTE TO THE

NEW SCALE WILLIAMS PIANO

Mischa Elman, the great Russian Violinist, has been greeted by large audiences wherever he has appeared, and has written the following letter about the "New Scale Williams:

"In leaving Canada, after this my second tour here, I do so with many feelings of appreciation, and foremost among these is the delight obtained from the use of the NEW SCALE WILLIAMS PIANO. As you know this instrument was used at all of my concerts in both tours in Canada, and blended so perfectly and was in every way so satisfactory with its full, rich tone, that I cannot say enough in its praise—only to call it perfect.

—MISCHA ELMAN.

When great artists repeatedly choose the New Scale Williams Piano to assist them, it proves that they find all those wonderful tonal qualities, the strength and ability to blend perfectly with the human voice, the violin, or any instrument the artist may use to demonstrate his marvellous gifts of interpretation.

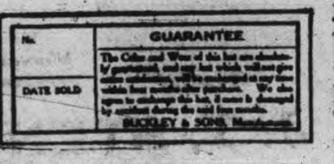
"Right here you will find the Buckley guarantee."

Buy a Buckley Hat to-day—and there's a strong probability that it will be in good condition four months hence. So strongly do the makers of the Buckley believe this, that they have issued a guarantee that practically means "hat insurance for four months" to every man who wears the Buckley.

The guarantee stipulates that if a Buckley hat should by any chance—even as a result of accident—show itself in bad condition inside four months, the wearer is entitled to a new one at the shop where he made the former purchase.



But read the guarantee.

Think what it means to be able to say to yourself, on buying a hat: "Now I am hatted for four months to come."

Think what it means, in honesty of manufacture, for the makers of this hat to issue such a sweeping guarantee.

On style as well as quality, the Buckley appeals to men of discrimination—although made in England, the blocks are all from American designs—thus furnishing the ideal combination of right style and right quality.

Union made, and selling at $2.50, the Buckley represents just such exceptional hat value as you might expect from a manufacturer who guarantees his product with a broad, conditionless guarantee such as this.

With the facts before you, can you see any other hat but the Buckley?

BUCKLEY. HATS

TO DR. BEATTIE NESBITT WHEREVER YOU MAY BE

To Beattie Nesbitt Wherever you may

Dear Beat,—Following the journalistic fashion in Toronto, I will drop you a line letting you know what is going on "in our midst." I hope that you are enjoying warmer weather than we have been getting—you're alive, of course—but the real spring has been as tardy as the Toronto police, old man Next Sunday is Easter, and if we haven't got many lilies, we have the hats—so let Easter come. Last Easter you were basking in the sun of popular favor and esteeem, among your great Toronto following, but this Easter, you may be preaching the necessity of following the straight and narrow path among the Hottentots. They told us that you were in Detroit a few days ago. You always were fond of automobiles, weren't you, Beattie, even to the toot and horn! If, while in Detroit, you take to one, don't forget our new Tire Co. when you get a puncture. Send in your order early, and avoid the rush.

Well, of course you know Sir Henry Pellat, the colonel of the Queen's Own. You will remember that he took the regiment over last autumn to England for the manoeuvres, and was received by the court. Now don't you think that was magnificent? Sir Henry wasn't afraid to give the soldiers the time of their lives, just as you managed it for St. John's ward friends. Our Rangers have a colonel, but they say that an honorary colonel would add dignity to the regimental lay-out. Now, whom would you propose for the honor? You are well acquainted with modern exigencies.

* * *

You know something about power, Beattie, having been a political power yourself, once in the dim and misty ages. Some day soon, if nothing suddenly snaps, we will be talking power, of the city, for the city, and by the city. The power companies here have more juice—excuse the slang, but it probably sounds familiar—than they can sell. They want some reciprocity—more markets. To get rid of their power they are selling it at cost and less. But this is no excuse for them. They are a monopoly—just as you were Beattie in political matters in a certain section of Toronto—so death to them! Gadzooks! Why should the city let the power people have all the market for their electrical energy, and see the consumers get it at only a fraction below cost? The city should spend $300,000 or $400,000 and sell power at half cost. That is the way to have power competition.

* * *

Oh yes! Beattie. I nearly forgot to tell you that the Central school is to be remodelled. The Board of Education has made the momentous decision, but we hope you will not worry too much. The doctors prescribe soothing syrup—but you're a doctor, aren't you? We've heard so much of you as bank president, political genius, registrar, that your vocation as a doctor of medicine was nearly forgotten. But coming back to the school. Its great merit is four thick walls. They have stood for sixty years, so why shouldn't they do for sixty more? Being a medical man, you will realize that a school can last forever, just like a person, if it gets a good tonic, for its "innards" every few years. An operation on a school for appendicitis—removing the congested halls—will patch it up in great shape. Of course the cost of $12,000 or $15,000 is a bagatelle, especially in the eyes of a Farmers' Bank president; that doesn't seem a high price for an operation, does it? Some day, perhaps, you will visit us, and then we can show you our beautiful, rehabilitated school, a modernized antique so in keeping with progressive Peterborough.

Good-bye, Beattie, be sure and eat your usual number of eggs to-morrow, and don't forget us in your prayers.

FRANKIE.

MONTREALER WANTS A MILLION DOLLARS

TO SPEND ON THE SICK

Montreal—"If our multi-millionaires would spend a little money to prevent sickness, they would not have to give so much to hospitals and research laboratories" said a well known Montreal physician.

"This is the time of the year when the business man is all run-down and is suffering from biliousness. Women are racked with headaches and stomach troubles. Children are complaining. And most everyone is feeling the effects of 'Spring Fever'.

"If I had a million dollars to spare, I would spend every cent of it for Abbey's Salt and distribute it all over Canada. Then I could prevent most of the people from having Spring Fever, and cure those who did get it".

Opening a copy of the "Canada Lancet", the famous medical journal, the Doctor read "We consider Abbey's the best effervescing salt in any country".

Abbey's Effervescing Salt is a favorite remedy in the homes and may be obtained at all dealers in both 25c and 60c bottles. 85

One of the Old Bunch

Mr. Clarke Earles, one of the most popular ball players of Peterboro's old Midland League ball team, is one of the many holiday visitors to the city from Toronto.

All the kids of those days knew Clarke Earles, who with Dan McCabe used to pass them right on through to Chrissy Graham, when knotholes and fast work over the high board fence at the P.A.A.A.A. grounds, were the methods undertaken by young fandom as a means of watching the game. And he was some coacher too. When the opposing nine was up against it, and this was often the case, it was up to the comedy star of the local bunch to make up some excitement, and he always made good. Those days bring happy memories.

Mr. Earles holds a position with the Gerrard Heintzman Co., and would assist any of the local ball mogulls should they wish to arrange a game, to be played here during the season, with a team from that company.

Bridge Damaged by Ice.

Yamaska, Que., April 15.—The bridge of the Quebec, Montreal & South Railway, between Yamaska and Yamaskaville, was badly damaged Thursday night by the ice in the Yamaska River moving out, and the northbound train, which was due to arrive in Montreal Thursday night, is indefinitely delayed. The structure was so badly damaged when the ice began to shove that it is expected to fall at any time.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF SPORT

WEST END JUNIOR CHAMPS. WERE TOO SWIFT FOR LOCALS

Won Basketball Game With 37-21 Score — Tug of War Winner.

The local Y.M.C.A. intermediates were defeated by the Toronto West End Y.M.C.A. intermediate champions last night in a clean, fast game of basketball.

The half-time score was 21 to 9, in favor of the visitors, and the final figures stood 37 to 21, with Peterborough taking the small end.

The game was featured with fast passing, especially on the part of the visitors. The West Enders had a little advantage in weight, and they made good use of it. Their team-work was a little smoother than that of the locals, and they were seemingly more at their ease from the start, getting off to a nice lead in the initial half.

Both teams checked like demons all the time, keeping the excitement at fever heat from start to finish.

For the winners, Garrett was probably the most conspicuous, as he camped in front of the local net and piled up the score by his good shooting. Witherage, the other forward, got in on some good combination rushes, as did every member on the team.

In the local camp there was not much choice, every man playing a hard, fast game.

The line-up—

West Ends.	Peterborough.
—Forwards—
Garrett	Nicholls
Witherage	Hastie
—Centre—
Corrigan	Wallis
—Defence—
Aldred	Fitzgerald
Montgomery	Hanwell

Officials—

Referee—D. Loomis, Peterborough Y.M.C.A.

Umpire—F. Cook, West End Y.M.C.A., Toronto.

Scorer—A. Harper, Peterborough Y.M.C.A.

Timekeepers—Cook, West End; Ingram, Peterborough.

TUG-OF-WAR.

The junior leaders gave an exhibition of apparatus work as an extra attraction, and at half-time a tug-of-war between school teams took place. The aggregate weight of each team was not to exceed 700 pounds.

The Central school team won two straight pulls from a Collegiate team and repeated the trick with the South Central bunch, thus winning the championship.

FOUR CLUBS IN LINE FOR MIDLAND BASEBALL LEAGUE

First Game Here With Lindsay on May 24th

At the reorganization of the Midland Baseball League, at Port Hope yesterday teams from Peterborough, Cobourg, Lindsay and Port Hope were entered, and it was decided to play a double schedule, with the opening date on May 24th, when Lindsay plays at Peterborough and Port Hope at Cobourg. All players must be residents of their club town by May 20, and after that date no player will be allowed to figure in a game, unless he has been a resident for thirty days. Strictly amateur ball is the slogan.

The schedule drafted is subject to changes, but it will conclude on August 12. Games will be played on Saturdays and holidays.

The president will appoint all umpires. The officers are—

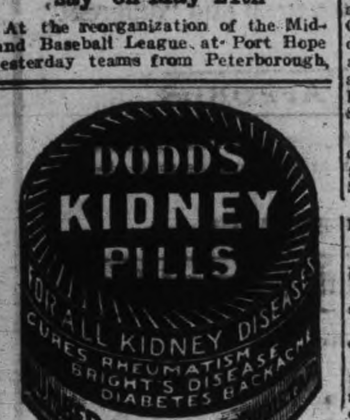
Hon. Pres.—Roy Jex, Cobourg.

President—Blake Crawford, Port Hope.

Vice-President—Dick Butler, Lindsay.

Sec'y-Treas.—J. J. Dorris, Peterborough.

The Review is informed by Secretary Dorris that the team to represent Peterborough will be picked according to ability. All ball players of the city will be welcomed to practice and there will be no impartiality shown in any case.



MIDLAND FOOTBALL LEAGUE

Annual Meeting for Organization Held—W. A. Milburn Secretary

Another successful season of the Midland Football League is the prospect as a result of the annual meeting held at the Y.M.C.A. yesterday afternoon with a good representation of the clubs of last year. E. E. Brumwell, who has held the office of secretary-treasurer for the past two years, resigned and a vote of thanks was tendered him for his splendid services. W. A. Milburn was elected to fill the vacancy and he is a worthy successor.

The officers elected were:

Hon. Pres.—Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P

Hon. Vice-Pres.—Dr. McPherson.

President—Dr. J. C. Devitt, Bowmanville.

1st Vice-Pres.—P. D. Fitzgerald.

2nd. Vice-Pres.—E. E. Brumwell.

Sec.-Treas.—W. A. Milburn.

Executive Committee—T. P. Lancaster, Havelock; J. Redpith, Lakefield; C. Morton, Bethany.

Delegates to the meeting of the O.A.F. U. at Toronto on Easter Monday are G. W. James, E. E. Brumwell and W. A. Milburn.

The clubs which will figure in the league are Lakefield, C. G. E., Bethany Havelock, Warsaw, Bowmanville, Oshawa and Brooklin.

The winners of the local Church League will play in the semi finals of the Midland League.

The schedules will be drawn up at a later meeting.

A WORD TO MOTHERS

The Chief Cause of Spring Eruptions and Chills Explained—Every Mother Should Read This Article

At this season of the year most people are troubled with Spring eruptions and skin irritations. This is an indication that the blood is full of impurities, and can only be removed through the kidneys—the human filters.

In 99 out of 100 cases disordered kidneys are to blame for Spring weakness and disorder. Overworked, they have ceased to become effective and perform their functions very imperfectly. They have permitted impurities that should have been arrested in the human filter beds to get into the system—the blood is overloaded with these impurities and impoverished conditions result.

This is the time all thoughtful mothers are anxious to ward off the dangers to her family that arise from weak and disordered kidneys. She knows that the old-fashioned way of purging is opposed to nature. The sick one needs toning and bracing up and not weakness by purgatives. Booth's Kidney Pills are not a laxative, but a kidney tonic. They go to the seat of the trouble and commence to build up health in the same way as a builder builds a house. The kidneys are toned up, the blood becomes purer and in a remarkably short time the glow of health is seen and felt.

As Booth's Kidney Pills are a guaranteed remedy, you are perfectly safe in giving them a trial. The proprietors would not dare to guarantee them if they were not sure that they were the very best remedy for kidney trouble and would do all they claim for them. They are so well and carefully compounded that they are suitable for both young and old.

A Mother's Story of Her Efforts to Restore Health to Her 7-year-old Child and Her Discovery.

"My daughter, Eva, who is in her seventh year, suffered for the past two or three years with a weakness in her back and in the region of the kidneys. She could not lie in bed and the cold chills settled in her back. She was weak and languid and her health was not at all good. I had tried many different prescriptions but could find no good in any of them. I would have to apply hot plasters to her back at night, but this only gave slight temporary relief. I learned of Booth's Kidney Pills and commenced giving her this treatment, following the directions closely. I soon found Booth's Kidney Pills going to the cause of the trouble and giving her the long sought results. Her back gradually strengthened and she is better and stronger in every way. She has not suffered an attack of the trouble since and I am thankful for what Booth's Kidney Pills did for her."—Mrs. Oliver Johnson, of Havelock, Lucknow, Ont.

FOR FAMILY USE

An Ideal Remedy for Coughs, Sore Throat, Catarrh, Weak Chest.

After having made a special study of the treatment of the throat and lungs for twenty years, Prof. D. Jackson states that in his opinion no preparation for general family use is so efficient, so healing, so certain to cure as Catarrhozone.

As his reasons for making this claim for Catarrhozone, Dr. Jackson says:
"Catarrhozone is free from opium.
"The patient can breathe its rich, balsamic fumes direct to the diseased spot.
"It is a remedy that treats and cures causes—prevents disease spreading.
"Reaches the innermost recesses of the throat, nose, bronchial tubes, and lungs.
"Alleviates chest soreness.
"Stops coughing instantly.
"Prevents bronchial irritations.
"Relieves clogged nostrils.
"Cures sniffles and nasal catarrh.
"Prevents La Grippe.
"Has proven itself a cure for weak lungs; loss of voice, speakers' sore throat, asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, coughs, colds, and winter ills."

Catarrhozone is unquestionably the world's greatest breathable cold, cough and catarrh medicine, and being free from all drowsy drugs, entirely safe for children and old folks; it makes an ideal family remedy. Recommended by the medical profession and sold by all reliable dealers. Beware of imitations, get "Catarrhozone" only; large size lasts two months, and is guaranteed, price $1; smaller sizes 25c and 50c. By mail from The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

THE THEATRICAL EVENT OF THE SEASON, NEXT WEEK

The Visit of Margaret Anglin the Famous Canadian Actress at the Grand, Thursday Evening, April 20, to be One of the Biggest Society Events of the Season

The immediate future of Margaret Anglin cannot fail to enlist interest on the part of those, whose love for the drama of America is sincere, for among the younger generation of players she stands forth pre-eminently. It is therefore matter for congratulation to know that she intends soon to undertake the exploitation of herself in more classical roles than those with which she has hitherto been identified. Another note of pleasure is that for the future, she will lean more towards comedy. This be it understood, does not, however, imply that we are to see no more of the tragic side of her consumate art, but rather that in its development and reaching out for the eminence towards which her hopes are set, it becomes necessary for her to undertake and create more varied roles.

Versability is definatcly essential to those who aspire to pronounced and substancial fame upon the stage.

Born in Canada, little more than thirty years ago, the daughter of a distinguished Canadian statesman, Margaret Anglin inherited no precedent in the shape of family theatrical traditions. No member of her afuily had set the young girl an example, and, in fact, it is said that her aspirations stageward were frowned upon. Be that as it may, her ambitions were realized when she made her debut in a small role as a member of one of Charles Frohman's minor companies in 1896. Her progress at first was by no means phenomenal or rapid, and her descent upon New York, the Mecca of every ambitious actor, was delayed until the late Richard Mansfield cast her for Roxane in his production of "Cyrano de Bergerac." This was at the Garden Theatre. All unknown in the city of New York, the young actress awoke the morning following the production, to find the town ringing with praise of her work, and flocking to see the slip of a girl with the wonderful eyes and golden voice, who was obviously possessed of dramatic genius; a new potentiality had arisen on the theatrical horizon.

Step by step she advanced in her destiny, first as a member of Charles Frohman's Empire Theatre Stock Company, of which, by the way, she was the last leading lady and as such spoke the valedictory address at the company's final performance at the old Boston Museum. During this period of her career, she achieved a striking success in Henry Arthur Jones' play "Mrs. Dane's Defense."

In conjunction with Henry Miller Miss Anglin became a star in 1905 and together they leased the Princesse's Theatre in New York. This was an altogether discredited house so far as the public was concerned, and had been so for a number of years, but, during the Miller-Anglin regime, its fortunes were favored and there the joint stars successfully produced "Zira" "The Great Divide," and Brown of Harvard."

Miss Anglin enjoyes the distinction of having been the means of introducing to the playgoing world, the late Professor Vaughan Moody and his work. At Easter 1906, she produced "The Sabine Woman" in Chicago at the Garrick Theatre for a few tentative performances. Subsequently, the play was renamed "The Great Divide," and presented in New York, where it was received with flattering approval as elsewhere.

The fame of the actress had by this time reached out beyond the seas, and, mainly in the desire to broaden her scope, she accepted a proposal to appear at the Antipodes, whither she sailed in the summer of 1908. She appeared in the chief cities of the Commonwealth, and in a round of plays, including two of Shakespeare's comedies. The approval that endorsed her ability in the direction of the lghter form of dramatic art, and her appearances now in a comedy role is the natural and inevitable sequence to that experience.

CHEAPEST POWER IN CANADA WOULD COST PETERBOROUGH $417,000

COMMISSION'S REPORT IS FAVORABLE TO BUYING OTONABEE POWER CO. OUT

Comprehensive Summary of Available Power Sites and Developments---Costs of Enlargements and Maintenance---A Big Project Outlined by Engineer Sothman

The following is the power report read by Hon. Adam Beck last Wednesday night, on the available power sites and how Peterborough might utilize them. While the report was ordered by the City Council, and should have gone first to that body, public interest is keen, and desires the publication of the report, without waiting for a formal presentation to the Council. The report is—

Toronto, April 5th, 1911.

The natural source of power for the City of Peterborough is the Otonabee river, which flows within the corporation limits. This river is part of the Trent system, being on the route of the Trent Valley Canal, and the storage system which is being established in the upper waters by the Department of Railways and Canals is having an appreciable effect upon the flow of the river, which is constantly increasing in value as a source of power.

AVAILABLE FLOW POWER CAPACITY.

Unfortunately no interconnected series of gaugings and gauge height records are in existence, so that it is impossible to obtain reliable data as to flow characteristics, all available figures relating to minimum flow being largely a matter of individual estimate, based on isolated gaugings. As a result there is considerable divergency of opinion as to the present minimum flow and the greatest possible minimum flow with storage.

Estimates of the present minimum flow vary from 1,100 to 1,500 second feet, and 1,500 to 2,500 second-feet with storage. The figures for present minimum flow are based on the gaugings above mentioned, but the amount of minimum flow with storage is merely a surmise. From the load sheets of plants, operating at the present time in Peterborough, it has been established, however, that there is at least 1,400 second-feet available for the peak load purposes whenever required, and while the actual minimum flow probably falls below this at times, it would be safe to assume 1,400 second-feet as being commercially available at present, with 2,000 to 2,500 second-feet as a future possibility.

Basing hydraulic construction on this assumption, it would be safe practice to install generating equipment to handle 1,500 second-feet, and power house and head works of sufficient capacity to efficiently handle a future flow of 2,000 second-feet.

The portion of the Otonabee river which flows through Peterborough is not on the main line of the canal, which leaves the river at Nassau bridge, four miles above Peterborough, and enters it again just below Peterborough Lift Lock. On this section of the river the head due to the natural slope has been concentrated by means of dams owned and operated by private interests, the flow, however, being regulated by the canal authorities. Between Nassau and Lakefield, the river has been canalized and all dam and lock construction is under the control of the Trent Valley Canal, as are also the resulting heads and water-levels.

All the water powers in this portion of the river are either in the city or within ten miles of it, the most remote location being at the Village of Lakefield. The following is a list of these powers, their power capacity being based on an available minimum flow of 1,400 second-feet—

Quaker Oats, Peterborough...3400 h.p.
Auburn Dam......1900 h.p.
Peterborough Water Works...1500 h.p.
C.G.E. Co., Nassau......1900 h.p.
Dam Nos. 4 and 5, Otonabee Power Co......3300 h.p.
Dam No. 3, Canada Cement Co......1500 h.p.
Dam No. 2, unallotted......1300 h.p.

Total......15,800 h.p.

AVAILABLE SITES.

The first four locations in the above list are not in the market, but the city has an opportunity to acquire complete control of the power situation, as represented by Dams Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5. These powers have a present aggregate capacity of 8,000 h.p., and a probable future capacity of 11,000 h.p., and it would be commercially feasible to develop these powers in rotation in accordance with the market requirements of Peterborough and Lakefield.

PRELIMINARY DEVELOPMENT

The capital outlay which would be necessary to acquire control of all the power embraced by this scheme precludes the possibility of considering the proposition as a whole at the present time, but there is no reason why the municipality should not give careful consideration to the preliminary steps necessary for the consummation of the general scheme. The first step is naturally the selection of the most favorable site for initial development, and in this connection it would seem that if any question of choice is involved, it lies between the Otonabee Power Company's site at Dams Nos. 4 and 5, and the Dickson property at Dam No. 1, in the Village of Lakefield. An analysis of these two propositions is made hereunder with the object of demonstrating as fairly as possible which has the better claim for consideration from a commercial and engineering standpoint.

FLOW

The Otonabee site is situated five miles lower down on the river than the Dickson site, and has consequently a greater area of watershed behind it. This advantage is so small, however, that at present both sites can be considered on a par as regards available flow.

HEAD AND POWER CAPACITY

The present normal head at the Dickson site is 16 feet, but during the winter season the level below the dam could be drawn down so as to give a head of 20 feet. At the Otonabee site a head of 26 feet is available all the year round. The matter of allowing a 20 foot head at the Dickson site has a power capacity of 2000 h.p. under present conditions, and a probable future capacity of 3300 h.p. while the Otonabee site has a present capacity of 3300 h.p., and a probable future capacity of 4700 h.p. In this instance therefore the advantage lies decidedly with the Otonabee site.

RIGHTS UNDER LEASE

The Dickson property is held under a lease which allows the use of all surplus water without other restriction than is laid down in the general conditions of the lease. This lease is renewable every 21 years in perpetuity in consideration of payment of $2,00 per year rental. The Lessees under this lease are not given the right to transmit electric power.

The Otonabee property is held under a lease which allows the use of all surplus water subject to the general conditions of the lease, with an additional restriction to the affect that should the Trent Canal be improved or enlarged, any increased volume of flow of water which might thereby become available should not be considered surplus waters within the provisions of the lease nor accrue to the benefit of the Lessees.

This lease is renewable for three periods only of 21 years each, the final date of expiry being at the end of the third term, and the rental is said to be $2100 per year. Under this lease the Lessees are given the right to transmit electric power.

As regards rental and the use of surplus water, the Dickson lease is undoubtedly the more advantageous. The Otonabee lease has an advantage in that it permits the transmission and sale of electric power but in the event of the city of Peterborough taking over either of these propositions a satisfactory adjustment of the above mentioned restrictions could doubtless be arranged.

CONDITIONS OF PURCHASE

The Dickson property has been offered to the city for $200,000. For this sum the city would obtain the unrestricted right to use all surplus water passing and to pass through the flood gates of the Lakefield dam, and to install works to develop such power as this surplus water will generate under a 16 foot head.

The property of the Otonabee Power Company has been offered to the city for $225,000. For this sum the city would obtain the right to use all surplus water at dam No 4, sub-

Hamilton Herald Also in Trouble Over Rev. Father McColl's Affair—Minister Hasn't Retracted Yet

Rev. E. A. Pearson pastor of Centenary Methodist church, in Hamilton, and formerly of George street church, Peterborough, is in trouble over a sermon preached about a month or two ago, in which reference was made to Rev. Father McColl, of this city, and the Hamilton Herald is in trouble for publishing what was said in the sermon, writs against them being threatened.

This is an echo of the publication of what was claimed to be Rev. Father McColl's reply to Rev. Canon Davidson's invitation to a gathering of Peterborough clergy—where it was reported that Rev. Father McColl had said this was no kid-glove war-fare, etc. The copy of the letter showed the assertions to be entirely unfounded, but reference to it was made by Rev. Mr. Pearson. The Methodist minister has not made a public retraction yet as is demanded of him.

The revolutionists demand the deposition of the governor of Maozambique and the expulsion of these loyalists.

Died This Morning After Illness of Ten Days

Special to the Review.

Brockville, April 17.—The death occurred this morning at the General Hospital of Percy M. Graham, son of Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals. The deceased had been ailing for ten days with an attack of jaundice, he having had to leave the press gallery at Ottawa where he represented the Brockville Evening Recorder.

THE CAPTAIN UNDER ARREST

Commander of the Ill-Fated Iroquois in Jail.

He is Charged With Negligence in Letting People Drown.

Victoria, April 17.—Captain A. A. Sears, master of the steamer Iroquois, which foundered a week ago when 21 lives were lost, was arrested Saturday night on the instructions of Attorney-General Bowser, and released on $30,000 bail. The case will be heard in the Police Court next Thursday.

At the Government enquiry, conducted by Captain Eddie Saturday night, several witnesses denied the statements of Captain Sears. John Bennett declared that Sears made no attempt whatever to rescue passengers in the water. Harry Moss, passenger, said Purser Monro was apprehensive of the danger on leaving Sidney wharf. "She's going, I know she's going. I thought Captain Sears had more sense," Monro is alleged to have said.

Monro, who was drowned, was part owner, besides being purser. Though much in each other's company Monro and Sears had not exchanged a word for years.

Mr. Moss told at the preliminary inquest held by Capt. Charles Eddie, Saturday morning, how the women passengers on the ship were closed like rats in a trap in the cabin of the boat when she keeled over, and how he still hears their shrieks and screams as they were thrown about the cabin when the heavy list to starboard occurred. Moss took to the water to avoid the suction of the sinking ship, and later reached the deckhouse after it had floated clear of the hull. He attributes the wreck to the loading the vessel and told Saturday to Capt. Eddie that had the deckload of hay been thrown over the ship would have righted. The hay acted as a sail and the wind beat straight down on it.

Nevada miners rescued a Smithsonian scientist wandering in the wilds nearly dead from thirst and hunger.

MATTHEWS NOT GUILTY

Freed by the Cobourg Jury of Murder Charge.

Verdict a Surprise After Judge's Strong Charge.

Cobourg, April 17.—At 11.15 Saturday night the jury in the Matthews' murder case, which had been out since 6.45 p.m. returned and announced their verdict. It was "not guilty."

The finding came as somewhat of a surprise to many here, especially after the charge delivered by Judge Clute, in which he dwelt on the points in the evidence which seemed to tell against the prisoner, and took particular care to instruct the jury that it was within their competence to bring in a verdict of manslaughter, if they thought the evidence did not warrant one of guilty of murder. The judge spoke for an hour and a half.

The prisoner preserved a quiet demeanor and appeared unmoved in countenance Only the deeper lines about his face revealed the ordeal of suspense which he has undergone. He glanced at his counsel, the Crown Attorney, and the representatives of the press, and then looked straight at the foreman of the jury.

"Gentleman of the jury, have you agreed on a verdict?" asked the clerk of the court.

"We have," answered the foreman.

"And it is?" "Not guilty" was the answer.

The throngs in the rear of the court room behind the prisoner's dock and at the entrances broke into cheers that were echoed to the street, and told the waiting crowds outside of the happy outcome of the trial for the accused

Thomas Rily, butcher, testified he was in the hotel between 8 and 9 delivering meat. He saw Matthews and Archie Brown and waited to see Teasdale. Matthews was in the sitting-room when he went out. Haynes gave him his money.

It was expected that an attempt would be made to test the credibility of Henry Hicks, but Mr. Justice Clute overruled this move by the crown.

At 2.30 p.m. E. Gus Porter began his address to the jury. He spoke for one hour and forty minutes, making a strong plea for a verdict in favor of the prisoner Matthews, claiming that there was not evidence enough to convict.

Peter White, crown prosecutor, gave a masterly address, dealing with points and facts in the crown's evidence in a practical way.

Mr. Justice Clute in his charge to the jurymen, took about an hour and a half. His charge was slightly against the prisoner. The jury retired at 7 p.m.

Ex-Reeve Henry Hicks, who Friday night swore that he had seen and bowed to Miss Brimacombe in the hotel about 9.15 p.m.—the crown theory is that she met death an hour earlier—was the first witness Saturday morning. Crown Counsel White had difficulty in getting satisfactory replies.

Witness denied that he was known as Old Hicks, or that he was short-sighted. He wore glasses because he couldn't see without them, but carried his cane because of rheumatism. He had been at the inquest for 10 minutes, but said he had not heard Matthews was under suspicion, nor did he hear of his arrest until the next day. He had not been told any of the evidence.

"Not with me. I did not discuss it with any one. I went to hear the evidence, but I could not hear it, and I never discussed it with anyone," answered witness.

"Do you know John Reeves? Did you discuss the case with him?"

"I do not remember. I could not say it was not mentioned," he answered.

"Did you tell John Reeves that you knew nothing about this matter in a conversation at the club at Colborne?" Witness thought not.

At this point Justice Clute had his attention called to the presence of Reeves in the room, and all crown witnesses were excluded.

"Mr. Hicks," asked Mr. White, "did you tell Reeves that you had not been subpoenaed for this trial, but that you were paid $5 and were going to come?"

Witness, after some hedging, admitted the conversation with Reeves.

"And yet you told us you had not discussed the case," said counsel, to which he replied, "I don't know what you mean by discussed."

"Certainly not," said Hicks when Mr. White said that, according to his story, Miss Brimacombe was not dead at 8 p.m. He said she was folding linen or washing dishes when he saw her at 9.15.

COLBORNE HAD A $25,000 FIRE

Big Loss on King Street—Work of Burglars

Special To The Review.

Brighton, Ont., April 17.—Colborne was visited by a disastrous fire early this morning and as a result about half of the number of buildings on the south side of King street were destroyed. It is believed that the fire was started by burglars. The fire department accomplished good work and saved considerable property which was in danger. The loss is placed at twenty-five thousand dollars.

WOMAN SLAYS HER HUSBAND WITH AN AXE TO GET EVEN Fell Into Boiling Water.

Montreal, April 17.—Eugenie Germane Gaureau, the two-year-old daughter of Casaire Gaureau, 41 St. Paul street, met death Saturday by falling into a tub of boiling water. A doctor was hastily called, but could not save the child's life. He stated that shock was the cause of death.

Took Revenge For Stabbing Affray of Last Fall—Woman is Callous.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., April 17.—Peter Napolitina, an Italian, living near James street, Little Italy, known here as Peter Naplesik, was killed last evening by his wife Marjory, who admits the murder, and is now in jail. The man was employed on the night shift at the steel plant, and was asleep in bed when his wife attacked him with an axe. The first blow struck him in the forehead and nearly severed the crown of his head. Four blows followed, the last one all but severing the man's head from his body. The woman then proceeded to the street and told passers-by what she had done.

The murder is an echo of a case last fall when Napolitina returned home unexpectedly and found his wife with a man named Nash. Napolitina stabbed his wife several times and she was several months in hospital. It seems she had awaited the opportunity to get even. The body was taken to Simpson's morgue and an inquest will be held to-day.

The dead man was 40 years of age. His four children, the eldest seven years of age, has been placed in charge of the Children's Aid Society. The woman expresses no regret and does not seem to realize her position.

GIRL LEADS THE REBELS

Another Joan of Arc Discovered in Mexico.

Maiden is Quite Wealthy—Is of Indian Descent.

Mexico City, April 17.—The leader of the large band of revolutionists now operating in the State of Guerrero, is a girl, Senorita Dona Margariti Neri, daughter of a man who once was a general in the Mexican army, General Canuto Neri, but who, forsaking his country's cause, took up arms against the Diaz Government. The girl is wealthy, her father having safely hidden his wealth in French securities before starting the revolt which ended in his death about twelve years ago.

"La Neri," as she is affectionately called by her band of about seven hundred followers, inherits the revolutionary instincts of her father, who at his death left her in a convent in Chilpancingo. She was then six years of age, and the term of her "imprisonment" as she called it, in the convent, was twelve years. This term she finished six months ago, and came out possessed of some 500,000 pesos in cash and a large amount of bonds and other securities in the Bank of Paris.

With her money she equipped a force of seven hundred men, who selected her as their leader as soon as she manifested a desire to take the field. Fresh from the convent, she learned to ride like an amazon and shoot fairly well. All her men are equipped with American rifles and revolvers, with interchangeable cartridges, and all wear short sabres, in contradistinction to the long swords of the Mexican cavalry.

The girl and her band have been in several hard fights with the Mexican troops. She leads the fights in person, showing rare bravery on the field. She has never been wounded, and to the superstitious Indians of the region, seems to bear a charmed life.

La Neri, although beautiful in features, is of a pronounced Indian type, her mother having been a Guerrero Indian, and her father a descendant of one of the early Spanish settlers in Mexico. She speaks English and French as fluently as she does Spanish, and has some knowledge of the ancient tongue of the aborigines of Guerrero.

London Man Had His Skull Fractured and Wife Her Arm Broken

Special to the Review.

London, Ont., April 17.—Harry C. Selfridge, proprietor of the big departmental store recently opened here, sustained a fracture of the skull when his automobile crashed into a house at Embelside, after the driver had lost control of the machine. Selfridge's wife had one of her arms broken.

CROWN ATTORNEY IS AFTER THE PROFESSIONAL BONDSMEN

Will Probe Into the Story, and Prosecute if Evidence Can be Secured.

Toronto, April 17.—Crown Attorney Corley is hot on the trail of a class of individuals known as professional bondsmen. That several men are making a comfortable living at this sort of work has reached the ears of the crown attorney, and prosecutions will likely follow immediately. Mr. Corley made public mention of this matter on Saturday morning when the bail bond of the Italian charged with murder was placed at $10,000, and somebody suggested that he would probably get a bondsman.

Some people, it appears from the remarks of the crown attorney, have been making a practice of watching cases in the Police Court, and when a defendant was hard pressed for bail would come forward with the offer to go his security for a consideration. Perhaps he would charge a $10 fee for going the man's bond for a few days, and thus class himself as a professional bondsman.

Such proceedings, it seems, are contrary to the law and are indictable. In a similar case in England, Mr. Corley referred to the fact that the judge imposed a severe penalty for a similar offence. The matter will be taken up at once by the Attorney-General.

THE EARL OF CARLISLE DEAD

RECIPROCITY TO PASS THIS WEEK?

Canvass at Washington Shows Only Thirty Senators Against

Special to the Review.

Washington, April 17.—A canvass of the senators in the new Congress reveals the fact that about thirty make up the opposition to the Canadian reciprocity bill, and it is believed that some of these will swing over in favor of it. The House is almost certain to pass the measure this week, and it is considered here that the measure is as good as enacted into law.

LIVER LAZINESS

Those Who Lack Energy and are Unsuccessful Should Read This Closely.

"I am only thirty years old, yet for almost two years I have felt more like seventy-five. I have found it difficult to sleep at night and in the morning feel so depressed and heavy that effort was difficult. My hands were always clammy and perspiration on slight effort would break out all over me. It was not unnatural that I should begin to brood over the chance that I should soon be unfit to do my work, and this dread made my sleepless nights perfect misery. After repeated trials of medicine and mixtures Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me the first gleam of hope. From the very first I could see they were different in action from other pills. They didn't gripe and acted as naturally as if nature and not the pills were cleansing my clogged up system. My spirits rose, I felt much better, the sluggish action of the system gave way to normal activity. Dizziness and headaches ceased, appetite, good color, and ambition to work returned and have remained. I am like a new man and I thank Dr. Hamilton's Pills for it all."

This was the experience of J. E. Parkhurst, a well-known grocery dealer in Jefferson. Follow his advice, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills for your stomach, kidneys, and liver, and you'll enjoy long life and robust good health. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, in yellow boxes, 25c per box, from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE POWER PROPOSITION

The report of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission on the available power developments and their cost for absorption by Peterborough, contained in the Review to-day, is a most valuable and comprehensive presentation of the power situation, as of interest to the city municipally.

It throws the search-light of the experience of the commission on the dark corners of the power situation, as regards development of power by the city, and while at this early day it is impossible to thoroughly probe the merits or demerits of the proposition, the fact that the report contains facts, reliable figures and estimates covering the operation of a municipal plant, makes it a most intensely interesting and valuable document.

Without going at present into the details of the mass of information and figures involved, it might be generally noted that the plan of the commission points the way for the city to become its own master in the power situation, if it chooses to pay the price. Of immense importance to Peterborough commercially, is Mr. Beck's declaration that Peterborough can have the cheapest power in Canada. In this age of power competition, this is a fact which is, if borne out in practice, of the most supreme significance. The scheme involves the expenditure of nearly half a million dollars, and apparently the charges on this amount must be met by the sale of power considerably in excess of what is now the market price of the Otonabee Power Company.

We think that in any event the consideration of the citizens will be devoted toward the Otonabee proposition, as the only practicable one. The Dickson proposition will generally be regarded as out of the question, owing to the fact that it necessitates the city constructing a complete competitive distributing system in the city, finding a new market for power, and operating at a loss until that market is created.

The Otonabee proposition, at first glance, is one that may well be thought over carefully. If the city can, by the purchase of this company's plant, system and existing market, pave the way for a reduction in the cost of power to consumers from $20 a horse power to $17.55 for 24-hour power, and $14.65 for ten-hour power, or power for a working day, it will have a standing as a cheap power centre among the cities of the Dominion perhaps unequalled. The Otonabee Company, with a market for 1,250 h.p., of course, must charge a higher rate, and the city, in giving a rate of $17.55 and $14.65, would have to distribute 2,700 h.p., or double the present market. It is this feature of market in its relation to the future, which will be the pivotal point of discussion.

The salient features of the proposition, however, are these: If the city is going in for civic power, to give power users the benefit of the closest price, cost and operating charges will permit, and to provide for the expansion of decades to come, this is the opportunity. The city must decide either to go into the cheap power business within the next year or two, or remain out of the power field. That there will be many divergent views of the question is natural, but the matter should be discussed from the viewpoint of not what is the prospect to the city to-day; or what is the effect of a year or two; but from the viewpoint of ten, fifteen or twenty years from now, or fifty, because water-powers are not created with a magic wand; and it may be possible that a chance like this might never occur again. However, the proposition should get the most serious consideration, viewed in a large and broad manner, as befitting its importance.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Of course, to be up-to-date, Peterborough must have a hydro-electric power scheme on foot.

A general strike of the Nova Scotia miners is threatened. The Crow's Nest colliers are tied up by a big strike. The boasted Lemieux conciliation act has plenty of occasion to rise to, but—

The cut of two cents in the grain rate from Buffalo to the seaboard by the railways furnishes another strong argument for the immediate construction of the new Welland Canal. The new rate gives the American route features of distinct advantage.

British sailors landed on Mexican soil to save a town from the insurrectors. It is significant of the change of sentiment in the United States that this invasion of the Monroe doctrine has not called forth any protest from even the rabid United States journals.

The death sentence imposed on Edward Jardine, convicted of the murder at Goderich of Lizzie Anderson, is the sequel of a most revolting crime. There are many moral degenerates of the Jardine type in the hospitals and jails of the country, and it is indeed fortunate that crime is held down so well.

The tour in the west by Mr. Borden this summer will have a most important effect on the country politically. Inasmuch as both parties are determined on gaining the support of the growing west, it looks as if the demands of the prairie men will receive as much attention as is given by a Pullman porter after getting an unusually generous tip. Mr. Borden, of course, is not under the decided disadvantage of trying to convince the westerners that he has betrayed former promises. He has no 1893 platform, to the principles of which he can be proved a traitor.

It is estimated that the coronation will cost visitors to London over $200,000,000. This amount being spent in the pursuit of pleasure and social ambition, would relieve hundreds of thousands of cases of bitter, grinding want. The humanitarian uses to which such a vast sum as this might be put are as numerous as the ideas of a Maclean. It seems a shame to waste it in mere pomp and pageantry, and yet the deserving poor of old London will perhaps get a slice, and in this, the transfer of money from the pockets of the wealthy to the less wealthy will help some towards averaging up.

Naval Cadet Dead.

Halifax, N.S., April 17.—The death occurred at the military hospital here, of Henry R. B. Yates, a cadet in the Royal Naval College, and the elder son of Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Yates of Montreal. The lad, who was 14 years and 6 months old, joined the Royal Naval College in January last. His death was due to endocarditis, following an attack of measles, and had been ill for about six weeks. Dr. and Mrs. Yates are in the city. The remains will be given a naval funeral from the dockyard, at two o'clock this afternoon, to the railway station, the remains proceeding to Montreal.

LIVERPOOL, April 15.—John Rogers and Company, Liverpool, cable to-day that owing to the season being Lent the demand for beef has fallen off considerably, and as a result there was a reduction of three-quarters of a cent per pound in Birkenhead and both States and Canadian steers made from 12 1-2 to 13 cents per pound. The demand for sheep was also weak, lamb making 16 1-2 cents, and wethers 13 1-4 cents per pound, these quotations being for unclipped sheep.

New Portuguese Constitution.

Lisbon, April 17.—The Council of Ministers has commenced to discuss the republican constitution, which will be presented at the opening of the national assembly.

The Diaro de Noticias asserts that the chief points are as follows: The national assembly, composed of 200 deputies, will elect a president of the republic, whose term of office will be five years. The president will then appoint a cabinet, likewise for a term of five years. There will be no ministers of foreign affairs, nor plenipotentiary ministers to foreign powers, the consuls being charged with diplomatic work, the idea being to avoid unnecessary expenses.

Ice Shove at Montreal.

Montreal, April 15.—There was a rise of four feet in the river early yesterday morning, necessitating the starting of the Craig street and Mill street pumping stations, which were kept going all day and night.

The first intimation the men in charge of the two pumping stations had of what was coming was an ice shove, the biggest of the season, which began at 2 p.m. The gauges showed the water was rising, and in the course of an hour and a half the depth of the harbor had been increased by four feet. The ice shored opposite the city, and it was this blocking up of the narrow gorge below St. Helen's Island which caused the water to dam up.

Pastor for 23 Years.

Montreal, April 15.—A prominent member and ex-president of the local Protestant Ministerial Association passed away in the person of Rev. Finley Macnaughton Dewey, D.D., who died last night at his late residence, 243 Elm avenue, Westmount, after an illness extending over some three years. The late Mr. Dewey was for 23 years pastor of Stanley street Presbyterian Church, from which charge he was obliged to resign some months ago on account of increasing ill-health. Throughout his career in the city he was especially identified with work amongst the foreign element and the poorer classes.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

Then they swept over and down the coast. They turned back and swirled out over the sea.

"Oh, look, look!" suddenly said Virginia. "There's some one in the water!"

Below floated the half collapsed and sinking go-devil of a submarine. Beside it lay a great blotch of darkness so symmetrical that Theodore was impressed with the sudden idea that it was a submarine rather than a patch of dark sand. A man on the derelict was struggling, shouting and waving a white cloth as if in distress. Theodore's eyes flashed. He reversed the thrust of the wing propellers, and in an instant they were fighting the air with all the power of the mighty engines. The passengers felt their bodies sway forward with the momentum as the Virginia slowed up, halted and moved astern, and as accurately as if he had had years of practice Carson brought her to over the struggling man and lowered her slowly, slowly, toward the swells which rose to meet her until the line thrown over by Carson dabbled in the water by the castaway's side.

"Can you climb up?" cried Theodore. "I don't dare come much lower."

"For God's sake," called the man, "bring her down a foot or so! I'm too weak to climb."

"Cheer up!" called Theodore. "It's risky, but I'll try."

If he was to be saved there was no time to be lost. So thought Carson as he depressed the Virginia more and more. Wizner set his teeth in a fierce determination to put both man and ship out of the field at once. He was the sole custodian of the secret of her construction save for Carson. If he could drown her and master the secret of the glass globe he could rebuild her, make his terms with Shayne, be the greatest in his line. And he seized the nacelle with fierce energy, threaded a steel chain through an opening in the structure and dropped back into the water, holding the chain in his hand. It ran around the aluminium beam with a sharp, rasping, startling rattle.

"He's fallen in!" cried Virginia.

Theodore looked over the side. A small double chain ran down from the airship, its ends moving about in a most mystifying manner in the sea. And as he looked in astonishment the dark blotch of sand rose to the surface and defined itself as the rounded top of the Stickleback, on the black hull of which sat Wizner blowing brine from his mouth, his head shining with water. The manhole opened, Wizner snapped the chain into a ring, slipped into the submarine and reappeared with something small and flat in his hand.

"I'll fix you, you d——d whelp!" he yelled. "Take that!"

He aimed at Carson, fired, and the bullet sang away into the sky. Theodore seized Virginia in his arms and drew her down into the bottom of the car, where they lay panting in each other's arms, panic stricken.

"I must put the ship out of range!" cried Carson, leaping to the lever.

She rose like a feather for just a moment, and then she swung about like a kite with its string fouled, anchored by some devilish contrivance. Carson stepped to the side again and looked over. The Virginia hung some thirty yards above the water, and straining backward and downward ran the steel chain looped through her works and fastened by both ends to the submarine. The harsh, raucous laugh of Wizner rose with horrid significance from the Stickleback's manhole, which was again above water and open.

"Don't be in a hurry!" he shouted. "Stick around with us awhile. We're going out where it's deep. Come in; the water's fine! Got your bathing suits? When she draws short telephone down. Don't yell, for there won't no one hear you. There won't no one hear either of you again in this world except just you two. By-by! See you in Davy Jones'—d—n you!"

And with this, as if pulled down from below, the man vanished into the dark interior, the manhole closed, and the chain, like a line taken by some titanic fish, started out to sea. The airship had been captured by the submarine! The mechanical devilfish was not running very deep; her round deck rose awash sometimes, but with the manholes closed, and with no sign save the erection of her periscope that she was more than an inert mass of steel she swam on.

Still seated where Theodore had placed her, Virginia looked at him in questioning terror. He was white and horrified. At this moment he was depressing her in her flight so as to get all possible slack in the chain, so that by a sudden upward rush he might break the tether. Once, twice, thrice he did this, but the chain held.

"What is it, Theodore? What is it?" said she.

"I don't know," said he, "but I think it's the end!"

Carson was not looking at her. He was looking upward, like a man seeking for some sort of inspiration. She stood looking out over the great desolate sea and back to the receding shore, on which she saw a group of forms—the forms of their friends. Nothing could seem more helpless. They were chained to their fate—a dark fiend of a machine that was taking them out to sea, to deeps profound enough to drown them—it might be an hour; it might be the next moment.

Carson stood over her with a pistol in his hand.

"Virginia, can you shoot?" he asked.

She took the pistol and nodded affirmatively.

Father Morriscy's Remedies

Now on Sale in Ontario

When Father Morriscy, the famous priest-physician of Bartibogue, N. B., died a year ago last spring, he left his prescriptions to the Sisters of the Hotel Dieu, at Chatham, to be used for the benefit of humanity and of the church.

Not being in position to make up and distribute the prescriptions themselves, the Sisters arranged with a number of gentlemen, who had been Father Morriscy's friends, to do it for them. These gentlemen working under the name of the "Father Morriscy Medicine Co., Limited," had by the first of the year placed the remedies in nearly every store in the Maritime Provinces.

So gladly were they received, and so satisfactory has been their record of cures, that the Sisters and the Company have decided to place them on sale throughout Canada.

Father Morriscy's "No. 7", for Rheumatism and the Kidneys—"No. 10", Cough Cure and Lung Tonic—"No. 11", Stomach Remedy—"No. 26", for Catarrh, and "Father Morriscy's Liniment"—can now be obtained from most dealers in this Province. If yours does not keep them write the Father Morriscy Medicine Co., Limited.

No Fighting Near Line.

Washington, March 15.—President Taft is determined that battles between Mexican federalists and insurrectos shall not be fought on American soil. He is equally determined that the lives of American non-combatants shall not be endangered by the forces of President Diaz and those of Gen. Madero. Future combats between the rebels and the forces of the Mexican Government must not be fought out so close to the American line as to put in jeopardy the lives and property of Americans.

Through the State Department, the President last night notified the Mexican Government that it must see to it in the future that no such unfortunate incident as that of Thursday at Agua Prieta, near Douglas, Ariz., when two Americans were killed and eleven wounded, be allowed to occur. Through the War Department and through the Department of Justice the President sent the same soft warning to the leaders of the insurrectos at Augu Prieta.

Hereafter this Government expects both the insurrectos and the Mexican federal troops to erect trenches or make their lines of battle far enough away from American soil to make it certain that Americans engaged in the occupations of peace will not be interrupted by bullets.

Four Killed by Blast.

Vancouver, April 17.—Four men were killed in a blasting accident at Pitt Lake, 40 miles from Vancouver, on Thursday evening. The men evidently went back to examine a blast which had not gone off. Apparently they were standing right over it when the explosion occurred, and all were horribly mutilated.

Six Attempted Suicide.

Philadelphia, April 15.—Six persons, five men and one woman, attempted to commit suicide here yesterday. Two of the men were successful. Emil Stebe, aged 48 years, a dealer in artificial flowers, killed himself with a revolver. He had been in ill-health.

Gustava Ofberman ended his life with gas because his wife had deserted him.

Miss Blanche Waldie, aged 50, a wealthy woman, tried to commit suicide with gas. She had been in poor health.

Thomas F. Bailey, of Camden, attempted to hang himself in his cell when arrested for intoxication.

Major-Gen. Wilson Buried.

Montreal, April 15.—The funeral of the late Major-Gen. Wilson took place at noon yesterday. There was no funeral service, it having been the expressed wish of the deceased that he should be buried at Quebec, at which city he was in command for so many years. The body was escorted from his late residence on Crescent street to the Place Viger Station by 150 men of the Second Montreal Heavy Brigade Canadian Garrison Artillery, under command of Major Lacey R. Johnson, the body being carried on a gun carriage. A large number of officers of the Montreal garrison were also in attendance. The funeral service will be held in All Saints Church, Quebec, to-day.

ONE MAN DROWNED.

Three Others Narrowly Escape Death at Iroquois.

Iroquois, Ont., April 15.—One man was drowned in the locks, and three others had narrow escapes with their lives, through the failure of pins driven into the ground, on which was supported the scaffold on which they were at work painting the masonry in the locks of the canal yesterday morning. The drowned man is Elgin Serviss, aged 40, a laborer, who was assisting the other men in the work.

The four men had been at work all morning on the scaffold in seeming security, and were progressing with the work of making ready the canal for the opening of navigation. Without the least warning the pins, to which were tied the ropes holding the scaffold down the sides of the stone abutments, pulled up at one end, precipitating Serviss into the water, which was rushing along the bottom of the lock. The other two men, Edward McRobie and M. Redmond, managed to catch the ropes at the other end of the scaffold and pulled themselves up. Sam Armstrong, the third man, was just mounting to the top of the wall when the accident occurred, and so escaped easily.

Serviss' body was recovered later in the day, after several hours grappling. The current was very swift in the lock, as the valves are large, and were open at the time. It is thought that Serviss was stunned by the fall to the bottom of the lock, and so was unable to prevent himself being drawn down by the current. Serviss was a married man, with a small family. He had been a resident of Iroquois for many years, and was highly respected.

Denman Thompson Dead.

West Swanzey, N.H., April 15.—One of the oldest and best known actors in America, Denman Thompson, the man who made "The Old Homestead" famous, died at his country estate in West Swanzey early yesterday. Mr. Thompson had been ill of heart trouble and uramenia since last month.

Henry Denman Thompson was born in a log cabin in the hamlet of Beechwood, three miles from Girard, Pa., on Oct. 15, 1833. Two years previous his father, Captain Rufus Thompson, had left West Swanzey, which in later years this boy of the wilderness was to make a household word as the setting for the "Old Homestead."

To the older generation of theatregoers the name of Denman Thompson will ever be associated with Josh Whitcomb and Uncle Josh in "The Old Homestead."

After having played the former for ten years, Thompson began his long career as delightful Uncle Josh in "The Old Homestead," a new embodiment of the same character. For 23 years Thompson was to that play what Jefferson was to Rip Van Winkle.

A Unique Procession.

London, April 15.—A procession of the members of the Church of England, consisting of 300 clergymen, 2,500 laymen and 700 choirmen, yesterday paraded from Trafalgar Square to St. Paul's Cathedral in the presence of immense crowds. It was the first ceremony of the sort ever held in London. The Bishop of London and several other bishops headed the procession. "There is a green hill far away" and "Jesus Lover of My Soul" were sung at a service held in St. Paul's Cathedral, following which exercises appropriate to the coronation year were conducted.

Thaw's Counsel Arrested

New York, April 15.—Daniel O'Reilly, former counsel for Harry K. Thaw, who was indicted Thursday on the charge of receiving property known to be stolen, surrendered himself at the district attorney's office yesterday. The charge against O'Reilly followed the return of $65,000 in securities stolen from Aaron Bancroft, an aged stock broker, who was robbed of $85,900 worth of securities early last month while he was taking them to a safe deposit vault.

Found by Finger Prints.

New York, April 15.—Finger prints of 250 workers in a novelty factory were sifted by detectives yesterday for duplicate marks found upon the door and cash drawer of the safe, which was looted Wednesday night of $683. Among the lot the detectives found one they say is identical with the tell-tale imprints, and they arrested Joseph Roberts, a negro porter, who was locked up, charged with being implicated in the robbery. It took nearly two days to take the imprints and compare them.

ADMITS EARLY EVIDENCE.

Judge In Matthews' Case Allows Testimony Given at Inquest.

Cobourg, April 15.—Although Good Friday, the usual proceedings of the court yesterday were carried on. In the morning the prosecution in the Matthews' murder trial carried their point in securing the admission of the evidence of the late Mrs. George Teasdale and John Smith of Wicklow, taken at the inquest in December last. Smith is now in England. He was one of the men in the hall of the Hotel Bristol, when the screaming was heard in an upstairs room. Smith went to the top of the stairs to listen. He deposed at the inquest that he not only heard screaming, but that he heard another noise saying what sounded to him like "Shut up, shut up." He thought it was a man's voice. Smith in his evidence stated there was talking going on, one talking, the other screaming as if in trouble or pain. He did not know whether the squealing came from the man or woman.

Mrs. Teasdale's evidence, given at the inquest, was also read. She would not swear to any one being in room 14, but Mr. Teasdale and Coroner Latta. In cross-examination she admitted that there might have been, but said she did not see anyone.

From this evidence an effort was made at the inquest to find if there was jealousy or trouble between Mr. and Mrs. Teasdale through any intimacy between the former and Miss Brimacombe. Mrs. Teasdale's evidence emphatically cleared this. She gave Miss Brimacambe a good character, describing her as a virtuous girl.

Dr. Hutchison of Grafton, who with Dr. Hewson of Colborne, performed the post mortem, especially stated that in his opinion the dead girl was ravished.

Yesterday afternoon's session was taken up by the testimony of medical men, the crown finished their case at four o'clock, after which Dr. Powell of Toronto was called for the defence.

Dr. Hewson of Colborne, who assisted in the post-mortem, gave it as his opinion that the girl was rendered unconscious from some external violence, and while in that state undigested food was forced into the throat and bronchial tubes and lungs. Death would result a minute or two after the bronchial tubes and lungs were filed, as shown by the post-mortem. Recovery would have been impossible without medical help.

To Find the Truth!

London, April 15.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—A letter appears in The Standard from the incorporated association of head mistresses of public and secondary schools, six members of which have been appointed a colonial intelligence league, stating that they propose to establish next month responsible, paid agents to report constantly to the London office all matters connected with women of the educated class of society. They will not undertake responsibility for any candidate who cannot satisfy the committee of definite training for the post, for which she is to be recommended.

CONSULTING the TIME-TABLE

AFTER THE TRAIN IS MISSED DOESN'T ADD VERY MUCH TO THE BEAUTY OF THE STATION

No, nor will wasting time moaning over yesterday's failures make successes out of to-day's opportunities.

Neither doth it profit a man to learn, after a fire, that the company some one recommended was "N.G." You can't change it then. To-day, you can select the best.

You aim for the BEST when you select a bank or take a partner in business. WHY NOT DO THIS IN FIRE INSURANCE? The value of a fire insurance policy depends largely upon the character and methods of the company which issues it. Our aim in this advertising is to get property owners to use the same foresight about fire insurance that they do about other business matters. We will accomplish much if we succeed. DO IT NOW

The habit of putting off doing the things we ought to do is responsible for much of the trouble people spend so many regrets over. It almost seems that getting their eyes looked after in time is the duty most often put off by most people. Any inconvenience, even pain and discomfort are endured rather than "come to glasses." Could people only realize the feeling of positive relief and the added power of work that glasses would give them this urgent duty would be attended to at once. Could they only witness, as does the eye-sight specialist the numerous cases where it has been left too long undone and no help can be given any more with glasses, articles like this would be unnecessary. As it is we must keep on giving the old advice. We make no charge for consultation.

THE T.O.O. CLUB REALIZED $75

Presented That Amount to the Children's Aid Society

The bazaar held by the Thinking of Others' Club, in the premises lately occupied by J. D. Tully, at the corner of George and Hunter streets, on Saturday was a grand success, and the sum of $75, was this morning given over to the Children's Aid Society. This effort on the part of the girls who are members of the T.O.O. Club is worthy of the highest commendation. The society greatly appreciates their work, and the girls are thankful to the citizens who assisted them.

This afternoon Mr. R. Gibbs placed a bus at the disposal of the girls and they drove to the Shelter and distributed edibles and other articles left over from the sale.

PURE UNDEFILED LOVE THE FOUNDATION FOR COURTSHIP

Rev. W. C. Riddiford Warns Young People of Present Day Snares.

Rev. W. C. Riddiford preached the second of a series of sermons on "Love, Courtship and Marriage" to a large audience last night. The subject under discussion was "Courtship." Taking his text from "Songs of Solomon, 2, 3-4: "I sat down under his shadow, with great delight, and his banner over me was love," Mr. Riddford preached a very thoughtful and impressive sermon. He said in part: Having really learned to love a pure, noble woman, the next thing in the natural order of things, is the conquest and victory. To this we shall now address ourselves. Courtship is playing the game of love, in which both sides win out in a fair, indeceptive contest for supremacy in the realm of unfailing love and devotion. Having sat for some time in the shadow of each other's love, and been confident that the banner under which this love war is waged is love, not lust. The contestants are on a fair way to consummate the climax of all true love—get married and life happy ever after. So in the very commencement of this subject to-night I lay down my two promises for a continued love-life of two hearts that truly love each other with what Paul calls unfeigned love. There are courtships to-day that are everything else but ideal. Take the Harry Thaw type of courtship, what a horrid, nauseating mess that was. How much love how much respect is there in such a courtship as that, if you can call that courtship? The only cause for such courtships is the uncontrolled passion of some moral degenerate whose animal propensities reign supreme. Then there are the white slave courtships and engagements; What an awful type they are; conceived in hell, nurtured in vice, damned for eternity, unless rescued by the Almighty saving grave of God. No hell is too hot for these wholesale murderers of the purity, modesty and womanhood of our innocent daughters and sisters. Then there is the forced courtships. Parents of the Saban type, who barter their daughters' virtue for gold, or what they call "society standing." But in the name of God, mother or father, do not barter your daughter's virtue and sacrifice her innocence in order to have a rich son-in-law. The only courtship that is of any worth to the human heart is the courtship whose every moment is lived beneath the pure, undefiled banner of mutual love. When you are convinced of that, then don't let any deteriorating motive turn you away from your prince, be he rich or poor. It is no disgrace to be poor. Love will find a way or make one for itself in life. Victor Hugo has said somewhere: "The supreme happiness of life is the conviction that we are loved, loved for ourselves, or rather, in spite of ourselves." Love's banner floating over us forgives our many shortcomings. "When it shall please God to bring you to man's estate, my dear young friend," says Sir Philip Sydney, "Use great providence and circumspection in choosing thy wife. For from thence will spring all thy future good or evil, and it is an action in life like unto a stratagem of war, which a man can err but once." How true that is.

Oliver Goldsmith informs us that he chose his wife as she did her wedding gown, for qualities that would wear well. This subject of courtship is such a serious and vital subject that I hesitate to commence a few thoughts upon it, as it is absolutely impossible to do it justice in one brief half hour. I feel inadequate to the task, but who is? It is easy to make jokes and laugh at love and the lover, but only a first-class fool will do that; only a brainless brute with a wish bone for a back-bone would dare to enter the sacred chambers of courtship where the destinies of two lives are being seriously weighed in love's balances, and where two human hearts are being welded together by Cupid for weal or for woe, with a laughing jest on his lips.

STRENUOUS AND SERIOUS.

Courting is strenuous and serious business, or it ought to be. The young man who insists on the exclusive company of a young lady for a year or two, and then in a heartless manner leaves her for another without a just reason, should be—well, perhaps, hung, or something worse. Who is the greatest murderer, the villain who plunges his dagger to the heart in another man's body, or the brute who plunges his dagger of false love into the pure, trusting affectionate heart of an innocent woman? Of the two I prefer the former. This great fact is certain, that love is the supreme joy of any human life, and that if a man fails as a lover, he fails in the great opportunity and privilege of his earthly career. Nothing can ever fully make up to him that failure.

"I would like, if I could, to talk in such a way," says Dr. Parks, "that the discussion of this courtship question might be of some practical value by way of suggestion or inspiration." That is my only reason, dear friends, in taking up these studies. I feel certain that God has a message for some one here to-night. Last week I received a number of kind "thank-yous" by post and lip for the message of last Sunday evening. I hope it did good. That is what I live for. To God be all the glory.

MARRIAGE THE END.

Personally I think many young men do not properly consider the fact that no man has a moral right to pursue any woman as a lover except with the intent of marriage. I could shoot a man whom I knew for certain was toying with my sister or daughter, and doing it under the disguise of a lover. Oh, young woman, know the man you let walk out with you. Don't throw your sweet pure womanhood away. Smell his breath once in a while when he is not expecting it. I don't mean for you to kiss him. No, no. But smell his breath. If it smells of the barroom and rum shun him as you would a rattle-snake. There is death in that cup, and a life of heartless, unaffectional despair began if you marry him. I warn you, in the name of Christ, don't marry a drunkard to reform him.

I am not now, speaking of that friendship which one may have for many women, a frank, open spirit of comradeship. I am speaking of love. While all true love should be founded on or connected with genuine friendship, it is in reality and intent something quite different. Many a man plays with his power to love until the possibility of a noble supreme affection is lost. The resources of his nature are frittered away in half-hearted flirtations until in his worn and wasted mental equipment there is not power enough left to rise to a higher and holier passion, the passion of pure, manly love. I cannot too strikingly urge the important truth that a man must have right and worthy thoughts of all women, and must hold himself as the sworn guardian and protector of all womanhood, in order to be the chivalric lover he ought to be towards any one woman. Young man, in Christ's name I implore you, keep your heart clean; keep your mind pure; keep your body healthy and wholesome; keep your record white, so that when love comes to you, as it may in God's own time, you may look in the eyes the pure woman who is the object of your affection, and tell her you live with an honest heart, without feeling that you must blush over soiled, hidden pages in your history. Why should any honest man or woman be ashamed to tell their past? I believe that a good many things are best said when never said at all. To insult one woman means to insult womanhood in general. And young woman, before you give yourself up, body, heart and all to be the wife of a man, be sure it is love's banner that waves over you, then shall it be a delight to sit in its shadow.

BE HONEST.

Honesty is the best policy in courtship as well as the right thing. Courtship is not a game of blind man's buff.

AFTERWARD

You need to be wide awake and be put on to your job in this important matter. It means untold volumes of either joy or sorrow to you. Don't court with a false face on. It will wear off after the honeymoon and sour all the honey. Play like a man. Be yourself. Court on the square. The ostensible object of courtship is the choice of a companion for life; and who wants a dressed up doll, whose god is a harem skirt or some other contrivance of the devil, or what woman wants a dude, whom Sam Jones defines, "As the little end of nothing whittled down to a point, and stuck on the end of a cigarette—for a man. Yes, get a man, but beware of some excuse for one. Better overalls than broadcloth, so long as your prince is an honest, clean, pure and, above all, a Christian man.

Better live with a Christ-man in a humble cottage than a child of the devil in a palace.

Next Sunday the subject will be "Marriage."

GROWTH OF ELECTRIC LIGHT IN PETERBOROUGH IS RAPID

New Generators Being Installed to Keep Pace with Growing Demand

It is interesting to note the growth of the electric light business in the city, and to see the extent to which the serving of light has grown, irrespective of the supplying of power.

What was at first a luxury, has become a necessity. The intervening years have brought changes, and while gas as an illuminant has been displaced, there is more gas used at present than was used for both fuel and light at the time electric light came in. The progress in the science of electrical production and distribution has been marvellous, and the end is not yet.

The city may infer, if it contemplates the introduction of a municipal plant into the field of lighting what the growth will be in the next ten or fifteen years, and that in installing a plant or acquiring a power it will be well to consider that ample provision be made for the future.

When the local Electric Light Company began business they put in a generator capable of supplying 600 lights. It was thought to be ample. Presently its capacity was absorbed, and they bought what was known about the power house as "the big machine" with a capacity of 1,200 lights. They looked calmly on the future, sure that with eighteen hundred light capacity all business could be handled.

Not long after the purchase of another generator was made, this time 1,800 lights in one machine. Next one of 2,400 lights, and the capacity of the old power house and wheels was outgrown, despite the fact that an auxiliary steam plant had been added.

The power house on the Dickson raceway was erected, and a whopping big generator installed, away above all capacities, and sure to supply all needs.

Then along comes the Peterborough Hydraulic Power Company, builds another power house, and puts in a generator of 30,000 lights.

In the meantime the Otonabee Power Company got into the field, with a generator of 16,500 lights, and the Auburn Power Company put in another capable of carrying 7,000.

These all massed together give some fair idea of the market for light in this city, and the preparation that has been made to supply it.

St. Paul's Church

Announcements for the week are as follows:

The Young People's Guild will meet this evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt will give an address on Luther. All the members are urged to be present at this meeting.

The regular midweek service will be held on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, and the Teachers' meeting at the close.

The anniversary services of St. Paul's Church, will be held on the first Sunday in May. Rev. Thos. Eakin, Ph.D., of Toronto, will be the preacher on that occasion. Dr. Eakin is assistant Professor of Oriental Languages in Toronto University, and associate preacher in St. Andrew's Church, King Street.

Vote for the Tire Company By-law on April 25, and give Peterborough another boost onward and upward.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

To-morrow night the Collegiate and Intermediate basketball teams will play the second game of the series. The Collegians won the last game by a close margin, but the Intermediates are strengthened a little by the changes on the lineup.

On Good Friday afternoon a number of boys went with "Sandy" Hall to Mr. Sanderson's sugar bush, about seven miles from the city. The sap was running freely and the youngsters disposed of a large quantity.

Burglars got $400 in cash and valuables from Edwin Russell's home Windsor.

DO IT NOW

The habit of putting off doing the things we ought to do is responsible for much of the trouble people spend so many regrets over. It almost seems that getting their eyes looked after in time is the duty most often put off by most people. Any inconvenience, even pain and discomfort are endured rather than "come to glasses." Could people only realize the feeling of positive relief and the added power of work that glasses would give them this urgent duty would be attended to at once. Could they only witness, as does the eye-sight specialist the numerous cases where it has been left too long undone and no help can be given any more with glasses, articles like this would be unnecessary. As it is we must keep on giving the old advice. We make no charge for consultation.

The progress in the science of electrical production and distribution has been marvellous, and the end is not yet.

The city may infer, if it contemplates the introduction of a municipal plant into the field of lighting what the growth will be in the next ten or fifteen years, and that in installing a plant or acquiring a power it will be well to consider that ample provision be made for the future.

When the local Electric Light Company began business they put in a generator capable of supplying 600 lights. It was thought to be ample. Presently its capacity was absorbed, and they bought what was known about the power house as "the big machine" with a capacity of 1,200 lights. They looked calmly on the future, sure that with eighteen hundred light capacity all business could be handled.

Not long after the purchase of another generator was made, this time 1,800 lights in one machine. Next one of 2,400 lights, and the capacity of the old power house and wheels was outgrown, despite the fact that an auxiliary steam plant had been added.

The power house on the Dickson raceway was erected, and a whopping big generator installed, away above all capacities, and sure to supply all needs.

Then along comes the Peterborough Hydraulic Power Company, builds another power house, and puts in a generator of 30,000 lights.

In the meantime the Otonabee Power Company got into the field with a generator of 16,500 lights, and the Auburn Power Company put in another capable of carrying 7,000.

These all massed together give some fair idea of the market for light in this city, and the preparation that has been made to supply it.

St. Paul's Church

Announcements for the week are as follows:

The Young People's Guild will meet this evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt will give an address on Luther. All the members are urged to be present at this meeting.

The regular midweek service will be held on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, and the Teachers' meeting at the close.

The anniversary services of St. Paul's Church, will be held on the first Sunday in May. Rev. Thos. Eakin, Ph.D., of Toronto, will be the preacher on that occasion. Dr. Eakin is assistant Professor of Oriental Languages in Toronto University, and associate preacher in St. Andrew's Church, King Street.

MARGARET ANGLIN'S APPEARANCE ON THURSDAY NIGHT A BIG SOCIETY EVENT

Appearance of Famous Canadian Actress in Green Stockings, an Event of Great Interest Locally—Big House Assured.

One of the important theatrical attractions that has been at the Grand this year, will be that of Margaret Anglin in "Green Stockings" on Thursday evening. It promises to be one of the biggest society events of the season, as there are many friends of this famous actress, and her family in the city, who will all be interested in her appearance.

Margaret Anglin, actress, within the past year has effected a new departure and is now appearing in comedy, apparently with substantially satisfactory results. Messrs. Liebler & Co., under whose direction Miss Anglin now appears, announces the play as a comedy in four acts, entitled "Green Stockings" by A. E. W. Mason and George Fleming, and the star in a role of pure comedy. Following the distressing news of several weeks ago that Miss Anglin's health had broken down, her reappearance here, completely restored, is gratifying.

The locale of "Green Stockings" is laid in England, at Lumley Park, the country seat of William Faraday, an English gentleman, with a bevy of fair daughters, two of whom are already married, one is about to be married, and the fourth, Celia, still remains on his hands, without much apparent prospect of leaving them. Without any desire to wear the green stockings at her third sister's wedding, Celia invents for herself an imaginary fiance and announces her engagement to him on the day that he is supposed to sail for Africa with his regiment. The announcement is accepted with surprise and satisfaction by the family, and thereafter Celia is regarded in less of a tolerated light.

Several months have elapsed, and Celia is beginning to feel the embarrasment of entertaining a mythical fiancee so she kills him by the simple process of sending a short paragraph to the London Times, announcing that he had died of wounds received in battle in Africa. This was read by the family, and Celia is overwhelmed with sympathy. When came poor Celia's cross, for barely had the announcement been read, than a stranger, Colonel Vavasour arrived London, bringing the last dying message to Celia of her fiance's love, delivered from his lonely tent in the African desert.

The amazement and perplexity of Celia may be imagined and it becomes intensified while the Colonel circumstantially relates full details of the poor fellow's last hours. Out of the complications that arise through this set of circumstances, a delightful and ingenious comedy is said to have been evolved wherein Miss Anglin and her colleagues find much opportunity for some clever and mirth-provoking fun.

The principal members of Miss Anglin's company are H. Reeves-Smith, as Colonel Vavasour, George Simpson as an Irish Admiral, with a strong sense of humor, Ruth Rose and Maude Granger as a wealthy Chicago widow.

"Green Stockings" will be played at the Grand, one night only, Thursday, April 20.

The seat sale opens to-morrow morning.

DATE OF BRYAN'S VISIT MAY 18

To Lecture Under Auspices of Y.M.C.A. on the Prince of Peace

Arrangements have now been definitely made for a visit from the Democratic leader in the United States, Mr. Wm. Jennings Bryan. He will be in Peterborough on Thursday, May 18th, and will give a lecture under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. entitled "The Prince of Peace."

Many of the Washington correspondents are declaring, says the New York Globe, that in spite of his many reverses at the polls, Mr. Bryan was never more of a factor in affairs at Washington than at this minute.

"The one supreme and inescapable political fact developed since the assembling of the new Congress is the widespread and decisive influence of this extraordinary man in the party which he led three times to national defeat."

In another dispatch Mr. Creelman declares that "Mr. Bryan, in spirit, if not in letter, more nearly approaches the political ideal of the real Republican insurgents than does Theodore Roosevelt."

Mr. Bryan is the silver-tongued orator of the United States.

His lecture "The Prince of Peace," is one of his very best efforts, and he will be heard with delight by a large number of our citizens on May 18th.

LOCAL BULLDOG A PRIZE WINNER

Rydal Squire Owned by Herb. Preston Won Honors at Toronto

Herbert Preston's fine English bulldog "Rydal Squire," when showed in Toronto before the Ontario Kennel Club, April 13, 14 and 15, took four first prizes, four specials and the coronation winners' prize, which was given for the best bull-dog at the show.

"Rydal Squire" was bred from high-class imported stock at considerable expense. His sire, "Lee Bank Squire," was among the dogs he defeated. The latter has a splendid record in England, winning many coveted prizes. "Our Dogs," in a review of a Birmingham show, in which "Lee Bank Squire" took first, says: "He is a short, gook-bodied brindle, with good shoulders, front, bone and gail, good skull, stop and big nose."

"Lee Bank Squire," beaten by "Rydal Squire" in every class in which they were both entered, took other firsts at the Toronto show, among the most important being the stud dog prize.

Some of the classes in which "Rydal Squire" won were the novice, breeders, limited and open, besides the specials offered by different gentlemen.

These wins count two points towards his championship, which is reckoned at ten points.

A little more honor is attached to this dog, as he was bred in Canada. Mr. Preston has the only English bulldogs in the city at present. Dr. King formerly owned one, but parted with it some time ago.

Mr. Preston has only been in Peterborough about a year and a half, being manager for the Ocean Blend Tea Co. here, and not very well known to the citizens as yet. Last season he was unable to ship his dogs to any exhibitions on account of the strict law in connection with the outbreak of rabies.

Mr. Mason, Port Washington, Long Island, N.Y., was a very popular judge, showing a keen appreciation of the qualities of the dogs.

WHEN KID McCOY BEAT HIMSELF

Students of the psychological find interesting "dope" in the fight between Kid McCoy and Tom Sharkey. Both were at their best then, January 10, 1899. McCoy was a marvellous boxer with a punch out of all proportion to his weight. Sharkey was 20 pounds heavier, built like a sawed-Hercules. When the fight began it looked if the slighter man could hardly have a chance to stand off the husky sailor's rushes.

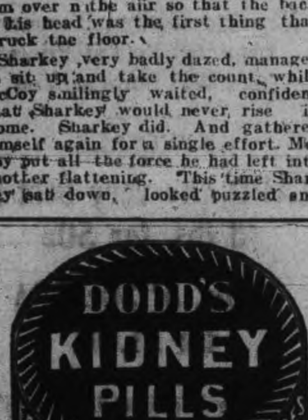
But he did stand them off. Sharkey had been training under Tommy Ryan's tuition, and Tommy Ryan wanted to show how much he had taught him. He told Sharkey to be clever and box. That was pie for McCoy. But the foxy Kidd came to the conclusion, after a little while that he must knock Sharkey out or risk being worn down and beaten.

McCoy was one bundle of nerves. His nerve strength was tremendous. The spectators around the ring could see McCoy gathering himself for one terrific punch. In a moment the chance came and McCoy put every ounce of strength and vitality he had into one effort. He drove his right upward to Sharkey's chin. The impact of the blow fairly lifted the sailor from his feet and turned him over in the air so that the back of his head was the first thing that struck the floor.

Sharkey, very badly dazed, managed to sit up and take the count, while McCoy smilingly waited, confident that Sharkey would never rise in tiome. Sharkey did. And gathered himself again for a single effort. McCoy put all the force he had left into another flattening. This time Sharkey sat down, looked puzzled and jumped up. McCoy had beaten himself. He had used all of his strength in a vain effort. When he saw Sharkey rise he knew that he was beaten.

Sharkey, a solid man without nerves, had taken McCoy's most deadly punch, and was on his feet again as strong as ever. Realization of the fact that he couldn't knock Sharkey out affected McCoy's high strung nervous system. He was like a man with a double barreled shot gun, who had fired both loads and didn't have time to slip in another shell.

Tom O'Rourke chased Tommy Ryan from the sailor's corner and ordered Sharkey to "cut out boxing and fight." Sharkey tore in McCoy and gave him a fearful mauling. McCoy sneering and dancing, stalled with all his wonderful skill but he couldn't keep away and he couldn't gather force enough to deliver another knock down. At last Sharkey cornered him on the ropes, and shifting in the style made famous years later by Ketchel, swept his face into McCoy's midsection and nearly broke him in two. McCoy was counted out as the referee could have counted a hundred.



BASEBALL

On the afternoon of July 19h of last year, in the second inning of a baseball game between the nines representing Cleveland and Boston, played on the grounds of the former team, Wagner, the first batter for the visiting team, reached first base on an error. Stahl, the second batsman bunted safely, advancing Wagner to second base. The next player "up" was McConnell. With two strikes and three balls listed against him and with the twenty-thousand spectators tingling with excitement the Boston captain gave the "hit and run" signal. The next ball pitched was met by McConnell's bat with tremendous force and was driven over second base in a manner that boded ill for the home team. Neal Ball, of the latter nine, was playing second. The moment the leather sphere left McConnell's bat the former jumped back of the base, leaped into the air, caught the drive with one hand, regained his feet and touched second base, stepped quickly to one side and touched Stahl with the ball, and thus made the most thrilling and spectacular unassisted triple play chronicled in the annals of baseball. Balls' feat was the second of its kind ever recorded in the history of the major leagues, the first having been to the credit of Paul Hines of the Providence, Rhode Island team, who had performed a similar exploit, curiously enough, against a Boston team tirty-one years before.—George Jean Nathan, in Harper's Weekly.

Scores at Yeotes' Gallery

At the shooting contest held in Yoetes Bros.' shooting gallery last week some very high scores were made. In the professional contest Miller nosed out Gill for the box of Tuckett's Specials, with a score of 59. The following are the scores—

PROFESSIONAL.

A. C. Miller, W. Gill, 59; E. Eastwood, T. J. Parker, E. Davis, 58; J. Gillespie, T. Martin, V. Wilson, C. Duggan, 57; B. McNeely, W. Poycott, J. W. Bernett, C. Kylie, V. Foley, 56.

AMATEUR.

In the amateur contest C. Sullivan captured the first prize, and H. Hamand second. The scores were—

C. Sullivan, 56; H. Hamand, 55; J. Reynolds, J. W. Stewart, J. McRare, P. Robson, W. Merritt, J. Rose, A. Rose, F. S. Roy, R. Weir, S. Carpenter, A. Chapman, 54.

More interest is being taken every week in these contests, and the prizes are well worth going after. The enterprising proprietors have installed a new feature in connection with the gallery, including birds and animals, and the boys are taking to them in good shape. Three more good prizes will be put up next week.

P.B.A. AND S.G.

In the competitions at the Peterborough Bowling Alleys and Shooting Gallery last week, the ten-pin prize a gold locket, was won by Mr. Mills, and the five-pin prize, a gold watch fob, by S. Cooper. In the shooting events C. Smith and W. Wilson were winners.

Drowning at Quebec.

Quebec, April 17.—The first drowning accident of the season in this port occurred on Saturday evening, when Robert Degrace, an oiler on the Government steamer Princess, found a watery grave in the Louise Basin. He was going down the ladder which served as a gangway between the wharf and the Canada, when he fell over on the ice and dropped into the river. Several planks were thrown out to the drowning man, who made an effort to seize them, but he was apparently injured in his fall, and could not reach any of them.

Whirled Round Flywheel.

Brockville, April 17.—A fatal accident occurred on Saturday at Roebuck cheese factory, situated in the Township of Augusta, a few miles north of Prescott. The victim was Robert Graham, aged 35 years, who, in adjusting a belt, was caught and whirled around the flywheel. He was instantly killed. While shockingly injured, his body was not mutilated. He was a married man and leaves a wife and four children, two of whom are ill with smallpox.

May Succeed MacMillan.

Winnipeg, April 17.—John Galt, of the firm of G. F. & J. Galt, will, according to information published in The Telegram Saturday, be appointed lieutenant-governor of Manitoba to succeed Sir Daniel MacMillan. The appointment has not yet been officially announced, but it is well known that Sir Daniel MacMillan is on the eve of retirement from his dignified office and that his successor has been determined upon in Ottawa.

John Galt is of the distinguished family which has made its impress on the political, professional and commercial life of the Dominion. The first of the name in Canada was the friend of Lord Byron, who was the founder of the Canada company which was so great a factor in the history of Western Ontario. The city of Galt, Ont., is named in his honor.

The prospective new governor is the son of Sir Alexander Galt, the distinguished friend and supporter of Sir John A. Macdonald, in several of whose Cabinets he held a portfolio. He came to Manitoba in the early eighties of the last century, and with his cousin, George Galt, founded the well-known firm of G. F. and J Galt.

Crucible Bursts; Eight Die.

Philadelphia, April 17.—Eight workmen were fatally injured and a dozen others were badly scalded by the bursting of a large crucible containing melten steel at the Midvale Steel Works here Saturday afternoon.

The physicians attending the men at the Germantown Hospital where they were taken, say the eight men have not one chance in a thousand to live. The other twelve workmen, though seriously burned, are expected to recover.

The accident occurred while more than a score of men were guiding with long tongs the big crucible containing several tons of the fiery steel along a traveling crane. It burst without warning and the hot fluid poured over some of the nearest men and splashed over all the others. Wherever it struck it stuck like glue.

The sight of the men was sickening to the physicians and nurses. Several of the victims were burned from head to foot and flesh peeled off their bodies as the physicians attempted to remove their clothing.

The Midvale Steel Co., following its custom, declined to make a statement regarding the accident.

Blew Out Brains.

Winnipeg, April 17.—"I'm tired of it all. It's not worth the struggle, and I am going to end it." Penning these words on a slip of paper, W. H. Blair of Hamilton, Ont., drew a revolver and blew out his brains. According to the punch marks on a railroad ticket found in his pocket, Blair had evidently left Toronto for Vancouver on April 10, arriving in Winnipeg April 12. He had $125 in cash on him and a valuable gold watch and chain, with the latter of which he had tried to reward a little girl of a farm house, where he had asked and received food. The tragedy took place on the high road, three miles from Rosser. He was identified by his name being tattooed on his right arm.

A RUNAWAY.

On Tuesday afternoon of last week considerable excitement was caused by a runaway. The horse, which belonged to a member of the Salvation Army, Campbellford, upset the buggy just at Squire's store, and tore away from the vehicle at the corner, and made a furious dash down George street on the sidewalk before it took the road. After a couple of blocks' run the horse was stopped. The buggy was badly damaged.

GIVEN A CHANCE.

Jos. Burke, who stole money from a boarding house at Indian River, was arrested on the noon train Friday by Chief Bennett. Burke is only 17 years of age, and when arrested had only 25 cents in his pocket. He confessed to Chief Bennett that he wanted to go to Sharbot Lake, so he stole the money. He was taken to Peterborough, where he was given a chance to do better.

New Chinese Loan.

Pekin, April 17.—The new Chinese foreign loan is secured by the provincial revenues. According to the terms of the agreement, the banking groups representing the United States, Great Britain, France and Germany, will pay to China $5,000,000 immediately, $5,000,000 when the powers have approved of the currency reform, and the Manchurian development schemes, and the balance of the loan in installments covering some months.

The agreement does not provide for a financial adviser to the Chinese Government, the Chinese having refused to allow that provision to be included, but the Pekin Government addressed a note to W. J. Calhoun, the American Minister, asking him to appoint an adviser. The American bankers referred the selection of an adviser to the participating bankers, who are now discussing the appointment of a neutral financial expert.

Graham's Son Cannot Live.

Brockville, April 17.—Perry M. Graham, the youngest son of Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, lies at the General Hospital in an unconscious state, and doctors in attendance say he connot live many hours. He was representing The Brockville Evening Recorder in the press gallery at Ottawa, and came home ten days ago ill of jaundice, which did not develop serious symptoms till Friday. His father was summoned from Ottawa Saturday night a few hours before his removal to the hospital.

Graham is about 25 years of age and unmarried. He figured prominently in local athletic circles, excelling particularly in amateur hockey, football and baseball.

Killed While at Work.

Toronto, April 17.—Caught between two flat cars at 10.15 a.m. Saturday, another victim was added to the heavy list of fatalities in the person of Lukea Priska, an Austrian, who was employed loading flat cars at the Sunnyside crossing.

One flat car was standing apart, and just as the engineer shunted another one down to it, Priska started to cross between them. Jammed between the two cars, he was killed instantly.

Deceased was about 45 years of age, married, and lived at 3 Gladstone square. His body was taken to the morgue, and an inquest will be held early in the week.

The Cavan Cheese Factory at Cobourg was burned, loss $8,000.

PHYSICIANS
Failed to Cure Rheumatism

Miss Flora Chapman Vividly Describes Her Sufferings and Ultimate Cure With "Nerviline."

"After being an enthusiastic user of Nerviline for years, I feel it my duty to tell you personally what your wonderful preparation has done for me.

"I suffered torture from rheumatism and heart trouble, tried scores of so-called remedies, consulted for weeks and months with Toronto's most eminent physicians, but derived only slight benefit.

"A friend insisted on my using Nerviline, and to my surprise a vigorous rubbing of this powerful liniment eased the pains and reduced the stiffness in my joints. I continued to use Nerviline and was permanently cured. I am now perfectly well, and for three years have had no rheumatism at all. I know many families where no other medicine but Nerviline is kept—it is so useful in minor ailments like earache, toothache, neuralgia, coughs, colds, lumbago, and sciatica. I call Nerviline my "Life Guard," and urge all to try its merit."

BARN RAISING AT LAKEHURST

Special Correspondence

Lakehurst, April 10—The event of last week was Mr. W. J. Northey's barn-raising, which was held Friday afternoon. A large number of men attended coming from such afr-distant points as Hall's Bridge and Sandy Point, but the dimensions of the barn were so large and the timber so heavy, that it was soon seen there was not a man too many. The barn is quite a large one, being eighty feet long, about fifty feet wide, between fifty and sixty feet high, and as it stands on a hill it shows off to good advantage. Rumour says that from it Chemong Park may be seen. The carpenter, Mr. Dunn, of Bobcaygeon, made a very favorable impression on the men of this neighborhood, as in engineering the raising of the structure he showed himself to be both careful and capable. As night drew on and the men were becoming weary from their strenuous exertions Mr. Robert Calvert proved that he could "come out strong under trying circumstances" and kept up the spirits of the crowd with his ever ready humor.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Chase of British Columbia are visiting friends here now.

The warm spring weather is working havoc with the ice, which for so long connected Lakehurst with Bobcaygeon, the hub of the universe—we shall miss it as it was extremely handy to slip over to the village any afternoon when we chanced to have a little business to transact, and then we feel so sorry for Bobcaygeon.

Mr. Willie Thompson has returned after spending the week at Lakefield and Young's Point.

We hear that we are to have a new speaker in the Methodist Church, next Sunday evening A friend of Mr. Mutton's from Albert College, is to take charge of the service.

Miss Florence Esson, Miss Madge Shaw and Miss Crissie Shearer were guests at Greenbanks last Sunday afternoon.

GREATEST POWER IN CANADA

ject to the conditions and restrictions above mentioned and the right to install works to develop such power as this surplus water would generate under a 20 foot head. In addition to this, the city would acquire the present 1500 h.p. plant at Dam No. 5, a 6600 volt transmission line to Peterborough, a substation at Peterborough, a distribution system covering practically the whole city, and a connected load of 1250 peak horse power.

The Dickson offer means simply the assigning of a lease. The Otonabee offer includes not only the assignment of a lease, but a complete generating, transmitting and distribution system handling a load of 1250 h.p. and capable of handling a load of 1500 h.p. with very little additional expense.

DEVELOPMENT.

The development of the Dickson site involves the building of a generating station, a ten-mile transmission line, a substation and a complete distribution system throughout the City of Peterborough, including pole-lines, circuits, service transformers and meters. The development of the Otonabee site would involve only the building of a generating station and the erection of such extra copper as would be necessary to distribute a preliminary 2700 h.p. economically.

Apart from comparative capital costs, the mere fact that the streets of the city would be obliged to carry a new distributing system, assuming that this is physically possible, would be sufficient to place the advantage with the Otonabee site. In addition to this the fact that the transmission distance is only 5 miles as compared with ten miles from Lakefield is distinctly to the advantage of the Otonabee site as regards continuity of service.

COSTS.

The attached estimate indicates that 2700 h.p. continuous 24 hr. power can be delivered to the customer in Peterborough for an average price of about $16.00 per h.p. from the Otonabee site. An approximate estimate of costs with reference to the Dickson site indicates that 2700 h.p. could be delivered to the customer in Peterborough for practically the same price as 2700 h.p. from the Otonabee site. As the load approached its ultimate capacity, the advantage would therefore lie more and more with the Otonabee site, the more so as the 2700 h.p. delivered from Lakefield would require the maximum possible development at the Dickson site.

MARKET.

If the city took up the Dickson offer, it would involve the creation of an entirely new market, with the Otonabee Power Company as a competitor, and also the duplication of distribution lines throughout the city. By buying out the Otonabee Power Company, its competitors would be eliminated, a ready-made market would be obtained, and the necessity of duplicating the distribution system would be avoided.

Of the points considered above, the most important are;—1. Rights under lease. 2. Available present flow. 3. Annual costs. 4. Power capacity. 5. Market conditions.

In the matter of rights under lease, the Dickson property at present has the advantage. In the matter of present flow, both propositions are on equal terms. On all the other counts the advantage lies with the Otonabee property.

In view of the above, the conclusions are;—1. If, as seems possible, a perpetual lease to the Otonabee site can be obtained at the present or at a less rental, and if reasonable assurance can be given that no drastic action will be taken in restricting the use of additional surplus flow, then the Otonabee proposition is unquestionably the best. 2. If the terms and conditions as set forth in the present lease were strictly enforced, the transmission distance advantages of distribution, and market conditions would still throw the balance in favor of the Otonabee site.

CONDITIONS OF OTONABEE LEASE

The development rights under which the plant of the Otonabee Power Company operates, are held by virtue of a lease taken out on August 1st, 1901, by Messrs. W. H. Meldrum W. A. Stratton and R. R. Hall, and later assigned to the Otonabee Power Company. The outstanding features of this lease are as follows: 1. It imposes a fixed rental of $1264 per year for land and surplus water. 2. The life of the lease is for three terms only of 21 years each, the date of the expiry being August 1st, 1964, after which date the question of renewal rests solely upon the decision of the Governor-in-Council. 3. Clause 13 of the lease stipulates that should the Trent Canal during the term of the lease be improved or enlarged, any increased volume or flow of water thereby made available shall not be considered surplus water within the provisions of the lease, nor accrue to the benefit of the lessees. 4. Clause 14 of the lease stipulates that upon the expiry of the second 21 year term of the lease, the rental of the final year may be fixed "at any greater or other rate than herewith reserved," said rental to be fixed by and at the option of the Governor-in-Council.

This lease covers only the present site of development of Dam No. 5, and a lease will, of course, have to be obtained covering the combined development of Dams Nos. 4 and 5. This new lease had not been issued when enquiries were made early in March, but it is reported to have been issued recently, and to call for [illegible] combined development. For lack of more definite information, it is assumed that the important clauses in this new lease are similar to those in the old lease as above described. The new lease must also include the right to use some 4 1-2 acres of Canal lands which the plant will occupy. The amount of yearly rental and the limitation of the term to 64 years, does not seriously impair the value of the lease, but the restriction as to the use of surplus water should be looked into closely. If the phrase "improved or enlarged" can be interpreted as applying strictly to the waters forming the navigable channel of the canal, and the locks, dams and other constructed works in connection therewith, then this clause imposes no greater restriction upon the lessee than Article No. 21 of the General Conditions which accompanies all leases issued by the Department of Railways and Canals. If, on the other hand, this phrase "improved or enlarged," is extended to cover the storage works in the upper watershed, the restriction will have a serious effect both from an engineering and an economic standpoint, and a definite understanding, should be arrived at before any attempt is made to carry the scheme into execution.

The contemplated scheme of development at Dam No. 4 and No. 5, involves the combination of two bends by taking the water above Dam No. 4 and discharging it below Dam No. 5. This diversion will entail the construction of about 2,800 feet of head-race; and all the private property required for the same has been purchased by the Otonabee Power Company. A plan showing the general lay-out of the plant has been prepared and approved by the superintending engineer of the Trent canal, and indicated upon this plan are the several blocks of canal lands which would require to be demised or leased to the company for construction of the power-house and headworks. The canal authorities are considering the possibility at some future time of using the head-race of the new plant for navigation purposes by substituting a new lock of 26 feet lift for the two locks of 12 and 14 feet lift at present existing. In this event the head-race would require to have a much greater cross-section than if it were used for power purposes only, and two courses of action are open, namely, to construct at the outset a head-race of sufficient cross-section to accommodate the navigation and power interests, the Department of Railways and Canals bearing a just proportion of the cost, or to allow the construction of a head-race for power purposes only, on the understanding that the Department of Railways and Canals may at some future time, at its own expense, and without interrupting the power service, widen the head-race sufficiently to adapt it for navigation purposes. This question should also be settled before any steps are taken to carry the scheme through.

ESTIMATING DATA.

In January, 1909, an estimate was prepared for the Otonabee Power Company by a well known firm of consulting engineers, covering the cost of developing the site and Dams No. 4 and 5, for a future installed capacity of 4,000 h.p. and a preliminary installation of 2,700 h.p. A detailed survey was made of the site, complete plans were prepared, and the manufacturers' quotations obtained for the different classes of equipment. This complete working estimate has been finally revised to meet the requirements of the canal authorities, and the figures derived therefrom have been used in the general estimate hereto attached.

The existing transmission line consists of a line of wood poles with two three-phase circuits of No. 1 copper. This copper has a carrying capacity of 2,500 h.p., with 6 per cent. loss, and the line is in good operating condition, so that at the present time no expenditure for transmission is necessary, outside of the purchase price.

The Peterborough sub-station is a substantial brick building, centrally situated. The station contains 2,000 h.p. rated transformer capacity stepping down from 6,000 to 3,000 volts, with the necessary switching equipment.

The distribution system covers the residential, business and industrial sections of the city very completely, but not enough copper is erected at present to handle more than 1,500 h.p. economically. Some of the larger blocks of power are also located at such a distance from the station that heavy expenditure in copper would be necessary for serving at 2,200 volts. It has, therefore, been considered advisable to serve such customers by means of a separate 6,000-volt power circuit stepping down at the point of load to motor voltage. The pole lines at present erected are in good shape, and the poles are long, so that no difficulty is anticipated in connection with the erection of the extra power circuit. In the general estimate attached, allowance is made for the erection of the necessary extra copper, cross-arms, insulators, and transformers. An allowance is also made for the building of such new lines as would be necessary to serve new customers not located within the limits of the present system.

The installation of this 6,000-volt power circuit will not only mean a saving in copper, but it will obviate the necessity of immediately increasing the sub-station transformer capacity, as the 2,000 h.p. capacity already installed will handle the lighting and small motor load for some time to come. The system, extended as above indicated, will handle a load of 2,500 h.p. with ease.

The attached estimate allows for the necessary 6,000-volt selector switches and a complete equipment of switchboard instruments in the sub-station.

In the estimate of annual charges, the maintenance and depreciation are based on the estimated first cost of such portions of the present plant and equipment of the Otonabee Power Company as will be utilized, and in addition the charges on all new plant. The operating costs of the new system should not be appreciably greater than those obtaining at present, but as information in this connection has not yet been obtained from the company the figure given is merely estimated. All other items in the estimate are self-explanatory.

SALE OF POWER.

The estimates show that 2,500 h.p. could be sold for an average price of $17.55 per h.p. per year. This refers to continuous 24 hour power, and does not take into account the possibility of re-sale of 10 hour power or the possibility of supplying a connected motor load of, say, 2,000 h.p., with 1,500 h.p. station capacity. Allowing for re-sale of power and overselling of capacity, it would be entirely safe to assume that the enlarged system could carry a load of 3,000 h.p. to 3,500 h.p., with 2,500 h.p. capacity installed. The lesser figure of 3,500 h.p. would therefore reduce the average price to $14.65 per horse power per year for 10 hour power.

All the lighting and power business at present handled by the company on a flat rate, and all present users of power who are under contract, should be held to the present rates during the term of their respective contracts, and all new power business should be taken at a revised rate to be based on load-factor and on the annual charges for which the city would be liable in the event of its carrying out the proposed scheme.

All new lighting business should be handled on a meter basis, but at the outset the flat rate users should have the option of coming in under the meter rate or continuing on the flat rate basis until such time as the revenue from meter light is great enough to allow of a definite decision as to whether or not lighting shall be placed on a meter basis exclusively.

SCOPE OF REPORT AND CONCLUSIONS.

It is to be noted that the scope of this report does not cover the discussion of present rates or of rates to be charged in the future, this being a question to be taken up later in detail. The function of this report is to indicate the most favorable location for development from an economic and engineering standpoint, and having established this, to show what capital investment will be necessary to develop and deliver power to the consumer. Also to show what annual charges such delivery will entail, and to indicate an average price for which the output of the preliminary installation of 2,700 h.p. must be sold to cover said annual charges.

The capital cost for full generating capacity will be about $193,000 and assuming $150,000 of the purchase price chargeable to the generating portion of the system, the total capital cost of the power at the switchboard would be $343,000 or $86.00 per h.p. on the assumption that 4,000 h.p. can ultimately be developed. On this basis the price asked by the company is not unreasonable.

The capital cost and annual charges for 4000 h.p. capacity have not been included in the estimate for two reasons: First, because the restrictions of the lease make it uncertain as to whether sufficient surplus water will be available, and, secondly, because if it can be shown that the city can handle the preliminary development of 2700 h.p. profitably, the success of the scheme is assured, and any increments of generated power would when sold tend always to reduce the average cost of production, the result being either an increase in the city's profits or a reduction in the cost to the consumer.

An estimate for full capacity would also require an allowance for further extension of the distribution system, and this cannot be estimated upon with any degree of accuracy. If the city sold power at cost, the additional investment for extension would be covered by an additional loan. If the city sold power at a reasonable margin of profit, extensions could be made as required and the cost defrayed out of revenue.

In the meantime, the estimates as submitted indicate that the annual charges incident to the development and sale of 2700 h.p. can be covered by selling power at a very reasonable price. This being the case, the continued success of the scheme would seem to be inevitable, and all consideration as to the cost of power, when the ultimate capacity of the site has been reached, can be safely left over until market requirements make such consideration necessary. The present conclusion is that the Otonabee site with Dams No. 4 and 5 is best suited for the city's purpose, and that the city could well afford to pay $225,000 for the Otonabee Power Company's complete system and develop the site at Dams No. 4 and 5, providing a market of 2500 h.p. is in sight.

No information is at hand concerning the business being done at present by the Otonabee Power Company, but it is reported that their gross yearly earnings are in the neighborhood of $30,000, this being derived from a load of 1250 h.p. on the peak. If the city can hold this business while developing a market for the balance of the power, it will go a long way toward obviating the possibility of a deficit in the first year's operation.

Respectfully submitted,
P. W. SOTHMAN,
Chief Engineer.

Note.—The figures for power development in the attached estimate include the whole cost of the head-race, core-wall and embankment and the necessary excavation, but if this channel is to be used in the future for navigation purposes, the canal authorities might reasonably be asked to stand at least a portion of the cost of the work, which amounts to $43,000.

THE ESTIMATES.

Estimate of Capital Investment necessary to buy out the Otonabee power company and to generate, transmit and distribute 2,700 h.p. in the city of Peterborough.

CHILD SAVED BY G.T.R. BRAKEMAN

Youngster Was in the Path of Shunting Engine

The prompt action of the brakeman and engineer on the grand Trunk yard engine this afternoon saved a little boy from a serious accident.

The train was taking water and started when the boy, who is about 8 years of age, in company with a little girl, were walking alongside the track on their way to the G.T.R. station. There are a number of tracks in front of the water tank, and the youngster took the one upon which the engine was moving. The brakeman was standing on the foot-board in front, and, seeing the lad, signalled to the engineer for a full stop, and reaching down, caught the child by the arm, shoving him out of danger.

EASTER MESSAGES IN CITY CHURCHES BY SONG AND SERMON

The Tragedy of Calvary and the Story of the Resurrection.

The dark tragedy of Calvary and the beautiful story of the Resurrection were pictured by sermon and song in the city churches yesterday, and large congregations were present both morning and evening.

ST. LUKE'S.

The day at St. Luke's church was the occasion of the rector's farewell to his congregation, and at the evening service every seat was occupied, and the congregation gave a most attentive hearing to the last message of the preacher, who has been in charge of St. Luke's for the past ten years. Added solemnity was occasioned at this service by the sad announcement made by Rev. Dr. Langfeldt of the death that afternoon at four o'clock of Miss Alice Neil.

The anthem, solo and duet work in the special music by the choir, with Mrs. Greenslade presiding at the organ, was well given.

The text for the discourse was taken from the epistle of St. Paul to the Phillipians, chapter 3, verses 13-14: "Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended, but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind and reaching forth unto these things which are before . . . . I press toward the mark."

Rev. Dr. Langfeldt spoke feelingly and earnestly and in such a manner as must have impressed every member of this congregation. He referred to the meaning and significance of the text, as it had related to Paul's life. The apostle had not laid claim to having understood the mysterious workings of God in his past life, but was determined to push oneward in the future to the goal which was before him. The preacher urged his hearers to have a goal—some fixed purpose and to strive with all their might to reach that goal. It was possible to cast all mistakes and shortcomings of the past aside, and march on by renewed effort, which came by the power of Christ, to triumph.

AT ALL SAINTS'.

Easter Day in All Saints' this year will long be remembered. It was the crowning day during the present rector's ministry, and brought out the strength of the parish as never before. In the first place the newly surpliced choir of 40 voices gave a beauty, dignity and tone to the services never before reacted, quite realising the fondest dreams of those who appreciate the beauties of the Anglican mode of worship. The surplicing of the choir will not interfere with the congregational worship so characteristic of All Saints.' Mr. George Chandler is to be congratulated on the efficiency to which he has brought the choir. This was evidenced in all the music, but notably in the anthems, "They have taken away my Lord," in the morning, and "O Death, where is thy sting," in the evening. The solo part in the former was most creditably taken by Miss Mabel Williams, who showed great improvement as a soloist. Mrs. Johnston presided most creditably at the organ. The congregations, both morning and evening, broke all Easter records, the number of communicants reaching nearly 350, an increase of over 100 in 3 years. The offerings were nearly $600.00, which is surprising as during the past 12 months offerings totalling over $400 had already been taken up. The church was most beautifully decorated with abundance of flowers (generously donated) by the Chancel Guild. The lay reader, Mr. C. A. C. Spence, gave the rector most excellent and needed help at the morning and evening services.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

At St. Paul's church yesterday the following composed the musical services in addition to the usual Easter hymns:

Anthem. Shelly's "Resurrection Morn," with solo by Mr. E. V. Moore. Maunder's, "Christ Our Passover." Allen's "Awake Thou That Sleepest," "Unfold Ye Portals," from "Redemption."

Miss Davies contributed as solo, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," Messiah, and Hawley's "Christ is Risen." A trio, "Lift Thine Eyes," from Elizah, was given by Misses Scott, Dawson and Sanderson.

ST. ANDREWS

The Easter services at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church yesterday were extremely bright, and inspiring. Large and appreciative audiences were present both morning and evening, and the spirit of the Easter seemed to pervade the entire services.

The music was especially elevating The morning anthem "Hallelujah" was given in a very spirited manner. Mr. Gordon F. Wright was also heard in a splendid sung solo, entitled "Around the Great White Throne." In the evening Miss Olive Howell, very pleasingly sang "The Angel's Song." Her work was marked by a purity of tone and depth of expression that was truly delightful.

As his morning text, Rev. Mr. Rollins took a passage from the 3rd chapter of Acts, which tells of the feeling of the cripple who sat daily at the beautiful gate of the Temple asking alms.

Mr. Rollins pointed out that in the condition of this man before and after his healing by the apostle, we had a picture of human life before and after the Easter gospel reached men.

He pointed out also the way in which many of our greatest human powers were crippled without the truth that Easter teaches. Taking love as an example, of these he said, that love was the brightest thing in all the past. His love for humanity filled the present with joy and strength, and like a pillar of fire by night and a pillar of cloud by day it had led humanity through the wilderness and waste as to some promised land. It lifted men up to great heights of happiness and power. Then death came and shoved us over the precipice, and let us drop from that transfiguring height, and the greater the love, the keener the pain.

But the Easter message changed all this. We found our departed friends in God, and find them worthier to be loved.

KNOX CHURCH.

The special Easter sermons at Knox church yesterday were preached by Rev. H. J. Keith to large congregations. The services were in keeping with the occasion.

"Christ came into this world enshrouded in mystery, stayed here enshrouded in mystery, and went out of it enshrouded in mystery," said Mr. Keith. "Great is the mystery of God. In the life that He lived and in the death that he died, and in the resurrection and exaltation we believe that He is not dead but present at all times. We cannot explain all these things, but that is the fact of our creed. The mystery of Christ was shown in His person, because Jesus Christ became a man.

"The people never questioned His humanity while He was on earth, bearing burdens and suffering with them, but when they talked of His diety, the mystery of His human nature was questioned. God manifested Himself through the human form to you and to me."

The choir supplied special music for the occasion, rendering the anthems "Christ the Lord is Risen To'day" and "He is Risen."

GEORGE STREET

At George Street Church, the services morning and evening were conducted by the pastor Rev. I. Couch.

The services were of a character appropriated to the occasion, and were were listened to by large congregations.

The music was in keeping, and the choir, under the direction of Mr. Chas. Ackerman, who has been lending valuable assistance as organist and choir master as supply, was an enjoyable part of the service. At the evening service. the anthem was given with excellent effect, and Miss Reesor sang a solo, "I know that my Redeemer Liveth."

CHARLOTTE STREET

The evening service at Charlotte St. yesterday was more in the nature of a sacred concert, at it was mostly devoted to singing.

The sermon was very brief, to allow the lengthy musical program to be given.

In the morning, however, Mr. Fred. Skitch gave a very impressive interpretation of Gerald Lane's composition "The Garden of Prayer." Mr. Skitchs' pleasing bass voice was heard to splendid advantage in its performance.

Of the three evening anthems, two "O Death where is thy Sting,' and "Christ is Risen,' were very effectively sung.

Mr Harold Lee's high tenor voice was admirably adapted to the solo "The Promise of the King," his exceedingly wide range, and sympathetic manner of delivery were deserving of high praise

"Immortality,' a soprano solo, by Miss Edna Pringle, was sung with great power and effect. Her higher register notes are remarkably rich and clear, and under perfect control.

A quartet composed of Messrs. ing, Lee, Skitch and Bradley was heard in a delightful and impressive number entitled "Sweet Sabbath Eve."

MARK STREET

Unusually large congregations were present to hear the sermons and music at Mark Street Methodist Church and both pastor and congregation had cause to feel elated at the success of the services. The solos at the morning service were given by Mrs. Dr. Middleton and Mrs. Cunningham of Orillia, while in the evening. Mrs. Ward gave a solo and Miss Tait and Mr. Callander sang a duet.

The sermons by the Rev. Mr. Coon, were in keeping with the day, and some striking lessons were set before the congregation.

ST. JAME'S

St. Jame's Methodist Church held interesting and helpful Easter services yesterday.

The morning sermon was devoted to Easter topics, and in the evening was a continuation of the series of sermons on the Book of Genesis.

The music was very creditably presented and is deserving of sincere praise.

A solo by E. Baldry, entitled, "The Resurrection Morn," was ably rendered in the evening.

MURRAY STREET

Murray Street Baptist Church held two very interesting services on Easter Sunday, and all the exercises were in keeping with the day.

The music was especially bright, and was given with fine effect. The morning anthem was "O Death, where is thy Sting, O Grave where is thy Victory." Miss Clara Kidd very beautifully sang "He is Sleeping," and her rich well rounded vocal tones were splendidly displayed.

In the evening, an anthem, and a solo by Mr. Asa Huycke, were greatly enjoyed. A quartet selection by Mrs. Miller, Mr. F. Miller, Miss Kidd, and Mr. Huycke was also greatly enjoyed.

Mr. Ferguson, a former member of the choir, who was in the city, also sang in fine voice.

Rev J. R. Webb, the pastor, preached excellent sermons, at both morning and evening. His morning text was taken from John 11th chap., 25 and 26 "I am the Resurrection."

In the evening he preached from the passage which reads, "And they departed from the sepulchre with fear and great trembling.'

SALVATION ARMY.

Music was supplied at the services at the Salvation Army Temple by the Hamilton and local bands and at the afternoon and evening service, every available seat was occupied and late comers could not get in. The Songster Brigade gave vocal numbers as did also members of the bands. Altogether the day was one of rejoicing for all who took part or attended.

OBITUARY

The Late John Burke

At the age of 85 years, John Burke, a highly respected resident, of Douro, passed away Saturday.

The late Mr. Burke was a farmer and had resided in Douro for sixty-five years and will be mourned by a large circle of friends.

Those left to mourn his loss are his wife, five sons, Michael, Peterboro; Patrick, Lakefield; Maurice, of St. Paul, Minnesota; John, of Peterborough, and Thomas, of Douro, and three daughters, Mrs. John O'Brien, Edmonton; Mrs. Dennis O'Brien, Douro, and Mrs. Wm. Guerin, Douro.

The funeral took place at 9 o'clock this morning to St. Martin's church, thence to St. Martin's cemetery.

A Sad Message

Fred Rogers, Grand Trunk painter, who resides at Lindsay, came to Peterborough on No. 10 this morning to paint the semaphores at the diamond. He received a telegram shortly after his arrival to the effect that his child had passed away since he left home. Mr. Rogers returned to Lindsay at noon via Millbrook.

Death of Child

Thomas Leo, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. James Powers, Otonabee, passed away last evening.

The funeral will tae place at 9.30 o'clock to-morrow morning to St. Peter's cemetery.

The Late Miss Neil

A bright young life came to a close yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, when Miss Alice Neil passed away suddenly at the residence of her mother, at 333 Burnham street, after an extended illness. She was sixteen years of age.

Possessed of those qualities which endeared her to all with whom she came in contact, the late Miss Neil made many friends, who will join in extending to the bereaved mother their sincere sympathy. Before her illness the deceased was engaged in the millinery department of R. Fair & Co. Her father the late Harry Neil, predeceased her one year ago last September. Besides her mother one sister and one brother are left to mourn her loss. They are Mrs. John Gemmell and Percy, of this city.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock to the Little Lake cemetery, and will be private. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt will officiate.

Get One Cent a Name.

Ottawa, April 17.—The table of rates and allowancese for census commissioners and enumerators, as approved by order in council of the 28th of March, 1911, is announced as follows:

For correspondence with Departmental and staff officers, personal studies, instruction of enumerators, examination and correction of enumerators' reports and accounts, and making up returns for transmission to the Minister of Agriculture, according to the book of instructions, the commissioner of each census district, Yukon excepted, will be entitled to payment at a rate of one cent per name for each person enumerated in the population schedule.

For all other duties and to cover expenses of travel and otherwise, and all other charges of office.

In the census districts where one commissioner is appointed a special allowance will be given to each commissioner of such amounts as is set opposite the name of each district, in addition to the rate of one cent per name.

Found Lying In Wagon.

Hamilton, April 17.—With his head in a pool of blood and a bullet hole in the right temple, the body of Harry McDonald was found lying in a wagon in Kelley's woodyard, at the corner of Cathcart and Cannon streets, at 3.45 yesterday afternoon. In the right hand was a revolver, from two shots had been fired. The circumstances indicate suicide. McDonald had been in ill-health for some time, and this is given as the reason for the act. It is not known when the deed was committed, but residents of the district where the body was found heard revolver shots yesterday morning about six o'clock. McDonald had been dead several hours when his body was discovered, and one of the shots heard is thought to be the one that ended his life. He was 19 years of age and lived with his parents at 327 East Barton street. Coroner Rennie will hold an inquest at the city morgue Monday morning.

In Libel Suit Already.

Montreal, April 17.—No sooner was Jules Fournier's new paper l'Action on the street, than its printer was sued for $25,000 by the Messrs. Tarte of La Patrie. The first number of l'Action contains an article directed against La Patrie, declaring that paper to be sold to the Conservative leaders, and for this reason an action has been taken against Mr. Pigeon, the printer of the new venture, the plaintiffs alleging the defendant to be the only responsible party connected with the paper.

The Government will take steps to relieve starving Indians in the Keewatin district.

REPUBLICANS WILL OPPOSE THE PACT TO THE FINISH; PARTY WHIP SO DECLARES

Reciprocity Promises to Have a Hard Time In Both Houses of Congress Judging From Early Stages of Debate In Lower Chamber—New York American Makes a Special Investigation of Situation at Washington.

Washington, April 18.—"After a thorough canvass of the Republican membership of the House I can state positively that a substantial majority of the party will vote against the Canadian reciprocity bill," said Representative Dwight of New York, the Republican whip, last night. The bill is to be put on its passage this week.

This will not prevent its passage, even though a number of the Democrats follow the course now indicated, and vote against the majority of their party. The Democratic majority in favor of it has greatly increased in the new Congress, however.

Five speakers participated in the debate yesterday. Representative Fordney of Michigan, a Republican member of the ways and means committee, and Representative Lenroot of Wisconsin, an Insurgent Republican, spoke at length against the bill. Representatives Harrison of New York and Peters of Massachusetts, Democratic members of the ways and means committee, and Representative Crumpacker of Indiana, Republican, advocated its passage.

Mr. Lenroot gave an emphatic statement of Insurgent politics and views. Questioned from the Democratic side, he declared that he opposed the reciprocity agreement because he believed its actually increased many duties. He declared that if the Democrats were sincere in their desire to put more articles on the free list they would attach the free list to the reciprocity bill. He accused them of wanting the President to veto their free list bill when it finally passed, to make political capital for them.

"The progressive Republicans have never been free traders," said Mr. Lenroot. "I challenge anyone to point to any speech made by a progressive Republican in Congress or elsewhere advocating free trade. I stand for a protective tariff, measuring duties by the difference in cost of production at home and abroad."

"Do you endorse your party's action in passing the Payne tariff bill?" asked Mr. Cullop of Indiana.

"I do not," said Mr. Lenroot.

"Do you consider it a violation of your party's pledge?"

"I do," said Mr. Lenroot.

"If my party had kept its pledge, there would have been a minority upon your side of the House, instead of a majority," added Mr. Lenroot.

New York American's View.

New York, April 18.—The American's Washington correspondent writes:

Democratic tariff revision faces defeat in the Senate through alleged Democratic votes. A private poll of the Senate Democrats, which has been made by The New York American, shows at least half a dozen members who will refuse to follow the splendid leadership of the House and vote for the farmers' free list, and other downward revision bills that will be passed by the lower chamber.

In a poll made by The American it was shown that if the Senate Democrats voted solidly for the House bills a sufficient number of Republican progressive votes could be secured to insure the passage of the tariff revision measures. It is practically certain now, however, that the Democrats will not vote solidly.

Bailey is already secretly at work against the farmers' free list. He and half a dozen of his followers are preparing to duplicate their tariff attitude of 1909, when they stood with Aldrich on many of the most vital questions.

Notably, it is understood Bailey will make a determined fight against free lumber. It is to be observed in this connection that it was Bailey who led the fight for the vindication of Lorimer, and it was Hines of the lumber trust, it is now disclosed, who played the chief part, not only in Mr. Lorimer's election, but later in directing the Bailey campaign for the whitewashing of the Illinois Senator.

One of the best-known leaders of the House informed The American correspondent last night that the House will have disposed of its entire legislative program by June 1.

This leader, discussing the probable action of the Senate, declared that among the well-informed members of the House it was generally agreed that the Senate will pass nothing—not even reciprocity, and that by about the end of August an effort will be made to take a recess until Oct. 1.

Condemn Co-operate Bills.

Montreal, April 18.—Resolutions condemning the two co-operative bills now before Parliament were adopted at the annual meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association here yesterday. The general objection raised against the bills was that they would permit irresponsible persons to collect funds from the working classes under promise that they benefit by being members of a co-operative association, which would in return sell them merchandise at reduced rates, but it was alleged that the history of these organizations in England, where they were looked upon as having socialistic tendencies, was that failure often came to their doors, and subscribers only found out later they had been duped.

SPRING ARITHMETIC

It was the busy hour of four,
When from a city hardware store
Emerged a gentleman who bore
1 hoe,
1 spade,
1 wheelbarrow.

From thence our hero promptly went
Into a seed establishment
And for these things his money spent:
1 peck of bulbs,
1 job lot of shrubs,
1 quart of assorted seeds.

He has a garden under way
And if he's fairly lucky, say,
He'll have about the last of May
1 squash vine,
1 egg plant,
1 raddish.

PRIETA GIVEN UP BY THE REBELS

Mexican Federal Soldiers Are Now in Possession

Special to the Review.

Douglas, Ariz., April 18.—The rebel army again evacuated Prieta to-day and the Mexican federal soldiers immediately entered and took control of the place.

Damming Long Sault.

Ottawa, April 18.—The project of the damming of the Long Sault Rapids is not dead by a long sight. Canadians who think this U. S. grab scheme is killed were never more mistaken in their lives. Something is due to happen any day now.

FEDERAL TROOPS BEATEN OFF IN ATTACK ON MEXICAN TOWN

Fierce Battle Rages In Border Town and Seven American Non-combatants In Douglas, Arizona, Are Killed Going About Their Work—Rebel Loss Is 20, and Federals Must Have Lost Many More.

Agua Prieta, Mex., April 18.—(From The Associated Press in the Field.)—The most important battle of the Mexican revolution thus far was fought here yesterday, between 1,600 federals under command of Lt.-Col. Diaz, and 1,000 rebels under Balasario Garcia.

Estimated by the rebels, there are at least 200 killed and wounded.

The first attempt of the 1,500 Mexican Federal troops to re-take Agua Prieta from the 1,000 rebels resulted in failure. The battle raged steadily four hours, the Federals crossing the open country and assaulting the rebel trenches.

Twenty insurgents dead, have been brought into Agua Prieta, and it is said the federals' losses are heavier.

Bullets fell in a veritable hail in sections of Douglas.

From the beginning of the battle, regardless of the warning given by the United States Government to the leaders of both forces a rain of bullets poured into the American town of Douglas, and when the day was over it was found that seven non-combatant residents of that city had been wounded. It was a day almost of terror in Douglas.

At 2 o'clock the rebels appeared to have repulsed the federal forces at every point. About this time three rebel scouts, mounted and carrying the scarlet sashes flying from both arms, which designates them on the field of battle, dashed out of the south extremity of Agua Prieta and made a wide detour toward the east and north, completing their area of observation at the international boundary without drawing the fire of the Government troops.

This indicated that the rebels had been successful in keeping the federals from gaining access to that locality immediately south of border, which would have possible a flank movement against Agua Prieta.

With every moment of respit from the fighting the insurrectos dug in their trenches.

The U. S. guard at the line captured late yesterday three stragglers from the rebel garrison who had crossed the border.

Elpidio Arce, a Mexican, was on the roof of a house on Sixth street when a bullet struck his instep.

The fifth non-combatant to be wounded yesterday in Douglas, Jesus Alcantara, a Mexican, was shot while near the eastern limits of the city, eight blocks from the international line. His leg was pierced by a mauser bullet.

At four o'clock the firing, except that of a desultory nature, had ceased to the south of Agua Prieta.

A force thought to be Yaqui Indians, crawled forward on their hands and knees, from bush to bush, during the afternoon, and at 3.45 p.m. had approached to within 200 yards of the rebel trenches. At this distance they shot from his horse a rebel captain commanding a squad in the trenches.

Frank Williams, an American, while standing in the very centre of the business quarter of Douglas, late yesterday, was wounded in the back by a Mauser bullet, and will probably die. His wife and child were standing by him when he was shot.

A Mauser bullet struck the front of the city water commisioner's office in Eleventh street, twelve blocks from the international line.

Another was added late yesterday to the list of Americans shot in Douglas, making seven in all. The latest was John Keith, employed by the Douglas Lumber Co. He was shot through the leg while in Eighth street, nine blocks from the line. He was taken to the Red Cross hospital.

Bullets fell as far north as Twelfth street, which is 13 full blocks from the Mexican border, and came thicker as evening came on.

The federals, though they left their machine guns behind, retired in good order. Every indication points to a resumption of fighting. If the federals should prove successful, it means that the battle will be carried to the streets of Agua Prieta with increasing menace to the citizens of Douglas.

Student Wants Injunction.

Montreal, April 18.—The editors of the McGill 1912 annual are facing a situation which threatens to jeopardize the success of their publication for this year. Mr. Stewart, a student in the third year medicine at McGill has taken exception to a "roast" in The Annual concerning him, which he alleges is derogatory to his character, and is applying for an injunction to stop the publication of the book.

Twenty-One Are Drowned.

Oporto, Portugal, April 18.—The Spanish steamer San Fernando, bound from Huelva for Liverpool, sank off Finisterre, the western-most headland of Spain, yesterday.

Twenty-one persons were drowned. Four survivors were landed here by the steamer Portimao.

Left $75,000 to the Church.

London, Ont., April 18.—The will of Miss Bridget de Dewan, who died here several days ago, leaves her estate, valued at $75,000, to various institutions of the Roman Catholic Church in this city.

FOUR DEAD IN THE YUKON

Inspector and Three Constables Have Perished

Special to the Review.

Dawson City, April 18.—It has been found that Constables Carter, Kiley and Taylor were the other members of the ill-fated party who with Inspector Fitzgerald, perished near Fort MacPherson while on their way to Dawson. They had eaten the dogs after provisions ran out.

Inspector Fitzgerald Dead.

Halifax, April 18.—A despatch was received last evening by Mrs. John Fitzgerald of this city conveying to her the sad news of the death of her son Frank, who was inspector of the Northwest Mounted Police.

The despatch was from Mr. A. B. Perry, commissioner of the Mounted Police at Regina. Commissioner Perry states that Inspector Fitzgerald's death occurred last January, near Fort Macpherson, while making a patrol to Dawson, and that three other members of the party met death at the same time. The commissioner says that he will forward details when received, and that he extends his sincere sympathy, the force having lost one of its most valued officers.

Inspector Fitzgerald had been with the Northwest Mounted Police for about twenty years. He was the first man to make his way to Dawson over the trail on which he met his death.

The rank of inspector is equivalent to that of major in the army.

TO STOP FIGHTING ON THE BORDER

Where United States Citizens Have Been in Danger

Special To The Review.

Washington, April 18.—Ambassador Wilson telegraphed to-day from Mexico that the Mexican Government had submitted to President Taft an ultimatum and that it would prevent fighting on the border where United States citizens have been in danger.

OIL WELL NEAR CAMPBELLFORD

Operations to Commence Shortly on the Sullivan Farm

Campbellford, Ont., April 17.—Some local people are subscribing for stock in a company which will sink an oil well on the Sullivan farm in Brighton township, six miles from this place. It is believed that oil will be struck at a depth of 1,000 feet, and operations will commence in a few days. A Pittsburg company will do the work.

MONTREALERS ARE HELD AT BORDER

Excursion Party Detained by Immigration Men

Unpleasantness Over a Trip to New York for Easter

Montreal, April 18.—A number of Montrealers who took part in the Easter excursions to New York had the unpleasant experience of being held up at the border and compelled to delay their trip for a day before being given permission to enter the United States. Among these Montrealers were Mrs. D. E. Ferguson and Mrs. F. Heimer.

John H. Clark, the United States commissioner of immigration, in discussing the subject yesterday, said there was nothing unusual in a number of excursions being delayed in this way.

"I wish you would make it perfectly plain," he said, "that the delay means no reflection whatever on the character of the individuals concerned. Our officials have very strict instructions in regard to this matter, and they have to carry them out. Their instructions are that whenever they have a doubt about a passenger they have no alternative but to refuse admission to that passenger to enter the States, until the passenger has satisfied a board of enquiry as to identity. The instructions are very strict in regard to ladies without escort, and our department at Washington makes it obligatory on us to ascertain the destination of every such lady."

Passengers might easily avoid any such unpleasant delay, he said, by applying at the United States immigration office in Montreal, and getting a certificate of identity.

CAN'T APPEAL ON MARRIAGE LAW

Herbert Case offers Difficulties for Test Appeal

Montreal, April 18.—The strong pronouncement of Bishop Farthing in Christ Church Cathedral Sunday night condemnatory of the dissolution of the Herbert marriage, on the ground that it had not been performed by a priest of the Roman Catholic Church, set a movement on foot in the city yesterday morning with a view to having the case carried, on appeal, to the Privy Council.

Some difficulty was immediately encountered, however, in the fact that the judgment of the court annuling the marriage went by default, and, therefore there is no client available whose case could be carried to appeal.

The petitioner in the civil action was the husband, and it was stated yesterday at the office of his counsel, L. J. Lefebvre, who has himself left for a trip to Europe, that Mrs. Herbert was a consenting party to the separation. It was further stated that previously the marriage had been declared void by the application of the parties, and the subsequent court action was taken for a dissolution of the marriage civilly.

The lawyer who had interested himself in the case in the interests of an appeal to the Privy Council, stated yesterday that, with the facts as now reported, a different complexion was put upon the story, and it was hardly likely that an appeal would be attempted.

NO TROUBLE IN NORTH BY INDIANS

Despatch About Starving Red-Skins Was Fabrication.

Ottawa, April 18.—Referring to despatches which have been sent out from Ottawa stating that there have been attacks by starving Indians on Hudson Bay Co. posts, and that they were looting the supplies cached by the Government, Comptroller White of the R.N.W.M.P. handed the following statement to the press yesterday:

"The story is absolutely without foundation. It is the most atrocious thing I ever seen. It is absurd. The man who sent out the story is a liar. No reports have been received by the Ottawa Government indicating conditions such as are stated in the despatches. The Government have no supplies cached at various points between Churchill and Lake Winnipeg, nor have they received any reports of the intention of the Indians, the halfbreeds, or the 'ferocious halfbreeds' to attack the Hudson Bay posts or the mounted police posts. There have been no skirmishes, so far as the Government is aware, between the Hudson Bay posts and the 'ferocious halfbreeds.' On the contrary, the reports state that the Hudson Bay and the halfbreeds are working harmoniously and in conformity with the Government arrangements. There are no ferocious halfbreeds in the district between the north and Lake Winnipeg and Hudson Bay."

FRENCH MILITARY AVIATOR KILLED

Biplane Capsized And He Fell Twenty Feet

Special To The Review.

Paris, France, April 18. — Captain Farron, a military aviator, fell thirty feet to his death to-day when his biplane capsized near Versailles. His death makes the fifty-eighth caused by accidents in aviation here.

WHERE THE WORKINGMAN GAINS

The importance of a new factory to the workingman-freeholder cannot be overestimated. It is not the business man, the merchant, or the corporation that alone benefits, but the workingman also shares in the advantages accruing from new and more factories.

Every factory that comes to Peterborough means a wider market for labor. It means more people are necessary in the city; it means more people to share in the general taxation. The working-man in a large city has many advantages that his brother in the smaller city has not got, in the way of a variety of employment, of greater chance to rise to distinction. It is essential that a city shall grow, shall forge ahead, because the rise in value of real estate alone ought to compensate the workingman-freeholder for his efforts to create a bigger city.

It happens that the bringing of the Independent Tire Company to Peterborough will NOT cost the city any money—will not add to anyone's taxes. It will afford a market for one hundred or more operatives, with a wage distribution of $60,000 or more a year. It means more families, more work, more prosperity. The city is safe-guarded in the deal, the company having to have at least $150,000 cash on hand when it starts to get the machinery in.

It is important to Peterborough that every man qualified to vote should cast his ballot next Tuesday for the Tire company by-law. It is necessary to obtain a three-fifths majority of the free-holder in the city. That is, a vote not cast is a vote against the by-law.

The company is ready to start in to get a location as soon as the by-law passes. If Peterborough lets a chance to get a factory of $200,000 go by, what assurance is there that it will get other chances at factories? When the terms are reasonable factories should be accepted. Peterborough is one of the fastest growing of the smaller Ontario cities. Why? Just because it has been able to become an important manufacturing centre, as well as a distributing point to the farming country around. If the city doesn't go forward, it goes back. Vote for this by-law.

BURK WAS GAGGED, TIED AND PLACED IN BLAZE OF PAPERS

Printer Named Burk Says He Discovered a Man Tampering With the Safe and When He Disturbed the Operation the Intruder Tied Him to a Chair and Left Him to Die—Two Blocks Are Destroyed.

Cobourg, April 18.—A sensational story comes from Colborne to the effect that in a fire Sunday night Lester Burk, an employe of the Express Printing Office, was found in the burning building tied hand and foot and gagged.

According to his story, about midnight he saw a light in the Express office that attracted his attention. He entered and saw a man busy at the safe, who on his enquiring his business seized him, bound and gagged him, piled newspapers around him, set them on fire and left him to burn. Two citizens, hearing cries, rushed through the flames and rescued Burk, who was taken to the Brunswick Hotel, suffering from severe burns.

The conflagration spread, and the Youman's Block, containing the Express printing office, Toronto Bank premises, G. E. R. Wilson's insurance office, residence occupied by Mrs. Youmans and buildings next to it, in the west, including McCracken's hardware store and residence, and the Burleigh residence, were burned. The flames spread so rapidly that the inmates of the residences only saved the clothing that they wore.

Many wild rumors are afloat. It was said that the safe in the Wilson office was tampered with, but investigation, a later report says, proved this to be untrue. A tramp was arrested, but was later allowed to go.

When Burk was found his hands were tied behind his neck, his feet tied together, and he was fastened in a chair, around which the newspapers were piled.

Burk says he remembers the man saying to a companion with him: "If I don't find the papers, I will burn the whole place up." He describes his assailant as tall and dark and about 30 years old, with a moustache.

Not Expected to Strike.

Montreal, April 18.—Despatches from Winnipeg prophesying a general strike of machinists on the C.P.R. and other railways in western Canada are not looked upon very seriously. It is stated that 12,000 men in the west are involved, and the increase they are asking would mean an additional outlay of over half a million annually by the C.P.R. and the C.N.R. Negotiations have been entered into between the men and the C.P.R., but there is at present no reason to believe that a rupture will result.

Succumbed at Last.

Toronto, April 18.—After lying unconscious in St. Michael' Hospital since Monday morning of last week, when he was thrown from his bicycle while coasting down the Avenue road hill, Charles Faveau, 298 Yonge street, died at 7.40 last night of a fractured skull, sustained in his fall. The chief coroner has been notified and an inquest may be held.

KILLED FAMILY SHOT HIMSELF

Terrible Deed of Husband Who Was Becoming Blind

Special To The Review.

Youngstown, Ohio, April 18.—Fearing blindness, which was rapidly approaching, would prevent him from earning a living for his family, Grant Rickert, a plumber, murdered his wife and four children and wounded a fifth child with an axe. Rickert then took his own life by shooting himself.

Condition of U. S. Steel Workers.

New York, April 18.—An investigation into the working conditions in the mills of the U. S. Steel Corporation was decided on at the annual meeting of the stockholders, in Hoboken, N.J., yesterday.

The proposal came up after the election of directors, when Charles M. Cabot of Boston introduced a resolution providing for a committee of five to investigate and report to the finance committee not later than Oct. 1, as to the truth of the statements contained in a recent magazine article alleging that employes of the corporation were overworked.

Boat Capsized by Tide.

New York, April 18.—A tiny rowboat, filled with a party of eight Italians, capsized in the swirl of the tide through the narrow neck of Long Island Sound, separating Forts Totten and Schuyler, yesterday afternoon, and of its human burden three bodies have been recovered, one is missing and four were rescued. A six months' infant, torn from its mother's breast, was held above the waves by its swaddling clothes, rescued and rushed to Flushing Hospital, where it will recover.

MACKAY SAYS BORDEN'S O.K.

Ontario Legislature Man Praises Conservative Leader

Lambeth, April 18.—In the course of his address on reciprocity last night, Hon. A. G. MacKay expressed his pleasure that so little importance could be attached to the rumors of R. L. Borden's retirement.

"I think the Conserevative party has reason to be proud of the high class of man who is their leader today," he said. "I think Mr. Borden is a pretty high type of man and a pretty safe sort of citizen to whom to entrust power if there should be a change of Government."

A resolution endorsing reciprocity was adopted by the meeting.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

Some of these days Peterborough will have the pleasure of seeing the actual performance of the comedy entitled "Letters of a self-made editor to himself."

—o—

Up to going to press, no one had heard of the Salvation Army getting an honorary colonel.

—o—

The way apologies roll in to Rev. Father McColl over that "kid-glove" story must remind him of the crush to see a football game in Hamilton.

—o—

No, Leonora, because Margaret Anglin is coming in Green Stockings, that is no sign that it is the exclusive fashion this spring. One cannot tell what color her stockings are. She is not a musical comedy star.

—o—

Now that the city officials are oiling the streets, let him that is without a nose, take the first smell.

—o—

These bright April mornings, when the sparrows emerge into the frosty air, and say "Cheep" "Cheep," it makes one imagine that they know something about that power report.

—o—

The Brock street residents object to the roller rink because it is another variety of the "roarin' game,"

Coughs, Colds Bronchitis

If there is an ailment in the throat or chest, it is surely essential that the remedy be conveyed direct to the affected part. It's because the healing vapor of Catarrhozone is breathed into the sore, irritated throat and bronchial tubes, because its balsamic fumes kill the germs and destroy the cause of the trouble. These are the reasons why Catarrhozone never yet failed to cure a genuine case of Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, or Throat Trouble.

The wonderfully soothing vapor of Catarrhozone instantly reaches the furthest recesses of the lungs, produces a healing, curative effect that is impossible with a tablet or liquid, which goes merely to the stomach, and fails entirely to help the throat or lungs.

To permanently cure your winter ills, your coughs, sneezing, and Catarrh, by all means use a tried and proven remedy like Catarrhozone. But beware of the substitutor and imitator. Look for Catarrhozone only. 50c and $1, at all dealers. 10

VOTE FOR THE BY-LAW

Objections rasied to the Tire Co. by-law on the ground that it adds to the burden of the ratepayer are based on false ground, because it will cost the city not a sou to carry the proposed loan. The size of the loan may, at first glance, seem large, but it really is not out of the way, considering that the money is well secured by nearly $200,000 worth of assets; and that it is to be repaid $2,000 a year, and lessens in amount rapidly.

The benefits to be derived by the establishment of the factory here should not be overlooked in the consideration of the merely financial part of the bargain. The company must employ at least one hundred operatives after the first year, and will pay out $60,000 a year in wages, or more. As many of the employees will be skilled, they will be brought to the city, and while an increased market for city labor is provided, the population of the city will be increased, and another boost toward the 20,000 mark given.

Peterborough is already the centre of many important industries, but it needs more, and while no one advocates the acceptance of factories, on any old kind of terms, the Tire Co. by-law is one that every freeholder can freely and conscientiously support.

GARBAGE COLLECTIN

The warm weather is coming (some day). What has the board of health done about the garbage collection nuisance? Is it intended to leave the matter over until the dog days, when the nuisance becomes unbearable and the board is forced to take a spasm of activity?

Now is the time to get some system ready for operation when the warm weather is here. The matter should be considered by the city council at its next meeting. Is the board of health moving, or in its usual state of delicious somnolence?

CIVIC TAXATION

The following table, taken from the report of the Bureau of Industries for Ontario, demonstrates that Peterborough is certainly splendidly placed among the Ontario municipalities in the matter of taxation. Apart from Guelph, which by the way, has considerably increased its rate of taxation this year, Peterborough is the lowest taxed city in the province, on a population basis. Hamilton is next, but most of the smaller cities are away higher than Peterborough. This city compares most favorably, no matter how it is viewed, in taxation matters:

	Population.	Taxation per head	Mills on $

BRYAN'S ROLE

In view of the visit of William Jennings Bryan to Peterborough in May, the following from the Vancouver Province will be interesting:

Although William Jennings Bryan is not regarded any longer as a presidential possibility his influence in the Democratic party is not by any means on the wane. That was very clearly shown by the offer made to him at Memphis, a few days ago, of a $2,000,000 enterprise, presumably a newspaper, if he would but "come where the people loved him and where he would always find friends." Tennessee is, of course, ardently Democratic, and Memphis represents the extreme view of the state on politics. Accordingly, Mr. Bryan, while expressing his gratefulness at the invitation extended to him, declined it for the very reason that the party there was so strong and his friends so numerous. They did not need him, he told them, and the north did. His reply was an effective one and not less so because of the suggestion of posing it contains.

Mr. Bryan is no longer a presidential possibility; his many defeats have made him, in that capacity, hopeless with a people who worship success. But he is a man of resource and he is apparently creating for himself in his party a dominion only less powerful and far more enduring than any presidential possibilities would give him. He is now becoming a new sense and great democratic missioner, the authority to which democracy will bow on great issues, the molder of national views. In a larger and wider sense he seeks to be to the Democratic party what Horace Greeley was to the Republicans of half a century ago. Presidential candidates may rise and even succeed, but their hold upon the party will be temporary while that of Mr. Bryan will be permanent.

This seems to be his deliberate and well concerted aim. Nor is there any reason why it should not be successful. Mr. Bryan is certainly the greatest force in the Democratic party today, and despite his series of defeats he has outlasted every rival. Time and again democracy has returned to him after overthrow at the polls and he has cheered and re-inspired it.

How far Mr. Bryan's idea has been obtained from the course pursued by Col. Roosevelt it would be difficult to say, but he is likely to make himself more powerful in his party and more indispensable than Col. Roosevelt can make himself with the Republicans. Mr. Bryan has suffered with democracy. He has fought the good fight for her and will naturally share fully in her triumphs if the day of triumph comes. Republicans attempted to dominate and use Col. Roosevelt and failed. He disciplined it and made it subservient; but it turned on him promptly with the close of his official power. He has appealed against it to the country and the result of that appeal is yet to be learned.

Mr. Bryan's task is easier as it is within his party, which is in undoubted sympathy with him.

EDITORIAL NOTES

About one hundred men will start in a twenty-five mile Marathon at Boston to-morrow. Evidently they intend to wrest the running honors from Dr. Beattie Nesbitt.

They are already predicting a banner wheat crop for the west. In a few days we will hear from the peach-growers that they will be ruined.

At a gathering of Mattawasaga a farmers' vote on reciprocity was 25 against, 0 for. The farmers' sentiment doesn't seem as solid for reciprocity as some estimable gentlemen would have us believe.

Special dispatch from the war-front:—After a few months of preparatory skirmishes, the Mexican rebels and federal troops had a real fight yesterday. The revolution is becoming quite dignified.

The Democrats are proposing 50 per cent. reduction on raw wool and 40 per cent. on manufactured articles. If Canada had waited without opening her markets to the United States farmers, she would have got from the Democrats for nothing all the concessions she is paying so dearly for.

The Independent Tire Co. by-law will cost the rate-payers NOTHING—add nothing to his tax burdens in any way. The company will have assets of $200,000 as against the liability to the city of $40,000, surely a sufficient margin. Vote for it next Tuesday.

It is rather amusing to see the Kingston Standard yelling for reciprocity and then trying to qualify as a champion of the Conservative party by be-rating Laurier for minor sins and sundry wickednesses. In the fable of the satyr, he who could blow both hot and cold with the same breath wasn't to be trusted out of sight.

That the day of higher tariff is done on this continent is apparent to all students of economics. The reasonable solution of the situation in Canada at least, would be the appointment of a permanent tariff commission to scientifically adjust the scale of duties so that the manufacturers are given reasonable protection where necessary, and yet the consumer given the benefit of such competition as will prevent undue profits.

The Democrats are reported to have determined on adding to the free list with Canada "wheat flour, bran, middlings and other offal of grain, and oatmeal." If that is put through the House, and passes the Senate, the Quaker Oats Company will be saved, although no thanks whatever for this would be due to the Laurier government. The placing of oats on the free list under the reciprocity pact, while a duty of 12 per cent. was maintained on the oat offal by the United States meant that manufacturing for export would probably cease in Peterborough, and as eighty per cent. of the output was for export, it would be a crippling blow. If the Democrats do as they propose, Peterborough will benefit. But isn't it strange that it may be left for a United States political party to do that which our own government wouldn't do for us.

THOUGHT IT WAS CANCER

Cured By "Fruit-a-tives"

SYDNEY MINES, N.S., Jan. 25th, 1910.

"For many years, I suffered torture from Indigestion and Dyspepsia. Two years ago, I was so bad that I vomited food constantly and I lost 25 pounds in weight. I was afraid the disease was Cancer, but medicine gave only temporary relief.

I read about "Fruit-a-tives" and the cures this wonderful fruit medicine was making, and I decided to try it. After taking three boxes, I found a great change for the better and now I can say "Fruit-a-tives" has cured me when every other treatment failed and I reverently say "Thank God for 'Fruit-a-tives'." EDWIN ORAM, SR.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold at 50c. box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers or, from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"I shall have to ask you to protect me," said he, "while I try to cut that chain. They can see with their periscope what I'm doing, and when it is necessary they will come up into the open and fire. By pulling out to sea I can get her at an angle that will force them into the open to shoot. When the manhole opens shoot into it. If you should hit one of them don't let it trouble you."

"I shall kill one of them if I can," said she. "Never mind that! Tell me the things to do!"

"I shall take the pliers and a file," said he. "I don't think the pliers will cut it. I may be too weak to climb back. I don't know that I can do it anyhow. You must take us back to land if I cut her free."

"Never fear. I know every lever."

"There's another thing," said he. "We came out with only a little gas. If we go much farther we haven't enough to get ashore with. I think I could soar her in with the aeroplane set of the blades. I think we had better fly low going back and not waste fuel. Keep her gliding about a hundred feet from the water, but if you want the aeroplane set this is the way to fix it."

With a swift movement he showed her the way to manage the mechanism. He lashed a pair of pliers about his neck with a lanyard, thrust a couple of files into his pockets, took off his boots, his coat and waistcoat and stepped to the side.

"You may get ashore," said he, "while I may not. If so goodby, and God bless you, dearest!"

She threw her arms about his neck and kissed him over and over again. He felt her warm tears on his lips.

"Don't cry!" said he. "Clear your eyes and shoot straight. Goodby!"

She stepped to the rail and looked fixedly at the black shadow like a gigantic fish that represented the submarine. Carson had disappeared over the side in a terrifying hand under hand descent until he reached the trusswork of the nacelle. The black shadow grew more distinct, the round deck broke water, and as the manhole opened Wizner appeared and aimed at Carson coolly as at a target. Too hastily Virginia fired. The bullet struck the edge of the deck with a vicious spat. Wizner's pistol spoke; his bullet, striking metal, flew singing away, and the girl replied with the third shot of this strange duel. She braced herself against the rail, aimed conscientiously at the middle of the mark presented by the villain below and fired—fired with the curious certitude the marksman feels when he is making a good shot. Wizner had just lifted his arm to fire again, but his hand fell as if struck down by a giant's blow. He dropped back into the darkness like a shot woodchuck, the manhole closed, and the submarine went on toward deep water as grimly as before.

"Good!" said Theodore. "But watch the manhole just the same. I shall have to file the chain. The pliers won't do."

Suddenly she heard Carson calling.

"They've hove to," said he. "I think they're going to try drowning us here. Don't lose control of yourself. Remember this is a fight, and we aren't whipped yet. Do you hear?"

"Yes," said she. "But it's so awful—so awful! If you were only up here where you could— Tell me what to do! Tell me what to do!"

"Do you see how the chain shortens?" asked Carson. "She's going down. If the water's deep enough she can drown us unless we can overcome her gravity. Turn the index so as to show a dead down thrust of the blades and then full power on the last speed. It will take fuel, but it's the only way. Hurry!"

The airship sank, sank, nearer and nearer to the water. But without waiting to learn how the girl was carrying out his orders Carson again attacked the chain, and the shrill "screek" of the file greeted Virginia's ears as she turned the indicator and threw on the power. As they had never done before the great engines purred, the wing blades trod the air with a terrific roar, but with remorseless suction-like force the submarine drew her down closer, closer to the water, and she seemed lost. The sinking was slower now, but nevertheless more and more of the chain disappeared in the sea every moment. Virginia looked and despaired. The waves were so terrifyingly near, death in their cold depths seemed so unthinkably horrible, she bowed her face in her hands. The "screek, screek, screek," of the file kept on with the regularity of a machine. Carson was at work. He might be drowned. But when he went under he would go fighting. He was a man!

She stepped to the side and called to him.

"I think," said she, "that we are doomed. Is there anything I can do?"

"You might advance the spark," said he. "Not much, just the least trifle. Yes, I reckon they've got us."

She sprang to the machinery and did this last thing ordered by her commander—did it with unshaking hands, as a soldier might take up the weapon of his comrade killed at his post. By the faintest trifle she advanced the spark and went to the side to see the effect. They were lower now, and the trusswork in which Carson hung must be in or near the crest of the swells, but the "screek" of the file went on, not so strong perhaps, but steadily still, the paean of the unconquerable spirit of the man clinging to the trusswork beneath her. It was grand. It was immense. Her spirit rose to the occasion; rose to the prosaic "screek, screek" of a file in a hand that was dabbled in the waves at every lifting swell of the stolid ocean that rolled on just the same where its prey dangled within the lapping of its tongue, and out yonder where perhaps no man had been since creation's morn.

"Theodore!"

The file stopped for a minute.

"Keep her as she is," said he. "We've got the submarine stopped. I've got the chain about filed through, but I'm a little tired. Keep her as she is for just a little while!"

CHAPTER XIV.

LIFE OR DEATH?

AGAIN the file began its work. The immediate danger was over, but both the man below and the girl in the car knew that the terrific consumption of gas in the engines made the seconds too precious for use in conversation. A minute's supply of gas, ten seconds' supply, one second's supply, might save their lives in the home stretch, when the chain should be filed through and they should take their flight toward land, to make triumphant landing after this deadly peril or to sink in the waves from which they were now fighting to save themselves. The roar of the machinery filled the air with tempest; the wind from the wing blades driven down on the water set it boiling like a whirlpool; one moment the straining submarine drew them down by a link or two of the chain; the next the struggling airship lifted the submarine up an inch or so from her dark lair in the depths. At last, at the very height of the fierce struggle, the airship shot upward with the jingle of dropping chains, a worn file fell into the foam of a white capped wave, and the girl leaped to the levers in obedience to the voice of Carson telling her to make haste, for God's sake, and set the wings for a forward flight, to cut the speed down one-third and to steer straight for shore.

She obeyed. They had risen to a height of perhaps 200 feet before her inexperienced hands could change the propellers, and Carson told her to keep the height. She asked if she might not use a little higher speed, but he said no—economy in gas was in the moderate speed. "Keep her as she is," said he.

"Can you come up?" she asked. "Have you the strength?"

She asked this two or three times and got no reply. Suddenly she screamed with the fear that he had fainted, and as if aroused from a stupor he asked her to advance the spark a little and when she had done so to retard it again.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

Sheldon a Church Worker.

Montreal, April. 17.—Since the arrest of Charles D. Sheldon in Pittsburg, some light has been thrown on another portion of his hitherto shaded past.

Twelve years ago he was residing in Gainesville, Cook County, Texas, where he was known as Prof. R. E. Wilson, Sunday school superintendent, Y.M.C.A. worker, able school teacher, and active church member, and was very popular.

But after having forged the names of several prominent men, he had to drop out of sight. The sheriff of Cook County kept up a vigorous search for the absconding Wilson for over two years, spent hundreds of dollars in trying to effect his capture, and kept a standing reward of $500 for the apprehension of the culprit, and his delivery to Sheriff Womack of Cook County, in any jail in the United States or Canada, but without any results.

"We think he is one of the slickest scoundrels that ever looked through prison bars," is the way The Gainesville Register puts it.

Farmers to State Case.

Washington, April 18.—Two train-loads of western farmers are coming to Washington in a month or so to appear before the Senate Committee on finance in opposition to Canadian reciprocity.

Reports reaching Washington indicate that there will be a big delegation from Minnesota, Montana and the Dakotas, and that an extensive hearing on the subject will be demanded.

Oil Fuel a Success.

Montreal, April 18.—A telegram was received at C.P.R. headquarters yesterday from Wm. Whyte, vice-president of the company in Winnipeg, stating that the company's steamship Princess May had just completed one round trip from Vancouver to Skagway with oil fuel, and that the results were very satisfactory.

Old Liberal Worker Dead.

St. Catharines, Ont., April 18.—J. J. McCarthy, who up until a few years ago was one of the most active workers for the Reform party in Ontario, died at Gowanda, N.Y., Saturday afternoon, and was brought here for burial on Sunday. His saloon in Buffalo [illegible] prominently in the famous "Minnie [illegible]." case.

THAT AWFUL BACKACHE

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—"I suffered two years with female disorders, my health was very bad and I had a continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal's victuals without my back nearly killing me, and I would have such dragging sensations I could hardly bear it. I had soreness in each side, could not stand tight clothing, and was irregular. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and am enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since. I do all my own work, washing and everything, and never have the backache any more. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will help others you may publish it."—Mrs. OLLIE WOODALL, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or derangement. If you have backache don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Nothing we know of will do this so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for special advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool Exchange Closed, Chicago Wheat Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, April 17.—Belief that Canadian reciprocity will go thru at Washington had a bearish effect to-day in the wheat market here. Latest figures showed a net loss of ⅞c to 1c to 1⅜c. Other cereals, too, all finished at a decline. Compared with Saturday night, corn was left ⅝c to ½c to ⅝c down; oats off ⅝c to ⅝c, and provisions unchanged to 12½c below.

The Liverpool markets were closed to-day over the Easter holidays.

Only a few milkers and springers were on sale, and prices ranged at from $40 to $60 each.

Veal Calves.

Veal calves sold on an average of about $5 per cwt., or a range of $3 to $7 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Receipts of sheep and lambs were reported to be 567, the bulk of which were American yearling shorn lambs, and, as receipts were greater than the demand, prices declined fully 50c per cwt. Sheep, ewes, $4.50 to $5; rams, $4 to $4.30; yearling lambs, $6 to $6.75 per cwt.; spring lambs, $3 to $7 each.

Hogs.

Prices for hogs were reported unchanged, at $6.40 for selects, fed and watered at the market, and $6.15 f.o.b. cars, but one buyer informed us that he could not get any at that price last week, and could not get any at that price to-day, and stated that all thru the country the drovers were paying he farmers $6.15.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, April 17.—At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending April 15 were 1100 cattle, 200 sheep and lambs, 1500 hogs and 225 calves. The offerings this morning were 500 cattle, 50 sheep and lambs, 650 hogs and 300 calves.

A weaker feeling developed in the market for cattle this morning and prices declined ¼c per lb., which was due to the fact that the run was somewhat larger than expected for the first market after Easter and as butchers in most cases had ample supplies on hand for this week the demand was very limited and consequently, even at the above reduction noted, the trade was slow. Choice steers sold at 6¼c, good at 5¾c to 6c, fairly good, at 5¼c to 5½c, fair at 4¾c to 5c, and common, at 4¼c to 4½c per lb. A few very choice cows brought 5¾c and the lower grades sold from that down to 3½c per lb.

There was no change in the condition of the market for hogs, as compared with last Wednesday, but prices are 25c to 40c per cwt. lower than a week ago. The supply to-day was small, but as the demand was also limited there was ample to fill all requirements and sales of selected lots were made at $6.75 per cwt., weighed off the cars.

The trade in small meats was dull on account of the light demand and the very small offerings. A few choice calves sold at $10 each and the commoner ones from that sum down to $2. Old sheep brought from $5 to $10, and spring lambs, from $3 to $6 each, as to quality.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, April 17.—Beeves—Receipts, 2400; steers steady to 10c higher; bulls and cows steady; all sold; steers, $4.76 to $6.85; bulls, $4.25 to $5.75; cows, $3 to $4.75.

Calves—Receipts, 3900; market $1 to $1.50 lower; veals, $6 to $8; culls and throw-outs, $4 to $5.50.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 10,235 head; sheep steady; lambs 10c to 15c higher; clipped sheep, $3 to $4.50; wooled sheep, $3.75 to $5; clipped lambs, $4.75 to $5.85; unshorn lambs, $5.85 to $6.30; state springers, $4.25 to $4.50 each.

Hogs—Receipts, 8900 head; market firm at $6.65 to $7.15; pigs, $7.15 to $7.25.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, April 17.—Hogs—Receipts, 30,000. Market, 10c higher. Mixed and butcher, $6.20 to $6.65; good heavy, $5.95 to $6.45; rough heavy, $5.95 to $6.15; light, $6.25 to $6.65; pigs, $5.25 to $6.65.

Cattle—Receipts, 15,000; market, steady. Beeves, $5.20 to $6.85; cows and heifers, $2.75 to $5.90; stockers and feeders, $4.10 to $5.55; Texans, $4.40 to $5.70; calves, $5 to $7.

Sheep—Receipts, 20,000. Market, steady. Native, $3 to $4.70; western, $3.15 to $4.70; Lambs, $4.75 to $6.15; western, $4.75 to $6.15.

British Cattle Markets.

LIVERPOOL, April 17.—John Rogers & Co., Liverpool, cable that there was a very slow trade at Birkenhead to-day, the demand being very poor, and Saturday's quotations for cattle were maintained with difficulty. States and Canadians, 12½c to 13c per lb.; clipped States lambs, made 14½c; wethers, 11c to 11½c, and wooled wethers, 13½c to 14c, sinking offal.

Carried Fortune In Pockets.

Cleveland, O., April 17.—An elderly man found by the police Thursday night, while wandering about the streets with $200,000 worth of securities and valuable jewelry in his possession, Saturday, was identified as Dr. Halzy J. Howe, a retired dentist of Dunkirk, N.Y.

Dr. Howe until yesterday imagined that he was in Pittsburg. He told the police that when found Saturday night, he was hunting for the home of a friend on High street of that city.

Laid Down Lives for Friends.

Corona, L.I., April 17.—Father, son and two friends were drowned in a cesspool here Saturday. The son, an Italian laborer, in trying to clean the pool, was suffocated by gases, and sank into six feet of water at the bottom. The father, in grappling for him, while he was still struggling, was also overcome and pitched forward into the pool. Two other laborers who attempted to rescue the first two were similarly dazed and drowned. Firemen dragged out the bodies.

Western Mining Men to Meet.

Ottawa, April 17.—The mine operators of British Columbia and Southern Alberta have advised the Department of Labor that at a meeting to be held on Tuesday the operators will name their representative on the board of conciliation under the industrial disputes act, which will deal with the dispute between the miners and the operators, and which has resulted in the closing down of the western mines. The operators will meet on Tuesday to consider the statement recently issued by the men and to name their representative on the board.

CONSULTING the TIME-TABLE

AFTER THE TRAIN IS MISSED DOESN'T ADD VERY MUCH TO THE BEAUTY OF THE STATION

No, nor will wasting time moaning over yesterday's failures make successes out of to-day's opportunities.

Neither doth it profit a man to learn, after a fire, that the company some one recommended was "N.G." You can't change it then. To-day, you can select the best.

You aim for the BEST when you select a bank or take a partner in business. WHY NOT DO THIS IN FIRE INSURANCE? The value of a fire insurance policy depends largely upon the character and methods of the company which issues it. Our aim in this advertisnig is to get property owners to use the same foresight about fire insurance that they do about other business matters. We will accomplish much if we succeed. DO IT NOW

The habit of putting off doing the things we ought to do is responsible for much of the trouble people spend so many regrets over. It almost seems that getting their eyes looked after in time is the duty most often put off by most people. Any inconvenience, even pain and discomfort are endured rather than "come to glasses." Could people only realize the feeling of positive relief and the added power of work that glasses would give them this urgent duty would be attended to at once. Could they only witness, as does the eye-sight specialist the numerous cases where it has been left too long undone and no help can be given any more with glasses, articles like this would be unnecessary. As it is we must keep on giving the old advice. We make no charge for consultation.

WHO'S COMING AND GOING

Charles Barrie, of Hamilton, visited the city for Easter

Mr. Hughie Graham, of Niagara, spent Sunday in the city.

Mr. Gillespie Stewart, of Niagara, N.Y., is in the city to-day.

Miss T. Morrow will not receive on Wednesday nor again this season.

Mr. Wilfrid Fortye, of Cornwall, is home on a visit to his parents.

Mr. Charles Barrie, of Hamilton, was home for the Easter holidays.

Miss Gladys Stewart, of Ottawa, is the guest of Miss Grace Todd, 456 Aylmer street.

Egbert Kelly, who has been attending Norwood High School, is spending a few days in the city.

Mr. Herbert L. Blanchard, of the Traders' Bank of Canada, Toronto, spent the Easter holidays at his home in the city.

Mrs. Percy Menzies left for Peterborough yesterday morning and she will spend several days in that city with her many friends.—Lindsay Post.

Chief of Police Thompson is suffering from a severe cold and was unable to be at his office to-day. Sergt. Adams was acting chief during his absence.

Mr. Cecil McIntyre, of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Welland, was home on a visit to his parents at Easter. He reports Welland to be rapidly growing. There are now five banks in Welland, the Dominion Bank having recently opened a branch there.

Mr. Louis Rettan, of Detroit, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Lake, McDonnel street, for Easter. Mr. Rettan is a well-known tenor soloist, having occupied that position in the Metropolitan church, Toronto, and also in Detroit and Brantford. He is the possessor of a rich, robust tenor voice.

Russell Whatton, who has been confined to the hospital for the past six weeks, is once more able to be around and is almost recovered. Mr. Whatton was formerly connected with the A. W. Cressman Company as window trimmer, and left their employ to accept a position in the same capacity at Oshawa. He returns to Oshawa on Thursday. His numerous friends are delighted to see him around again.

David Wilson, contractor, of Gananoque, is dead from blood-poisoning.

TOOK HIS OWN LIFE

Reg. Hendren of Lakefield Is Dead at Edmonton

Edmonton, Alta., April 13.—Unable to swallow because of acute tonsilitis, and finding sleep impossible on account of violent pains in his throat, Reginald N. Hendren, of Peterborough, Ont., who came here with his two brothers a few days ago, walked into the Twin City Transfer and Express Company's office, on First street, this morning and, securing a revolver from a trunk he had there, shot himself in the right temple, death resulting immediately.

Hendren left a letter directed to the police asking that his body be turned over to Anderson's undertaking parlors, and the remains be embalmed and sent to his home in Peterborough. The letter also gave as the reason for the suicide the fact that the tonsilitis kept him from eating. Six trunks for the deceased and his brothers, George and Fred, are now at the Twin City express awaiting the claimants. They arrived in the city on April 10, and from indications the men were evidently bent on homesteading.

Deceased was a brother of Mr. Geo. Hendren, furniture dealer, at Lakefield, and went to the west only a short time since.

OILING UP

Streets Are Being Treated To-day With New Brand of Oil

Writers to the local press on the dust nuisance can now bid the general public a kind farewell.

There is no dust to-day on the roads, treated by oil for the first time this season. The odor of the brand of dust-killer used to-day is not as unpleasant as that of last year, and it is said to be more durable. What little odor there is will soon pass away. Only those streets which were scraped when wet are being treated.

ESTATE OF DAVID KNOX
Executors Sale

The Executors offer for sale the Homestead property on Queen Street, Peterborough consisting of part of Lot No. 3, South of Hunter and East of Water Street with fine two story brick DWELLING HOUSE, eleven rooms, hot water heating, all modern improvements, also the SODA WATER FACTORY will be sold separately. For further particulars apply to John Knox, Executor to Mrs. John Comstock or Messrs Dumble & Johnston

THEATRICAL

"AT CRIPPLE CREEK."

Six shooters and Dan Cupid tried conclusions at the Grand Opera House last night in the presentation of "At Cripple Creek," and the large audience enjoyed the performance. It was the old story of the bad man against innocent women and children, with the proverbial full-blooded Indian ever to the assistance of the hero, who was always around when wanted. And Dynamite Ann was there, too, in the opening incidents, with a frequent thirst and an itching about her trigger finger, and in the end, after having struck the straight and narrow route, stopped a bullet meant for successful lover and groom-to-be, which came from one of the baffled villains, in a final attempt to get square. The cast was above the average in ability, and some stirring situations were brought about.

MARGARET ANGLIN.

Next Thursday night Margaret Anglin will be seen in "Green Stockings."

WEDDING BELLS

WRIGHT—PORTE.

At Brighton, on Wednesday, April 12th, at the home of Mr. W. W. Porte, the marriage was solemnized of his only daughter, Alice Helena, and Mr. W. Alexander Wright, of Picton. The drawing room where the ceremony took place, was decorated with lilies and daffodils. Miss Wellington played the wedding march. The bride wore an ivory duchesse satin dress, her veil being arranged with lilies of the valley, and she carried a shower bouquet of roses. She also wore the groom's gift, a pearl and amethyst necklace. Miss Morrow, the bridesmaid, was in heliotrope charmeuse satin with black picture hat, her bouquet being of cream roses and she wore a pearl sunburst, the groom's gift. Mr. Elmer Wright, of Toronto, brother of the groom, was best man. His gift from the groom was a pair of gold cuff links. A buffet luncheon was served and later Mr. and Mrs. Wright left for Atlantic City and other southern points, the bride travelling in a suit of shepherd's plaid with hat to match. Among out-of-town guests were Miss Hocken, Toronto; Dr. and Mrs. Marshall, Belleville; Dr. and Mrs. Stinson, Cobourg; Dr. A. C. DeMille, Picton; Mrs. D. R. Wright and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wright, Campbellford; Dr. and Mrs. Farley, Trenton; Mrs. G. N. Gordon, Peterborough; Mrs. Chase, Campbellford, and Mr. and Mrs. Brancombe, Bloomfield.—Toronto News.

APPRECIATION OF CHIEF HOWARD AND HIS MEN

Good Work Accomplished at Fire at Gas Plant of P. L. and Power Co.

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—Permit us through your columns to express our appreciation of the prompt and businesslike manner in which the fire at our gas plant during last night was dealt with.

Before the blaze was discovered the fire had made rapid progress, and gave every promise of being not only costly but dangerous, in view of the highly inflamable material and large volume of gas stored on the property.

The skill and experience displayed in coping with this emergency and the energy with which his orders were executed reflects great credit on Chief Howard and his men.

Yours truly,
PETERBOROUGH LIGHT & POWER CO.,

MRS. ETHEL CROKER BREEN WOULD HAVE A DIVORCE

Spurned a Nobleman and Prince Before Taking Present Husband

New York, April 18.—Friends of Mrs. Ethel Croker-Breen, the youngest daughter of Mr. Richard Croker, were not surprised to learn to-day that she had started suit in Hudson County, New Jersey, for the annulment of her marriage to Mr. John J. Breen, a groom, whom she married April 28, 1910, after having spurned an English nobleman and an Italian prince.

A number of conferences took place in this city before the action was started. As recently as last Tuesday Mr. Breen came here from Peterborough, Ontario, where he is employed by Hon. J. R. Stratton, and engaged counsel to make a defence to the action.

Search for Mrs. Breen to-day revealed the fact that she is now living in Paris with her sister, the Duchess of San Martino, who was Miss Florence Croker.

Mr. Breen went to Toronto yesterday afternoon.

MARGARET ANGLIN, FAMOUS ACTRESS IN "GREEN STOCKINGS" THURSDAY NIGHT

Large Advance Sale This Morning — Peterboro Honored by Miss Anglin's Visit—Presentation of Comedy Awaited With Interest

There was a large advance sale of seats for Margaret Anglin's appearance here on Thursday night next. It is not often that Peterborough audiences have the opportunity of hearing such artists as Faversham and Margaret Anglin, for, as a rule, one has to go to the largest cities to see them. For this reason there are many who are planning to enjoy the dainty comedy, "Green Stockings," on Thursday evening. In regard that the title has upon the theme of the comedy it might be said that the title, Green Stocking, has been happily chosen.

It appears that there is in England and Ireland a well observed and time-honored custom which provides that the oldest unmarried daughter of a family shall wear a pair of green silk stockings at the weddings of her sisters, and Messrs. A. E. W. Mason and George Fleming's comedy is said to provide an entertaining story of how a girl's wit enables her to evade the wearing of the hated symbols.

Margaret Anglin undoubtedly enables her strong sense of humor from her Irish progenitors. While she recognizes to the full the responsibilities of life, she never allows herself to be overcome so completely as to be too serious. This happy faculty ought to stand her in good stead in her creation of Celia Faraday in A. E. W. Mason and George Fleming's new comedy, "Green Stockings," which is said to be one of the brightest and most delightful roles ever written for an actress.

Margaret Anglin's leading man this season is H. Reeves-Smith, an English actor, who in recent years has become very popular in this country. Mr. Reeves-Smith is a member of one of the best known families of hotel proprietors in England. His father, who died a few years ago, was a millionaire and owner of no less than four leading hotels. His elder brother, is now the managing director of the Savoy Hotel, perhaps the most famous hostelry in London, and well known to all travelling Americans.

MOTHER WOULDN'T PART WITH SON TO SECURE POSITION

Farmer did not Want the Extra Care of Youth

Choosing rather to forego the satisfaction of securing much needed employment than to suffer separation from her twelve year old child was the pathetic position in which a mother was placed this morning at the office of the local immigration official.

While her dilemma was painful, still the existing circumstances made it unavoidable.

An English family, consisting of a mother, father and their twelve year old son, landed in Peterborough yesterday. A position could have been secured by them on a farm had they not been accompanied by the boy as their intending employer did not require his services, and did not feel disposed to care for the lad.

The immigration officer thought perhaps the boy could be placed out to work and earn money for himself. This plan the mother indignantly refused to consent to, stating that she could not bear the thought of being separated from him when he was so young.

While the boy himself did not have anything to say, yet his actions indicated that it was immaterial to him.

"If you were in my position," she asked plaintively of the officer, "Would you like to be parted with your little boy?" "No, I couldn't stand it," she repeated.

To a reporter who was present, the lady stated that she and her husband could have secured several good positions only the people who wanted them did not care to take the boy also.

HERE'S A TAILORESS.

A young English girl also applied to the immigration officer for employment. She objected to going out to service, preferring to obtain work as a tailoress at which she has had previous experience.

Divisional Court

Toronto Globe.

Bennett vs. Havelock.—A motion by plaintiff to vary the judgment of this court as issued. Judgment: From the taxing officer's certificate it appears that effect has not been given to our intention. No useful purpose would be served in discussing the question whether the formal order is in accord with our reasons and whether the interpretation of that order by the taxing officer is correct. When we came to consider the question of costs it was plain, that prior to the amendment the plaintiff's claim was not placed upon the ground which commended itself to us, and we thought that the defendants should be liable for costs only from the time when the action was rightly framed. Some of the defendants were then for the first time brought before the court. With reference to the costs incurred before that time prima facie the plaintiff could have no salvage lien, but we thought it proper to allow him to make a case if he could do so in the taxing office for such a lien. The formal judgment may now be amended to place the matter beyond doubt, and as the parties so desire the time for appealing may run from this date. No costs.

POLICE COURT

More Charges in Connection With East City Robberies

At the police court this morning two brothers, William and David Drain, pleaded not guilty of having on the night of April 7th, broken into the stores of J. R. Bell, George Wheeler, T. B. Manece and J. C. Sullivan, and having stolen therefrom various articles.

The charges were separately made out. In each case they elected to be tried summarily. Whether they are the right parties or not has yet to be proven, as one of them asked if these offences had been committed in Peterborough.

They were remanded until Saturday, April 22nd.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES OF SPORT

Juniors Have the Baseball Fever—Basketball To-night—Banquet on Thursday

The school boys are making the best of their holidays. Hikes into the country are held regularly, and are enjoyed very much especially when the participators land in a sigar bush.

Every morning and afternoon when the weather is suitable, the parks and greens are occupied by the boys playing baseball. The Y.M.C.A. kiddies are getting in shape for the proposed junior city ball league.

BASEBALL TALK.

There will be a league in connection with the Boys' Department at any rate, and prospective team managers are already signing players.

There are promising youths in the association, and if it were necessary a couple of teams might be entered in a junior or intermediate city league series.

A BUN FEED.

The boys' banquet in connection with the membership contest, held recently, will take place Thursday evening instead of Friday, as previously decided. The members of the winning team and all the members brought into the association by them are eligible for this banquet.

BASKETBALL.

The line-up for the P.C.I.-Intermediate basketball game to-night is as follows—

P. C. I.		Intermediates.
	—Forwards—
Hill		Hastie
Laing		Nicholls
	—Centre—
Bartlett		Irvine
	—Defence—
Ray		Fitzgerald
Stewart		Hanwell

By mutual agreement the winners of two games out of three will be champions, regardless of points. The collegians won the first game and should they take to-night's contest the honors are theirs. The Intermediates are confident of staying in the running, however, and there will be a hard struggle.

WALKING

The Brantford Expositor will hold its annual walking race between Brantford and Paris over a fifteen-mile course on May 24th again this year, and the event promises to be a bigger success than last year, when there were forty starters. This year the race will be open to amateur walkers of Canada, having been confined last year to the adjacent four counties. An array of valuable trophies and bronze medals will be put up for the winners of the race, which will be conducted under C.A.A.U. sanction. The race will offer a good opportunity to the increasing number of good walkers throughout the country, who are anxious to show their mettle. Entry blanks can be secured from H. L. Walsh, Sporting Editor, Brantford Expositor.

Anglo-Americans Hold Key.

New York, April 18.—"The relations between Great Britain and the United States constitute the real key to the situation in preserving the peace of the world," said Sir Joseph Ward, Premier of New Zealand, here yesterday.

"In the British overseas dominions adjacent to the Pacific it is recognized that one of the most important questions we have to keep before us is the preserving of our territory for the British race and doing everything in our power to prevent Asiatic immigration to any great extent," said Sir Joseph. "This problem is one which also closely concerns the United States, and, in my judgement, some well-thought-out plan of Anglo-Saxon co-operation is necessary to preserve all the countries of America from the invasions of Asiatics."

Clergy Support Arbitration Treaty.

New York, April 18.—The clergymen of Greater New York, representative of all denominations, met here yesterday under the auspices of the Baptist Ministers' Conference and passed a resolution in support of President Taft's project for an arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britain. Among the speakers were Rev. T. J. Villiers, D.D., president of the Baptist Ministers' Conference; Rev. Dr. Robert S. MacArthur, and W. H. Short, chairman of the New York Peace Society. Copies of the resolutions will be sent to President Taft, King George, and Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary.

Grew Too Fast.

London, Ont., April 18.—Anthony Sidoti died Sunday at his parents' residence, 96 Fullerton street. That he grew too fast, which affected the action of his heart, is said to have been the cause of his death. Sidoti was 16 years of age, considerably over six feet tall and fairly well built.

THE TIME OF HER LIFE

Result of a Visit to the "Shores of Bohemia."

By CONSTANCE D'ARCY MACKAY

One morning when Billy and I were lingering over our rolls and coffee Betty came in with a tragic air and an open letter in her hand.

"Listen to this!" she exclaimed. "Eleanor Cuyler is coming to New York to visit her aunt, and she says she simply must see us because she's always wanted to visit the 'shores of Bohemia!'"

"The shores of what?" said Billy. "I'm sure there's nothing bohemian about us."

"That's just it," wailed Betty, "but Miss Cuyler doesn't see it that way. She's daft about people who 'do things,' and she says she never met any, so she begs that she may come to dinner some night, quite informally, and be one of us. She thinks that because Kate writes and you're an artist and we all live in a little flat—I mean apartment—we are—well, we are queer and unconventional."

"Who is this Eleanor Cuyler?" said Billy, with a frown.

"She's a Philadelphia girl Kate and I met when we were in the mountains last summer. She was awfully nice to us in ever so many ways, and now it's our turn to do something for her. It's no use suggesting the matinee or a luncheon. Eleanor's rich as Croesus and tired of all that, and there's nothing else we can afford. Oh, I don't see what we're going to do!" And Betty puckered her brows in despair.

"Do!" cried Billy. "Why, it's as plain as day! Satisfy her craving for the unconventional! If we're not bohemians we can at least put up a good imitation of the real thing. We can ask the Englishman, Harry Rockminster; he'll add a continental flavor. And there's Perry Dashwood; he can sing stein songs better than any one I ever knew. We'll get Cynthia to come and recite and Worthington to bring his violin. They can pretend they're professionals. Cynthia will be an actress just starting on her career and Worthington a struggling musician. 'Struggling' is the right touch, isn't it? And—let's see—this is Monday. Write and invite Miss Cuyler for Wednesday evening. Bohemians aren't supposed to give much notice when they ask people to their parties." And Billy looked over at me and laughed.

While Betty was jubilantly writing her note I went to explain things to Aunt Pattie. Aunt Pattie has mothered us ever since we were children, and nothing we do ever surprises her, so she fell in with our plan at once. "But I couldn't be a bohemian if I tried," she declared. "I wouldn't know how to act, and I'd make you all miserable and myself too. You can easily excuse my absence."

"But you'll miss all the fun," I objected.

Aunt Pattie's eyes twinkled. "Oh, I mean to be there!" she cried. "Since we have no maid I'm going to serve the dinner myself."

In vain we all protested, coaxed, commanded. Aunt Pattie was firm in insisting that as Miss Cuyler had never seen her it could make no possible difference. Yet somehow it did to me, for I could imagine with what horror my Englishman might look on such proceedings. Even after I had written to him and explained the circumstances I was tormented by misgivings, for, although he didn't know it, his good opinion mattered more to me than anything else in the world.

All Wednesday Betty and I worked like majors. We had always rather prided ourselves on the artistic arrangement of our little parlor. Now, in order to make it look bohemian we had banked it with all the bizarre and startling things we could lay our hands on. Billy's delicate water color sketches were jostled by flamboyant posters, theatrical photographs adorned the mantel, and sundry pipes and ash trays littered the table. It certainly looked queer; but, as Betty and I confessed to ourselves, we didn't. Betty was demure in a gray gown, and I wore my black net. I was just fastening one of Harry Rockminster's roses in my hair when the bell rang.

"There she is!" cried Betty hysterically. "Now, don't act as if anything unusual were happening!"

Eleanor Cuyler was enthusiastic in her greeting, and she was still telling of her joy in seeing us when we crossed the threshold of the parlor. At sight of the room she smothered a little gasp, which showed that our work had not been in vain. Then Billy came forward, and the loose blouse and soft tie which he wore for the occasion made him look as if he had stepped straight out of the Latin quarter. But Miss Cuyler wasn't any more surprised at his appearance than he was at hers. Somehow neither Betty nor I had told him what a beauty Miss Cuyler was—a childish little beauty with a fluff of golden hair and deep blue eyes that opened very wide when anything astonished her.

Perry Dashwood and Harry Rockminster came early, but there wasn't a sign of Cynthia and Worthington.

"They're half an hour late already," said Betty to me in an aside. "What on earth can be keeping them? I'm afraid the dinner will be spoiled."

Something of our uneasiness reached Billy, and he turned abrupty to Betty.

"I really think we'd better not wait for the others," he said. "They may be quite late. You never can tell what may happen on the shores of Bohemia."

But we were hardly seated before we heard the turn of Worthington's latchkey and the swish of Cynthia's skirt down the hall. She made a dramatic pause at the dining room door and looked perfectly dazzling in a crimson Spanish costume glittering with spangles.

"I hope you won't mind my coming in costume," she said. "We were kept late at rehearsal, and there wasn't time to change. I met Worthington on the stairs," she continued nonchalantly. "He'll be in in a moment. He's a musician, Miss Cuyler, and you know what uncertain hours musicians are forced to keep, especially when they are young and struggling."

Cynthia moved toward her chair with sinuous grace. She said afterward that the Spanish costume had entered into her blood and she wasn't responsible for anything she did. Neither was Worthington, for he wore a peculiar, shabby black coat and carried his violin under his arm. But his crowning glory was his hair, or perhaps I should say his wig, which was very long and straight.

"'The Music Master,' by Jove!" ejaculated Harry Rockminster.

Yet not once did a triumphant gleam illumine the eyes of Signor Worthington. To this day I've always wondered how he managed to keep that dreamy, abstracted expression. Of course I knew I could count on Cynthia and Worthington, but I never knew I could count on them to such an extent as that. Eleanor Cuyler was delighted. She looked at them and listened to them in open eyed wonder as if they were beings from another world. And all my fears of what Harry Rockminster would think were set at rest when he whispered, "I say, isn't this a stunning lark!"

And now if Aunt Pattie didn't act too much like a lady our bohemian dinner would be a complete success, but one false note would ruin everything. I toyed with the grapefruit as long as possible. Then I rang the bell. As I did so I kept my eyes fixed on Billy. He sat opposite the kitchen door and would be the first to see Aunt Pattie. The kitchen door creaked, swung open, and the expression on Billy's face signaled me that something had happened.

"Aunty," he burst out and then checked himself.

From behind me came a soft voice with the pleasant slurred accent of the south. "I reckon yo's s'prised to see me, Mars' Billy! Yo didn't know I was to cook de dinner, did yo'?"

I turned and beheld Aunt Pattie, and and yet not Aunt Pattie, for the face that beamed from beneath a bandanna turban was as black as the ace of spades!

To Miss Cuyler this apparition was nothing more than a loquacious dusky servant, but the rest of us were in ecstacies of mirth. We have vowed ever since that we owed the whole success of the evening to Aunt Pattie, for not only was the dinner deliciously cooked and splendidly served, but it went with a whirl. Harry Rockminster was never more brilliant in his life and told stories of marvelous escapades in which he had taken part. Cynthia recited "Lasca" with true dramatic fervor. Between courses Worthington played snatches on his violin, and we all sang songs—songs for which Perry made up funny impromptu choruses. The men smoked, and through the blue haze shone the radiant face of Miss Cuyler.

When dinner was over she leaned back in her chair with a little sigh. "It's just as I fancied Bohemia would be," she declared. "Oh, what fun you all must have gathering round the table this way every evening. Of course it's just a common occurrence to you, but I shall never forget it. Never! And I can't thank you enough for this glimpse of it."

Billy said she thanked him fervently again when he saw her to her carriage. "I've had the time of my life," she reiterated—"the time of my life!"

"Well, she wasn't the only one," said Worthington. He had taken off his wig and was mopping his brow, while the rest of us sat about the dining room table nibbling.

"Miss Cuyler did seem to appreciate it," said Cynthia.

"Appreciate!" cried Billy. "I think it's we who ought to appreciate her coming. Why, just to look at her is a feast! She has exactly the kind of eyes I want for my 'Queen Titania.'"

"Why don't you ask her to pose for it, then?" suggested Cynthia slyly.

"I have asked," answered Billy quite simply, "and we are going to begin tomorrow."

"Whiff," sniffed Betty. "I smell orange blossoms!" And under cover of the laughter Harry turned to me.

"Miss Cuyler's had the time of her life, Billy's had the time of his, and there's just one thing wanting to give me the time of mine." His lips were smiling, but there was no mistaking the look in his eyes.

"I'd hate to spoil your evening by saying 'No,'" I whispered back. And then, although I was so happy, I had an absurd desire to cry, and if Billy hadn't suddenly interrupted with a toast to the shores of Bohemia goodness knows what might have happened!

Desperate Around Fez.

Paris, April 18.—The decision of the Government to despatch French reinforcements to Morocco is due to the fact that the internal situation of Morocco is growing steadily worse.

Several tribes hitherto faithful to Sultan Mulai Hafid have thrown in their lot with the rebels.

The position of Fez, including the matter of the lives and property of foreigners, is considered critical. The rebels are reported drawing a circle around the capital. Despatches received here by way of Spain indicates that sedition is rampant in Fez itself, with food growing scarce and communication with the coast becoming daily more difficult.

"Mr. Johnson," says Mr. Miggles, "I don't want to hurt your feelings, but that story you started to tell at my house last night was one no gentleman of refinement would have told in mixed company. I feel that it is my duty to express my disapproval of such conduct."

"I'm quite sorry," says Mr. Johnson. "I should have thought before beginning it. Halfway through I realized what I was telling, and, you remember, I did my best to end the thing at once."

"Yes, I noticed it fell pretty flat, and everybody could see that you were terribly ashamed. Er—how does the story finish, Johnson?"—Chicago Post.

BABIES SORES

Every mother should realize that the skin of her baby is so tender that the secretions of the body often lead to rashes, eruptions, etc., all of which may be removed by Zam-Buk and the use of Zam-Buk Soap. Scores of restless, crying babies, upon examination, are found to be suffering from some form of skin irritation or "heat." Use Zam-Buk Soap for the bath and apply Zam-Buk Balm to the sores, and the trouble will soon vanish.

Mrs. L. Hood, of 475 Alexander Ave., Winnipeg, says: "Some nasty sores broke out around my baby's mouth, and despite all the preparations used, they refused to heal. I took him to St. Boniface Hospital and he remained there for two weeks. At the end of that time he was no better, and we again took him home. I was then advised to try Zam-Buk and obtained a supply. The effect of the first few applications was very gratifying and I continued with the use of the balm. A little perseverance resulted in a complete cure."

Zam-Buk Soap is sold by all Druggists at 25c per tablet and Zam-Buk Balm at 50c box. The Zam-Buk treatment quickly cures eczema, ulcers, sores, ringworm, eruptions, pimples, heat rashes, piles, cuts, burns and all skin injuries and diseases.

SMITH COUNCIL HELD MEETING

Grant of $30 to Lakefield Agricultural Society—Accounts Passed

The Council met pursuant to adjournment in the County Council Chamber, Peterborough, on Monday, April 10th, at 10 o'clock. All the members were present, with Reeve Graham in the chair.

Minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

Moved by Mr. Garbutt, seconded by Mr. Davis, that the tender of the Dickson Bridge Company, of Campbellford, for the sum of $230, be accepted. This amount includes five steel girders, hand rail and wire fabric for reinforcement, f. o. b. cars, Lakefield.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Jobe, seconded by Mr. Davis, that the clerk forward a letter of condolence to the son and friends of the late Mr. F. J. Bell and that the Council attend his funeral in a body.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. McKee, seconded by Mr. Garbutt, that Mr. Thompson Braden and Mr. Fitzgerald, of Lakefield, be allowed to interview the Council.—Carried.

Mr. Braden in speaking in the interests of the Lakefield Agricultural Society, said that the residents of the township of Smith were the greatest exhibitors and he thought that the Council would not hesitate in giving a liberal grant.

Moved by Mr. McKee, seconded by Mr. Davis, that the township make a grant of $50.

Moved in amendment by Mr. Garbutt, seconded by Mr. Graham, that as the township was under a heavy expense this year, that the grant be $30. The amendment was carried.

Moved by Mr. Garbutt, seconded by Mr. McKee, that the sum of $85.53 be allowed the collector as abatements, off the roll for the year, 1910, and that the treasurer be instructed to return $84.53 of this amount to the county treasurer to be charged against lands.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. McKee, seconded by Mr. Jobe, that the tender of Mr. R. C. Heard be accepted, to operate the grader for the coming season at $6 per day.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Garbutt, seconded by Mr. Davis, that the following accounts be paid;

Jno Chittick, over deposit, $4.43; delegation to Toronto and Campbellford, $14; Percy Edmison, work on road, $10; Review Printing Co., $2.50; R. C. Heard and Bro., shovelling snow, $3.50; Jas. Kidd, work on road, $2.70; J. Gordon Mann, shovelling snow, $4.25; Geo. Milburn, work on road, $6.15; Alex. Morrison, cutting brush in long swamp, $15; C. Telford, snow ploughing, com. road, $4.00; P. Crough, work on road, $4.50; C. F. Gray, freight on tile, $1.50; Thos. Armstrong, work on road, $18; Jos. Mann, work on road, $4.20; Jos. Donaldson, work on road, $3.75; W. A. Payne, shovelling snow, $3.45; Thos. Scott, care of water trough, $10; Dennistoun, Peck and Kerr, legal advice, etc., $21.—Carried.

Council adjourned to meet [illegible] latter part of May, as a Court of Revision.

A TREAT FOR THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

Mr. Kenner Gave Lecture Before Young People of St. Jame's Church

Florence the Beautiful was graphically described last evening by H. R. H. Kenner at the regular meeting of the Epworth League of St. James' Methodist Church.

Mr. Kenner is well qualified to handle the subject, having personally visited the famous city and made a thorough study of its history.

The interesting and masterful manner in which he described the city, was a literary treat.

He first quoted the statements of certain authorities who have designated Florence as the most beautiful city in the world.

He also related some interesting interesting facts connected with the history of the three Italian poets, Dante, Bocaccio and Plutarch. Celebrated Florentine sculptors were discussed also.

The lecture was greatly enjoyed by the large number who were present, and at its conclusion a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the lecturer.

The lecture was profusely illustrated by lantern slides.

LECTURED ON MARTIN LUTHER

Life of Great Reformer Dealt With by Rev. Dr. Langfeldt

A large audience assembled in St. Paul's Guild room last evening to hear the Rev. Dr. Langfeldt lecture on Martin Luther. The Young People's Guild of the church have arranged for a series of addresses on "The Makers of Church History." A month ago the Rev. Mr. Trumpour spoke on Wycliffe. Dr. Langfeldt was chosen to speak on Luther, as it was felt that no one whom the young people could secure would deal with the subject in a more thorough or masterly way. The address last evening was listened to with the greatest interest and profit by all present. The doctor told in a very graphic way, the story of Luther's life from birth,—of his early struggle to secure an education, of the rapid progress which he made in his studies, and of his deep religious nature which led him earnestly to seek after a justifying righteousness through which his sins could be forgiven and he could enter into communion with God. He showed how, eventually, through the prolonged study of the Scriptures, he was led to see the sufficiency of the sacrifice of Jesus Christ and the atonement which He made, and that it was not by works of righteousness that a man could be justified but alone by the merits of Jesus Christ. He saw the futility of fastenings and penances as a means of justifying the ungodly. The text of scripture that was used of the Spirit of God to his conversion and his illumination was that from the first chapter of Romans: "The just shall live by faith." The lecturer went on to speak of his long years of work as a reformer, and of his successful fight against Papacy. Those who heard the lecture felt that justice had been done to the truly great and heroic qualities of the man whom God used in the Reformation of His Church Church in the sixteenth century.

At the close of the lecture a vote of thanks was moved by the pastor, Rev. R. Pogue, and seconded by Sheriff Hall. Inspector Mowat also availed himself of the opportunity of saying a few words in appreciation of Dr. Langfeldt. He spoke of the interest which Dr. Langfeldt had always taken in the public school in East City, of the regular visits which he had paid to the school, and of the effect of the talks which the Dr. had frequently given, upon the life of the boys.

HOW THEY BEAUTIFY THE CITY OF TORONTO.

To the Editor of The Review.

Sir,—We read in to-day's World that "Dr. Hastings, medical health officer, will start out some 25 inspectors to examine the various back yards . . . These inspectors will not be content with one visit, but will make a return trip to assure themselves that their instructions are carried out, and if not prosecution will follow."

If those who are advocating to beautify our city would follow the plan of Toronto to first make the city sanitary, then their beautifying would be (to some purpose. Just imagine a disease breeding community putting on airs by beautifying itself.

Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

OF NEW YORK

JOHN R. HEGEMAN, President

INSURANCE SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

The New York Insurance Department has had the Company under examination, pursuant to law, for about fifteen months. After this examination the Superintendent of Insurance said:

THOROUGHNESS.—"It is thought that no Company of this character under the supervision of any Insurance Department in the United States has ever been so thoroughly examined by such a Department."

PAYMENT OF CLAIMS.—"The claims received averaged from 600 to 800 each working day; the percentage of rejections is small, being in 1909 less than one-half of one per cent."

CAREFUL INVESTMENTS.—"On an investment of $100,000,000 in real estate mortgages this Company now holds through foreclosure but one piece of realty."

INDUSTRIAL POLICIES AT COST.—"On this basis this Company, from all of its departments, added to its surplus in 1909, after setting aside in that year as a liability its dividends and bonuses for 1910, about $800,000; in other words, the volume of its business being considered, seems to have furnished insurance substantially at cost."

PROGRESSIVE MANAGEMENT.—The Department Report shows during the last five years:

Reduction in the ratio of expense to premium income.. 7.13%
Reduction in the ratio of lapse to issue.............10.36%
Reduction of cancellations in first year of insurance.. 8.92%

ORDINARY DEPARTMENT

In 1910 the Company wrote a larger amount of Ordinary business in the United States and Canada than any other company, by TWENTY MILLIONS!

In 1910 the Company placed Ordinary Insurance up to the Limit of the Law and was obliged to hold back hundreds of thousands of dollars of insurance by reason of the New York statute limiting amount in any one year.

MORAL: Get in early this year and avoid the rush at the end. Best plans; cheapest rates; all policies non-participating—that is, the money is not collected on promise of repayment in dividends, but is left in the pockets of the insured by reduction of premium.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT

OLD POLICIES.—A bonus has been declared to Industrial policy-holders amounting to nearly

SIX MILLIONS OF DOLLARS

payable in 1911 on Whole Life and Increasing Life and Endowment policies issued prior to 1907, which bonuses give reduction of premiums varying, according to period of persistence, from EIGHT TO ONE HUNDRED PER CENT.

The Company added not one dollar to surplus at the end of 1910 out of income from Industrial policies.

NEW POLICIES.—The benefits on policies issued since January 1, 1907, are over

TWENTY PER CENT. GREATER than the benefits promised by policies issued previously.

In the last eighteen years it has declared

TWENTY-FIVE MILLIONS OF DOLLARS

in voluntary bonuses over and above all requirements of policies.

WELFARE WORK FOR POLICY-HOLDERS

Extracts from the Report of the Superintendent of Insurance of the State of New York.

"No summary of this examination of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company would be complete which omitted reference to certain agencies for social service which it has inaugurated and is now conducting."

"CAMPAIGN AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS.—Among the activities of this Company begun since the Armstrong investigation is its participation in the nation-wide crusade against tuberculosis. As to policy-holders, its work has thus far been confined to the dissemination of the literature of prevention and instruction; a work which its great Agency force and close contact with the industrial classes makes easy, as well as effective. As a matter of mere business economics, the Company's activities in this direction entitle it to the approval of the Department."

"NURSING SYSTEM.—About two years ago this Company inaugurated a system whereby trained nurses would, upon request, be sent to the homes of sick or bedridden policy-holders in its Industrial Department. . . . While this service has been but recently established, and while, therefore, the examiners are in some doubt as to its ultimate effectiveness either from the standpoint of saving the lives of policy-holders or minimizing unhealthy conditions, no one can make a personal investigation into what has already been done without being profoundly impressed with, not only the economic, but, more, the beneficent value of the work. Numerous cases where lives have been saved are already on record. Many instances showing improvement in home conditions due to the visits of the nurses are known."

LARGEST COMPANY IN THE WORLD

The largest amount of insurance in force of any Company in the world—$2,215,851,388, covering 11,288,054 policies.
In 1910 the Company made the largest gain in insurance in force of any Company in the world.

GOOD WORK BY FIREMEN IN BAD FIRE AT GAS PLANT

Serious Trouble and Loss Averted — Blaze Had a Good Start

A disastrous fire occurred last night at the local gas plant on Simcoe street when the east end of the building was badly gutted, and a large quantity of gas consumed.

ALARM BY NIGHTWATCH.

Nightwatchman Todd was busy with the machinery in the west end of the building, and did not notice the fire until it had quite a start. At eleven o'clock he registered at his usual places, and stepped over to close the window to keep the fumes from coming in, and saw the blaze, which did not appear to be very serious. When in the act of breaking the glass of an alarm box the alarm was rung in the watchman at the Quaker Oats Co. from box 24. By this time the flames were shooting out in all directions. Apparently the interior had been burning for some time.

The fire department responded promptly when the alarm sounded at 11.25 o'clock, and Chief Howard, sizing up the situation, decided to save the small gasometer, which was situated in the east wing of the burning building, and full of gas. Accordingly, five lines of hose were laid, making in all about 2,500 feet in commission at one time, and the men were set to work.

DANGER TO MEN.

The building, which was an old frame one, was soaked in oil, and the fire spread rapidly. The deadly fumes coming from the oil and gas made the work very dangerous.

Fireman Jamieson, while standing in a window, was overcome with the fumes, and Chief Howard had him removed. Fireman Ward fell through a hole, dropping about eight feet. He was helped out by his comrades, and a little fresh air soon revived him. Both men continued their work to the finish.

At 4.20 o'clock the brigade returned to the station, the chief leaving two men on the job till about 7.30 this morning.

WHOLE BLOCK IN DANGER.

The residents in the vicinity thought for a while that the whole block would be swept. Property owners made suggestions to Chief Howard when he came within range, but they did not go very near the scene of activities when they were informed of the presence of the gasometer in the building.

The quantity of gas lost is estimated at about 10,000 cubic feet. The supply is not affected. There was but slight damage to machinery, as the fire was checked before reaching that vicinity. The interior is badly wrecked.

REPAIRING TO-DAY.

Men are busy to-day repairing the plant and getting the debris cleared away. Teams are in commission carting cinders. The machinery is running as usual, and the slight inconvenience will soon be overcome.

TWO FIREMEN OFF.

Fireman Lytle is off duty to-day as a result of injuries received some time during the night. Fireman Munden fell over an axe and cut his hand severely. Dr. Greer dressed the wound.

One of the men who was holding the hose, tripped over a barrel and the stream was turned into Fireman Lytle's face, severely injuring his eyes.

The men are all feeling tired and the effects of the oil and gas fumes made all hands somewhat sick.

Owing to sickness at the Shelter there will be no sewing work done there by the ladies until further notice.

OPENING OF SPRING ASSIZES JUSTICE TEETZEL PRESIDING

His Lordship's Address to Grand Jury—Deline to Be Tried

With Justice Teetzel presiding, the Spring Court Assizes were opened at one o'clock this afternoon, with only two cases to be considered.

One is a civil case in which the Union Bank will endeavor to recover a sum of money from which they parted by error, and the other is the case of Hugh Deline, of Havelock, the man who is alleged to have murdered his wife in a most brutal manner last fall, the horrible circumstances connected with the affair being generally familiar to the public.

Thomas Webster was elected foreman.

ADDRESS TO JURY.

Justice Teetzel then addressed the jury as follows:—

"It is your duty in this case, gentlemen, to decide whether a true bill shall be brought against the prisoner. The facts of the crime which you shall consider are of great seriousness, and you will be compelled to deal with a large amount of circumstantial evidence.

"You are simply investigating the case through the evidence submitted to you, and your opinion warrants the prisoner being placed upon trial.

"The case involves some exceedingly shocking and disgusting details.

"It is charged that the prisoner did by this treatment of his wife cause her death. Both parties were apparently living in a very degraded state of association, and the evidence which will be submitted will show that the woman was found dead in a nude condition, with unquestionable marks of violence upon her body.

"Medical examination proved that her death was due to violence. The inquest tended to show that her husband was responsible for the marks. Besides this the woman had received serious internal injury, and that the crime of sodomy had been committed upon her. The opinion of medical experts all tended to prove that the woman had died from the shock caused by these injuries."

His Lordship then described the various forms of murder, and under which head the case in question must be classed, which he stated was in the second degree. From the evidence before him he gathered that the prisoner by his brutal treatment of his wife had inflicted such injuries upon her as should have been known by him would have caused her death.

"Finally, gentlemen," he remarked, "In this case you are simply deciding whether the prisoner shall be placed upon trial or not."

His Lordship, in conclusion, outlined the other duties of the Grand Jury in regard to visiting in a body some recognized public institution and making a report on any changes which they considered might be necessary to the place, such as the House of Refuge or the Protestant Home.

The jury then retired.

Mr. E. Meredith is the Crown prosecuting attorney, while Messrs. O'Connell and Gordon will defend Deline.

A TRUE BILL.

The Grand Jury brought in a true bill against Hugh Deline at 3.45 o'clock to-day.

ANGLICAN VESTRY MEETINGS

THE WORK OF THE YEAR

Encouraging reports were made at the annual vestry meetings of the Anglican churches last night and it is particularly interesting to note the success which has attended the youngest parish, All Saints'. Reports of the meetings at St. John's, St. Luke's, All Saints' and St. Mark's, Otonabee, are given;

ST. JOHN'S.

The meeting at St. John's was largely attended and was most harmonious throughout. The church wardens' report, presented by Mr. A. E. Coulthard, showed a balance on the right side and much enterprising work accomplished during the year.

Mr. F. J. Johnston was elected church warden for the ensuing year and a vote of thanks was tendered the retiring warden, Mr. Coulthard for his excellent services.

The appointment of the rector was deferred for two weeks, Mr. Coulthard will act for the present.

A resolution was introduced calling for an increase of from $800 to $1,000 in the stipend of the rector's assistant. Rev. Mr. Carpenter expressed his thankfulness to the congregation for the kindness to him since his arrival.

In conclusion with his remarks he reviewed his work at the Princess theatre

Mr. Aylmer was appointed to represent the congregation on the Board of the Protestant Home and the Lay delegates, Dr. Boucher, Jos. Mills and J. H. McClellan, were reappointed.

The election of other officers was laid over for two weeks and after an informal discussion over several matters of parochial interest the meeting adjourned.

ST. LUKE'S.

The wardens' statement for the year was presented by Mr. J. J. Turner, jr., at St. Luke's. Mr. E. A. Peck was chairman of the evening, and Mr. T. H. Adams vestry clerk.

The lay delegates appointed were Messrs. G. F. Ward, Henderson Nesbitt and William Maniece.

Other business in connection with the parish was discussed, and the next meeting will be held May 16.

ALL SAINTS'.

All Saints' Easter vestry meeting had the largest attendance in the history of the church. A goodly amount of business was done, and the meeting was harmonious.

The rector occupied the chair and conducted the devotional exercises. Mr. F. Dawson was re-elected vestry clerk, and later Mr. C. E. Sisson was elected to that position.

Reports were read from the Woman's Auxiliary, the Woman's Guild, the Chancel Guild, Choir, Sunday School, Young People's Society and other organizations. The receipts of the Auxiliary for the year had been nearly $400 and of the Guild over $1,000.

The rector's report was full of thankfulness for the loyalty of the congregation. Two changes had taken place during the year in the services, the surplicing of the choir and the institution of communion every Sunday. The attendance at service was most encouraging, and the worship most congregational. There had been 59 infant and 5 adult baptisms, 28 confirmations, 11 marriages, 21 burials. The number of communicants on Easter Day was nearly 350.

The finances were most encouraging. Plate collections for missions and current expenses were nearly $3,000. The various societies earned between $2,000 and $3,000 more. The new church had so far cost nearly $30,000, and was half paid for. The congregation will settle down with determination and enthusiasm and meet outstanding accounts against the building fund and the interest.

Mr. Frank Dawson was elected People's Warden by a most unanimous and enthusiastic standing vote. The congregation is to be congratulated for Mr. Dawson is a man of zeal, of love for his church, of sterling integrity, respected by the people and a personal friend of the rector's. With a united congregation behind him, he will bring the finances of the church to an excellent condition. The rector did not appoint his warden at the meeting; in fact had not considered any one till he could consult with the people's nominee.

Other elections were:—

Lay delegates — Messrs. McFadden, Spence and Harry Morgan.

Charity Board—W. Buller.

Nicholls Hospital—J. Green.

Protestant Home—J. Edgar.

Lord's Day Alliance—C. A. G. Spence.

Votes of thanks were tendered Mr. Spence for his services as lay reader, the retiring wardens, the choir, the ladies for providing surplices for the choir. The popularity of surplicing the choir was most evident.

The rector, on motion of Mr. E. L. Davis and H. Morgan, was voted an increase of $200 per year, but owing to the parish having undertaken to provide a rectory at a previous meeting, asked that the increase be only $100. This was unanimously carried.

ST. MARKS.

The annual vestry meeting of St. Mark's church was held on Easter Monday, Rev. Dr. Langfeldt acting as chairman. The total receipts and ex-expenditure amounted to about $400, including the sum of $138 for putting a steel-shingled roof on the old church. Messrs. Joshua Smithson and Chas. Graystock were re-elected wardens for the ensuing year, Messrs. Dr. George Burnham, Barlow Cumberland lay delegates to the Synod.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the ladies of the congregation for their liberal financial aid given the church, also to Miss Maud Dixon, the efficient organist. It was moved and seconded, to express deep regret to Dr. Langfeldt at his forthcoming separation from the parish as their rector and to assure him of the people's hearty wishes for his welfare.

A hearty vote of thanks was also tendered Dr. and Mrs. George Burnham for their interest in and practical assistance given the parish generously and gladly. The meeting closed with prayer and the benediction.

METROPOLITAN LIFE'S GREAT SHOWING

Wrote More Ordinary Business in 1910 Than Any Other Company by Twenty Millions

Company is Highly Commended by the Superintendent of Insurance for Its Progressive Management

Of unusual interest is the recent report of the Honorable William H. Hotchkiss, Superintendent of Insurance of New York. Superintendent Hotchkiss' examiners have in the last sixteen months made an exhaustive investigation of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, and the report embodies their conclusions.

Incidentally, the report brings out the interesting information that the Metropolitan is not only the leading Company in Industrial insurance, but that during the last year it wrote practically $150,000,000 Ordinary insurance, the maximum permitted by the New York law. For a Company that has been known in the past primarily as an Industrial Company, this is a remarkable showing. If business written in foreign countries other than Canada be excluded, the Metropolitan wrote $20,000,000 more ordinary insurance than its nearest competitor. There are at present over $700,000,000 Ordinary insurance in force, and including Industrial insurance, over $2,215,000,000. In fact the Company was compelled to stop issuing policies for which application was made during the last days of the year in order to keep within the law.

The Superintendent writes almost admiringly of the reduction and management expense of nearly 7 per cent., and in the lapse rate of approximately 10 per cent. Tersely stated, Hotchkiss shows that insurance for the masses is given practically at cost, and that the dividends to stockholders, limited by the by-laws of the Company to $140,000, were insignificant when compared with annual premium receipts of $70000,000.

Nothing more clearly indicates the character of the service which the Company renders to its policy-holders than the unadorned statement that of the total claims presented for payment, only one-quarter of one per cent, was rejected; that the company will voluntarily return to the policy-holders in 1911 over $5,700,000 in cash bonuses, making a total of over $25,000,000 thus returned, without any obligation of any kind on the part of the Company to do so.

SCOUTED ANNEXATION, BUT PROPHESIED ONE FLAG FOR THE U.S. AND CANADA

Representative Gillette Believes in Ultimate Continental Union, But Says "Annexation" is a Bugaboo — Tariff Fight at Washington.

Washington, April 19.—Democratic leaders are prepared for an attempt by some of the Republicans who oppose the Canadian reciprocity bill to embarrass the Democratic majority in the passage of the bill, by proposing as an amendment to it a section embodying all the free list that the Democratic ways and means committee has prepared as the first of the party's tariff measures.

Opposition Republicans have charged in the House that if the Democrats were in earnest in their desire to this free list passed, they would offer it as a part of the reciprocity bill, so that President Taft could not find occasion to veto it, even though it did not meet with his approval.

Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee, is apparently proceeding on the belief that an amendment to tack the free list to the reciprocity bill will be offered when the bill comes up for passage. He said yesterday that such an amendment would be at once ruled out of order, as it could not be considered "germane to the bill" under the public rules permitting the offering of amendments. The only amendments that can be considered are those specifically affecting duties contained in the reciprocity agreement; and on all such amendments it is expected there will be overwhelming negative votes, so that no change in the form of the reciprocity bill can be effected.

An effort is to be made to wind up the open debate on the Canadian trade agreement to-day. Former Speaker Cannon will address the House at the opening of the session to-day, and a number of other speeches are scheduled for the day. If Mr. Underwood is successful in bringing the general debate to a close to-night, the bill will be brought up for final consideration, amendment and passage to-morrow.

Henry George, jr., of New York, in his maiden speech in the House during the reciprocity debate yesterday, proclaimed himself a free trader, and said he had aligned himself with the Democratic party because he believed it was the only great party that was "moving toward the light." Mr. George endorsed the Canadian agreement as tending toward freer trade, and believed that eventually the United States would have absolute free trade with the world.

His speech, though closely followed by Democrats and Republicans alike, did not arouse any great enthusiasm on the Democratic side. Later Representative Pickett of Iowa used Mr. George's words to show that the Democratic party was urging the reciprocity agreement in the belief that it would end in free trade.

Representatives Howland of Ohio, Konop of Wisconsin, and Gillette of Massachusetts, spoke in favor of the agreement. Mr. Gillette characterized the talk of annexation as "bugaboo and sensation," but said it may well happen that some time the United States and Canada, who have grown so close together in trade relations and in sentiment, will unite their destinies under one flag.

In an anti-reciprocity speech, Representative Hamilton of Michigan, a Republican, quoted Secretary Wilson to the effect that the farmer gets nearly fifty per cent. of what the consumer pays for farm products, and added: "That was before the exigencies of cabinet service made it necessary for him to modify some of the views he had before expressed."

EAR SLASHED OFF ON STREET

New York, April 18.—Because he refused to pay blackmail to a Black Hand organization, Charles Cholobriaso, 40, a teaming contractor, was held up on Navy street early to-day by two Italians, who slashed off his left ear and cut a cross in his forehead. Then they ran away, saying: "Now, we will know you again. Next time don't ignore letters from the society, or you will hear from us again."

Cholobriaso told the police of frequent letters demanding money which he had ignored.

WELLAND PEOPLE WANT THE CANAL DEEPENED, NOT NEW ONE

Delegation Will Visit Ottawa and Seek to Have Present Canal Developed.

Welland, April 19.—Some fifty delegates from points along the canal met at Welland yesterday afternoon to decide what action should be taken toward securing the deepening of the present canal with a slight change of route, rather than a building of an entirely new canal. The result was the election of a committee composed of D. McGillivary of Port Colborne, Dr. Merritt of St. Catharines, Mr. Clark of Port Dalhousie, James Battle of Thorold, J. H. LeFevre of Welland, John H. Thompson of Thorold, A. R. Thompson of Merritton, Jesse Steel of Humberstone and E. Norriss of Fonthill. It was decided that a deputation be sent to Ottawa on May 11 to interview the Minister of Railways and Canals.

One of the important announcements made in the meeting was that made by W. M. German, M.P., when he stated that so far as Welland and Port Colborne were concerned, the matter was not of such great interest as to the municipalities farther south, for he had the best of assurances from those in authority that the present Welland Canal in case an entirely new canal was built, would be enlarged to twenty-two feet from Port Colborne to Welland, with lockages to the Welland River to join the Welland Canal.

The Georgian Bay Canal scheme was being pushed, but he could not see how any sensible man could ever agree to such a proposition as the building of a twenty-two or twenty-five foot canal from Georgian Bay to Montreal at a cost of $200,000,000.

Mr. German thought this was the opportune time for the representatives of the municipalities to get to work. "I know," he said, "what Weller thinks. I have no better friend than he. He has no better friend than I am. I know what he wants to do. He wants to build a canal from Montreal to Jordan and I don't want him to do it. I want the people to get up on their hind legs and get down to Ottawa and get there quick, for the Grenville route is the legitimate route for the Welland Canal. It will make St. Catharines a deep waterway harbor and give that city as well as the other towns and cities along the line all the benefits of deep water navigation. Now is the time to get busy. I would suggest that each town, village or city appoint two or three men to go to Ottawa and interview Mr. Graham. Tell him that towns and cities have been built up along the Welland Canal by reason of the canal being where it is."

Captain Irwin, one of the best known navigators on the great lakes, pointed out that a harbor could never be built at Morgan's Point with such safety to vessels as at Port Colborne, for the reason that the prevailing gales from the southwest which would bring vessels into the harbor in the trough of the sea. A similar reason held good at Port Dalhousie, where the prevailing gales were from the northeast. The further west the harbor was located from Port Dalhousie the more dangerous the position. He knew Jordan Harbor well and was certain from the nature of its shifting sand that it could never be made safe and satisfactory for a harbor.

This opinion was also voiced by DeW. Carter of Port Colborne. He knew Jordan Harbor to be a bed of quicksand. One autumn he left that harbor with a depth of twelve feet, and on returning in the spring it was so filled up that a tug drawing six feet could not enter. The voice of the municipality should be impressed upon the Government, and he hoped they would not find themselves in the same situation as the fruit growers who were told they were too late.

CIGARETTE SALE

New York, April 18.—That the enormous total of 657,000,000 cigarettes, out of 8,500,000 sold in the United States in 1910 were consumed by 1,800,000 women, was the statement made to-day by the sales manager of one of the largest cigarette manufactories in the world.

MATTSON GIVEN TWELVE MONTHS

Judge Lenient With Arnprior Police Chief.

Pembroke, April 19.—Before Police Chief John Mattson was sentenced to twelve months in jail yesterday afternoon, for having stolen the town funds of Arnprior, he asked Judge Donahue for leniency for himself, on account of his wife and children.

The judge said he did not think the police chief intended to steal one farthing, but had acted foolishly. Men who prowled like sneak thieves, thugs of the robbers who relieved people of their money were not like the accused. He wished to pass a sentence first to satisfy the public, and second to discharge his duty. The amount stolen was $11,246.

EDUCATIONALISTS GATHER IN TORONTO, AND HOLD BANQUET

Fifty Years of Progress Celebrated by Distinguished Gathering.

Toronto, April 19.—Fifty years of vigorous progress was celebrated by a jubilee banquet of the Ontario Educational Association last night in the University. Teachers, public and high school, inspectors, trustees and others associated with education gathered in strength. The speaking was very good and generally of admirable brevity. F. W. Merchant, D. Paed, president, was in the chair. Three survivors of fifty years ago were present, R. W. Doan, R. Alexander and W. Anderson.

There were about 600 present. In numbers about equally male and female, except at the head table, where no mere woman was deemed worthy to sit with his honor of Ontario or Secretary Doan. However, the women who have always stooped to conquer, jubilated on the floor, and probably enjoyed themselves more than the more distinguished guests. They were not all teachers, for some were inspectors, and some were trustees.

Among those who sat in the seats of the mighty were Sir James Whitney, Principal Falconer, Archdeacon Cody, Principal Hutton, Principal Auden, Chancellor Burwash, who said grace; Prof. Baker, Dr. Auden, Birmingham; Dr. Hill, University of Missouri; Dean Pakenham and Provost Macklem.

Burglarized Ginger Ale Works.

Brockville, April 19.—For burglarizing the St. Lawrence Ginger Ale Works, Daniel Brown was sentenced in the Police Court to six months in the Central Prison. The prisoner implicated two brothers, for whose arrest warrants are now in the hands of the police. Four kegs of beer and soft drinks, together with pumps, etc., constituted the stolen property, which clears up certain burglaries committed within the past six months.

The mother of the young men is in jail awaiting trial on the charge of receiving stolen goods. She was hopelessly drunk with a beer keg beside her when taken into custody. With these arrests, the police believe they have broken up an organized gang of thieves.

PATERSON TELLS OF ITS BENEFITS

Defends the Reciprocity Pack at Paris.

Says it is Only a Pursuit of Sir John's Policy.

Brantford, April 19.—Hon. William Paterson addressed a mass meeting of his North Brant constituents in the town hall of Paris yesterday, dealing entirely with the reciprocity issue, and defending the proposed trade arrangement with the United States. The Minister of Customs, was well received and the audience was swelled by a number of prominent Brantford Liberals. At the close of the meeting a resolution was endorsed approving of reciprocity.

The Minister of Customs expressed surprise that such a fuss had been raised by the Conservatives over an arrangement which both parties in Canada had endeavored to secure for the past forty years, and which was laid down as a standing offer in the national policy of Sir John Macdonald. The agreement had only been made possible by a change of sentiment in the United States towards Canada. Mr. Paterson declared annexation a bogey, and retorted to his critics, who accused him of perfidy to his country's interests, that he considered it offensive insult, but he considered at the same time where it came from. The prosperity of the farmers was the chief benefit to be derived from the agreement, and if the farmers of Canada were prosperous two-thirds of the country would be in a similar condition.

In conclusion, Mr. Paterson expressed the opinion that both Governments would adopt the agreement and the people would decide the question within a year.

BURK UNDER ARREST NOW

Story of Being Gagged and Bound not Believed.

Colborne, April 19.—Leslie Burk, whose sensational story of the origin of the Colborne fires of Sunday night startled the people of this section, is in Cobourg jail, charged with firing the buildings. His claim that he was bound and gagged by burglars and left in a burning building was not borne out by the investigation of Provincial Inspector Miller of Toronto and High Constable Jarvis of Bowmanville, and the young man's arrest was ordered. He was given a hearing yesterday afternoon before Magistrate Snetzinger and formally remanded for eight days to give the crown officers time to secure evidence against Burk.

Her Hair Turned Green.

New York, April 19.—Mrs. Adeline K. Lewison, of San Francisco, a young woman whose hair was made grey by the earthquake, brought suit in the Supreme Court against Mmes. Poly and Klark, hairdressers, for $50,000 damages, charging that they dyed her hair green when engaged to restore its natural color. The verdancy is attributed to alleged poisonous substances in the dye which Mrs. Lewison says she was told would make her hair black. The defendants allege that Mrs. Lewison agreed to assume whatever there might be of damage to her skin and hair resulting from the treatment.

Armistice Probable.

Mexico City, April 19.—A proposition for an armistice, pending negotiations for a settlement of Mexico's internal troubles, were received by the Department of Foreign Relations yesterday from Washington, presumably from Dr. Vasquez Gomez.

A reply was returned, in which it was indicated that the Government looked with favor upon the suggestion.

Missouri Pacific's New President.

New York, April 19.—Although recently forced out of the position himself, George J. Gould, opposing the Rockefeller - Kuhn - Loeb interests, brought about the election yesterday of B. F. Bush as his successor as president of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, defeating the opposition candidate, David R. Francis, former governor of Missouri. Mr. Bush is president of the Western Maryland Railway.

Modern Station for Fort William.

Fort William, April 19.—The new Canadian Pacific Railway station, completed at a cost of $125,000, was formally opened at three o'clock yesterday afternoon. Short speeches were made by Supt. Armstrong, and city officials. The structure is of brick and stone, three stories. It contains offices for divisional officials, and is one of the most modern stations in America.

Ottawa, April 19—Rumours are heard here to the effect that Hon. L.P. Brodeur, Minister of Marine, may be appointed to Supreme Court Bench and be succeeded as Minister of Marine by Sir Lomer Gouin.

IS IT A GOOD DEAL?

The Peterborough ratepayer who is qualified to vote on the Independent Tire Company by-law on April 25th, will naturally face this question:

Is it a good thing to support?

The business men who know the details of the proposition, who have the by-law in hand, unhesitatingly say "Yes." Is the city safe-guarded? Yes. Does the city stand to lose on the deal? No as far as business foresight can tell. Does it cost the city money? No; the company pays the interest on the loan, and $2,000 a year on the principal.

As the agreement entails no burden of any kind on the general tax-payer, the only consideration is whether the security for the loan is adequate. The company has assets of $200,000 as against the liability to the city of $40,000—a fairly safe margin, surely.

The loan of $40,000 may seeem rather large, but the factory will be a good one, employing 100 operatives after the first year, and distributing $60,000 a year wages at least. After all, the main consideration with respect to the loan, is whether it adds to the people's taxes, and whether it exceeds safe business judgment. In both cases, the answer is NO.

To refuse a good factory when the terms are reasonable and business-like, is to put up the sign "No factories need apply." Peterborough cannot afford, as a progressive, business city, to do that. It is important that YOU if a free-holder, should vote for the by-law

WILKINSON PLOW WORKS GOES UNDER; LOWER DUTY CAUSE

First Blow on Manufacturing Falls—The American Trusts Control All.

Toronto, April 19.—The announcement was made yesterday of the assignment of the Wilkinson Plow Works to E. R. C. Clarkson. The failure of this firm, one of the largest and oldest of its kind in Canada, means that, outside of the mere loss of work for some 175 hands working in the factories in West Toronto, that there are now left in Canada only two firms manufacturing agricultural implements on a large scale. The company's assets exceed the liabilities by from $100,000 to $200,000, but a writ had been issued by creditors for the winding up of the firm, and capital to overcome the difficulties could not be obtained on account chiefly of the lowering implement duties soon promised, it is stated.

The Wilkinson Plow Works is a joint stock company with $190,000 in subscribed capital; the assets run between $400,000 and $500,000, and the liabilities some $300,000. The concern was started by the man whose name the company still bears some 35 years ago in the Town of Aurora, as a small joint stock company, removing later to what was at that time the Town of Toronto Junction. This was nearly 25 years ago. Under the practical methods of Mr. Wilkinson the company appeared to prosper at this period, and continued to do so until his departure from the firm nine years ago. Personal friends of Wilkinson declare that he was dissatisfied with the treatment he received from other members of the firm at that time. He went from the firm he had started to the Verity Plow Works of Brantford, and is now located with the Cockshutt Works.

A readjustment of the firm was made some two or three years ago, when the Wilkinson Works either amalgamated with or bought out the West Lorne Wagon Works of West Lorne, Ontario, owned by McKillop Brothers, wealthy lumbermen of that place. It is declared that the McKillops bought a large block of stock of the plow works at this time. It is probable that aside from a few of those closely interested in the concern, the stock is divided into small holdings.

Several opinions have been given by those connected with the business of manufacturing agricultural implements that seem to throw light on the West Toronto firm. One gentleman last night declared that the chief reason for the Wilkinson failure was on account of the keen competition of the Canadian trade.

Why They Want Canada's Timber.

Albany, N.Y., April 19.—A decrease of one billion feet in the total production of timber in the state the past year is reported by the state forest, fish and game commission. The commission reports that the cut has fallen off each year since 1907, and it is to be expected that each year, for many years to come, will show a similar shrinkage.

"It appears," says the commission, "that there has been an increase in the consumption of pulp wood grown in the state, but quite a large shrinkage in the production of lumber."

Miners Parade Streets.

Latrobe, Pa., April 19.—Ten thousand miners, with their wives and children, paraded the streets of the boroughs and communities in the Irwin coal fields of Westmoreland County yesterday, in celebration of a year's fidelity to their unions—a year of strike characterized with much violence. Following the parade, meetings were held in the little theatres and halls of the mining communities, which were addressed by labor leaders from this section of the state. The balance of the day and evening was given up to merrymaking.

SOUR RISINGS FROM STOMACH

Those Who Experience Fullness and Pain After Meals, Stomach Disorders, and Indigestion, Should Read Below.

"When I was working around the farm last winter I had an attack of inflammation," writes Mr. E. P. Dawkins, of Port Richmond. "I was weak for a long time, but well enough to work until spring. But something went wrong with my bowels, for I had to use salts or physic all the time. My stomach kept sour, and always after eating there was pain and fulness, and all the symptoms of intestinal indigestion. Nothing helped me until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Instead of hurting, like other pills, they acted very mildly, and seemed to heal the bowels. I did not require large doses to get results with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and feel so glad that I have found a mild yet certain remedy. To-day I am well—no pain, no sour stomach, a good appetite, able to digest anything. This is a whole lot of good for one medicine to do, and I can say Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the best pills, and my letter, I am sure, proves it."

A QUESTION OF POLICY

Without wishing to display any spirit of intolerance or unreasoning opposition, it seems to us that the clever prelates of the Church of Rome would do well to avoid pressing the Ne Temere decree business to the full limit, arousing Protestant Canada to a state of feeling that can only embitter and tear apart Canadian unity. It invariably happens that religious quarrels are deep-seated, and the effects are doubly disastrous when the fires of intolerant suspicion are kindled, and in every act the cloven-foot is seen by wild imaginations. Under all circumstances, the ecclesiastical authorities who govern the policy of the Roman Catholic Church will make sure that what they do is within the bound prescribed by the law; that is to say, they are always careful enough in making decrees never to exceed the limitations provided by statute.

Whether it is wisdom to always run so close to the law that there is constant necessity for watching, lest the limit be overstepped, may be questioned; and it certainly gives rise to a great deal of unnecessary friction and ill-feeling. That a policy of aggression and aggrandizement is not always the height of wisdom may be granted by anyone familiar with the guidance of public affairs.

This Ne Temere decree has given rise to a great deal of ill-feeling, and strong resolutions are being passed on the subject. That every action of the Roman Catholic Church will be watched relating to the marriage question there can be no doubt; and in some cases this watchfulness will produce result that, in the long run, and broadly speaking, must be for the general good. The Montreal Herald, which is no anti-church organ, in speaking of the peculiar situation in Quebec, says—

> The question seems to be whether, in Quebec, ministers of religion have legal authority to unite people in marriage, or only to marry people of their own flock; whether people have the general right to be married or only the right to marry if they conform to the rules prescribed by one or other religious body. The answer is in the law, but the judges differ disametrically as to what it is.

The fact that the judges differ in the interpretation of the existing law leaves a loop-hole that is not re-assuring, because the civil power of the land is, under the British constitution, the supreme power and court of last resort in all things. There is no complaint as regards Ontario, for here the law specifically defines what is a legal marriage, and any one who says that a person legally married is not, and is living in dishonor, can be made legally liable for slander, and punished.

But in Quebec the law is different. Owing to the fact that the canon law of the church, whatever it may be, or how it may be changed, is supported by the civil law and the courts, the various denominations and churches make their own marriage regulations, and we suppose that if the Anglican Church chose to tell its members that if they married without the pale of the Church of England they were not validly married, the law would recognize it.

But it should be noted that while the Roman Catholic Church in Quebec will not recognize the marriage of one of its members by a Protestant minister, holding such a marriage not to be valid, and the parties living in dishonor, it can only apply such a ruling when the party or parties seek to re-enter the folds of the church, and then it holds that the marriage, to be valid, must be re-performed by a priest. This rule applies to all Roman Catholics, but is not enforceable as far as the church is concerned, unless they seek to return to the church after having been excommunicated by their own act of disobedience.

At the same time, all this is drawing the line too fine, and it would be very much safer and better, and would do away with this source of ill-feeling and friction, were there a civil standard of marriage, irrespective of all churches, and alike in all provinces. It will probably come to this, as any meddling with the marriage state is a blow aimed at the peace and stability of the home, the most important institution of life.

THE POWER QUESTION

One of the apparently great drawbacks to the success of the hydro-electric power scheme in western Ontario is the fact that many of the municipalities have gone into it with enlarged ideas of their consumptive power. They have contracted for much more power than they can possibly utilize, and are legally liable for 75 per cent of the quantity contracted for. This means that the cost of power is based on false assumption and will be much higher to these municipalities in actuality than expected. The principle of co-operative distribution of Niagara power is good, but in the individual municipality, on business principles it must be regulated by the market possibilities. What benefit Niagara power at common cost, plus transmission cost, has been to Stratford or St. Marys, or even Guelph or Berlin has yet to be demonstrated. The cost of power to the consumer is undoubtedly in favor of cities situated like Hamilton and St. Catharines, and particularly the live town of Welland. In Hamilton power is being sold, by the Cataract Co. to the International Harvester Co., one of the largest consumers, for under $10 per horse-power, a remarkably low rate, and power to the other manufacturers is almost equally low, in proportion to the consumption. Of course, this case cannot by any method of reasoning be applied to Peterborough, except that to compete in power prices with the other cities of Canada Peterborough would have to "go some." The expenditure of half a million dollars by a city of less than 20,000 population is a tremendous enterprise, being an increase in the civic indebtedness of nearly 30 per cent. To make an expenditure of a sum like this worth while, power will have to be priced so low that no other city can surpass it. Hon. Mr. Beck's statement that Peterborough might have the cheapest power in Canada is one well worth regarding, because, if so, the progress of the city into a much bigger, more influential centre, is dependent on the accomplishment of this great boon. The power question is a big one, and should be handled in a big way.

VACCINATION

The value of vaccination as an inoculation against small-pox has been disputed so often that figures on the subject, affording a basis of comparison as to its effectiveness are indeed welcome. The following table taken from the London Daily Graphic, would indicate that the death rate from smallpox among a vaccinated people, is much less than the death rate from smallpox among people vaccinated only in odd cases.

These figures show that in the eight years ending 1908, the death rate in England and Wales from smallpox was 1.6 per 100,000, while in Germany the death rate from smallpox in the same period was 0.007 per 100,000.

Germany, it is pointed out, has virtually universal vaccination, while in Great Britain it is not universal, "every man having a perfect right to make a fool of himself if he wishes." Germany has a population of 65,000,000 and England and Wales of about 35,000,000.

Here are the detailed comparisons;

	England Deaths	Rate per M.	Germany Deaths	Rate per M.
1901 ...	356	10.0	56	1.10
1902 ...	2464	74.6	15	0.03
1903 ...	760	22.8	20	0.04
1904 ...	507	15.0	25	0.04
1905 ...	116	3.4	27	0.05
1906 ...	21	0.6	47	0.08
1907 ...	10	0.3	63	0.10
1908 ...	12	0.3	45	0.10
	4246		318

Of the deaths in Germany in 1906 and 1906, fifteen are given as foreigners; and in 1908, twenty-eight were foreigners.

EDITORIAL NOTES

There are in addition to 1500 cases of typhoid fever in Ottawa, about 50 small-pox cases. Ottawa seems to be needing more than sulphur and molasses this spring.

They have discovered that Canadian diamonds are just as good as the South African variety. This exemplifies in Canada the old saying, that all is not gold that glitters—it may be diamonds.

The paramount duty of every Peterborough free-holder is to vote FOR the Tire Company by-law. A vote not cast at all is a vote against, because to carry, the by-law must get a three-fifths majority of the free-holders of the city, not merely three-fifths of the vote cast.

The late William Shakespeare said: "Tis not as deep as a well nor as wide as a barn door—but 'twill suffice." This quotation is used with striking effect by Sam Hunter in a cartoon showing a board off the tariff fence, and the United States trust pig trying to squeeze through into Canadian territory.

Hon. A. G. Mackay, leader of the Ontario Opposition, says: "I think the Conservative party has reason to be proud of the high class of man who is their leader to-day. I think Mr. Borden is a pretty high type of man and a pretty safe sort of citizen to whom to entrust power if there should be a change of government."

The United States is ready to intervene in Mexico and restore order. In the last Mexican trouble the United States added five hundred thousand square miles of territory to itself. Perhaps this intervention will take in another big slice. This is a real good chance to have Old Glory wave from the forty-ninth parallel to Popocotapetl.

Remember that the Tire Company by-law is another step up the ladder of prosperity for Peterborough. It is adding NOTHING to the tax-payers' burdens. It costs the city nothing. The loan is secured by assets of nearly $200,000 and the industry promises a rosy future. Every new venture is something of a speculation, but none have better prospects than those in the automobile tire trade, which has grown over a thousand per cent. in the last three years. Vote for the by-law.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS SAY

A "DISTURBER"

Hamilton Herald.

Peterboro already has a pretty cheap supply of electric power. But Mr. Beck has been showing the Peterboro folks how the Hydro-Electric commission can help them to a still cheaper suplyp. He never will be satisfied to let well enough alone, this man Beck. He is always worrying communities with information about how they can improve conditions. There's no doubt about it—Beck is one of the objectionable "disturber" class.

ITCHING SCALP

Got Rid of, In a Few Hours

There is nothing made that will so quickly rid the scalp of distressing itchiness as PARISIAN SAGE, the hair dresser and beautifier.

W. Madill guarantees Parisian Sage to cure dandruff, stop itching scalp and falling hair or money back, and sells it for only 50 cents a large bottle. It puts vitality into the hair and gives it a radiant luster.

It is the favorite hair dressing of refined women because it so quickly refreshes the scalp, and not being sticky or greasy is delightful to use.

Vote for the Tire Company By-law on April 25, and give Peterborough another boost onward and upward.

Killed Entire Family.

Youngstown, Ohio, April 19.—Grant Rickert, a plumber, shortly after midnight yesterday, attacked his wife and five children with a gun and axe, killed his wife and three children and probably mortally wounded the other two children. He then shot and killed himself.

Rickert feared he was going blind, and that the eyesight of his children was impaired.

Penitentiary Guard's Suicide.

Kingston, April 19.—Edward Cowan, about 40 years of age, a guard at the penitentiary, walked out of his house last night, pulled a revolver out of his pocket and shot himself twice in the head. Death was almost instantaneous. Cowan had been in ill-health for some time. He came from Gananoque. A wife survives him.

Paris Editor Dead.

Paris, Ont., April 19.—The death took place yesterday of A. E. Kinder, formerly editor of The Paris Review. He was ill only a few days, death being due to pneumonia. He was for 14 years cashier in the Grand Trunk freight office at Strathroy before removing to Paris. His widow, five brothers and two sisters survive.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"Are you in danger?" she asked. "Can you hang on?"

"I'm all right," said he, "only my hands. Can you see shore? Is it far?"

The shore was rising fast, she told him. It was not so very far now, but the gas was almost gone. Could she do anything? Was there nothing to be done to eke it out so as to bring them a little closer before they fell into the sea? Could he do anything if he were in the car?

"Keep her as she is," said he. "When we get close enough so she can glide in I'll lighten her."

"How lighten her?" she asked.

"It's easy," said he, "from down here. Keep her as she is!"

The dunes lifted white in the sun, shimmering in the heat, swelling as the Virginia darted nearer and nearer to shore. The horror stricken people on the beach saw her coming, like an albatross before a gale. The girl on the deck prayed fervently for the miraculous renewing of the little cruse of oil from which was made the gas that kept them up, and the man underneath hung on grimly, awaiting the cessation of stroke, which would prove that the mixture which was the breath of life of the great engines was exhausted at last. Once, twice, thrice, came the halting in the machinery that was the death rattle of the motors.

"Virginia!" said he.

"Yes," she replied.

"Fix the gliding mechanism. The gas is done."

"Yes, Theodore."

"Turn her nose down a little. With momentum enough she'll make it from here. And when she gets within those breakers, if she is less than twenty-five feet high, tilt her up again a little. Do you understand?"

"Yes. I'll do it. Anything more, Theodore?"

"No; only remember what you said about forgiving me if I'd let you come with me. Remember, turn her prow up a little when she nears shore. You'll make it, dear; you'll make it!"

Mrs. Graybill, standing on the shore, noted with the rest the new motion of the airship when the engines were stopped and wondered why it behaved so queerly.

And then Mrs. Graybill screamed. She had seen the man under the car deliberately let go his hold and drop into the water. The lightened car tilted slightly upward now as Virginia obeyed orders, soared slowly onward, rising a little as her momentum brought the great gliding surfaces against the air, and then, clearing the foam of the surf, she softly settled on the sand with her stern rudder, like the tail of a great dead bird, washed by the hungry waves which she had as by a miracle escaped. And rowing in from the offing where he had gone in his fishing boat in the wild and improbable belief that he might help his master came Captain Harrod with a white faced young man lying in the bottom of the boat whose fingers dripped blood from the remorseless work of the file.

* * * * * * *

"Allow me to suggest," observed Craighead as the gentlemen of the party at Harrod's camp sat in lounging attitude on various articles used as chairs, mostly jetsam and flotsam of the gulf, "that in perfecting the first really practicable flying machine we have set in motion social and economic reactions that will go on and on far beyond the ken of those who, unlike myself, have not made a specialty of them. As that submarine dragged the Virginia out to sea yesterday we all thought it was the last of Carson, M. A., didn't we?"

Mr. Carson picked at his bandaged fingers, embarrassed.

"I didn't see much hope of escape," said he.

Breakfast was served. Mr. Waddy was upon tenterhooks until the Virginia had been explained to him, so a trip was arranged for Waddy, Craighead and Carson. They would fly down to Fort Morgan, thence to Palmetto Beach, get their mail and be back for dinner.

Mr. Waddy shied from the sea, but once in air he became intoxicated with enthusiasm. If this machine, said he, was so good that the Aerostatic Power people thought it good business to hire Wizner to drown it and its inventor—he could not otherwise explain the horrible affair of yesterday—it was good enough to be backed with all the Waddy money in all the eight banks.

The Virginia had alighted on the parade ground at Fort Morgan. The bamboo braces fell outward, and she lay on an even keel. The aeronats invariably halted at the mooring balloon and received passes, but Mr. Waddy's declaration of fealty was so absorbing and the speed of the Virginia so unwonted to her pilot that the fort had been spread beneath him like a map before he was aware of it. To alight might mean arrest, inquiry and discharge after explanations to the commandant, Colonel Krimnitz, of whose severity Carson felt no real fear. But if he tried to go away after running the guard he might be fired on as a spy making off with complete photographs. Altogether it was safest to alight, thought Carson, and he settled on the parade ground, greatly to the agitation of an awkward squad drilling under a sergeant, whose bellowed commands were cut short off by the whir of the reversal of the Virginia's wing blades. He turned and saw the huge dragon fly with its bow rudder pointed at him like a great mandible.

The drill sergeant's expression carried conviction to the sergeant of the guard, where his description of a devil of a bird thing that you couldn't see at all till it struck the ground might not have been credited. The guard turned out and moved on the parade ground. The guard encountered a great silver winged insect with a snug car amidships, her four braces sticking in the Bermuda grass like very short legs.

The guard halted at five paces, and the sergeant advanced, obtaining his first good look at Mr. Craighead, maintaining the attitude of military caricature with a steadiness perfectly statuesque. The sergeant, a little man with a red mustache turned up a la kaiser, looked at him for half a minute and uttered a mysterious exclamation.

Craighead remained motionless, his hand to his cap. The sergeant amazedly returned the salute. Craighead relaxed his tense muscles, dropped his hand to his side and winked with the utmost sobriety of expression.

"Podner," said he, "have yeh got any eatin' tobacker?"

"I'll trouble you gentlemen for your passes," returned the sergeant.

"Unfortunately," replied Mr. Craighead, "we omitted to obtain passes. Say no more, Mr. Sergeant. We are all soldiers. This is Gennie Theodo' Cahson, M. A., and this Mr. Waddy, who served in his youth in the typhoid uprising at Chickamauga in the Spanish-American war. Show your button, Mr. Waddy, as an S. A. W. V. You see, sergeant, that you are quite safe against our capturing Fort Morgan."

May Meet In Stratford.

London, April 19.—The Synod of Huron, which opens this year on June 13, it is likely, will convene in Stratford instead of London. For years the gathering has been held here, but the bishop has the power both to change the time and the place of meeting, and owing to the fact that the general synod is to be held here in September, he has considered it wise to move the gathering of the diocese to Stratford, if the residents of that place can arrange to billet the clerical delegates.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT.

Tasty Little Dainties That Are Out of the Ordinary.

Today's recipes will not be found in the ordinary cookbook and will be new to the average housekeeper and therefore a very welcome addition to her menu.

Caramel Pie.

Take one quart of sweet milk, five eggs, five tablespoonfuls of sugar, one cupful of damson preserves. Beat the yolks of five eggs and the whites of two until very light, then mix in five tablespoonfuls of sugar, then add cold milk and stir well, then, last, the damson plums. Have your pie crust rolled out thin, put in the caramel and bake. When nearly done put over the top a meringue made of the whites of three eggs and three tablespoonfuls of sugar and let it brown. This makes two pies.

Almond Bars.

Beat half a cup of butter to a cream; gradually beat in one-third of a cup of granulated sugar, then the beaten yolks of three eggs, the grated rind of an orange or lemon, two tablespoonfuls of milk and one cup and a half of sifted pastry flour. Knead slightly, adding a little more flour if necessary. Divide into two or three pieces, according to size of tins; roll one piece into a sheet to fit the pan (a rectangular pan is best), trim if needed and fold under the edges to make a case three-fourths of an inch deep. Flute the edges as for a custard pie. Beat the whites of three eggs dry, gradually beat in half a cup of sugar, then fold in a generous half cup of sugar and a cup and a half of blanched almonds chopped fine. Flavor with a teaspoonful of vanilla. Spread this mixture evenly over the cake mixture in the pans. It should come to the top of the fluted edge. Dredge with granulated sugar and bake in a moderate oven, says the Boston Cooking School

ALMOND BARS AND COUPES VENUS.

Magazine. When cooled a little remove from the tins and cut in strips about an inch and a half wide.

Coupes Venus.

Put a generous spoonful of vanilla ice cream into saucer champagne glasses; make a shallow depression in the cream and into it set whole peaches cooked in sirup flavored with vanilla; set a maraschino cherry above the peach and around the same pipe whipped cream. Serve at once.

A Russian Sweet.

One and a half pounds of sugar, half a pound of butter, one teacupful apple or red currant jelly, one teacupful of cream, two teaspoonfuls of cocoa, one tablespoonful of vanilla extract. Melt the butter and add all the other ingredients except vanilla. Boil for twenty minutes, stirring as little as possible. Then add vanilla. When a drop cooled on a slab cuts clean with a knife pour into buttered tins and mark with a knife. When cool turn out and break into pieces.

To Serve With Ices.

Candied orange peel is an appetising confection to serve with a frozen dessert. To make it, peel and break into sections, not allowing the juice to exude. Make a sirup in the proportion of one pound of good granulated sugar to one pint of water and let it boil until it will harden in water. Take from the fire and dip the orange strips in the sirup, using a candy dipper or two tined fork. Drain on a fine sieve; place over a platter so that the sirup will not be wasted.

Protecting Mahogany.

In these days of dust the careful housekeeper finds it sifts into her mahogany tops despite covers. This is bad for the wood and makes the covers look dingy.

A lining of some sort should be provided. Sometimes this is in the form of wadded covers of china silk that stand washing. But these give the linen cover a padded look that is not especially desirable.

An interlining of glass is growing in favor. This protects the wood and, if heavy enough not to crack easily, is serviceable and quickly cleaned. The edges should be rounded so as not to cut with careless handling.

One housekeeper advocates the use of asbestos sheets under her dressing table covers. There is no danger to the wood if hot curling tongs or half burnt matches are dropped.

It is cheaper and more convenient to use white blotters as a lining. These keep dust from the wood admirably, absorb upset liquids and cost so little that they can frequently be renewed. They have the effect also of making the linen or pique top look whiter.

No, nor will wasting time moaning over yesterday's failures make successes out of to-day's opportunities.

Neither doth it profit a man to learn, after a fire, that the company some one recommended was "N.G." You can't change it then. To-day, you can select the best.

You aim for the BEST when you select a bank or take a partner in business. WHY NOT DO THIS IN FIRE INSURANCE! The value of a fire insurance policy depends largely upon the character and methods of the company which issues it. Our aim in this advertisnig is to get property owners to use the same foresight about fire insurance that they do about other business matters. We will accomplish much if we succeed. DO IT NOW

The habit of putting off doing the things we ought to do is responsible for much of the trouble people spend so many regrets over. It almost seems that getting their eyes looked after in time is the duty most often put off by most people. Any inconvenience, even pain and discomfort are endured rather than "come to glasses." Could people only realize the feeling of positive relief and the added power of work that glasses would give them this urgent duty would be attended to at once. Could they only witness, as does the eye-sight specialist the numerous cases where it has been left too long undone and no help can be given any more with glasses, articles like this would be unnecessary. As it is we must keep on giving the old advice. We make no charge for consultation.

BIG TURNOUT TO WEEKLY DRILL

Regiment Was Two Hundred and Sixty Five Strong

The 57th Regiment turned out two hundred and sixty-five strong last night. Many recruits were sworn in and put through the preliminary drills.

There was a good marchout by way of George street, east on Simcoe to Water, north to Hunter, west to Hunter to George and back to the Armories.

Lieut.-Col. T. D. R. Hemming, D.O.C., eastern division, was present and watched the drill.

The following orders for the week were read:

Headquarters, Peterborough,
April 18th, 1911.

Orders by the officers commanding 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers.

No. 1.—Detail of duty for the week ending 25th April, 1911. Captain for the week Captain Hounsell. Next for duty Captain McLean, subaltern for the week Lieutenant Hall; next for duty, Lieutenant Carruthers.

No. 2.—The following are struck off the strength of the regiment;—B Co., Corp. H. B. Simmons, Corp. F. Degan, Ptes. C. W. Downs, J. Mehern and Mr. Hall, discharged April 11th, 1911.

No. 3.—Leave of absence from parade is hereby granted to Lieut. G. S. Cameran and Lieut. J. Gemmell.

No. 4.—The commanding officer has been pleased to transfer Sgt. Metheral from G. Co. to B. Co. and to promote G. Henderson to be a corporal provisionally in E. Co. vice corp. G. B. Jackson discharged.

D. WALKER,
Captain-Adjutant.

LOCAL HERD OF SOCIAL ORDER OF MOOSE TO BE INSTITUTED

Sociability, Orderliness and Moderation is the Motto

Another valuable addition will be made to Peterborough's social organizations on Saturday night, when the Social Order of Moose will institute a Herd here.

It is merely a social order having for its motto sociability, orderliness and moderation. The growth has been phenomenal—herds having been formed in many parts of the country. On March 14th, St. Thomas Herd, No. 20, Social Order of Moose, was instituted in that city. There was a grand powwow in the Grand Central club rooms and 47 candidates were initiated.

In Peterborough, as in other places, a full board of directors will be elected. Rooms will be purchased or leased, as the occasion demands, and furnished as only up-to-date club rooms should be. In time the management intends having gymnasium and baths, pool-tables, reception room and an orchestra.

In St. Thomas, London, Detroit and various other places, there is a baseball team and representatives in the various athletics in connection with the Herds.

Club dances will be held regularly and the rooms will be open to members as a place of recreation and entertainment at any time.

When you are a Moose you are a brother to the best of men—never in need or distress—never out of a position. No Moose was ever buried in a potter's field or wore a potter's shroud. No widow or orphan of a Moose ever was in want.

Disorderly Youth Discharged—Police Court Cases

Police Court was rather quiet this morning, only three cases being heard.

BLACKLISTERS FINED $10.

Two blacklisters appeared on charges of purchasing liquor, one at the National Hotel and the other at the King George.

They were each assessed the usual $10.

Inspector Stewart stated that there were, at present, one hundred names on the blacklist.

DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Disorderly in a public place on the 13th inst., was the charge against Arthur Tooey.

Tooey was coming out of the Chinese Restaurant in company with three other men and the party was rather hilarious and some were singing.

P. C. Meagher told them not to sing and they desisted until they were away from him, when they once more burst forth in the fullness of their joy.

P. C. Brown gave chase and arrested Tooey, who did not attempt to break away.

The accused explained to His Worship that he was not singing and was merely walking along the street in the company of the others.

"I suppose you have heard the story of the bird which was with bad company and had to take its medicine," remarked His Worship to the defendant.

He was allowed to go after receiving some good advice from the magistrate.

THE HOUSE OF A THOUSAND CANDLES IS COMING HERE

Dramatized Version of This Well Known Book at the Grand on Saturday April 22nd. Matinee and Night.

"The House of a Thousand Candles," one of the most entertaining and absorbing of comedy dramas, will be presented at the Grand Opera House on Saturday next, April 22nd, matinee and evening. The play, as the title indicates, is an excellent dramatization of Meredith Nicholson's widely read novel. It has been cleverly adapted by George Middleton, who has managed to retain all the oddities of the story, together with its surprises and whimsical mysteries. In fact, the stage adaptation makes the mystery even more profound than in the original story. Despite the presence of the "unknown" in its four acts and the great intensity of many of its scenes, it is far from being a melodram nor a so-called "thriller." It is just the real up-to-date play filled with novel situations, overflowing with humor, and entirely away from all beaten paths.

"Bates," the great character of both play and novel, the inscrutable, the mysterious, the suspected—"Bates," the faithful, patient, long-suffering butler at Glenarm House—is in the capable hands of Wayne Lyter, who was specially selected for the role, and who can positively be relied upon to give a splendid impersonation of an utterly original person. John Glenarm, the heir to "The House of a Thousand Candles," has been entrusted to Leo H. King. This is the role of the plucky young fellow who will not be thrown out of his inheritance because of the threats, mystery, and a series of designs upon his life. How he eludes his pursuers and fathoms the mysteries of the wonderful old mansion form the basis of one of the most entrancing series of episodes ever given to the stage. Miss Rosabelle Leslie, an altogether charming and talented actress, assumes the role of Marion Devereaux, the young woman who baffles and attracts young Glenarm, and who interferes with his attempts at solving the problems of the hollow walls and weird apparitions.

It would hardly be fair to those who expect to see this interesting presentation to go too much into detail regarding the play. Those who have read the book will know what to expect from its merry scenes and striking incidents. Those who have not, will find the play truly original, and one of the most brilliant bits of dramatic writing that the stage has known in recent years.

Among the many and varied characters "Pickering," the unscrupulous lawyer, will be played by Claude Miller; "Morgan," the thug, by Jack Schannegar; "Larry Donovan," the good-natured Irishman, by Joseph Belmont; the spiritual Glenarm, by Frank Laftur; the old sheriff by Walter Lennox; and the vivacious Marion by Rosabella Leslie.

The scenic investiture is all that could be desired, and pictures the boathouse near the Mansion, the exterior of "The House of a Thousand Candles," the room with the hollow walls and the interior of one of the main halls where the fight for the possession of the building occurs.

Theatre-goers will recall the fact that "The House of a Thousand Candles" was first presented by James K. Hackett, at Daly's Theatre, New York, and scored an instantaneous success. It was received with so much favor that it is now being presented by three organizations. The one that appears here includes a number of the members of the original cast, and appears in all the larger cities east of the Mississippi.

MISS ANGLIN WAS WARMLY WELCOMED BY MANY ADMIRING FRIENDS IN OTTAWA

Given Warm Welcome After Absence of Nine Years—Large and Fashionable Audience at the Russel—"Green Stockings" a Charming and Clever Comedy

Yesterday's Ottawa Journal has the following most cordial comment on Miss Anglin's appearance there this week in the Russel Theatre—

"It is nine years since Miss Margaret Anglin visited Ottawa. On that occasion she played as a co-star with Henry Miller. The warm welcome she received at the Russell last night must have made her feel that she had not been forgotten during her absence.

The audience last night was one of the largest and most fashionable which the Russell has seen for years. Earl and Lady Grey and a vice-regal party were present and most of the boxes were filled. Mrs. (Justice) Anglin, sister-in-law of the star, and a party, occupied the lower right-hand box next the stage.

Miss Anglin is about finishing a very long run of playing. She is now in her 96th consecutive week. On May 6 she will complete her present tour and 99 weeks.

Last night Miss Anglin appeared in her first comedy venture, a new and delightful English production, "The Green Stockings." In comedy Miss Anglin proved as unqualified a success as she has in the heavier roles. The part she played last night called for a very high class of acting, but Miss Anglin met every requirement and a little more.

Mr. H. Reeves-Smith, who next to Miss Anglin does most to carry the play, taking the part of Col. Smith, D.S.O., is an excellent actor. Mr. Smith, who is an Englishman, is not a stranger to Ottawa, having been here before in a "Brace of Partridge," and in "The Tyranny of Tears."

As a whole the company is very strong. The play has no weak spots. The interest begins at the very start and keeps up consistently. The particular charm of the acting is its naturalness."

Miss Anglin and her family have many warm friends in the city, who are taking advantage of the opportunity to meet and hear this charming actress to-morrow evening.

There are still a number of good seats left, though the advance sale has been large. It is to be regretted that the bankers' dance should happen to be set for the same evening, but a good many are planning to see "The Green Stockings" first, and then go on to the dance.

WEDDING BELLS

McGREGOR—FOLEY.

At the George street Methodist church on Thursday afternoon, April 13th, Rev. I. Couch united in marriage Miss Mollie Foley, of Havelock, to Duncan McGregor, of Toronto, and formerly of Keene. They were unattended. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful pearl necklace. Mr. and Mrs. McGregor left on the 4.30 C.P.R. train for Toronto, where they will reside at 477 Pape avenue. The bride travelled in a dress of blue silk and long coat of navy blue broadcloth and hat to match. Since last September the bride had taught school at Lang, where a host of friends join in congratulations.

WHITE—LORD.

Toronto News.—The Metropolitan church was the scene of a very pretty wedding at half-past two this afternoon when the marriage took place of Miss Eva Alma Lord, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lord, and Mr. Walter Russell White, of Ottawa, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. White, of Drayton, Ontario. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Armstrong, Mr. Wheeldon presiding at the organ. The church was prettily decorated with Easter lilies, palms and spring blossoms. The bride who was given away by her father, wore a graceful gown of crystal net over ivory duchess satin, a tulle veil, held in place by a coronet of orange blossom, and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lily of the valley. She also wore the groom's gift, a pearl necklace and pendant. Miss Marian Lord was her sister's bridesmaid and wore a dress of cream silk net over dresden silk with a touch of black velvet, and large black picture hat, and carried a shower bouquet of pink and white roses. Mr. Bertan Lord, of Sault Ste. Marie, brother of the bride, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Frank Lord, Mr. Charlton Lord, Mr. Carl Halpanny, and Mr. Frank Halpanny. The groom's gift to them were pearl tie-pins, to the best man he gave gold initialed cuff-links, and to the bridesmaid a gold bracelet. After the ceremony they returned to the home of the bride's parents in Montrose avenue which was prettily decorated with palms and spring flowers. An orchestra played during the afternoon. Mrs Lord received the guests and was wearing a gown of grey silk trimmed with coral, a large black hat, and marabout feather boa. Later on the bride and groom left for a trip to New York and other American cities, the bride travelling in a tailored suit of russet brown cloth with hat to match. On their return they will reside in Ottawa.

CARTNER—BRADSHAW.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized at 10 o'clock this morning when William Cartner and Miss Emma Bradshaw were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. G. W. Henderson, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. James Bradshaw, 570 Bolivar street.

Mr. and Mrs. Cartner took the 11.45 G.T.R. train for Toronto and points west. On their return they will reside at 57 Aylmer street.

HUGH DELINE IS ON TRIAL FOR HIS LIFE

Pleads "Not Guilty" to Charge of Murdering His Wife at Their Home in Belmont Township--- The Evidence To-day.

Hugh Deline charged with the murder of his wife, "Chrissy" Deline, at their home, in the township of Belmont, last September, pleaded not guilty to the charge, when it was read by the clerk of the court, at the Spring Assizes this morning.

Mr. E. Meredith, of London, assisted by Mr. R. E. Wood, is conducting the prosecution. O'Connell and Gordon are acting for Deline.

Deline's general appearance shows great improvement. He is clean shaven, and the expression on his face is almost boyish, although he is twenty-seven years of age. He is taking a keen interest in the proceedings. The room is crowded.

The dead body of Mrs. Deline was found at the home, in a half nude condition by neighbors, on the night of Thursday, September 15th, of last year. The inquest following Deline's arrest, was held at Havelock on Friday, September 23rd, and the preliminary hearing before his Worship, Magistrate Edmison, in the early part of October.

The jury to hear the evidence is:—George Hanbridge, Henry Hill, Hugh Robb, John Logan, G. W. Johnston, Percy Hetherington, George Hendren, Richard Andrews, William Baptie, David Fife, James Fanning and Alexander Kilienbeck.

ADDRESS TO JURY.

After being sworn Mr. E. Meredith strongly admonished the jury as to their duties and in that they impressed upon them the fact that they would be compelled to deal with what was a most revolting crime. Briefly reviewing the nasty details of the case, he dwelt forcibly upon the brutality with which the dead woman had apparently been done to death. He told of the terrible marks found on her body. He vividly related the incriminating actions of the prisoner after the discovery of the body of his wife, of his apparent indifference and the plausible excuses with which he met the inquiries of the medical and police authorities.

"It is for you to say gentlemen, with the facts before you to say whether, in the sight of God and your country that this man is guilty or not, of murder."

EXAMINATION OF WITNESSES.

The work of examining witnesses followed. Mary Lane Little was the first. On being sworn she stated that she lived about half a mile from the home of the prisoner.

R. E. Wood, assisting Crown prosecutor, conducted the examination first. To him she stated that she was called to the house of Deline on the night in question by Mrs. Newhall. She saw the body of Mrs. Deline lying in the summer kitchen with only a flannel wrapper on.

Mr. O'Connell for the defence, next questioned witness.

"How far do you live from the place of Mrs. Newall?" he asked. "About half a mile."

"It was Mrs. Newall that asked you to accompany her to the rented house where Deline lived?" "Yes."

"Who went with you to the door of the kitchen where the dead woman lay?" "Mrs. Newhall."

"Who told you she was dead?" "Mrs. Newall."

"What made you think she was dead?" "By the way she was lying."

"You evidently had some sympathy for the prisoner, because you said it was hardly nice to let him go for assistance alone?" asked Mr. O'Connel.

"Yes, I did say that."

"Did Deline complain of a headache?" "Yes, he did, and laid down and went to sleep."

"The next day you helped to wash the body?" "Yes."

"From the condition of her feet it was apparent that she had gone barefoot all summer?" "Yes."

"What is this man's business?" asked the judge.

"A farm laborer," replied witness. This ended Mr. O'Connell's examination for the time.

SAMUEL NEWELL.

Samuel Newell was called.

"You are a farmer?" asked prosecution. "Yes. I said to prisoner, 'That is an awful thing that happened over at your place.'"

"What did he say?" "He didn't say anything, just shook his head."

"What passed between you and Deline?" The witness told of the conversation.

"Where do you live now?" "On the boundary line of Dummer and Douro, where the people have some fear of God."

"How long did you live there after the tragedy happened?" "Not very long."

"Whose field were you in when the talk took place between you and Deline?" "Between Norwood and Havelock."

"You were living near your farm in a house doing nothing?" "Yes."

"Are you living on your money?" "Yes, so far."

"What else were you talking about in the field?" "We were talking about girls going with young fellows; he started the conversation."

"You accused the man of committing the murder when it happened?" "Yes."

"You would hang a man by his looks, I suppose," asked Mr. O'Connell. "Yes."

"What did you see in his looks?" asked the judge. "I don't know," was the reply.

MAGISTRATE'S EVIDENCE.

Magistrate Edmison was next sworn who told of the hearing at Havelock at the time of the murder.

Mrs. Margaret Newell, wife of Samuel Newell, was prevented from being present as a witness, through serious illness. Her evidence at the inquest was read by the prosecution.

CONSTABLE'S EVIDENCE.

Constable Williams, of Havelock, was called and Crown Prosecutor Meredith questioned him.

A large portion of his evidence related to the pair of trousers alleged to have been worn by the prisoner.

"What did you do with those pants?"

"I took them to the coroner, Dr. Kinrade."

"Did you have any talk with prisoner?"

"Yes."

"Tell us the conversation."

Here Mr. O'Connell objected to evidence, but his objection was ruled out.

"I asked prisoner if the clothes he had on were the same as he wore on the night of the murder. He replied they were the same. Later he said they were not, adding that the trousers he had on that night were in the cellar of his house."

"Did he say anything else that day?"

"No, he did not. Then he was arrested next day, and I warned him that anything he said would be used as evidence against him."

"Did he say anything more?"

"No; except that he did not kill his wife."

He said that he went into the house and took the lamp and discerned the two children in bed; then went out into the shed and saw his wife lying there, but did not go near her. Next, he told the constable, he went across to Newell's.

"Was anything more said?"

"Not that I can remember."

"You were present when the body was viewed by medical experts?"

"Yes."

"Later, did you not find some cord out on the foot path?"

"Yes."

"When was it?"

"About the 10th of October."

That finished the prosecutor's questioning.

The defence next proceeded with their examination of witness, but little direct evidence was elicited.

DR. KINRADE.

Dr. Kinrade, Havelock, the coroner, testified next.

"When did you view the body?"

"Right after I got there."

"Where did you find the body?"

"In the shed back of the living room."

"How was it lying?"

"It was lying with arms slightly extended and one limb drawn up."

"What were her wounds like?"

"There was a wound over the left temple half an inch in diameter."

"How would it be caused, do you think?"

"It might have been caused by a fall. There was also a wound on the forehead that might have been caused in the same way. Some scratches, apparently from finger nails, were on her face."

"Any other marks?"

"Yes; on outer side of left elbow, and on each of the wrists."

"What would cause the latter marks?"

"Why, a rope or large string tied tightly."

"Did you have any conversation with prisoner?"

"Yes. I saw that he was watching my movements closely, and asked me what I thought of it. I told him I had not formed any opinion. He appeared to be in a state of emotion, but nevertheless he had his hand to his face and appeared to be looking at me through his fingers. He said that his wife had complained of a pain in her head, and it must have been a case of sudden death."

"Could the marks upon her wrists have been caused by the rope which I have here, and which was found in the neighborhood of Deline's house?"

RIGHT LEG OF EIGHT YEAR OLD BOY BROKEN ABOVE KNEE

Was Coasting on Pavement and Collided With Delivery Wagon

A serious accident occurred about six o'clock last evening when little Norman Asling was struck by a delivery waggon and his leg was broken and other minor injuries were received.

COASTING ON STREET.

The child, who is about 8 years of age, is the son of Wellington Asling, bootmaker, who lives at 583 George street, and is in the employ of R. F. Carey.

In company with other children of about the same age, he was playing around the corner of Aylmer and McDonnel streets with a little coaster waggon, Norman riding down the grade as Cressman's delivery waggon was turning the corner.

DRIVER STOPPED.

George Henry, the driver, stopped his horse and fastening it went back to see how badly the boy was hurt.

Not thinking the injuries serious and having considerable delivery to make, he went on, leaving the youngster with the other children. The driver can not be blamed as the lad was coming down a steep grade and shot out just as the waggon came opposite the sidewalk.

The boy's mother, who has been ill nearly all winter, became very uneasy when her son did not come home at the usual time. Shortly before seven o'clock he was brought to the house by two men.

Dr. Morgan was summoned and had the patient removed to the Nicholls Hospital in the Dan Spence ambulance. On examination it was found that the right leg had been broken above the knee and the sufferer complained of a pain in his chest.

The patient is resting easier to-day.

UNFORTUNATE FAMILY.

The Asling family has had a great deal of trouble. Five years ago five of their children died within four days, of a complication of diptheria, scarlet fever and pneumonia.

There are five small children left of which Norman is the eldest. Mrs. Asling has been in the hospital the greater part of the winter. She first entered with fractures of the bones in one foot and later three surgical operations were performed.

MORE GAMES OF INDOOR BASEBALL

Two Exhibitions Arranged for Friday Night at Armories

The Indoor Baseball League at the Armouries opens Friday evening next.

The following teams will play the opening games:—

At 7.30 p.m.—Companies 1 and 2 will clash. No 2 Company won most of their games in the last league and No. 1 has also a good team.

At 9 p.m.—Companies 6 and 7 come together. There is great rivalry between these companies. They are the two best companies in the regiment and there is sure to be a struggle for the supremacy.

The complete schedule will be published to-morrow.

Y.M.C.A. FIVE WON SECOND

Defeated Collegiates at Basketball by Score of 38-21

The P.C.I. basketball team was defeated last night by the Y.M.C.A. Intermediates in a fast game of basketball. The half-time score was 20-15 against the Collegians and full-time 38-21 also against them.

It was the second meeting in a two out of three series, which will decide the Intermediate championship of the local Association. The Collegians took the first game.

TENNIS

It is requested that all clubs wishing to enter the Tennis Association this year will appoint their representatives to the association at an early date as the association wishes to have it first meeting on May 1st. G. R. Hall, secretary.

GREAT INVENTIONS.

Some Things That Have Done the Most Good for Mankind.

The savage didn't invent; he discovered. When he first rubbed two sticks together and produced fire he changed the course of the universe. Man and woman had been hunting and gathering herbs side by side before; now one must stay at home and mind the fire. The woman chose the hearth, and the man the heath. It is so at the present day and ever will be. When an early woman dropped a hot stone in a wicker jar and made soup she had done more than the person who first communicates with Mars.

The greatest little invention that has been given to the world is the lucifer match. It was invented in 1827. It is small, but, like Portia's candle, it has shed a great light into the world. It gave man mastery of fire. Before this fire had been a contrary hired man, but now it became an obedient servant.

Mankind was centuries old before it produced the first great invention—the compass. Man had been kept at home, made to hug the seashore for fear of being lost should he get out of sight of land. Over the horizon of the sea was the end of the world. Marco Polo, the first globe trotter, brought it from China, where it had been known about for centuries. It was a piece of iron stuck on a board floating in the water; no one had the slightest idea in the world why it should swing around to the north. Could Marco Polo, or Flavio Gioja—who was the real inventor—see a modern compass they wouldn't know what it was. When Columbus got a compass he got more than he did when the queen gave him her jewels. The compass gave us the new world.

When James Watt held down the lid of his mother's tea kettle, he put himself into every child histroy, and solved the question of power. Steam is mankind's best servant. One pint of water made into steam will lift 37 tons a foot off the ground. The puny arm of man, that the poets write about, becomes a mighty arm when backed by steam.

A companion servant to steam is electricty. Electricity is the more versatile, but as yet has not been such an important factor in man's battle with nature as steam. But its future is all before it.

Like gunpowder, it was known about centuries before it was put to use. Thales, of Miletus, knew that amber rubbed together would attract leaves and broken bits of straw, 600 years before Christ. It was left to Dr. W. Gilbert, in 1651, to make the first practical discovery; and it was more than 200 years after this that electricity was induced. Dr. Gilbert thought that it was the heat in the amber that attracted the leaves, or something that way. And that is about all we know about it yet.

Cut Off One License.

Brockville, April 19.—The Board of License Commissioners for this district have granted a renewal of licenses to six hotels and two shops in Brockville, and four hotels in the townships of Kitley and South Elmsby. This is a reduction of one hotel license from last year, caused by the adoption of local option in the township of Elizabethtown, which cuts off the Stock House at Lyn. An application for a third shop license here was not entertained.

First Break In Five Years.

Ottawa, April 19.—The death of Perry Graham, son of the Minister of Railways and Canals, makes the first break for some years in the ranks of the Parliamentary press gallery. At the funeral to-day the gallery was represented at Brockville by A. B. Hannay, president, with Messrs. P. E. Bilkly, Toronto Telegram; H. E. Wilmot, Toronto World; James Muir, Ottawa Journal; R. M. McLeod, Ottawa Citizen, and Sid Roe, Montreal Gazette.

ONE MORE BATTLE

That Was What General Lee Wanted Before Yielding.

HIS TALK WITH LONGSTREET.

Major Ranson's Interesting Account of the Scene In the Confederate Commander's Cheerless Tent the Night Before the Surrender.

An interesting account of the dramatic scene at General Lee's headquarters the night before the surrender, when the Confederate commander was still determined to strike one more blow for the cause for which he was fighting, is given by Major A. R. H. Ranson in Harper's Magazine. Major Ranson writes:

"When I arrived at headquarters General Lee was in a tent, sitting with General Longstreet on some bundles of rye straw, the ground being wet from the rain, at the upper side of the tent, with one candle for a light. I made my report, and the general told me to wait, as he wished to see me. He asked me if I had had anything to eat, and I told him no. He said he was sorry he had nothing to offer me. He gave me a bundle of straw and told me to sit near the door.

"It had been raining all afternoon, and I was quite wet. I was also very tired, so I put my foot through the bridle rein of my mare standing outside and, lying down on the bundle of straw, was soon asleep.

"I was awakened by voices and, looking up, saw the colonel I had left in charge of the troops at the bridge standing in the tent. He reported that the rations had not arrived, and the starving and discouraged troops had all deserted in the darkness, leaving their arms in the trenches.

"General Lee heard him to the end of his account, and then with a wave of his hand dismissed him. Turning to General Longstreet, he said: 'This is very bad. That man is whipped. It is the first time I have seen one of my officers who had been whipped. It is very bad.'

"The conversation between the generals was then resumed in low tones, and I again fell asleep. I must have slept for some length of time when I was awakened by General Lee's voice, speaking in loud tones, louder than I had ever heard from him. He was saying, 'General Longstreet, I will strike that man a blow in the morning.' General Lee sometimes spoke of General Grant as 'that man' and of the Federal army as 'those people.'

"General Longstreet replied in low tones, giving the strength and condition of his command and the strength and position of the enemy, and concluded by saying, 'But you have only to give me the order and the attack will be made in the morning.' Again the conversation was resumed in low tones, and I fell asleep.

"I must have slept for an hour at least when again I was awakened by the loud, almost fierce, tones of General Lee, saying, 'I tell you, General Longstreet, I will strike that man a blow in the morning.' General Longstreet again recounted the difficulties, ending as before, 'General, you know you have only to give the order and the attack will be made, but I must tell you I think it will be a useless waste of brave lives.'

"Thinking I had been present long enough at such an interview, I coughed and got up from the straw and, drawing back the flaps of the tent, looked out into the darkness. General Lee said: 'Captain Ranson, I beg your pardon. I had forgotten you. Go now and get something to eat and some rest. I will see you in the morning.'

"I found my poor mare lying flat on her side in the rain and fast asleep. It was past midnight and very dark, but I reached our camp, though neither I nor my mare got anything to eat that night.

"The morning came, and I listened for the sound of our attack, but all was still. There was no attack. Our fighting days were over."

The Art of Embalming.

The modern embalmers have not recovered the secret of the art as practiced by the old Egyptians and probably never will. Some of the bodies known to us as "mummies" buried 3,000 or 4,000 years ago are still in a state of perfect preservation. Back of the ancient art lay a religious creed. The ancient Egyptian believed that after many thousands of years the soul came back to find its body and that if it was not found the soul wandered forever in misery and wretchedness; hence it was absolutely necessary to preserve the body, and hence, finally, the embalmer's art.—New York American.

It Fitted the Case.

The girl asked the polite salesman if he had good cheese.

"We have some lovely cheese," was the smiling answer.

"You should not say lovely cheese," she corrected.

"Why not? It is," he declared.

"Because"—with a boarding school dignity—"lovely should be used to qualify only something that is alive."

"Well," he retorted, "I'll stick to lovely."

HAD FURNISHED ROOMS.

And He Had a Sign Out to Let the Neighbors Know.

In a little settlement on the outskirts of Chicago two houses stand out more boldly than the rest. These two are the domiciles of two Italians of means, who, although being very ignorant men, vied with each other for the social leadership of the locality.

One day a newcomer, in search of temporary lodgings, attracted by a conspicuous sign in the window of the first of these two houses, stepped to the door to make inquiry.

"I see you have furnished rooms here," he said to the swarthy man who answered his knock.

"Ya," rejoined the foreigner, pointing to the furnished room sign, "dere's da sign."

"Well, if you have one that's suitable I'd like to rent it for awhile."

"We no rent da rooms," was the bewildering declaration. "I got my family in here, and dey take up all da house."

"Don't rent any rooms? Why, then, have you that sign stuck in the window?"

"I'll tell you. Las' week dat fellow next door hang such a sign in his front window, an' wen I see dat I put one of da same kind in my front window, just to show da people dat he ain't only man in dis place dat have his rooms furnished!"—Judge's Library.

SEEING THE FAR EAST.

It Should Be Viewed Through the Bible and "Arabian Nights."

The best books on the east, as every one knows, are the Bible and the "Arabian Nights," and yet I found most travelers were saturating themselves with snippity descriptions of monuments and places, with tabloids of history, with technical paragraphs on architecture and the ethnic religions, with figures about the height of this and the length of that or condensed statistics of exports and imports and the tonnage through the Suez canal and dates about the Pharaohs and the Mughals. No wonder they see nothing, know nothing, enjoy nothing and come home bringing a few expletives, adjectives and photographs which can be had for a small price in either New York or London.

The first thing to do in going to the east is to turn your education out on your desk so that you can get at the bottom of it, and there you will find the Bible and the "Arabian Nights" and the "Odyssey" and "Iliad" and "Virgil" and "Herodotus" and "Xenophon," and you will realize what a fool you were not to have devoted more time to them when you were asked to do so. Guide books can get you to the east, but they do not get you inside. It is temperament, not trains, that counts.—Price Collier in Scribner's Magazine.

Perfumes.

Civet is an aromatic substance of the consistence of honey and is obtained from a pouch on the civet cat, an animal from two to three feet long and about ten or twelve inches high. The best known of animal odors is musk, which is obtained from the musk deer. China furnishes the best quality. Twenty-five pods or sacks are packed in oblong boxes composed of plates of lead inclosed in a caddy made of pasteboard. Musk is obtained from Assam, Siberia, the Altai mountains and other parts of northern Asia. Ambergris is another animal odor. It is secreted in the intestines of the spermaceti whale. A very curious fact is that ambergris is only accumulated by disease—that is, it is only secreted in a sick whale. It is very hard, of a light gray color and is found in quantities varying from twenty to fifty pounds. It is worth about £6 an ounce.—London Standard.

Mucilage and Gum.

"I went into a stationer's shop in London one day," said an American, "and said to the shop assistant:

"'Do you keep mucilage?'

"'No, sir,' the young man answered. 'We try to take in all the papers, but there are so many new ones coming out. Still, I can order mucilage for you, sir. Which number did you want?'

"I learned afterward that I should have asked for gum. They don't have the word 'mucilage' over there in England.

"But an Englishman traveling on one of our railways stopped a train boy and said:

"'Have you got any gum?'

"'No; I don't use it, boss,' the boy replied in friendly fashion, 'but I can let you have a chaw off this here plug.'"—Washington Star.

An Accomplished Linguist.

"Did you learn any French while you were in Paris?" asked Bildad, meeting Slithers shortly after his return from Europe.

"Oh, a little," said Slithers. "Not so very much, though. I got so I could say cigarette in French."

"Good!" said Bildad. "What is cigarette in French?"

"Cigarette," said Slithers.—Harper's Weekly.

Taking Away From the Subject.

When Frederick Robertson of Brighton, the great preacher who had written much about Tennyson's poems and for whom the poet had a high regard, first called upon him, "I felt," said Tennyson, "as if he had come to pluck out the heart of my mystery, so I talked to him about nothing but beer."

A Committee of Safety.

New York, April 19.—In the wake of the Washington place fire there resulted yesterday the organization of the "Committee of Safety of New York City," with a membership composed of delegates of many associations, and a far-reaching program of protecting the lives of factory workers. Miss Anne Morgan, a daughter of J. Pierpont Morgan; George W. Perkins, the financier and banker, and Henry L. Stimson, Republican candidate for governor of New York last year, are among the prime movers. Mr. Stimson was elected president.

Found Dead In Bath.

Montreal, April 19.—Mr. Arsene Robitaille, a partner in the firm of Messrs. Lawrence and Robitaille, lumber merchants, was found dead in his bath yesterday morning. Mr. Robitaille had seemed to be in his usual good health, but as the medical examination after death showed that his heart must have been in a weak condition, it is supposed that the shock of the cold water was the cause of his death.

South Essex Liberals Meet.

Kingsville, April 19.—At the convention of the South Essex Liberal Association yesterday, John Auld, ex-M.P.P., was nominated for the Legislature. The name of the present member of the Commons, A. H. Clarke, was the only one presented for the Federal House, and although he announced that he had decided to drop out, he has taken the matter under consideration and will announce his decision later. He said that the pressure brought to bear on him made him feel like changing his mind.

A resolution endorsing reciprocity was passed following an address by Hon. A. G. MacKay.

Millions of June Bugs.

London, Ont., April 19.—Farmers in Middlesex County report that in their spring plowing they have found the earth teeming with millions of June bugs, which do great damage to baswood, plum and cherry trees. The beetles lay their eggs in the ground and after hatching, the insect known as the white grub, eats on the roots of grain for three years before emerging as the June bug. No effective cure has yet been discovered for the destruction of the pest.

Chest Inflammation

Suffered From a Heavy Cold, Pleuritic Pains in Side — Constant Coughing.

"Anyone that goes through all that I suffered last winter will appreciate the value of a remedy that cures like Nerviline cured me." These are the opening words of the solemn declaration of E. P. Von Hayden, the well-known violinist of Middleton. "My work kept me out late at night, and playing in cold drafty places brought on a severe cold that settled on my chest. I had a harsh racking cough and severe pains darted through my sides and settled in my shoulders. I used different liniments, but none broke up my cold till I used Nerviline. I rubbed it on my neck, chest and shoulders, morning and night, and all the pain disappeared. Realizing that such a heavy cold had run down my system, I took Ferrozone at meals, and was completely built up and strengthened. Since using Nerviline I have no more colds or pleurisy, and enjoy perfect health."

Nerviline CURES CHEST COLDS

It's because Nerviline contains the purest and most healing essences and medicinal principles, because it has the power of sinking through the pores to the kernel of the pain—these are the reasons why it breaks up colds, cures lumbago, stiffness, neuralgia, sciatica, and rheumatism. Refuse any substitute your dealer may suggest—insist on Nerviline only. Large bottles, 50c, trial size 25c. Sold everywhere, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

DOG SPEAKS LIKE HUMAN

Talks German Distinctly and Voluntarily

The Technical World Magazine for May, has the most remarkable description of the amazing feats of the speaking dog, "Don" of Hamburg, Germany. The Technical World says

"When a few months ago faint rumors about a dog endowed with the gift of speech, first reported by German papers, gradually spread to America, most people skeptically shook their heads believing it an open mystification or an effort of self delusion. When, however, the most distinguished men of science showed their interest in that wonderous dog by a thorough investigation of his capacities doubt was no longer permissible and the veracity of the report had to be conceded.

"Don's case is both authentic and unique and whatever reports of other "speaking" dogs may be current should be put down to effects of imagination. There may be other dogs capable of imitating one or two words, very much in the fashion of parrots, as a purely mechanical repetition of sounds to which no meaning is attached. 'Don' however, does speak, and is the only animal so far proved to do so.

"Speech to him is the expression of an inward impulse to communicate with his master and other persons, showing them his affection or requesting the fulfillment of some wish.

"At the age of six months, very much earlier than a human baby, he for the first time showed his extraordinary gift by pronouncing the first articulate word. He was standing near the table, looking with begging eyes at his master, and when the latter happened to ask him: 'Would you like to have something?' he clearly replied: 'Haben ('have'). After this startling performance, he obviously became the object of unusual interest.

"It is told of him that on once meeting an old woman from the neighboring village on her way to the market, he quietly stepped towards her, distinctly pronouncing the words: 'Don Hunger, kuchen haben.' The poor woman was so frightened that she took to a speedy flight, leaving her basket behind her, in the firm belief that the dog was possessed of the evil one.

"The most wonderful thing about him in his talking with strangers quite as freely as with his own master When therefore Dr. Pfungst, the well-known expert in the psychology of animals, and Dr. Vosseler, director of the Hamburg Zoological Gardens, wished to submit 'Don' to scientific tests, they had no difficulty whatever in making him pronounce every word of his repertoire. The phonographic records made on this occasion, prove beyond doubt the identity of Don's speech with that of human beings. There are, it is true, some slight differences in pronunciation due to differences in the structure of the larynx, but these in no way detract from the distinctness of the words."

The Technical World has an extended and exceedingly interesting description of the tests to which Don has been subjected by scientists, with pictures of his dogship.

At the annual meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association at Montreal, resolutions were passed condemning the co-operative societies' bill now before Parliament.

BEAUTIFUL EYES

are made beautiful by long, silky lashes, and well defined, lustrous brows. Eyes, like diamonds, depend on their setting. The beauties of the face are lost if the eye brows are thin and scanty; and the lashes are short and lifeless. Parisian Lash Lustre grows beautiful, soft, silky lashes. It has done so for society women throughout Europe, and it comes here well recommended to do the same for you. Parisian Lash Lustre is not a dye or colorator, but a scientific preparation for beautifying the eye lashes and brows. Our guarantee goes with every box of Parisian Lash Lustre. A two weeks' treatment will bring beauty to your eyes that you have never before possessed. By mail, prepaid, in opal boxes, on receipt of price, fifty cents. B. V. SUFFERED SINCE HER CHILDHOOD

But Dodd's Kidney Pills Made Mrs. Laprairie a New Woman

Nipissing Lady Gives an Experience that Should Prove of Immense Value to the Suffering Women of Canada.

Laprairieville, Nipissing District, Ont., April 18.—(Special.)—After suffering from various forms of kidney ills since she was a child, Mrs. O. Laprairie is a well woman and once more it has been proved that no case of Kidney Trouble is too severe or of too long standing for Dodd's Kidney Pills to cure.

Interviewed regarding her cure, Mrs. Laprairie said:

"Since I was twelve years of age I have suffered from Kidney Disease. I was always tired. My back would ache and I always had a sharp pain in the top part of my head. My heart also troubled me.

"Hearing of Dodd's Kidney Pills, I gave them a trial, and now I feel like a new woman."

Thousands of Canadian men and women are feeling just as Mrs. Laprairie does—as if life had started all over for them—just because they have cured their kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills. For the kidneys are the mainspring of life. If they are clogged or out of order the whole body is wrong. Dodd's Kidney Pills always put the kidneys in good working order.

ORANGE CORNERS

Quite a number of the Cornerites took advantage of the cheap rates for Easter and visited outside friends.

Miss Henry and Miss Casey spent Thursday in Lindsay.

Mrs. Hopwood and Mrs. G. Elliott, spent Easter with Brooklin friends.

Miss Maud Henry has been visiting in Millbrook for the past few days.

The services at St. John's Church, were unusually bright on Sunday morning, the choir having prepared suitable music for Easter. At the close of the service, the rector, Rev. Mr. Earle presented Miss Jackson with a beautiful gold watch. Miss Jackson, who has been organist for the past 5 years, has resigned her position and the congregation took this opportunity of recognizing her past services. Although completely taken by surprise, Miss Jackson was able to thank the congregation for their kindness.

The annual vestry meeting of St. John's was held on Monday, April 17, at 2.30. A few of the ladies surprised the meeting by appearing with baskets on their arms and after the business of the year was discussed, refreshments were served. Mr. U. J. Magee was re-elected people's warden and Mr. Harry Tunley was chosen as rector's warden, while Messrs. Walter Magee and Jas. Jackson were appointed sidesmen. Although there was much regret at the small number present, yet the meeting was voted quite a success.

Mr. H. Jackson has been quite busy in his sugar bush lately. We believe he has a goodly number of visitors who like to call and also sample the sugar.

La Grippe has been very prevalent around the corner, but we are pleased to see most of its victims able to be out again.

Leo Stevens and William Hibbard fell 100 feet in a biplane at Mineola, L.I., but were not badly hurt.

A WOMAN'S ADVICE TO WOMEN

TAKE GIN PILLS

TYNESIDE P.O., ONT.

"I received your sample of GIN PILLS and after using them, I felt so much better that I got a box at my druggist's, and now I am taking the third box.

The pain across my back and kidneys has almost entirely gone and I am better than I have been for years. I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism but it has all left me. I strongly advise all women, who suffer from Pain In The Back and Weak Kidneys, to try GIN PILLS. MRS. T. HARRIS.

Thousands of women, right here in Canada, owe their robust health, their strength and vigor, their bright eyes and rosy cheeks—to GIN PILLS. And they know that GIN PILLS will cure the Kidney and Bladder Troubles with which so many women suffer.

Do just as Mrs. Harris did—first, write for a free sample box of GIN PILLS and try them. Then, if they do you good, get the regular 50c boxes at your dealer's. Your money promptly refunded if GIN PILLS fail to give relief. National Drug and Chemical Co., Dept. B., Toronto. 56

CATTLE MARKETS.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, April 18.—Receipts of live stock at the City Yards were 48 carloads, consisting of 594 cattle, 1031 hogs, 715 sheep and lambs, 294 calves and 20 horses.

Exporters.

There were 16 cattle of export quality sold, as follows: Two at $6.10, ten at $6, and four at $5.95,all of which were bought for local killing.

Butchers.

George Rowntree bought for the Harris Abattoir Company four loads of cattle, as follows: Two extra choice steers, fed by Schofield Cook of Concord, Ont., 1330 lbs. each, brought on the market by J. Walker of Teston, at $6.10 per cwt.; butchers' steers and heifers, $5.40 to $5.65; cows, $3.75 to $5.05; bulls, $4.50 to $5.

Milkers and Springers.

There were a few good to choice milkers and springers—more than usual for some time past—and prices ranged at from $40 to $70 each, some six or seven cows selling at the latter price.

Veal Calves.

About 300 veal calves were received, of which 250 were bought by Wesley Dunn, who reported prices as ranging from $3.50 to $7 per cwt., or an average of $5 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Canadian lambs have been more plentiful all last fall and winter than for several seasons—so plentiful that they have sold at from $1 to $ per cwt. lower than a year ago. But it was only three weeks ago that $8 per cwt. was offered for a deck of choice Canadian lambs; but since that time about 3000 American lambs have been thrown on the Toronto markets, which are selling at $6.50 to $7 per cwt., according to quality, after paying a duty of 25 per cent. on the value of the shipment. This has caused Canadian lamb prices to decline from $1 to $1.50 per cwt.

Sheep, ewes, sold at $4.50 to $5; rams, $4 to $4.50; yearling lambs, $6 to $6.50; spring lambs, $3 to $6 each.

Hogs.

Mr. Harris reported selects, fed and watered, at $6.50, and $6.20 to drovers for hogs f.o.b. cars at country points. Hogs over 200 lbs., 50c per cwt. less than the above prices.

Funeral of U. S. Consul.

Niagara Falls, Ont., April 19.—Funeral services for William H. Webster, United States consul in this city, who died in Buffalo Hospital, took place at the family residence, Huron street, yesterday. Rev. D. A. Moir, Morrison street Methodist Church, officiated. Services were conducted by Clifton Lodge, No. 254, A., F. and A. M. At 11 o'clock the body was taken to Buffalo, where services were conducted in the blue room of the Masonic Temple in the afternoon at three o'clock, under the auspices of Washington Lodge. Burial was in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Must Obey the Law.

Chatham, April 19.—The West Kent License Commissioners yesterday cut off two licenses—the Half-Way House and the Montreal House at Dover. Inspector French made strong charges against the character of seven proprietors of the houses asking licenses. Five hotels in Chatham, the Aberdeen, the Idlewild, the Park House, the Grand Central and the Tecumseh House were given three months in which to show that they can run law-abiding houses or have their licenses taken away. This action also was taken on the advice of the inspector. Rather than recommend any of these hotels to a license, "I will resign my job first," said he.

REASONS WHY ANNULMENT OF MARRIAGE IS ASKED FOR

Miss Croker Did Not Get Sanction of Church to Wed Breen, it is Said

New York, April 18.—Mrs. Ethel Croker-Breen, youngest daughter of the former Tammany chieftain, Richard Croker, has started a suit in Hudson county, New Jersey, for annulment of her marriage to John J. Breen, the Durland groom whom she married April 28, 1910, after having spurned an English nobleman and an Italian prince.

It has been reported that a number of conferences took place in this city before the action was started. As recently as last Tuesday Breen came here from Canada, where he is employed, and engaged counsel to make some show of defence to the action.

Search for Mrs. Breen last night revealed the fact that she is now living in Paris with her sister, the Duchess San Martino, who was Miss Florence Croker. They have a fine home at No. 24 Champs-Elysee. She sailed several weeks ago.

Breen, who has been in charge of the stable of Hon. J. R. Stratton, M. P., at Peterborough, Ontario, has visited New York twice within three weeks, the final visit taking place the day before that on which Richard Croker sailed for home in Ireland.

Confirmation of the report that the action had been started came from O'Neil Seelig, a friend of young Breen, who is employed at the Knickerbocker stables in West Fifty-fourth street. At first he demurred to answering questions, but finally said:—

"John J. Breen, who has been my friend for years, was in town, but left last Tuesday, the day before Richard Croker sailed. Breen came down here to negotiate for the sale of the one horse Midget. He was here only one day. Although he planned to remain longer, he received a telegram ordering him at once to Peterborough, Ontario.

"I understand the action has been started by the Croker family. My friend has made arrangements to return to New York in the early fall, and it is probable that the matter will come up then for court action and disposition. He was down here a few weeks ago to attend the sale of the Paul Sorg horses, but made no purchases. Now, I understand Mr. Breen has secured the services of an attorney to represent his interests in this action while he is away.

"This was a surprise to Breen. Last fall he was given assurance that his wife was to join him in Canada during the winter. He went to Ontario on that assurance and took charge of the Stratton string. You recall that the bride went to Paris with her mother soon after the news of the wedding became public. They told Breen it was necessary for her to go there to get fitted out.

"For a time she wrote very friendly letters to him. Then these suddenly ceased. It looked to Breen, as he told it to me, that the Crokers were using their influence to keep his girl-wife away.

"I understand that this suit was started in Hudson County, N.J. You know they were married in Hoboken. It has not come up in court yet, but when it does, the proceedings will be open, I am sure, if Breen has anything to say about that. The report that there has been a secret annulment is false, I am sure.

"I have been told that the family proceeded in this step to obtain the annulment upon three grounds. First, that as Breen was a Protestant and Miss Croker a Catholic, the marriage was not recognized because she did not obtain the sanction of the church; second, that the marriage was only a civil formality, and that is not recognized by the family; third, that Breen was not a resident of New Jersey when he got the license, having merely taken a room in a hotel for the day. I am sure Breen will corroborate all I have told you."

Seelig added that Breen would arrive to-day in Toronto, where he is to show the Stratton horses in the Toronto Horse Show. He said he was confident his friend would not object to relating the facts, and he scoffed at the idea of a prearranged friendly action with the family.

Society refused to believe when the first report was given to the public, on May 1, 1910, that Richard Croker's daughter had eloped and married a groom. Miss Croker laughed when asked about it, and said it was ridiculous. Breen denied it vigorously, and declared he was "merely a servant in the eyes of Miss Croker." her brothers denied it, and the Justice of the Peace who had performed the ceremony backed them up by declaring that a photograph of Miss Croker that was placed before him did not resemble the woman he had married to Breen.

But May 3 the facts were made public in a sworn affidavit by Justice Samuel Enger, the man who performed the ceremony. He admitted, under oath, that he had kept the facts quiet at the urgent request of Breen, who told the magistrate that he feared the confirmation would cost him his position at a local riding academy.

When Richard Croker reached New York last November he made this statement about his daughter and Breen:

"My daughter Ethel is now with her mother in Paris, and will remain there. There is no truth in the report that she has a thought of a reunion. She will not return to Mr. Breen. I have nothing further to say."

HAVELOCK HAPPENINGS

Special Correspondence.

Havelock, April 18.—"The Havelock and C.P.R. Athletic Association" is the name of an association that was formed at a very enthusiastic meeting in the council chambers on Monday evening last. The meeting called for the purpose of outlaying a plan for the season's sports in Havelock was very largely attended, and the enthusiasm displayed in the plans decided on vouches for a good line of sport for the railroad town during the summer months.

Both a senior and junior football team will be placed in the Midland League series, while a first-class baseball team will also be organized. On the suggestion of Mr. Brown, C. P. R. mechanical foreman, it was decided to run a series of picnics and concerts throughout the season. The officers elected for the year are—

Hon. President—Mr. Grant.
Hon. Vice-President—J. E. Fowler,
President—Mr. Brown.
Vice-President—S. S. Joyce.
Secretary—L. P. Trounce.
Treasurer—R. Crawford.
Captain Football Team—Wm. Hitchins.
Captain Baseball Team—D. A. Forde.
Football Committee—T. P. Lancaster, H. Andrews, H. Meads and W. McMullen.
Baseball Committee—Jas. Black, E. Kelsey, Roy Campney, Geo. Page.

A good organization is behind both lines of sport, and our citizens are looking forward to several pennants coming to Havelock this year. Another meeting was held on Thursday evening, when some further outlines of plans of the association was drawn up.

THE DELINE CASE AGAIN.

The citizens of Havelock and the surrounding country are looking forward with interest to the spring assizes, when Hugh Deline, the man accused of murdering his wife in Northern Belmont Township last fall, will again come up.

WORK AT HEWALEY'S FALLS

With the opening of spring, work on the canal construction at Healey's Falls is in full swing again. The government tug "J. B. McColl" will be busy for some time in transferring to Healey Falls 8,000 barrels of cement to be used in the construction work at that point, and which is being brought down the river from Hastings. Three scows will be employed on the job. During the present season large quantities of coal and other supplies for the contractors will be taken to Healey Falls by boat.

CITIZENS FAVOR BY-LAW?

The by-law to borrow the sum of $9,000 for the building of cement sidewalks in the village will be voted on Tuesday next. The information received by the council seemed to show that the citizens were quite favorable to the proposal, 95 per cent. expressing themselves as so.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS

PRESENTATION TO CHOIR LEADER BY CHORISTERS

Gold Signet Ring and Appreciative Remarks for R. J. Devey

St. John's choristers spent a very happy time last night at the home of Mrs. Ryerson Ritchie, 600 Stewart St., who is an enthusiastic chorister, and a valued helper in all choral work. The early part of the evening was devoted to practicing "Mendelssohn's Ninety Fifth" psalm, and various anthems. Then the Rev. Canon Davidson rose to thank Mr. and Mrs. Ryerson Ritchie for their kindness and help in all parts of church life, and especially for the kindly invitation to the choir, which was much appreciated by all present, and was a splendid way to promote the best of good feelings between those who meet so often in practice and service. Canon Davidson made reference to the splendid work of the choir, and took the opportunity of thanking them all for their faithful services. He had a most pleasing duty to perform, and that was to acknowledge the valuable work of the organist and choirmaster, Mr. R. J. Devey, whose persevering and tireless energy was mainly responsible for the building up of their choir, of which they all felt so proud. At the vestry meeting held the night before, members of the congregation spoke in terms of the highest praise, of choir and leader. On behalf of those present he asked Mr. Devey to accept a gold ring, with Masonic design, as a slight token of the high esteem felt by the choir for their leader, and Mrs. Ritchie, gracefully made the presentation.

In accepting with gratitude the splendid present, Mr. R. J. Devey heartily thanked the choir for the evident good feeling prevailing between them, and assured them that their steady earnest attendance at practice and service, was quite as much responsible for their present high state of efficiency as a choir, as any efforts of his own, and as choirmaster, it was a great delight to him, to have the privilege of training them. They knew that the clergy, warden and congregation were behind them, and the ring, which came as a complete surprise to him, was expressive of the unity existing all round, and would be valued by him as long as he lived, more on that account than any other.

The Rev. Charles Carpenter also added words of appreciation as did Mr. H. W. Morphet and other choristers.

Dainty refreshments were then served by the hostess, and a very pleasant evening concluded by singing the old hymn, "Abide With Me."

PRISON FOR LIFE FOR HUGH DELINE

Changed His Plea to One of Guilty of Manslaughter at Consent of Crown---Worst Case Ever Before Court of Justice Says Justice Teetzel.

Hugh Deline was sentenced this morning by Justice Teetzel to be confined to Kingston Penitentiary for the remainder of his natural life, or until such a time as competent medical examination showed him to be a fit and proper subject to be allowed his liberty.

The above decision was reached after a surprisingly brief sitting, which was caused by the prisoner, through his counsel, Mr. D. O'Connell, and with the consent of the Crown and jury, withdrawing his plea of not guilty of murder, and pleading guilty to manslaughter.

In addressing the judge on behalf of the prisoner, Mr. O'Connell made a very eloquent plea for leniency in his case.

"I would suggest to your Lordship," he said, "that you keep in mind the degraded state of the social conditions in the neighborhood where the prisoner resided. The man comes from a place where the people apparently have no proper conception of morals, and where healthy moral association is limited. The section of the country in which he lived was also poor. The man also, unfortunately for himself, was of a very low intellectual grade, so much so as to be verging on the border land of sanity and insanity. His mind, evidently, is in such a condition that he has no knowledge of the seriousness of his crime. Medical experts who have examined him state that he is possessed of little intellectuality.

"I would ask your Lordship, however, to be cognizant of the low state of association in which he was living with her, and of his low intelligence.

"In addition, he has an aged mother upon whom the blow must have necessarily fallen heavily. She is well advanced in years, and has been looking forward to the time when her son would be of assistance to her. Also take into consideration the little children of the prisoner. It is a sad thing for them.

"In consideration of these things, I would ask you your Lordship, to exercise as much mercy and leniency as you see fit."

The prisoner was then ordered by the judge to stand up.

"Hugh Deline," he said, "you have pleaded guilty to a very serious crime. While I think the course taken by the jury has been proper, yet their verdict, had they proceeded otherwise, might have been different, or more severe than that of manslaughter.

"Nevertheless, you have committed a most outrageous cruelty, and a disgusting abominable crime, and your conduct from the evidence at hand, tends to prove conclusively that you have been guilty of committing abominable offences for some time.

"You furthermore bound your wife's hands in order to accomplish your dastardly purpose, and I cannot doubt that your moral nature is of a very low order. The actions of the beasts

BITTEN BY DYING DAUGHTER

New York, April 19.—While writhing in the agony of hydrophobia last night, seven-year-old Susie Mandoline, of North Bergen, N.J., broke from her mother grasp and sank her teeth into Mrs. Mandoline's cheek and eyebrow. The mother screamed in pain and the child fell back dead.

Mrs. Mandoline will be brought to the Pasteur Institute here for treatment. The child was one of ten bitten by a mad dog on January 3. She received the Pasteur treatment and until a week ago was apparently in good health.

BUCHANAN PLEADS GUILTY; SENTENCE WAS SUSPENDED

Graft Man of Oxford County Makes Appeal for Leniency—Five Charges.

St. Thomas, April 20.—Mitchell T. Buchanan, ex-mayor of Ingersoll and former warden of Oxford County, spent something less than an hour in the prisoners' dock at the Elgin assizes before Mr. Justice Middleton yesterday afternoon. During that brief period he pleaded guilty on three charges of "grafting" while occupying a municipal office, and at the end of the time was released on suspended sentence. Later the jury returned "no bill" on the conspiracy indictment against B. B. McCarty of Thamesford.

At 4.15 o'clock the grand jury, which had been considering since two o'clock Tuesday afternoon the ten indictments against Buchanan, returned five true bills as follows:

1. Conspiracy to defraud.
2. Breach of trust.
4. Conspiracy and breach of trust.
5. Conspiracy to defraud.

Buchanan here entered the box for arraignment and Crown Attorney McCammon read indictment No. 6, concerning a deal with the Sawyer-Massey Co. of Hamilton.

"How do you plead?" the clerk asked the prisoner.

"Guilty," was the unexpected reply.

"Guilty?" queried the clerk, not sure that he had understood.

But Buchanan repeated "Guilty."

Indictments No. 4 and No. 1 were then read in full, and the plea in each case was "Guilty."

The crown did not prosecute the remaining charges.

G. T. Blackstock, K.C., crown prosecutor, moved the sentence of the court, and J. M. McEvoy, London, of counsel for prisoner, rose.

"Let me say on behalf of the prisoner, my lord, that restitution has been made to the fullest extent," he said.

His Lordship—"You mean to say that the amounts named in these indictments have been refunded to the County of Oxford?"

Mr. McEvoy—"Three thousand dollars; my client has been put to very great expense during the past three years, and I ask your lordship's best consideration under the circumstances."

J. G. Wallace and W. T. McMullen, also acting for Buchanan, left the speaking to Mr. McEvoy. While the lawyer's plea for his client was one of the shortest on record, Mr. Blackstock's explanation of the situation was very lengthy. At its close the judge commented at some length also, and finally released Buchanan on suspended sentence, the prisoner giving his recognizance verbally in the sum of $10,000. A significant part of his lordship's address was a reference to those persons who were connected with Buchanan in the deals mentioned in the indictments, and the expression of a hope that justice would be done in the cases.

CHAUFFEUR IS IN TROUBLE

Charged With Killing Toronto Man by Anto.

Toronto, April 20.—Herbert McLetchie, 38 Robinson street, chauffeur for A. J. Strathy, will face a charge of killing Edward Jacobs with his employer's automobile in Bloor street, between Manning avenue and Clinton street. Jacobs, who was an old man, died in hospital after being struck at that place on the night of March 3, and the police, with no clue save a tiny broken oil cup which was found on the scene of the accident after Jacobs was struck, have been searching for the man and the auto which went right on after the accident.

Yesterday Detective Mitchell arrested McLetchie upon a warrant for manslaughter. He took him as he was leaving the Police Court, where he had been remanded on a charge of wounding Miss Elsie Powell, whom, with two others, he upset from the machine in Dundas street when the machine overturned in a collision with a street car.

The arrest was made upon information supplied by an auto repair man who said that he had repaired the car and who, with another expert, declared that the cup found on the scene of the accident fitted exactly to the piece which he had taken from a socket on the Strathy machine, a Cadillac touring car.

McLetchie was questioned by Inspector of Detectives Duncan. To him he said that he had broken the cup off the machine together with three others cups when he was driving Mr. Strathy in Barrie some months ago. He said that he threw away the broken pieces, he thought, in the Barrie garage. He denied that it was his machine which had been in the accident which killed Jacobs, but could not tell where he or the machine, which has been in his sole custody since Mr. Strathy has been out of the city, was on the night of the accident.

The woman who gave evidence of seeing the car at the inquest into Jacobs' death was shown the car she said that it was like the one which she had seen at the scene of the accident. She could not identify the man as either of those in the car of whom she had only a fleeting glimpse.

NINE GOOD REASONS

Why Should You Vote for the Independent Tire Co. By-law on April 25th? --

1. Because it brings a $200,000 factory, paying out at least $60,000 a year wages at no actual cost to the city.

2. Because it will bring many new families to Peterborough, besides giving employment to people here—employing when fully established over 100 operatives.

3. Because the loan of $40,000 to the company is fully secured by a first mortgage on the site, buildings and machinery, the latter of which must be at all times worth $75,000—total assets nearly $200,000.

4. Because the company must before getting the loan completed have $150,000 paid up capital, thus ensuring financial stability for the concern, all money after the machinery is paid for, to be kept as working capital.

5. Because automobile tire manufacturing is going to be a much greater business, and there is every prospect that this company will grow to much greater importance.

6. Because the terms provide for the repayment of the loan $2,000 a year, with interest at 4½ per cent., costing the city nothing for carrying charges.

7. Because Peterborough needs more factories, if they can be obtained on good business terms, and the Tire company terms are satisfactory.

8. Because no extra burden is laid on the general taxpayer through getting this industry. The arrangement is not a bonus—it is simply assisting the financing of the company the same as a bank would do, and within a safe bound.

9. Because loyalty to your home town, and its progress, to its business interests which are your interests, should induce you to help make this a bigger, better and busier burg.

Kingston, April 20.—Alan Bateman, B.Sc., of Queen's, son of George A. Bateman, has been awarded a $300 prize in geology by Yale College. The prize was given for special work in this departmenet, and there were a number both from the States and Canada competing.

J. A. ROBB, LIBERAL, M.P., ADMITS THAT RECIPROCITY MEANS LOWER PRICES

Gives the Government Case Away Completely—Millers Will Benefit From Cheaper Wheat—Smallpox Feared.

Ottawa, April 20.—J. A. Robb, Liberal member for Huntingdon, Que., completely spoiled the case of the Government yesterday as regards the reciprocity agreement. He is a miller. He admitted that the Ontario farmers got better prices for their wheat than they will get under the agreement. He said the farmers to-day refused to sell their grain at the world's market prices. Now, said Mr. Robb, under the reciprocity agreement the millers would be able to go to Chicago and buy grain cheaper. In other words, the Canadian farmers could stew in their own juice.

There was a very small attendance of members when the House assembled yesterday after the Easter recess. Conspicuous amongst the absentees were the western Conservatives. The Opposition leader was not in his place, and several of the Ministers had gone to the funeral of the son of Hon. George P. Graham at Brockville.

Col. Hughes called attention to the "extraordinary and dangerous" condition at the Parliament Buildings, and also in the City of Ottawa, as a result of the smallpox epidemic. He pointed out that one of the official stenographers had contracted the disease and had been removed to Porter's Island last Sunday, and the colonel asked if it was true that there had been smallpox for some weeks in the house in which the young man boarded. He desired to know what action the Government proposed to take, in view of the fact that the city officials were "teetotally inadequate."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said a memorial had been placed in his hands, which states that Charles Blue had been sent to Porter's Island last Sunday, and on the preceding day he had been in the Parliament Buildings. However, the other stenographers who occupied the same room had left for the Easter recess on the Wednesday previous. The room had been fumigated.

Hon. George E. Foster asked if the report in the newspapers was true that the Government had given permission to another American gunboat to proceed through the canals to the great lakes. He brought the matter up, he said, because he saw it stated in the press that the permission would be given out, and that it would not be necessary for the United States to withdraw one of the vessels now on the great lakes.

The Premier said it was true that permission had been granted to replace the Nashville with the Dubuque, but neither vessel had yet passed through the canals.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier informed F. D. Monk that he would not promise to take up the question this session of legislation for the conservation of the water powers of the Dominion.

The debate on the reciprocity resolutions was continued by Mr. MacNutt, Liberal member for Saltcoats, Sask., who spoke at some length in favor of the proposed pact.

E. A. Lancaster (Lincoln) spoke strongly against the agreement, particularly from the point of view of the fruit growers.

David Henderso nof Halton moved the adjournment of the debate.

SHELDON DECIDES TO HAVE A TRIAL BY MONTREAL JURY

Gains a Postponement of Trial Until June Sessions.

Montreal, April 20.—For a brief spell C. D. Sheldon will be allowed out of jail to-day, but he will not enjoy much fresh air. He will be conducted with other prisoners to the black van, and be driven to the Court House to appear first before Judge Leet for voluntary statement, and afterwards before Judge Langlier to choose his form of trial. It was definitely announced yesterday by Mr. Pelletier, counsel for the defence, that Sheldon will decide upon a trial before a jury. This will give the defence until the June term of the Court of King's Bench to marshal whatever evidence they have, whereas if Sheldon chose a trial by judge, the defence would have to be ready in eight days.

Crown Prosecutor Walsh states that the crown is ready to prove their charges against Sheldon at any time, although it is understood that there will be no important developmenets in the case until the Court of King's Bench opens a month and a half from now.

Plain, but well-cooked meats, served to him from an outside restaurant and with some of the books that he likes best around him, Sheldon is now fairly cheerful, according to the reports of jail officials. He is not in the habit of ordering fancy dishes and is not a heavy eater, but the meals from outside jail walls allow him a certain variety.

Every time his lawyer or Chief McCaskill visits him, the prisoner wants more books. He has also made friends with several jail guards, and even these he has enlisted into supplying him with literature, so that by this time he has quite a library of essays, historical works and periodicals in his cell, where he is trying to make himself as comfortable as possible, realizing that he will be confined until June, in any event.

Special to The Review.

Washington, April 20.—A vote on the Canadian Reciprocity Bill will likely be taken in the House late to-day or to-morrow at the latest.

SIR DONALD MANN IS VERY SICK

Montreal, April 20.—Through a severe attack of indigestion which came on shortly after leaving New York Tuesday night, Sir Donald Mann of the Canadian Northern, was forced to stop over in Montreal yesterday morning on the arrival of the New York train, and seek the aid of Dr. Roddick. For a time after the arrival of the train at noon, Dr. Roddick could not be found, and a hurry up call was sent to several other medical men.

On the arrival of the latter gentlemen, Dr. Roddick was already in Sir Donald's private car, "Arthabaska," at the Bonaventure station. He pronounced Sir Donald's merely a painful attack of indigestion and allowed him to proceed on his way to Ottawa at four o'clock.

Sir Donald was quite recovered shortly after noon, and his private secretary, Mr. Hearn, declared that the attack had been nothing serious.

TO SEPARATE FROM CHURCH

Portugal Cabinet to Proclaim all Religions Equal.

Bill Will be Promulgated This Week.

Lisbon, April 20.—The Cabinet has concluded the finishing touches on the decree of separation regarding the church and state. This will be promulgated on Friday or Saturday. The main points of the decree are as follows: The state concedes entire liberty of all creeds, the Catholic creed ceasing to be the state religion from the date of the promulgation. Hence forth all churches will be maintained by the faithful. The beneficed clergy will continue to receive their stipends until July 1, after which they will be paid pensions.

All the Portuguese and foreign clergy engaged in religious work, will continue as hitherto, but all others must obtain authorization. All the religious property which is proved to belong to private individuals, either Portuguese or foreign, will be respected. British and other foreign seminaries will be allowed to remain, but those connected with the seminaries will not be allowed in the streets in clerical garb.

As the Catholic will no longer be the state religion, priests may marry so far as Portuguese law is concerned. In case of death, pension will revert to the parents, widow or children.

The separation of church and state was anounced in a decree issued by the Provincial Government last October. The details of the separation were left for the consideration of the Cabinet. The announcement by Foreign Minister Machado last January that the deree would be promulgated within a month, led to the assurance of a pastoral letter signed by the patriarch of Lisbon to the archbishops and bishops of Portugal. This letter, while it acclaimed the Government for certain measures, criticized it harshly because of the dissolution proposal. The Government ordered the Provincial Government to forbid the reading of the pastoral letter, and later the arrest of several priests followed for disobeying the order.

The eofficial journal to-day published a decree suppressing the bishopric of Bega, and ordering judicial proceeding against the bishop on the charge of embezzlement. The Bishop of Bega was among those expelled from Portugal by the Provisional Government. After his expulsion he remained in hiding for a few days and then departed into Spain.

POPE IS ILL

Rome, Italy, April 20.—Pope Pius is confined to his room with an attack of gout, but his condition is said to be not serious.

Fatal Razor Stroke.

Toronto, April 20.—Frank Russello, 40 Agnes street, was charged in the Police Court yesterday morning with the murder of Glaicchino Veci at that address, in the Italian affray of Good Friday night. Donato Panzine was charged with wounding Andy Mele, who was almost scalped with a large butcher knife. Both pleaded not guilty through their counsel, T. C. Robinette, K.C., and were remanded a week.

The six Italians arrested in the case were brought to headquarters from the jail and Vincenzo Acciaioli, who roomed with Russello at the Agnes street house, identified the razor found in the yard Sunday as his.

Russello denied any knowledge of the razor when it was shown to him. He did not even want to look at it and was generally disinclined to talk. The police now think that Russello cut his own hand when he slashed the dead man, Veci. In support of this is the statement of the doctor who dressed the wound at the hospital immediately after the fight, who says that the wound was inflicted by some very sharp instrument, more probably a razor than the only knife in evidence, which is the one which Russello says he was trying to wrest from Panzine when his hand was cut.

CURE THAT COLD

This is Quickly and Pleasantly Accomplished If You Use

Catarrhozone

Catarrhozone will relieve colds almost instantly and in a few hours will cure completely. If it is old-standing asthma or bronchitis its quick and curative results will astonish you.

Catarrhozone is little drops of healing medicine carried by air to the sore and diseased parts. You breathe them through the Catarrhozone Inhaler and they spread throughout all the air passages.

It is sense as well as healing, because Catarrhozone is a germ killer, a healer and restorer of weak tissues, because it is so prompt and certain in its results, better than any other remedy for diseases of the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes, and it is neither alcohol, morphia or cocaine—all dangerous.

Tens of thousands have used Catarrhozone without reporting a single case of failure to cure diseases of the throat and lungs and nasal passages. Remember, CATARRHOZONE is taken in air, and is little drops of healing for the throat, nasal passages, or lungs. It always does cure—is guaranteed.

Price 25c., 50c., and $1.00 at all druggists or by mail, post paid, from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

UNION LABEL

THE AMERICAN VIEW

The American argument to the farmer in favor of reciprocity is the opposite to the Canadian argument for use on the Canadian agriculturalist. The Chicago Tribune, in dealing with the prospective opening up of Canadian markets to the American farmer, gloats over the rosy appearance of things. It says: "Foodstuffs can be grown in both the United States and Canada. This country, thanks to its greater area of cultivable land and its much larger number of farmers—12 to 1—is much the larger producer. . . . . If it were a question of the farmers of one country capturing the markets and driving out of business the farmers of the other, those of Canada would be routed in the unequal contest. . . The American farmer does not realize the extent to which those duties have closed the Canadian markets against him. As it is he sells some of his potatoes, onions, hay, etc., to the Canadians. They are, indeed, off and on, more liberal purchasers of American farm products than we are of theirs. With the duties removed they would buy more. Consider the farmer as a fruit grower. The reciprocity agreement sweeps away the Canadian duties on the apples of New York, the peaches of Delaware, the apricots of California, and melons of Georgia, and the strawberries of Louisiana and Illinois. The market gardeners of this country from Florida to Vermont would be gainers by reciprocity. There are surplus products of the American farmer which he has to find a market for in Europe and South America. He could find one in Canada were it not for the Canadian duties."

A leading New York financial authority takes a similar view of the case. It cannot see how Canadians can be brought to sacrifice their own interests by adopting the Washington Government's offer. The Wall Street Journal says—

"It should not be difficult for the people of the United States to understand why the present negotiations for a treaty of reciprocity with Canada may prove abortive. The conditions prevailing in the Dominion are much the same as prevailed in the United States when the McKinley bill was passed. Canada is feeling entirely sufficient unto herself. Her natural resources are past computation, and they are being developed by home enterprise. Settlers are coming in, everything is booming, and why should outsiders be asked to enjoy this prosperity? Canada's large purchases from the United States are due entirely to the fact that Canadian production is not yet able to keep pace with Canadian expansion. The needs of the new provinces cannot be provided for entirely by the older provinces, even though a tariff wall should be built high enough to exclude all American goods. However, Canada means if possible to develop and keep all this prosperity for herself. The United States did just the same. The Dominion is now enjoying a period of lawless prosperity such as is coming to an end in the United States. Everything is booming. Great enterprises are being projected in every direction.

WESTERN IDEALS

The president of Toronto University, Dr. Falconer, in an address to the Ontario Educational Association, said:—

The great problem of Canada to-day is whether we can, in the west, maintain the supremacy of what has made our life in the east worth living and has given it such prominence; and it will not be solved by material wealth or bonds of communication, but by the amount of the value of the old life that goes into the new life, and its ability to reproduce itself.

There is a great deal in what Dr. Falconer says, though his knowledge of what is happening beyond the Red River has apparently been gained not from the soil.

There is a problem in the guidance of the ideals of the west. The west is bound to become a great influence in the moulding of Canada's national life. Its great growth, its potentialities are so enormous that they have yet been scarcely measured. Such a wealth of agricultural possibilities lie in that rich, deep soil, producing crop after crop of the finest wheat that it must in time support a great population. Yet the very fact of this great material wealth being ready for the taking, almost; the growth and rapid advancement of commercial affairs, is leading the west into the worship of Mammon such as the east never experienced.

It has been customary to believe that the west will some day be the dominating factor in Canadian life. Whether this will be cannot be foretold at this day. There was a time in the history of the United States that the west bade fair to control the national destiny; but it didn't. The eastern part of the United States, the country seat of the Allegheny mountains, is to-day the financial power directing the fortunes of the west. In Canada the west can never be the controlling force, because nature in endowing it with wonderful agricultural possibilities, has denied it material resources on which it must depend on the east or on the United States.

The fact that present day inhabitable Canada is confined to the southern section of the Dominion, close to the border separating us from millions of a blood-related race, offers a peril that statesmen and educationists have not been slow to recognize. The peril to confederation offered by the thousand mile stretch of barren rock north of Lake Superior, is not minimized; but there is no Canadian who will really believe that the people of the west would contemplate the loosening of the bonds which bind us as a nation. The leaders of the west are Eastern Canadians; the men who are in every case guiding the destinies of educational institutions, the courses of political parties, the very activities of the country are Eastern Canadians. Can it be that these Canadians, bred in the oxygen of Canadian life, would wilfully or knowingly permit the weakening of the Canadian national fabric? It does not seem reasonable.

But the tendency of the west to take lightly the sentiments and loyalties of the east, to make Money, and Material Prosperity, the god before which it worships, is one that time will soften. The west has not had the years of stern, unbending struggle against poverty, against the adversity that discourages, to stiffen and deepen its fibre. It has found quickly attained prosperity, and in the exuberance of great success, it is like a big enthusiastic boy, whom the troubles of manhood have not yet visited seriously enough to steady into a well-balanced life and judgment.

BENEFITING THE FARMER

There are a dozen countries which will have free access to the Canadian market if the reciprocity pact goes through because of the operation of the most favored nation clause. These countries do a lot of exporting of natural products, and the Canadian farmer for whose benefit the reciprocity pact was supposedly consummated, will feel their keen competition. The importation of such natural products has grown in Canada of late, owing to the growth of our home market, and under the new reciprocal arrangement it is bound to increase. Whether the invasion of his home market by a dozen foreign countries, producing under a much lesser cost will injuriously affect the Canadian farmer remains to be seen. A valuable home market is the farmer's great asset, and which it should tenderly conserve.

It may be interesting to note the exports of butter and meat from some of these favored countries in 1909.

In the year 1909 the exports of butter from the principal dairying countries ran up into the following figures:—

Denmark	$48,320,000
Norway	837,000
Sweden	9,975,000
Russia	21,539,000
Argentina	1,541,000
Australia	11,678,000
New Zealand	7,978,000
Total	$103,867,000

At the same time, their exports of eggs were valued at $35,000,000. Denmark sold abroad $28,000,000 worth of bacon and hams.

Other meats were sent out frozen or in cold storage as follows:

Beef:—
Australia	$3,568,000
New Zealand	2,751,000
Argentina	20,210,000
Mutton and lamb:—
Australia	5,991,000
New Zealand	14,052,000
Argentina	5,133,000
Other meats:—
Denmark	3,888,000
Australia	2,048,000
New Zealand	612,000

EDITORIAL NOTES

Farmers in Middlesex county say they have found millions of June bugs in plowing. Which reminds us that this is the year for the great locust plague that comes about once in a generation.

St. John, N.B., will change its form of government to a commission of five. This experiment, if carried out, will be worth watching, and if it succeeds, the idea, already quite popular, will be more generally put into practice.

The Georges in Toronto have contributed about $50 to date to the king's gift fund. Toronto Georges may be good, but they certainly won't be arrested on a charge of too much generosity.

The operation of the "recall" system in Tacoma has just resulted in the mayor being ousted by a reform league, after having served eleven months of a four-year term. The "recall" system seems to be a good way to get rid of an administrator who is bent on doing his own will, and not the public will.

The Hamilton Herald says—"Those who regard the reciprocity pact and the prospective lowering of the U.S. tariff downward as signs of the approaching triumph of free trade doctrine, had better not jump at conclusions too hastily."

For our part, we would rather see the United States tariff lowered upward.

The assignment of the Wilkinson Plow Company, the last of the independent farm manufacturing companies in Canada was due to the inability of the small implement manufacturer to compete with the large. And that is just about what would happen were many other Canadian concerns like the Wilkinson Co. compelled to compete with the big and powerful United States companies on an equal basis.

The Mormons say that the English girls who have been induced to join the Utah colony are not used improperly. They say that they have not been brought to America for immoral purposes. That may be strictly true, but at the same time a polygamous state may exist. The Morman does not hold polygamy to be immoral; to induce girls to adopt a polygamous mode of life is not to them immoral, though it may be to others. The Mormons deny that they practice polygamy, but there seems to be a well defined suspicion that their peculiar practices have not been swept away so easily.

A Toronto magistrate dismissed a school principal in court on a charge of aggravated assault, for having punished a seven year old boy severely. The boy had refused to take a strapping on the hands, and was beaten about the shoulders until he was black and blue, and the skin broken. It is necessary to maintain discipline and order in schools, but it is easy for teachers to lose control of their tempers and punish most unjustly. Incorrigible pupils are the bane of a teacher's life, but it would seem to be a good policy to send such children home, rather than seek by corporal punishment to break their stubbornness.

Vote for the Tire Company By-law on April 25, and give Peterborough another boost onward and upward.

Clergyman at R.M.C.

Kingston, April 20.—Rev. L. T. Miller, B.A., rector of Abbotsford, Que., and Lt. Gibb, also of Abbotsford, are attending the Royal Military College for the purpose of taking a short course. Rev. Mr. Miller is the first clergyman that has ever taken such a course here.

Shot His Wife.

Malden, Mass., April 20.—Angered because he thought his wife had been discussing his affairs with a neighbor, Zachariah T. Tallon shot her twice, in a quarrel at their Salem street home late yesterday. He fired two more shots, which missed, at his step-daughter, Edna Desmond, and then committed suicide by shooting himself in the head as an officer appeared to arrest him. Mrs. Tallon's injuries are not considered fatal, though one bullet entered her breast and another her left hand.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"Here's Captain Bolger now. Tell him about it."

Captain Bolger was a choleric gentleman with whiskers like General Sherman's, much thinned by the increase in the area of the face since the establishment of the foliage. He advanced rapidly, with a hippety-hopping gait, as if catching step with an imaginary companion very careless of the march.

"What's this, sergeant?" he sputtered. "This is quite irregular, sergeant—irregular. The parade ground! A d—d thing with wings and V type engines! And no passes? Some one will sweat for this. Highly irregular!"

"Pardon me," said Theodore. "My name is Carson. I miscalculated my speed. I know Colonel Krimnitz, and if"—

"Colonel Krimnitz, sir," said Captain Bolger, "is temporarily on leave. I am the officer of the day, sir. You will produce a pass for your confounded aeronef or I shall order you"—

"I feel sure," said Mr. Carson, "that Colonel Krimnitz"—

"Colonel Krimnitz be hanged!" retorted Captain Bolger. "You can't come the Krimnitz game, sir, while he is on leave. Sergeant!"

"Captain!" said the sergeant, saluting.

"See what that thing is in the fellow's hand," pointing to Mr. Waddy's camera. "Take it, and if it's a bomb explode it at sea. If it's a camera turn it over to me instantly and confine these men. My compliments to Major Flathers, and say to him that I have confined three men who ran the guard in an airship, with bombs or cameras, as the case may be; that I have the airship under guard and await his instructions at headquarters."

And Captain Bolger hippety-hopped to headquarters, followed by a soldier with a camera. The three interlopers went into the guardhouse, while Captain Bolger's message went to Major Flathers, commandant in the absence of Colonel Krimnitz.

"I won't stand it!" Mr. Waddy shouted. "I want to wire John H. Gunn! I want to wire Washington, I tell you—John H. Gunn, speaker of the house! He'll make somebody chew hay for this!"

Mr. Craighead began humming "It's Twenty Miles to Vassar," evidently a West Point ditty, paced the guardhouse, turning corners with military precision or stood accurately with certain fingers on certain seams of his trousers as precise as a tin soldier. The atmosphere had permeated his system, and when a corporal's guard called for them his stride might have been offered as a model.

Access to Major Flathers' desk was opened for them by orderlies described by Mr. Waddy as state's prison looking fellows, armed to the teeth. The major was thin, solemn, bilious looking, as if he had a bad liver from service in the tropics; haughty, as if the liver had overflowed his temper.

"Who are you?" said Major Flathers.

"Who are we?" cried Mr. Waddy. "Who are we?. American citizens, sir! Citizens and taxpayers before you was ever born, sir! Wire John H. Gunn at Washington that Cyrus Waddy's shut up in jail, an' you'll find out! You'll"—

"It would seem an economy of time, Mr. Waddy," said the major, after quelling him with a yellow glower, "not to trouble Mr. Gunn or the president, who might find it inconvenient to attend for purposes of identification. What can you say, sir?"

This query was directed at Craighead.

"Most high and illustrious one," said he, "the world is wide, its population some sixteen hundred millions. Of this considerable force we are but three. You ask us, O serenity, to set ourselves apart from the others by brands and marks. How can the thing be proved? It is a hard saying, and yet didst ever see that serrated nose? Give me a pen, and let me mark it 'Exhibit A!'"

The major arose with pronounced absence of haste, adjusted a pair of rimless glasses to his precipitous beak by a clasp of special construction, examined Craighead's nose critically and impersonally, as if looking at a specimen in a case, slowly removed the glasses and deliberately reseated himself.

"I have observed such a nose in but one case," said he, "but its introduction in evidence does not establish its identity with the only snout of similar symmetry recorded. 'Exhibit A' will be considered for what it is worth—as evidence. Proceed."

"I will now render a song, which I beg this honorable body to receive as 'Exhibit B.'"

Though this declaration made a distinct sensation among the officers and orderlies, and though the sergeant, who was a shorthand reporter, broke three pencils in his agitation, Major Flathers never let down by even one degree the saturnine dignity of his presence. Craighead sang with a fine independence of tune, but with an air and style of tone emission which reminded all hearers of a basso profundo laboring in the trough of the heaviest vocal sea.

Oh, it's twenty miles to Vassar, and the Hudson for to cross!
There's regulations to be broke at both ends of the route,
But Belinda's eyes are like the sky, Belinda's hair is floss,
And Jim is black and plagued with love and doesn't care a hoot.
Oh, it's twenty miles to Vassar,
But it's fifty smiles at Vassar,
And it's other lovey-dovey things in hosts beyond compare!
Oh, the love of dear Belinder burns his heart into a cinder,
And Jim will be at Vassar ere the morning!

A slight redness crept up under the tan of Major Flathers' cheek; a slight quiver of the thin nostril betrayed the fact that Craighead's song had touched some spot that thrilled. Mr. Craighead asked if it would be necessary to adduce more proof of his identity.

"Possibly," said the major, with unabated dignity. "I shall hear the case in private."

The major rose and passed out without a glance at the intruders. The squad took them to his quarters, where he received them in frozen stiffness and stood aside to let them into a library rather well furnished with books.

The major sat like a graven image until the receding footsteps were lost to the ear. Then he rushed at Craighead, shook him until his teeth chattered, laughing, slapping him on the back.

"Craig! Craig!" said he. "You confounded old scapegrace! I've an infernal good mind to throw you in for ten years! And that Belinda song you made up about me! And sober too! Introduce your friends!"

"With Mr. Waddy's name," said Craighead, "you are familiar. He is the billionaire owner of Speaker Gunn."

"Confoundedly sorry," said the major. "But if this reprobate," indicating Craighead, "had hinted that he was our West Point disgrace I should have issued passes and"—

"And this," said Craighead, "is the inventor and builder of our airship, Theodore Carson, M. A."

"Quite so," replied the major, shaking hands again. "But it was confoundedly irregular to run the guard, you know."

"We didn't intend"—

"Not a word!" said the major. "You must dine with me. Mrs. Flathers will waive ceremony. She isn't Belinder. Craig, you disreputable old dog, disguised as a sober man! Could be hanged as a spy! 'Twenty Miles to Vassar' in headquarters! Nobody but Craig— Let's write a letter to Bill Alexander—in Guam."

CRAIGHEAD CAUGHT THEODORE AS HE STAGGERED.

The major was as complaisant as he had been unyielding. The party was allowed to depart.

Mrs. Graybill met them when they alighted from the Virginia, with a letter in her hand for Mr. Carson and a troubled look on her face. Carson turned white as he tore it open and read:

I am going away with my aunt, who has kindly found me and told me of your deception in allowing me to live with you, thinking you my uncle. There are many things I might say, many I should like to say, but I might use expressions for which I should be sorry. As for the compromising of myself, of which my aunt has spoken, I care nothing. Other things count for so much more. I want our parting to be without bitterness, so, with the assurance that I shall watch over you and pray for your success and with thanks for the many, many good and kind things you have done for me, I bid you goodby forever. We can never forget each other, but we can never meet again.

Trampled to Death.

Inglewood, April 20.—While unloading goods at the freight sheds yesterday, a young lately arrived Englishman, named Ernest Moss, was holding the spirited team of horses of his employer, D. M. Campbell, by the heads, when a passenger train started out, frightening the horses, which ran away and trampled young Moss about the head and body, from which injuries he died half an hour after. Moss came from Choley, Eng., about three weeks ago, and has a wife

MY DAUGHTER WAS CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Baltimore, Md.—"I send you herewith the picture of my fifteen year old daughter Alice, who was restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was pale, with dark circles under her eyes, weak and irritable. Two different doctors treated her and called it Green Sickness, but she grew worse all the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and after taking three bottles she has regained her health, thanks to your medicine. I can recommend it for all female troubles."—Mrs. L. A. More Froth Than Beer.

Munich, April 21.—Serving short measure in beer and the deception of the public by filling the "steins" and "seidels" with froth, so as to form what is popularly known as a "collar,' has just been judged an offence punishable by imprisonment by the criminal court here.

The tenant of a gigantic beer house, who was arraigned on a charge of defrauding the public in this way, was sentenced to six weeks in jail and a fine of $750, and five of his waiters to terms of from one to three weeks in jail.

Evidence showed that it has been customary to serve glasses of beer in which the liquor did not reach the legally stamped mark indicating the proper measure, the drinking vessels being filled to the top with a large quantity of froth. In this way the profits of the house were greatly increased.

The suit, instituted by several customers, lasted more than five months.

May Stop Mints.

Washington, April 20.—Whether the Government will close or abolish some of its mints is an acute problem before treasury officials. Secretary MacVeagh is ready to instruct the assay offices and mints to begin issuing gold certificates against old bullion and foreign gold coin. As soon as this begins, the coining of gold will practically stop.

Nothing but smaller silver coins and pennies, known in treasury parlance as minor and subsidiary coin, will be clicked off hereafter, unless there is unusual demeand for gold coins, and it is estimated that the mints at San Francisco and Philadelphia, running on very small time, will fill all the treasury's needs.

A saving of several hundred thousand dollars a year will be effected by the change.

City of Fez Pillaged.

Paris, April 20.—Despatches from Tangier and Rabat state that rumors are current that Fez has been pillaged as a result of the rising of the residents. The rumors, however, have been received with all reserve.

Recent despatches from Fez, which however, were delayed in transmission, indicate that there was much idleness, misery and discontent in that city, and that troubles within the walls were feared. The situation was causing great alarm to the authorities a week ago. Fez is surrounded by the adherents of various tribes, and the city was threatened with a famine.

Power Should Be Limited.

London, April 20.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The Pall Mall Gazette, as to the alleged pretensions of the Roman Catholic Church in Quebec, says "the climax has come in the annulment by a Montreal judge of a marriage between two Catholics celebrated by a Protestant minister. The whole story is one more vivid illustration of what the Roman Church, where she has power of any kind behind her, will do, and how very desirable in the interests of the happiness of humanity it is that such power be very strictly limited."

THE CURSE OF THE NATION IS CONSTIPATION

"Fruit-a-tives" Alone Cures This Disease

A famous scientist states that Constipation, or non-action of the bowels, causes more deaths than all other diseases combined. Constipation inflames the Kidneys, ruins digestion, is the foundation of Rheumatism, poisons the blood, causes Headaches, Neuralgia, Nervousness and Insomnia.

Constipation is caused by a weak or sluggish liver. Bile, the only purgative of the body, is secreted by the liver, which in turn should pour out into the intestines sufficient bile to move the bowels. Unless the liver is active, there cannot be enough bile to move the bowels regularly, and Constipation is the result.

"Fruit-a-tives", the famous fruit medicine, will always cure Constipation because it acts directly on the liver—relieves the congestion—increases the quantity of bile—and strengthens the bowel muscles.

DO IT NOW

The habit of putting off doing the things we ought to do is responsible for much of the trouble people spend so many regrets over. It almost seems that getting their eyes looked after in time is the duty most often put off by most people. Any inconvenience, even pain and discomfort are endured rather than "come to glasses." Could people only realize the feeling of positive relief and the added power of work that glasses would give them this urgent duty would be attended to at once. Could they only witness, as does the eye-sight specialist the numerous cases where it has been left too long undone and no help can be given any more with glasses, articles like this would be unnecessary. As it is we must keep on giving the old advice. We make no charge for consultation.

CELEBRATION OF ST. GEORGE'S DAY

Parade to St. John's Church Sunday Evening—Banquet on Monday

Recently a feeling has been growing among the English people of Peterborough that the celebration of St. George's Day visiting the grand old church of St. John's would be appreciated by every one who still sympathises with the Old Country.

A committee has been formed to arrange for a parade, and it is proposed to meet at the hall of the "Sons of England Benefit Society," Hunter street (next post office) on Sunday evening at 6.30, when it is hoped that all who possibly can will come forward and attend the service. A special sermon will be preached by the Rev. Charles Carpenter, and a choral service will be rendered by the magnificent choir of St. John's church.

On Monday evening a banquet will be held in Coleman's parlors, George street, and will be presided over by E. A. Peck, Esq. A musical program has been arranged and a very enjoyable evening is promised to all who can attend. A substantial English dinner will be provided for which a charge of 50 cents will be made. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the committee whose names are undermentioned. Bring the evening the subject of forming a branch of the St. George's Society will be discussed. This society is making great headway in Canada amongst the English people who have made their homes here, and its advantages will be clearly put to the meeting by a gentleman who has had several years' experience as secretary to a branch in one of our neighboring cities.

Great hopes are anticipated by the promoters for its success, and they trust that every encouragement will be given to them so that a branch can be formed in Peterborough, and the traditions associated with St. George's Day can be kept up even in a greater measure than in the Old Country.

Committee—Messrs. W. Guy, S. Jay, J. Packman, F. Clarke, C. Green, A. Bogstrom, J. Common, T. Pitchford, Secretary.

ST. GEORGE'S DAY

All Englishmen are invited to meet at "Sons of England" Benefit Society's Hall, Hunter St. (next Post Office) on Sunday evening next at 6.30 prompt for the purpose of attending Divine Service at St. John's Church, Special sermon by the Rev. Chas. Carpenter. 3d

Report of Special Committee—Suggestion for Carrying on of Work to Boost Membership of Horticultural Society

Horticultural Society was held in the City Engineer's office last night, to consider the report of the special committee appointed to bring in suggestions regarding ways and means for the increase in the membership of the Society and the general improvement of Peterborough. The following report was submitted and adopted;—

Gentlemen,—Your committee met and considered the matter laid before them, and beg to report as follows;

1.—That a report submitted by Mr. Hay be adopted and acted on in part as the Board deem advisable.

2.—That a ladies' auxiliary be added to the directorship and one lady in each ward be selected to procure membership to the Society.

3.—That places of business be selected for the paying of subscriptions. These will include the offices of The Canadian Horticulturist and the three daily papers of the city.

4.—That the name of the Society be changed from The Peterborough and Ashburnham Society to the Peterborough Horticultural Society.

5.—That the options given to the new members be either 1 doz plants for bedding out; 1 doz. plants suitable for window boxes, or 1 large Boston fern. In addition to the bulbs each member will receive The Canadian Horticulturist and also his share of the very liberal distribution of fall bulbs furnished by the Society.

The report submitted by Mr. Hay, the City Engineer, is as follows;—

It is desirable that some concerted action be taken by the citizens of Peterborough to enhance the beauty of the city that nature has done so much for, by a carefully worked out plan for;—

(a)—The improvement and beautifying of the several small parks already owned by the city.

(b)—Acquiring vacant lands in the several wards before it becomes prohibitive by the rapid growth the city is now undergoing.

(c)—The laying out of a plan for boulevard drives, connecting the several parks.

(d)—The improvement of waste places at several points where streets go into one another, such as now exists on Park street, at the junction of Rubidge, Reid, Downie, Donegal and Gilchrist streets, as well as the points and bays on the river at Crescent street, Wolfe street wharf, London, Dublin and Waterford street, between Dublin and Antrim, the bend at Antrim and Harvey, Smith, Hunter east and at Douro streets.

(e)—The encouragement to citizens to improve their premises generally by removal of unsightly fences and out buildings, uniform planting and trimming of shade trees.

(f)—The laying of concrete curbs and care of boulevards by the city on local improvement system.

(g)—Strick regulations against vandalism in parks and that police protection be provided for. Some measures taken to prevent power lines, telephone and others from damaging shade trees.

(h)—Conferring with the City Council with the request that a percentage of the taxes be applied each season for carrying out of plans.

The members present were;—Peter Campbell, President; James English, Jas. Edgar, Samuel Jordan, G. F. Marsh, S. F. Hardy, Frank Wise, Sec.-treas.

The names of the business houses willing to act as collectors for the Society will be published in an early issue of the city papers. Posters are being printed to be placed in the windows advertising the fact that membership for the Horticultural Society may be taken there and receipts given for the same. Much interest is being manifested in the campaign for 500 new members, and well it might be for the premiums given are worth far more than the small membership fee charged. The Society has already done much to beautify Peterborough and there should be no trouble in securing new members.

NEW AMBULANCE

Belleghems Secure the First of Its Kind

With enterprise for which they are to be commended, D. Belleghem and Sons have placed in commission a new private ambulance of the most modern design, in fact, the conveyance, on its striking but gloomless color, is the first of its kind; the color scheme being originated by Mr. Belleghem, sr.

It is of steel grey, and a most pleasing contrast to the black-painted ambulance, which is so much in vogue, and dreaded as a visitor to houses of sickness, or where accident has been met with. The ambulance has the latest equipments, and these include a continuous ringing gong, detachable fastners, by which one or two horses may be used; canopy top; speaking tube from interior to driver; ball-bearing and drop axels, patent catches to prevent doors and windows from rattling, air mattress and pillows, electric light, Goodyear rubber tires, end and side doors, with British plate windows. The interior is of quartered oak, with panel work; the metal finishings, silver-plated, and there is an elegance about the ambulance which will to no uncertain extent, have good effects on the patients carried to and fro.

The ambulance is the work of A. B. Greer, of London, whose widely known reputation is more than sustained in this, the latest model.

CAMERON.—At Peterborough, on Monday, April 17th, 1911, to Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Cameron, 616 George street, a daughter.

"HONEYMOON TRIAL"

"Honeymoon Trail," the biggest, brightest, wittiest and most melodious of all the LaSalle Theatre, Chicago, musical comedy successes and a sister play to "A Stubborn Cinderella," is the attraction at "The Grand" next Tuesday, April 25th. "Honeymoon Trail" was written by those clever writers, Hough, Adams and Howard, a trio who have contributed ten musical successes of the first order to the contemporaneous American stage. It contains more comedy and more catchy music than any of the authors' other efforts and was fittingly described by the Chicago Tribune as "a play with a thousand laughs."

This season's company is a notable one, with such well-known and high salaried performers as Fred Wyckoff, Arline Boelin, Carl George, Fred Dunham, and Frances Morrison together with many other principals of lesser prominence. The chorus is a feature and consists of thirty of the shapliest and handsomest girls ever seen with a "road" attraction. "Ned Wayborn's Dancing Brownies," the famous septette of "dancing broilers" are a distinct novelty. The music of "Honeymoon Trail," is of the "whistle-able" kind and is usually heard on the streets of every city which the attraction visits for many weeks after its engagement.

POLICE COURT

Two Visitors Ordered to Leave the City

At the Police Court this morning, Patrick Herst, and Frank Burns, who claim to hail from Belleville, were allowed one week in which to shake the oil cakes of Peterborough's highways from their shoes.

SIX MONTHS

Francis McGirr, steady boarder at Castle Nesbitt's came before His Worship this morning, in the usual manner—asking for another job on the hill.

"I suppose nothing less than six months will satisfy you" remarked the Magistrate. "Do you earn your board up there?"

"I do the best I can," replied Francis.

The prisoner was given another six months in the local jail.

THE LAD DIED LAST NIGHT

Little Norman Asling Succumbed to Injuries

Norman Routley Asling, the eight year old son of Wellington Asling, George Street, who met with an accident at the corner of Aylmer and McDonald Streets, Tuesday evening, by colliding, while coasting on the pavement, with a delivery rig, died at the Nicholl's Hospital last evening about six o'clock.

His right leg was broken above the knee, and internal injuries were also received about the chest and bowels, and these brought about his death.

The brother's surviving are Morgan and Lloyd, and the sisters, Gladys and Evelyn.

The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon from the late family residence, 5?3 George Street at 2.30 o'clock to the Little Lake cemetery.

Fresh Garden and Field Seed by ounce, pound or packet. Mason's Floral Emporium, 436 Water Streeet.

MILK VENDORS OUTFIT DAMAGED

Horse Frightened and Went for a Jaunt

An exciting smash-up occurred about noon yesterday, when Alfonso Fontaine's horse became restless, and breaking away, upset the milk waggon, smashing all the milk bottles and spilling a large quantity of milk.

The horse was tethered to a heavy weight near the corner of Antrim St. on George. By a quick jump it succeeded in breaking the strap, thus leaving it with a free course. It's driver ran out of a nearby laneway and jumped on the footboard but could not control the horse until it had passed over the lawn of Mr. Dodd, who lives in the corner house, and damaged the verandah. A telegraph pole close by stopped hte progress in that direction. The waggon was overturned.

TENDER OF C.G.E. IS RECOMMENDED

Better Lighting System for City of Kingston

Kingston Standard—At the meeting of the Light, Heat and Power Committee, held yesterday afternoon, it was decided on motion of Ald. Armstrong to recommend to Council the acceptance of the Canadian General Electric Co's tender for a better lighting system for the city. While all the committee were in favor of the General Electric Co.'s lamp, Alds Harty, and Hanley were not in favor of awarding the contract without giving the Westinghouse people another chance.

The chairman, Ald. Elliott, stated that as a result of the deputation to Toronto, the General Electric had knocked $745 off their tender. The first tender of the General Electric was $10,245, to day it was $9,500. The Westinghouse offer, was still $210 less.

MASTER PAINTERS ELECT OFFICERS

At the regular meeting of the Master Painters, held last-night in their hall on Simcoe Street, the following officers were elected:

CANADIAN CANOE COMPANY TO BUILD ON RINK STREET

Three Story Brick Building, 32 x 114 Feet—City to Do Grading Work—Busy Session of Board of Works

The progress met with by the Canadian Canoe Co., has resulted in the decision to erect a new three storey building, and Messrs. Felix Brownscombe and Morley Lyle appeared before the Board of Works last-night, in connection with the proposition.

The intention is to erect the building on Rink Street, between George and Aylmer Streets, the basement to be concrete and the remainder of the building of brick; the dimensions to be 32x114 feet. Behind this building is to be erect a store house, 48x80 feet, and in the rear of that again, a shed, 20x114 feet.

However there is considerable grading to be done, before the company can proceed with their work, and committee was asked last-night to do this work. There would be considerable freightage to and from both stations and it is necessary that the road be attended to. The cellar will be from three to four feet in depth and Mr. Brownscombe suggested that the city do this work, and use the earth for filling in the road.

On motion of Ald. Buller and Ald. Graham, the request of the company was granted.

RETAINING WALL

On motion of Alderman Buller and Brown, the request of the Auburn Power Company, for permission to construct a granolithic retaining wall on the East side of Water Street, in connection with operations at the Power House, was referred to a committee composed of the chairman and engineer, who will discuss the matter with the Water Commissioners, as there are matters in connection with a foot bridge and water connections for fire protection for the Auburn Woolen Mills, across the proposed dam of the Power Company, which the committee deemed advisable to have decided, before the request be granted. This wall will not interfere with the proper width of the road bed, with which it will be level. A railing would be placed along the top.

ACCOUNT PASSED BY

The Peterboro Hardware Co. claim payment of an account of $23.21 for sewer pipe. The engineer's explanation to the committee, was that the pipe for which payment was asked, came in cars and was damaged, in spite of the agreement with the hardware people being that all pipe was to be turned over in good condition and shipped F.O.B. No action was taken.

SOME OTHER TIME

A request for the gravelling and putting in condition of Hart Avenue, on which there are seven houses, was laid over. Sewer connections are in, but as the water connections have yet to come, the committee felt that the proposition was not feasible.

OILLESS ALLEY

A largely signed petition contained a request for a granolithic sidewalk on the east side of Chambers Street, which is not famous by any means for its clean and tidy appearance. In the event of the sidewalk being constructed the petitioners unanimously agreed that a much needed improvement would be brought about, and that property owners and residents would "take a tumble" and brighten up.

The engineer will look over the ground and report.

SOME MORE POLES

Permission was granted the Bell Telephone Company to erect poles on Water Street, north of the Isolation Hospital, and on George Street south, and King Edward Street, for the purpose of accomodating subsribers with connections.

CONCESSION STREET DITCH

The engineer reported that it would be unnecessary to place pipes at this point and that he wished to gather further information before anything was done.

Romaine Street residents asked that the drain on that street be extended. The committee will make an inspection on their trip next Monday. All the money appropriated for refilling and piping the Sherbrooke Street ditch has been expended. Three hundred and thirty feet of pipe have been laid, and there will be nothing more doing for the present.

A walk is wanted on Gilchrist Street and another on Charlotte Street south from Maitland Avenue to boundary. The engineer will report. The petition for a sewer on Downie, from Smith to Victoria Ave., and on the latter and properly signed was placed on the shelf.

SMITH STREET CURVE

The chairman reported an explanation to him, by Mr. Munro, of the Street Railway, regarding the curve at the corner of Smith and George Streets, which makes it dangerous for traffic on the east side of the curve, to be that a change would result in a complaint against the noise made by the cars, and which would be caused by a different curve.

STREET SIGNS

Arthour Doupe, submitted a sample of a wooden street sign, with painted letters, each to cost 35 cents. Several of the committee thought that signs, designating the names of the streets, should be erected, but on motion, the clerk was asked to write for prices for enamel signs.

SEWER FOREMEN

Application from John Thorndyke and Martin Neary for the position of foreman on sewer work were laid over. It will be several weeks at least before operations are commenced.

BRIDGE REPAIRS

Ald. Duncan advised that the bridge near McDonald's Mill on George St. be replanked, and that some of the old material be used south of Romaine Street on George. Ald. Anderson brought up the matter of replanking Hunter Street bridge. The matter was left in the hands of the chairman and engineer with power to act. This includes purchasing some lumber from the Quaker Oats Co., which can be had at a very reasonable price.

YOUNG PEOPLE HELD AT HOME

In Honor of Miss Muriel Burritt at Conservatory Hall

A very successful "At Home" was held in the Conservatory of Music Hall last evening in honor of Miss Muriel Burritt, daughter of D. H. Burritt, Brock Street.

The hall was decorated beautifully with banners and pennants.

About forty-five couples were present and all were greatly pleased with the music supplied for dancing by Mr. C. Brodley of Toronto Refreshments were served by Coleman Bros.

Among the visitors from out of town were Misses Gifford and Reid of Port Hope, Lillian Cox, Toronto; and Miss Green of Campbellford; also Messrs. Hugh V. Burritt, Kenneth Crane, Will Cox, S. Sanderson and Harris Ardiel, of Toronto.

57TH REGIMENT FOR BROCKVILLE

Dominion Day Outing Decided by Officers

Brockville will be the destination of the 57th Regiment on July 1st, this year, on their annual trip. this decision being reached last night at meeeting of the officers in charge of the arrangements.

Brockville will be an ideal spot for the boys to enjoy a couple of days' recreation, and the indications are that the trip will be one of the most successful in the history of the regiment.

The regiment had five invitations and Brockville was chosen as the most suitable.

The boys will leave here on Friday evening and return home on Monday.

BURKE LOOKING FOR A JOB HERE

Youth Charged With Arson Wanted Local Position

Blenheim, Ont., April 19 — Leslie Burk, who said he was gagged and tied to a chair and left in the blazing Express block, Colborne, one night this week, who is now charged with arson, is a son of C. W. Burk of this town. He lived here all his life until a year ago, and always bore a good reputation. In his boyhood days he was librarian in a local Sunday school. He learned his trade in the News-Tribune office here, and since then had developed a roving disposition, and has worked in Picton, Belleville, Edmonton, Chatham, Welland, and Colborne. He never was afraid of work but was hard working and industrious.

His parents are plain, honest folks workers in the Baptist church here, and are much distresesd over their son's predicament. He was always considered above the ordinary in brightness, and the people are at a loss to understand the mystery in which he has become involved.

Young Burk had written to the Review, in regard to a position, and an acceptance was about to be forwarded to him by wire. There is however no telegraph communication with Colborne, messages to that place being sen tto Brighton for delivery. Before Burk could be reached on the long distance telephone, word was received here of the fire, and his subsequent arrest.

Don't miss seeing the charming Canadian actress, Margaret Anglin, at the Grand tonight. Ticket holders are requested to be in their seats before 8:15 at which hour the performance begins, Phone orders held till 8 o'clock.

SCHEDULE OF GAMES FOR CHURCH FOOTBALL LEAGUE

The First Exhibition to be Played Saturday, April 29

At an enthusiastic meeting of the Church Football League last night a schedule, which calls for the first games to be played on Saturday, May 29th, was drawn up. P. D. Fitzgerald was in the chair, and Secretary Howarth read the minutes of the last meeting.

The arrangements for the At Home were then made. A musical program will be rendered, after which refreshments are to be served. Chief of Police Thompson was elected the Honorable President, and following is the list of patrons:—

Rev. Canon Davidson, Rev. Brown, Rev. W. C. Riddiford, Rev. Trumpour, Rev. H. J. Keith, Mr. Webb and Mr. Kitney.

The committee consists of the representatives of the different teams, and are as follows:—

Mr. H. C. Lewis, Byersville.
Mr. Flowers, Y.M.C.A.
Mr. Theobald, Park street.
Mr. Gates, Marten Ville.
Mr. Webb, St. John's.
Mr. E. Kidd, Cold Springs.
Mr. P. Brown, St. James.
Mr. J. W. Cook, Knox.

It was then decided on that the winning team of the Church League would enter the Midland Football League semi-finals, providing no friction would be caused by so doing, as the Church League intends to boost the game along instead of keeping it back.

All games are to be played on Saturday afternoons, excepting those with Cold Springs, which are to be pulled off on Wednesday evenings.

The following preliminary schedule was drawn up and will hold good until May 24th, unless some other team wishes to enter when a new one would have to be arranged:

Saturday, April 29—
Y.M.C.A. vs. All Saints.
Park street vs. St. James.
St. John's vs. Knox.
Wednesday, May 3rd—
St. John's vs. Cold Springs.
Saturday, May 6th.—
All Saints vs. Park street
St. James vs. St. John's.
Knox vs. Y.M.C.A.
Wednesday, May 10th—
Cold Springs vs. Y.M.C.A.
Saturday, May 13th.—
Park street vs. Knox.
Y.M.C.A. vs. St. James.
St. John's vs. All Saints.
Saturday, May 29th.—
St. James vs. All Saints.
St. John's vs. Park street.
Knox vs. All Saints.
Wednesday, May 24th—
Park street vs. Cold Springs.
St. John's, bye.

INDOOR BASEBALL FOR REGIMENT

Ten Teams in League to Start Friday Night

It looks as if the Regiment was going to enter into baseball with the same enthusiasm as is characterizing the drill. Ten teams have signified their intention of entering into the spring league—one from each company, along with one from the Bugle Band and one from the officers.

The teams will be put into two groups, A and B, each group to return a winner to compete in the finals. The games will commence on Friday, April 21, and will be continued on Monday, Friday and Saturday.

All the officers' games will be played on Saturday at 9 o'clock.

The games on Monday and Friday will be played at 7.30 and 9, the first named at 7.30 and the second at 9.

Those competing are asked to be at the drill hall ready to play at the scheduled time, as a little delay will take place each evening owing to the class in signalling.

The following are the groups—

A—No. 1 Company, No. 2 Company, No. 3 Company, No. 4 Company, No. 5 Company.

B—No. 6 Company, No. 7 Company, No. 8 Company, Bugle Band, Officers.

SCHEDULE.

April 21—No. 1 vs No. 2; No. 6 vs No. 7.
April 22—No. 8 vs Officers.
April 24—No. 4 vs No. 5; No. 2 vs No. 3.
April 28—Bugle Band vs No. 6; No. 1 vs No. 4.
April 29—No. 7 vs Officers.
May 1—No. 8 vs Bugle Band; No. 3 vs No. 5.

Needed.

A young minister had obtained a kirk in a mining district in Scotland. After a deal of difficulty he managed to secure lodgings. The first morning following his arrival the landlady knocked at the door with the unusual query as to whether he had washed himself.

"Yes," he said. "Why?"

"Because," she replied calmly, "I'm guan to mak' a dumplin' for the dinner, an' I wad like the len' o' the basin!"—Tit-Bits.

Society Women Smugglers.

Chatham, April 20—Thirty Chatham women, some of them society members, are shortly to receive notices from the customs office to call and pay duty on articles they are accused of smuggling from Detroit.

During the Easter holidays a great many Chatham women spent a day or so in Detroit, and many of them improved their time by making numerous purchases. Their action was discovered, and now they have to pay the piper.

Body Found Beside Track.

Kingston, April 20.—With his skull fractured in several places, right hand mangled and face badly bruised, the body of a man named P. Cahan is at Corrett's morgue waiting to be claimed. The body was found lying beside the track at six o'clock yesterday morning, about three miles west of Collin's Bay, by the conductor of an eastbound freight train. He is believed to belong to Montreal.

Died In Alberta.

Lethbridge, Alta., April 20.—Frank Tilley, aged 73, dropped dead on the train going to Carmangay yesterday. He came here from Stratford. He was father of the late Ald. Tilley who died a few days ago. Three daughters survive.

Mrs. Albert Whitney, wife of prominent rancher and old-timer, died yesterday. She came from Kingston.

Tribute to Forget.

Ottawa, April 20.—A splendid tribute to the worth of the late Senator Forget was paid yesterday in the Senate.

Sir Richard Cartwright, the Government leader, expressed his sense of the loss sustained. Senator Forget, he said, had been a man of large affairs, and his death would leave a blank which would not be filled easily. Though not personally acquainted with the Senator, Sir Richard said he understood he was a man of enterprise, who had done useful service to Canada by bringing large amounts of foreign capital to the country. All would join in regret that the Senator had been taken away.

Senator Dandurand said Senator Forget had shown himself generous in philanthropic matters, and there was no doubt that, by his death, Montreal had lost one of the best and most progressive citizens she had had for the past fifty years.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell said that Senator Forget had been a most valuable member of the Senate, as every one knew who had come in contact with him. His ripe judgment on financial matters had always commanded the greatest respect. Personally, Sir Mackenzie said he felt that he had sustained a great personal loss through the death of Senator Forget. He had known him for many years and had found him kindly and courteous to everyone.

Incendiaries Fire on Police.

Montreal, April 20.—At 1.30 yesterday morning Policeman Lanouette discovered fire at G. J. Splin's box factory. District Inspector Russier joined him and an alarm was sent in. The fire was incendiary, as oil-soaked waste was found on fire under the gate. As they approached the shed they saw three men, who flashed revolvers and fired as they ran to keep the police at bay.

They got to safety without being seen at close enough range to make identification possible.

Fine Shooting by Cadets.

Quebec, April 20.—The competition which will result in the choice of the twelve cadets to represent Canada at the matches of the Imperial Cadet Association due to take place in London on Empire Day, resulted in some marvelous shooting on the part of the youthful rifle shots of Quebec. Out of a possible 210 no less than three scores of 192 were made, and eight others made over 180.

UNION BANK MUST REFUND

Judgment for Plaintiffs J. R. and N. J. Quigley

The civil action case of Quigley vs. the Union Bank of Canada at Hastings was settled this morning at the final session of the Spring Assizes.

The plaintiffs were J. R. Quigley and N. J. Quigley, who sought to recover the sum of $4500 from the Union Bank which amount was trust money deposited there by the executors of the late J. Quigley, for the plaintiffs.

The plaintiffs alleged that this money was transferred from their account to the account of the defendants or executors, namely John Welch and F. Fowles, for the purpose of retaining the liability of the defendant Welch at the Bank.

The counsel for the plaintiffs was L. M. Hayes, K.C., for the defendant Union Bank, I. F. Hellmuth, K.C., of Toronto, and A. B. Colville, of Campbellford, and for the defendant trustees, Welch and Fowlds, J. E. L. Goodwill.

The judgment pronounced was that the defendant Union Bank refund the amount wrongfully used, the costs of the action and the interest on the money up-to-date.

The Courage of Life.

The two virtues that help us along most in life are trust and courage. Apart from the tragedies invited by sin and violence and self indulgence, a large part of our trouble comes from anxiety, distrust, apprehension. It was not all frivolity that dictated the answer of a young girl who, being urged to prepare herself for a profession or a definite work, responded: "I'm not going to look ahead and worry. I can do a lot of useful things. I can mend, and make salad, and amuse children, and be patient and economical, and help people to enjoy themselves, and I don't believe nice girls starve." Courage and faith are always assets. Even if life goes back upon them and fails to come up to expectations the practice of these virtues is just that much to the good, and we have at least not lived in the evil moment until it arrived.—Harper's Bazaar.

For Peace Only.

It is well known that the Friends have always been devoted to the principles of peace. As they had a controlling influence in the public affairs of Nantucket, there was no military organization on that island for several generations. How the matter was managed is told by the author of "September Days on Nantucket."

Whenever military companies came to the island for a holiday young women thronged the windows and waved handkerchiefs, but there was no rise of military ambition in the town. Once a coterie of young men formed a training company and sent to Boston for equipments, but their elders compelled them to make the first article of their constitution read, "This company shall be disbanded immediately in case of war."

Her Stipulation.

The pale young man with sheepish eyes glanced timorously at his fair companion. They had sat together in the conservatory for fully five minutes and had hardly exchanged a word.

At last, in desperation, he dived his hand into his breast pocket and brought out his cigarette case.

"Do you mind, Miss Smilax, if I smoke?" he asked.

"Not in the least," replied the young lady sweetly, "if you don't think it will make you sick!"

Close Relations.

"You advise that man's constituents to stand by him?"

"Yep," replied Farmer Corntossel. "I advise 'em to stand by close enough to watch everything he does."—Washington Star.

His Inheritance.

"Does he inherit his father's genius?"

"No; only his father's eccentricities of genius. That is why we are giving a benefit for him."—Chicago Record-Herald.

What a happy world this would be if every man spoke as well of his live neighbors as he does of his dead ones!

SUFFERED THREE YEARS

Till Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cured his Kidney Trouble

There are few diseases that cause more acute suffering than Kidney Trouble, and Mr. F. A. Thomas, of Sudbury Ont., is one of those who know it. He writes: "For over three years I suffered from kidney disease. First I thought I had sprained my back, for suddenly the pain would catch the small of my back and it would be impossible for me to straighten myself up for several minutes. A dull ache across the kidneys was always present, my urine was thick and cloudy, and passing it caused a burning, scalding pain. Tried medicines, but they failed. I was advised to try Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, as they had cured my wife years before. A few boxes affected a complete cure. I now enjoy the blessings of good health, which is due to this remedy."

Don't neglect kidney trouble—it's too dangerous as well as too painful. That old, reliable family remedy, Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, has cured thousands and will cure you. It is equally effective in curing constipation and its attendant evils, biliousness, indigestion and sick headaches, and in purifing the blood. 25c a box at your druggist's. 10

THE NEWSPAPERS AS ADVERTISERS

Effective Advertising Mediums Says Head of Big Company

Chicago, April 20.—Daily newspapers as effective advertising mediums were given unstinted praise by President David L. Taylor, of the Taylor-Critchfield Advertising Company, at a banquet given in his honor by the advertising men of Chicago at the Blackstone hotel. These statements by one of the recognized advertising authorities of the country, after a discussion of magazines, weeklies, bill boards and other advertising mediums, were received with great applause by the advertising men present.

"I am for the daily newspapers strong," said President Taylor, who as head of a great advertising agency places millions of dollars' worth of advertising for over six hundred of the leading advertisers of the United States and Canada. "The daily newspaper is a great and quick influence on the public mind. Being the carrier of the everyday news in which we are all interested, the advertising it contains naturally becomes a part of that news.

"The metropolitan daily newspaper can no longer be considered an exclusive city proposition. It is a great big portion of the country within the radius of the city in which it is published. It is a quick-action, rapid-firing gun that gets immediate results.

"I recommend the daily newspapers to the general advertiser for publicity."

BETHANY

Special Correspondence.

Bethany, April 19.—The C.P.R. are busy these days preparing for the reception of the laborers, mostly Italians, who, are coming to Bethany in May to build the new railroad. The Company have rented sufficient ground on the farm of Arthur Davis to erect a cookhouse, shacks, etc., necesary for the occupation of so large a gang as that which it is rumored is coming to Bethany. The carpenters have bought over 13,000 feet of rough lumber and are busy building the camp. On Saturday a car load of horses arrived, together with the effects of about 10 men, who are preparing for the laborers. The C.P.R. have bought about twenty houses in Bethany and the residents have been given notice to move by May 1st. Some difficulty is being experienced by these persons, as there appears to be only two or three houses empty in the village. As there appears to be no indication of an station on the plan of the proposed route (for Bethany) a monster petition is being signed by all the residents of the townships of Manvers and Cavan, humbly begging the C.P.R. to build a station here in Bethany, believing it will be beneficial to both the railway and the village for such a thing to occur.

The sawmill is busy sawing logs, and Mr. Brown expects to be sawing shingles next week. The lumber turned out is of a very good quality, being quite satisfactory to both Mr. W. Rowan and to the patrons.

Mr. J. Hartley has commenced sawing down at the old mill property, 9th concession, and is very busy. The adjoining land has been purchased by H. Bigelow, who is having it cleared of all stumps, fallen trees and scrub. Herb intends turning it into a large fish pond, and has already had Mr. Freeman, the Bethany carpenter, construct three or four sieves to keep in the fish. He is going to get spawn from the government, and also out of the creek, which runs through most of his property.

BONFIRES WILL BLAZE

They Will Proclaim the Coronation of King George.

In every county of Great Britain and Ireland great bonfires will blaze on the high hills on the night of June 22, proclaiming the Coronation of King George. From the mountain tops detonating rockets are to be fired at 9.55 p.m. The warning given, other rockets at ten o'clock are to give the signal for the lighting of all the fires, and the people are asked to sing "God Save the King." Another general flare is suggested at eleven o'clock, and all the hills to be illuminated with red, white and blue firework flames. London will also be illuminated that night on a scale never before attempted. The City Corporation is expected to set aside $50,000 for decoration and illuminations. The Westminster City Council has already allocated $35,000 for that purpose, and large sums will be spent in private enterprise.

DIAMONDS ON SHOW

Festival of Empire to Have Finest Collection Ever Seen.

A collection of diamonds worth $10,000,000 is being lent by the De Beers Consolidated Mines, Ltd., for exhibition at the Festival of Empire at the Crystal Palace. The exhibit will be the largest and finest collection of diamonds ever seen in England, and every one of the Kimberley mines of the well-known company will contribute specimens.

To protect such a wonderful exhibit a special steel safe is being built, of which the construction is a close secret. It is regarded as quite burglar-proof, which is saying a great deal in these days of chemical and other appliances as aids to safe-breaking.

The same firm's exhibition showing the work of diamond mining in actual progress will be an admirable supplement to this collection.

THE DIVINE SERVICE

The Archbishop of Canterbury Will be in Charge of it.

The Archbishop of Canterbury has been responsible for the Order of Divine Service at the Coronation. The general direction given to his Grace was to make the service as reasonably short as was consistent with the dignity and solemnity of the function, and while these considerations will be found not to have suffered in any way, various and considerable changes will be noticed when the full order is published. It is learned that the Archbishop of Canterbury will crown both the King and the Queen. It will be remembered that at the ceremony in 1902 the Archbishop of York crowned Queen Alexandra. Dr. Temple, owing to age and infirmity, preferring to delegate this portion of the ceremony to his brother Primate. The sermon on this occasion will be preached by the Archbishop of York. The Earl Marshal's ceremonial will be found to follow very much the lines of the former ceremony. Sir Frederick Bridge has made the musical arrangements in a manner worthy of the occasion.

CORONATION WEEK.

Every Moment Planned Out With Great Care.

Every moment of Coronation week will be planned out with scrupulous care. On Monday evening the King and Queen will have the Crown Princes and other Royal representatives at their dinner-table, but there will probably be no toasts. The Royal Household will at the same hour entertain at the Household dinner the foreign suites, and the whole company will afterwards pass into the Royal presence, in order to be presented by their respective chiefs. On this and all other evenings, it may be useful to add, the island formed kept free from the sightseeing public, who, however, will be allowed to occupy positions beside the main gateways of the Palace for the purpose of watching the arrival of the foreign guests.

CORONATION MEMORIAL

[illegible] Council it was announced that Mr. George Courtauld, of the well-known silk and crape firm, had offered to give $5,000 to build public baths as a memorial of the King's Coronation.

The Portpatrick cod are in splendid condition and large catches are being landed.

MOURNING CUSTOMS.

They Are Very Ancient, and Experts Differ as to Their Origin.

The origin of going into mourning was discussed recently by a body of anthropologists. Some students hold that the wearing of black was originally a disguise assumed as a protection from the dead person's spirit. The idea was that the deceased was naturally disgusted to find himself dead and that he wreaked his resentment upon his relations. Therefore the relations thought that to alter their appearance would be a means of escape, and all over the world veils were used to hide the faces of mourners—a practice still surviving in the impenetrable veil of the widow.

The disguises mourners used—such as the veil, the turning of the clothes inside out and the shaving of the head, as practiced by the Ainos—were simple enough, but supernatural beings were always, it appeared, easy to trick.

Another theory of mourning was that it was put on to warn people that its wearers had been contaminated by death. There was an idea of pollution attached to the great mystery. All early people shared the horror of death and the fear of the return of the spirits. Thus in the Sudan widows sprinkle their food with ashes to prevent their husbands' ghosts from eating it.—Exchange.

THE ALEUTIAN ISLANDS.

They Extend East and West For More Than a Thousand Miles.

Few persons are aware that the shortest route from San Francisco to Japan is by way of Alaska. Nearly a thousand miles are saved to vessels trading with the orient by coasting along the Aleutian islands rather than following the Hawaiian route.

The Aleutian islands, which extend in a chain east and west for more than a thousand miles, are inhabited by the remnant of the Aleuts. Their war of the revolution closed just as the American Revolutionary war began. So patriotic were the Aleuts, so brave in their struggle for independence, that they succumbed to the Russians only after a conflict of nearly fifty years, and then simply because the race was almost exterminated in the struggle.

While the Aleutian islands must eventually form an important link in the commerce between the United States and the orient, other islands link our country with the vast empire to the north. In the narrow Bering strait lie two little islands, one occupied by Russia, the other by the United States, so that citizens of the two great nations live on respective islands within a few miles of each other.—New York Press.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Higher, Chicago Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, April 19.—There was plenty of wheat for sale to-day on all the hard spots in the market. With the excellent seeding conditions northwest, and with a brilliant outlook in the winter crop belt, gains due to firm cables disappeared, and latest prices were a shade to ⅛c to ¼c under last night. Corn finished at a net advance of ⅜c to ½c to ⅝c; oats up ⅛c to ⅜c, and provisions less costly by 10c to 30c.

The Liverpool market closed to-day ⅛d to ¼d higher on wheat, and unchanged on corn, compared with yesterday. Berlin closed ½c higher on wheat. Buda-Pest 2¼c higher, and Antwerp unchanged.

MONTREAL, April 19.—The foreign demand for Manitoba spring wheat continues to be very limited and the few bids received were again considerably below cost. In sympathy with the strength in the Winnipeg market for oats prices here were stronger at an advance of ¼c per bushel, but the volume of business doing is small. The flour market was quiet, the demand from both local and foreign buyers being limited. The feed situation is unchanged, supplies being still scarce and prices firm. CATTLE MARKETS.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, April 19.—At the Canadian Pacific Live Stock Market the offerings this morning were 250 cattle, 50 sheep and lambs, 515 hogs and 1300 calves. There was no important change in the condition of the market for cattle, prices being steady on account of the continued small supplies coming forward. The demand showed no improvement owing to the fact that butchers generally had ample beef on hand for the balance of this week, consequently the offerings were sufficient to fill all requirements. A few extra choice steers sold at 6½c, choice at 6¼c, good at 5¾c to 6c, fairly good at 5¼c to 5½c, fair at 4¾c to 5c and common at 4½c per lb. The market for cows was weaker and prices show a decline of ½c to 1c per lb., with sales at prices ranging from 2½c to 5c per lb. as to quality. A few bulls were offered which brought from 3½c to 5c per lb.

The tone of the market for hogs was weaker and prices show a further decline of 25c per cwt. The supply was not large but as packers in most cases had ample stocks on hand for which the demand is somewhat limited this week, after the easier trade, they were not anxious buyers, which accounts for the further reduction in prices, and sales were made at $6.50 to $6.75 per cwt., weighed off the cars.

Receipts of calves were fairly large for which the demand was fair, but as the quality of the stock was mostly common, prices ruled low at from $2 to $6 each. There were a few sheep and spring lambs which met with a ready sale at $5 to $10 for the former, and at from $4 to $9 for the latter.

At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, the receipts of live stock were 250 cattle, 50 sheep and lambs, 525 hogs and 1700 calves. The only difference in prices at this market was in hogs, sales of selected lots being made at $6.75 to $6.85 per cwt., weighed off the cars.

St. Lawrence Crystal Diamonds

—The Crowning Achievement In The Science Of Sugar Refining.

The success of "Crystal Diamonds" is a distinct triumph for the St. Lawrence Sugar Refinery, Montreal. A great many people have always wanted a really fine lump sugar — something attractive and appetizing in appearance — which they could serve on special occasions, or regularly with tea and coffee.

Such are "Crystal Diamonds". These daity squares of crystal sugar, brilliant and sparkling, are a distinct addition to any table.

In 5 pound boxes—also sold by the pound. Please remember to order by name —not "lump sugar" or "crystal sugar"—but the full name, ST. LAWRENCE CRYSTAL DIAMONDS.

WEDDING BELLS

SOANES—PASSMORE.

(Toronto Star).

The marriage of Miss Mary Louise Passmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Passmore, to Mr. Randolph Spencer Soanes, took place at the residence of the bride's father, in Yonge street, at eight o'clock last night, the Rev. Dr. Treleaven, pastor of Carlton street Methodist church, officiating.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired in white satin with real lace, and coronet of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower of roses and lillies. Mrs. Dolly Passmore was matron of honor, in white silk and lace, and carrying pink roses. Mr. Harry Soanes, of Peterborough, was best man.

Mrs. Passmore, wearing black silk and lace, held a reception after the ceremony, when about 60 guests were present. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Soanes left for New York, the bride travelling in blue cheviot, with King's blue hat. On their return they will reside at 17 Linden avenue. The groom's gift to the bride was a piano, and to the matron of honor a bracelet.

MARSHALL—OSTROM.

Toronto News.—The residence of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Ostrom in Macdonnell avenue, Parkdale, was the scene of a pretty wedding this afternoon, when the marriage was solemnized of their only daughter, Loia Casey, to Mr. Norman Macpherson Marshall, second son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Marshall.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Bryan, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, in the bow window of the drawing-room, which was decorated with pillars of Easter lilies and marguerites, and banked with palms, with carpet of roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

The bride looked sweet and graceful in a wedding gown of silk crepe, with medallions and quantities of insertions of real lace. Her veil, which was of tulle, was caught with a bandeau of pearls, and she carried a shower of roses and lilies-of-the-valley, which, with a diamond and pearl pendant, were the gifts of the groom. Miss Florence Marshall, sister of the groom, attended as bridesmaid, wearing an empire gown of palest pink voile, embroidered with pink and silver bandeau on her hair. She carried pink roses, and wore the groom's gift, pearl and amethyst earings. Mr. Lorne Marshall was best man.

An orchestra played the wedding march, and on conclusion Miss Margaret Casey sang "O Promise Me."

Mrs. Ostrom held a reception after the ceremony, wearing king's blue charmeuse, with lace yoke and French hat, with pink rosebuds and willow plumes, and corsage bouquet of roses and lilies. Mrs. Marshall was in black lace over satin, and black hat with American Beauties.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall left on the 5.20 for New York, whence they will sail to New Orleans and Mexico, the bride travelling in brown broadcloth smartly tailored, and rough straw Napoleon hat with scarlet velvet.

The bride is well known in this city and her many friends here will join in congratulation.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

The Ladies Aid Society of Park St. Baptist Church will hold a sale of homemade cooking to-morrow afternoon.

There were 37 witnesses present at the Deline trial, but only nine were heard. Twenty were for the Crown and 17 for the defence. A large number were women. Deline's mother and brother were present, and after sentence had been pronounced upon him and he was taken to the cell, they were allowed to have a few minutes conversation with him.

At the band concert to-morrow night, the choir boys of St. John's church, under the direction of Mr. R. J. Devey, will give several choruses in addition to solos by members. The program will be:

Choruses—The Maple Leaf, O Canada.

Song—Sleighing Song, William Arthur Johnson.

Humorous Song—Travelling Tinkers, Curwen; Harold Devey and Lorne Corway.

PRISON FOR LIFE

of the field could not have been worse than yours, and I never in my experience have had a more abominable case to deal with. Undoubtedly, it is the worst case that has ever come before a court of justice. While I feel sorry for your mother and children, yet an example must be made. It is my duty to impose upon you a sentence such as will prove a reprobation of your conduct upon all others.

"I doubt whether your aged mother, that counsel spoke of, would ever enjoy comfort at your hands.

"Human life is not safe while such men as you are at large.

"Therefore, your sentence is that you be confined to the Kingston Penitentiary for the balance of your natural life, or until medical examination deems you safe to be allowed your liberty."

Deline did not change his expression in the least on hearing his sentence, but maintained the appearance of indifference.

Afterwards Justice Teetzel complimented Mr. O'Connell upon his excellent cross-examination of the medical witnesses, and on the amount of labor which he had thrown into his work of investigation. "It is in the interests of justice," he remarked, "that every facility be given the defence, in order to enable them to make as thorough defence as possible."

The trial was resumed at 2.10 p.m. yesterday, after an adjournment of one hour for lunch.

Dr. Kindred was again placed in the witness box and gave further testimony as to condition of wounds in a vital part of the murdered woman's body.

The abrasions on her wrists were, in his estimation, about one-fourth inch in diameter

Prosecutor Meredith then resumed examination of witness.

"What was cause of death?" he asked.

"I should judge that death was caused by shock due to a struggle."

Dr. Ford was called, he having made an examination of the body with Dr. Holdcroft after the murder. He read the report of the post-mortem, which had been conducted. According to the report there were numerous smaller wounds found upon her other than those previously mentioned. The post-mortem was made two days after the death of the woman. His evidence was mainly confined to answering questions, put to him by the defence, relating to the condition of the organs of the woman's body as found at the time of the post-mortem.

"From your examination was it not difficult for you to state definitely what was the cause of death?"

"Well we had pretty well made up our minds."

At this point considerable discussion occurred between the witness and Mr. O'Connell over several medical technicalities. Witness stated however, that there was nothing in the organs of the body to indicate that death was caused by shock.

"In your opinion what then was cause of death?"

"I think it was due to shock, and am not prepared to say it was due to suffocation."

MRS. McQUAID.

Mrs. McQuaid was the next witness examined by the Crown prosecutor, she stated that she helped to wash the body. The dead woman's hands were not very clean. She looked as if she had been peeling apples or potatoes.

"Did you see prisoner there?"

"Yes sir"

"When you were washing the body, what did you see that attracted your attention?"

"She did not look natural."

"What was the prisoner doing while you were there?"

"He was just sitting around, doing nothing. After she was washed and dressed he went in and looked at her body."

"Did you hear anybody ask him to go in?"

"No, I didn't."

"Was there any other clothing in the house?"

"Not much that I could see."

To Mr. O'Connell, of the defence, the witness stated that she had been under the impression that the woman had died of diarrhoea.

"When you went there was the body still lying in the shed?"

"Yes, it was. It had been moved by the jury before I washed it."

"She was lying on her back, was she not?"

"Yes."

"Were the eyes closed or unnatural looking?"

"No."

"What did the marks around her wrist look like?"

"Well, it looked as if somebody had tied her hands with a string."

"What did the marks on her forehead look like?"

"It looked as if she had been hit."

WILLIAM McMULLEN.

William McMullen was called next. He stated that he went to the Deline house about eleven o'clock the night of the murder. Deline was not there and witness went out to look for him. He found him outside the house. Deline told him that he had torn his pants and asked witness to go in and get him another pair. The prisoner took the clean pair of pants, put them on, and laid the ones he had been wearing in the cellar window. Prisoner also took his boots and stockings off.

"You saw the woman also, did you not?"

"Yes."

"What did prisoner say about his wife?"

"He said he couldn't look at her."

"He also said he had an awful headache and went in and lay down till morning."

DR. CONNOR.

Dr. Connor was the next witness. He is Professor of Pathology at Queen's University, and a famous medical expert.

"What might have caused death?"

"The conclusion I came to was that she came to her death by suffocation or by the committing of acts of violence upon her person the marks of which were found upon her." A large amount of technical medical evidence was further submitted by Dr. Connor all of which related to the condition of the internal organs.

Mr. O'Connell's examination of witness was searching and severe, several intricate discussions took place. Reliable works of standard medical authorities were brought into requisition in order to prove what was the exact condition of the heart of the deceased and whether she had come to her death through strangulation or suffocation. The statements of witness and Mr. O'Connell clashed frequently and they experienced considerable difficulty in reconciling their different opinions.

The following conclusions were drawn from his evidence:—First, that there was an absence of spots from the pleura which one might necessarily expect to find in a death from strangulation, and that a condition of things in the brain was lacking which might be found in a death by suffocation.

Dr. Connor read the report of Dr. Ellis, who examined the stomach, upon which Mr. O'Connell proceeded with the cross examination till adjournment.

ACHING MUSCLES AND AFTER EFFECTS OF GRIPPE

Zam-Buk Gives Ease

As soon as you feel any deep seated pain in the joints, back, wrists, or elsewhere, place a liberal suplpy of Zam-Buk on three fingers or on the palm of the hand, and rub it well in. The penetrating power of this "embrocation balm" is exceedingly great, and, once having reached the seat of the pain, it removes it speedily. It also ends the stiffness, which is so unpleasant.

Mrs. Frances Wyatt, of 25 Guy Avenue, Montreal says: "I have found Zam-Buk most soothing and valuable in a very bad case of rheumatism, and also for stiffness of joints and muscles. I suffered long and acutely with rheumatism, and tried one liniment after another in vain. I also took medicines internally, but it remained for Zam-Buk to effect a cure. I began applying this balm whenever I felt the aches and pains of rheumatism coming on, or felt the stiffness. The result was truly wonderful. Zam-Buk seemed to penetrate to the very seat of the pains, driving them out completely, and I am now quite cured."

This case, and scores of similar cases reported to us, is proof that Zam-Buk's penetrating and healing power is very great. In addition to its use as an embrocation, it is a sure cure for skin diseases, such as eczema, ringworm, ulcers, blood-poisoning, scalp sores, etc. and is the finest known "first aid." For piles, it is a specific. Gives certain ease. All druggists and stores, at 50 cents box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

Mothers should also try Zam-Buk Soap for baby's bath and for the rashes, eruptions, pimples, etc., so common amongst children at this season. Shampooing with Zam-Buk Soap beautifies and strengthens the hair.

HON. GEO. E. FOSTER SCORES GOVERNMENT FOR INACTIVITY RE IMPERIAL MATTERS

Sir Wilfrid Says Conference Has Enough Matters Already to Deal With—Naturalization Laws.

Ottawa, April 21.—Hon. George E. Foster interrupted the reciprocity debate in the House of Commons yesterday by a two-hours' discussion on the approaching conference in London. Mr. Foster was at some pains to review the work of the previous conferences, and concluded by criticizing the Government for not having pursued the subjects taken up and arranging further topics for discussion when the conference resumes next month.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier made it clear that the Government was not indifferent with regard to the approaching conference, and that there were many questions which had not yet been disposed of, and therefore it was inadvisable to introduce new subjects. Sir Wilfrid, however, kept his own counsel in reference to the possibility of his not attending the conference, and the conclusion is naturally formed in the lobbies of the House that the Premier's trip will depend on the progress made with reciprocity.

The reciprocity debate was resumed in the evening, when Dr. Edwards (Frontenac) spoke for three hours in opposition to the trade proposals. A. M. Beauparlant (St. Hyacinthe), moved the adjournment.

Hon. Mr. Foster occupied the attention of the House for an hour and a half with a review of the work which has been accomplished by the Imperial Conferences and the secretariate of that body, more particularly with reference to the developments of the past eighteen months.

Mr. Foster then proceeded to criticize the Government for not having suggested any topics of discussion at the next conference. The other overseas dominions were full of suggestions, because they were full of the spirit of the Imperial Conference.

Sir Wilfrid, in his reply, dealt with the criticism that Canada had not offered any suggestions as to the Imperial Conference. The decision of the Government, in this regard, he said, was not due to indifference, but rather to the belief that there were enough matters left open by the last conference to engage the attention of the next one.

There was the subject of defence, which had not been exhausted. Then there was the trade question, which would probably be discussed at several conferences yet before all are agreed on it. In 1902 the resolution adopted set forth that free trade within the Empire would be impossible. That was still the case, but it was no reason why the matter should be abandoned. The recommendations of the last conference in regard to immigration had not been acted upon for various reasons, and the matter would doubtless again have to be discussed in all its bearings. Then the question of an "all red" steamship service had not been settled. In this connection the Premier said that the time was probably near at hand when the first service on the Atlantic could be established, but the difficulty was with the Pacific end of the project.

The Premier laid particular stress on the necessity for a discussion of the question of the uniform naturalization laws. At the present time people from other countries naturalized in Canada are British subjects only while they remain in this country. Owing to the large immigration and the changed conditions, the present regulations are inadequate, and a change is desirable. He repeated that all these questions would engage the delegates to the conference for a month, and that it was due to this, and not to indifference, that the Government had made no suggestions.

"A LOT OF D——D NONSENSE."

Welland, April 20.—"When asked to-day if he thought reciprocity would be passed at this session of Parliament, W. M. German, M. P. (Liberal), replied:

"Oh, yes, it looks to me as if the Government intends to force it through. They have a large enough majority left to do it, I guess.

"For my part, however, it looks, looks like a lot of d——d nonsense. We can get all the concessions we want or need from the new Democratic Government in the States without touching our tariff wall or giving them concessions. I can't see the object of forcing through this measure."

RECIPROCITY SPLITS OLD PARTIES INTO FACTIONS

Stampede in Congress That That Looks Odd—Division Promised Soon.

Washington, April 21.—State and party affiliations were repeatedly broken in the House of Representatives yesterday in the concluding hours of the fight on the Canadian reciprocity bill. Democrats denounced their fellow Democrats for supporting a Republican protective principle; and Republicans hurled criticism against their fellow Republicans for marching with the Democrats toward the free trade goal.

During the seven hours of debate twenty-four men spoke on the reciprocity measure. Two-thirds of them pleas for its defeat, in speeches of from one minute to a half hour in length; and in this number were two Democrats from North Carolina and Republicans from any of the northern states.

The freedom of the debate against the bill brought forth from Mr. Dalzell of Penna, leader of the opposition the acknowledgement that Democratic Leader Underwood had been "exceedingly fair and generous" to those opposed to the bill. Most of the criticisms of the bill were from agricultural sections, and based on the belief that reciprocity with Canada would injure the agriculture of the United States.

The difference in the North Carolina delegation, all of whom are Democrats, were vigorously aired on the floor. Representative Webb declared that Claude Kitchen, who opened the reciprocity fight last Friday, had no right to criticize him or other members of the state delegation who proposed to vote against the reciprocity measure. Mr. Kitchen had accused him of standing side by side with the Republican stand-pat leaders, he said; but he said he could with equal justice accuse Mr. Kitchen of having worked with these same Republican leaders in the past.

Temperate words from the presiding officer, Mr. Shorley of Kentucky, brought from Mr. Webb the statement that he had no personal feeling against Mr. Kitchen; but that four members of the state delegation proposed to vote against the agreement because they believed it was opposed to all Democratic ideas.

The Minnesota delegation broke on the rocks of reciprocity. Mr. Nye of Minneapolis, spoke for the bill, and Messrs. Steenerson, Anderson, Davis and Volstead opposed it. The Michigan delegation showed a like division, Mr. Doremus advocating the bill and J. M. C. Smith opposing it. From Pennsylvania, Messrs. Bowman and Farr advocated its passage, and Mr. Focht denounced it.

From California, Mr. Needham spoke for the bill and Mr. Kahn against it. Representatives Hobson of Alabama, Murray of Massachusetts, and Curley of Massachusetts advocated its passage, and Representatives Good and Prouty of Iowa, Morgan of Oklahoma, Burke of South Dakota, Helgeson of North Dakota, French of Idaho, Young of Kansas, and Lafollette of Washington, spoke against it.

General debate on the measure will close this afternoon at three o'clock with speeches by Representatives Underwood, McCall and Dalzell. The bill will then be taken up under the rule, giving permission for amendments. An effort will be made to secure a final vote on the bill to-night, but the leaders of the House are not sure that it can be reached.

NO WORLD'S FAIR

Winnipeg, April 21.—After receiving of support to the amount to the amount of $2,500,000 of $2,500,000 from the Provincial Government, the municipality, the railway companies and other sources, Winnipeg's projected World's Fair for 1915 has fallen through.

LANDRY WAS TOO INQUISITIVE

Senator Said House Was Getting Tired.

Ottawa, April 21.—There was quite a breeze in the Senate yesterday when Senator Landry of Quebec was taken by several of his colleagues for his inquisitiveness. He moved for a return of correspondence addressed by the Superintendent of Immigration to P. Doyle, agent at Quebec.

Senator Macdonald said he would move the six months' hoist for the resolution. He said that Senator Landry was up three or four times a sitting asking for information, and the Senate was getting tired of it.

Senator Power thought the statute of limitations should apply, too much work was involved in going back to 1896.

Senator Landry said he would change the motion and ask for papers back only to 1908.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell declared that a Senator had the right to get any information from the official records.

The amendment for the six months hoist was declared lost and the motion carried.

Attack Juarez.

El Paso, Texas, April 21.—Unless the federals make an attack on the rebel army that has threatened to assault Juarez, Francisco I. Madero, jr., says there will be no assault on Jaurex until after three o'clock this afternoon. If by that time he has not received assurances from Porfiro Diaz that he will retire from the Presidency, Madero declares that the attack on Juarez will take place at once.

"All that the feredals want is time to bring up reinforcements," he said yesterday, when asked if he would consider an armistice. I will give Diaz twenty-four hours to resign," he said, to a delegation of Elpasoans and Mexican citizens that called on him in his camp in the hills near Juarez and asked him to consider peace terms.

The volunteer peace commissioners who visited the provisional president and insurrecto commander, went under permission of the federals, and made the trip in two automobiles with white flags.

DROPPED DEAD

Summons Came Suddenly to Proprictor of Advertising Agency.

St. Catharines, April 21.—E. Theodore Devereaux, the proprietor of the Niagara District Advertising Agency, dropped dead this morning.

Caught In Ice Field.

Halifax, April 21.—The schooner A. K. McLean, Capt. Remby, which left Louisburg, N.S., for St. John's, Nfld., with coal on Good Friday was caught in the ice field the same night. On Sunday, she started leaking and was abandoned on Sunday afternoon, the boat in which the crew escaped having to be hauled over three miles of field ice to the open water. The crew landed at night near St. Esprit, St. Caplin Cove, C.B., and found shelter in an abandoned fisherman's hut till next day. On Monday they reached a settlement, and on Tuesday were driven to St. Peter's, 32 miles distant. They arrived at Halifax Wednesday night.

OTTAWA PROTESTANTS WILL PROTEST AGAINST DECREE

Presbyterian Assembly Will Take Matter Up.

Ottawa, April 21.—Protestants throughout the capital are now widely discussing the ne temere marriage decree, and no less than three denominational bodies in which Ottawa are interested will have something to say regarding it within the next few weeks.

It is almost certain to be referred to by committee and of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Canada when it convenes at Knox Church, Ottawa, on June 1st. It will come up in committee and probably be talked over by the assembly and a resolution opposing it may be voted on.

An Anglican sub-committee sometime ago was appointed to consider this and other marriage questions. They will meet at Lauder Memorial Hall in May, and a resolution that they will draft will be presented at the annual meeting of the synod of Ottawa here in June.

Haldane's Seat Still Liberal.

London, April 21.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—In Haddington bye-election Hope, Liberal, 3,652, was elected; Hall Blyth, Unionist, had 3,184.

The vacancy was caused by the elevation of Hon. R. B. Haldane to the House of Lords.

TRY A REVIEW WANT AD.

WHERE THE WORKINGMAN GAINS

The importance of a new factory to the workingman-freeholder cannot be overestimated. It is not the business man, the merchant, or the corporation that alone benefits, but the workingman also shares in the advantages accruing from new and more factories.

Every factory that comes to Peterborough means a wider market for labor. It means more people are necessary in the city; it means more people to share in the general taxation. The workingman in a large city has many advantages that his brother in the smaller city has not got, in the way of a variety of employment, of greater chance to rise to distinction. It is essential that a city shall grow, shall forge ahead, because the rise in value of real estate alone ought to compensate the workingman-freeholder for his efforts to create a bigger city.

It happens that the bringing of the Independent Tire Company to Peterborough will NOT cost the city any money—will not add to anyone's taxes. It will afford a market for one hundred or more operatives, with a wage distribution of $60,000 or more a year. It means more families, more work, more prosperity. The city is safe-guarded in the deal, the company having to have at least $150,000 cash on hand when it starts to get the machinery in.

It is important to Peterborough that every man qualified to vote should cast his ballot next Tuesday for the Tire company by-law. It is necessary to obtain a three-fifths majority of the free-holder in the city. That is, a vote not cast is a vote against the by-law.

The company is ready to start in to get a location as soon as the by-law passes. If Peterborough lets a chance to get a factory of $200,000 go by, what assurance is there that it will get other chances at factories? When the terms are reasonable factories should be accepted. Peterborough is one of the fastest growing of the smaller Ontario cities. Why? Just because it has been able to become an important manufacturing centre, as well as a distributing point to the farming country around. If the city doesn't go forward, it goes back. Vote for this by-law.

HEAVY PENALTIES FOR THE CARRYING OF WEAPONS

New Act to go Into Effect Against Sale of Fire-arms or Concealing Firearms on Person.

Toronto, April 21.—A proclamation in to-morrow's Gazette, will by the authority of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, put in force the new provincial law with respect to offensive weapons, passed by the Legislature at the last session.

The act provides that:

Every person who exposes for sale, offers for sale, or sells any bowie-knife, dirk, dagger, stiletto, metal knuckles, skull cracker or slung shot, or who sells a revolver, pistol or air-gun to any person other than one holding a certificate issued under section 118 of the criminal code, or one, being over 18 years of age, who produces to and leaves with the vendor a permit in writing, signed by the superintendent of provincial police, or a chief constable of a city or town, allowing him to purchase a revolver, pistol or air-gun, shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding $200 or less than $25, or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months with or without hard labor or to both, and the weapon confiscated.

Every person who sells a revolver, pistol or air-gun under the provisions of section 1 hereof, without keeping a record of the date of the sale, name of maker, serial number of such revolver, pistol or air-gun, and the name, address and occupation of the purchaser or who sells or exposes or offers for sale any revolver or pistol which does not bear a serial number and the maker's name, shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding $200 or less than $25, or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months with or without hard labor or to both.

Every peace officer may search any person who he has reason to believe and does believe is violating the provisions of the criminal code, and may seize any of the weapons which such person is illegally carrying and any weapon seized under this section shall be confiscated.

A clause providing for deportation in certain cases reads:

"If any of the weapons is found on a person believed not to be a native of Canada, the constable making the search, justice of the peace, or magistrate before whom such person is charged with the offence, he shall report such facts to the Provincial Secretary, and the Provincial Secretary may communicate with the Minister of the Interior with the view towards deporting such person under the Immigration Act."

CANADIAN WESTERN MARKETS SHOULD BE FOR CANADIANS

St. Catharines Liberal Fruit Grower Objects to Being Deprived of Good Business

St. Catharines, April 21.—"We are not going to be ruined, but I do think we have been unjustly treated by the Government in this reciprocity move." The speaker was Mr. W. C. McCalla, owner of Sunny Acres farm, and one of the most prominent and respected fruit growers in that district. His listener was a reporter who had gone to St. Catharines to talk it over with the fruit growers.

He continued: "I am not an alarmist, but if the agreement goes through we fruit growers are going to be injured for some time to come. Now, mind you, I am not talking politics because I am a Liberal, and have always voted for the present Government. This matter, however, personally concerns me and all the men through the district. Note this carefully, please. For the last five years or more we growers have been developing a Northwest market. Now, even with protection about 50 per cent of the fruit used in Winnipeg comes from the States. You can imagine what the situation will be without the tariff. Glance at our growth. From St. Catharines five years ago one car load of peaches was shipped West; last year it took over 100 cars to carry them. It will continue to grow unless glutted with American fruit, through lack of protection. This talk about our going to have an American market through reciprocity is absurd.

PLANTED FOR THE WEST

"We have planted our orchards with an idea of our own Canadian Northwest market. To readjust them for American markets will take a great deal of time and mean considerable loss for us. Then if reciprocity is thrown out in two or three years and another readjustment has to be made, we will be in a fix.

MADE FOR AMERICANS

"Everything in this agreement is protecting the American farmer. He will still purchase his baskets, spraying machinery and fertilizers, minus the duty we have to pay on them, and again send his produce into Canada minus duty."

"Could you not buy your implements in Canada?" asked the reporter.

"Yes we could, but they would cost us just as much or more as the machinery and baskets coming in from the States with duty.

"I do not see why the Government should single out certain industries in this agreement. If we have got to have free trade let us have it in everything.

A LOT OF NONSENSE

"Again, this talk about growers getting increased prices through reciprocity is all nonsense. The only increase we are receiving is on tomatoes, and this took effect long before reciprocity was discussed at all. It was simply due to the fact that various firms realized that we would not bother with tomatoes unless the price was raised."

The writer later learned that the was considered by both Liberal and gentleman who delivered these facts in a most calm and impartial manner, Conservative growers, to be the foremost authority in the district, and—as another Liberal said—man enough to stand up for his convictions, irrespective of party.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

Throwing bouquets at a man when he's dead or gone is easy—but it's the cheerful word when he's alive and in difficulties that counts.

The waiter proudly stood upon his feet,
And shook his noble head:
"I do not take tips," said he.
The stranger promptly fell down dead.

Oh! Mary had a little curl
That hung beside her ear;
And when she went to bed it hung,
Upon the chiffionier.

The baseball season has came
The wild time of the year.
With shouting fans and baseball fans
And bottles of ginger beer.

PRIEST COULD NOT EVEN SMILE

Montreal Court Tries to Help Out Witness.

Montreal, April 21.—M. L. A. Caron, chartered accountant, who is the plaintiff in a libel suit against Joseph Begin, proprietor of La Croix, alleged to be a pro-religious weekly organ, now being tried before Mr. Justice Delorimier, asked that Rev. Garand be ordered to preserve dignity and decorum of the court, and to forbid the priest from smiling at plaintiff's testimony about Masonic ritual. The judge stated that Mr. Caron could go on, with the assurance that he would not be embarrassed or interfered with while giving his evidence.

The plaintiff claims that La Croix published a story denouncing Masons, and stated that they worshipped hell. In the story he mentioned Mr. Caron, it is alleged by the plaintiff, as a Mason. He contends that the use of his name under those circumstances is not privileged for the purposes of newspaper publication.

It was during the recital of Mr. Caron's testimony relative to the fact that prayers were offered by a priest before initiation in his lodge, which was of the Scottish Rite connection, that the priest smiled. Mr. Caron claims $199 damages.

MUMPS RIFE AT MONTREAL

Montreal, April 21.—The statement was made yesterday by Dr. J. E. Laberge, chief of the contagious diseases department, to the board of control, that mumps were epidemic in the city. He had no power to isolate patients suffering from this disease, as he was empowered to do when they were attacked by other contagious diseases. He asked that this condition of affairs should be remedied. Dr. Laberge also informed the controllers that the disease had chiefly broken out in educational institutions, and that it is spreading rapidly.

Soldiers Used Razors.

Kingston, Jamaica, April 21.—Disturbances have been going on here for two days between the soldiers of the West India Regiment and civilians, and the police have had serious difficulty in handling the rioters. Serious fighting occurred in various parts of Kingston Thursday night, the soldiers using razors with deadly effect. Many persons were treated at the hospitals and one death is reported from injuries inflicted. For a time the residents in certain quarters were panic-stricken. Order was restored yesterday.

Will Put Up a Fight.

Kingston, April 21.—Merchants giving trading stamps and coupons for votes in the library contest promise to fight the Retail Merchants' Association, which is endeavoring to have this business stopped, claiming that it is illegal. H. A. Harrington, organizer for the Merchants' Association, has warned them that it is against the law.

Earngey Committed.

Toronto, April 21.—W. D. Earngey, K.C., was committed for trial to the May assizes from the Police Court yesterday morning, upon two charges of forgery, in preparing false mortgages, upon which he induced two clients to loan money.

Ernest Duke swore that he did not sign the mortgage upon which his name appears, and that he did not own the property in question.

J. G. Scott, master of titles at Osgoode Hall, swore that his name, which appeared upon certificates of registry upon the mortgages, had not been signed by him.

Hydro Enters Toronto.

Toronto, April 21.—Hydro-electric power for commercial purposes made its official entry to Toronto at 6.15 last evening. There was no blare of trumpets and only two members of the city Hydro-Electric Department were present to see the wheels go round with the force of hydro energy.

Want Twenty-Five Cents a Day More.

Kingston, April 21.—The request for an increase of wages for the masons' helpers is being considered by the bosses. They are asking for an increase of 25 cents per day for eight hours. They are now receiving $2. The request is likely to be granted.

UNION LABEL

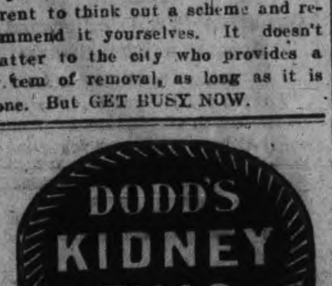
GARBAGE AND FLIES

In Ottawa Earl Grey has taken the initiative in suggesting an anti-fly campaign, to start immediately, without any delay. His Excellency has addressed a letter to Mayor Hopewell, urging the immediate formation of an organization to combat the fly nuisance, as a disease spreader. Earl Grey says—"Now is the moment for the destruction of their breeding beds; for the removal of all removable garbage which, left to rot in the warm spring, will prove the fertile incubator of myriads of disease and death bearing messengers. . . . I would remind you that next Sunday is St. George's Day. On that day let every Ottawa boy be a St. George, and let him recognize in every bit of fly producing garbage that he can find, a dragon worthy of his valor."

In Ottawa they have a system of garbage removal. They have a system in cities the size of Peterborough in Ontario; but Peterborough has none. It seems hopeless to wait for the Board of Health to move in the matter and recommend some practicable plan for the removal of garbage. The Board of Health even now has left the matter in the hands of a sub-committee, and there seems no indication that there will be any activity in the matter until the warm weather is here, and the damage in the breeding of myriad flies has already been done.

The Board of Health is composed of very estimable gentlemen, but their usefulness as a body regulating affairs seriously affecting the health of the city is a joke. Peterborough's health generally is good because of its situation, its pure water, and the healthy character of its people. But if the garbage question is to drag this summer like it did last, with stench and health-menacing fly-breeding beds running riot, no one can tell when there will not be serious effects.

Surely the members of the Board of Health have enough life, enough care for the welfare of the city to dispose of the garbage removal question quickly, instead of forgetting about it until too late. Put it up to the City Council, gentlemen of the Board of Health, at its first meeting, if you are too incapable or too indifferent to think out a scheme and recommend it yourselves. It doesn't matter to the city who provides a system of removal, as long as it is done. But GET BUSY NOW.



WARSHIPS ON THE LAKES

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has denied in the House of Commons the report that the Government had assented to the passage of a United States warship to the Great Lakes, to replace one of the present gun-boats, although the government newspapers had announced news to the contrary. Under the terms of the Rush-Bagot treaty of nearly a century ago, neither nation is supposed to keep an armed navy in the lakes, although the United States has at present nine warships of various sizes in fresh water.

The news that the Laurier Government has refused to grant the permission asked for is gratifying, because it has been too much afraid of the consequences of a refusal, in the past. The treaty may be terminated by either nation on a notice of six months. The policy of the Canadian government apparently has been to let the United States violate the treaty as it pleased for the sake of keeping it in existence, and loyally observing its provisions on behalf of Canada.

Now that the peace propaganda has got under way so nicely, it might be regarded as opportune to place the great lake armament question on a sounder basis than the Rush-Bagot agreement apparently provides. That the United States should have occasion to use its lake flotilla of warships is unthinkable; yet the fact remains that Canada cannot wink her eyes at flagrant violations, under any pretext of such an important treaty. Better far a clear understanding in the matter. That is why the refusal of the Laurier Government to permit the passage of another warship to the lakes is commendable. If we are to have reciprocity, let us have reciprocity in the observance of international treaty relations.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Brantford will try the experiment of Sunday reading rooms at the public library. How would Librarian De La Fosse like to keep house on Sunday also?

Canadian blue-jackets are going to the coronation. But the people of the country should be able to sleep in peace, in spite of that. The warships stay at home.

Since 1892, when it was electrified the Hamilton street railway has lost $375,000, although paying a percentage amounting to $404,000 to the city. The car lines are now beginning to pay. All of which goes to show that sometimes these corporations and monopolies do not have the fat thing the popular mind associates with public franchise operation.

Hon. Frank Oliver held a reciprocity meeting at Edmonton, but it was a stormy session, the police being called to restore order. One of two resolutions was passed, but in the uproar none knew what resolution it was. Hon. Mr. Oliver had to resort to calling opponents in the audience liars. Evidently Hon. Frank finds it hard to carry even the west with him on the reciprocity platform.

The Methodist church all over Canada will join in the protest against the Ne Temere decree. There were a million Methodists in Canada in 1901, out of a population of 5,000,000. A united protest from a fifth of the Canadian population ought to count for something, joined as it is, by protests from other denominations almost as large and important.

The Deline case is out of the way, and the newspaper columns will perhaps be a trifle more savory. The newspapers felt it a duty to print such sections of the evidence as would not be offensive, and harmful, and in consequence the printed reports were very disconnected, and confusing. It is seldom a newspaper has to do so much eliminating, but in such cases it is entirely necessary.

The suspended sentence in the case of M. T. Buchanan, ex-warden of Oxford County, on graft charges, because he had made full restitution, does not strike one as serving the real end of justice. Robbing the public purse is no less a crime than robbing a private citizen, and many an erring youth who has taken a few dollars from an employer has been given a term in prison, even though restitution was offered. Graft that covered a considerable period may be a more highly polished variety of appropriating what belongs to others, but in the eyes of the law it should not be any the less serious an offense.

GOING SOME

Here's a Goose That Works Twice a Day

A correspondent from Otonabee writes to the Review with the startling information that Mrs. A. E. Sedgwick, of "Botiff Farm," Otonabee, has a goodse that laid fifteen eggs, and one that is laying two eggs a day. The scribe adds, "that is going some."

THE DEPARTURE OF DR. LANGFELDT

The Review joins in the kind words relating to Rev. Dr. Langfeldt on his departure from the city. As a forceful and vigorous preacher of the orthodox type there is no more prominent example probably in this city. A man of strong personality, he urged these views with all fidelity upon a public that is turning towards different views of God, the Bible and Nature.

A most hospitable and kindly gentleman, Dr. Langfeldt will be found, no matter where he may be sent, by His Lordship, to be a most worthy and zealous exponent of the teachings of Christ, and devoted to his flock.

In expressing an appreciation of a few criticisms on the occasion of the death of a parishioner or the burial of one of his flock, probably no one excels him, as it is by no means easy, always to tell the truth, and please the family and friends.

Of Mrs. Langfeldt and her charming family, sentiments of esteem are generally and deeply felt. She has been a model wife. At all times accessible to the women and children of the parish, she has seconded her husband's efforts in a most admirable manner and won the esteem of the whole city.

Changes in the Anglican Church are not as common as in other churches, but they are becoming more frequent in the interests of Church work, at home and abroad. It cannot be denied that it is for the general welfare that the clergy should be moved about more frequently and made available for parishes less favorably situated than Peterborough. That Dr. Langfeldt will be able to continue the good work performed in the Peterborough charge is the hope of many sincere friends.

Wall Fell; Two Injured.

Cornwall, April 21.—Dr. W. H. Craig, D.V.S., was probably seriously injured yesterday afternoon while assisting in tearing down one of the old landmarks of Cornwall, a brick building on Second street west. He and a man named William Roderick were on the second floor of the building, pulling on a rope, when the south wall fell, taking the two men and floor into the cellar. Dr. Craig was badly bruised about the head and body by falling timbers and bricks, and was carried to his residence across the road in an unconscious condition. Roderick escaped with an injured ankle.

The building in question was erected over sixty years ago, and was first used as a newspaper office by the late Watson Lytle, who issued a paper called The Constitutional.

Dangerous Play.

London, Ont., April 21.—Playing "cowboys and Indians," John Wright, nine years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wright, 613 Elmwood avenue, was struck in the eye by a bullet from an air-rifle in the hands of a companion named Parkinson. Without knowing that it contained a charge he suddenly pointed it at his comrade and commanded him to fly.

It was found that the ball had entered the lower eyelid of the eye. It is not yet known whether the little fellow will lose the sight of the eye.

Twice Wrecked.

Rockland, Me., April 21.—The two-masted schooner Caroline Gray, ran ashore off Cape Cod, is the second vessel in which Captain Samuel H. Rogers of this city has been wrecked recently. Five weeks ago yesterday he was wrecked in the Bay of Fundy with the Deer Isle schooner Allan Greene, and lost one of his crew. The Gray is valued at $5,000 and is not insured. She was bound from Frankfort, Me., for New York, with paving stones.

An Economizer of Time and Labor

FROM seed time to harvest the farmer is a busy man.

That's why the shrewd farmer appreciates the value of the Bell Telephone Service.

He may be miles from the railroad and the nearest shipping point. He is expecting a freight shipment—what does he do? With his Bell Telephone he calls up the freight agent. If the shipment has not arrived—no use in going to town.

Peterborough Exchange, 1375 Subscribers including 145 on Rural Lines.

Every Farmer needs Telephone Service in his business.

Favorable Rates and a large Exchange Service make the Company's proposition attractive.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

Craighead caught Theodore as he staggered.

"When did they go?" said he.

"About noon," replied Mrs. Graybill.

Carson groaned, thinking bitterly of the hours wasted at Fort Morgan, and asked for Mrs. Stott. She had gone home on the Roc.

"They went north, then," said Carson.

"So must we," rejoined Craighead.

"Yes," said Mr. Waddy, who seemed to consider the Virginia incident closed. "I'll go home an' push the work in the west, you boys to New York to start the injunctions an' things."

"Mr. Carson," said Mrs. Graybill quietly, "don't give up. I kept the fragments of the letters she tore up. Put them together. They will cheer you up. What a woman wants to say and doesn't dare means much, much more than what she says."

CHAPTER XV.

A RETREAT FROM BABYLON.

THE date when the Virginia left the dunes of the Alabama coast for her first long voyage is now historic. It placed man as a flying animal on an equality with the birds and bats and insects. The gas bag of the aerostat and the aeronefs of the first decade of the century went the way of the tentative and imperfect with the steam engine of Hero and the war gins of Archimedes, Callimachus and Demetrius. The new era is one of great flying engines beside which the Virginia was as a humming bird to a hawk, but which are, every one, built on the Virginia's principles—the direct thrust of the blades and the balancing by the automatic distribution of power by means of light gyroscopes. The new hero was the miserable young man who looked like one with his death wound and maneuvered the new machine like a veteran—Theodore Carson. Every schoolboy knows these things.

But every one does not know of her difficulty in getting off. At least three times did Carson turn back to allow Craighead to converse in farewell with Mrs. Graybill and Mr. Waddy. Finally Craighead consented to be separated from the alluring Mrs. Graybill, and, passing over the bay with a wide westerly detour, the Virginia came in over Spring hill and alighted softly at the aeronef landing at Mobile. From a hundred sally ports—streets, alleys and wharfs—poured a throng of people attracted by the strange craft that had made port.

"Howdy, folks?" said Craighead. "Take a good look, for even when ye wist not we vanish. Out of the great deep we come, into the great deep we go. The elementals who send us are the pow'fulest spirits what there is. But a brief space have we to warn Mobile. Repent! Repent! Yet a few mo' days an' Mobile shall be done destroyed!"

"Dan Thomas," said Carson to an old negro with a whip in his hand, "come here!"

"Yes, Mistah Cahson," responded the negro.

"Fetch me at once one No. 2 can of A quality methanose, and get me a list of the aeronat clearings for the last two days."

"Yes, suh."

Thomas darted away.

"Pardon me," said a man who had a withered arm drawn up to his side in such a way as to give one the impression that he was holding his breath, "but are you going far so short handed?"

"Not far—in time," replied Theodore.

"Only to Alaska," added Craighead. "We meet a Russian admiral in St. Michael at 3. If that nigger doesn't hurry we shall be late, general, and what will Admiral Phlaskovodka say then?"

The man lifted his sailor hat, bowed politely and stepped back, unveiling a face behind him which Carson knew—the foxy, suspicious face of Wizner, the inventor of the lost helicopter. Carson stooped as if for some casual purpose and laid hold on a spanner.

With the spanner in his hand he rose, and with an angry leap he stood in the midst of the crowd. Wizner had fled, but through the thinned crowd Theodore saw his wiry figure, with the arm that Virginia's bullet had reached hanging in a sling. Carson gave chase. Some one cried, "Stop him!" and an officer, seeing in Carson the only fugitive in sight, stopped him.

"Let me go!" cried Carson, struggling. "Come with me and arrest a man for attempt to murder."

A boy in a messenger cap interrupted the colloquy by calling "Mr. Cahson, Mr. Cahson!" as if "paging" a man in a hotel.

"I'm Carson," said Theodore. "What do you want?"

"Somebody on the wire for you at the telephone booth in the hotel," replied the messenger.

Wondering who in Mobile might desire speech with him, Carson said, "Who's this?" into the transmitter.

"Your old friend Wizner," said the receiver. "Crazy as ever. Never mind where I am. I'll tell that after I've talked if you want me to, you pup!"

Carson glared fiercely into the receiver.

"I didn't get that," said Carson.

"You can have me pinched, but I can prove an alibi. And while I'm proving things I'll fix you fellows for smuggling and put Harrod where the dogs won't bite him and you too!"

"I don't know anything about smuggling," protested Theodore.

"Well," went on Wizner, "if you dig into the big sand hill with the steel buoy on it, you will. You'll find what'll put you in a better trade than putting me in prison for a frolic with your aeronef. Oh, don't talk so innocent! How did you finance your airship except by free trade?"

Carson had nothing to say. He remembered Captain Harrod's expression when Wizner had called him an old smuggling fool. He remembered a thousand mysterious things now made plain by the hypothesis of Harrod's having yielded to the coastwise temptation of smuggling. Wizner uttered into the instrument a sly, sinister, exasperating chuckle.

"Lost your tongue?" he taunted. "Well, arrest me. Any one can tell you where I am. But will the girl leave Silberberg to come and testify? The courtship's just getting good now. Too bad to disturb them!"

Carson hurled the receiver away and strode back to the Virginia. He found Thomas, the negro, with two men, hoisting the can of methanose aboard.

Thomas gave him the list of aeronat clearings.

The sailings were not many—the Tern for Memphis, the Long Tom for St. Andrews Bay, and, yes, the Roc departing the morning before "for northern points."

"We can overhaul the Tern," said Craighead, with a judicial air, "at, say, Jackson and take on our friends for Alaska. I do hope the president can join us at Omaha. Gentlemen," addressing the crowd, "here you see a new aeronef invented by me. By reaching Alaska before nightfall we win a million dollars. This is a sure thing, as the sun will not set there for three months. The bet is with a Brazilian who forgot about the days coming quarterly at Nome. But we shall be honorable and pay him the million on the nail if we fail to make it before sunset in Rio, the real locus. Tomorrow we shall win five hundred thousand from Rothschild by leaving Greenwich observatory at sunrise going west and returning at sunrise next day from the east, circling the world in twenty-four hours of continued sunrise. Wish us well, gentlemen! Goodby, honest peasantry, your country's pride, goodby!"

The majestic rise of the Virginia, with no preliminary run, drew a round of applause. Craighead waved his cap, but Carson, paying no attention, laid the Virginia dead for New York. They flew high, and the constant picking up and dropping of railway trains and steamers and the swift succession of villages and towns spoke of the fierceness with which the Virginia was hurled against the leagues between Mobile and New York. They left Montgomery to port and Atlanta to starboard. Carson had assigned himself and Craighead their duties, and both were busy, Craighead at the tiller, with his eye on the compass, Carson looking at every working part, oiling, feeling for hot bearings, watching for the slightest quiver or jar, greedy of every mile. Finally they were speeding along over the great national Appalachian forest when he relieved Craighead.

In the little locker were found the elements from which Craighead prepared the luncheon of bacon, eggs and coffee, cooked on the methanose stove.

"We shall get into the upper Atlantic regions," said Carson, "just in time to hit the area of local storms tonight."

To be Continued.

HE SENT HIS "BEST" REMEDY

The young daughter of Mrs. T. S. Dougall, 523 Flora avenue, Winnipeg, was arranging some of her doll's washing on a clothes rack, beside the stove, when she fell, and her hand came in contact with the hot stove. She sustained a serious burn, and her screams brought her mother quickly to the spot.

"I sent to the druggist for the best remedy he had for burns," she says, "and he sent back a box of Zam-Buk. He said that there was nothing to equal it. I applied this and it soothed the pain so quickly that the child laughed through her tears. I bound up the hand in Zam-Buk, and each day applied Zam-Buk frequently and liberally, until the burn was quite cured.

"The little one was soon able to go on with her play, and we had no trouble with her during the time the burn was being healed."

Zam-Buk Soap should also be used by all mothers for baby's bath and for skin troubles, rashes, pimples, etc.

All druggists and stores sell Zam-Buk at fifty cents box; and Soap at 25c. tablet. Post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful imitations.

MONTREAL, April 20.—There was a decided improvement in the foreign demand for Manitoba spring wheat and sales of 100,000 bushels were made at an advance in prices of 3d to 4½d per quarter and at the close there were a number of orders in the market for more, but the bids were out of line with the advance in prices in Winnipeg. The foreign demand for oats was also good and sales of some round lots were made for May, June shipment. The local market was stronger and prices scored a further advance of ¼c per bushel. The demand for spring wheat flour for export account was good, all the offers made over the cable last night being accepted and millers steadily advanced their prices to foreign buyers.

Did Business by Mail.

New York, April 21.—Four proprietors and managers of medical institutes are in the Tombs to-day, charged with the illegal use of the mails, and a fifth is out on $5,000 bail, as the result of raids conducted by postal inspectors yesterday. Three institutions were raided, eighteen witnesses taken and tons of advertising literature printed in fifteen languages, were confiscated.

The establishments were the Dr. Ferdinand Hartman Institute, the Universal Medical Institute and the Vienna Medical and Electrical Institute. They catered, apparently, to foreign-born invalids exclusively, for not a page of advertising matter written in English was found at any of the concerns. The raiding inspectors declared that the three firms did an aggregate business of $200,000 annually, obtained chiefly by advertising in American publications printed in foreign languages.

Thomas Macdonald, a boatman, was killed in Glasgow, by falling 40 feet into the street.

THEATRICAL

GREEN STOCKINGS

Miss Margaret Anglin with her charming personality and naturalness as Cecilia Faraday, in her new comedy, Green Stockings, delighted a very large audience at the Grand Opera House last night, and Miss Anglin's first visit to Peterborough will be remembered with many pleasant memories. Her artistic and graceful movements during every minute she was on the stage were pleasingly noticeable, and she won instant favor with her audience. The comedy is wholesome and dainty throughout, many laughable complications being brought about, too, as a rather unique love story is told. The production is given a lavish scenic and costume investure, and the supporting cast was excellent.

While Miss Anglin was the central figure in the production, admirable work was done by other members of the company. As the aunt, Miss Maud Granger was delightful, and in the sitcations between her and Celia Faraday, and particulrlay in the scenes following the bogus death announcement made in the Times, and where she imbibed too much wine the audience was convulsed with laughter. The story of the comedy is that Celia Faraday, the eldest of four daughters of William Faraday, J.P., becomes tired of wearing green stockings, a custom with Irish girls at the betrothal in marriage of a younger sister. Celia's sisters are all happily mated, and she invents a love affair for herself with a certain imaginary Col. Smith, who has been ordered to Africa. At the suggestion of one of her sisters she writes a letter to her gallant Colonel, and later it is despatched, unknown to Celia, with the other family mail, owing to the well meaning thoughtfulness of Miss Phyllis, and it reaches a real Col. Smith in Africa. Celia, to put an end to the troublesome imposture, sends a death notice of her Col. Smith to the Times. The members of the family are horrified at reading the announcement, and Celia keeps up the deception and appears in mourning. The real Col. Smith comes to the house under another name and proceeds to tell the woeful news of "his friend's" death. Soon, however, he falls in love with Celia and she discards green stockings forever.

"HONEYMOON TRAIL"

Frances Morrison, featured soubrette in the big Chicago (Isabelle Theatre) musical comedy success, "Honeymoon Trail," which comes to The Grand, next Tuesday, April 25, is undoubtedly one of the greatest singing and dancing soubrettes on the musical comedy stage. Although Miss Morrison is hardly out of her teens, and has been but five years in the theatrical business, she has had several remarkably good engagements and is regarded by theatrical "wise-acres" as a "find." Last season she supported Montgomery and Stone in "The Old Town." Miss Morrison is exceptionally pretty, exceptionally graceful, an exceptional dancer, and possesses a singing voice of remarkable range and clarity. As Edna in "Honeymoon Trail" she has opportunities to demonstrate her cleverness which have been afforded her in no other vehicle with which she has been connected.

TWENTY-ONE NEW MEMBERS AND TWENTY RENEWALS

The Result of Campaign in Boys' Department of Y. M.C.A.—A "Bun Feed."

The banquet which was given by "Sandy" Hall last night to the winning team and the members secured by them in the recent membership campaign in connection with the Boys' Department, was a huge success, as was also the campaign.

The winning team, composed of George Gray, Willard Coon, Wilferd Hardill and Frank Podger, secured eighteen members, including renewals. George Grey, leader of the winners, secured thirteen members himself, and Norman Patterson comes next in line with twelve to his credit. As a result of the contest twenty-one new names were added to the list, as well as twenty renewals.

After the boys had done justice to the splendid dinner supplied by their old friend, Mr. Hall, a few speeches were given.

DR. MIDDLETON.

Dr. Middleton, as chairman, congratulated the winning team, and also those who supplied such a magnificent supper.

"The initiation here is to roll up your sleeves and get to work," said the speaker. "If we are going to be effective hereafter, we have to be effective now. Lots of boys lack the ability to dig in and enjoy themselves. The first thing in activity is the right motive, and the second is the ability to work. The best work in the world is service for others."

Dr. Middleton said that the association was fortunate in having a boys' secretary, namely Mr. Tait, who was doing something.

H. M. GILCHRIST.

The speaker stated that Mine Host Mr. Hill seemed to know boy nature by heart. Many dainties found their way to camp last summer which could be traced to him.

He was glad that there were so many boys interested in the welfare of the local Y.M.C.A. to go out and try to gain so many members.

JACK AND JILL.

The speaker said he was going to tell them the story of Jack and Jill, who went up the hill to get a pail of water, Jack fell down and broke his crown and Jill came tumbling after. He thought they were two boy chums. It was a wonderful thing for boys to have chums who were doing something together. It was the main thing in a boy's life to find something to do. When Jack fell down and broke his crown, and Jill, etc., the story changed from companionship in service to companionship in disaster. It was not so bad if a boy could fall by himself, but he was almost sure to have some effect on some boy that walked by his side.

SANDFORD HILL.

In opening his remarks Mr. Sandford Hill said he always tried to get Dr. Middleton as chairman when there was a "bun fight" on. He hoped it would not be long until there would be another building on the tennis court, and five hundred names on the Boys' Department roll.

MR. TAIT, BOYS' SECRETARY.

Mr. Tait, stated that the boys had helped him in everything he had undertaken during the past season, and if they stayed by him this year they would not lack sport.

As an initiation, the new members were requested to give their reasons for joining the association. Many of the answers provoked merriment, one boy saying that he joined because he knew there was lots to eat.

The meeting was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

BANKERS' DANCE

Large Attendance and Enjoyable Time at Conservatory

The bankers' "At Home" at the Conservatory of Music Hall last night was a big success. Seventy couples were in attendance, and music for dancing was supplied by Fralick's orchestre, of Toronto, with the usual satisfaction. The caterer of the evening was T. Hooper.

The patronesses were Mrs. P. Campbell, Mrs. V. Eastwood, Mrs. J. Crane, Mrs. E. C. Macleod, Mrs. W. H. Dunsford and Mrs. R. W. Travers.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

Had Dr. Langfeldt as Guest at Farewell Banquet

The Ministerial Association tendered to-day to the Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, M.A., Ph.D., a farewell banquet. The esteem in which he is held was evidenced by the fact that every member of the Association in town was present. Dr. Langfeldt has been an active and valuable member of the Association for ten years. Kindly reference to his work in the city was made by by one representative of each denomination present. The Doctor has been known prominently as a man of strong views and convictions and has always with ability and fearlessness expressed them. His work among the sick and the poor was not left unnoticed. His kindly heart ever ministered to these with a faithfulness and acceptibility which any minister might well envy. That unnoticed, too, was his influence in the Ashburnham school. That the boys and girls of Ashburnham were among the best of the city is evidenced by the preference of teachers for Ashburnham, and to Dr. Langfeldt's frequent visits to the school this state of things was largely due.

Dr. Langfeldt was unable to reply to the many kind things said of him, and the luncheon closed with singing "Blest be the Tie That Binds" and with prayer. Dr. Langfeldt carries to his new parish the prayers and good wishes of all his ministerial colleagues.

Big band concert at the armouries to-night. Capital programme and rag time specialties by A. P. Kennedy, organizer of the local Order of Moose. Silver collection. Be there.

MAPLE LEAFS SHOW CLASS IN EASTERN LEAGUE OPENER

Played Errorless Ball and Beat Baltimore Birds 17-5

Baltimore, Md., April 20.—Toronto got off to a great start to-day for the championship honors by defeating the Baltimore Orioles 17 to 5. The weather looked threatening during the morning, but turned out fine. A parade was held with a brass band in a large tally-ho leading. Presidents Barrow and McCaffery and Manager Dunn came next in an automobile, while the players in uniform followed in taxicabs, creating quite a formidable array.

Mueller started for Toronto, two hits being secured off him up to the fourth, when with one out he injured his arm. Killian was hurried out to warm up. Two hits were made before the big left hander went in, one a homer. Mueller was hardly able to get the ball up to the plate. The first man to face Killian, who had no opportunity to warm up, hit for a homer, but from then on he was the master of the situation at all times, allowing only two hits in five and one-half innings.

The Leafs at all times looked much the better team, whether fielding or batting. Three pitchers were used against them, but they were all easy. Four hits and six runs were made off Dygert in four innings. Five hits and eight runs off Pope in one and a half innings, and six hits and three runs off Thompson in four and a half innings.

Mueller's and Killian's work in comparison to the above was: Hits off Mueller in three and a half innings, one man being out when he left box, four hits and four runs. Killian allowed three hits and two runs. Killian also placed six strike-outs to his credit.

At fielding the Leafs made the Orioles look very bad. Not a semblance of an error of any kind resulted, while the home team made seven, and Egan had two passed balls, Jordan scoring on one of them. Much was expected of Micky Corcoran, but he fell down badly, particularly when compared with Bradley's clean-cut work for the Leafs. Vaughn and Mullen did some magnificent fielding, a sensation pick-up by the second baseman in the ninth inning being one of the features of the game. Jordan's work around first was grand, having no less than 12 put-outs, handling all thrown balls cleanly.

Too much praise cannot be given to the playing of Phelps, whether catching or batting. A notable feature was a high pop fly off Egan's bat, which Phelps caught out near the pitcher's box.

TRICKS OF SQUARED CIRCLE

Crooked Work Undertaken by Some Fighters to Get the Better of Opponent—Curved Boiler Iron to Cover Knuckles

The five-ounce glove of commerce—the common or garden variety of boxing glove—which has been used in fistic battles ever since the bare knuckles and the skin-tight coverings were counted over-strenuous—is a harmless looking little thing. Any innocence would decide that it might deliver a jar or a knockout blow, but that no other harm could be possibly inflicted. In the hands of skilled and tricky seconds, the five-ounce glove is manipulated until it is the most venonemous of weapons, capable of inflicting punishment far beyond its intents or scheduled limitations.

All seconds pull away the padding over the knuckles, thus allowing their man to hit with practically a skin-glove over his hands—unless he happens to have a sore or damaged fin. Then they as solicitously heap up the padding over the injured knuckle, and thus strive to protect their boy from further suffering. Manipulation of the padding, though, is understood and expected by every fighter—its the things they put inside the gloves that must be watched for and detected.

Powdered plaster of paris, dropped in the gloves, will harden and form a cast over the knuckles of the fighter who puts a wet hand into the glove, but only a "boob" of a second will let the glove out of his sight while an opposing second monkeys with it. Hard tape bandages wound in many thicknesses from wrist to finger-tips, are another specialty. Many fighters have always had their own tricks, and have got by with them on manifold occasions.

Charlie Neary, the Milwaukee lightweight, would cut the fingers off driving gloves, don them, and wrap the bandages around the gloves till they were completely hidden.

Walter Parker, a formidable lightweight, had a chunk of boiler iron, curved to cover his knuckles, and he wrapped bandages over the whole hand until there was no trace of the iron. Parker accumulated 13 successive knockouts on gentlemen whom he caressed with his good right hand—armor plated—and most of the 13 retired from the ring rather than risk such a whack again.

Kid McKoy soaked his handages in a solution of the plaster-of-paris, and they looked innocent while his seconds adjusted them. Two minutes later—safe inside the glove—they solidified and became as hard as granite.

Little Jimmy Barrie didn't care so much about the bandages, but always hid a piece of oakum in his hand, and then clutched firmly upon it. This gave his hand a better grip than the inside of the glove usually afforded, and enabled him to hit more forcibly.

Tommy White had a stunt that was all his own. His seconds would knead the tips of his gloves into a peak, and with that peak Tom would brush the enemy's eyes. While the brushing wouldn't as much as leave a mark, it would bedim the sight and make the gentleman tearful for an instant—and while he was clearing his vision things would happen to him.

Some fighters, good ones, too, would never wear a bandage nor pull back the padding of the gloves. Good sportsmen? Not necessarily. They had tender hands and hated to have them broken. Then, the tyro will exclaim, why not wear bandages to protect the paws? Because when a hand is broken, bones will get jammed together, and take nature's course towards relieving itself of the agony and the crossing bones.

The trick of putting oil of mustard on the gloves, thus blinding a foe, has been tried, but soon died out, as the referee could easily smell the pungent stuff and nip the offender. A trick that was rather original, though, has been pulled by soaking a glove in the water. Then slap the hostile with the water-logged glove, the spray will blind him for an instant, and the other fist can come across with a destructive blow.

There are truly some marvellous tricks in the boxing game, and the man who isn't master of at least a few of the devices will not get far in the roped arena.

JOHNSON'S TIME IS ALMOST UP

Will Leave the Whitewash Brigade at Jail To-morrow

San Francisco, April 20. — Heavyweight champion Jack Johnson, who is doing time for automobile speeding, is a victim of indigestion in his cell in the local jail. Although his condition is serious, Johnson claims he is too sick to do any whitewashing this week, a job he was assigned to by the warden. The jail doctor says that Johnson's enormous Easter dinner was responsible. The champion's term expires Saturday.

BEN SIMPSON, THE MARK FOR LADIES

Inspector J. L. Hughes Tells Teachers to Get Acquainted

In connection with the teachers' trip to New York, in which Ben Simpson is playing a part, the following will be interesting: "As a ladies' man James Laughlin Hughes has probably no peer. Few men in Toronto could organize and conduct such a party as this with anything like the ease and smooth management.

Be it known that Mr. Hughes likes the ladies—all of them.

Mr. Hughes has a way with women that is peculiarly his own. On this trip he is demonstrating it. Women—at least a crowd of 700 women—are notoriously hard to manage. But he manages them. He coaxes them, scolds them, weedles them, and orders them, and does it all in good-humored fashion, at which only trouble-hunters could take offence. When they come pestering him with foolish questions, he rebukes them for neglecting to read the circulars he had distributed, giving all necessary information about the details of the trip.

At the start he insisted on everybody getting acquainted with everybody else. When the Hamilton teachers boarded the train, he told the Toronto teachers to mix with them and make them feel at home.

"Ben Simpson, the great Tiger football player, is on board," he announced in the coaches. "Get acquainted with him, girls, he's not married.'

When New York was reached, and the New York reporters surrounded him, and poised their pencils above their notebooks, Mr. Hughes pointed with pride to the bevy of beauties around him. It so happened that some of the prettiest girls in the party were on the spot at the moment, and the scribes of Gotham were really impressed.

BASKETBALL

The final game in the City Baseball League will be played in the "Y" gymnasium to-night between the Ponies and Fairies. Doug. Loomis will referee.

The lineups as announced are as follows:

Fairies—Elliott, Hall, Caniff, Fleming and F. Turner.

Ponies—Flowers, English, Wallis, Turner, Shore.

BASEBALL

The Lindsay Warder says of the baseball situation.—

Several citizens in town are anxious to see a Midland league baseball team in Lindsay. It means a great deal for one man to take hold of the matter and keep it going as it will require considerable capital to get the team started here in town where the game has been "dead" for a few years. It will be necessary to purchase an entirely new outfit and a baseball outfit is not bought for a song.

That there should be a town baseball league this season seems to be the thought of every fan in town and yesterday afternoon there were about twenty players at the agricultural park having a work-out. Nine innings were played and so even was the score at the end of the ninth that both sides claimed the victory.

The Tribune says;—For once in the history of baseball a fan has come to the front with a suggestion which Manager John J. McGraw, of the New York Nationals, believes will be of practical use. A fan, named Wayburn, after watching the game for many years, has invented the "rag time drop," which he maintains is virtually impossible to hit, except by merest chance.

Wayburn went up to the Polo grounds for the practice period yesterday morning, and putting on a glove and a mask instructed "Rube" Marquard in its use. Mike Donlin, the once hard-hitter, was on hand also and Marquard, using the "rag time," struck out the former captain of the Giants four times.

According to Manager McGraw, Marquard is the only pitcher who will be invested with the syncopated secret for the present.
